Vic Thompson, Vermilion, Has Narrow Escape

TRUCK CRASHES OVER EDMONTON HIGH LEVEL BRIDGE

Vic Thompson, well known Vermilion man, had a very narrow escape when the heavy truck he was driving crashed over the high level bridge in Edmonton at the south approach. Vic managed to jump clear. Here is the story which appeared on the front page of the Journal:

"Jumping clear as his truck went over the south approach on the east side of the high level bridge early Monday, Victor Thompson, of Vermilion, escaped with minor injuries and bruises.

The 12½-ton cement mixer truck valued at about $20,000, was smashed when it hit the snow-covered ground below the bridge.

The truck was the property of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co. which has offices in No. 4 hangar at the municipal airport.

Mr. Thompson has been with the company for one year and has been a truck driver for twelve. This was his first accident.

He blamed the accident on failure of the airline brakes of the truck. He had come from Delburne 40 miles east of Penhold and in the 10 miles to Penhold has driven through heavily drifted [illegible] a contributing cause to the mechanical failure of the brakes.

"The truck got going so fast I knew I couldn't do anything. I steered it to the sidewalk figuring it might slow down but the snow and the sidewalk did not seem to slow it up at all.

"The next thing I knew I'd bailed out of the truck. I must have slid 30 feet down the hill. I heard the crash of the truck hitting the frozen ground but afterward when I stopped to think about it, I was surprised there was so little noise.

"I stopped a tank truck and asked the driver to report the accident at the police station. In about [illegible] the city police came.

They couldn't walk like other children

It was a great day at Lost Bend when they bundled the little girls with the twisted legs into the waiting plane.

Few people come to Lost Bend. Few leave. On the map the place isn't even marked. Dotted lines indicate the river course—aimless as the lives of the crippled children whose poverty-stricken parents owned the two-room shack.

Margaret had been born up there in the bush, about 400 miles south of the Yukon border. It is a tough country, even for hard bitten woodsmen and trappers. It demands strength and stamina. Margaret had neither. Instead, she had congenitally deformed hips.

Only fourteen ... and helpless

A doctor, explaining matters in lay terms, would have said that they were out of joint—the femurs parted from the sockets. Margaret merely knew that she couldn't walk like other children. Her feet turned outwards at right angles. She moved haltingly, fearfully, as if she were very old. But Margaret was just fourteen.

She had been ten when Jean arrived—the little sister of the dark solemn eyes, the quick intelligence [illegible]

Dominion Cerealist Retires

OTTAWA — Dr. Leonard H. Newman, for 25 years a power behind the throne of wheat kings, has retired from the post of dominion cerealist.

He was appointed in 1923 to succeed the late Sir Charles Edward Saunders, developer of the world-famous Marquis wheat.

Under Dr. Newman's direction as head of the cereal division of the agriculture department's experimental farms service have been evolved important new varieties, notably the rust resistant Renown, Regent and Saunders wheats, used in Western Canada.

These and other varieties — Coronation and Canada Wheats, Vanguard and Beaver oats and Garnet and Reward wheats—have brought wheat-king titles to many growers.

Dr. Newman, 66, was born at Merrickville, Ont. He graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph in 1903 and did post-graduate work at Iowa State College, Cambridge University and at Svalof, Sweden.

From 1905 until his appointment as cerealist he was secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association. In 1936 the University of New Brunswick conferred on him an honorary degree of Doctor of Science.

THEY ARE SEVEN AND THERE'S PLENTY OF WORK FOR ALL—Lined up for a session at the ironing board are six of the seven daughters of Mrs. Randall Bradley of Chicago, who holds 12-day-old Mavis. The baby doesn't have to worry about household chores yet. The girls learning to wield irons under their mother's guidance are from left: Ramona Sue, one; Sandra Sue, four; Nancy Diane, five; Helen Marie, eight; Sheila Mae, 10, and Leola Dolores, 12. There is plenty of work for all.

SAN MATEO, Cal. — The doctors thought Mrs. Lillian Arthur was joking when she complained something must have been left inside her after an operation two years ago.

But when they operated on the 30-year-old mother of six children recently they found a surgical towel, 12 by 14 inches, in her abdominal cavity. The towel bore the monogram "Navy Yard Hosp.", Bremerton, Wash.

The towel, neatly wrapped around Mrs. Arthur's intestines, was found by Drs. Henry Brown and Lawrence Martin who performed an exploratory operation to find out what was wrong with her.

Mrs. Arthur had complained of pains and swelling since a Caesarian operation two years ago when she gave birth to twins.

"I went back to the clinic and complained," she said, "and even jokingly suggested the doctor must have left his hat or his scissors in me."

Mrs. Arthur's husband, Frank, threatened to sue the hospital for the mistake. He said his wife had dropped from 200 to 130 pounds since the birth, had submitted to "scores" of blood transfusions and had spent [illegible] since the Caesarian was performed.

"Anything can happen in an operation of this sort," he explained. "All sponges placed in the abdominal cavity are counted. But towels are so big we usually don't count them."

Lipton Plan Succeeds

Already the great introductory plan of giving a package of Lipton Chicken Noodle Soup free from February 19th, to March 6th, with every purchase of one half pound of Lipton's Tea is showing results in increased sales.

Arthur G. Johnson, Executive Vice-President of Thomas J. Lipton Limited, used all forms of publicity, Canada-wide, through 300 daily, week-end, farm and weekly newspapers. Ninety radio stations carried announcements and every grocery, general and fruit store was supplied with display material and full details.

Manufacturers of branded food lines are very careful that quality is kept up so that customers may always find the same satisfactory goods in packages bearing the Brand name - and none more so than the famous Lipton Tea Company. Their Chicken Noodle Soup, made in a few minutes from dry ingredients, is truly delicious, while the fame of their tea is known world wide.

WILL SOON OBSERVE SILVER ANNIVERSARY

LONDON — The King and Queen will drive to St. Paul's Cathedral April 26, for a service to commemorate their silver wedding anniversary, it has been officially announced.

As the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, they were married in Westminster Abbey in 1923. In celebrating their 25th anniversary at St. Paul's they are following the precedent set by King George V and Queen Mother Mary in 1918.

CORRECT ANSWER

The young schoolteacher had just finished telling a small boy in her class the story of a lamb that had strayed from the flock and been eaten by a wolf.

"You see," she said, "had the lamb been obedient and stayed in the flock it would not have been eaten by the wolf, would it?"

"No ma'am," answered the small boy. "It would have been eaten by us." 2067

TAXI DRIVER HAS HARD TIME TO BREAK EVEN WITH FARMER

A tire blew out near the farm and then the taxi got stuck in the mud. It ran out of gas in the mud battle.

The farmer went for a dollar's worth of gas and his mule team. He pulled the taxi out of the mud and back through it again after the groceries had been delivered.

James collected $5 for his fare and then forked over $4 for the farmer for pulling him out of the mud.

Isolated Civilians To Get Dental Care

OTTAWA. — Civilians in the far north and other isolated parts of Canada where civilian dental service is not available may now receive treatment from army dental officers at a set scale of fees.

Dental corps services will be available:

In any emergency — for relief of pain or for repair of dentures—when civilian facilities are not available.

In isolated areas where no civilian facilities exist.

At the request of an approved civilian dental authority who considers army assistance necessary.

Dauphin Woman Given Credit For Success Of Clubs

WINNIPEG. — Edna McConnell of Dauphin, Man., only non-male agricultural representative in the province, frowns on the idea of women following her lead even though she has created an impressive record in her field.

"I don't think women can do the work of an agricultural representative," said Miss McConnell. "I got into it only because of the war."

But Dauphin district residents will have no part of Miss McConnell's modest contention. They think of the comely, 34-year-old miss as responsible for making their area "tops" in the province where boys and girls farm clubs are concerned.

Miss McConnell became the first and only female agricultural representative in Manitoba in 1941 when John [illegible], who held the Dauphin post, joined the air force. Previously she had been at Dauphin with the extension service of the department of agriculture.

Miss McConnell, who "grew up in agriculture" from her birth at her parents' farm at Petersfield, took normal school training at Saskatoon, then her degree of bachelor of science in agriculture.

Returning to Manitoba, she joined the Dominion-Provincial youth training scheme as itinerant instructor until she went to Dauphin in 1939 for the extension service. When she succeeded Conner she was first appointed acting representative but the province gave her the full title in May, 1946.

BADLY-PACKED PARCELS RETURNED FROM U.K.

OTTAWA.—Scores of food parcels for Britain were recently returned to the Canadian postal department's Dead Letter Office in Ottawa from overseas, the Post Office Department said here.

The parcels were returned because in most cases the addresses had been torn off due to improper packing or the use of flimsy instead of heavy paper in packing.

WARDEN TAKES BOY-KILLER HOME

CANON CITY, Colo. — Rough, tough warden Roy Best said he is going to raise Jimmy Melton, 13-year-old convicted killer, "like my own kid."

"I can't put that kid behind bars to be with the toughest thugs and bums in the state," he declared. "I'm going to take him into my home, let him go to school.

"They sent Jimmy here for me to care for. The way I look at it, I can do it my own way. This is my way. I'm going to try it out."

The boy, who was sentenced to serve not less than 17 years to life imprisonment, said he shot his sister because he thought their father favored her.

Mrs. Best took Jimmy on a shopping tour. She even let him buy a hand-coloured cowboy suit. Then Best took the boy on a tour of the prison to see what he is missing but could be forced to take by missteps.

British Pleas Futile For Soviet Wives

LONDON — Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons that he had been "reluctantly forced to the conclusion" that there is no hope for the Russian wives of 12 British ex-servicemen joining their husbands in England.

Asked if he would not limit the number of Soviet wives permitted to join their Russian husbands in Britain accordingly, Mr. Bevin replied: "I doubt very much whether it will be effective. I deeply sympathize with the husbands and deplore the Soviet attitude which remains entirely incomprehensible to us, but I have not indulged in retaliatory method yet and don't want to be driven to it if I can help it."

Pee-Wee Hockey Play-Off Sees Upsets

The first round of the Pee-Wee league play-offs saw the two top teams hitherto undefeated in schedule play, eliminated by the 3rd and 4th teams. This play-off will be completed and the champs decided Wednesday when Rex Boake's Maple Leafs meet Tommy Acheson's Canadiens.

Tom Acheson's 4th place Canadiens turned on Ken Swanson and his Blackhawks and shut them out by a 2-0 score. Hugh Shepherd scored both goals in the third period.

Rex Boake and his Maple Leafs then did the same thing to the high flying Rangers captained by Ken Caron, by a score of 4 to 2. Goals were Miller from Boake, Paddy [illegible] from Joe [illegible], Joe [illegible] from Boake, Rex Boake unassisted for the Leafs. Ranger goal-getters were Ken Caron unassisted; Dick [illegible] (1) unassisted.

Art Tuey's Flying Geese Cause Excitement

Two domestic geese purchased by Art Tuey the first of the week from Hugh Stewart of Claysmore, took to the wing during Tuesday night and caused considerable excitement in the nearby countryside. The Standard received reports that a lone goose had landed in various farm yards to the west of town, and at the school of agriculture. Inquiries elicited the information that said geese were of the domestic variety with more than ordinary flying ability and that they had taken french leave from the Tuey yard in town.

Despairing of catching the birds alive, Art got close enough to snipe one off with a 22 and brought it home that way — the other one is still at large. Anyone having recent information regarding a stray gray goose, contact Art Tuey.

A.Y.P.A.

The meeting of the A.Y.P.A. on March 2nd was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Buckingham. We decided to order our A.Y.P.A. badges. After playing a few games an enjoyable lunch was served by two of the members. The next meeting will be held at the home of Shirley Davidson and all members are asked to be present if possible.

Stagette Notes

Tuesday evening saw 15 members out to the regular meeting.

We were very glad to see all of the articles coming in for our bazaar which will be held some time in May. The cash account was discussed and all the girls in debt for teas tried to bring themselves up to date. Each girl was also reminded of what she is to bring to the tea. We would like here and now to thank all the honorary members and other ladies of the town who kindly offered their services. We sincerely appreciate your kindness.

Next meeting will be our educational session and will be held at the home of Mrs. Cash. Cheerio until then girls

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. R. McCann and family wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to their friends and neighbors for the kindness, sympathy and help received during their recent bereavement.

Amateur Athletic Association Meeting This Friday, March 19th

President Reg. Mitchell Presents A Report of Year's Activities To Executive

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Amateur Athletic Association will be held at George's Lower Deck on Friday evening March 19th at 8 o'clock. At an executive meeting held recently to arrange for the annual meeting, President Reg Mitchell gave a short review of the activities carried out and attempted during the past year by the V.A.A.A. As so many people are interested in the numerous lines of athletic recreation, the Standard is reproducing the report as given by Mr. Mitchell as this will serve to acquaint everyone with the work of the Athletic association.

REPORT V.A.A.A. FOR 1947-48

Annual canvass made under chairmanship of Mr. E. M. Stewart and we wish to thank the public for their generous response.

One of the annual events of this association, the 24th of May sports, was marred to some extent by rainy weather, but on the whole it was a success with a large entry in all the competitions. The executive have made some recommendations for this year's sports day.

During the early season Gordon McGee was transferred and Wm. Sutherland was appointed to take his place on the executive. We wish to thank Gordon for his efforts and feel that we made a wise choice in Bill.

On what we considered as sound advice nothing was done with our new sports ground which we have under lease from the town, so as to allow the turf to become firmer and get a good growth of new grass. We hope this year conditions will warrant development of this park into a fine athletic grounds.

Through the co-operation of your executive and others interested a men's softball league was organized which developed a team that did credit to the community in the Alberta play-off.

Through co-operation of interested persons and the executive the Pee-Wee hockey league was organized with Elks, Legion, Jr. Section of the Board of Trade and this Association each sponsoring a team. Keen interest was shown by our future hockey players and we feel that the season was successful. We wish to thank all those who contributed their time and efforts in the success of this league.

Realizing the heavy demand for time at the arena this organization in co-operation with the town council sponsored and had built an outdoor ice surface. It is hoped another year we can have at least one more such rink in the eastern section of the town.

Through the good work of A. M. Watt this association sponsored again this year a district hockey tournament which was very successful and well patronized.

The executive voted assistance to the high school curling rink which participated in the northern Alberta finals in Edmonton.

All in all the executive felt that any sport or athletic activity deserved support and worked constantly to fulfill this aim. The success of the Pee-Wee hockey league in our opinion suggests that a league of this nature for Junior baseball is well worth considering this coming spring. We have a substantial balance at present but anticipate very heavy expenditure when work is started on the sports continued support.

In perusing the audited financial statement the Editor notes that gate receipts from the sports day were $739 which just about balanced the day's expenses, prizes etc. Total disbursements for the year were $1106.66.

Canadians Win Pee-Wee Play-Off and Columbia Trophy

Tommy Acheson and his Canadians came from the bottom of the league to win the Pee-Wee play-off and the handsome Columbia theatre trophy. W. P. Pilkie presented Tom and his team mates with the championship emblem between periods of the district play-off game Wednesday evening. Along with the cup went a prize of a free theatre ticket to each boy, also donated by Mr. Pilkie.

The Pee-Wee teams and their parents were guests of the Vermilion Amateur Athletic association at a wind-up supper, the kind that boys like, hot dogs, beans, ice cream pie etc. in the Elks hall Wednesday evening. Palm Dairies donated the ice cream and the supper was served by the women aided by a few Dads.

The Pee-Wee players were also presented with free tickets to the district play-off hockey game played later that evening.

FINAL GAME

The final Pee-Wee play-off game brought Boake's Maple Leafs against Acheson's Canadiens, resulting in a 3-2 victory for the Canadiens. For the Maple Leafs the sharpshooters were Rex Boake from Murray Miller and John Stewart from Miller. Tom Acheson notched two of the Canadien goals with Hugh Shepherd getting the other. Line-up of the champs will be given next week.

Local Girl Is Radio Announcer In the Far North

Mrs. Fred H. Waite (nee Madeen Cooper) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon H. Cooper of Vermilion, is now the radio announcer and "disc jockey" at radio station CHAK at Aklavik, N.W.T. This is the most northerly radio station on the North American continent, being well inside the Arctic circle and is known as the friendly voice of the Arctic. While not a high-powered station it serves the district in the far north by providing request programs three times a week, as well as two educational programs. Local talent is used also to provide entertainment over the air, many members of the community taking part. All in all it provides one of the main sources of entertainment during the long winter nights for those inside the Arctic.

TIGERS WIN HOCKEY LEAGUE PLAY-OFF

DEFEAT V.S.A. IN GREAT SERIES

The town Tigers upset all predictions when they won a great play-off series from the College for the District Hockey League championship. The young town team had met with little success against the well-balanced and heavier V.S.A. squad during the season and the victory in the play-off came as a distinct surprise to hockey fans.

The series produced high class hockey throughout and ran into four games, the V.S.A. winning the first 9-1, the second was an overtime tie 5-5, the town won the third game 5-3, and the final played on Wednesday evening before a large crowd resulted in a 5-4 win for the town in overtime. A better series regardless of who won, was just not possible.

A detailed report of the final game and cup presentation will appear next week, time for writing and setting of same into type just not existing this week.

Celebrity Concert A Decided Success

The Recital by Randall Stevens, baritone, in the United church, Vermilion on the evening of Wednesday, March 10th scored a decided success and the United church choir, under whose auspices the artist was presented, is to be congratulated on having successfully completed the second in the series of Prairie Celebrity concerts.

The program was arranged in five groups, with a pleasing variety of old favorites and more recent or less well-known numbers, all of which were rendered by the artist with great feeling and wonderful purity of tone. Deserving special mention were, in the first group Fiinella by Tschaikowski, the ever-popular, O Star of Eve, in the third group and Handel's Silent Worship; also Schubert's Who is Sylvia in the fourth group. A very entertaining feature and one which appeared to be particularly well received by the audience was the Song of the Flea, in three different settings of which two were sung in German and the last in the English translation. Mr. Stevens in these numbers, and also in the operatic numbers which were sung in Italian, displayed his extraordinary range and mastery not only in his native English but in the other languages.

The accompanist was Constance Drever (Mrs. Stevens), herself an outstanding musician, and her performance added considerably to the enjoyment of the program.

Confirmation and Induction Services At St. Saviour's

THE BISHOP OF EDMONTON OFFICIATES

Bishop Barfoot of Edmonton conducted the impressive services of Confirmation and Induction at the St Saviour's Anglican church on Sunday.

In the morning the Bishop officiated at the service of Confirmation when thirteen candidates were confirmed, these [illegible] Ruth Simonsen, Patricia Lay, Betty Oxton, Anne Garnett, Hazel Osbaldeston, Gladys Fooks, Chester Day, Jim Davidson, Keith Fooks, Jim Fooks, Noel Garnett, Allan Shenfield and John L. Kerns.

At the evening service the Bishop inducted the Rector, the Rev. T. W. Teape, into the charge of St. Saviour's parish with the attendant country churches at Ottawa and Pleasant Valley. Most of those present had never before taken part in an Induction service and followed each succeeding phase with great interest.

The Bishop congratulated the parish on the splendid way it had shouldered all its responsibilities in the past.

Following the evening service an informal reception was held in the rectory where members of the congregation enjoyed a chat with the Bishop and with one another.

Bee Association Holds Meeting

WM. MOSES ELECTED PRESIDENT

William Moses was elected President of the Vermilion Beekeepers' association at their annual meeting. Ernie Schurman is vice-president and Norman McClellan will be secretary treasurer.

Package bees and equipment will be handled as usual for members. It was pointed out by Mr Schurman that orders for bees must be placed with southern beekeepers immediately if early delivery is to be assured. Late arrival of package bees results in lower honey production. This all means that you should see your secretary immediately.

Votes of thanks were given to Ernie Schurman the retiring secretary, and to the District Agriculturist, F. H. Buckingham, for long continued help and support given to the Association.

At the close of the business meeting L. Blades of the school of agriculture staff, gave a most instructive talk on installing package bees and handling of hives during the early summer. Mr Blades stated that the three important points to observe were: To keep bees warm; To feed plenty of sugar syrup and to avoid any unnecessary disturbance.

"GREEN ACRES"

SHELTER BELT TREES

Several farmers were disappointed lately by having their orders for trees returned from The Forest Nursery Station at Indian Head, Sask. These trees are free to farmers but the supply is limited. Orders should be placed before Jan. 31 each year. As land must be summerfallow or breaking, preparation must be made the year ahead.

BEEF CALF CLUBS

Meetings are arranged as follows: McLaughlin March 17; Minburn March 18; Dewberry March 19, Mannville March 20, Clandonald March 22, Paradise Valley March 24; Lloydminster March 25 and Vermilion March 27. All meetings are called for 2 p.m.

BANISH THE SCRUB

There are still too many scrub bulls in use in this district. Most of them are very inferior animals and they pass on their poor qualities to their off-spring. Experienced cattlemen know that calves of good beef type are better feeders and sell at higher prices. Remember the [illegible] about the cattle Improvement (Bull) Policy whereby the Provincial government gives a discount of 25% on the purchase price.

DEHORNERS FOR LOAN

In spite of the fact that $1 is deducted for each animal marketed with horns, there are [illegible] coming on the market [illegible] before. I have [illegible] for loaning out, free of charge.

POULTRY LICE

WARBLE FLY CONTROL

Community [illegible] this pest is to be eliminated. It pays for every stock man to treat cattle for warbles. Losses up to $10 per animal are prevented. However if the owners of some of the largest herds fail to co-operate the job is only half done.

COUNCIL SETS RATE OF 45 MILLS FOR 1948

PURCHASES SCHOOL DIVISION DEBENTURES — PASTEURIZATION PLEBISCITE APRIL 20th.

Messrs. C. Thompson and J.D. Adam waited on Council re investment of $40,000 of the power plant sale trust account in Vermilion S.D. 15 year, 4% debentures.

The following motions carried:

That the Council purchase $40,000 of Vermilion School Division 4% 15-year debentures at par.

Council accepted, with sincere thanks, a framed photograph presented by Mayor Morrison, of the first council of the town of Vermilion, 1906.

1948 estimates were then dealt with and a mill rate of 29 for School and 16 for Municipal and Hospital was struck. By-law 4-48 authorizing a levy of 45 mills for 1948 was given three readings and finally passed.

By-law 5-48. Tax Discounts and dates wherein 5% discount allowed on all current taxes paid by June 15, 1948 and 2% discount on all taxes paid between June 15th and Oct. 15th, and 5% discount on all Business taxes paid by April 1st, 1948 was given 3 readings and finally passed.

By-law 3-48, authorizing a plebiscite on April 20th on the Pasteurization by-law was read a second and third time and finally passed.

LEGION NOTES

President—F. Sweetman
1st Vice-Pres.—Geo. Martin
2nd Vice-Pres.—Alex Kaiz
Sec. Treas.—Lawrence Webb

Executive Council — Vic Tillett, W. Sutherland, Fred Brimacombe, (Veterans of World War No. 2), A. Holte, Robt. Allen, (Veterans of World Wars 1 and 2); A. M. Watt, Carl Heckbert, Kenny MacDonald (Veterans of World War No. 1), Sgt.-at-Arms — Kenny MacDonald, Sentr Guards.

The above officers of the Branch were installed by the Provincial President of the Alberta Command, Carl Heckbert, on Monday, March 8, in the new Legion hall. This provided an occasion to realize what had been accomplished and to make preparations for an event which is expected to occur in the not too distant future. Of that event, more anon, but it is of such importance that every member will be bending every effort to effect the completion of the building, which will be a credit to the organization and a matter of pride to every citizen of the town of Vermilion. It requires an enormous effort, but further particulars in this connection will be forthcoming in the next monthly epistle addressed to all members.

In April the Battle of Vimy Ridge is commemorated especially by the members of the Legion who were in World War I. When one remembers that in the battle over 11,000 were killed it can be well realized that it has a distinct significance. The old veterans cast their minds back to the days when they themselves were in their youth and what a toll was exacted from their ranks for the price of victory at Vimy Ridge. It is the intention of the Legion to hold a dance on Friday April 9th, Vimy day. The tickets, $1 a couple but on Monday, April 12th, and many of you may recall, Vimy was not completed until the 12th we, the members of the Branch intend to hold a Smoker, and recall some of those days and pay tribute to those who gave all. We realize however, that the best tribute possible, is to build well and plan well for the [illegible].

CARNIVAL AT MANNVILLE IS GREAT SUCCESS

The [illegible] of the Mannville high school [illegible] a very successful [illegible] at the Mannville rink on Friday March 12th. The weather was [illegible] and a large crowd attended. A special feature of the program was a display of fancy skating by Miss Lois Beresford and Harold Pushell both of Vermilion. Other items included broomball, a hockey game between Mannville and Innisfree high school resulting in a 6-6 tie, costume parade, races and a [illegible] dance.

Prizes for costumes were generously donated by Mannville business establishments. There were 3 age groups and 3 competitions Fancy, National and Comic in each. First prize winners of each competition were respectively, [illegible] and under—Marlene Olsenberg, [illegible] Thorne, Jimmy and [illegible] years — Barbara Chrysler, Joyce Gamble, Shirley McFadden. 14 years and over—Mary Barker, Josephine McLaughlin. The prize for the best costume of the evening went to Barbara Chrysler and Adele Mulney. The prize for the youngest boy [illegible] went to Hans Peter [illegible] youngest girl to Jacqueline Hadmon. Winners of the races were [illegible] Adams, Leitch, Ken [illegible] Gilbertson, Billy [illegible] Rita [illegible].

DERWENT NEWS

John Ewanio Is New Councillor at Derwent

V. Christensen Retires After 16 Years

The village of Derwent has a new councilman owing to the resignation of V. Christensen who has served on the council as councilman and Mayor for the past 16 years. John R. Ewanio was appointed to the council Tuesday and is very popular and will fit in nicely with the other members of the council. In addition to this honor, John was elected president of the Red Cross and is pushing right ahead and has a number of people selling Red Cross books. Vice-president of the Red Cross is John W. Melnyk and Miss Ann Leskiw is secretary. Those appointed to canvass for the worthy [illegible] Hank Benson, Helmer Meyerman, J. G. Bykowski and for the farmers F. V. Podiubny.

Enthusiasm for the New Curling Rink

There is a lot of enthusiasm here and abouts regarding the new proposed curling rink and a number of prospective members have turned out to try their luck at the old Scotch game to enable them to be ready for the 1948-49 season. Those who have voiced their willingness so far are Mamie Hicks, Mrs. F. Pliskha, Steve Dobransky, John Ewanio, Mike Mudryk, Pete Romaniuk and Mr. Yaceyko. These beginners are really up and coming and are now curling like any old timer.

Frank Ilkiw Sells Store

Mr. F. Ilkiw, old time merchant here, has sold his general store and business to Mr. Paul Malanowski and Mr. Kulinchuk from Two Hills. The new proprietors will take over very shortly. It is not known as yet what Mr. Ilkiw contemplates doing but is understood he will go into another business in Derwent. He will move into the John Leskiw house when he vacates his store premises.

Mike Meckamie and Clarence Algot are busy removing snow from between their buildings with a cat tractor and scraper. This is good exercise for removing the surplus fat.

Mr. John W. Melnyk and Mr. Steve Shewchuk outlined the fine points of curling to the students during recess a few days ago. They really have the students enthusiastic regarding next winter's curling season.

Letters to the Editor

(This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

The Editor, Vermilion Standard,
Vermilion, Alberta.
Dear Sir:

We were very sorry to read in last week's Standard that anti-freeze was stolen from two Dewberry cars at Islay on the night of the amateur contest.

We are not able to tell the owners how to recover lost anti-freeze, but we can name the two culprits we believe responsible for the loss, namely, Jack Frost and Specific Gravity.

TO PROHIBIT FAST TIME

Hon. Lucien Maynard, attorney general for the province of Alberta has introduced a measure prohibiting fast time in Alberta. Last year Alberta cities and a number of towns went on fast time. Farmers and farm organizations have been protesting against tampering with the time schedule.

Plan Large Programs For National Parks

What vital improvements will be seen in national parks this year in anticipation of an increased patronage this summer according to information received by the Alberta Motor [illegible].

More light on these programs probably will be given when the federal budget for National Park programs is [illegible] at Ottawa this year.

Federal officials have stated that [illegible] plans are to be undertaken to improve facilities for public [illegible].

Also arrangements have been made to extend auto camp facilities to meet a increased demand. Many applications have been made for cabin [illegible].

Inquiries received by railway companies operating mountain resort hotels also show that the flow of holiday travel this summer will be the highest of any post-war year. During January, many applications for June and July reservations were received.

Watch for It Next Week

News accumulated in large quantities on Wednesday this week and a considerable number of items have had to be held for next week's Standard—so if it's not in this week, watch for it next issue. In the meantime send in your news items, we want them.

All contributors of typewritten copy for inclusion in the Standard are reminded to please double space your lines and limit the length of your lines to about 10 words. Unless this is done the Editor will not be responsible for what the typesetter does with said copy.

Anyone Else See It?

The Standard has a report of a peculiar object, apparently a small lighted balloon with a plaid effect, which floated over the west end of town on Tuesday evening about 11 p.m. three weeks ago. Did anyone else see it and what was it?

Following two mild days Saturday and Sunday, the weather turned cold Monday and Tuesday, milder again on Wednesday and Thursday with a forecast of a little colder for Friday.

Report to the People

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.
BATTLE RIVER

COST OF LIVING INVESTIGATION

The Committee dealing with the increase in the cost of living is continuing its work and up to the present time has dealt almost exclusively with the price of bread. In a few instances during recent days, the retail price of bread has been brought down by 1c per loaf and it is interesting to know that at a meeting of the bakers in Toronto where the price of bread was increased to 13c per loaf, a member of the WPTB attended and was quite satisfied that the increase of 2c, to 13c should take place. It is expected that the Committee will now move on to other items and from present appearance, a lot of work has got to be done unless some unforseen circumstances will bring about a lowering of prices.

PRICE OF OATS & BARLEY

On March 1st, an announcement was made by the Rt. Hon. C.D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, dealing with support prices of oats and barley and this reads as follows. "During the current crop season support prices for both oats and barley are in effect and the Government intends to extend this to July 31st, 1949 at the same support levels prevailing this crop year. Oats will continue to be supported at levels based on 61½ cents for No. 1 feed oats in store Ft. William-Pt. Arthur with other grades at approximate differentials to be fixed from time to time by the Wheat Board. Barley will also be supported at 90c per bus. for No. 1 feed barley in store Ft. William-Pt. Arthur with other grades at appropriate differentials to be fixed from time to time by the Wheat Board. The purpose of making this announcement at this time is to enable producers of oats and barley to plan their operations for the coming crop year with the assurance that market prices will not decline below the support levels. As in the present crop year the Canadian Wheat Board will be directed to implement this policy."

4-YEAR WHEAT AGREEMENT

Another announcement of vital interest to prairie farmers was made over the radio March 6th when it was made known that 33 nations had signed a wheat agreement for a 4 year period. According to this announcement the maximum price of wheat per bushel is set at $2 while the floor for 1948 is fixed at $1.50; for 1949, $1.40; for 1950, $1.30 and for 1951, $1.20. At this time I have no further information on this agreement but will perhaps deal with it in my next report. Farmers, for a number of years, have been looking forward and doing everything possible to have a long-term wheat agreement, but it would seem that if there is to be a ceiling on the price of wheat and other grains, a ceiling should also be placed on the price of the things the farmer has to buy in order to produce his grain, otherwise the benefits accruing under a long-term agreement may be consumed by the higher cost of production.

INTERIM PAYMENT ON WHEAT

With respect to the interim payment on the 1945-46 and 1947 wheat crops, a resolution is now on the Order Paper preceding legislation which will provide for this payment. There are other matters included in the resolution with which some of the members of the House do not agree, and for this reason it may take some little time debating the resolution and the legislation itself, but we shall do everything possible to have it passed as soon as possible so that payments can be proceeded with. The legislation will not provide the amount per bushel of the payment and the Government refuses to specify the amount or otherwise divulge it. Although the former Minister of Trade and Commerce, Hon. J.A. McKinnon, stated some weeks ago in Alberta that the payment would be much above the reported 20c per bus., it is rumored that the expected increased payment will not come about this time and 20c, or very little better, may be expected according to the best information we can get here.

For ironing household linens and men's shirts, use of a wider ironing board will shorten and simplify the weekly ironing task.

An ounce of apology will dissolve a peck of trouble.

Young Performer

Guest star on the Northern Electric Hour on Monday, March 22, will be Donna Gresco, 20-year old Canadian violinist. This will be Miss Gresco's second appearance on this broadcast. Supported by Paul Scherman and the concert orchestra, she will play works by Wieniawski and Dvorak-Kreisler. The orchestra will be heard in selections by Schwartz, Valverde and Lincke.

Every Farmer Needs Life Insurance

JUST as a windbreak tempers the fury of the storm, so Life Insurance will shield a farmer's family in the greatest of all misfortunes.

If bereft suddenly of her husband, the farmer's wife is likely to face a critical financial situation. There would be heavy expenses that she must pay out at once and in full. Ready cash might easily be lacking, as so much of the farm earnings is ploughed back regularly into stock, buildings and equipment. To meet obligations, she might be forced to sell part of those belongings on which the family's livelihood depends!

When her husband's life is insured, however, ready money would always be available to tide her over, to meet the mortgage payments and to allow her to readjust her life without added difficulties. Surely to no man is Life Insurance more necessary than to the farmer.

Vermilion Member Takes Part In "Speech from the Throne"

TOUCHES ON MANY MATTERS OF INTEREST TO CONSTITUENCY

W. E. Cornish, M.L.A. for Vermilion, took part in debate on the Speech from the Throne in the Alberta legislature. During his remarks he touched on many matters of vital interest to people in the constituency.

"Mr. Speaker:— In rising to take part in this debate, I would first of all like to congratulate those who have spoken before me, especially the Mover and Seconder. I would also like at this time to congratulate the Hon. Member, Mr. Prowse in having been elected to the position of Liberal leader in the Province of Alberta; coupled with my congratulations is a measure of sympathy; the Hon. Member has, to my mind, a very lame horse to lead. In fact Mr. Speaker, I thought that the thing had died, but apparently someone had been keeping it alive "independently". However, Mr. Speaker, leading a lame horse is a very tough and heartbreaking job especially one with so much unsoundness and with so many blemishes as this particular nag. I venture to say that the only sound part connected with this horse is his wind; that, no doubt, will be in top condition.

Mr Speaker, I bring greetings from the Constituency of Vermilion (and I am supposed to add 'the best') but I'll settle for 'one of the best'; the people in the Vermilion area were very sorry indeed to hear that it was necessary for the Hon Mr. Fallow to relinquish for a time his duties as Minister of Public Works on account of ill health. As a former member of that constituency and having lived in the town of Vermilion previously to having been elected, the Minister is better known than in any other part of the Province. We all wish him a speedy and complete recovery.

The School of Agriculture

Situated in the town of Vermilion is a school of agriculture which was reopened at the close of hostilities, having been closed for the duration of the war. The enrolment of students is very heavy, many prospective students having been turned away for lack of accommodation. I believe, Mr. Speaker, that there is another Provincial school of agriculture at Olds. I recall that on former occasions the Hon. Member for Olds has mentioned the fact.

Severe Hail Storms

I am sorry to have to relate that much of the area contained in the Vermilion constituency was visited by severe hailstorms during the past summer. Storms occurred in early July and August. Crops in many instances were totally destroyed and consequently there is a decided shortage of both feed and seed grain; and as hail storms are fortunately not often experienced in this part of the Province, many of the crops destroyed were not covered by insurance.

Asks for Roads

Mr Speaker, I now turn to the matter of roads. We have in the Constituency of Vermilion two highways which are in urgent need of construction. The highway running east from Two Hills which serves a very rich and thickly populated area is very badly needed by those living in the towns along the C.P.R. Willingdon Lloydminster railway and those in the surrounding territory. This road running as it does through the centre of the M.D. of Eagle, constitutes quite a serious municipal problem as they have to spend so much of their revenue each year in order to keep the road in at least a passable condition. This reduces the amount of money which is available for construction of purely municipal roads.

The second road is the highway extending north from Vermilion to Elk Point and beyond. This would entail the building of a bridge across the Saskatchewan river. This particular piece of construction has been urged for many years, but I would call the attention of the Government to the fact that due to the construction of a large salt manufacturing plant in the vicinity of Elk Point, the need for this bridge and road has become doubly urgent.

I hope Mr Speaker, that construction will be started in the spring on these two much needed projects. I would like to add that the salt manufacturing plant which I have mentioned is the largest single manufacturing enterprise started within the province during the past year. The Company hopes to start producing salt next month, and a road south to Vermilion would give the Company an immediate outlet for their production.

Road Grants

The increased road grants to M.D.s during the past year has enabled them to construct large stretches of good roads and I am glad to note that these grants are to be increased this year. Great satisfaction was expressed by all those affected through the social service tax being abolished at the last session of the Legislature.

Suggests Supervisors for M.D.s

I am pleased to note that the M.D.s were able to obtain further supplies of much needed machinery for road construction during the past year, but I feel that we still have one weakness within the set-up of the larger municipal unit, and that is lack of adequate supervision, and my suggestion is that the Department of Public Works endeavor as soon as possible to supply qualified engineers for the construction of municipal roads. It is quite possible that one man could supply the service required by two municipalities. Without such a service, too much time is spent by our councillors on supervision, which fact deters many good men from offering their services as councillors.

Bowell Bulletin

We are [illegible] to report at time of writing that Mrs. Gillies and Mrs. J. Millar are patients in the Vermilion hospital. A quick recovery is wished them.

Mrs. Fenton and Mrs. Hardie were guests for dinner at the Repp home Thursday.

Nineteen ladies gathered at Mrs. Repp's for the March meeting of the Busy Bees. Four new members joined, these being Mrs. Gannon, Mrs. Korolub, Mrs. J. Payne and Mrs. Jenkins. This brings our total membership to 21. Everyone was also pleased to have Mrs. DeLeeuw, Mrs. Knutson and Mrs. Frederick as our visitors.

The Busy Bees decided to donate $10 to the Red Cross drive. It was also decided to raise the price of admission at the dances to 50c and 35c. Mrs. J. Payne kindly donated a pound of coffee.

Thanks are extended to the Repps, Simenchuks, and Harold Knutson for shovelling out the road into the school yard.

The Busy Bees will hold a sale of home cooking and farm produce on April 10th in Stephens' store. The committee in charge is Mrs. Fenton, Mrs. McGinnis and Mrs. Sherwood for the first hour, then Mrs. Repp, Mrs. Hardie and Mrs. Moses will take over.

The next Busy Bee meeting will be held at Mrs. Moses' home, lunch by Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. N. Simenchuk.

Four new phones are being put in when the weather permits. These are at the Bevan, Sherwood, Walker and Gibbon homes.

We are sorry to say that the little Watt girl has been a patient in the hospital for several weeks suffering from rheumatic fever. The writer was only recently given this information and sincerely hopes that the little girl will soon be up and about again.

Her many friends here will be sorry to learn that Mrs. Geo. Renaghan of Creston, B.C. has recently undergone a serious operation at the Creston hospital.

Stove Still Leads

Most people in Canada still use the stove for heating, according to a survey reported in The Financial Post. It says: "Maybe you thought the pot-belly stove was well on the way out as the chief source of heat for the home. It isn't. It's still the only source of heat for more than one in three of Canada's three-million-odd families.

For another one in five, the kitchen range provides the only source of heat. Furnaces are found in but little more than two in five homes and the greater percentage of these 1,250,000 homes uses a hot air system.

Death and Funeral of Mrs. Fanny Wyard Scott

RESIDENT OF MANNVILLE

Fanny Wyard Scott of Mannville passed away suddenly in a Victoria, B.C. hospital, after a short illness, on March 1st, 1948, in her 78th year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyard Scott were in Victoria on a holiday.

Left to mourn her loss are her loving husband, one son Frank and two grandchildren, Fred and June, all of Mannville. One sister Mrs. H. Smith and one brother Mr. C. Sanford, both in England.

The late Mrs. Wyard Scott was born in Essex, England, in 1871. She was married in Bishop's-Stortford, Hert's, England in 1896. After living in London a few years she and her husband and son Frank, came to Canada in 1904. After a short stay in Manitoba and in Lethbridge, they settled on their homestead in the Mannville district in 1905, where they have since resided.

Many old timers will remember the late Mrs. Wyard Scott's home in the early days for its hospitality.

Funeral services were held in Mannville, on March 9th. Rev. V. P. Cole of the Anglican church conducted the service. Interment took place in the Mannville cemetery. Pall bearers were C. Bennett, R. B. Hanning, H Robertson, G. Clark, Chris Bauer and F [illegible]

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all the kind friends, neighbors, pall bearers, and those who helped in any way, and for their many acts of kindness and beautiful floral offerings during the loss of our dear wife and mother.

A. J. Wyard Scott, Frank and Iva.

Chatworth Chatter

We are enjoying more spring-like weather this week (so far). Let's hope winter will soon be well past for another year. The week end was particularly nice with snow melting quite rapidly, though thawing hasn't made much impression as yet.

The bulldozer outfit owned by W.B. Mix came through from the north last Thursday morning and really moved some snow. The roads had filled in level between the plowed ridges and were almost impassable for horses. The route followed on Thursday was south past the Ottawa church, to Branham's corner, east one mile, then south again to Davies' corner, east to Leo Klashinsky's, then south past Good's and east to the King Edward highway.

Jim Thompson and Jim Panter were out on Thursday afternoon opening the road from Panter's to the Ottawa road, south to Jim Thompson's and from Thompson's north to make connections with the snowplowed road past Hutchinson's.

It is reported that the snow plow from the Vermilion River M.D. opened the road to Baker's corner one day last week. However, the outlet from the north is closed to that road and the work was of no use to this division.

Mr. R. Good is the owner of a Ford V8 coach, purchased last week.

George Parkash came home from the hospital last week and is back to school today, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Panter and family have completed the move into their [illegible].

ACT ON ACHES ...

Disease is definitely demanding — it flourishes on neglect, and no one can afford to give it the "cold shoulder". It doesn't pay to ignore the insistent aches and pains by which ill-health reveals itself. Sickness calls for attention and the sooner it is recognized and combatted, the more quickly will it be driven off.

It is not natural to be unhappy all the time, assert doctors in Dept. of Health, Ottawa. Pointing out that every cloud has a silver lining, the health authorities urge a search for the rainbow and an appreciation of the inevitable sunshine which follows the storm. Since unhappiness is an enemy of health, the national officials advocate cultivation of a philosophic and cheerful outlook.

Alaska Road Permits Will Be Relaxed

Action is being taken by the Alberta Motor Association to get official word from Ottawa concerning the reported intention of removing all travel restrictions on the Alaska highway this year.

Recently, officials of the Alaska highway traffic control in Edmonton said that they had not had any official word of any changes in regulations and were still requiring permits for those using the highway. Inspections are being made to establish the "road worthiness" of cars.

At a recent meeting of the Edmonton branch of the A.M.A., it was stated that on Feb. 7th a letter had been received from the Canadian travel bureau stating that it had learned that travel restrictions on the Alaska highway will be relaxed this year. It is understood that there has been a marked increase in accommodations and services along the northern road.

Many inquiries are being received by provincial and motor club officials concerning the likelihood of the highway being opened to general tourist travel this year.

APPLICATION FOR LOCKER PLANT LICENSE

Pursuant to The Frozen Food Locker Act being chapter 11 of the Statutes of Alberta, 1944, public notice is hereby given of receipt of an application for license to operate a FROZEN FOOD LOCKER PLANT, at VERMILION Alberta.

A policy of restricting such licenses has been adopted and only one license will be issued at this point. Applications will be received from other interested persons for a period of thirty (30) days following the date of this notice.

Application forms may be obtained from the Dairy Branch, Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Dated at Edmonton, in the Province of Alberta, this [illegible] day OF MARCH 1948

D. S. McCALLUM
DAIRY COMMISSIONER
Edmonton, Alberta.

TO THE ELECTORS of Vermilion River M. D. No. 71

The record of Vermilion River Municipality has not been one that we could be particularly proud of: Court actions, Administrators, Plebiscite, Dismissal of councillors, reorganization of divisions, a series of deficits, and the recent resignation of two of our councillors, could not possibly add up to a healthy state of affairs.

We beg to suggest that the time is here when we should forget the past, and build for the future. To this end we feel that it is most important that a record vote be polled at the forthcoming election. Our slogan is — vote for whom you choose, but be sure and choose to vote.

Our candidate believes that municipal elections should be contested on policies made public for the electors' approval. He stands for definite municipal planning, and careful supervision of the spending of the taxpayers' dollar. If you favor these general principles, we respectfully recommend

W. H. GORDON FOR DIVISION 4.

WILDMERE WINKS

We wish to make a correction in the item about the Institute meeting last week. It was Mrs. Garnett our vice-president who took the chair. Mrs. Wilson is our President and was unable, owing to school duties, to attend. The next meeting will be at Mrs. W. T. Garnett's and not Mrs. W. J. Garnett's as in the news item.

What a relief to see a light burning in the rest room in town on Saturday. That is one place a light should burn all the time. When the days were short and with no light on it was like going into a dungeon. We all hope for a nicer place when the sewer system is completed.

Haines Bros. of Wildmere have purchased a wild oat grain-cleaner. At some future date they intend putting on a Field day for the public to see it work. Watch the paper for the day and date folks.

On Saturday evening the Wildmere curlers sat down to a banquet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson. Those attending were Mr and Mrs. F. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bathe, Mr. and Mrs. O. Weisenburger, Mr. and Mrs. R. Martin, Cliff Cruthers, Wm. and Adam Smith and Lawrence Graham. Four were unable to attend, namely Mrs. C Cruthers, Mr and Mrs. Albert Smith and J. Barnhart. One game of curling was enjoyed. Games were also a source of amusement at the house, and lots to eat at all times. A grand wind-up to the season.

Mr. Mayhew made a grand job of cleaning out our road last week. You could travel right along and make turn in [illegible] [illegible]'s hoping he won't have to make many more trips this winter.

Say folks if you see men holding their heads these days you will know they are working on their income tax returns. These really are a head ache. We all thought the new forms would be simplified but one look at them will convince you otherwise.

Noticed around—Noel Garnett of V. S.A. visiting his home in Sherwood during the week end. The writer having a nice chat with Mrs B. Rogan, Mrs Watery, Mrs. H. Smith, Mrs. McBride and Mrs. Holte in town; Mrs Weisenburger accompanied Mrs R. Martin to Edmonton when she went up on Monday to attend the W.I. convention. George and Fred Haines visiting at the Wellington home on Sunday evening. Two more steel frames are to be added to R.R. 3 when possible to put in posts for them. Guy Whitlock and Robert Smith being the latest ones to come on. Wildmere P.O. is to be moved to Weisenburger's in the spring when Mrs. Martin moves. J. Kennedy is back home again after his long spell in the hospital.

TROUBLE FREE ELECTRIC CORD

Makers of a new electrical cord not say they have eliminated broken wires, burned-out fuses, shocks and danger by preventing sharp bending and chafing of the cord where it enters the plug. Their patented plug inserts The Flexowhirl Post in its White's [illegible] column contains no wire and can spin, bend, turn and twist with the action of the user's wrist. Primarily designed as a replacement cord set for electrical irons, it is said to be equally useful for toasters, broilers, coffee-makers etc.

MARTYRS TO ILLNESS . . .

Denouncing fear, anxiety and worry over health as harmful, the Department of National Health has issued a call to martyrs to illness to battle their ailments. Instead of grinning and bearing it, the person who actually seems to enjoy being an invalid should strive for better health, says a health officer, pointing out that in many cases such fear and worry is a form of self-indulgence.

Private grievances cloud major issues.

Joyce Milholland Carnival Queen At Elk Point

500 ATTEND EVENT

Miss Joyce Milholland, Elk Point high school student, was crowned queen of the Elk Point annual ice carnival here last week end before a crowd of 500 fans who attended the one-day event. The queen was crowned by Mayor Carl [illegible] and was attended by her two princess attendants, Misses Elizabeth Soldan and Helen [illegible], who were also candidates in the contest for queen. Principal R. E. Beattie presented each of the "royal party" with gifts.

Considerable color was added to the carnival by the ice [illegible] presented by each of the rooms in [illegible] [illegible]. Students of Elk Point high school held a mock curling game with each rink dressed in Scotch kilts. Instead of regulation rocks, the participants used tea kettles and pots and pans. Another comedy feature was a mock shotgun wedding presented by the grade IX girls. A special comedy feature was the boxing act performed by the comedy team, "Jacko and Mo" in the persons of John Mormyk and August Bartling. Their act was climaxed by a spectacular leap through a wall of fire. Grade IX boys concluded the comedy stunt portion of the program with a huge elephant on skates, which highly delighted the audience.

Prizes for the best fancy costumes were awarded to Norma Kipp and Elizabeth Soldan; Best comic costumes to Harry Bartoshyk and Joan Milholland and for best character costumes to Billy Sumpton, Carl Hall, Norma Bartling and Helen Prusak.

In the athletic and fancy skating events, Vern Raham and Helen Prusak won first for best skaters to music; Andrew Borutski and Eddy Soldan won the half mile race; Races 8 and under were won by Donald Sidney and Ronnie Jacobson; Ages 9 to 11 boys—Ronnie Pelechosky and Billy Sumpton; Girls — Rosie Prusak and Evelyn Soldan; Ages 12 to 14, boys—Eddy Soldan and Danny Libich; Girls —Elizabeth Soldan and Helen Prusak; Open Class boys — Andrew Borutski and Eddy Soldan; Girls — Elizabeth Soldan and Valie Kipp; Balloon race, boys — Jimmy Kottges and Ronnie Pelechosky; Girls — Valie Kipp and Rosie Prusak; Shuttle Race — Danny Libich and Elizabeth Soldan; Relay Races, boys—Jimmy Kottges, Eddy Soldan, Danny Libich and Tony Spelay; Girls — Norma Wenzel, Joan Sumpton, Valie Kipp and Anne McDonell; Train Race, boys — Jimmy Kottges, Tony Spelay, Eddy Soldan, Danny Libich; Girls—Rosie Prusak, Joan Sumpton, Norma Wenzel, Elizabeth Soldan; Partner Race — Donald Wenzel and Evelyn Soldan; Jockey Race—Barry Koch and Jimmy Ramsbottom. The gate prize was won by Ronnie Pelechosky.

Proceeds from the carnival will be used for the Elk Point high school Students' Union fund.

Mr Will Muir returned this week from a three weeks' trip to B.C. Bill spent a week with Mr and Mrs Sid Millward at Nakusp, then on to Vancouver, seeing many of the folks who used to live here

Again the snow plow has been over the roads and now the school busses travel their routes all the way. It was quite a piece of work for the snow banks were really hard

Mrs Martin Sr has been in to Edmonton the past week visiting Mr Martin in the Royal Alex hospital

The picture shown last Friday night for the purpose of showing what the projector could do, and also to raise funds for the school, was really good. A projector is to be purchased. The school students will now be able to have school subjects that are filmed more often than once a month, and the community may have educational films more often too. Thanks to many citizens the purchase has now been made possible. The film was Tundra

If you want to see something shiny call in on Mary McFadyen at the drug store and she will be pleased to show it to you

After being penned up at home for about three weeks, John Mairs was in town this week and walking too he said. After being still so long he said he felt he needed exercise—but we notice he waited for Ed McFadyen to come in with a team and sleigh.

Noticed this week, Ray, the Anderson's dog, doing a fine piece of work taking the cows home from down towards the town doing it quietly too

Mr Miller the school bus driver for Morrison school, will be glad the west road has been cleared, for some time he has been going down to Borradaile and in by the new highway to Islay, a long way round but he did it and so Morrison pupils didn't miss any time at school

Miss Queenie Hutton has arrived from Vancouver to visit at her mother's home near Kalmar school

400 Million Children Appeal to You for Life

There is still time to give a generous donation to the Canadian Appeal for Children fund. The objective of a day's pay, just one day out of a year, is not too much to ask, when it will give some poor, starved, homeless child a chance for life and happiness. You could easily spend that amount on one party, or to purchase some unessential article and never miss it.

To comfortable, well-fed Canadians, the terrible, desperate plight of little children, cold, ragged and hungry, seems fantastic. But, it is only too true. Orphaned by the war, by the inhuman slaughter of Hitler's juggernaut, their only home some concentration camp, the suffering of these innocent little ones would melt the hardest heart. They need milk, medicine, clothing, education and a chance to learn to play again—they need all the simple things that our children have never known the lack of.

Can we look at our own happy, healthy children and refuse to give all we can to make life a little more bearable for those 400 million children with the sad, old eyes, the deformed bodies, the thin little legs and arms who plead so silently for a chance to live?

Donations may be made to any branch of any chartered bank. Do it now, before it is too late, or before you forget

NEW HOSPITAL AT YELLOWKNIFE

73rd IN RED CROSS MERCY CHAIN

TORONTO —Gold rush town of the sub-Arctic Yellowknife, N.W.T., now boasts a two-storey 50-bed hospital, as modern as penicillin and as well equipped as any metropolitan health centre.

The new hospital, 700 miles from civilization, is the joint enterprise of the Canadian Red Cross Society and citizens of the gold-mining district. Against the snows of this vast wind-swept frontier, the big red cross over the hospital door stands out as a symbol of help and mercy to 5,000 whites, half breeds and native Indians scattered north from the bleak shores of Great Slave Lake.

WOODVALE

HINDVILLE GIRL QUEEN AT KITSCOTY

Lilian Watson was chosen as carnival queen at Kitscoty carnival early this month. She comes from the Hindville district and attends high school in Kitscoty. Our hats off to her sister Fay who drives the mail here and surely has some awful roads to travel twice a week.

The coldest weather of the winter is trying to herald the coming spring! The temperature really went down and again the roads are drifted full. One March we will remember for a long time.

Mrs. Laura Green returned from B.C. where spring was well on its way already. She was quite surprised at the amount of snow.

There seems to have been quite a number of meetings in the district lately. A U.F.A. meeting at Canton school with 5 members breaking new trails to get there; A Farm Forum meeting on the 1st at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Walters, where ten neighbors gathered and spent a very pleasant evening at cards and games after the Forum. The last one of the season will be held at the home of Chris Thomson on the 15th. We know quite a number are looking forward to some more of those delicious doughnuts Doris. Ten members attended the Red Cross meeting at the home of Mrs. C. McGrath on the 3rd and finished the big quilt, and one for a baby crib. The first one will stay in the Vermilion district. The members are giving their donations for the Red Cross to our secretary who will turn it in by the end of the month. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Harry Portsmith's on April 7th.

On the 4th of this month the Woodvale Mutual Telephone Co. held its annual meeting at the home of Roger Watt. Mr. Hugh Stewart is the new president and Mr. Basil Hamley the new secretary-treasurer. It was found necessary to raise the monthly due to $1.50 as funds are required for some badly needed repairs and overhauling of parts of the line where the main troubles constantly arise. There were five more applications for membership.

The Canton school children had an unexpected two days holiday when their teacher Mr. S. Warman came down with the flu and lost the use of his voice.

GROWERS URGED TO GET GOOD SEED

Pending preparation of rules and regulations for the National Barley contest of 1948 which the brewing and malting industries have decided to continue, the Contest committee is advising prospective contestants for this year to make sure of their seed supplies.

The committee's first warning is that enough seed will be required to sow 40 acres and that it will be better to have enough seed to sow more than 40 acres.

The second is that chances will be better if contestants make sure to get registered and certified seed. One of the purposes of the contest is to improve quality production, and good seed to start is one of the main requisites.

The eligible varieties for the 1948 contest will be Montcalm, O.A.C. 21, Mensury and Olli for Alberta.

Know Your
2,4-D

Sodium Salt?
Ester?
Amine?
Sinox?
Dust?
Liquid?

Are You Confused About 2,4-D?

Do you know that all 2, 4-D formulations are not the same? 2, 4-D is an acid which is put up in many different concentrations both in liquid or soluble form and in dust. A producer should have complete information about all types of 2, 4-D and their characteristics before tackling his weed problem.

Can you answer these questions?

1. Should all brands of 2, 4-D cost approximately the same price?
2. What is the difference between Sodium Salt, Ester and Amine?
3. How much 2, 4-D should I use per acre?
4. Is 2, 4-D safe to use on a Flax crop?

These and many more questions are answered in the HANDBOOK ON CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL prepared by the National Grain Company.

Do You Realize the Cost of 2,4-D . . .
. . . is determined by the acid content it contains? For example: If you pay $11.50 per gallon of 2, 4-D containing 79.26 oz. of acid per imperial gallon it is probably less expensive than a gallon of 2, 4-D containing 60 oz. of acid at $9.50 per gallon because you can spray more acreage with the gallon containing 79.26 ozs.

A.M.A. Enters Protest On Fixed Speed Law

Strong objections to the Vehicles and Highway Act being amended to provide for arbitrary or fixed speed limits on provincial highways have been lodged with the provincial government by the Alberta Motor Assoc.

The A.M.A. contends that it is better to maintain the present law under which the burden of proof is on the motorist if he is found to be travelling at an unreasonable rate of speed. It also points out that this system is in use in 40 of the 48 States and also in England. Also this is easier to enforce than an arbitrary speed limit law.

A bill which has been introduced in the legislature proposes to establish a maximum speed of 55 miles per hour on highway during daytime and 45 miles as the limit at night.

The A.M.A. holds that it is much better to have a flexible law which means that the rate is dependent on the circumstances at the time. A rate of 55 miles at one time might be dangerous at another time. If a maximum is set, then motorists feel they have a right to drive at that speed, though it might not be safe under some conditions.

The A.M.A. also stresses at the same time, its paramount interest in safe driving on the highways.

Former Vermilion Girl Is Married at Hythe

HOWLETT—DIXON

The Alliance chapel at Hythe, Alberta, was decorated with daffodils, tulips and ferns for the recent wedding of Betty Lou Dixon, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin A. Dixon, to Arnold Mason Howlett, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Howlett, also of Hythe.

The Rev. N. Galbraith performed the ceremony. Mrs. Galbraith sang "The Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register. The wedding music was played by Miss Joy Reid.

A reception for 25 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was centred with a tiered wedding cake flanked with tulle, spring flowers and white tapers.

After returning from a honeymoon trip to the coast Mr. and Mrs. Howlett will make their home in Hythe.

Dr. C. W. Stephens left last Wednesday to take a two weeks' post graduate course in surgery at the Cook County hospital in Chicago.

Principal F. H. Walker of the public school is the victim of a twisted knee this week and is confined to his home. Mrs. Davidson is substitute teacher.

Melvin Hill, S. G. Heckbert and Norman McClellan were all business visitors to Edmonton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman French and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baddock spent the first part of the week visiting in Edmonton. The trip was made by car.

The Vermilion Branch of the Fish & Game league and Ducks Unlimited were joint hosts on Tuesday afternoon at the Columbia theatre when some very interesting and educational wild life movies were shown to about 600 students and pupils of the local schools.

Mrs. James Lipsey slipped on an icy pathway Wednesday of last week and fell, injuring her shoulder, and necessitating a stay in the hospital.

Miss Pat Clark was a visitor to Edmonton for a few days this past week.

Brian Campbell-Hope who has been a member of the Treasury Branch staff left this week for Edmonton where he will study architecture in his father's office. Brian was quite an active member of the younger people around the town and was president of Anglican Young People's society.

A. M. Watt attended the Calgary spring bull sale and show this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Rooks and family motored to Heinsberg on Sunday where they visited Mrs. Rooks' parents Mr. and Mrs. H. Bendixen. Mr. Bendixen who is 79 years of age is doing considerable oil painting of pictures which has been a hobby of many years standing.

MORRISON NEWS

Wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Mrs. Gillies and to Mrs. Miller both of whom are ill.

Mrs. L. Playne who spent several days visiting the writer, returned home on Monday.

The men folks have made their first trip to Vermilion by car. It certainly has been a job trying to open up the roads.

There will be plenty of mud and water everywhere when spring finally melts the huge drifts hereabouts.

The weather being cold and roads bad there were only a few members at the ladies' annual meeting.

The writer enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Dupruit and Mary came along to help drive the team. It surely was cold on the fingers wasn't it Mary?

We are happy to announce the birth of a son to Vivian and Charlie Hughes (nee Vivian Gould).

The Gould's had quite a family reunion on Sunday as their children and three grandchildren were home for dinner it being such a lovely day.

Suggestion that school children be taught the value of adequate ventilation in the classroom is put forward by the Dept. of National Health and Welfare. The department recommends those school authorities who have the children in reading thermometers and barometers and in adjusting windows to provide air without draughts. It is suggested that such instruction be continued in the home.

Candle Light Service At W.M.S. Meeting

On Thursday March 11th the W.M.S. of United church held their regular monthly meeting in the church parlors. After all the business had been transacted the C.G.I.T. group gave a lovely Candle Light service with Mrs. Hodkie in charge. Mrs. Hill then presented a badge to each one of the girls and gave them a very interesting talk on Christian missionaries and missionary work.

Mrs. Cash gave a very fine report on the United Church Presbyterial which was held in Calgary. This was very much enjoyed by all. Refreshments were then served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Vermilion W. I.

At the March meeting held at Mrs. Thifle's, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Green were appointed to attend the conference of district No. 2 which is to be held in Edmonton March 16 and 17.

During the previous month a parcel of used clothing was packed for overseas, three food parcels have been sent since the beginning of the year and a donation made to the Red Cross.

Next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. J. Cameron on April 11.

Death and Funeral Of James Good

There passed away at the Vermilion hospital on February 29th, James Good an old timer of the district. He was born at Port Albert in Ontario on April 22nd, 1877. His younger days were spent as a sailor on the Great Lakes.

In 1906 he answered the call of the west and came to Alberta with his brother-in-law, the late Duncan McPhee, homesteading in the Rusylvia district where he lived since those early days.

The funeral service were held in the First United church, Vermilion, on March 2nd, interment taking place at the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. E. S. Bothie officiated.

Mr Good was predeceased by his wife in 1935. He leaves to mourn his loss one sister, Rachel of Port Caldwell, and three brothers, Sandy of Vermilion, Angus of New Westminster and Gordon of Rusylvia.

The pall bearers were Messrs C Thompson, A. Ramsley, G. Dew, E. Devlin, H. Schoonmaker and Henry Mayhew.

Mayer's were in charge of arrangements.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from: The family; Angus and Margaret; Joe and Allen; Herb. Mossy and family; Edna, John and Keith, Velma, Walter and family; Mr. and Mrs. H. Schoonmaker and family and Mr. and Mrs. L. Baldock and family, Mr. and Mrs C. Thompson, Mr. Parsons and Jack Robinson; Mr and Mrs. David McPhee and family, Mr. and Mrs Gordon Dew; Members of the United church, Rusylvia.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks for the kindness, sympathy and help extended to us during our bereavement by the death of our brother James Good and for the beautiful floral tributes.

The Family

Former Vermilion Citizen Dies at Wimmer, Sask.

JOHN LEE SERVED IN THE RIEL REBELLION

Mr John Lee, who at one time resided in Vermilion, died on March 3rd at Wimmer, Sask., at the age of 89 years. A daughter Mrs. Cecil Hobbis lives at Vermilion.

Mr Lee was born at Nottingham, England on March 13, 1859. He came to Canada when 21 years of age when he homesteaded near Regina and during that time served and helped put down the Riel rebellion. He returned to England where he married and in 1911 he returned to Canada, farming in Manitoba, in the Union district of Vermilion and finally in Saskatchewan. He lived for six years in the Union district and resided in town for a few years, living in the house presently occupied by Mark Norton and family.

DEWBERRY NEWS

Ben Timanson Heads Dewberry Sports Association

Dewberry Sports Association held a very important meeting on March 10th when the election of offices for the ensuing year were held and financial statements read. The officers elected are:

President — Ben Timanson
Vice-Pres. — Fred Braithwaite
Secretary — John Anderson

Perhaps Dewberry might get the name of "Little Nipawin" next winter because curling is the game of games in the winter season and two more sheets of ice are to be flooded next fall at the present site. This will necessitate enlarging the present building and the work will be done this summer. We have received a very generous offer from an interested Vermilion curler and to Mr. Heckbert we offer our sincere thanks.

After a long delay the Fred Braithwaite rink has brought home the Grand Challenge prize from the Marwayne bonspiel. Blocked roads delayed the final game until March 11th when they defeated Stewart of Kitscoty 11-10.

Dewberry Senior hockey team did very well in the recent Lloydminster hockey tournament. They defeated McLaughlin in the first game, Marwayne 2-1 in the 2nd game overtime, Kitscoty 5-0 and then lost the final game to Neilburg 1-0 after 15 minutes of overtime. Neil Jones, our goal keeper, was at his best and only allowed two goals in 4 games. The first game was 0-0 after McLaughlin refused to play the final period due to a disputed goal. Governor-General Accepts Canadian Legion Invitation

Vermilion Honoured

His Excellency, Viscount Alexander of Tunis, K.G., G.C.B., C.C.M.G., C.S.I., D.S.O., O.M.C., Governor-General of Canada and Patron of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, accompanied by Lady Alexander will pay a five hour official visit to Vermilion on May 26th and will officially open the new Memorial hall on the invitation of the local branch of the Canadian Legion.

Viscount Alexander is a world renowned soldier and was created a Field Marshall in recognition of his outstanding military service to the Empire; the many decorations bestowed upon this distinguished Britisher are adequate testimony to his soldiering and leadership. The Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion feels highly honored to have had its invitation accepted and is anxious to give opportunity to as many people as possible to meet the distinguished guests on the occasion of their official visit.

Acceptance of the invitation came through His Worship Mayor J.W.G. Morrison, K.C., who at once called a meeting of Legion representatives and the representatives of other local organizations, it was decided after discussion that as the Legion had extended the invitation and was responsible for the Vice Regal visit that much of the responsibility for necessary arrangements for the visit should rest with the Legion; S. C. Heckbert was named Chairman of a committee to take details in hand and various organizations in the town are being approached with regard to necessary assistance. At a later executive meeting of the Legion E. Swanson, branch president, together with Wm. Sutherland, with George Martin as alternate to the local president, were added to the basic committee and a suggested program has already been outlined.

Their Excellencies will arrive by air from the Dominion Legion convention at Saskatoon at 11 a.m. Tuesday, May 25th and will be met at the airport by a Guard of Honor from the local Company of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment, His Worship Mayor Morrison and others. Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and school children will have an excellent opportunity to see Their Excellencies as the line of procession passes through their ranks on Main street to the Memorial hall corner and west past the school of agriculture to the rural area west of town in which the Governor General has expressed interest.

Following a drive through the area, during which it is hoped that some of the fine herds of cattle of the Claysmore district will be seen, the party will return to the school of agriculture for luncheon, the arrangements for which have been undertaken by Principal Bentley who is ever willing to assist in projects of interest and value to the district.

During the period the distinguished guests are having lunch the public will be invited to assemble at the Exhibition grounds and several hundred Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and Cubs will form a giant circle inside the race track oval where a stand will have been erected; Their Excellencies will drive to the grounds and from the stand His Excellency, who is Chief Scout in Canada, will award one or more Scout decorations after being introduced by the Hon. N.E. Tanner, Chief Scout for Alberta.

Following the Scout ceremony the Governor General will accept the platform in front of the grandstand and will make presentation of a number of awards for which citations have been given to district heroes during the recent war, but who have not as yet received their awards.

On conclusion of this ceremony Viscount Alexander, in his capacity as Patron of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League will proceed to the Cenotaph where he will lay a wreath in memory of those who gave their lives for the Empire. He will then go to the Memorial hall where an opportunity will be given to those who served under his command during the war to meet the Governor General and Lady Alexander. After the people have had time to go to the park area in front of the Memorial hall, His Excellency will be introduced and will officially open the Legion building which will then be available for inspection by guests and the general public. The return journey to Saskatoon will be made by air and immediately on reaching that city His Excellency will attend the official banquet of the Dominion Convention of the Canadian Legion.

This visit will be a landmark in the history of Vermilion and district, as we are not often favored with the official presence of the direct representative of His Majesty the King; every opportunity will be given for as many district people as possible to see and hear Viscount and Lady Alexander; it is hoped that Lady Alexander may find it possible to address a gathering of ladies during her stay in Vermilion.

Details of arrangements will be made known as soon as possible and the co-operation of every citizen is urged so that the visit may be entirely successful in every respect.

Board of Trade Condemns Communism

At the regular weekly meeting on Wednesday, feeling the growing conviction that no country is safe from the aggression of Russia and its "fifth column", the communists of every country, the Vermilion Board of Trade passed the following resolution:

"That we, the Vermilion Board of Trade go on record as stating:— That Communism in Canada constitutes a definite threat to our individual freedom, to true democracy and to the increasing development of our standard of living and way of life;

That we are unalterably opposed to the theory and practice of Communism and will do all in our power to oppose it and develop a wider public appreciation of the dangers it presents."

The motion came in for considerable thoughtful discussion, and it was generally agreed that the passing of such a resolution should do much to awake the people from the apathy which is the most valuable asset the Communist conspirators have. It was felt that members of the Communist party in an country are, in effect, citizens of Russia and should be recognized as such.

Three well known old timers were present at the luncheon meeting and were given a warm welcome. These were Jack Welsh, Charlie Young formerly of Islay, and John J. Hope.

"GREEN ACRES"

W. E. CROSS TRIUMPH

CALVING DIFFICULTIES

Roy Jory tells me that farmers are coming to him every day for advice and help where cows are not giving birth normally to calves. It would appear from enquiries that the cows are suffering from malnutrition and the calves are dead before birth. As every good stockman knows, cows in calf should get more than wheat straw. It will certainly pay to feed some grain and concentrate (mineral protein supplement) to all cows in calf. Cod liver oil added to the ground grain will also help a lot.

[illegible]

More live stock should be raised on a renter-owner basis. There are however so many points where disagreements may occur that both renters and owners hesitate to get themselves involved. The 50-50 share lease contract seems to prove satisfactory to both partners. See a copy of the Minnesota bulletin on this subject at my office.

START PLANTS NOW

Many of the annual flowers require a start inside in this country. Asters, snaps, petunias, strawflowers, scabiosa, mignonette, African daisy, gaillardia, etc. should be started now in shallow boxes or flower pots for outside planting in May. It is a little early yet for tomatoes, lettuce and zinnias, but cabbage, cauliflower, kale and onions could be started inside now.

CROP ROTATIONS

So very few farmers in this district have set up a system of cropping for their land. Fallow, wheat, hay, hay, hay, and oats seems to be the best rotation for this district. If the hay was left down for 3 years it would be better still. Farmers who operate their farms according to a definite system of cropping find that it pays big dividends.

FEED SHORTAGES

It has come to my attention that many farmers are short of stock feed. Nearly all the old straw bottoms are fed up in some districts and still two months to go. It would appear that this district is overstocked for the amount of hay being raised. The only solution to the problem is to put down more land to brome and alfalfa and thus be assured of plenty of good quality feed. If anyone is coming to the end of their stock feed, orders can be placed through this office for car lots of hay or green feed. It will take about two weeks to get the hay baled and delivered here.

Students and staff at the school of agriculture will welcome visitors attending their Little Royal and Achievement day on Wednesday afternoon, March 31st.

The showing of livestock by members of the graduating class is always an attractive feature of the Little Royal. The students have spent considerable time training and preparing various kinds of livestock and keen interest is aroused in the showmanship competitions. The large Mechanics building provides excellent facilities for accommodating the show. Dr. J. W. Howe Professor of Animal Husbandry at the University of Alberta, will be the guest judge.

Classroom work prepared by the students during the term will be displayed in some 50 competitive classes including sewing, cooking and handcrafts shown by the girls; woodwork, blacksmithing, seed grain and butchering by the boys.

Miss Anna Gillis of the Home Economics teaching staff in Edmonton high schools and Mrs. Helen Bentley of the Department of Home Economics at the U. of A. will judge girls work while Mr. W. E. Robinson of the Technical school staff and Mr. B. T. Stephanson University of Alberta, will judge the mechanics exhibit.

In addition to the competitive classes the students are preparing displays illustrative of material studied in various subjects of their two year course. Anyone interested in the work of the school and particularly prospective students and their parents are specially invited to attend.

Construction Starts At Can. Utility Plant Site

TURBINE AND BOILERS MOVED

Preliminary construction work, the clearing of a site, building of storage sheds and machine shop, excavating for footings, is well underway by the Canadian Utilities at the location of their new plant here.

Moving of the 40-ton turbine engines and the large boilers from the C.N.R. yards where they have been stored to the plant site was carried on this week by the Pitts Transporting Co. Two of the turbines and two boilers are now on location with two of each still to arrive.

Canadian Utilities officials expect that a crew of 50 men will be engaged in building the plant. Another crew of approximately the same number will be stationed here while constructing the new high power line to Lavoy west and St. Paul. Another line will be built from St. Paul to Marwayne.

Expenditure on this huge construction project of plant and lines will run close to one million dollars, and will all centre on Vermilion.

Agricultural Society Sponsors School Fair

ADVANCE LISTS AVAILABLE—TO BE HELD DURING THREE-DAY SUMMER EXHIBITION

The Vermilion Agricultural society has made preparations for the exhibit of farm products and handicraft by the boys and girls of the district in its 1948 Prize List which is now in the hands of the printers, the Vermilion Standard. A special committee, set up under the chairmanship of Mr. N. N. Bentley, Principal of the school of agriculture, has carefully worked out an interesting program for the young people and advance lists are now available at the office of S. C. Heckbert, secretary-manager of the Society.

WIDE VARIETY OF CLASSES

Vermilion's Boys' and Girls' Fair includes, in addition to livestock exhibits, classes for Sewing and Cooking, Handicraft, Carpentry, Hobby Work and School Work classes, with an opportunity for Enterprise Displays for graded and ungraded schools. It is pointed out that in addition to the classes specially outlined for the boys and girls that the youthful exhibitors are urged to show in the regular classes such as vegetables, grains, grasses, etc.

Over $100 in Special Awards

Boys and girls will be interested to know that local business men and directors of the Exhibition have provided almost $100 as special awards which will be given in addition to the regular prizes. It is expected that a suitable building will be allocated for the Boys' and Girls' fair and a cordial invitation is extended to the young people of the town and district to obtain prize lists early and to exhibit at Vermilion Fair on July 22, 23 and 24.

The pupils of the Vermilion, Vegreville, Wainwright, Two Hills and St. Paul School Divisions are entitled to show in the Junior fair and no entry fees will be charged in the junior classes.

School of Agriculture Receives Memorial Prize Fund

Receipt of a bequest from the estate of the late Mrs. J.W.G. Morrison is announced by Principal N. N. Bentley of the Vermilion school of agriculture. Mrs Morrison who was always particularly interested in the Home Economics work at the school left the sum of $125 as a fund for the sponsorship of prizes open for competition by girls in the regular courses. The prizes will be awarded over a period of five years for achievement in sewing and handicrafts.

V. S. A. Parade Attracts Attention

Everyone enjoys a parade and everyone enjoyed the show staged by the students from the school of agriculture when they paraded down town last Saturday. Their object was to attract attention to their forthcoming Little Royal and Achievement Day on March 31st. Several decorated floats, many of the students in their new official school sweaters and various classes of farm livestock to be shown at the Little Royal made up a colorful parade that attracted a large audience of townspeople. The students themselves obviously enjoyed the attention they attracted and no doubt was left in the minds of the onlookers as to the date of their big day when their work at the college will be on display to the public.

Successful Curling Season at Derwent

BONSPIEL WINNERS

The local bonspiel and curling at Derwent this season was very successful as many rinks participated and good feeling and good sportsmanship prevailed throughout. Many fine close games were played and 13 enders were not an uncommon sight. A host of good prizes were donated for the bonspiel and plans are being put forth for the building of a new curling rink for local curlers.

President—V. Christensen
Vice-President—C. Algot
Sec.-Treas.—D. S. Chrapko.

Merchants, primary— 1, M. Cherniawski; 2, D. Chrapko; 3, C. Algot; 4, H. Bosson.

Citizens, primary—1, McConnell; 2, Cherniawski; 3, Bozushko; 4, Bosson.

Secondary to Gr. Challenge — Max Hanasyk; Algot; Steve Malinowski; Chrapko.

Secondary to Merchants—Bozushko; John Melnyk; Hanasyk; McConnell.

Grand Aggregate—Marshall Cherniawski; Grab Box—Stanley Bozushko.

To climax a thrilling spiel and a successful curling season, a huge banquet was held in the Derwent hotel where everyone enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

TOWN TEAM WINS DISTRICT LEAGUE

As briefly reported in last week's Standard the Vermilion Tigers won the league championship and Wicks cup in a great final series from the college. The series was of the best of five game variety and ended with the town team winning 3, the V.S.A. with one game tied.

The final game, played last Wednesday, was a thriller and required ten minutes of overtime before Bob Mashall converted Alex Link's pass for the goal that won the series.

The college team went into an early lead Pratt scoring from McMillan in the first period and Chants from Lewis opening the scoring in the second canto. Lee Williams, and Jim Wilkinson from Mac Fish evened the score at 2 all. Chants from Lewis put the V.S.A. once more in the lead but Dean Cuskey scored on Bob Mashall's pass to tie the game up 3 to 3 at the end of the second.

Cuskey gave the town its first lead of the game after 5 minutes of the third period when he scored on Allan Heidebrecht's pass but MacMillan of the college evened things at the 17 minute mark at 4 all to put the game into overtime.

Only 2½ minutes of the 10-minute overtime session had elapsed when Bob Mashall and Alex Link combined to score their winning goal.

LINE-UPS

SPRING IS HERE—AT LEAST OFFICIALLY—

Spring was officially ushered in on Sunday March 21st but made no very spectacular entry as the day was just like any other ordinary one of winter. There is a reason of course for choosing March 21 as spring's official opener as this is the day in which there are equal hours of sunlight and darkness. From now on for all too few months, light predominates, but his reign each year is all too short for most of us.

A full report of the annual meeting of the V.A.A.A. which was held last Friday evening will appear in next week's Standard.

The Standard also has an article under preparation showing just how the taxpayer's dollar is to be spent this year.

Claysmore Locals

Mrs. P. Wiltse spent a few days in Edmonton last week, returning home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Antrim and Mr. and Mrs. Les Kreller, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. Gerhart of Mannville went to Edmonton Saturday afternoon and attended the hockey game between the Edmonton Flyers and Calgary Stampeders.

A few friends and relations gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Winters Sunday afternoon March 21st, the occasion of Mrs. Winters' birthday. All extended best wishes and many happy returns to their hostess. A very delicious lunch was served, Mrs. Fred Watling and Mrs. George Watling assisting.

WOODVALE

We hope our readers will have a pleasant Eastertide which usually means get-togethers of families and friends, children home for holidays and an awareness of new spiritual awakening so necessary in these troubled times of discontent and dissatisfaction, and of the coming spring, always awaited with much eagerness after a long winter. Unless warm weather comes suddenly to stay we'll have lots of snow for awhile yet and no evidence of the first sign of grass this year.

Mr. Van Wageningen was the district's delegate to the annual meeting and convention of the MADP held in Edmonton on the 19th. He will give his report in April at a place and date to be announced.

GOPHERS RUSH SPRING SEASON

Reports of gophers running around on top of the snow have been received by the Standard, the first reported were by Mrs. Clara Wallberg who noticed two forlorn gophers sitting on a high snowbank. They appeared definitely at a loss to understand the situation and no doubt were wondering why they had ventured forth so early.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

A Dollar For Luck

By ROGER S. VERBLAND

A LITTLE girl in a pale yellow bathing suit went running past him, interrupting his thoughts. Her dark hair in damp irregular strands flopped up and down on her shoulders. Suddenly she dropped on one knee before him, staring momentarily into the clover oblivious of his presence. Just as quickly, she rose and continued on her way.

He called to her. "Think it was a four-leaf?"

With surprise she looked back and grinned briefly. It was a wide, freckly grin.

"Yes! For a minute!" she laughed shyly, without slackening the pace of her angly legs.

Michael began to finger the leaves himself and his thoughts drifted back into the channel they had left. His six solid feet of man lay in the clover near the edge of the sand, big tanned back turned to the blazing sun, clean broad chest nestled in the cool soft green. His trunks were still damp from a long, hard swim. Even in the water he had isolated himself, pushing out with leisurely power almost to the marshy shores opposite, then back. And instead of stretching out on the sand like others, he chose the clover.

Funny, the lengths a fellow will go to avoid the direct course! Michael had thought of going directly to Angela and saying he was sorry, that it all was his fault. Trouble was, that would leave him no harbor of refuge should Angela tilt her pretty little chin disdainfully.

Raising his own chin out of the clover, his eyes from behind the dark lenses wandered among the people in front of the clubhouse. They were all in swim suits. Michael wondered what she looked like, now. It was hard to know what seven and a half years might do. He doubted that there could be much change in her chin! Seven and a half years ago they were really children, unstable, unprepared to weather first storms. But no longer could he doubt that they had been in love.

A mysterious nostalgia passed through him, misty at first. He and Angela had once searched for a four-leave clover. Ah, yes. Now it was clear! It was high on Johnnycake Hill—a glorious June day nearly eight years ago. They'd found one, too, and within the same hour Angela had said yes, that she wanted to be his forever.

An aura of delicious melancholia enveloped him.

Angela, he knew, was here, somewhere, at this resort. Yes, it was a pretty direct course he was taking at that! But he was keeping close to shelter. He'd been too stubborn. But he still loved her. Maybe the adage about absence making the heart grow fonder was corny, but in his case it was poignantly true. Life was too short. He had sought isolation too much. Too afraid of injury, perhaps. Unthinking friends had torn them apart. Now, unthinkingly, they would bring them together. Leads about Angela had not been hard to find. She was here, somewhere.

Clutching a handful of clover, with a nervous impulse he pulled it out and tossed it to the breeze. One bit of green stuck to his palm and he started to flick it away. It was with an almost childish glee that he spied its four little lobes pressed against his skin.

The little girl in the pale yellow bathing suit came running on her way back to the clubhouse. He called to her.

"I've got what you want!"

She turned with uncertainty.

"A four-leaved clover!" He held it up.

Her face lighted. She took it timidly.

"You don't suppose for a minute there's really anything to it, do you?" he asked. "I mean the good luck. It's just a little freak of nature, you know."

But her face remained unclouded by his cynicism. "I'm afraid you're wrong, sir! My mother says the only good luck she ever had came on the day she found one of these!" She held it up and her eyes brightened triumphantly. "Not only that, but she'll give me a quarter for this!"

Michael found himself sharing her triumph. "Gosh, in that case you must be right! What about your daddy? Does he believe in them too?"

She looked doubtful. "I've never seen my Daddy." The corners of her mouth pointed to a pair of dimples and her eyes flickered wistfully. "That's just it. My mother says that she found Daddy and a four-leaved clover at the same time, and that I would never have been, if it weren't for a four-leaved clover!"

Michael suddenly found it hard to talk. "What became of your daddy?" he managed.

"Oh, they just didn't get along I guess," she said tossing her head sideways and attempting to sound mature. "They were, in-incompatible."

He raised to a sitting position. "Your name is Angela, isn't it?"

"Why, yes!" she replied with obvious astonishment. "How did you know that?"

"Angela." He spoke gravely. "Do you think your mother still loves your daddy?"

Her eyes were gazing into his wonderingly. Slowly she nodded her head up and down.

"Then, do me a favor, Angela! Give me back the four-leaved clover. Will you?" But suddenly he realized the necessity of being practical. "You won't lose anything! I'll give you a dollar for it!"

Enthusiasm banished the wondering in her eyes. "Okay, Mister!" She held it toward him, its little stem delicately between her finger and thumb.

Michael took it and kissed it.

Then curiosity bulged in her face. "Say, why do you want it?"

"Because I want to give it to your mother myself. Will you show me where she is?" He looked up at her. There was something about her little chin.

Angela reached out her hand smiling. "This way," she said. "Don't forget the dollar!"

Scientists Seek Gasoline From Natural Gas

Vegreville, Alta., Chemical Engineer, Is Successful In Obtaining A Small Quantity From Carbon Monoxide

EDMONTON. — The conversion of natural gas to a cheap high-quality gasoline is one of the problems now being studied by scientists at the University of Alberta research laboratories.

Research men all over the continent have been working at the project for years but as yet none have succeeded in producing a method that will make gasoline cheaply enough to compete with that obtained from petroleum. At the university lab here, gasoline has been made from natural gas but not cheaply enough to make it feasible. The project is particularly important to Alberta with its huge untapped sources of natural gas.

Initial work on the synthesization of gasoline was begun at the university in 1943 by the late Dr. E. H. Boomer, professor of chemical engineering. Since his death graduate students have been conducting the experiments.

Must Increase Yield

At present a 28-year-old chemical engineer from Vegreville, Alta., Michael Chmilar, is taking his master of science degree on the project. So far he has obtained one-quarter of a pound of gasoline from 35 cu. feet of carbon monoxide. Theoretically, twice that amount should be obtained and he now is attempting to increase the yield so the gasoline obtained can compete with ordinary petroleum gasoline.

Natural gas is converted to carbon monoxide in the synthesis. The carbon monoxide is then combined with hydrogen gas in the presence of granulated cobalt metal at a temperature of about 300 degrees. The big problem at present is to find something besides the cobalt metal to combine the carbon monoxide and hydrogen. It's a big job—but Mr. Chmilar is optimistic about the results.

Rules On Gifts From U.S. Eased

OTTAWA. — Canada's emergency austerity regulations have been eased slightly to permit Canadians to receive gifts valued up to $25 from the United States.

However, a revenue department official said that such gifts would be subject to normal duties. The concession was granted primarily to prevent hardship through prohibiting such gifts as birthday and wedding presents.

The official said that the limit on goods which may be brought into Canada from the United States has not been altered except in the case of unsolicited gifts.

The original regulation prohibited the entry of gifts except those valued at $5 or less which are traditionally duty free.

DEWBERRY NEWS

21 Members in the Dewberry Calf Club

Boys and girls of the Dewberry calf club this year total 21 members. This means that 21 calves from our district will again be shown at the Lloydminster Spring Calf show. Mr. Buckingham our D.A., had the boys and girls together at a meeting in the school last Friday. From all this we hope, in the years to come, that these members, as they grow into men and women will realize the value and quality of their stock and be able to secure the proper profits from them at market time. Dewberry district has shown many fine beef animals at the Lloyd. show and many good prizes have come back this way. Good luck boys and girls and may your entrance to have a top class animal be rewarded.

Fine Record of the Hockey Club

The Dewberry hockey club had a very fine crowd out to their hockey dance on March 17th. More dances are planned by the club for the future. Your attendance is greatly appreciated as this is the only means at the present of operating our skating rink. For the benefit of those away from home we will give you a line-up of our two hockey teams. Seniors: Goal, Bill Jones, defence, D. Braithwaite, J. Anderson, H. Bowman, forwards—J. Rogstead, L. Maltais, R. Fleming, J. Munroe, D. Ewen, H. McKnight. Midgets—Goal, Earl Konst, defence—L. Romanchuk, W. Ewen, S. Elliott, forwards — Bill Romanchuk, Hendly Donnell, Bob Lowell, G. Machan, R. Lemp, R. Reid, Russell Gartner.

Anyone who thought that Joe Stalin had invaded Dewberry last Saturday can get relief from this explanation—A huge carload of power line poles was on track at Dewberry. The unloading proved a problem for awhile until Ed Gartner, after sizing the side posts holding the load on the car finished off the job by a four blast from his shotgun. Down came the load in the right place with a mighty [illegible].

While on the subject of guns we will tell you a 6-gun story. Many a long winter evening is spent reading. So goes the case with Mr. Wally Cutts. Wally had finished his supper and his day's work and prior to picking up his book banked the coal stove in approved fashion and settled down to read his western novel. We don't know how many cattle had been rustled but the story was approaching a grand climax. The six guns were all buckled on and the cowboys led on their way for revenge. They smashed into the rustlers' hideout, each one pulled his gun and picked out a target. Then, with a mighty boom the coal stove blew up in Wally's home. Result: the law of gravity failed to hold Wally in the chair for a few seconds; 57 more gray hairs; an early departure to bed!

Several weddings of interest are to take place soon, included are Miss Gertrude Koch to Mr. G. Bischlack of Lindberg; Miss Mary Donnell to Douglas Cusack formerly of Clandonald; Miss Gulida Donnell to Mr. W. Klemick of Hazeldine.

Act for Farmers
3-Year Extension

Recently, the Dominion Parliament passed two important amendments to the Farm Improvement Loans Act.

The first extends the provisions of the Act for another three years as from March 1, 1948. The Farm Improvement Loans Act was first passed at the 1944 session of Parliament and came into force March 1, 1945. It provides for the making of certain classes of loans to farmers by the chartered banks of Canada over a 3-year period under a 10% guarantee against loss.

One of the main purposes of the Act is to enable the banks to make intermediate-term loans, that is, loans up to ten years, for farm buildings, including dwellings. The second amendment enlarges the type of security which a bank may accept with respect to loans for "the construction, repair or alteration of, or making additions to, any building or structure on a farm."

It is thought that this provision will greatly increase the usefulness of the Act with respect to loans for farm building.

TRACTOR EFFICIENCY

Tractor expenses can be kept at a minimum by—

Thorough and timely lubrication.

Careful operation, avoiding overloading and high speeds.

Selection of proper size of tractor for field and belt work.

By remembering that a tractor should be worked as near to full capacity as possible to obtain maximum efficiency.

New Traffic Gadget Clocks Speed Of Cars Passing It On Busy Roadways

(By HAROLD KEEN, Central Press Canadian)

San Diego, Cal.—For years, policemen and highway safety engineers have struggled with the problem of estimating the speed of an approaching vehicle without having to swing around and follow it through hazardous traffic.

Today, R. B. Luckenbach, California division of highways safety engineer, believes he has the solution. To determine how fast an oncoming car is travelling, he need only place a gadget-filled suitcase by the side of the road, flick a switch and let electronics do the rest.

When an auto zips by, a hand spins on a speedometer-type dial and points to the speed with pinpoint accuracy, according to Luckenbach, who inspired the design of the new apparatus.

Luckenbach is putting the device into operation here to improve safety on highways. In California such evidence as furnished by his "electronic eye" cannot be used in court to convict a speeder.

After designing a highway on the basis of known safety factors that limit the legal maximum speed to 35 miles an hour, for example, Luckenbach can use his "magic meter" to clock the average speed of traffic.

If he finds that cars are travelling at 40 or more miles an hour, and that the rate of accidents is extremely low, he knows that his safety factors ought to be revised. Also, he can recommend posting of higher speed signs.

The reverse situation, of course, applies if the accident rate at 35 miles an hour is unusually high. However, the important thing is to determine how fast traffic actually is travelling, and that's where the electronic eye fits into the safety picture.

The device also is used for measuring average speed between traffic signals so that they may be set to provide a smooth flow of cars at a safe pace. Time lengths between signal changes vary with the time of day. These can be determined by measurements of speeds in correlation with traffic volume.

What happens to traffic when a motorcycle officer suddenly appears on the scene? Luckenbach has measured the psychological effect of this phenomenon.

"The average motorist slows down 10 miles an hour when he notices a policeman on the highway," he says.

An engineering firm developed the electronic eye for Luckenbach at his request. Its engineer, John Barker, tackled the problem in the sonic field. At first echoes from buildings and [illegible] interfered with the measurement which the meter was to record.

Eventually Barker overcame the difficulty. The meter now is essentially a broadcasting and receiving set housed in a packing case. Luckenbach places a box containing tubes for broadcasting and receiving atop the case.

Two other boxes have complex electronics equipment and a quadrant dial. All are linked by electric cables, one of which is clamped to an automobile's electric system for power.

When the switch is turned on, the needle begins dancing across the dial, recording the speed of each passing car by use of the "Doppler principle".

This is best understood by comparison with the whistle of an approaching locomotive. The closer it gets, the higher the whistle pitch becomes. This is because the sound waves are shortening. Then, as the locomotive passes and moves toward the opposite horizon, the whistle tone grows deeper as the sound waves lengthen.

Electronic waves reflected from a moving vehicle do the same. The faster the car approaches, the more rapidly do the sound waves shorten. The speed meter calibrates this change and shows the result in miles per hour.

As though he were a "ham" radio operator, Luckenbach had to get his electronic eye licensed by the federal communications commission. He has a call letter, W6XYD, and operates on 2,455 megacycles.

Polymyxin, Powerful New Germ-Killer Cures Dangerous Infections

BALTIMORE.—Successful clinical use of a new powerful germ-killer, Polymyxin, is described by John Hopkins hospital physicians. They report swift cures of undulant fever, whooping cough and other dangerous infections.

Beyond that, the drug may lead to mankind's final triumph over an ancient curse—Bubonic plague. It will be sent to India to determine how it works against the Black Death, they said.

Typhoid and paratyphoid fever, certain wound infections, types of meningitis, various urinary tract infections, tularemia (rabbit fever), blood poisoning, and bacillary dysentry also are among diseases against which the doctors found polymyxin "uniquely effective".

The drug is derived from bacillus polyxa. This is an organism commonly found in soil, water, sewage and muck, the doctors said. It is not yet available for general clinical use.

A nine-year-old boy, near death from a skin eruption with a secondary infection, was the first human to be treated with the new drug.

Physicians injected it in the form of a white powder under his skin. He was well in eight days.

One big advantage polymyxin has over the other recent "wonder drugs" is that the germs it attacks do not develop a resistance to it.

GARDEN NOTES

Layouts

For the average layout around the home it is advisable to use a combination of vines, shrubbery, trees, perennial flowers and the latter planted in clumps, make the best background. In front of this, groups of smaller shrubs and larger perennial flowers can be planted with the room between, especially when the shrubbery is still small, filled in with clumps of annuals. Along the front tiny edging plants are used, then will come a piece of green lawn. Use clumps rather than straight rows and a wavy edge along the front of the bed is preferred to straight edges. In the foreground of course will be the lawn, the shrubbery acting as the [illegible] for the general picture.

Good Equipment Helps

With a small garden all the tools needed are a rake, a hoe and a spade or digging fork. These are minimum requirements. With a little more equipment much labor can be saved. Digging forks, cultivators, special weeders, dutch hoes, etc. will make the work easier and more interesting.

For larger gardens a small garden tractor that will cultivate, plow, etc., might be considered. They are not expensive and are very [illegible]. One can get all sorts of attachments to go with them, lawn mowers, cultivators, powers for cutting tall grass and weeds—even snow plows.

A sharp [illegible] cultivator will speed the work. It's a good plan to wipe off [illegible] between operations and a little [illegible] grease smeared on the [illegible] surfaces is recommended.

Main Vegetable Groups

Vegetables divide themselves into three main planting groups: hardy, medium and tender. The first are planted [illegible] as the soil can be prepared regardless of the weather ahead. They will stand a little frost and must make their first growth while the weather is still cool and wet. In this class are peas, the first onions, carrots and beets, radish, spinach and lettuce. PARCELS NOT BARRED TO PALESTINE FORCES

OTTAWA.—The suspension of parcel post to Palestine Feb. 20 will not affect gift parcels sent to members of the British armed forces in Palestine or members of the Palestine police force, the Post office Department announced.

The department said that gift parcels limited to 20 pounds will be accepted here and transmitted to the United Kingdom where they will be routed to Palestine through British military postal facilities.

Motorcar Industry Breaking All Records

Britain is exporting more cars than ever before in the 50-year history of the motor industry. In 1946, the monthly rate was 7,200, in 1947, 11,900. In January of this year it rose to 16,000 or 67% of output. This was apart from the 5,000 commercial vehicles and buses exported.

WAR MEDALS TO COST CANADA $2,500,000

OTTAWA.—The government estimates it will cost $2,500,000 for war-won campaign stars and medals in the next fiscal year.

The estimate said the figure included the cost of distribution.

Oddities In News — This Is It!

Farmer Sheldon Anton of Cedar Rapids, Ia., was astonished to find 18 inches of a broomstick protruding between the ribs of one of his Holstein cows. The cow, purchased at a sale last fall, had been doing well and a short time ago developed an abscess on her side. It ruptured and the broomstick popped out. How the stick got into the cow's stomach remained a mystery.

CONGRATULATIONS COUNCILLOR

Editor, Vermilion Standard
Dear Sir

I believe a precedent has been set in the history of our enlarged municipalities when Councillor Charles Stewart of Minburn M.D. called a meeting of the electors of his division and discussed their problems with them.

This is an idea which should be supported and followed by all our councillors, also the members of the school division board. After all, the people who pay the bills should have some word in the policies of our municipal and school policies. We cannot all attend our council and school board meetings so we elect one man to represent us, namely our council or board member.

Sometimes you hear these officials state that as they were elected they will do as they like during their term of office then if the electors don't like it they can kick them out. This is not a policy that makes for good government. If all the elected officials would follow the example of Charlie Stewart, go before the electors once in awhile to learn their views and opinions, we would have a more satisfied public and we would see "Democracy Working".

M. A. Y. Seed.

March 10th, 1948.

Editor, Vermilion Standard.
Dear Sir:

In your issue of 11th inst. Mr. Cornish M.L.A., indulges hypothetically that the increases in wealth in Alberta's cities etc., are quite able to take care of all services at the old rate of taxation. He goes further to say that in some cases taxes have been reduced. Thank heaven there are some governing authorities that are capable to do this but it is a great pity they are not nearer home.

The last year the U.F.A. government was in office its total revenue was 18 million dollars. Last week Premier Manning's budget was for an expected revenue of 53 million dollars and 76% of this is derived in taxes from the people, namely, liquor profits, gasoline tax, car and truck licenses and Dominion grants provided of course by indirect taxation. Is this what Mr Manning calls "Social Credit economic principles?". Our municipal tax is double what it used to be in 1934 and as far as winter road service is supplied Mr Cornish knows the enlarged municipal districts are a failure. The country is not ready for them until more and better machinery can be obtained. Owing to snow bound roads very few ratepayers can attend ratepayers' meetings to air their complaints.

Yours truly,
Reader

To Spend $2,255,000 On District Roads

More than $2,255,000 will be spent by the provincial government on district and local roads this year, according to information received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

The total is made up of $1,000,000 for maintenance which is an increase of $100,000 over the 1947 appropriation.

In addition there is $1,255,000 for new construction of district highways, which is an increase over the previous year's allocation.

Provincial government spokesmen also have pointed out that the rural areas will benefit from the heavy outlays being made on main highways this year. The large tourist traffic to be attracted over these highways means that greater revenue will be obtained by the province and this in turn should mean larger road grants to the municipal districts.

Including a vote of $912,000 for bridges this year, rural sections of Alberta will see a total highway expenditure of close to $3,000,000. The 1948 provincial budget includes $100,000 for new bridges and $812,000 for bridge maintenance.

Some very few can depend on wise [illegible] to rule but as [illegible] it is [illegible]. Grand statesmanship is not made up of deep thinking but of deep [illegible]. The trouble with nations is human relations—especially you and me. People who spend themselves [illegible] are seldom [illegible] up.

Campbell Lake - Island Hill Club Stage Ice Carnival

A very successful and enjoyable ice carnival was held at Wm. Hall's slough by the Campbell Lake-Island Hill club on Sunday March 21st.

The success of any carnival is largely due to the number of people who go to the trouble to enter into the different events. It is therefore very gratifying to those who were responsible for arranging the carnival to have such a varied display of costumes on the ice. Most of the classes were keenly contested and we would like to hand a bouquet to each one who took part and an extra one to each of the judges, Mrs. Belle Dynes, Mr. George Lind and Mr. Wm. Maggs. The different classes and winners are as follows:

Boys' Fancy Dress—Lenny Searle, Sheik.

Races: Pre - School — Howard Searle; Randy Maggs; Inez Anderson.

Girls, 9 and under—Mary Ellen McIntyre; Joyce Armstrong.

Boys, 9 and under—Ralph Lind; Christopher Maggs.

Boys, 11 and under—Alan Seddon; Ray Armstrong.

Boys, 13 and under—Alan Seddon, Ray Armstrong.

Girls, 15 and under—Audrey McIntyre; Ann Richardson.

Boys, 15 and under—Eddy Grant; George Richardson; George Lind.

Men's Open—Keith McIntyre; Wm Hernon; Eddie Grant.

Slow Race — Marion Mood; Anne Richardson; Betty West.

Mrs. McCambridge and Mrs. Armstrong did a very nice job of looking after the hot dogs and coffee.

Once again to those who took part and to those who helped to make the Carnival a success, we say—thanks a lot!

12 FINALISTS IN BARLEY CONTEST

Twelve prairie farmers, four from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, are finalists for the national championship in the $25,000 National Barley contest of 1947 sponsored by the brewing and malting industries.

The national winners will be announced next week. There are four national prizes, $1,000, $500, $300 and $200, and cheques for growers who win them will be presented at the annual Manitoba Winter Fair at Brandon on April 5th-9th.

In Alberta those in the running for the national prizes are J. W. Dancey, Airdrie; A. Henry, Legal, J. E. Vell, Sylvan Lake; J. Dobinson, Clive.

BRITISH CARS COMING . . .

Canada's new import regulations have proved a boon to the United Kingdom motor industry, reports The Financial Post. The doors are now open to about 7,000 cars yearly from the old land, three times the previous number. First models are already here, with more to follow.

Five Point W. I. Hold March Meeting

The March meeting of the Five Point Women's Institute was held on March 12th at the home of Mrs. Beech. The president was in the chair and there was a full attendance of members, and two visitors. Due to extremely bad roads the meeting was late starting so the usual chorus and creed were dispensed with. Our roll call response was an Irish joke or story. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Letters of thanks from recipients of comforts sent them were read by our welfare convener.

It was decided to enter the Better Farm Homes competition sponsored by the Extension Service of the Dept. of Agriculture. This is a Dominion wide competition but there is separate prize money for each province.

Plans were completed for the masquerade dance held in Bloomington school on March 19th.

A new baby in the district is to receive a gift and a sick farmer member will be remembered.

There was a grand parcel of warm used clothing brought to the meeting to be sent to England for a relative of one of the members.

Ethelwyn News

On March 12th Miss Pankow was hostess at a whist drive held in the school at which four tables were played. The winners were Mrs McGillivray, Katie Shronkowich, Phyllis Carlton; gents, Buck Elliott, George Carlton, Michael Mulgrew. The proceeds were in aid of the Red Cross. Following lunch the children presented a short program.

The people of the district have decided to hold a series of house parties for the purpose of sociability and the raising of funds. The first of these was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cooper on March 13th and was a huge success. As the party was short one player to make up five tables the dummy hand caused a lot of mix-up and fun. Prize winners were: ladies, Mrs. Cooper, Mike Morrison and Louis Taylor (the two gentlemen were good sports about playing as ladies); Gents Jack Grant Jr., Harold Dayton, Mike Shronkowich. The ladies donated and served a tasty lunch. For years at our parties we have tried to get the crowd to sing but this was the first time that we succeeded. What a variety of songs—all the old ones — even before World War 1. The party all agreed that vocal honors go to the trio comprised of John McGillivray, Jack Grant Jr. and Mike Morrison. Just to think that all this talent has been in our midst for years and we did not know it. No more hiding your light under a bushel gents as we are all looking forward to more of the same at our next party. We hope too, to see more of the neighbors out to the next one. You are missing a lot if you don't come. The proceeds from the party of $5.30 were sent to Uncle Hal of the Red Cross.

John Mulgrew has returned from working in the bush for the past few weeks.

It is nice to know that Horace Gale[illegible] is improving after several serious operations at the [illegible] hospital.

People often tell me that they are disappointed if they do not see Ethelwyn news in the paper every week. The writer of the column would like to oblige but there is no phone in the district and it is hard to obtain and check up on news. News items are often heard but with no details so that it is impossible to write it up. The writer would be very grateful if anyone in this or surrounding districts would send her news items. As she lives close to the school it would be little trouble to send the items with the school children.

WILDMERE WINKS

FEED SCARCE

Winter is still with us at time of writing and our road to town is blocked once more. Just seems like this spring when feed for stock is so scarce the snow hangs on. We have never seen the country south of town to Wildmere and on south so clear of straw stacks. Even old ones have disappeared. Some are hauling feed 12 miles and wheat straw at that.

We noticed some of our local young folks in the V.S.A. parade on Saturday, [illegible] Noel Garnett, Mollie Lyons and her brother. They all seemed very enthusiastic and proud over their achievements.

A little late, but none the less sincere are our very best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Forest Beals of Ruddsview for a long happily married life.

Several folks have seen gophers — Harry Symes and the Faddens saw one on Friday, March 19; Mrs. Walberg of Thorncliffe saw two on March 20 sitting on top of the snow banks. Guess they were wondering where spring is or if they had made a mistake on their calendar.

Our local boys are still curling — the latest they have been able to since they built the rink at Wildmere.

Mr and Mrs. Adam Smith and Billie motored to Edmonton [illegible] Ben [illegible] on Saturday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Albert Smith of Baseword. Mr and Mrs. Smith expect to leave for Vancouver [illegible] after [illegible]. Their son Adam intends [illegible] out with them.

Mr. John King of Thorncliffe was very lucky in being able to strike a good flow of soft water in his well just south of his house at the shallow depth of 26 feet. It is quite high land and getting water at this depth was a surprise to all.

Noticed around—Writer and family visiting at the Fadden home on Sunday. Brooks Lyons of Lacombe in town on Saturday; Laurence Graham purchasing a new wagon from the Co-op. store in town, Lloyd Howard and Dexter Kooman buying new tillers for spring work; Mr and Mrs. John Wilson and Mr Abe Friesell on their way home from town calling in at the home of the writer Saturday evening; Roy Pitbon of Passwood borrowing a team to get home from town Monday; the writer having a nice chat with Mrs. Cooper of Ethelwyn and Mrs. McKeague of town on Saturday; No light in the rest room on Saturday.

Mrs Martin and Mrs. Weissenberger returned home from Edmonton Thursday of last week and report having a nice time and enjoying the W. I. sessions.

55-mile Speed Limit on Alberta's Roads

Motorists are restricted to a maximum speed of 55 miles per hour on Alberta highways, under the provisions of a bill to amend the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act which was approved by the legislature last week.

The House also placed its approval on a section which provides that the maximum speed limit is 45 miles per hour at night.

During the debate on the bill in the legislature, attention was drawn to the objection which the Alberta Motor Association had registered against the bill. The A.M.A. contended that the present law should be maintained, requiring motorists to drive at a reasonable rate and having due regard to the [illegible].

The A.M.A. says that a speed of 55 miles per hour might be justified at certain times and on other occasions it might be dangerous.

Attention was also drawn during the debate to the fact that many of the states have eliminated the maximum speed law and returned to the flexible rate law such as has been in operation in Alberta.

Government speakers claimed that while a maximum speed was being set, the provisions as to a reasonable rate of speed still are in effect.

LIVING HAPPILY

The business of living happily is synonymous with moderation—moderation in our attitudes, moderation in our spending, moderation in each and every one of our personal habits.

For, as The House of Seagram has so frequently pointed out, along the path of moderation lies peace of mind,
the respect of our neighbours,
the confidence of our business associates, security and happiness.

THE HOUSE OF SEAGRAM

Vermilion River Council Meets

The following is a summary of the minutes of the M.D. of Vermilion River No. 71, held in the municipal office, Vermilion, on 11th and 12th.

Mr. Roger A. Watt was duly sworn in as councillor representing Div 3.

Claysmore Clippings

(Held over from last week)

Herbert Challman who has been working near Claysmore for some time has gone to Leduc where he has a job in a lumber yard.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Harrison and family and Mr and Mrs Van Nest and family were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs R. MacMillan.

The storms of early March have left most of the sideroads well blocked but most of the folks are slowly digging their way out. The Caterpillar snow plow has gone over some of the sideroads and cleared out the school bus route. It has been some time since the bus could make the complete round. I note one district correspondent says that spring is just around the corner—I wonder which corner?

Mrs. Challman and Dorothy attended the wedding of Miss Gladys Challman in Edmonton March 9th.

Cleo Harrison of Edmonton spent a few days last week visiting friends and relatives around Claysmore.

The card party held at the school Friday March 5th was well attended. Eight tables of whist were played. Margaret MacMillan won ladies' 1st and Mrs. J. Winters consolation. Jim Horne men's 1st and H. Williamson the consolation. Following a bountiful lunch a few hours of dancing were enjoyed. L. Kreller, A. Harrison and T. Nelson provided the music.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department, Searle Grain Company, Ltd

THE PRICE OF COARSE GRAINS

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture whose headquarters are in Eastern Canada have pressed the Government to remove oats and barley from the open futures market and to place these grains under the Wheat Board so that the Government could set the price of oats and barley just as they set the price of wheat today. The Government have [illegible] to this request and have proposed a resolution in Parliament to put coarse grains under the Wheat Board.

The Federation of Agriculture of course represents Eastern livestock feeders who desire cheap coarse grains to feed to their livestock. This, however, would be pretty tough on our prairie producers of oats and barley [illegible] under the open market are receiving higher prices than they had when the Government previously set the price. It is the comparatively low prices of the Canadian contract to supply Britain with meats that makes the Eastern livestock feeder discontented. The obvious remedy is to permit our prairie farmers to receive a proper market price for their coarse grains [illegible] livestock feeders [illegible] livestock and [illegible] to pay the subsidy [illegible] to Britain.

Agricultural Service Boards

The municipal district of Minburn and parts of M.D. of Eagle and Vermilion River are located within my constituency and I am pleased to report that all three municipalities have appointed agricultural service boards which are operating very successfully and performing a very useful service in controlling weeds and in other activities. The service board in the M.D. of Minburn which is the one I am most familiar with, instituted a better farming competition last year which proved to be a very worth while venture. The district was divided into four units which corresponded to the former M.D.; prizes were offered for each unit and a challenge cup kindly donated by the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce for the farmer with the highest number of points. Condition of crops, condition of summerfallow, neatness of yard, gardens, fruit trees, shelter belts, freedom from and control of weeds and for many other farm activities. Whilst the entries were not heavy, the interest taken in the competition was good. So much so that it has been decided to continue with it this coming summer only on a somewhat different basis.

It is the intention of the service board this year to try and interest the farmer who is probably not regarded as a really good operator and to give prizes for general improvement in farm operations and management.

Other projects under consideration by the service boards are warble fly control, T.B. free areas and the control of [illegible] disease.

More Dist. Agriculturists Needed

The services being rendered by the District Agriculturists to these boards is of great value and I am looking forward to the time when the Dept. of Agriculture will be able to place a D.A. in every M.D. in the Province. The average territory served by the D.A. today is much too large consequently they are unable to get that personal contact with the farmer which in many instances is needed so badly. It is my good fortune to know many of our D.A.'s personally and they are a grand bunch of fellows and our Minister of Agriculture can be justly proud of them. In fact I often refer to them as our missing [illegible]

HELP IN CASE OF ACCIDENT

In all cases of serious shock or injury, send for a doctor or ambulance at once.
In the meantime, apply first aid promptly, but not hastily.

BLEEDING WOUNDS — Bleeding in spurts indicates severing of an artery. Steady flow indicates a vein has been cut. Bleeding from an artery should be stopped by applying pressure of the thumb, a compress or cloth pad over the artery at a point between the bleeding wound and the heart. In bleeding from a vein (steady flow), pressure should be applied on the side away from the heart. Where bleeding is not severe, a compress over the open wound should be sufficient. If bleeding is very severe, tourniquet may be made by tieing handkerchief, cloth, belt, strap or necktie around the part over compress and using small stick, pencil or similar article with which to tighten. Do not twist too hard, just enough to stop bleeding. Loosen every twenty minutes to let a little blood escape. Keep the part elevated.

SHOCK — Lay patient flat on back with head low, unless head is bleeding. Remove false teeth, gum or tobacco from mouth. Keep patient warm. Give stimulants such as aromatic spirits of ammonia in water, hot coffee, tea or water. Do not give stimulant to unconscious patient, or one who may have internal bleeding

The Trans-Canada Highway

FOR MANY YEARS THERE HAS BEEN considerable interest in this country in the completion of an up-to-date highway, linking Canada from the East to the West coasts. There are some parts of the present trans-Canada highway which compare favorably with any roads to be found on this continent, but in other sections it falls far short of modern standards for all-weather highways. Canada is a very large country, and the trans-continental highways must, of necessity pass through many miles of sparsely populated land where there would be little other than long-distance traffic. The construction of modern, hard-surfaced roads requires a great deal of labor and involves the expenditure of large sums of money. During the war and in the years which have followed, labor has been scarce and conditions have not been favorable to commencing a roads project of the extent of a coast-to-coast highway.

* * * * * *

Many Favor Such A Road

There are, however, many who favor the building of such a road as soon as conditions are opportune for such an undertaking. Recently a delegation representing the Canadian Chamber of Commerce waited upon the Honorable J. A. Glen, Dominion Minister of Mines and Resources in connection with this matter and informed him that the Chamber of Commerce believes that the present Trans-Canada road facilities are inadequate. "A modern, hard-surfaced highway would be a great asset in helping to unify the United States and Canada, increasing tourist traffic and for purposes of national defense," the spokesman for the delegation stated. The completion of an up-to-date highway system from the Atlantic to the Pacific is Federal and Provincial governments to be undertaken when conditions are favorable, was [illegible] by these delegates on behalf of their organization.

* * * * *

An Advantage To Canada

It has been pointed out frequently by interested organizations such as the Chamber of Commerce, that it would be to the advantage of the whole of Canada to build and maintain a fine highway across the country. Tourists have become the basis of a new and flourishing industry here and good roads have come to be recognized as not only a convenience to the [illegible] population but also as a source of revenue from tourist traffic. At present there is no direct connection between Eastern and Western Canada by means of a first class motor road and as a result, much money is lost to the country each year because motorists travelling between the East and the West must travel a considerable part of the way in the United States if they are to have a hard-surface highway all the way. The building of an up-to-date trans-Canada highway would undoubtedly be a great asset to the country and it is to be hoped that one may be completed as soon as conditions are opportune for such an undertaking.

OTTAWA. — An estimated number of 76,738 dwelling units were completed in Canada during 1947 the dominion bureau of statistics announced.

This brings the total number of dwelling units completed in the first three post-war years to almost 200,000 the bureau said. In 1947 74 per cent of the dwelling units were built in metropolitan and other urban municipalities.

The earliest libraries were probably temples.

Grasshopper "Storm" Signals Are Out

PERIODICALLY, Canada's Prairie Grain belt is devastated by severe grasshopper plagues. Before federal and provincial entomologists started to study this particular pest, farmers had little knowledge or advance notice of these scourges, but today much is known and farmers are warned in advance when extra severe outbreaks are expected.

This year, entomologists of the Dominion Department of Agriculture at laboratories in Lethbridge, Saskatoon and Brandon, and in co-operation with the provincial entomologists, have mapped out the areas where serious hordes of grasshoppers can be expected to attack farmers' grain crops.

In the accompanying map the areas in which outbreaks will be severe, moderate and light, are shown for the western half of Saskatchewan and the lower part of Alberta. There are also a few areas in Manitoba where a light emergence of grasshoppers is expected, but it is in Saskatchewan that the worst outbreaks are feared.

With the provincial authorities in the lead, farmers both in Saskatchewan and Alberta can do much to ward off the worst effects of these grasshopper outbreaks. Poison bait will be available through municipalities and local improvement districts, and there will also be leaflets as well as bait supplies and instructions available from your agricultural representative. Farmers themselves must get busy and organize in preparation for bait spreading and should watch for the hatching reports from district officials.

Canada's War Book Started

OTTAWA — Preparation of Canada's Second World War book of remembrance — a detailed, precise task expected to take five years — has been started here by Lt.-Cmdr. Allan D. Beddoe, 54-year-old sailor-artist.

The book will contain some 46,000 names of fallen Canadian service men, compared with 66,651 names in the First World War book, now in the quiet sanctuary of the Memorial Chamber in the parliament buildings' peace tower.

No decision has been made on the ultimate location of the second book.

The memorial chamber, a small peaceful room of which the first book is the centre, is devoted wholly to the deeds of Canada's First World War forces. Its solid, intricately-carved stone work depicting First World War scenes and emblems might not easily be altered to accommodate tokens of the recent conflict.

The first book took 10 years to complete, the work being delayed by the death of the artist when he had only one of the 600-odd pages illuminated.

He served with the R.C.N.V.R. during the Second World War.

The first part of his new work — compilation of a card series on which appear the names to be inscribed in the book by hand — is under way. The names will be listed by year of death.

The new book, about 400 pages will be of rare vellum, a sheepskin material manufactured in England. The first 100 sheets already have been received here.

The exact boundaries of Saudi Arabia are indefinite, but the country contains more than 800,000 square miles.

Bus Made 30-Hour Dash To Meet Deadline

PENTICTON — Bus service by Columbia Coachways Ltd. is in operation here, but it was a race against time and the elements to get it started.

A year ago the company was granted a franchise to operate a bus service with January 22, 1948, as a time limit and postponed a $3,000 bond as good faith.

January 21 the company got delivery of its first bus — in Vancouver. Over winter roads company men drove in a 30-hour dash to get the bus on Penticton streets before the deadline.

Now, City Council has decided the company substantially complied with its agreement to provide service, and returned its $3,000 bond.

11-YEAR-OLD VANCOUVER BOY MAKES SOLO FLIGHT

VANCOUVER. — A silver monoplane took off from Vancouver airport, climbed to 1,000 feet, circled the field and made a perfect landing.

John, an 11-year-old Vancouver boy, has been flying for 30 months. But he won't be able to get a licence for another six years.

The trip was his first solo flight. It drew praise from his Vancouver U-Fly instructor, Ed Bell, who said John was a better pilot after eight hours dual instruction than most adults.

The lad is the second in his family to take to the air. His mother, Mrs. W. G. Davies, won five hours flying instruction as second prize in a "Learn to Fly" contest last August.

U.S. Population Now 145,340,000

WASHINGTON. — The United States population reached a high of 145,340,000 at the start of this year after 1947 proved the biggest single year of growth in history. A record number of babies, 3,908,000 were born in 1947.

Continuance of a low death rate and a net immigration of about 215,000 persons also helped the net boost last year.

Canadian Maple Trees Planted At Nurses' Rest Home In Britain

VANCOUVER. — Three maple trees, flown from Canada were planted by Princess Alice when she officially opened a nurses' rest home in Britain. Many of the furnishings for this retreat in the country for nurses injured during the last war, were provided by nurses in this Dominion.

This was described by Miss Grace M. Fairley when she spoke to Women's Auxiliary to Vancouver General Hospital recently.

The Canadian Nurses' Association has contributed $30,000 as a rehabilitation fund for British civilian nurses unable to carry on. Some have received courses to refit them for earning their own living, others have been varied help.

WEDDING BELLS

FILGATE—LAUDER

A wedding of interest to Vermilion people was solemnized at Kandahar, Sask., on March 11th when Miss Cecile Lauder of that town became the bride of Richard Filgate of Vermilion. The wedding took place in the United church and the Rev. Jolly of Wynyard officiated.

Following the wedding ceremony an open reception was held at the home of the bride's parents from 2 to 5 p.m. when approximately 150 guests called to extend their felicitations to the happy young couple. Following a honeymoon in Edmonton Mr. and Mrs. Filgate will make their home at Calmar.

'TEEN TOWN

The regular meeting of the 'Teen Agers' executive was held on March 18 at the home of Louise Baddock. Patsy and Gerald received final instructions concerning their trip to Calgary. It was decided that the Teen Agers would put on their annual floor show on May 11th. Plans were also completed for a sleigh ride to be held March 19th. There was no meeting on the regular date, March 17, but the sleigh ride was held on the 20th.

Local News of Interest

Word was received by Mrs. I. Winters of the death of James D. Hunter, of Berkley, Calif. Mr. Hunter was for a number of years a respected resident of Vermilion where he built a home now owned by Dr. H. J. Clarke. He is survived by his loving wife Maude Fisher, and one son Dean, also one grand-daughter, Barbara, all of Berkley.

Mrs. Bryan McLennan of Edam, Sask., arrived in Vermilion Wednesday morning, being called home by the illness of her mother Mrs. H. R. Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Glidden and Mr. B. Thompson of Viking were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Glidden.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Richardson were city visitors the forepart of the week. Mrs. Richardson continued on to Olds where her sister Mrs. Geoff Dawson had undergone an emergent appendectomy.

Mrs. J. W. Waldenberger is an Edmonton visitor this week, a guest at the home of her daughter Mrs. F. Martyn and family.

Mrs. A. E. Kaiser visited her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sinclair in Edmonton for several days during the past week.

Ross Beake, Tom Stack, Russell Carroll and Ronnie Barwich motored to Edmonton Wednesday afternoon having been fortunate enough to secure tickets to the Stampeder-Flyer play off game that evening.

SALE OF HOME COOKING

The Happy Hour group of the St. Saviour's church will hold a sale of home cooking on Friday, April 9th in the Northern Hardware store, commencing at 1 p.m.

BRIDGE, WHIST, CRIBBAGE

The Ladies Auxiliary to Canadian Legion will hold a bridge, whist and cribbage party in the new Memorial hall on Thursday, April 1st, commencing at 8 p.m. Admission 50c each. 41c

KENILWORTH

Dance at the Kenilworth school on Friday April 2nd. Isbey's orchestra. Everybody welcome. 44-5

On Tuesday March 23 a party was given in honor of Mrs. Burkhead who will be 79 years old on Saturday March 27th. Miss Craig kindly gave her apartment for the occasion and a group of Mrs. Burkhead's closest friends gathered and presented her with a very nice gift. An enjoyable social time was spent.

Master John David Beatty is a visitor at the home of his grandmother Mrs. R. MacMillan at Claysmore this week.

R. C. Hockbert and F. Sweetman were in Edmonton Monday and Tuesday making arrangements for the forthcoming visit of the Governor General to Vermilion on May 24th.

In order to handle Income Tax returns promptly, P. J. Richardson has secured the services of Mrs. A. V. Smith who has considerable experience in this line of work. 44-5

HOCKEY BRIEF: Vermilion Tigers aided by Bob Watt and Brent Macomb Jr. trimmed Lloydminster Juniors 7-2 Wednesday evening. These two teams play here again next [illegible] at 8:30 p.m.

STAGETTE NOTES

Thirteen members attended the regular meeting Tuesday evening. The business concerned the Stagette dance to be held Monday March 29. The girls are to wear their uniforms and all are to be there by 8:30 p.m. Many of the girls are to work at the door for a half hour. Girls not present at the meeting find out your times from Irma or Marg.

We are to decorate the hall Sunday starting at 2:30. All girls with free time—your assistance would be greatly appreciated.

Our tea and bazaar were discussed but were tabled until next meeting due to low attendance.

Following the business Mary took over and we went to work on our gloves. The gloves are at last beginning to look like something. It won't be long until we will be wearing them.

High School Students Enjoyable Bonspiel

GEORGE WEBB RINK WINS GRAND CHALLENGE — FRED KRAUSE TAKES CONSOLATION

Curling seems to be a popular sport with the high school students these days. The success of the first bonspiel early in the season, encouraged the students to try another on Saturday March 13th and it, too, was enthusiastically received. The weather man co-operated in a most satisfactory manner, providing weather warm enough to enjoy and yet cold enough to preserve the ice.

The spiel got underway at 9 a.m., and until 7 p.m. the rink resounded to the cheerful shouts of the enthusiastic skips and their equally enthusiastic (if somewhat less skillful) teammates.

The winners of the Grand Challenge were presented with very attractive prizes of hosiery donated by Craig Bros. Department store.

An innovation this time, and a successful one at that, was the lunch counter supervised by Miss Knapp and Joyce Bauman. To judge from the way pies and coffee disappeared, curling works up an appetite or else the cooking was irresistable!

The students wish to express to the curling club their thanks for being given the use of the rink, and to Craig Bros. and Mr. West, appreciation of the kind donation of prizes; and to the mothers who baked the pies, many thanks!

A. Y. P. A.

The meeting of the A.Y.P.A. on March 16th was held at the home of Ruth Simonsen. This was a worship meeting.

We all missed our President Bryan Campbell-Hope and wish him success in his new work.

It was moved and seconded that our Vice-President Jim Fooks act as President. Shirley Davidson was elected vice-president.

Our next meeting is on March 30th and will be held at the home of Jim Fooks.

ACTIVE YEAR REPORTED AT V.A.A.A. ANNUAL MEETING

ANNUAL SPORTS ON MAY 24th

REG. MITCHELL RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

A more active year than usual was reported at the annual meeting of the Vermilion Amateur Athletic association held Friday evening. The annual sports day was held on the 24th; considerable work done in preparing the ground at the new athletic park; fastball league aided by grant; pee-wee hockey encouraged by organizing the league and having coaches to look after each team; co-operated with the town in building outdoor rink in west end park; held the very successful district hockey tournament; assisted the high school curling rink which participated in the play-off in Edmonton. In short, the Association was ready and willing to help any worthy endeavor in the line of sports and games.

At the meeting the following projects for the Association's attention this year were discussed: Continuation of pee-wee hockey; boys' softball league; boys' baseball league; seeding, planting trees, building of bleachers at the new athletic park and the laying-out of diamonds; the possibility of reviving the fall high school track meet with the inclusion of some open classes. Annual sports day May 24th.

SPORTS DAY MAY 24th

It was decided to hold the annual Vermilion Sports day on May 24th as usual. Considerable discussion took place as to the advisability of this due to the visit of the Governor-General to Vermilion on the following day, May 25th. It was further decided that the V.A.A.A. co-operate with the Canadian Legion to formulate plans for some form of entertainment for the general public on May 25th following the departure of His Excellency.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. President—His Worship Mayor Morrison
President—D. R. Mitchell
Vice-Pres.—K. G. Urquhart
Sec.-Treas.—Jas J. Part
Executive—J.R. Deake, Wm. Sutherland, T. A. Stack, A. M. Watt, R. E. Carroll, Ashley H. Cooper, Fred S. Brimacombe.

The finance committee is comprised of E. M. Stewart, chairman; G. F. Stephens, T. A. Stack, Carman Long.

STORE HOURS

Due to road conditions, stores in Vermilion will continue Saturday closing at 7 p.m. up to and including Saturday April 17th. On and after Saturday April 24th Saturday store hours will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. 45-7

New Way Cleaners Purchased By Wright & Moore

A business transaction of considerable size was completed this week when Vern Vans and Aldean Kent sold the New Way Cleaners to Messrs. Leslie Wright and James Moore. The new owners take over this Thursday April 1st. Vern and Aldean have no definite plans as to their future movements at present.

The new owners, Messrs. Wright and Moore came to Vermilion a short time ago when they purchased the Taxi business from Mr. Ed Caskey. They will continue to operate the taxi service but headquarters have been moved to the New Way Cleaners and the phone number for both businesses is 81.

Frank Neale remains at the plant in his capacity as head cleaner. Mr. Moore is also experienced in the dry cleaning business as he operated the Royal Cleaners at Innisfail for several years.

BOARD OF TRADE NOTES

Forty-nine members attended the Board of Trade meeting Wednesday last week. Visitors included the members of Vermilion School Div. Board, C. E. Thompson, D. C. McGrath, W. Lloyd Brown, C. F. McKay, Albert King. They were introduced by town representative Mr. J. D. Adam. The chairman Mr. Thompson addressed the gathering briefly.

At the suggestion of the Canadian Legion the Board of Trade undertook to arrange for the decoration of the town for the visit of the Governor-General on May 25th.

W. L. Robinson gave a short resume of some of the interesting points of the recent Calgary Bull show and sale.

Lloydminster Bull Sale May 25th

ENTRIES CLOSE APRIL 17th

The 1948 Lloydminster Bull sale will be held on May 26th.

Twenty-nine years ago the first annual Lloydminster Bull sale was held. During the intervening years, this sale has contributed much to the improvement of beef cattle in northern Alberta and Saskatchewan. In 1947 the animals purchased by the Dominion Department of Agriculture were distributed throughout B.C., Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario.

The sale is sponsored by the Lloydminster Exhibition association. Entries close Saturday, April 17th. For entry forms or information apply to Geo. E. Ross, Exhibition Manager, Lloydminster.

New Machine Agency

Ken Soley is now handling the Ferguson line of farm equipment and can supply a variety of implements. His temporary headquarters are at Sam Harlow's Electric shop and machinery is displayed just east of that building. Ken's opening announcement was received just too late for inclusion in this issue. Watch for it next week.

V. S. A. CLOSING APRIL 7th

FASHION PARADE AT 2:30 P.M.

The Vermilion school of agriculture will hold its closing exercises for the current term on Wednesday afternoon April 7th.

The Fashion parade is always an attractive feature of the closing program. Girls model articles of clothing which they have made in the regular sewing classes during the term, while a commentary is given by the instructress, Miss M. J. Hawrelak.

The Commencement address will be delivered by Dr. R. D. Sinclair, Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture at the University of Alberta, and the presentation of prizes, scholarships and diplomas will be made by representatives of the Department of Agriculture and the Principal, N. N. Bentley.

Generous support to the prize and scholarship lists has been given by various organizations and individuals interested in the training courses offered by the school. Many friends and relatives of the students are expected to be in attendance.

COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the Town council was held Monday March 22 with Mayor Morrison and Crs. Deake, Dawson, Kehoe, Stack, Stephens, Urquhart present.

The meeting was called to consider tenders received for the position of town scavenger.

Tenders were received from D. Wilkinson and A. Tuey.

The following motion carried:

That tender of A. Tuey for town scavenger be accepted, as from April 1st; Tenderer to supply all equipment and labor necessary and contract to include town restrooms, and service six nights per week.

Instructions to Secretary: Write Dairy Commissioner re cold storage locker franchise; Write Haddin and Miles re water and sewer superintendent; Advise RCMP re cars parked in lanes, and untidy premises.

Meeting adjourned.

Annual Vimy Dance Friday, April 9th

The annual Vimy dance will be held in the Elks hall on Friday evening April 9th, under the auspices of Canadian Legion Post 11. This has always been one of the outstandingly enjoyable and successful dances of the year and judging from plans already formulated this one will be no exception. Sundy Sunderland is bringing his dance band from Lloydminster for the occasion and it just seems to be in the air that everyone is going to attend the Vimy dance. 45-6

Court of Revision Deals with 7 Appeals

Court of Revision on Assessment Appeals for the Town of Vermilion sat on Monday March 22 with members of the Court of Revision present as follows: Mayor Morrison, Crs. Dawson, Kehoe, Stephens, Urquhart.

The following assessment appeals were dealt with: A. Molchan, Lot 13, Blk. 7, land assessment too high; J. R. Taylor, Lot 11, Blk. 32, water & sewer frontage too high; A. Manyiuk, Lot 3, Blk. 17, land assessment too high; James Stevenson, Lot 13, Blk. 15, improvements assessment too high; Robert Douglas, Lot 6, Blk. 34, improvements assessment too high; United Grain Growers Ltd., C.N.R. lease, improvements assessment too high; E. A. Rivett, Lot 2, Blk. 10, garage assessment too high.

Following the consideration of each appeal the following resolution was unanimously passed: That the six appeals as listed above be disallowed and the Secretary advise each complainant of the decision of this Court of Appeal, and that appeal of J. R. Taylor re water and sewer frontage on Lot 11, Blk. 32 be allowed.

Court of Revision then adjourned.

The Women's Auxiliary to Canadian Legion will hold their regular meeting on Monday evening April 5th at 8 o'clock in the Legion hall.

"GREEN ACRES"

FEED SHORTAGE

The past month of cold weather has led to feed reserves on many farms being almost exhausted. The same situation prevails in all of Alberta. Car lots are impossible to obtain now from other districts. The last car in Edmonton sold for 83c F.O.B. shipping point.

THE VEGETABLE GARDEN

The high price of vegetables makes it all the more advisable to have a good kitchen garden this year. Many people have neglected their gardens during the past few years of high prices. If your husband says he does not like gardening there are two reasons for this attitude. Either he doesn't know anything about it or he is plumb lazy! If the latter, you can't do much about it!

FAST MILKING

Milk cows can and should be milked in three minutes or thereabouts. I am not referring to poor cows but to reasonably good producers. Also, it is generally agreed now among good dairy farmers that stripping is unnecessary except possibly in the odd case.

BABY CHICKS

Raising chickens for either dressed poultry or winter eggs is a good sideline to grain farming. Baby chicks are available at the local Hatchery right in Vermilion. The hatching eggs are produced by good laying strains and the chicks are healthy and free of disease. It pays better to buy these baby chicks than to set any kind of eggs at home.

FORAGE SEED AGAIN

During the last week or so a lot of farmers have placed orders at my office for Brome and Alfalfa seed. There are still however a good many farmers who have not as yet seeded down even a few acres of these forage crops. There is no investment that will pay bigger dividends in higher yields and cleaner farms.

HAY FOR SLOUGHS

Some years ago the University at Edmonton seeded down all sloughs and low places to Red Top, Timothy and Alsike. Good cuts of the best quality hay have been made every year since. On places where the water [illegible] part of the summer [illegible] grass will give much better feed than obtained from wild slough grass.

VERMILION GOLFERS MAKE PLANS FOR COMING SEASON

GERALD STEPHENS RE-ELECTED AS PRESIDENT

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Golf club was held in George's Lower Deck on Monday March 29th at 8 15 p.m.

The attendance was not large but no doubt the stormy night was not conducive to thoughts of golf but rather of snow shovels. The following officers were elected for the 1948 season:

Hon. President—Mayor Morrison
President—G. F. Stephens
Vice-Pres.—1948 President of the Ladies' club
Grounds Committee—A. M. Watt
Team Captain—C. N. Fobey
Entertainment—R. S. Barwick
Membership—L. H. Puckett
Tournaments—F. J. Edey

All committees were elected with power to add and the chairmen are going to need the wholehearted support of all golfers.

The Vermilion Golf club has made real strides since it was incorporated over a year ago. A golf course containing approximately 100 acres has been purchased and we are sure that Vermilion has for the last time had the sad experience of seeing years of work, and thousands of dollars lost because they could not renew their playing rights over the land they had been using for a course. The golf course is now the property of the Vermilion Golf club and all improvements will be for the benefit of Vermilion and district golfers for years to come.

A very beautiful and tricky course of nine holes has been laid out and all the necessary brush cutting and clearing has been done. Greens are established and all players are looking forward to a real season of golf in 1948. There is still a lot of finishing work to be done and the committees hope to do as much as time and money will permit each year. In a few years it is certain that Vermilion will have a town golf course that will be second to none in this province for beauty and real golf entertainment.

To date the Vermilion club has 119 shareholders who have subscribed a total of 175 shares. There are still a number of golfers and interested men and women who have not as yet become shareholders and it is expected to sell another 150 shares during the coming season.

The club has a good start in the way of equipment, and now owns a tractor with a complete line of spare parts; two large and one small mower, numerous small tools such as a roller, jacker etc., and a small but serviceable club house.

The Vermilion club wants to establish an annual tournament and to that end the first Monday in August with the preceding Sunday have been chosen as the week end for this, and it is hoped to hold our first tournament this year.

Fees have been set for the 1948 playing season and are as follows: Local, Gents $10, ladies $7, man and wife $15, juveniles $4. Out-of-Town, Gents $7, ladies $5, man and wife $10, juveniles $2. Green fees 50 cents per day.

EXECUTIVE THANKS HELPERS

A lot of time and hard work has been put into this course and the executive wish to express their wholehearted thanks to those who have done so much in this regard, also to ask for the same enthusiasm and co-operation during 1948. The executive is trying to build something that will be of real benefit to the town and district and know that Vermilion will again give all the support they can to making this the finest town golf course in the province.

Series With Lloyd. Juniors Winds Up Hockey Season

As a grand finale to the hockey season local officials arranged a three-game series with the Lloydminster Juniors. The games were all good and despite the short notice the last game played here Saturday evening attracted a crowd of 132 paid customers.

The first game played Wednesday resulted in a 7-2 victory for Vermilion; the second in Lloyd on Good Friday 7-[illegible] for the border town; the third here Saturday in a [illegible] win for the locals. The last game was a free-wheeling wide open affair that had the fans on their feet most of the time.

The series gave local fans a chance to see an outside team in action, also to see how our local Tigers, composed mainly of teen-age players, stacked up. It must be said that the Lloydminster Juniors, fresh from interprovincial play-offs, are a nicely balanced and impressive team. They were popular with the local fans right from the face-off of the first game. The series also gave the people a chance to see some of the Tigers of last year, Bob Watt of Ponoka Stampeders, Brent Macnab of Wetaskiwin Canadians and Jim Watt who hasn't played much hockey at Wetaskiwin where he is now employed, in action. These boys, with our regular juniors and Len Williams and [illegible] made up [illegible].

STRANGE LIGHT FLOATS AGAIN

IDENTITY ESTABLISHED

The strange light of some three weeks ago was observed by several citizens in addition to the person reporting it to the Standard office. Any doubt as to the authenticity of the story was completely set at rest Sunday evening when the same thing happened, and this time who should see it but the news editor of the Standard and his wife. They lost no time in directing the attention of Mr and Mrs. Owen Burns and Mr and Mrs Ronnie Darwish to the oddity. The large light which appeared to change in color and size, floated well over the Anglican church, travelled slowly north west and gradually disappeared. The time was just about the same as in the first case, around 11 p.m. and the direction of travel was the same.

Inquiry at the beam station set the officials there gathering information and resulted in establishing the fact that at Prince Albert, Sask., and Suffield, Alberta pilot balloons are sent aloft at night to establish velocity and direction of wind. These go to considerable height but when in the air for some time gradually lose their hydrogen and descend. However they float a great distance in the meanwhile. The fact that not many are used and that two should float directly over Vermilion after starting at points hundreds of miles away, is a distinct coincidence. The light is encased and suspended from the balloon.

Sees Lone Crow

The crows are on the move again—a lone black marauder was spotted by Jack Barr on Good Friday. This is the first crow reported to us for 1948, and without doubt he is just showing the way for thousands of his kind.

Since receiving the first word that a crow had been seen, other members of the same family have been reported to the Standard from Wilkinson, Claysmore and even flying right over town.

ISLAY

Been occupied with rehearsing a play—now it is all over and so is the play. "The Pampered Darling" was staged Wednesday night March 24th to a packed house. Mrs. Helen McCaughan and Mrs. Dennise Riedale were the leading ladies as Connie and Janet Gibbons, Leonard Cohen as Victor Gibbons (the pampered darling); Everan Inman and George Purves, 2 young student doctors, Ronnie Inman a playmate of Victor; Von Hutchinson as Dudley who makes a partner in an emergency but don't say the word blood or he gets dizzy and falls on the piano keys if he is near them. Mary Worozuk, Dot Gannon, Melva Hattle, three young ladies, friends of Gibbons; Muriel Stone as Mrs. Perkins, the housemaid at Gibbons' home.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. David Clarke in honor of Miss Mary Dowell, a bride elect. The party was in the form of a shower and was a complete surprise to Mary who thought she was just going to Elsie's for an afternoon cup of tea. Mary was our teacher for grades 1 to 8.

Mr Bob Brst spent Easter week and at the home of Mrs. Martin, to visit his wife Mrs. Brst who is here while Mr Martin is in hospital in Edmonton.

Gordon Robinson and Jack McNeely are putting stoker coal into the school bin and doing it with Gordon's truck using the grain auger to handle the coal, quite a slick way it is too.

The Inman orchestra played in Dewberry for the wedding dance Monday night.

Mrs. [illegible] Sandra and Janet also Mrs. [illegible] Tuckey, Marion and Jack spent a week in Edmonton visiting Mr and Mrs. Dick Dostman and other friends.

Easter service at Knox United was well attended on Sunday. Rev. Driver delivered an exceptional address on "Lay up for yourselves treasure in heaven".

Miss Marion and Miss Sheilah Purves were home for the holiday. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hancock spent Sunday at the Martins, Bill and Jackie Young visited the John Young's home.

To hear World church news tune in to CJCA at 11:15 Saturday mornings. You will be surprised and thrilled to hear what the church does. The Church is alive.

Children of Islay who are not in Sunday school each Sunday are missing much. Easter Sunday Mrs Sweet gave the Easter story using the flannelgraph. It was most interesting. Miss [illegible] Hancock gave an interesting lesson "The Gospel in a Nutshell". She held an ordinary walnut shell and in it a folded paper when taken out and opened it had printed on it just John 3 and verse 16. Look it up and get the gospel in a nutshell. The flowers at the Easter service were beautiful. The children are very and some of the Sunday school, also adults for the Bible class.

LATE SPRING —

Little progress towards spring is noticeable, although the days are mild, bright and pleasant. Temperatures have so far failed to climb much above the frost line. Some melting has taken place on town streets but the settling of snow is barely evident in the country.

Feed for stock is very scarce and the situation facing the farmers and stockmen in that respect is the most serious in years.

Taxes Much the Same As for Last Year

HIGHER ASSESSMENT AND LOWER MILL RATE

At a recent meeting the town council considered the budget for the current year, revenues and expenditures were estimated and the mill rate set accordingly. Taxation is now on the basis of 100% of the assessment as compared to 60% in former years. As a result the mill rate went down 8 mills, from 53 in 1947 to 45 in 1948. The individual will find that the actual taxes are about the same, running some 50c higher for each $60 of taxes paid.

Expenditure for the town for 1948 is estimated at $61,775. For those who like to know just how the tax-dollar is spent the following is an itemized list of the proposed expenses, also a list showing how the money is raised:

General Government	$ 5,912.00
Fire, police, lights, sundry	6,750.00
Public Works	4,570.00
Sanitation	3,200.00
Conservation of Health	650.00
Public Welfare	6,850.00
Education	22,284.00
Recreation & Community Service	2,036.00
Debentures, Int. & non-collection and discounts	17,860.00
Capital Expenditure	1,500.00
Sundry	60.00
	$61,775.00

REVENUE

1947 cash surplus	$ 5000.00
Licenses & permits	300.00
Rents, concessions, franchise	2,150.00
Fines	300.00
Investment earnings	1,000.00
Service charges	50.00
Recreation & Community Services	1,000.00
Refund from water, sewer	2,400.00
Misc. revenue	200.00
Utilities 1947 surplus	2,500.00
Frontage tax	6,000.00
Business tax	6,000.00
Educational tax	750.00
	$29,500.00
Bal. required from taxes	32,275.00
	$61,775.00

The school rate is 29 mills, hospital 4 mills, and municipal 12 mills.

It will be seen by studying the yearly expenditures that most of them are fairly well fixed. That is, there is little change that can be made in them. About the only amount with any leeway to it is the $1500 allotted to public works and it will be generally admitted that this is little enough.

No one understands a man he does not care for.

Noah's Ark With Wings

Transport Planes Fly Snakes, Leopards Even Elephants Across Atlantic

WILD STUFF—Royola and helpers carry a python (top). Royola has some fun with a pair of mandril monkeys (left). Two Siamese kids guide footsteps of a baby elephant, one of Royola's prides (right).

By WALTER BRIGGS
Central Press Correspondent

BANGKOK, Siam.— A truck caravan jolted halfway across steaming Don Maung airfield outside storybook Bangkok. From inside one truck came a leopard's snarl. A Himalayan bear growled from another. Three hundred monkeys screeched accompaniment.

Cage after cage of belligerent beasts, birds and reptiles was hoisted into a waiting DC-4. Two held a baby elephant each, others, 60 bone-crushing pythons, 30 white-haired gibbons, a pair of Siamese cats.

Laborers shoved and pushed under the tropical sun to get three grown-up elephants aboard. First one then another was coaxed into place, chained to the floor. The third, stubborn as a Missouri mule refused to have any part of the big bird.

Finally, picnic chow for the trip—bananas, sugar cane, seed and grass—was thrown into the plane. With the confused "striking" elephant looking on a flying zoo then lumbered down the runway and staggered into the air.

Noah took them only two by two. And, according to Bibliophiles, he stuck close to the Middle East. This ark was headed a third of the way around the world.

Two days and an ocean later the big plane set down at Ontario near Los Angeles. Coulson B. Glick who chartered it from Pacific Overseas Airlines Siam, Ltd for $16,200 said this was the first load of wild life ever flown to the United States.

Glick 55 operator of the Bird Wonderland zoo in Van Nuys Cal. also had with him a Malayan bear, storks and cranes, zebras, mandrils and falcons, singing bul-buls and myriah talking birds.

White-haired and wiry, Glick has scoured the world for wild life since walking out on a hum-drum business executive's job 25 years ago.

A hobby has become Glick's profession. He trains some birds and animals for the movies (one of his mynahs "starred" in Douglas Fairbanks, Jr's fantasy, "Sinbad the Sailor",) sells some to zoos, hospitals and scientific organizations.

Part of the plane's cargo Glick brought from Calcutta—where he has a man buying for him—to Bangkok by DC-3. Normally, he follows the practice of the handful of others in his business: buys what he wants from native agents. "It would take too much time for me to go out and catch the stuff myself," he said.

On the plane with Glick, however, was a young man who makes a business of going into the jungle and coming out with the slipperiest of wild life. He is John R. Royola, 26, a handsome Hawaii-born Filipino American. The elephants and part of the rest of the cargo were his.

Royola decided to use the plane after waiting weeks in Bangkok for cargo space on one of the few United States-bound ships calling here. "Either their holds already were filled," he complained, "or the captains objected to live cargo." He said animal-collectors always had faced these obstacles.

"My stock was eating up my profits so rapidly," Royola explained, "that when I got to figuring it out in terms of time and feed, I discovered that shipping by air was cheaper. I'm going to do it a lot after this."

You can understand why it is worth flying animals when you hear that elephants bring [illegible] each on the American market. Price goes by age, sex, temperament and intelligence.

For nine years (with time out for a United States army stretch) he has trapped the world, usually about three trips annually, filling orders for such institutions as Rockefeller Foundation and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Royola has roamed such lands as Alaska, the Amazon, Bengal and Borneo hunting everything from a rhinoceros to the Gambesian tse tse fly.

Twice John was bitten by cobras. Once he saved himself by plunging a hypodermic of anti-venom into his body. On one leg he bears an ugly scar of the other bite, which he cauterized with gun powder.

Last year Royola figured spectacularly in the Philadelphia press when three boas he was bringing home broke loose there on the docking of the Nicaraguan Victory. Armed only with a flashlight Royola threaded through the hold for hours until he had re-bagged all of them. The crew was ready to vote him a medal.

Royola has maintained a small animal farm beside his bungalow outside Bangkok. Nine more elephants, more reptiles and otters, civets, wildcats, [illegible] hornbills, doves and fruit pigeons remain there. He has arranged, however, for a native helper to take them to the United States by ship.

The elephants he captured himself. With an expedition of 50 Siamese hired for four baht (about 16 cents) each daily, he foraged for two weeks through the jungles around Champhorn on the southern peninsula.

Eventually the elephants, including the prized six-month-old 600-pound babies, were stampeded into a log-fenced corral. With the aid of tame elephants, they were quieted down, roped around the feet and neck, and brought by train to Bangkok.

The hunt fever never ends for Glick and Royola. The older man will train part of his collection for Hollywood, then head back for India. As for Royola: "It looks like Java," he says. Well, it's one way to see the world!

New Projects For Western Parks

OTTAWA — Mines and Resources Minister J. A. Glen announced the government would proceed with a number of new projects in western national parks.

In B.C. national parks, including Yoho, Kootenay, Glacier and Mount Revelstoke additional features will be provided in camp grounds.

Mr. Glen stressed the importance of making camp facilities available to "the man in the average income bracket".

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

"Criminals Are Not Born," Products Of Neglect, States Police Chief

VANCOUVER. — Juvenile delinquency is a symptom of social degeneration involving adults more than children, Chief Constable Walter Mulligan told Bayview Parent-Teacher Association here.

He said "it is the first crack in a break of our established culture, and added that the most disturbing fact is that parents are forgetting their obligations to their children.

The chief cited two factors which if not checked will plunge us headlong into national decadence.

Failure in Home

"First is failure of the home itself as the first classroom, and second, our national indifference toward evil influences in our life which are beyond the immediate control of parents.

Criminals are not born. They are the products of neglect, victims of indifference, the result of an age which has tossed morality in the junkyard.

Sunday Schools Praised

The chief criticized homes where God and religion are considered too old fashioned in an age dedicated to materialism and cited the need of Sunday school training for the proper development of youngsters.

Chief Mulligan said the rise in crime during 1946 revealed an abnormally high rate of juvenile misbehavior. Persons under 21 were responsible for 31 per cent. of auto thefts, 41 per cent. of burglaries, 28 per cent. of robberies and 27 per cent. of thefts.

"More than half of all crimes against property in 1946 were committed by persons under 25 years."

He pointed out that the modern police officer makes valuable contributions toward reducing juvenile delinquency, though the problems of delinquency have thrown on police departments responsibilities with which they should not be burdened.

To Hunt Birds' Eggs By Airplane

YOUR COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER

"One Man's Viewpoint"

By STAN ROSE

The following address by Stan Rose was given over CJCA (930 on your dial) on March 9th.

As one travels about the Province of Alberta, it is amazing to find the number of local community newspapers that are being published, but it is not always quite so clear that these local papers are being appreciated in the way that they should be appreciated. Possibly it's the old case of taking what you have for granted. Sometimes it's a mistaken notion that because a paper is smaller, or because it publishes only once a week, that it can't be as valuable as a daily edition.

It's true that a weekly paper can't provide daily news. It's also true that the radio reaches every community with news and factual material in a way which no newspaper can possibly do. But it is equally true that the community newspapers are the only means for circulating community news and community projects, and community ideas, and these things are more valuable than many people seem to think.

Actually you might obtain all the world news and ideas there are, but you'd still have poor communities if there was no method for stirring up community thought and interest concerning community matters. You could also be cut off from every item of world news and still you could have the best of communities if you possessed a good local newspaper — and that's the function your town weekly will fill if it is given a chance.

Look at it in another way. It's all very well for you people outside Edmonton to hear our ideas about everything, but after all, each community needs to know about a few of its own ideas—and a weekly editor is the only one in a position to reflect the local ideas about many things. He's in touch with his own district. He knows its needs and the local feelings, which may differ from district to district. He's in the best position to whip up local opinion — and he's in the best position to fight the local battles.

In other words, these local weeklies aren't simply a printed sheet — they are an institution—as important as any other item in our community life —and as such should be recognized, and used, and supported.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

March 31, 1932

E. M. Stewart was re-elected president of the V.A.A.A., C. L. Whitby vice-president and Chas. Robinson secretary-treasurer.

Curling was still going strong with [illegible] cup matches being the order of nearly every evening all week. The cup was finally lifted by Isley after local curlers defended it on four consecutive occasions. In the final match Hart Barnes scored a 7-ender on skip Bert Duncan. Hockey was still being played and skating flourished.

The real spring weather is late in arriving.

Officers of the new U.F.A. local formed at Ottawa were F. Lane, A. McKee and T. H. Brown.

Several well known of the older boys at the high school have enlisted with the 190th battalion including Maryon Coshey, Edward Tucker, Ray Tyner, Wellington Peacock, Chester Lipsey and Percy McKone.

Mayor W. J. Reed fired the first shots out of the machine gun purchased by donations from Vermilion and district citizens. The demonstration was held in the west end of town under the direction of Captain Murray and his machine gun corps.

New Course in Petroleum Engineering At the University

The University of Alberta will institute a course leading to a degree in Petroleum Engineering commencing with the next session. The course will be offered in the Faculty of Engineering through the Department of Chemical Engineering. Students will be admitted to the course following the completion of the first two years of engineering.

The course will provide for specialized training in the development and production fields of Petroleum Engineering. Steps are now under way to make the necessary staff appointments and provide the laboratory equipment required.

New Annual Scholarship at University

The executors of the estate of the late Sam J. Gorman, pioneer business man of Edmonton, have established to his memory a scholarship in the Faculty of Engineering at the University of Alberta. This scholarship will be financed by royalties from oil produced on property belonging to the estate. The family has assigned to the University for this purpose a share of the royalties which is expected to yield $7,000.

The University proposes to award this scholarship annually to a student in petroleum engineering. The annual value of the award will be $250 and it will be made on the basis of need as well as scholarship.

Ethelwyn News

(Held over from last week)

For the first time in many years a dance was held in the Rye school on St. Patrick's Day, March 17th. The Mulgrew boys supplied the music. It has always been understood in the past that Clandonald would entertain on that night.

Our house parties get bigger and better all the time. Our host on March 19th was Mike Morrison with his sister Mrs. Allan MacDonald acting as hostess. It was a grand party with six tables of whist played. Prize winners were Clara Day, Mrs. MacDonald, Sandy MacDonald, Allan MacDonald, John McGillivray and Mike Morrison. We never did find out which of those good cakes you baked Mike. $4.50 was realized at this party and sent to Uncle Hal for the Red Cross. We all hope that when it comes Mike's turn to have the party next year that Mrs. MacDonald will be relieved of her duties as hostess!

We all missed you at the party Ivan and hope you will be on hand for the one at Mrs. Podhanoski's on April 2.

Women are always interested in shortcuts for housework so will tell about a short cut for dishwashing noticed while in Vermilion last week end. Two ladies in the east end baked cakes on the same day. One lady mixes her cake and puts it in the oven, the second lady then uses the mixing bowl and makes her cake. The icing bowl is used the same way and two washings in each case are reduced to one. How is that for co-operation?

While in town the writer met the Wilderness scribe and found out what a "Johnny Jump-Up" is. Had been curious for a long time. Also met the Clandonworth scribe. It is nice to know who writes the news from the various districts.

The road to Vermilion was the best it has been all winter.

You can lead a man into a library but you cannot make him think.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THE PINK-EYED RABBIT

By HANK McCALL

MONDAY morning the boss walked into my office. "McMann, Bellon Manufacturing Co. is going to change their advertising agent. I want you to go get that account."

Ordinarily I would have jumped at the chance, but five minutes before the boss, the same one, had assigned me a new secretary. The idea of breaking her in while working on a big account strangled me.

It took me three months to get Miss Kincaid to the point where she could handle all my paper work unassisted. That left all my time for socializing with the clients. Just when I needed her the most he takes her away and hands me this new gal.

And what a gal, she was straight from the country. She had never been in a business office in her life, let alone this madhouse of ours. Her name was Virginia Cooke and she was nice looking, but I wasn't interested in looks.

I called in the idea boys for a session and with many doubts had Miss Cooke come in to record their bright remarks. It must have been because it was Monday morning but no one had any brainstorms to offer Bellon.

The morning rolled by and at eleven o'clock I called a halt. Miss Cooke waited with her notebook in hand for further instructions.

"Work up your notes on the typewriter. I'm going over to Bellon's now but I'll be back right after lunch. That'll give you plenty of time to have them ready for me."

My lunch with Jim Murphy, the Bellon sales manager, wasn't exactly inspiring. Usually Jim is an easy guy to get along with, but today he had advertisingitis of the brain. Some of his big brass must have been raising the pressure on him. The agency that could do all he wanted would eliminate the need for his sales force. He wanted Bellon Overalls so well known that his peddlers could sit on their fannies and do a boom business by shaking the orders out of envelopes.

That little luncheon made my head hang so low that I didn't see the crowd in front of our building until I bumped into the fringe. I tapped a guy on the shoulder and asked, "What's going on?"

"Some dame has a couple of rabbits."

Fresh guy. I pushed through the mob to see for myself.

Miss Cooke was the attraction. She was strolling slowly down the street with two white rabbits on a leash. One had pink eyes and the other had blue. She was dangling a carrot from the end of a riding crop over the noses of the poor beasts.

Each rabbit was straining at the leash trying to get his teeth into that carrot. If I hadn't been so worried about the Bellon account I would have laughed, but instead I snorted and went up to the office.

The conference transcript lay on top of my desk and it was beautifully finished. If there had been any ideas on it I would have been happy.

My mind wasn't on Bellon, it straggled back to that crazy girl and the rabbits. What a way to spend a lunch hour, walking two white rabbits down the main street with a carrot over their noses.

Miss Cooke came in from her lunch hour on the dot. She certainly didn't look like a girl that walked rabbits.

"Miss Cooke, do you like rabbits?"

"Yes, sir, fried."

Well, if she didn't want to tell me about her rabbits that was her affair. I had other things on my mind. But every time my mind focussed on business, two big rabbits, one with pink eyes and the other with blue, slid between my thoughts and my papers. Sometimes they even winked. Miss Cooke's typewriter beat like rain on a tin roof all afternoon.

She was strictly business. It became apparent to me that Miss Kincaid wasn't going to be missed.

I left the office early the next morning after showing Miss Cooke the days work. At noon I was driving back to the parking lot and I was in a hurry. A block from my destination I hit a traffic jam. Cars were stalled on both sides of the street. A couple of cops flushed by blowing their whistles.

Luckily for me I spotted one of our office boys, hailed him and had him take my car. I jumped out and headed for the centre of the [illegible].

Well, you guessed it. Miss Cooke was stranded half way across the main corner of town. The pink-eyed rabbit had snatched the carrot off the leash and blue eyes had gone on strike. Every time the cops tried to move them the hooting bystanders surged forward, packing the street.

That was enough for me. I took off for the office. Miss Cooke might be potentially the greatest secretary in the world but I wasn't going to have one that walked white rabbits during lunch hour.

The boss had the same idea. He was waiting on my desk. "Look here, McCann. What about this girl of yours? What's she doing with those rabbits?"

"Boss, I don't know. She says she likes rabbits fried."

"McCann," he said, "anybody with the brains to hire a girl as smart as this must be pretty sharp himself. Bring out the contracts, I want to sign up a little advertising."

The boss looked at me and I looked at him. This business is supposed to be crazy but we had never seen anything like this.

Miss Cooke never said a word, she didn't even come into my office. I could hear her typewriter pounding as we haggled over the final details.

After all the excitement cleared and my visitors left, I called in my wonder girl.

"Miss Cooke, I don't want to intrude on your private life, but what's the story on this rabbit deal?"

"I guess it's home work. You see, my uncle runs the pet shop across the street and his business is very bad. Since he needed a boost, I thought the rabbits would be real advertising."

She's teaching me and I've only been in the business twelve years.

"Yeah, but how does Murphy come in?"

"Well, our business needed advertising, too. So when anyone asked me about the rabbits I told them we were doing the job for the pet shop. Then today when that awful pink-eyed one grabbed the carrot and the police were arresting me, the nicest man told them he'd handle everything. When he insisted on bringing me back to the office, I said, 'No,' but he said it would be all right, he was Mr. Murphy."

Just like that she gets Murphy to sign the contract. Well, the least I could do was to show some appreciation.

"Miss Cooke, this contract means a lot to me. In fact it calls for a celebration. Do you think we could arrange to have dinner tonight?"

"I'm sorry, Mr. McMann, but Mr. Murphy has asked me. We're going to have fried rabbit."

I'm going to have rabbit too, two of them stuffed with carrots in their mouths.

Believes 'Plane Trip Cured Whooping Cough

VANCOUVER. Little Suzanne Carlsen's whooping cough is now completely gone and her family believes her airplane trip was wholly responsible.

The 20-months-old daughter of Camillo Carlsen, 3666 Point Grey Road, was taken to the 10,000 foot level in a chartered Queen Charlotte Airlines plane following a European theory that the rarified air would cure the cough.

Mrs. Carlsen said a Danish friend had advised them that if the treatment had been followed with a second flight the cure would have been immediate. He said the system in Europe is to make flights daily until a complete cure is achieved.

James McNeil Whistler, F. Hopkinson Smith, Thomas Buchanan Read and William Blake were all both noted artists and authors.

HERBERT

SASKATCHEWAN

A Leader in Industry Among Small Towns

WHEN the Swift Current Creek-Herbert-Morse irrigation project is completed early this summer one of the centres that will benefit greatly is the Town of Herbert, Saskatchewan. To Herbert the irrigation, with its moisture giving power and diversification possibilities, will come as a reward. A reward to those who have stayed on the land through lean, tough years when the going seemed almost impossible and faith never to [illegible].

ERIC K. FIRUS
Publisher of Herbert Herald

Herbert is 96 miles west of Moose Jaw and 32 miles east of Swift Current on No. 1 highway, also on the main line of the C.P.R. It being named after Sir Michael Henry Herbert, an English diplomat, is a Mennonite settlement made up of Mennonites who migrated from Manitoba and Kansas in the early 1900's. Herbert was incorporated as a town in 1913.

Wheat farming is the main source of revenue to Herbert and its surrounding district although some mixed farming and ranching is practised to serve the town's population of close to 1,000 persons.

Industrially Herbert is a leader among towns of its size in the province. It boasts a 13 barrel flour mill, operated by the Prairie Milling Company Limited, which exports over 12,000 bags of flour monthly through UNRRA. Herbert also has a total of five elevators and large stock yards.

The town is served by a weekly newspaper the Herbert Herald, which also maintains a large circulation throughout neighboring towns and districts. This enterprise also serves the community with all its printing and publishing needs. The owner of the Herald plant is Arthur Firus, who is now completing a four-year course at McGill University. He purchased the plant in September, 1941 from H. Tilston-Jones. After managing The Herbert Herald for two years he joined the R.C.A.F. in July 1943. The complete operation of the plant was handed over to sister Erna, who, with the help of two younger brothers, greatly improved the appearance of the paper. After serving two years in Canada and one year Overseas, Arthur returned to his home town in July, 1946, just in time to see Miss Firus get married. Because Arthur wanted to attend McGill University, W. C. Tucker rented the plant for ten months. Then the present editor, Eric K. Firus, a 1947 high school graduate, assumed the editing and publishing responsibilities. He, along with younger brother Robert are attempting to give the subscribers a better newspaper.

Educational facilities are strongly in evidence in Herbert. It is the centre of the Herbert Larger School Unit No. 23 which maintains an estimated 94 schools in the Herbert district. A large public school and a 12-room high school are present in the town as well as one of the largest Bible schools in the province.

Herbert is growing. New buildings are constantly being erected and improvements continually being made. But progress has not been easy. Especially through the 1930's when crop failure followed crop failure and heartbreak followed heartbreak. But the farmers of Herbert have stuck and have come through. The people of the Mennonite Settlement of Herbert have, through hard work, patience and co-operative action, made their town a leader among Saskatchewan communities.

Should the new irrigation project bring wealth and prosperity to the people of Herbert it will serve as a just reward to a deserving people who through perseverance and undying faith have played a large part in making their province the great producer it is today. And a happier place in which to live and find peace and happiness so vital to their way of life.

Bowtell Bulletin

DEATH MRS. NELLIE USHER

Friends here were sorry to learn of the death of a former resident of Bowtell, Mrs. Nellie Usher at Matsqui, B.C. Mrs. Usher was the former Mrs. McCrory of this district. Sincere sympathy is extended to her son Jack and family who are left to mourn her loss.

We are sorry to say that at time of writing Mr. Charles Pierman is a patient in the Vermilion hospital.

The writer was very pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Gow and family as guests for supper Sunday.

Noticed around—Bill W[illegible] a dish pan, going to wash dishes Bill?; Mrs. Hardie breaking her glasses, how? ask Mr. Hardie; Allan Coutts helping at the Harrison home; Mrs. Koroluk's father here on vacation; Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood and Frances enjoying visits at the Rochford and Robinson homes on Sunday; Miss Maybelle Knutson home over Easter week end; Mr. and Mrs. Dudelly having the misfortune to upset their closed-in cutter and having it catch on fire. They managed to put out the fire however before much damage was done; Mr. and Mrs. E. Jones celebrating their wedding anniversary April 8th.

Barley Champion

Twenty-eight year old James W. Bussey, who farms a section of land eight miles north of Airdrie, Alberta, won the national barley championship of 1947. The National Barley contest, sponsored by the brewing and malting industries, was started in 1946 and is being continued in 1948. There were four national awards and for placing first Mr. Bussey is awarded $1,000. He also won $400 for winning the provincial championship of Alberta and another $160 for placing 1st in his region. Mr. Bussey's entry was a carload of the variety Montcalm.

A. Henry of Legal, Alberta, was awarded $500 as runner-up in the national competition; $200 for placing 2nd in his provincial competition and $160 for placing 1st in his region.

The national contest is being continued in 1947 on a basis slightly different from that of 1946 and 1947. Regulations governing it are being prepared by the Contest committee and will be distributed soon.

Town of Vermilion

PUBLIC NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that there has been introduced in the Council of the Town of Vermilion a By-law of which the following is a short synopsis:—

"BY-LAW 248 PASTEURIZATION BY-LAW"

1. "Pasteurization" and "pasteurized" shall have the meaning given to these words in Section 7 (a) of The Public Health Act.
2. No person shall sell, offer for sale or deliver within the limits of the Town of Vermilion, milk which has not been pasteurized in a pasteurization plant approved by the Provincial Board of Health.
3. Section 2 above shall not apply to milk brought into the Town by the producer and sold by wholesale to a distributor, a milk processing plant, a creamery or cheese factory nor to milk products prepared in a plant and by methods approved by the Provincial Board of Health.
4. The proposed By-law shall take effect on the date of the final passing thereof.
5. Penalties for violation of the By-law provide, on summary conviction, for a fine not exceeding $100.00 exclusive of costs or in default, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 60 days with or without hard labour.

And that a copy of the same may be seen at the office of the Secretary-Treasurer, and further, that the said By-law will be submitted to the vote of the electors of the town of Vermilion to be held in the Masonic hall on Monday, the 26th day of April 1948, from 10 o'clock in the forenoon until 7 o'clock in the afternoon and that I shall attend at the place aforesaid for the purpose of summing up the votes for and against the said By-law at the hour of 7 o'clock of the afternoon of the said 26th day of April, 1948 and declare the result thereof.

And further take notice that if Sixty-five Per Cent (66⅔) of those voting on the plebiscite vote in favor of the By-law, it will be finally passed by the Council of the Town of Vermilion.

OBITUARY

Archibald Armstrong McRobert

There passed away at the family home at Hazeldine, Alberta, on Wednesday, March 24th, Archibald Armstrong McRobert, beloved husband of Myrtle McRobert.

The deceased was born in the Parish of Eskdalemuir, County of Dumfries, Scotland, on January 9, 1890 and came to Canada in 1911. He joined the 19th Alberta Dragoons and served overseas from 1914 to 1918 and on discharge took up farming in the Hazeldine district in 1921.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife and five children, Peter, Betty, Ian, Robert and Joan; two sisters Mrs. Mary Jardine, Nakamun, Alberta, and Mrs. Isabella Brown, Low Blakehope, Nothumberland, Scotland, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Hazeldine hall on Saturday, March 27th, the Rev. E. S. Reikie officiating. Interment took place in the Dewberry cemetery.

Floral tributes were received from Myrtle and the family; Peter and family; Lorne, Emily, Ted, Madelon and mother, Mrs. J. Klimek and family; Connie, Evelyn and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Whiteside and children, Marjorie, Graham, Molly and Betty Lou; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Trask and Mr. F. Willson; Mr. and Mrs. Rudi Isert and family; Mr. and Mrs. John Kinsbella and family; George, Martha and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hines and family, Scotty and Charlotte Hines and family; Mr. and Mrs. V.C. Hines and family; Mr. and Mrs. Machon and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. M. Trimming and family; Mr. and Mrs. M. Misiak and family, Mr. and Mrs. August Isert; Mr. and Mrs. Benny Murray and family; The Mirbachs; George and Sally Needham and family; Gladys and Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Midgley, Dave, Lillian and Shirley, Lorne, Mona and children, The Kowal Family, Wm. Arley and family, Oscar and Hilda Peterson, Frank Gilbert, Ken MacLean, Hazeldine Community club; J. S. McKay and staff, Miss Wilson, Mr. Butchart, Mr. Russell; Martin Bruce and the high school students, Friends of Dewberry and district; Marwayne Junior room.

DEWBERRY NEWS

To Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Blackloch (nee Gertrude Kech) we offer our best wishes on their recent marriage. A wedding dance was held in the Dewberry hall on March 24th.

Two showers honoring brides-elect were held in Dewberry during the past week. These were for Miss Guilda Deunil and Miss Mary Deunil. A large number of ladies gathered in the Dewberry hall to present Miss Guilda with many gifts while a like number met at the home of Mrs. Albert Deunil in honor of Miss Mary a few days later.

The Dewberry Civic committee held a meeting in the curling rink lobby room recently. The secretary's report showed nearly all money allotted them was spent on street improvements. A motion carried that the council be approached for extra appropriation for the street [illegible] whereby heavy trucks can be banned from the main streets. Another motion carried was that the council be asked to [illegible] parking only in a proper direction at a [illegible] degree angle on each side of the street in Dewberry.

Alf R[illegible] a meeting at Myrnam to discuss the highway along the C.P.R. line. The highway so far has reached Two Hills from Edmonton but has stopped there.

The Dewberry Hall association published their financial statement recently showing money spent on improvements to hall etc. Much better shows are being enjoyed now and the seating capacity has been enlarged by two large porch rooms.

Black leg is taking its toll here. Lloyd Brett lost a purebred Hereford heifer and Albert Isert also lost a beast from this disease.

The district was profoundly shocked at the sudden passing of Archie McRoberts of Hazeldine on March 24th. Mr. McRoberts was a pioneer of the Hazeldine district. [illegible] is extended to the family [illegible] bereavement.

Britain's Recovery Programme

IN THE RECENT NATIONAL ECONOMIC SURVEY, published by the British government, the people there were once more reminded of the critical nature of their present economic situation and were told of the rigorous programme for recovery which must be carried out in the coming months. It called for a full understanding of the need for stern measures to meet this crisis and for full co-operation in carrying out the necessary measures. "The Government", the survey said, "regards it as essential to the whole conception and success of an economic plan democratically carried out that there should be the widest possible understanding of the facts of the situation and the targets laid down." The magnitude of Britain's war effort, and the necessity for rebuilding many industrial sites, has made post-war recovery a difficult matter but in spite of that, there has been steady progress since the summer of 1945.

* * * * *

Main Object To Save Dollars In spite of transportation difficulties and fuel shortages, industrial production in Britain rose in 1947 by nine per cent. over that of 1946. This success was due in part to voluntary increases in working hours and partly to great effort on the part of individual workers. Since that time further advances have been made toward the goal for 1948, which is for an export rate 50 per cent. above the pre-war level. Since one of the most serious aspects of Britain's economic situation is the shortage of dollars, the main objectives outlined for this year are concerned with conserving dollars by decreasing Britain's imports from dollar countries and by producing at home as many articles as possible normally imported from the Western Hemisphere. At the same time, the report aims at increasing British exports to dollar countries. All this involves continued austerity for the British people, and a great effort to step up the production of articles for export.

* * * * *

Targets Set For Industry There is hope that the textile industry will produce 97 per cent. more woollen and worsted goods than in 1947 and that production of cotton goods and yarns will be 74 per cent. above that of last year. The target set for steel mills is over one million tons more than in 1947, in spite of the fact that this industry has for some time been breaking production records. It is also hoped to raise machinery shipments to 180 per cent. above the pre-war average, while manufacturers of vehicles have been asked to raise exports to 340 per cent. of the 1938 figure. All these objectives will have to be reached by individual industries if Britain's export trade is to be 50 per cent. above that of 1938, which is the figure considered necessary if satisfactory progress is to be made in 1948. To achieve this goal the British people will be called upon to make continued sacrifices. Housing schemes will have to be postponed, as will plans for reduced working hours and production of goods for home markets. In addition, food supplies will again be reduced. The outlook for 1948, according to the survey, is "full of uncertainties and bound to be one of great anxiety." There is, however, no suggestion of defeat and it is to be sincerely hoped that the courage and determination of the British people and their government will soon be rewarded with the success they deserve in their great struggle for economic recovery.

WESTERN CANADA MOTORCADE PLANNED

REGINA.—A motorcade designed to popularize No. 1 highway Trans-Canada route in western Canada will be held in May under the sponsorship of chambers of commerce along the route, it was learned. Route of the motorcade will be from Brandon, Man., to Nelson, B.C. A second group will travel from Vancouver to Nelson.

MONDAY, JUNE 7, SET AS KING'S BIRTHDAY

Better Roads For Tourists "Imperative"

OTTAWA.—D. Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, told the Senate committee on tourist traffic that to cater to the vast army of travelers which would continue to visit Canada from the United States year after year it was "imperative" to see that Canada's highway system was vastly improved. He believed Canada's 1948 tourist traffic would exceed that of last year.

He believed that for many years to come automobile would bring to this country from 80 to 90 per cent. of the American visitors who vacationed in Canada.

This year the number of inquiries is running more than 1,100 a day.

If Canada could keep its prices at a reasonable level it would get a large influx of tourists, if not competition from other parts of the continent would seriously cut into Canada's tourist industry, Mr. Dolan said.

Women Inspectors Like Their Job

EMERSON, Man.—Four Winnipeg women, working as customs inspectors at the United States-Canada border town of Emerson, believe they have one of the most congenial jobs on record. They say the majority of people crossing the border do not try to smuggle articles across to the other side.

"We've had no unpleasant experiences," says Mrs. Hazel Pringle, one of the four women. "I have never had to search anyone, though the law says we may."

Travellers are told of the regulations before they cross over, so they know before they come back, she explained. "Most of them are patriotic and co-operative."

U.S. THANKED FOR AIDING CANADIAN

OTTAWA.—Rescue of a New Westminster airman last November from remote Cambridge Bay, Victoria Island, has helped strengthen Canada-U.S. ties.

Defence Minister Claxton, in a "thank you" note to U.S. Defence Secretary Forrestal, said the 800-mile mercy flight by American airmen was "a striking and practical example of the close relationship between the armed forces of Canada and the U.S."

Sergeant J. H. M. Craik, critically ill, was flown through heavy snow and ice to Fort Nelson, B.C., in a U.S. aircraft which answered a call for "any available plane".

EDMONTON.—Alberta issued 162,-300 car licenses in 1947, shattering all previous records and exceeding the previous year's total of 95,000. Drivers' licenses also set a new high of 184,000, against 71,000 in the previous year.

This year Alberta returns to the old system of two license plates on motor vehicles. In order to meet a rush demand, the province has placed an order for 110,000 sets of plates.

Perennial Wheat No Longer Unbelievable Myth

Winter Hardiness Needed If Wheat Is To Be Of Value

By T. R. MELVILLE-NESS
Central Press Canadian

REGINA, Sask.—Plant breeders at the University of Saskatchewan, working with crosses between grasses and wheats, have come along with an interesting development — a wheat-like plant with perennial habit, and near immunity to a large number of races of stem and leaf rust.

The difficulty is that the present lines have no winter hardiness and can only be carried through several croppings under green house conditions. But perennial wheat is "no longer an unbelievable myth," according to Dr. J. B. Harrington of the university field husbandry department. "Winter hardiness must be added if the wheat is to be of any value. It may take many years to effect this, but the lines we are working on now present many interesting possibilities," he adds.

For instance, the plants growing in one of the green houses at the university have the grass characteristic of retaining green matter in the stem after the head has ripened. Such a plant, developed to withstand prairie field conditions, would serve a dual purpose. It is possible the grain might be threshed, the straw left to cure, later to be gathered and fed to stock as a valuable and nutritious forage.

Degree Of Stability

What value would perennial wheat have in the western farm economy? Simply this: it could provide a permanent cover crop, capable of preventing much of the dangerous wind and water erosion that threatens the very life of some of our soils. Perennial wheat could mean a degree of stability never believed possible in this dry country. But between the present lines and the development of a strain hardy enough to withstand the severe winters of the west lie years of painstaking work of breeding and cross-breeding, selection and rejection, all the disappointments and the shattered hopes the plant breeder knows so well.

Dr. Harrington, who is in charge of wheat breeding at the university, states that the present achievement is the result of work done by Professor L. H. Shebeski, also of the university field husbandry department, when he was at the Dominion Rust Laboratory at Winnipeg. Mr. Shebeski crossed Agropyron elongatum, a hardy grass, with Chinese wheat in 1938, and back crossed the grass-like hybrid with Chinese to get a moderately wheat-like progeny. Successive generations of selecting toward a satisfactory wheat-like plant of perennial habit was interrupted from 1941 to 1945 and resumed in the fall of 1945.

Research Begins

Although Russian scientists are believed to have been working on perennial bread-grain crops since 1930, it was not until 1935 that similar research began in Canada. This was undertaken actually in response to the need for new forage crops which would help solve the problems of drouth and soil conservation. That work has the objective of a large seeded hardy grass and is under way at the Dominion Forage Breeding Laboratories at Saskatoon and Ottawa.

The work to produce a desirable perennial wheat has thus far been conducted on a small scale basis. If the work was placed on a co-ordinated project basis many crosses could be made and followed up at various points across the prairie region. A full scale program with several research people spending a large part of their time on the work would help materially in increasing the chances of originating a desirable hardy perennial wheat for western Canada within the next decade.

Dr. J. B. Harrington and Prof. L. H. Shebeski discuss the future of perennial wheat in the west as they look over specimens of the interesting cereal growing in the greenhouse at the University of Saskatchewan.

Plan New Road For Yukon

OTTAWA.—The government plans construction of an all-weather truck road in the Mayo-Keno mining district of the Yukon, Resources Minister Glen announced.

The road, for which an expenditure of $480,000 was asked in the estimates tabled recently, would run from Mayo on the Stewart River to Minto on the Yukon, a distance of approximately 160 miles.

There has been a winter road over the route for many years, but when airplanes took over the contract for delivering mail, the overland freighters discontinued their service. Water navigation, the only other means of delivering freight from Whitehorse to [illegible] tory, was not dependable.

GOLLY, MAW'S CONSIDERATE TONIGHT... YOU'D THINK THIS WAS THE WEEK BEFORE CHRISTMAS!

SAY! DID THE NEW MAIL-ORDER CATALOG COME TODAY?

MR. FARMER, IT'S UP TO YOU NOW!!

This is Your Opportunity To Help Yourself!!!

Legislation is before Parliament at Ottawa to extend government monopoly of wheat marketing to include oats and barley. If enacted YOU WILL BE COMPELLED TO SELL YOUR OATS AND BARLEY AS WELL AS YOUR WHEAT TO THE CANADIAN WHEAT BOARD.

However, to make this monopoly effective, it may be necessary that each provincial legislature pass a law permitting this government monopoly.

So this is your opportunity to protest against the extension of the monopoly. You were not given an opportunity to protest against the wheat monopoly. But You Can AND SHOULD make protest now. Those who favour the monopoly are working tooth and nail to get control over your grain. You must fight against them with all your might.

IF YOU DON'T PROTEST NOW, and your neighbours of like mind, don't protest now, you may have only yourself to blame. Provincial Legislatures may fall in line with Parliament and all those dependent upon grain growing for a living will be absolutely in the power of political pressure groups, so-called "farm leaders".

The Winnipeg Grain Exchange has endeavoured to show wheat growers what monopoly has cost them. Controlling prices for wheat was a war measure. Nobody grumbled about that. But the monopoly was extended to peace times without even asking the consent of wheat growers, who, as a result, have lost hundreds of millions of dollars. They shouldered the burden, instead of it being paid by ALL THE TAXPAYERS.

If the Government monopoly is extended to oats and barley another link will be forged in the grain grower's Chain of Bondage.

YOU SHOULD LOOK AHEAD

It is the future, not the past, that is now most important to farmers. Think of the dangers that threaten you. No man, and no group of men, is WISE enough or GOOD enough TO BE TRUSTED WITH UNRESTRICTED POWER. "All power tends to corrupt . . . absolute power corrupts absolutely."

Your wheat is now marketed at POLITICAL PRICES and for POLITICAL PURPOSES. Oats and barley are subject to even more political pressure; and since VOTING POWER RESTS WITH CONSUMERS, there will be a constant political battle between producers and consumers . . . and PRODUCERS WILL BE THE LOSERS.

The Grain Exchange has done, and is doing all that it can to uphold the farmer's Freedom of Choice in selling his grain. Let those farmers who wish to sell through the Wheat Board do so; but demand the Right to sell your grain when, where and to whom you choose at prevailing market prices.

If you are Opposed to Government Monopoly and Compulsion

ACT QUICKLY BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE.

Write at once, or, better still, WIRE your Member of Parliament at Ottawa and your Provincial Representative in Regina, Edmonton or Winnipeg. State your strong objection to extending Government monopoly to oats and barley. Tell him you want freedom to choose between selling to the Wheat Board or on the free and open market, whichever is most profitable to you. Get neighbours who agree with your views to do it. The more protests received, the better. This may be your last opportunity to help yourself and keep politics out of your grain, but you must ACT QUICKLY—OTHERWISE YOUR PROTEST WILL BE TOO LATE.

Such a plan would not entail a heavy financial expenditure. We already have the necessary plants at our agricultural schools; we also have several good strains of purebred hogs scattered throughout the province; these could be assembled and by scientific breeding operations, I am satisfied that we could, in a few years, develop a vastly superior type of bacon hog to the one in existence today. Such a plan would have the support I am sure, of the swine breeders of the province. I know of several purebred swine breeders who have endeavored in the past to carry out a policy of this kind individually, but the private individual has not the financial ability to carry on far enough.

This plan, if put into effect, should, I believe, be tied in with the Federal government's advanced registry work already in existence.

Need Veterinarian-Assisted Plan

The livestock men in my constituency are very anxious to obtain the services of a veterinarian. I am receiving constant enquiries regarding this matter, and I trust that as soon as qualified men are available, that the Minister will place a vet at our disposal under an assisted plan. The common diseases of livestock are quite prevalent through the constituency, and plans for their prevention and eradication are impossible until we get the services of qualified men. I realize the difficulties the Minister is facing in this regard—Veterinarians, like teachers, and nurses, are not developed over night.

New Farm Lease, Rental Needed

Mr. Speaker, earlier in my talk, I referred to the large number of students at the Vermilion agricultural school; many of the young men attending there hope to become farmers, but many of them face a rather difficult situation. In order to start farming operations at the present time, a large amount of capital is required, in order to purchase machinery, stock and equipment, without even taking into account the land. This means that many of these young men will have to rent farms in order to get started.

I believe that we need an improved type of farm lease or rental. The type of agreement now generally adopted, leaves much to be desired, both from the standpoint of the renter, and the owner of the land. Most rentals are on a yearly basis which is not conducive to good farming practices, and I am wondering if it is not possible to adopt some form of lease which would be more acceptable to both parties concerned. In a conversation I had recently with the principal of the agricultural school at Vermilion, I found that Mr. Bentley has given this matter considerable thought and has discussed it with the pupils of the school. I would request that some thought be given to this suggestion by the various departments concerned.

TREE PLANTING

Considerable interest is being shown in my constituency in regard to a program of tree planting. Many farmers are beginning to realize the importance of wind protection, not only for their homes and buildings, but for the protection of their soils. The matter has been forcibly brought to the attention of many farmers due to the fact that during the past few years large areas which were formerly covered with heavy brush have been cleared and the land broken up by big power outfits. This work has been carried on for the most part without any thought of leaving sufficient wind protection. Large fields have been completely stripped of all natural growth. I would like to see some slight form of assistance given to the farmers who would be willing to embark on a tree-planting program. If such planting was undertaken along roadsides to the extent of say, four rods of windbreak on each side of the road, I would like to see the farmer given the privilege of moving his line fence back so that the trees would be protected from livestock. The municipal districts should be responsible for any damage done to the trees by stock running at large.

Our soils have suffered greatly from wind erosion and unless steps are taken immediately along lines similar to those I have suggested the damage will become much greater. Some experimental work may have to be done to determine the width of the windbreak necessary and the kind of trees most suitable for planting.

LOW GRADE LUMBER

Mr. Speaker, I have just one more "beef" and I refer to the terribly low grade of lumber which is being offered to the public through the regular channels of the trade; anyone who is so unfortunate as to have to build in these times is surely getting a raw deal.

The situation in my area is simply beyond description; we are being forced to buy shiplap with just a lap on one side, full of knots, uneven thicknesses and widths, and the local lumber dealer is powerless to do anything about it. He is told to either take it or leave it, he has no choice whatever.

I feel that some system of grading should be adopted in order that the purchaser can have some protection. The farmer sells practically everything on a graded basis but what he has to buy carries no grade as to quality.

(to be concluded next week)

WOODVALE

Skiing has been the favorite pastime these last Sundays and the young folks of the surrounding district gather at the ski hill just east of Clarence Lewis', this is a fine hill, complete with a small ski jump, a ski-tow, if one cares to call the tied together lariat ropes fastened to a sleigh on top of the knoll, by such a sporty name, and a granary with stove and benches, to warm cold hands and feet or dry wet garments. But best of all, here the girls serve hot dogs and coffee with cake after a strenuous day of fun and frolic. The toboggan of Art Lyson's is much in use too. It's too bad Bill McIlrath twisted his knee on one of its runs downhill. However, he was able to return to school at Kitscoty after a few days' rest.

Mrs. T. Preston underwent an operation in Vermilion hospital and we are glad to hear that it was quite successful and that she will be home again at Easter time.

The last Farm Forum meeting at Chris Thomson's was very well attended and some lively discussions were held about immigration policies. Afterwards [illegible] served a very [illegible] lunch.

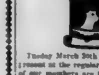
Former Vermilion Man Holds Responsible Post

Stewart G. Smith, son of Mr. Arthur Smith of Vermilion, now holds the responsible position of District Operations manager for Capital Airlines which operates in the States. Stewart's headquarters are at Saginaw, Mich. When the new parcel air postal service was recently commenced to Europe, the first lap of the journey was from Tri-City airport via Capital Airlines so the district manager was right on hand to see the first parcel in the new service handled and the attention of the Standard was directed to a large photo showing Mr. Smith examining the parcel which was bound for Edinburgh.

Stewart attended school here and will be well remembered by many of the young people of the town. He left Vermilion in 1936. During the war he served with the U.S. air force. Following the cessation of hostilities he became connected with air mail service and worked into his present responsible position.



Tuesday March 30th saw 11 members present at the regular meeting. Many of our members are teachers and are away for the Easter vacation, thus making our attendance low.

First, the report on the dance . . . Now, on with the business. A fixed date to have our picture taken was mentioned and Monday April 5th was selected. Any members who are not free on this date please phone Lena or Marge.

The tea and bazaar was brought up for discussion again but there were not enough members present to fix a date. The matter was tabled until next meeting.

A big thanks to Chris for her over-faithful work.

We were pleased to have a former member with us, Evelyn Linton (nee Johansson). Evelyn has been living at Grimshaw.

Following the meeting the girls went to the Elks hall and took down the decorations put up for the dance the previous evening.

The next meeting will be a social one and we will all be guests of Lea Robson at her home.

WILDMERE WINKS

Mrs. Wm. Steele of Baseword is a patient in the Vermilion hospital having undergone an operation last Wednesday, March 24th. All her many friends wish her a speedy recovery to health and home.

On Thursday evening last about 40 neighbors and friends gathered for a surprise farewell party at the home of Mr and Mrs. Adam Smith of Wildmere who are leaving this week end to reside at the coast. A gift of a tri-light lamp was presented to them for their new home. Mr. Fred Haines in a few well chosen words made the presentation. Mrs. Wilson who had composed a very appropriate piece of poetry read it aloud and Mr. Smith said he was going to have it framed and hung on the wall in his new home. Mr and Mrs. Smith thanked everyone heartily for their kindness and said they would never forget their many Wildmere friends. They are going to call their lamp the "Wildmere Lamp". Everyone is sorry to see such a fine couple leave our midst but that which is our loss is Vancouver's gain. We hope they come back often to Wildmere.

When the Smiths returned from Edmonton they had to cut out the west highway and leave their car at Sheldon Moy's, coming the last few miles home by team.

Our local boys had a couple of games of curling Saturday evening.

J. C. Wallington was the Red Cross collector for our part. Ray Dibben did the north and Guy Whitlock the eastern portion.

Here is a news item that will be of interest to the Kitham and Windermere districts. Barbara Steele, daughter of Mrs. Steele and the late Rastus Steele, formerly of these districts but now of White Rock B.C., was married on Feb 7th to Mr Terry McGillivary also of White Rock.

Several have seen crows in our part, Gary Cruthers being the first to report one.

BASEWOOD

A Leap Year dance is to be held at Basewood school on Friday April 2nd. Everybody welcome. Come and show the someone (wealthy Jathe and Aileen Smith that you heard of it.

Vol. XXXIX. No. 46. Vermilion, Alberta, Thursday, April 8th, 1948. $2.00 A Year

Achievement Day Attracts Hundreds to the V.S.A.

Greater interest than ever before was shown in the "Little Royal" and "Achievement Day" held at the school of agriculture last Wednesday. Visitors from all parts of the northern half of the province were in attendance despite drifted roads and threatening weather.

The showing of livestock by members of the graduating class is always an attractive feature of the Little Royal and this year was no exception. The many classes were watched with great interest by a very big audience comfortably seated in the large heated mechanics building, the finest building for this purpose found at any educational institution in Canada. Dr. J.W. Stowe, Professor of Animal Husbandry at the University of Alberta, judged the stock classes.

Among the many visitors in attendance was District Agriculturist J. S. Robbins of Wainwright who brought over 75 members of Junior Calf clubs from the Wainwright, Irma and Viking areas to see the fine points of showmanship as displayed at the Little Royal.

Classroom work as prepared by the students during the term was displayed in some 30 competitive classes including sewing, cooking and handicrafts by the girls; woodwork, blacksmithing, seed grain and butchering by the boys.

Miss Anna Gillis of the Home Economics teaching staff in Edmonton high schools and Miss Helen Bentley of the Department of Home Economics at the University of Alberta, judged the girls' work. W. S. Robinson, Supervisor Vocational Training, City of Edmonton and B. T. Stephenson, University of Alberta staff judged the mechanics exhibit.

The social side of the event was further advanced by the serving of tea in the spacious dining room by a group of lady students.

The skilled workmanship of the students as displayed caused both admiration and wonderment and they are to be sincerely congratulated upon their achievements. Great tribute is due to the principal and staff for making such a display possible, that the work accomplished at the Vermilion school of agriculture in teaching, youth-directive and training, just cannot be surpassed, is the general opinion of all who follow the activities of the school from year to year.

Vermilion Doctor and Pilot Called On Mercy Flight

Pilot Ken Crowshaw and Dr Bou King answered an emergency call last Thursday to a farm home near Marsden, Sask., where a 2½-year-old boy had fallen into a partially filled stock watering tank. Immersed for but a short time it was hoped to save his life but roads were impassable and only a ski-equipped plane would be of any use so the emergent call was sent to Vermilion. Just an hour elapsed before Dr. King was working on the little lad in a vain endeavor to restore his breathing.

There was barely sufficient water in the tank to cover the little fellow's face but the shock of the cold water apparently rendered him helpless to obtain even a sitting position. He was an only child, an older sister having died from pneumonia last fall.

Wedding of Wide Interest

KLIMEK—DENNILL

A quiet wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Dennill, Dewberry, Monday, March 29th, when their eldest daughter, Olda Alice was united in marriage to William John Klimek, son of Mrs. J. Klimek and the late Mr. J. Klimek of Hazeldine. Rev. Bruce of Lloydminster performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white slipper-satin, the skirt of which was inset with panels of lace. Her floor-length veil was held in place with a halo-styled headdress and she carried a bouquet of red roses, white carnations and lily-of-the-valley. A double strand of pearls was her only jewelry.

Miss Ruth Curtis, cousin of the bride was bridesmaid. She wore a supper-length gown of pink nylon net over taffeta and carried a bouquet of yellow daffodils and pink tulips.

Mrs. Milo Hodgson, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of yellow sheer and carried a bouquet of yellow daffodils.

Best man was Mr. Reinhold Klimek, brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dennill wore a black and yellow figured rayon jersey dress and a corsage of yellow daffodils. Mrs. Klimek wore a black crepe dress and her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to 20 guests, friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The bride's table was covered with a crocheted cloth and centred with a four-tiered wedding cake. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Bruce.

In the evening some hundred and fifty people attended a wedding dance in the Dewberry hall in honor of the newlyweds.

PLANS FOR VICE-REGAL VISIT ADVANCE

Plans for the reception and entertainment of Their Excellencies, Viscount and Lady Alexander on May 26th, are advancing rapidly and Vermilion is expected to be thronged with a large concourse of people drawn from a wide area.

Premier Manning has accepted an invitation to attend and will be accompanied by Mrs. Manning; Air Vice Marshall Guthrie, officer commanding the North West Air Command, Major-General Pinhale, in charge of army operations for Western Canada and Commander Rodney Pike, officer commanding H.M.C.S. Nonsuch have also accepted the invitation to assist in extending a true western welcome to the distinguished Vice Regal party.

Committees are at work in connection with the decoration of the line of procession which will be on Main street from the airport west to the Memorial hall, thence south to the Brunswick hotel and following a generally western course through the rural area adjacent to the town. Well known livestock breeders from the agricultural school west and including Wm. Barr, Clarence Barr, Manson Barr, J. C. Tucker and W. L. Robinson are being asked to have their cattle in fields bordering the main highway so that Their Excellencies may have an idea of the class of livestock for which this district is now so well known. Viscount Alexander has expressed a keen interest in livestock and western rural scenes and it is felt that the Claysmore district will be of unusual interest to him.

Boy Scout authorities are planning a large gathering of scouts from all centres within reasonable distance of Vermilion and plans include the presentation by the Governor General of a Scout award in addition to a number of valour awards to servicemen of the Corps. Air cadets, army and sea cadets have been invited to be present to see and hear the distinguished visitors and altogether the color of the gathering will be enhanced by their presence.

His Excellency will be entertained at the school of agriculture at luncheon with guests drawn from leaders among national, provincial and district organizations and enterprises and the committee realizes the good fortune that exists, not only in the fine facilities at the school, but in the ready co-operation extended by Principal Bentley and the Dept. of Agriculture at all times.

Work is going forward towards the completion of the Memorial hall and the local Legion branch is looking forward with pleasure to having such a distinguished national personality officially open the new premises which will serve the district for many years to come.

Material and Labor On Hand for Water Sewer Connections

FIRST 200 APPLICANTS TO BE SERVED THIS YEAR

Property owners desiring water and sewer connections should call at the town office and make the required deposit of $5. All material is on hand for connecting 200 services and the Council is making arrangements for the labor from the property line to the meter in the basements. The lines from the water and sewer mains to the property line are included in the construction company's contract so that everything outside of the actual house is being arranged with a minimum of trouble to the householder.

Edmonton Man Buys Parkview Auto Service

Aurie Portfors for the past 15 years parts manager of Burrows Motors, Edmonton, has purchased the business of the Parkview Auto Service from W. H. Conboy. The new owner and proprietor is now in charge and the business will henceforth be known as the Portfors Motors. Attention is directed to the announcement elsewhere in this issue.

The Standard hasn't been able to catch up with Ed long enough to find out his future plans but we do know that he is continuing his surface-moving business. He has also purchased a 4-passenger plane which is now stored at Edmonton airport, so no doubt there will be heard of Ed before long.

FREE SHOW ON MONDAY, APRIL 12

R. H. Norton, your International dealer, invites everyone interested to attend a free show at the Columbia theatre on Monday April 12th at 2 p.m. A variety program of sound pictures showing the latest trends in farm equipment will be shown.

Five Million Gallons of Water Pumped From Town Well

The huge quantity of 4,906,400 gallons of water had been pumped from the town well in the valley up to the end of last week. In spite of the amount the level of the water had been maintained at 31 feet from the top of the well with hardly a variation. The water is pumped to the Canadian Utilities Power plant and pumping equipment and operations are supervised by Tom Conboy.

From this record it appears certain that Vermilion is one of the few towns to secure an adequate and apparently inexhaustible water supply from one well.

"Johnny" Maxwell Purchases Moyer Furniture Business

HAROLD MOYER CONTINUES FUNERAL HOME

A business transaction of considerable interest and size was completed last week when J. D. Maxwell purchased the Moyer Bros. furniture store, stock, and good-will. Johnny [illegible] and will carry all the lines formerly handled. His opening announcement appears in the advertising columns [illegible]

Harold Moyer [illegible] owner of the Moyer [illegible] and [illegible] will continue at furniture store. Del Moyer, who has thus disposed of his Vermilion interests, has made no definite plans as to his future movements.

"GREEN ACRES"

WARBLE FLY LOSSES

It is only during the past three or four years that we have begun to realize the serious losses caused by warble or "heel" flies. There is no doubt that the losses amount to $7 and maybe $10 per animal from less milk, less beef and damaged hides. The treatment is cheap and easy to apply. Warble fly powder is available at your drug store. It should be put on now.

FARM LABOR OUTLOOK

It would appear that there will be a shortage of farm labor this year. No doubt some men will be available but industry is taking most of the men experienced in farm work. This means that most farmers needing men will have to find reasonable help locally. Anyone requiring men for permanent employment can apply through this office for a man from National Selective Service.

FEREXATE TABLETS

Anaemia in young pigs is caused by lack of iron and it causes tremendous losses every year. The use of reduced iron or better still ferexate tablets will prevent loss from this disease. Either can be bought from your drug store. Treat on 3rd, 10th and 18th days after birth. Get a circular from your D.A. on the use of iron in feeding pigs. It is harmful to overdose with iron.

TREATING SEED GRAIN

If you are thinking of treating seed grain with formalin this year don't. The mercuric dust treatments, Leytosan and Ceresan, are now used for prevention of smut by all well informed farmers. Besides preventing smut Leytosan and Ceresan promote better germination and help in root rot resistance. It is much better to use these new methods instead of formalin which is dangerous and often kills the germination and vitality of the seed.

THE FEED SITUATION

The recent snow storm and continued cold weather has made the feed situation more critical than ever. The Department has searched the whole of northern Alberta for supplies and one can put a car of [illegible] truck. Baled oat straw [illegible] at $30 per ton F.O.B. at [illegible] point.

POISONING GOPHERS

Every farmer knows that gophers are very destructive [illegible] fields. The best time to [illegible] is when [illegible] there is no green feed yet [illegible]. Mixing of gopher poison with grain still proves to be the most efficient means of destroying gophers.

Heads Bull Sale Committee at Edmonton Spring Show

W. Lyle Robinson, Vermilion, who heads the bull sale committee at the Edmonton Spring show being held this week. Mr. Robinson is the president of the Alberta Shorthorn association. Associated with him is W. C. Bissell past president Alberta Hereford association and Roy Ballhorn of Wetaskiwin, vice-president of the Alberta Aberdeen Angus association.

Handwriting Expert Testifies at District Court Case

At the District Court sittings held here Tuesday April 6th, His Honour Judge Kerr of Edmonton gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff A. E. Krofft of Nampa, Idaho, U.S.A. against R. P. Sholdice formerly of Hindville Alberta, and now of Hemlo, Ont., for $314.00 and interest at 5% from the 15th of September 1912 on lien notes alleged to have been made by Sholdice in favor of Krofft in 1936.

P. J. Richardson of Vermilion, acted for Krofft and James S. McCurry of Kitscoty with J. D. Adam, K.C., for Sholdice.

Mr Krofft who formerly lived near Islay is 79 years of age and came all the way from Idaho to testify. An interesting feature of the case is that Mr H. J. Reynolds Handwriting expert of Edmonton was called to prove the signature on the notes sued upon Sholdice denied he signed them.

Vermilion Marksman Wins at Halifax

Bert Mead and the Navy Shoot shooting team of which he is the president and coach, did some very good shooting in a recent provincial-wide tournament held at the Halifax Gun club. His team won the two-man sheet shoot, class B, and were runners-up in the 5-man class. Bert himself was the winner of B class for individuals with a score of 78 out of a possible 100.

Ethelwyn News

Our very best wishes to Mrs. Burkhead of Vermilion who observed her 79th birthday on March 27th. Despite her years Mrs. Burkhead is very active. She daily climbs the two long flights of stairs to her room on the third floor of the Imperial block. She is the first one up every morning and goes to the post office regularly to collect her mail as well as that of several friends, then back to have breakfast with the Neuman Girls at the Victory shop. Mrs. Burkhead knitted hundreds of pairs of socks during the war and is still knitting them. Will we ever see the time when Vermilion will have a nice apartment house where older folks will be able to obtain living accommodation at moderate rates.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Roberts. May they have a long and happily married life. Due to the snow storm many of us were unable to attend the wedding dance as we had planned.

It is regrettable that nothing can be done to stop this chain letter racket that is sweeping the country just now. The fire is the place for them. In these days of shortages everyone is short of the towels but using the mail to beg for them is going a little too far. As for the good luck letters surely no one believes that our destiny is controlled by keeping chain letters on the move. Everyone will see by now that the writer has no use for anonymous or chain letters. There are many worthy causes for our time and money. How about a cheery letter to some sick or shut-in person?

"H A V Reed's" letter re council here was very good indeed.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Tuley Cameron on the birth of a grandson.

Just at present Jack Grant Jr.'s method of transportation is by horseback. Harold Cooper is bagging rides and everyone hopes that we have had the last snow storm of the season.

COLD APRIL; BIG SNOW STORM

Central and northern Alberta people are still digging themselves out of the heavy snow storm of last Friday and Saturday. This fall totalling 10.2 inches was lighter here than in many areas but was accompanied by a high wind which effectively filled in all snow-plowed roads and isolated many districts for several days. The coldest April weather for years has followed the snow storm. The story, day by day is told in the following daily temperatures.

DAILY STATISTICS

Date		High	Low	Snow
April 1		22	-2	2.0in.
April 2		18	18	6.9in.
April 3		21	14
April 4		19	11
April 5		16	-20	.5in.
April 6		20	-16
April 7		26	-22
April 8		20	-12
				[illegible]

In 1946 the lowest April temperature was 21 above, in 1947 16 above was the low point for the month.

Total snow for this winter is now 65.4 inches, compared to a long-time average of 46 inches.

51 Albertans Killed In Car Accidents

Motor accidents took 51 lives in this province last year, according to information received from the provincial secretary's department by the Alberta Motor Association. In the previous year, the death toll was 64.

The number of deaths emphasizes the need of greater care being exercised by motorists, in the opinion of officials of the A.M.A.

Many of the fatal accidents were at level railway crossings, while others were highway crashes due to glare lights or others causes.

Last year thousands of copies of a pamphlet dealing with safe driving and issued by the A.M.A., were distributed to license applicants by the provincial secretary's department.

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 1947, there were 451 convictions in Alberta for violations of the Criminal Code and 2,614 for infringements of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act.

Recently, the R.C.M.P. announced that regulations as to glare headlights will be strictly enforced, in view of the increased number of accidents on provincial highways.

ANXIOUS TO SECURE INFORMATION OF MOTHER

The Editor has received the following letter from Mr. Bill Burrell who is anxious to obtain information regarding his mother reported to have lived in the Vermilion and Lloydminster districts. The letter is self-explanatory and is reproduced in full. Any information recent or otherwise, should be sent to Mr. Burrell at the address at the bottom of the letter.

Oklahoma City, Okla., U.S.A.

Dear Mr. Cooper:

I am writing you praying that you will please help me locate my mother, whom I have not seen since I was 8 months old.

After 16 years of questioning my relatives I finally got the following information, with letters and my father's diary.

My mother Minnie Smith, was French and the daughter of Joe Smith. I believe their home was in Vermilion, Alberta.

My father Henry Mack Burrell, was born in Paragould, Arkansas, U.S.A. He went to Edmonton, Alta., to work for the G.T.P. Telegraph Co. as a lineman in January 1912.

Mother was Catholic and he was Protestant, but he was converted and took his first Communion May 4, 1913. They were married by Rev. Hetu at Saint Joachim Mission May 6, 1913. In October 1913 they left Edmonton for my father's home in Paragould, Ark. The following year April 4, 1914 I was born. When I was eight months old she returned to Edmonton or Vermilion—my father left Arkansas and as far as I know (until last week) was [illegible] until after his death in 1938. I was left with his relatives to live with one and then the other from time to time.

Just last week my father's sister gave me letters mother had written to her up to 1917. Some were postmarked Edmonton and some Lloydminster, Sask.

I had always been led to believe that she was dead. And I have reasons to believe my relatives wrote her I had died as a baby.

I am now 33 years of age, and I know that 33 years is a long time. If you could only help me in anyway I would appreciate it the rest of my life.

I am a man of modest means and do not have the money necessary to [illegible] to search for her. Any information you may be able to get for me would help.

Thank you very much for anything you may be able to do.

Sincerely,
Bill Burrell

Breath-Taking Scene Created in Plastics

An elaborate, breath-taking setting made from plastics creates the scene of a Dutch garden for the spectacular production sequence, Poetry in Plastic, one of the many thrills promised in Ice Cycles of 1948. The all-new edition of the colorful musical ice extravaganza will open a limited engagement at the Edmonton arena, starting on Thursday, April 22nd.

Lovely Ice Cycles girls of the skating ballet skim across the ice in huge laminated gloss Dutch shoes which create the effect of being in bright green boats with transparent plastic sails.

Then sixteen of the most charming Ice Cyclettes pair off as Dutch boys and girls in a fascinating wooden shoe dance. The shoes are of laminated spun glass. Another group of beautiful girls are featured in large plumed glass hats and clear Jamarith hoop skirts.

"Poetry in Plastic" is only one of the many sparkling production numbers presented in Ice Cycles of 1948. Other thrills are provided in Pageant of Medieval Days, Snow Hut, Derby Day, Oriental Fantasy and On the Bonnie Banks of Loch Lomond.

Tickets for Ice Cycles of 1948 are on sale now at The Edmonton Arena and Mike's News stand, Edmonton. Mail orders should be sent to the Arena.

Chatsworth Chatter

As we have had no Chatter for two weeks, some of the news will work may be old but, we hope, still of interest.

A good crowd turned out to vote at Ottawa school on March 22nd, despite a very nasty storm which became of blizzard proportions before the afternoon was over.

Stormy weather has certainly been our portion throughout the Easter holidays, not to mention the other days of the past few weeks!

Roads are once more drifted in very solidly and snow is piled high throughout the countryside. Feed is also scarce in this area and farmers were hoping for a break in the long winter but it will be quite a while now before pastures are bare of snow.

On Tuesday March 23 the snow plow owned by Mix and Wilton and hired by the municipality, came out from town to clear the roads. It took about eight hours to clear the two miles from Ralph Wilson's corner to E. Thompson's. The operator stayed at Thompson's that night, returning to town the next morning. It is reported that the clearing was suspended as the expense was too great.

Mrs. Tulodziecki and Miss Marie Tulodziecki were visitors to Edmonton during the week end of March 19 to 21st.

Mr. Randolph Hutchinson is the canvasser for the Red Cross in this area.

The school children held a party on Thursday, March 25th at the school during the afternoon. Easter holidays terminated Monday with blocked roads once more ahead of the children.

Albert Kirchinsky has sold his farm and the new owner, Dan Mitch and family, are now settled there.

Crows seem to belie the fact that winter is still with us, as there are a good many appearing these days.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

What Do You Think?

By ELAN TAYLOR

WAS it love or a matter of business? I've made up my mind but you'll have to make up your own.

Let's start with this thing called love. To hear the young folks talk you'd think it was something invented special for them. Well, if they're thinking about spooning in a parked car or holding hands on the sofa maybe it is. But that isn't the kind of love I have in mind.

The kind I'm thinking of reaches way down inside. It's deep and peaceful like a pool covered with lily pads.

That's the kind the sentimentalists say came to Bill Hendricks after he settled in our town to open a bakery store. On the other hand the more material minded said it was just a smart dicker on Bill's part and love had nothing to do with it. This kind would look sly as if they knew everything about everything. That Hendricks chap is pretty smart," they'd say.

Like I said, after you hear what happened you can make up your own mind. And after you do I think I'll know more about you than I do now.

It started when Bill found nobody would buy his pies. After he'd given them to the "Orphan's Home" for two weeks he began to think something queer was going on. He knew there was nothing wrong with his pies because he used the best ingredients and prided himself on knowing how to put them together. His cakes and buns sold like all get out to add to the mystery. Bill hated mysteries so next time Fanny Graham came in he questioned her.

Fanny kept house for old Doc Williams and knew everything that was worth knowing in Pleasantville and a lot that wasn't.

Bill put on quite a sales talk about his pies. He explained what was in them and how he made them to the last degree of oven temperature. Fanny was sure they were delicious but didn't offer to buy. Bill scratched his head and adopted different tactics. He said, "Mrs. Graham, what in heck's wrong with my pies?"

"Oh, I'm sure there's nothing wrong."

"Then why don't folks buy them," persisted Bill.

After Fanny had gone, Bill phoned Ed. Peavy at the Bugle. When he quit listening to Ed he knew as much about Hannah as anybody in town.

He knew she baked pies in her kitchen and toted them on a little red wagon that Mark Shannon, the blacksmith, had built special. "Yep," Ed had said, "I remember when she came from Ireland. Worked for the Fairchilds before they moved to the city, then she kept house for Judge Benton till he died and left her the cottage on Maple Street. Took to baking pies and mothering all the boys in town. No, never did marry. Had plenty of offers though. Said she didn't love none of us in a marrying-way but I suspect she was too busy looking after other folk to find the time."

Bill lay awake longer than usual that night. A bachelor and turned fifty he wasn't a grasping man but figured he was entitled to a share of the pie trade. That's why he put a sign in the window next day announcing a price cut. Then he sat back and waited. Next day the sign read "Half Price." He sat and waited some more but when he locked up he was desperate. Desperate enough to phone Fanny and ask her right out why she bought Hannah's pies instead of his. He detected a chuckle in Fanny's voice.

"Well, it's kind of hard to explain to a man," she said.

"Try," pleaded Bill.

"When Hannah calls around us women pay for more than just a pie. We get a piece of sunshine, too."

Bill's bushy brows shot up. "Sunshine?"

"Yes, she leaves some of it everyplace she goes." Then, as though it were an afterthought, "Besides there's always time for a little gossip."

Bill quit baking pies and spent the time thinking hard on what Fanny had said.

When Hannah showed Bill into the parlour he took an immediate dislike to his own room. The Dresden and Wedgwood started it off. The wingchair and glowing coals finished it. Looking into twinkling blue eyes he wished he shouldn't have come. Nevertheless, after clearing his throat he moved to the attack. He pointed out how tiring it must be having to pull a wagon all over town and wouldn't it be much easier if she sold to him at wholesale.

Hannah smiled and Bill had a premonition of defeat. "If a body enjoys doing it, it can't rightly be called work, can it now?"

Bill could only clear his throat.

"I love to bake," Hannah went on, "and as for pulling the wagon, sure and that's just visiting, and what woman doesn't like that?"

Bill coughed. Things weren't going right.

"I'm lucky," Hannah said. "Most women don't get time for visiting."

Bill knew when he was licked. He granted once or twice then got up to go but somehow it was two hours and several pieces of pie before he got around to saying goodnight.

After that, Bill became a frequent visitor to the little parlor and folks wondered. I don't know why. If Hannah liked Bill's stubborn bluffness; if she felt the need of a strong shoulder once in a while, why, I guess that's love too.

As for those who figure that Bill made a right smart deal, well, it's true that the pie trade is a family monopoly now but when Bill told Hannah he loved her he meant it and being the kind of woman she was she knew it was true.

Farmer Has Narrow Escape With Train

ESTEVAN, Sask.—The train was going around a sharp curve on a grade about three miles west of Estevan.

The engineer, J. McKay, could not see the track ahead because of the curve.

The fireman John Salmond, was busy firing, and the head brakeman, R. A. Phaneuf, was watching ahead through the fireman's window.

As the locomotive roared around the curve Brakeman Phaneuf saw a man walking along the track, his back to the train.

The brakeman signalled the engineer to make an emergency stop. The train ground to a halt.

But the man, his back to the train, kept walking.

The brakeman climbed down the engine, walked after the man and attracted his attention by tapping him on the shoulder.

The train started again and as Brakeman Phaneuf climbed back into the cab the crew considered how fortunate it had been that the brakeman had signalled the engineer to stop rather than blow a warning blast with the whistle.

Mr. Klyne, the crew found, was deaf, had been unaware of danger until the brakeman had tapped him on the shoulder.

OIL WELL BLOWS IN AT PINCHER CREEK

CALGARY. — The Gulf Oil Company's Pincher Creek No. 1 well blew in again and produced slightly more than 12 barrels of 64 gravity oil hourly through a three-quarter-inch choke.

It is reported here that the accompanying natural gas flow was between 10 and 12 billion cubic feet a day.

Many oil men in western Canada think that any successful opening of a well in this Pincher Creek area may mean that another large producing field may be started here.

FLOWERS BY AIR — Daffodils picked in Victoria B.C. one day are on sale in Ontario the next. To keep up with the demand for flowers, a thrice-weekly air service is planned and later other flowers will be speeded east in this way. Tina Bohden, Toronto, winner of several beauty contests, is seen with daffodils from the first shipment.

"Iceologists" Of The North Busy Guessing Dawson Ice Breakup

DAWSON, Y.T.—With signs of spring in the air here in the northland, hundreds of Yukoners are looking to the big Dawson ice guessing contest to be decided by the breakup of the Yukon River ice six or seven weeks hence. Due to failure of the electrical timing device last May, last year's pool amounting to close to $4,000 was held over and will be decided on this year's breakup.

Consequently if the winner of this season's "pot" should also hold a similar number on last season's ice stake, he or she will be richer by almost double the original amount.

While final figures will not be available for some time yet, this year's pool, it is estimated, will run between $3,000 and $4,000.

"Iceologists" of the north are having a hard time this spring trying to figure the "dope" on the breakup owing to the unusual mild weather of the past winter. Some believe that this may mean an early breakup, while others claim it doesn't have anything to do with the historic annual event.

In previous years the ice has moved out in front of Dawson anywhere from May 1 to 15, with the exception of a few rare times.

Scores of ice pool cards around town offer hundreds of dollars worth of merchandise and other prizes to the person guessing the correct minute.

The main ice pool winner has to hold the exact day, hour and minute.

Highway Officials To Organize

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS—Organization of Canadian highway officials is to be undertaken at once. Northwest Highway Association at its final convention session decided to form the new professional group beginning with the four western provinces and expanding to the eastern and maritime provinces.

Next meeting of the association will be held in Saskatchewan, probably in the fall. W. W. Perrie, chief engineer, Saskatchewan, is chairman, and W. N. Stewart, maintenance engineer, Saskatchewan, secretary.

Directors are Walter Youngman, assistant chief engineer for Manitoba, Alex Frame, highway commissioner for Alberta and Evan S. Jones, New Westminster district engineer for B.C. Public works ministers of the four provinces are honorary officers.

Boy Scouts To Scale Mountain Peaks

EDMONTON. — Older Boy Scouts from British Columbia and Alberta have been invited to take part in the climbing camp of the Alpine Club of Canada next July at Peyto Lake, about 25 miles north of Lake Louise. Scouts from 16 to 18 years old will be selected for the two-week camp.

Marking the first time Boy Scouts will go mountain climbing under the direction of the Alpine Club, the venture will be one of a series of exploration trips now being planned for older Canadian Scouts this summer.

This invitation is also being extended to Saskatchewan Scouts.

More than 16,210,000 women are employed in the United States.

A WORD ON EXPORTS

Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few words now regarding the subject of exports: if we have become proficient over the years in anything it is in the matter of exports. We export our beef, our hogs, our grain, soil fertility and even many of our best brains and now another commodity is being mentioned—this one is natural gas. Let us stop some of this exporting and instead of exporting our gas, let's do a little importing; bring in the industries to Alberta and thus create a home market for many of the things which we are now compelled to sell outside of the Province. Another item which we have been exporting, that of soil fertility. This item, Mr. Speaker, is at last being given considerable study by a small portion of our people. One would imagine that this was something new but as a matter of fact it has been going on ever since we started to cultivate our virgin land; it has grown in extent over the years and very little has been done to correct the situation. The action taken by this Government some few years ago I believe to be the only one of importance. I refer, Sir, to the assistance given to livestock feeder associations whereby livestock is held in the province until ready for slaughter. This has prevented much grain from being exported and has been the means of keeping much needed fertility in the province.

In order to obtain definite information in regard to the loss we have sustained in soil fertility, I would suggest that municipal districts and service boards be asked to undertake the collecting of soil samples and have them analysed so that we may bring home to the farmers and public generally the great loss that we have sustained through a wrong system of farming, and Mr. Speaker, we had all better brace ourselves for a shock.

The other export which I will touch on briefly is that of many of our leading men and women, chiefly to our neighbors to the south. I realize, Mr. Speaker, that the situation is a difficult one to overcome. The U.S. apparently can offer better inducements in the way of salaries than we are able to do. We are fortunate though in that we have many people who through their love of their own land and its people have seen fit to offer their services to our fair province.

At this time I would like to couple with this statement the name of Dr. R. D. Sinclair, Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture at our university. Dr. Sinclair is a native son of Alberta and is held in the highest esteem by the farmers and livestock men of the province. His recognized ability coupled with his genial personality, has won him a host of friends, and the people of Alberta owe him a debt of gratitude which they can never hope to repay.

I am aware Mr. Speaker, that it is not customary to make observations of this nature, we generally say it with flowers, after the person has departed from this sphere.

CONCLUSION

Mr. Speaker, it has been frequently said that Agriculture stands at the crossroads, a statement which I heartily agree with. In fact, Sir, I believe we have been there for quite a while, not knowing which road to take; and the trouble is that there are no sign posts to direct us. The road which agriculture has travelled in order to get there has been a hard one, full of obstructions of all kinds, and we dare not turn and go back.

So I suggest that we erect a sign post with these words: "To Social Credit and Ottawa". That is the only road that agriculture will be safe in travelling. It may not be as easy to travel as we would wish, but I am convinced that at the end we would find Peace, Happiness and Prosperity. So let's "Keep Right on to the End of the Road."

RIVERTON

The Spicer family received quite a thrill last Sunday evening when their phone rang and central told them that St. Maria, Calif., U.S.A. was calling. The call was from Ralph McGray, an old time homesteader of the district. Mr. McGray asked to be remembered to all of his old friends.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Gordon Mathison who is a patient in the Islay hospital.

Mrs. Parr is home from the hospital and feeling much better.

Mac MacLean has returned from the coast.

Gophers, blackbirds, crows have made their appearance and it is hoped that spring won't keep them long in suspense.

NEW C. N. R. VICE-PRESIDENT

J. P. JOHNSON

recently appointed vice-president, Western Region, succeeding W. R. Devenish who has retired after 36 years of railway service. Mr. Johnson is well known throughout western Canada, his railway career dating back to 1905. He served in many points in the west prior to 1929 when he was appointed general superintendent at North Bay. In 1941, he was appointed vice-president and general manager, Atlantic Region, with headquarters at Moncton.

Farmer's Account Book and Income Tax Guide Free for Asking

Recently, a daily paper featured a story of a man standing on a busy street corner and offering to sell $10 bills for $1. He made very few sales because the passers-by were suspicious. We can imagine their chagrin on reading the newspaper account and learning that the bills were genuine.

The new farm account book is like that $10 bill—it is genuine. Its value has already been attested to by many leading farm organizations and farm men.

It was designed by the Dept. of National Revenue in a sincere effort to help farmers. To save them time, trouble and worry.

There are no strings attached. The account book is free for the asking. By using it the farmer is in no conceivable way obligating himself—anymore than if he had never seen or used a copy at all.

First and foremost, it provides farmers with a simple bookkeeping system. A few minutes each week will enable him to keep accurate records. These records will show him exactly where he stands—what progress his farm is making — where he is making or losing money.

These records in the farm account book are numbered to correspond exactly with the T-1 tax form. In April next year, when the farmer makes out his tax return for this year, all he need do is transfer the totals from his account book directly to the form. He eliminates the need for and saves himself the cost of expert help.

Equally important to the farmer, the farm account book shows him the deductions he can make for expenses and for depreciation. How much, for example, he can deduct for depreciation on a barn—a tractor, or any of 76 different items of common farm equipment.

Additional advantageous features explained in the farm account book are the 3-year Average Plan and the Basic Herd.

Both are optional. The farmer can use them or not, as he sees fit. In many instances it will be to his personal advantage to do so — and the farm account book shows him how.

In brief, the farm account book and Income Tax Guide has been designed in a spirit of fair play to help the farmer and give to him all the benefits to which he is entitled by law. He has nothing to lose and everything to gain by giving it a fair trial.

AUCTION SALE

Charles E. Thompson will hold a clearing off auction sale at his farm located on the King Edward road 4 miles west of Clandonald on Tuesday April 20th. The listing is comprised of power machinery stock and implements. Watch for bills and advertising. Casterton and Braithwaite are the auctioneers. 45-6

SALES LEVELING OFF . . .

Business in most big Canadian department stores is leveling off, reports The Financial Post. Total sales showed a dollar value increase of 2.7% in February, over the same month of 1947; but the bulk of this increase was in foodstuffs, and was partly accounted for by rising price. Most other departments reported a drop

In The Legislature

BY W. R. CORNISH M.L.A.,
VERMILION CONSTITUENCY.

This last week saw the adoption of the Budget after several lengthy debates. This will be the largest budget of this province, with a total estimated revenue from Income account of over $46 million, and from Capital account over [illegible] million. Expenditures estimated on Income account nearly $36½ million and on Capital account an expenditure of over $16½ million. This will mean that if estimates work out as suggested, there will have to be taken from reserves of past years over $6 million.

There will be very substantial increases in expenditures for Education, Health Public Welfare, Public Works and Agriculture.

This year will see the start of a new T.B. san in Edmonton, considerable expansion of the Mental hospitals, Agricultural schools and expansion of old age and health services.

The past week saw a very heated debate on the new Farmers' Income Tax form. After a lengthy debate in several members including S.C. and C.C.F., an amendment was passed unanimously, requesting the Federal authorities to enable the farmers to use either the Cash Income statement or the Net worth statement, whichever one was desired. This, we now understand, is being considered by Ottawa.

A Committee has been set up by the Legislature consisting of the Hon. Mr. Hooke, Mr. McDonald, Ind. Calgary, and Mr. Hammell, S.C., Didsbury, to inquire into the advisability or otherwise of the Government providing Automobile Insurance. This gives the committee the right to investigate any and all automobile and liability insurance in any part of Canada or elsewhere, such investigation to be reported at the next session.

A bill was introduced this week enabling the Veterans of the Northern Land Clearing project to obtain seed when unable to do so themselves in the first year that such lessee is in possession of the land, and for the second year in the event that the crop is a failure the first year. The money owing for such seed shall be paid in cash or by a share of the crop.

This bill must receive final assent from the Legislature, but in all probability will pass without any opposition.

Radiograms

AN ASPIRIN, Please!

NO DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME BIG RADIO HEADACHE

That annual headache "Daylight Saving Time" will soon be here. Then, we in Alberta have taken a giant step —BACKWARDS— when the institution of Daylight Saving Time in the province was declared illegal. It's a step backwards because most of the other provinces, most of the states south of the border find a great benefit in this extra hour of summer daylight. We are now out of step, and while in that position radio programming takes a terrific kick in the pants.

Here's what's going to happen the end of April. Most network programs originate in centres turning to Daylight Saving Time. Since we are forced to remain on Standard Time all those shows will hit us an hour earlier than at present. Practically every one network program will be affected too. We'll have to make room for the network feed. Local shows will have to be knocked out of spots in which they have become popular. There will have to be a wholesale switching and juggling before the local Standard Time pattern fits into the Daylight Saving Time network pattern. Then, come September, the entire schedule will once again be hurled about, torn down and put together again, all because the radio cities in Alberta are not permitted to keep up with the Joneses on this Daylight Saving question.

It's a terrific headache to radio men. It's most annoying to sponsors. It's a miserable nuisance to the listeners! Quick — an Aspirin!

Town of Vermilion

PUBLIC NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that there has been introduced in the Council of the Town of Vermilion a By-law of which the following is a short synopsis:

"BY-LAW 340 PASTEURIZATION BY-LAW"

1. "Pasteurization" and "pasteurized" shall have the meaning given to those words in Section 7 (a) of The Public Health Act.
2. No person shall sell, offer for sale or deliver within the limits of the Town of Vermilion, milk which has not been pasteurized in a pasteurization plant approved by the Provincial Board of Health.
3. Section 2 above shall not apply to milk brought into the Town by the producer and sold by wholesale to a distributor, a milk processing plant, a creamery or cheese factory nor to milk products prepared in a plant and by methods approved by the Provincial Board of Health.
4. The proposed By-law shall take effect on the date of the final passing thereof.
5. Penalties for contravention of the By-law provide, on summary conviction, for a fine not exceeding $100.00 exclusive of costs or in default, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 60 days with or without hard labour.

And that a copy of the same may be seen at the office of the Secretary-Treasurer, and further, that the said By-law will be submitted to the vote of the electors of the town of Vermilion to be held in the Masonic hall on Monday, the 26th day of April, 1948, from 10 o'clock in the forenoon until 7 o'clock in the afternoon, and that I shall attend at the place aforesaid for the purpose of summing up the votes for and against the said By-law at the hour of 7 o'clock of the afternoon of the said 26th day of April, 1948 and declare the result thereof.

And further take notice that if Sixty-five Per Cent (65%) of those voting on the plebiscite vote in favor of the By-law, it will be finally passed by the Council of the Town of Vermilion.

ARE YOU GETTING THE TAX DEDUCTIONS YOU ARE ENTITLED TO?

The Farm Account Book and Income Tax Guide shows you how!

How much can you deduct for depreciation on your tractor? Your automobile? A shed? What expenses can you deduct? There are 75 articles in common farm use plus a wide variety of deductible expenses for which depreciation can be charged—all listed in the new Farm Account Book. These legal deductions from your income are a big question at Income Tax Time and the answers to them and to dozens of other questions are in this new Farm Account Book.

A Record of Your Transactions and a Guide to Your Income Tax Return

WHAT IT DOES—Keeps a clean record, helps you budget—and shows you whether you have made or lost money on your operations. Shows you, too, what your best lines are and where you may be farming at a loss. Saves you hours of time from book keeping. First ten pages are for your receipts—from sales of crops, seeds, livestock, poultry, dairy products and all other produce. Then come twelve pages of all farm expenses—you are reminded of items you might otherwise forget. Establish a basic herd, apply for the three-year-average plan, calculate your depreciation item by item. These are money-savers for every farmer. They're all in the new Farm Account Book.

DEDUCTIONS—Every farmer is entitled to deductions and he is expected by the department to take full advantage of his rights. The Farm Account Book tells you about many items in easy question-and-answer form. For instance—"What can I claim as expenses for repairs?" The answer is "any expense to keep a machine or a building in working order can be claimed." Altogether there are answers to over 80 questions. No one is required to pay more than his fair share of tax.

Comments from Letters on the New Farm Account Book and Income Tax Guide: "A long awaited step for the benefit and progress of our Canadian farmers" . . . "Takes the kinks out of keeping farm records" . . . "Pleased to recommend this Account Book for farm people" . . . "Record keeping in its simplest form—a real help" . . . "Something we have been needing for a long time".

Annual Red Shield Appeal In May This Year

Switch Made From September

MONTREAL.—By a switchover in many centres from September to May for its annual Red Shield appeal, The Salvation Army will this year have its first totally synchronized national campaign, according to Air Marshall W. A. Bishop, V.C., chairman of The Army's National Advisory Board, who recently announced the completion of dominion-wide campaign plans. The national objective will be $1,100,000 for maintenance, plus capital items.

Actually, Air Marshal Bishop declared, The Salvation Army is just reverting to its pre-war policy of conducting its major financial appeal in the month of May. A government war measure directing that war service campaigns should be held in the spring and home service campaigns in the fall was the prime reason for The Salvation Army's change in long-established policy.

The difficulties of campaign organization during the summer vacation months was stressed by the National Chairman. With an early September appeal the many good friends who comprise campaign committees across Canada, and without whom the Red Shield Appeal could not be conducted, find they have insufficient time after holidays to set up a really effective organization.

In centres where problems have caused a postponement of the Appeal The Salvation Army has, in some instances, been forced to delay the campaign until uncomfortably near Xmas. In such places lowered returns have seriously jeopardized the maintenance of services.

The benefits to a synchronized appeal from national publicity were obvious, Air Marshal Bishop said. He forecasted an unsurpassed response on the part of Canadians to the 1948 Red Shield Appeal and said that never before in its sixty years operation in Canada has The Army's need been so urgent or its domestic so [illegible] tiplied.

AT EDMONTON ARENA APRIL 22nd

Bigger and better than ever is what critics and fans have to say about "Ice Cycles of 1948", the all-new 3rd annual edition of the spectacular musical ice extravaganza.

The breathtaking event, which is produced by the famous Ice Capades and Ice Follies, is scheduled to open a limited engagement at Edmonton Arena, starting Thursday, April 22.

John H. Harris of Ice Capades and the Shipstads (Roy and Eddie) and Oscar Johnson of Ice Follies have hit a new peak in going all out to make Ice Cycles of 1948 tops in entertainment for young and old.

More money than ever has been put into the lavish Hollywood-created costumes and the gay, colorful settings and exquisite scenic effects.

The joint producers of Ice Follies and Ice Capades allied in their most talented production directors to stage Ice Cycles of 1948 for leading arenas throughout the U.S. and Canada. The latest touches of Mr. Fyn [illegible] and Miss Mary Jane Lewis have made Ice Cycles of 1948 the fastest-moving and most youthful and refreshing of all major musical revues.

Many masters of the silver bladed will be seen in many thrilling numbers. To name a few there will be [illegible] Concerto [illegible] Poetry in Plastic. The Genius, Mod to Mercury [illegible] Old Southland [illegible]

Progress In Housing

FOR SOME TIME HOUSING has been one of Canada's foremost problems and in spite of efforts which have been made to solve it, it appears that there is no immediate prospect of an end to the present situation although undoubtedly progress has been made. While the situation is most complicated in the larger cities, there are few communities in Canada which have not felt the need for improved housing facilities during the past few years. In a recent report to parliament on this important subject, Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction, said that in completing 200,000 houses since the end of the war Canada had done as well as any other country in home construction during this difficult period. In 1945, he pointed out, more than 50,000 homes were built, while the figure for 1946 was 67,000 and for 1947 77,000. There were also 45,000 homes commenced, but not completed last year.

• • • • •

Many Vacant Farm Homes

Mr. Howe told parliament that there is at present no bottleneck in building materials, but that there is a shortage of labor in some branches of construction work. While costs of materials were levelling off, he said, labor costs are rising, making it difficult to determine whether there is any decrease in building costs. During the discussion of this subject in the House of Commons, it was suggested that some of the congestion in the larger centres was due to the fact that during the war many people moved from farms to work in industries and as a result there are now a large number of vacant farm homes. A movement of population back to the land, would, it was suggested, to some extent alleviate the housing shortage in the cities.

• • • • •

Problems Now Being Studied

There has been need, however, for attention to rural housing problems also, and an improvement in the standard of farm houses might well prove an important factor in encouraging people who have gone to live in cities, to return to the land. In recent years it has been realized that too little attention has been paid to the housing problem in rural areas, and at present research is being carried on at the universities of the three Prairie Provinces in an effort to improve the standard of farm homes. The design of farm houses, insulation, heating, rural electrification, water supply and many other related problems are now being studied, and since some of these matters are important to all types of homes the results of this work may prove of benefit to the entire country. While there is little hope of an early solution to Canada's housing problem, it is encouraging to know that efforts are being made not only to build more homes, but to improve housing standards, especially on the farms where the need for such improvement has long been evident.

Alberta Man National Barley Champion

REGINA — Alberta and Manitoba split the four major awards in the $[illegible] national barley contest of 1947, Alberta winning first and second prizes, Manitoba third and fourth.

The national champion is 25-year-old James W. Hussey, who farms a section of land eight miles north of Airdrie, Alta. His runner-up was A. Henry, Legal, Alta.

Last year's national champion, George G. Elias, Haskett, Man., won third prize and fourth place was taken by J. F. Brodie, Portage la Prairie, well-known farmer of the Portage plains.

Saskatchewan growers, handicapped by a bad season which made production of high grade barley practically impossible in some of the best barley growing areas of the province, did not place in the 1947 national competition. Jack A. Wylie, Maryfield, who was Saskatchewan champion in 1946 and placed fourth in the national competition, was champion of his province again in 1947, but his entry was not good enough to take one of the national prizes.

The Harrassed Debtor

Harrassed debtor replies to bill in desperation. This is an actual letter. The names are fictitious:

Dear Sir:

In reply to your recent and more recent requests to send you a check, I wish to inform you that the present shattered condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to take your requests seriously.

My present financial condition is due to the fact of Dominion laws, liquor laws, traffic laws, by-laws, mother-in-laws, sister-in-laws, brother-in-laws and outlaws, all of which have been foisted on an unsuspecting public.

Through all these laws I am compelled to pay business tax, sales tax, amusement tax, gas tax, school tax, excise tax, income tax, auto tax, hydro tax, syntax, and educational tax.

In addition to these irritating taxes, I am forced by the strong arm of the law to get a permit for these things and a permit for that thing. I am required to get a business license, a city license, a provincial license, a sign license, a dog license, a motor license, a radio license, a liquor license, not to mention a marriage license. I am also requested and required to contribute to every society and organization which the inventive genius of man is capable of bringing into life. To the society of St. Jean-Baptiste, the Woman's relief, the Near East relief, the unemployed relief and the gold-digger home, also every hospital and every charitable institution in the city, the Red cross, the black cross, the white cross, the green cross, the flaming cross and double cross.

For my own safety I am required to carry life insurance, fidelity insurance, burglary insurance, property insurance, rent insurance, fire insurance, compensation insurance, accident and collision insurance and business insurance.

The government has now so governed my business that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am expected, inspected, suspected, disrespected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded and compelled until all I know is that I am supposed to provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race and simply because I refuse to donate to each and every one of these and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away, I am accused, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, held down, and robbed until I am nearly ruined. I can tell you honestly, Mr. Johnson, that barring a miracle you won't be paid just now and the only reason I am holding onto life is simply to see what in hell is coming [illegible] not to mention a marriage [illegible]. Yours respectfully, J. D.

Plan Rain-Making Tests This Summer

OTTAWA — Trade Minister Howe said in the Commons that aerial rain making tests with dry ice will be started this summer by the National Research Council.

The tests will supplement laboratory experiments now being conducted by the Council, he said replying to Max Campbell (CCF—The Battlefords).

Park Manross (PC—London) in an apparent reference to flood conditions asked Mr. Howe with a smile why the rain-making had to be concentrated on Western Ontario.

Prospectors Ready For Gold Rush

Mounted Police To Patrol New Camp In Yukon Territory

FORT ST. JOHN.—With mounted police prepared to make a spring patrol of the new gold camp on Firth River, Yukon territory, it began to look like a stampede with aircraft playing an important part. Inspector H. H. Cronkhite said that the Firth River was the toughest part of North America so far as climate is concerned and owing to its isolation men going into the new boom area are taking a terrific chance.

"Parties going in without good equipment and lots of supplies will be in great danger," the inspector said. Neree Robert, a prospector, who was among the first with Gilbert Labine to stake ground in the radium discovery area at Great Bear Lake left here by plane, bound for Firth River.

Fairbanks, Alaska is the jumping-off point for a group of American prospectors using aircraft. They staked on Firth River last summer and will carry on development this spring. Prospectors are already gathering at Aklavik, N.W.T., for the 180-mile dash by dog team to the scene of action. Boats are already chartered to push off after break-up to Herschel Island, in the Arctic Ocean. With Herschel as a base, it would be 30 miles up river to the gold area.

Parties are planning to reach the new camp from Fort Nelson on the Alaska highway by using rafts to follow the river system to tidewater on the Beaufort sea. Others will mush in with dogs over the Yukon trail which runs from Dawson City via Old Crow over the divide.

Wheat Board Has Large Surplus

OTTAWA — The Canadian Wheat Board has built up a surplus of $156,467,000—equal to about 27½ cents a bushel—on the wheat it has so far handled under its five year crop pool, parliament was told.

Details of the operation of the five-year pool, which started August 1, 1945, were given in the board's annual report, tabled in the Commons by Trade Minister Howe.

The surplus was built up on the 576,386,000 bushels of wheat the board had bought under the scheme by July 31, 1947, for which it paid producers $756,762,785. Its sales and stocks on hand then amounted to $929,244,887 against which had to be charged its operating and administration costs and the cost of the 10 cents a bushel additional payment made on the 1944 crop.

The board had sold 380,435,715 bushels from the pool by last July.

PLAN HOSTEL FOR AIRPORT AT EDMONTON

EDMONTON. To overcome shortage of hotel accommodation for air travellers, the city plans to establish a hostel at the municipal airport. It is negotiating with the federal Government for use of a large, H-shaped R.C.A.F. barrack block, which could provide a large cafeteria, a lounge room, and 30 bedrooms.

The city hopes to buy the building "if the price is right", Mayor H. D. Ainlay states. Otherwise, it will seek a lease-transfer agreement.

YELLOW FOR HUNTERS GARB

YORKTON, Sask. — The Yorkton branch of the Fish and Game league drafted a resolution at the annual meeting requesting the provincial government to make yellow the official color for hunters' uniforms rather than red or white as at present. Members contended that yellow offers a greater maximum of safety than any other color and can be distinguished by color blind persons.

MORE PENSIONERS

EDMONTON — More than 12,000 persons now are receiving old age pensions in Alberta. The list of pensioners rose when the amended Old Age Pension Act removed the section requiring proof of British nationality.

To Feel Right — Eat Right

Drag Levels Land Easily

WHEN land has been roughly levelled by ordinary means and it is still desired to produce a more even surface, none of the usual implements will do the job. Then it is time for the farmer or gardener to retire to his workshop and build himself a plank drag to serve as a land float.

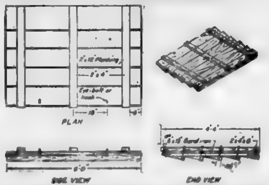
The accompanying drawing shows a plank drag of garden planker, which is very useful for smoothing uneven land for planting small seeds. This type of leveller is used very largely for preparing seed beds for horticultural crops. This drag should be made from planks 2 by 12 inches, but if these are not available planks a few inches narrower can be used. The angle is secured by bolting the front edge of all planks behind the first one on top of the rear edge of the plank ahead.

Correct angle of the front plank is secured by bolting it to the underside of the crosspiece bolted to the top of the drag to stiffen it. These crosspieces should be shaped to fit snugly against the upper side of the planks.

Holes bored through the front plank serve nicely as anchors for clevises for hitching. These holes should be reinforced with steel plates. A chain hitch similar to that used on the drawbar of a harrow is satisfactory for this drag.

A drag such as this is very good for preparing a garden. When the soil has been worked up to a fine seed bed, which would be considered ideal for ordinary farm crops, something more is needed before it is good enough for vegetable seed. The surface must be well levelled and the clods must be crushed so that fine soil only will come in contact with the small seeds. The planker is just the thing for these jobs.

Where the acreage to be smoothed each spring is considerable it pays to reinforce the projecting edges on the underside of the planker with angle iron.



This diagram illustrates the construction of a land drag or garden planker; excellent for putting the finishing touches on a land levelling job or a garden seed bed.

Sunflower Industry Growing in Manitoba

The growing of sunflowers has become a million dollar industry in Manitoba. Because of better yields and higher oil content this year a group of 900 farmers in the southern section of the province who raised sunflowers in 1947 will split a gross return of $1,200,000. The provincial department of agriculture estimates the average yield at 800 pounds per acre on 25,000 acres of sowing, making a total yield of 20,000,000 pounds, at a price of six cents per pound.

"Advance" a new hybrid sunflower which was developed by the dominion experimental farm at Morden was sown for 80 per cent. of this year's crop.

Favorable fall weather is said to be the reason for the high oil content of the seeds this year. Sunflower oil is still in good demand by packing plants for shortening and salad oils, and by other buyers for confectionery and medicinal purposes.

Queen Of Dauphin Winter Carnival

JOAN JOHANNESSON

When I entered the contest to choose a queen for the Winter Carnival at home, that is in Dauphin, Man., I knew that the winner would get a flight to and from Toronto and five days of sightseeing there. But I didn't have any idea how hectic, or how wonderful, a trip like that could be.

I still have to pinch myself a bit to make sure it has really happened! I've enjoyed every minute of it, even when so many new things rather overwhelmed me, but if it had not been for the good friends who planned my time [illegible] through all the many different engagements I've filled, I know I would have been completely lost.

First of all I must say I like Toronto very much. This is the first time I've ever been there—in fact it's the first time I've travelled very much outside Manitoba—though the dozens of places to see and the variety of things to do would be very confusing if there wasn't someone to guide you around.

I landed at the airport outside Toronto on a Sunday night after the first plane flight I've ever made. Minutes after we reached a downtown hotel I went through what most people think is an ordeal: a press interview. The newspaper photographers took pictures and talked a lot about my visit and they were [illegible].

But that was nothing to the Monday morning episode when I met the Mayor of Toronto in his City Hall office, gave him greetings from Mayor Bullmore of Dauphin, signed the City of Toronto guest book which has hundreds of famous names in it, and the Mayor gave me an official welcome to Toronto. Mayor McCallum wasn't anything like I'd imagined. Instead of being stiff and formal he was warm and friendly. More newspaper reporters and photographers trooped in, asked a lot of questions about my trip and took more pictures.

I got to know a lot about photographers on my visit. They seemed to pop up almost everywhere I went.

I saw a fashion show at one of Toronto's big department stores, and had a complete beauty treatment and conducted shopping tour at another. I was taken to dinner dances at famous Casa Loma and toured this big castle, and at hotels where some of the "name" bands play. Cars took me all around Toronto—and I couldn't help but be impressed with the size of the city—saw the Royal Ontario Museum, the University, the provincial Parliament Buildings, and even had dinner at Toronto's newest and most ornate Chinese restaurant. One afternoon I bowled, but though I roll a fair game in leagues at home, my scores here just aren't worth recording. Maybe the hectic rush threw me off my game.

One afternoon I went to Sunnybrook Hospital, the largest and newest hospital for veterans in Canada. It is an enormous place and beautifully fitted out. Col. Hollis, who is in charge, arranged for me to go all through Sunnybrook, which is still not completed, and I talked to Albert Carriere, a Winnipeg veteran whose home is now in Brandon, who is a patient there. I also met many of the other patients and couldn't help but be impressed by their cheerfulness.

The high spot of my trip though was when I made my first radio broadcast with Claire Wallace on her program "They Tell Me." I'd never been in a radio broadcasting studio before but Miss Wallace helped me get over my nervousness about being "on the air" and Mayor Bullmore wired to tell me afterward that the program sounded very good at home. They took a photograph of me talking to the mike, too!

It was a real thrill doing so many things most people just dream about, but the biggest thrill of all was finding everyone so kind to me.

I'm going to have a lot of things to put into my scrapbook — but I don't think Toronto will mind too much if I say I'm glad to be home again. I guess it's a thrill being the centre of attraction for a while but it's still nice to get back to the people you know and the town you [illegible].

Ed. Note — We had the personal pleasure of meeting Joan who, we are proud to say, made a very fine impression on everybody she met. Claire Wallace and other radio folks say she has a good voice on the air. Dauphin, Man., should be happy that such a good representative of their locality came to the East and this 19-year-old young lady will long remember her various thrills in Toronto.

Alaska Farming Season Short, Yields High

Experimental Plots Returned Maximum Yields Of 60 Bushels Of Wheat Per Acre—Potatoes Main Crop

EDMONTON. — Any who wonder about the agricultural possibilities along the Alaska Highway will be interested in a report by Dr. Basil Benzin, the agronomist at the Alaska Experimental Station, Fairbanks.

With proper preparation of soil and use of fertilizers, the experimental plots returned maximum yields of 60 bushels of wheat, 80 of barley and 100 bushels of oats per acre, he reports. Wheat matures in 90 to 110 days and oats in 80 to 95. Average length of the growing season is 90 days.

A barley that matures under all growing season conditions seems to be the most dependable [illegible] for Alaska and may be [illegible] basic for feeding livestock, says Dr. Benzin. He said the Fairbanks station obtained and developed some early varieties of barley "which mature in Alaska in 65 to 70 days, even under unfavorable seasonable conditions."

Legumes and perennial vetch best adapted for hays in Alaska came from Siberia. The main sources of grains introduced into Alaska are eastern Siberia, Finland, Sweden and northern Canada, where climatic conditions are comparable, he said. A great contribution was made in 1944 by Henry A. Wallace, when he returned from a trip to China and Russia and brought samples of grain obtained from Yakutsk experimental station in Siberia said Dr. Benzin.

[illegible] total area of close to 600,000 square miles only a small percentage can be used for farming, generally estimated at 65,000 square miles. This means that only 11 per cent. can be developed into arable land, another six per cent. or about 35,000 square miles being suitable for grazing.

Mostly the prospective agricultural areas have not been surveyed, classified or evaluated. Most of the land suited to grain growing, essential to developing a livestock industry, lies along river valleys. Coastal regions are unsuitable.

Main staple crop in Alaska is not grain but potatoes and the cost of production about $300 an acre as from 100 to 700 lbs. of fertilizer is used. It is a hazardous crop dependent entirely on local demand. Other vegetable crops are successfully grown.

Five Children Best Lawyers For Father

NEW YORK. — A Brooklyn judge listened unmoved while defence lawyers pleaded for a suspended sentence for Richard K. Lukeman, 30.

Then the judge, Samuel Leibowitz, sentenced Lukeman to a year in prison for fraudulently collecting $17,000 in a summer-camp for children promotion. Lukeman asked to say goodbye to his children.

The five youngsters—all under eight years of age—trooped tearfully into the ante-room where their father waited. The judge watched, wiped his own eyes, then called Lukeman and the children before him.

"These five children are your best lawyers," he said. "They can do for you what oratory couldn't do."

He suspended the sentence.

RECIPES

RAISIN BREAD

- 3½ cups flour
- 4½ teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon fat
- 1⅓ cups milk
- 1 cup chopped raisins
- ½ cup sugar (or less)

Sift the dry ingredients, reserving a little flour. Add milk, egg and melted fat, beating mixture thoroughly. Sift flour over chopped raisins and stir into mixture. Place in greased bread pan and let stand for 20 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Chopped dates or figs may be substituted for raisins.

SCRAMBLED EGGS

- 6 eggs
- 6 tablespoons milk
- 3 tablespoons butter
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon salt

The general rule is to use 1 tablespoon milk and ½ tablespoon butter for each egg. Beat eggs [illegible] to mix whites [illegible] yolks, add salt, pepper and milk. Put butter into hot omelet pan. When melted, pour in the mixture. Cook slowly at a low temperature, until creamy consistency, lifting from bottom of pan with spatula, as it thickens. Do not stir, but leave in rather large masses. Serve on hot buttered toast.

Card Party Outstanding Success in New Hall

On the evening of Thursday, April 1, some 200 people spent an enjoyable evening at a bridge, whist and cribbage party sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion and held in the new Memorial hall. This party was held to raise funds to equip the kitchen of the hall and the Auxiliary wish to thank the public for their generous support and response.

Bridge winners were: Ladies, Mrs. Bill Cross; Consolation, Mrs. Lorne Puckett. Men, Dr. A. B. King; Consolation, Mr. Lorne Puckett.

Whist winners: Ladies, Mrs. Buckingham; Consolation, Mrs. Paul Ma[illegible]. Men, Mrs. Jessie Stevens (playing as a man). Consolation, Mrs. Fred Harrington (playing as a man).

Cribbage winners were: Ladies, Mr. Holte (playing as a lady); Consolation, Mrs. Harvey; Men, Mr. G. Wheeler; Consolation, Mr. G. Sear[illegible].

The door prize was won by Mr. [illegible] and the lucky chair prizes by Mrs. Kinney, Mr. Pollock and Mrs. Puckett. A fruit cake, donated by one of the members and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Geo. Cameron, was auctioned off by a Dutch auction by Mr. Donald Taylor, and realized some $11. Mr. Geo. Webb was the lucky buyer.

The ladies of the committee would like to publicly thank all who assisted in the kitchen, the members of the Legion who assisted, the Army Cadets for loaning tables and all the ladies who contributed towards the delicious lunch and success of the evening.

Mrs. H. M. Bennett of Viking is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Watt. Her son Richard graduates from the school of agriculture this week.

Miss Christie Romanco of the Bank of Commerce staff left for the coast last week where she will spend a three weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Porter have probably by this time arrived at their home at Dewberry after spending the winter in Vancouver. During their stay at the coast they enjoyed the Standard immensely. They also report trees starting to leaf and flowers in bloom in the B.C. city.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Swanson and son Dick have purchased a home in West Jasper Place, Edmonton, and plan to make their future home there. They have been at Dawson Creek, B.C. for the past few months.

Mrs. Jim Howlett and son Bob of Edmonton returned to their home there Sunday night after spending the Easter week visiting the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Linsdell.

Mrs. Rose Boake and son Roy were visitors to the former's old family home in Fort Saskatchewan, and at Edmonton for several days recently.

Mrs. R. A. McLellan who has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Parker during the latter's illness returned to her home at Nelson, Sask. on Monday morning's train.

Vimy. General Byng, Officer Commanding His Majesty's Canadian Expeditionary forces. What memories are brought to mind. Our minds travel back to the Somme of 1916 and to the end of that year when the Canadians went north and took over the line both north and south of Vimy Ridge. When we entered Villers Au Bois, and after six days rest, went up through that very long communication trench at Carency, up to Souchez, where over 75,000 French soldiers were buried in a common grave. We see the old ruined church on Lorette Spur standing up like a ghostly sentinel and we think back to that terrible winter of January, February and March of 1917, when we huddled over the braziers and when a wee drop of issue rum at "stand-to" meant so much. In fact it meant almost everything for a short while. Life offered very little hope at 4 o'clock in the morning to young fellows, less than 20 years of age, who would dare to let their thoughts go back to loved ones at home, while they themselves stood on the firing line, peering ahead and wondering what was coming. All through those long cold months, holding the line, constantly joining in raids sent out to gather information, bringing up rations, going down to baths and de-lousing at Hersin Coupigny, and seeing on every side preparations for what only God and the Red Tabs knew was coming. Then we went back to Chateau de la Hal, which we were told at one time belonged to Sara Bernhardt, and [illegible] over the Tapes. Then we knew we were for it. We well remember the first wave, the second down to the fifth and wondered which we would be on, and which we would like to be.

Was it worse to see the fellows drop and be waiting while the watch moved ever so slowly through those terrible seconds. We were over and then we ceased to think and did not think again until we were moving back, maybe carried out, and maybe some few days later when we were relieved. We knew we had won, we had taken our objective, the Germans were retiring and the Plains of Douai were ahead of us, we even saw Red Tabs right up with us, and we realized that a good job had been done but, where was Bill Green? Where did Shorty get hit? Where were those fellows? A couple of days later we again were relieved and back to the Chateau and that night we realized the price, 11,000 killed. We realized the price not in those figures, but the faces that were missing, the good fellows in their wonderful prime of youth and manhood, that were no longer with us, and we ourselves stood in silence for two minutes. We knew the price paid and we knew that it had been well planned and executed and as soldiers we paid tribute to our leaders and subsequently General Byng became Baron Byng of Vimy, Governor General of the Dominion of Canada, a wonderful soldier and a [illegible] leader.

DANCE APRIL 9, SMOKER 12th

Vimy Day was April 9th, 1917, and the Legion are holding a dance on the 9th, and on Monday April 12th a Smoker, as we know that if our comrades could ask to be remembered it would be that we who are left should get together and cast our thoughts back. "They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old, age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn, but at the going down of the sun, and in the morning, we shall remember them."

FIREMEN Enjoy Annual BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Vermilion Volunteer Fire Brigade was held Wednesday evening at George's Lower Deck with the full complement of local fire fighters present. Chief Conboy occupied the head seat while Reg Spencer did the honors as toastmaster. The viands placed before the banqueters would do honor to larger and more elaborate hostels, nothing was overlooked and quick work was made of the 30 pound turkey. "Tiny" was the last seen making a frontal attack on the giant framework. Short addresses were made by Jim Kirk who set abroad the thought that the dollar a fire was too antiquated even for a Scotchman; the fare should be in line with the increased freight rates. Ken MacDonald told of his pleasure in pumping water belonging to the C.N.R. through to the brigade but he drew the line at pumping when geysers existed in the communication lines. Gordon Park, Cpl. Steininger and Constable Clovette added their words of praise to the work of the brigade.

Councillor Urquhart, chairman of the Fire committee assured the brigade that the town council was behind it and would meet any reasonable request made to increase the efficiency of the brigade. He expects the new siren to be installed before long when there would be no further complaints that people did not hear the whistle. He was proud of the work of the brigade. Alf Pinchbeck sent shivers down the firemen's spine when he told them of the big fire at Dawson Creek where the firemen fought the blaze from 7 o'clock in the morning to late that night in 20 degrees below and then that it was 3 or 4 weeks afterwards before it was "all out". He had a good word to say of the local fire fighters and thought they were as good, if not better, than those of any town in the province.

Mayor Morrison briefly went over the history of the brigade since the big fire of 19[illegible] and mentioned the reorganization of a few years ago when Tom Conboy came in as chief as really the beginning point which has led to the efficiency and effectiveness of the work of the brigade. He felt that it was time then that either a new town hall be erected and the present fire hall extended or a new fire hall and the town offices extended. The present quarters he said were too cramped. He complimented the men on their fine spirit of comradeship and their effective team work at fires.

All the speakers had a word of praise for Chief Conboy who was the last to speak and in which he thanked all present for the assistance and cooperation they had given him. He thought the people of Vermilion and particularly the business interests were at last "fire prevention conscious".

A very successful and enjoyable affair was brought to a close with the the national anthem.

STAGETTE NOTES

Tuesday April 6th saw a social meeting of the Stagettes held with 16 members present. The gathering took the form of a very enjoyable social evening at the home of Mrs. J. R. Robson. We thank Leslie and Mrs Robson very much for their hospitality.

We were honored to have an Edmonton Stagette, Erna Hack, with us. Erna is relieving for Chris at the Bank of Commerce. Everyone hopes to see her at our next meeting too.

The tea and bazaar came in for some more discussion and the date was finally selected as June 18th.

After the business the girls gathered round the piano with Vivian and Dorothy doing the accompanying. The lunch committee served a lovely lunch with the help of Mrs. Robson and Les.

Next meeting will be strictly business. 'Bye for now.

Graduation Exercises Held At Vermilion School of Agriculture

Closing exercises at the Vermilion school of agriculture and home economics on Wednesday April 7th were well attended by parents and friends of the 57 graduates.

Guest speakers during the afternoon included Dean Sinclair, Faculty of Agriculture, University of Alberta, O. S. Longman, deputy minister of agriculture, and Mr. Jorgenson, M.L.A. [illegible] of Pembina. The afternoon's program included the presentation of 62 prizes and scholarships to the winning young men and women.

The fashion parade was held as a feature of the afternoon's program. This is an attraction whereby the young lady students exhibit dresses and suits and graduating gowns, their own handiwork of the year. The fashion parade is but one of the many features that accentuates the very desirable and worthwhile type of training received at the school of agriculture and household economics.

Afternoon activities were followed by the evening banquet, attended by the graduates, their parents or members of the family, the V.S.A. staff and a small number of guests. Principal A. M. Bentley who acted as toastmaster introduced those seated at the head table which included the members of the V.S.A. staff and wives of the married members, Dean Sinclair, O. S. Longman, Mr. Jorgenson, Mayor J. W. D. Morrison of Vermilion, Mr. Ashley H. Cooper, of the Vermilion Standard and Mrs. Cooper, and representatives of donors of scholarships.

The toast to the graduating class was proposed by Miss Margaret G. Lang, dean of women's residence and instructor in Household Administration. The reply was given by Robert Shopland of Rochester, Alberta, president of the V.S.A. Students' Union for the past year. The toast to "the school" was given by Joe Melnyk of Chipman and reply by S. G. Acheson instructor in Farm Mechanics.

Following the banquet the closing dance of the year for the students was held, and the following day found these young people, who had spent an interesting, enjoyable, enlightening and highly educational five months together, scattered to every part of north-central Alberta.

The complete list of the names of the graduates, together with the prize winners will appear in next week's Standard. The following are the scholarship winners.

PIONEER FARMER FOUND DEAD

David Bone, well known farmer who has lived north of Vermilion since 1916 was found dead by the roadside about 6 miles north-east of town last Thursday morning. Death apparently occurred late Thursday night from a heart attack. The deceased was a widower and lived alone on the Henry Armstrong farm 9 miles north of town. He is survived by two married daughters, one at Hazelton, B.C. and one at Dawson City, Yukon.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning and interment took place at the Vermilion cemetery. He was 76 years of age, and was born at Chesley, Ontario.

Mr. Bone had been visiting his brothers and returned to Vermilion Monday. He spent until Wednesday evening in town and then engaged a taxi to take him to the closest point possible to the Mike Hrebek farm where he planned to spend the night. This left him four miles to walk, and trudging through the snow apparently brought on a heart attack. He had travelled two miles to the spot where he was found the next morning at 10 o'clock by Frances McKay who was on his way to town. Marks in the snow indicated that Dave had rested at two other spots.

Provincial Officer Visits Elks Lodge

Mr. Stan Vickerman of Calgary, the president of the Provincial Elks Association, was the distinguished visitor at a special meeting of the Vermilion Elks lodge on Wednesday evening of last week. Mr. Vickerman is making an official tour of lodges in the northern half of the province in order to better acquaint himself with the work being carried on and to meet the members personally.

Addresses Board of Trade

Mr. Vickerman was a guest of the Vermilion Board of Trade at their regular noonday luncheon meeting on Wednesday, stating that he felt that it was an honor to address a body which was striving so earnestly to better the community. He went on to state too that the Vermilion Elks lodge was one of the most active in the province, and that 33⅓% of the B.P.O.E. membership in Canada was within Alberta. The Elks were today striving harder than ever to assist in bringing up and moulding the life of the youth of the Dominion in such a way to establish the intelligence of future citizens for the next generation. He closed his remarks with the thought that if all organizations and men paid more attention to the word [illegible] will to win must be backed by faith that victory is possible [illegible] "tolerance" conditions would be much more settled in the world than they are today.

The meeting was attended by [illegible] members and the distinguished visitor was introduced by Henry Powell, Exalted Ruler of the local Elks lodge. A M Watt was chairman of the [illegible].

John Leighton Reeve of Vermilion River M. D.

John Leighton councillor for Division 5, was appointed Reeve of the Vermilion River Municipal District at the first meeting of the new council held in the offices here last week. Mr Leighton was the only nominee for the office. Mr George Lawrence of Div. 7 was appointed deputy reeve for the first six months.

J. A. Currie Road Supervisor

J. A. Currie, former reeve of the municipality was engaged as Public Works supervisor with duties to commence on May 1st at an annual salary. The Supervisor is directly responsible for carrying out the policies laid down by the council governing the construction, gravelling, snow plowing of roads and maintenance of equipment.

CANADIAN LEGION NOTES

Vermilion Post 11 Canadian Legion held a regular meeting on Monday evening, President Sweatman presiding.

The president presented the resignation of Comrade Alex Kalz as 2nd vice-president owing to his leaving town. Comrade Fred Brimacombe was elected to fill the vacancy. Comrade Neil McLean was elected to the executive committee to replace Mr Brimacombe.

Delegates To Convention

Comrades S. C. Heckbert and Victor Tillett were elected to represent the Post at the convention of the Dominion Legion opening in Saskatoon on May 23rd.

Building Fund

The canvassing committee reported that $1500 had been raised in the business section of the town, also that the Vimy dance had netted $46 for the building fund.

Ask Change of Name

It was moved and passed that permission be asked to change the name of Vermilion Branch Post 11 to the "Viscount Alexander Branch".

Church Parade

Church parade was set for April 14 starting from the Memorial hall at 7 p.m. to St. Saviour's church.

Newly Formed Vermilion Film Council Holds First Meeting

WIDE AREA REPRESENTED — F WALKER, CHAIRMAN; REV. E S REIKIE SEC.-TREAS.

The first meeting of the Vermilion Film Council was held Saturday with a very good attendance and it seems evident that the new film library will have enthusiastic support in town and surrounding area.

The following organizations were represented at the meeting:

Streamstown Community — D. Neilson; Streamstown school—J. David, Paradise Valley, McLaughlin, Rivercourse sub-local A.T.A.—G. Richardson; Kitscoty Community and school—Jas. Smith, Islay school—D. Clarke; Islay Community—L. Kearns; Dewberry Community and school — M Bruce, school of agriculture — N. N. Bentley, Agric Service Board—W. A. Dixon; I.O.D.E.—Mrs. G. Mead; Ch. of England—E. H. Buckingham, Salvation Army—Adj. Stewart; United Church Rev. E. S. Reikie, Univ. of Alberta, Dept. of Extension—G. Pearson; National Film Board—R. Smith, Vermilion schools—F. H. Walker.

The Vermilion Board of Trade and the Vermilion branch of the Fish and Game league have pledged support but did not have representation present.

The following executive was elected:

Chairman—F. H. Walker
Vice-Chairman—N. N. Bentley
Sec.-Treas.—Rev. E. S. Reikie
Librarian and Information Dept. E. H. Buckingham
Projects committee—J. Smith, Kitscoty
Research—Mrs. G. Mead
Organization — To consist of full committee
Membership—R. Smith

RENTALS

It was decided to impose a rental of 25c per 400 foot reel to all member organizations with the transportation charges both ways to be deducted on rental groups outside of Vermilion. Charges to non-member groups will be 50c per 400 foot reel.

A list of films for purchase is to be sent to the executive which will then consider selections and submit recommendations to each of the member groups for approval. The $300 which has been pledged to the library will be used for this purpose.

It was also decided to buy required equipment, splicer and shipping cartons. Lists are to be prepared which will furnish all members with information describing the films available.

Mr. Pearson of the University has promised to have the department of extension loan of 10 films on a split fee basis to Vermilion by Saturday next. Some free films will also be included.

The Vermilion schools, Paradise Valley McLaughlin Rivercourse sub-local, and Islay have now received their new projectors so that a constant demand on the library's resources is expected.

Plans are being made to start training projectionists for local organizations [illegible] week and also for the forming of a screening committee.

A block of 15 films has already been donated by the National Film Board.

Any organization which would like to participate in the film council and library scheme can secure information from any member of the council.

Lady Golfers to Meet

A meeting of the Vermilion Ladies' Golf club will be held in the basement room of the fire hall on Wednesday, April 21st at 3 o'clock. All ladies interested in golf please attend.

Mannville Raises $20,000 for Gas Supply

MANNVILLE.—Further steps have been taken in Mannville's effort to obtain natural gas for local consumption. The committee of the Board of Trade recently appointed to raise money for a drilling project reported at a Friday evening meeting that $20,000 had been raised in a little more than a week's time.

The enthusiastic meeting appointed a committee to negotiate with drillers and to make necessary arrangements for the formation of a syndicate or company of shareholders. This committee consists of Mayor A. E. Williams, chairman of the committee, and Alfred Corbett, W. C. Ewing, A. Bedard and George White.

As there is a plentiful supply of gas in this area the people of Mannville are hopeful of having gas in their homes before next fall.

"GREEN ACRES"

MOISTURE CONSERVATION

Soil moisture is lost in three ways namely, plant growth, run-off and evaporation, but the greatest of these is plant growth. In this district [illegible] moisture is the limiting factor in crop yields we should do everything possible to prevent weed growth and keep the land bare at all times between crops. This means spring and fall cultivation to kill all weed growth and will result in bigger yields the next year.

DUST STORMS

One of the worst dust storms in Alberta last year occurred in the Peace River country. In Southern Alberta farmers practice surface cultivation to leave a trash cover on top, so that the soil is protected from blowing and drifting by high winds. To say "it can't happen here" is a trite saying but we ought to be doing something about it.

EDMONTON STOCK SHOW

DAHLIAS AND GLADIOLUS

Dahlias should be [illegible] for planting out at the end of May. [illegible] the [illegible] can then be done without disturbing or breaking the [illegible]. Early varieties of glads are usually planted direct in the garden as soon after May 1st as possible. Some gardeners however like to [illegible] their glads in [illegible] by May [illegible] grade of dahlias.

MALE "SEXED" CHICKS

There is money in raising chickens for sale as dressed poultry. Most hatcheries sell baby chicks as mixed and female [illegible] cockerel chicks is quite low [illegible] erally the cost is [illegible] per 100 [illegible] breeds and $1 for Leghorns [illegible]. Anyone with a brooder [illegible] can start in this business.

FEED SITUATION

On account of heavy [illegible] blocked roads in the west country hay has as yet been hauled [illegible] district. A couple of cars [illegible] from Manitoba this week [illegible] soon disposed of to [illegible] run out of stock feed. [illegible] rived on Tuesday from Peace River.

Ottawa Athletic Club Donates $25.15 to Children's Appeal

Officers of the once very active but now dormant Ottawa Athletic club decided to close out its bank account at the Commerce and in so doing donated the balance of $25.15 to the Canadian Appeal for Children. Officers of the club, inactive for many years now, were Bert Osbaldeston president and Hugh Osbaldeston, sec.-treas. Neither one has resided in the Ottawa district for some years.

Bluebirds Arrive Too Early

Two bluebirds took shelter in the woodshed at the L.R.L. Brown farm during the big snow storm of April 2nd. They were first noticed there by Harvey Brown. The birds left the next day and have not been noticed around since that time.

Bluebirds have a bad habit of arriving too early and good numbers perish due to lack of food as insects are their main diet.

BREAK IN WEATHER FORECAST

Weather has been wintry all week with sub-zero temperatures at night. The first promise of a break is this [illegible] when [illegible] of 41 is forecast. Curling and skating continue in the local rinks.

DEWBERRY

John Maltais has purchased the Milton Lee business establishment in Dewberry. He will turn it into a restaurant as soon as possible. Milton is going back to the farm at Allandale. John Maltais sold out to Stewart Wood of Dewberry.

The Dewberry school meeting will be held in the high school on April 17. Many important matters should be discussed. Bad roads are keeping large numbers of children away from school who depend on busses to get them there. We may also face a condition of overcrowding in our schools with the great number of young children in the district.

Noticed Back—Clarence Isert from Peace River and Hay Lakes where he has been driving a 'Cat', Clarence Ashley and family from Vancouver where they spent the winter; Henry Dunderfer from Jasper where he was working this winter.

The 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ketchum had the misfortune to have his arm caught in the clothes wringer recently.

For those of you who haven't had a view of the new look yet take a gander at the new creation in red by Alf Purser at Redman's garage!

Roads are being slowly opened up again after the recent blows and snows. A great many people are still advising our snow plow operators what roads to plow without authority with the result that our hospital road which was stated by the council to have priority was left until after the Dewberry, Greenlawn and Hazeldine roads were clear. People hereabouts seem to be very discontented as to the set up. Different methods of snow clearing will have to be used or else windbreaks planted along the roads. Lack of a community organization might be responsible so all kickers should get together and perhaps we can arrange a meeting with our councillor. We have had more snowplowing done in our division than in any of the others so can consider ourselves lucky in a way. Have your smelling salts ready when you see your next tax notice.

Food is running low in the district. We are beginning to think that the only way to keep cattle in this country in the winter is to cross them with the jack rabbit and porcupine. That way they can run around in the snow drift and eat bark.

SELLS RESIDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. A. Currah are without a home this week as they have sold their home to Mr. Roberts, formerly of Edmonton. Mr. Roberts is an engineer with Canadian Utilities and together with Mrs. Roberts and two children have already taken up residence in their new home. Mr. and Mrs. Currah are staying with son Darrell and family at present but have a rented house in view soon.

Clarke Wilson got a big laugh out of seeing a bunch of black cattle all gathered sedately around a big red combine last week, as if demanding to know why the said machine wasn't shooting out some grain for their dinner. The cattle in question were in very fine shape however, quite a contrast to some of the poor beasts that Clarke sees in travelling a great many miles plowing out highways. Besides plowing their stretch of the Jasper highway, the Vermilion men, Clarke Wilson and Art Coutts, shoved their way to Wainwright and from there east to the Saskatchewan border after the last big snow storm.

HORRORS! — FIRECRACKERS ARE BACK!!

Now that firecrackers appear to be back in good supply parents should caution children regarding the manner in which the fireworks are handled. Warning should be given against lighting them off practically in the faces of other children, particularly smaller kiddies who have probably never seen a firecracker. An instance of this occurred on the street only recently. Serious injury to eyes might easily result, and it is an unpleasant experience. A word from parents should correct any such re-occurrences.

WILDMERE WINKS

The April meeting of the Wildmere W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. W. T. Garnett on Thursday April 1st with 11 members present. Only Mrs. Steele was absent and she was ill in the hospital. Our president Mrs Wilson was in the chair. Roll call was answered by a spring plan. Mrs Robert Martin gave a very interesting report of the convention held in Edmonton last month. A nice lot of baby clothes, our objective for March, was handed in. Another food parcel for overseas was donated by the members, making a parcel a month so far having been sent, with an extra one sent in February. A few very amusing pieces of poetry etc. were read by different members. Johnny Jump Up was won by Mrs Weisenburger. After the meeting Mrs Garnett and helpers served a very tasty lunch. Next meeting is to be at Mrs Bathe's on May 6th when a Mother's Day program is on hand.

The Leap Year dance held at Rosewald school April 2nd was very enjoyable. Despite heavy snow-blocked roads a fair sized crowd attended. Johnny Wilson with his accordion and Albert Smith on the violin supplied the music. The boys do fine even though they have not had much practice. Johnny Bathe was M.C.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. A. Turner of Vermilion on the loss of her aged father in Edmonton a short time ago.

Sorry to hear that Mr David Rose had passed away. He was well known by a good many people. Our sympathy goes out to his children left to mourn his loss.

Long Winter Brings Memories of 1907

The present drawn out winter with its heavy snowfall and the April snowstorm of two weeks ago, brings memories of other long winters and that of 1906-07 is frequently mentioned. Just to show that the bad winter of 1907 was no myth Mrs. George Johnston has a letter written in April of that year in Manitoba at Swan Lake. On April 10th a terrific snow storm started in the morning and raged until 4 p.m. It then cleared and the Johnston family could see the express train snowbound just opposite their farm house, and a freight train also snowbound, unable to move. An engine coming from town to their aid got its back trucks off the rails rendering it useless. The storm rose again during the night and raged all April 11th so heavy that they couldn't tell where the trains were. Weather continued stormy and a snowfall was recorded even on April 30th. A nice spring day was recorded on May 3rd for the first time, and by May 12th plowing had started on the land in the afternoons as the ground was frozen in the morning — So cheer up, after all, this is only April 15th.

RIVERTON

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. 'Mac' MacLean on the birth of a daughter, and to Mr. and Mrs. J. Elliott on the birth of a son.

Christina Durain is home to stay for awhile. Wonder how long? Joan Spicer has taken her position at the Co-op in Marwayne.

Mrs. Wm. Nish and children from Meadow Lake, Sask., are spending a month's vacation at Haskell's, the former's parents.

The snow-blown roads have resulted in much alarm as far as the school children are concerned. A whole week of school has been missed now. Let's hope the weather soon breaks.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. W. Mathieson on the passing of her grandmother, Mrs. Shaver.

STAGETTE NOTES

Seventeen members attended the business session of the Stagettes on Tuesday evening and all old business was checked over.

Alice Brant was the fortunate winner of the raffle.

The Spring Frolic came up for discussion. It is planned to hold this on May 4th and we are trying to get Sandy's orchestra. Watch for further announcement in your Standard.

Don't forget about our tea and bazaar to be held June 12th in the Masonic hall.

Following the business the girls got to work on the banner adding new names and making repairs.

Next meeting is handicrafts so bring a second article for the bazaar — So long until next Tuesday.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

: LADY AT WORK :

By FAITH [illegible]

CAROLA ADAMS sat between Redman Bixby and Lanny Devers, and tried to hide her nervousness. On her left, Redman, handsome, wealthy, slated to be the next Congressman from Oaktown, watched the bidding. His huge frame overshadowed Carola's own small one, and made Lanny seem taller and thinner by comparison. Lanny was less handsome than Redman, less forward, and much less [illegible]

"How much am I bid for this, folks," the auctioneer shouted, holding up a mahogany music box. "It's the finest one I've seen in quite some time."

The box glistened in the sun, and Carola held her breath. "It's beautiful, isn't it?" she asked. Lanny, his tanned face a perfect blank, nodded.

"It's just a music box," Redman said gruffly. "Nothing to get excited about." He squeezed Carola's hand. "You wouldn't want it."

She swallowed, and said bravely, "But I would."

A sudden change came over Lanny. "I'll bid ten dollars," he said.

Redman frowned. Carola gasped. "Lanny, you mustn't. You've got to get your law library." She knew how Lanny skipped lunches and walked blocks to save money, and now she was sorry that Lanny came along, even though the three of them had gone around together since childhood. Since she had promised to marry Redman, everything seemed to be wrong.

"Fifteen," someone else said. In a matter of seconds, the bidding reached fifty dollars. Lanny sat down. "Sorry, Carola," he said. "I've only got forty dollars to my name."

Carola sighed with relief. "Oh Lanny, you shouldn't have tried. But thanks anyway." She smoothed the pink linen skirt which accented the daintiness of her figure. Redman leaned over. "Let me show you how it's done, Lanny. Struggling lawyers shouldn't go around trying to buy music boxes they can't afford." His voice was purposely loud enough for everyone to hear. Carola winced, and did not dare look at Lanny. "Sixty," Redman yelled.

People turned around to stare. They saw Redman, bull-like, dressed in the best tweeds, Carola, small and frightened, and Lanny white-faced and angry. Carola heard people whispering. "That's Redman Bixby, and the dark-haired girl next to him is his fiancee. He'll get the box, all right. Always gets what he wants."

She wanted to scream. Instead she listened to Redman bid. It was up in the hundreds. "For heaven's sakes, Redman," she said, tugging at his sleeve, "don't bid any more. The box isn't worth it."

Redman shook her off impatiently. "Shut up," he said under his breath. "Can't you see I've got to bid, to keep up appearances. Why doesn't that chump stop bidding? Three hundred and ninety-five," he called.

A hush fell over the crowd. The other bidder shook his head and then mopped his brow with a handkerchief. "Sold," the auctioneer cried. "Sold to Redman Bixby. Right here, sir," he pointed to the bookkeeper's desk.

The wind rustled the leaves slightly as Redman walked through the camp chairs to pay for the box. His face was flushed red with triumph, and a smile was half-fixed on his mouth. Carola saw with a start that Lanny had gone. Without a word to anyone, she left the auction and hurried down the mill path, hoping against hope that Lanny would be at the mill. They used to play there, when they were kids. As she rounded the bend, her heart nearly stopped when she did not see him. Then she saw that he was sitting on a big rock, his head in his hands, staring gloomily into the mill water.

"Lanny," she called. "Lanny, it's Carola."

He unfolded his length, slowly, as if he didn't believe that Carola was there. "Carola," he murmured, "why . . . did you come?"

"I came," she said earnestly, as soon as she could get her breath, "because I love you, of course."

"But . . . but, I thought . . . that is, Redman," he stammered.

"Redman, nothing." Carola said firmly, moving closer to him. "I've loved you all along, I guess, but I had to make sure. That's why I asked you to come to the auction with us. I proved that Redman didn't really love me at all. I was just another possession."

"But he got the box for you, didn't he?" Lanny asked.

"Oh, yes," Carola said, "just to show you up in front of everyone. Well, he can have it, and good luck to him."

Lanny ran his hand through his hair. "Gosh, he said, "gosh, I never thought you'd fall for me. All these years I've dreamed, but Redman had so much more to offer. I didn't say anything."

Carola smiled. "I knew you loved me, when you were willing to lose your books just to buy the box for me."

A troubled expression crept into Lanny's eyes. "That's something else again, Carola. We can't get married until I can afford the books, and from the looks of things, it's going to take me quite a while to save enough for them."

Carola took Lanny's arm and laughed softly. "That's the funny part of it, darling. We have enough now, thanks to Redman and his ego. That music box was mine, you know."

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., SEEK INCREASED EXPLORATION WORK

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. — Increased exploration work in this potentially rich Yukon area is sought by the newly-formed Board of Trade.

The board feels its aims can be realized if two major handicaps — shortness of the season and transportation difficulty — can be overcome.

It suggests the territorial government open up more roads and try to reduce transport costs, to give "[illegible] the four-month season in which exploration can be done.

SELECTED

RHUBARB PIE

1 pint rhubarb
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt

Wash rhubarb, cut into ½ inch pieces. Mix with other ingredients. Line deep pie pan with pie crust. Fill with mixture, being careful not to heap up. Measure pan before mixing ingredients, so that no more may be prepared than pan will hold. May be covered with an upper crust, or barred with narrow strips of crust, or baked in lower crust only, and meringue added. In this case, 1 or 2 beaten egg yolks are usually mixed with rhubarb.

OIL DEVELOPMENT PLANNED FOR SOURIS RIVER BASIN

MELITA, Man. — Developments indicate that the Souris River basin from Lyleton in the south-west to Hartney in the north-east is to have a thorough going over during the summer, in an effort to ascertain the extent of potential natural gas and oil resources in the district. O. S. Knisley of New Orleans, an independent oil producer who has been obtaining mineral leases over the territory extending from the western slopes of the Turtle mountains to Lyleton, was in Melita for the purpose of gathering leases on lands south and north of the river.

NIGHT SITTING

Canada's Stock Of Farm Animals Is Taking A Downward Trend

OTTAWA — Canada's stock of farm animals is following a downward path. Figures released by the Bureau of Statistics show that the numbers of cattle, sheep and horses on Canadian farms have fallen off considerably during the last year and are substantially below their wartime peaks. The report supplemented a recent survey showing a decline in hog numbers.

At Dec. 1, the bureau reported, the number of cattle was estimated at 8,943,500, down 72,000 from the corresponding date in 1946 and off nearly 2,000,000 from the wartime high of 10,750,000. Reductions occured in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Alberta and British Columbia.

Of the cattle total, 3,666,000 were milk cows, which were down 30,000 from Dec. 1, 1946. The number of sheep was estimated at 1,586,700 against 1,782,200 a year ago and a wartime peak of 3,726,000. Horses dropped to 1,979,400 from 2,243,300 the preceding year and 2,845,000 in 1943.

Experimenting In Products Made From Straw

REGINA. — Utilization of Saskatchewan-produced straw in the manufacture of wallboard building material is being investigated by the provincial Government.

Experiments, still in their early stages, are being conducted in Regina and Saskatoon to determine whether pressed straw would prove satisfactory in wallboards. (The Saskatoon experiments are being carried on in co-operation with the National Research Council's laboratory there.)

Experiments into the use of straw for fuel logs, coal tar and paper are also to be conducted at a later date. Saskatchewan produces an estimated 20 million tons of straw annually.

Agriculture Minister I. C. Nollet announces that the Government is studying results achieved in Sweden where straw is used extensively in the manufacture of wallboards. "It's possible," he said, "that similar results could be achieved here, although our straw is much drier and consequently would need more processing.

Mr. Nollet said, however, that he personally favored returning straw to the soil to strengthen its fibre. He points out also that many farmers feed oat and barley straw and use it for bedding down their animals.

BUSINESS FAILURES DOUBLED IN 1947

OTTAWA. — Nearly twice as many Canadian businesses failed in 1947 as the year before, the Bureau of Statistics reported.

Last year 548 concerns, ranging from retailers to manufacturers, went out of business. In 1946 the number was only 278. It was the third successive year, however, in which the figure rose after dropping in 1944 to the lowest level in the period covered by official reports.

The amount of liabilities defaulted in 1947 rose to $10,077,557 from $3,966,153 in 1946.

Fifteen failures occurred in the Maritime provinces, 422 in Quebec, 72 in Ontario, 12 in the prairie provinces and 24 in British Columbia.

Hello Folks!

"An important part of my diet ever since my first bottle has been Crown Brand Corn Syrup. Now, that may be all right for a little character like myself, but let me tell you, these grown-ups sure are lucky what with Mom serving them Crown Brand Corn Syrup with so many of their dishes. And she uses it in her baking, too, as a sweetener. I can hardly wait until I'm old enough to have some hot waffles or pancakes smothered with delicious Crown Brand. If it's as good as it is in my cereal—mmmmm!"
For years doctors have recommended the use of Crown Brand Corn Syrup as a satisfactory carbohydrate acting as a milk modifier for bottle fed infants.

Derwent Board of Trade Takes Action on Many Projects

The regular Board of Trade meeting of Derwent was held in the town hall March 5th with a big turnout despite the cold weather. Minutes of the last regular meeting (annual meeting) were read, discussed and adopted on motion of Jerry Strong and Alex Rudkowski.

Correspondence was read from the Eagle M.D. re contributions towards snow-plowing costs. It was felt by the meeting that the amount of $60 promised last year should be paid. In this connection it was suggested to canvass businessmen in town, also farmers, for donations to help meet this amount. The following canvassers were elected, Mike Karpchuk, Martin Twardowski and John Bykowski.

It was moved by Geo. McConnell and seconded by J. W. Melnyk that the Board of Trade books be audited. This was carried.

Moved by Dan Chrapko, seconded by John Bobey, that Geo. McConnell be appointed auditor. Cd.

Yellowhead Trans-Canada Route

A number of letters from several outside points were read re the Yellowhead route. This was discussed at length after which it was moved by Mike Karpchuk and seconded by Geo. McConnell that the Derwent Board of Trade make a contribution of $25 towards expenses in conducting the campaign for the Yellowhead road. Cd.

A letter from Dewberry was read which suggested holding a meeting in that town to send representatives to discuss and further the work of the Yellowhead Route association. It was suggested that Derwent would be more central as the meeting could be held during the day enabling all delegates to arrive by train in the morning and return in the afternoon. Those elected to represent Derwent whenever the meeting takes place were Pete Pitchka, Mike Karpchuk, Clarence Alput and Frank Podlubny. These same representatives are to attend a meeting in Myrnam to discuss ways and means of speeding the completion of the Edmonton-Two Hills-Lloydminster highway.

Support Elk Point-Vermilion Highway

A letter was read from the Chamber of Commerce at Elk Point asking for support for Vermilion-Elk Point highway and bridge across the Saskatchewan river. Moved by Mike Karpchuk and seconded by Hank Benson that the Derwent Board of Trade support the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce.

Ask Vermilion River Complete Road

The condition of our roads leading south from Derwent was discussed at considerable length and it was decided to petition the Vermilion River M.D. for completion of one mile of road from St. Andrews' church corner west and the Minburn M.D. for completion of the highway south from N. Klutz' corner also to write letters to the Vermilion Board of Trade and Vermilion hospital board asking their full and immediate support in these two worthy matters. Motion was moved by J. W. Melnyk and seconded by Frank Podlubny. Cd.

Want Bulletin Board

It was moved by Frank Podlubny and seconded by Steve Malinowski that the Derwent Board of Trade ask the Derwent Village council to erect a bulletin board at a suitable place in town. Cd.

Membership Campaign

The meeting decided to order membership cards at once. The following were nominated to act as Board of Trade membership canvassers — Hank Benson, by Jerry Strong; J. R. Swanda by J. W. Melnyk; Uncle Bill Boguski by J. R. Swanda. Moved by J. W. Melnyk that nominations cease.

Ways and Means Committee

Ways and Means committee nominated and elected as follows: J. W. Melnyk by H. Meyerman, Clarence Alput by J. W. Melnyk, Marshall Cherniawsky by Frank Podlubny and Matt Charchun, by J. W. Melnyk. Moved by J. R. Swanda that nominations cease. Cd. Meeting adjourned on a motion by Marshall Cherniawsky.

A Board of Trade meeting was held in the town hall April 2nd. Minutes were read and adopted on motion of Alput and McConnell.

The secretary, Helmer G. Meyerman reported all business and correspondence attended to as per instructions given at meeting of March 5th.

A short report was given by Pete Pitchka on the Myrnam meeting re the Two Hills highway. This report was received with satisfaction.

Secretary reported receipt of $50 from Ed and Matt Charchun, proceeds from a picture show which was kindly donated to the Board of Trade. Moved and seconded by H. Meyerman and Pete Nestor that a hearty vote of thanks be extended to the Charchun brothers for their generous offer and donation. Cd.

Secretary reported receipt of $60.25 from Martin Twardowski, the amount collected from townspeople and farmers towards meeting cost of snowplowing of which a list of those who contributed is on file with the secretary.

Moved by Geo. McConnell, seconded by Wm. Rogers that the Derwent Board of Trade pay M.D. Eagle the sum of $60 to help pay for snowplowing the roads. Cd.

Want Treasury Branch Service

A letter was read from the manager Dominion Bank Elk Point and discussed. The letter in question suggested that the businessmen as well as farmers in Derwent and surrounding district transfer their accounts to the Elk Point branch, holding out the possibility of the bank opening a branch at Derwent if the volume of business would warrant it. The suggestion did not meet with favor as it was pointed out during the discussion that followed that road conditions and railway service made it impossible to [illegible] have our banking done at Elk Point. It was moved by Pete Nestor and seconded by Geo. McConnell that the secretary write to the manager of the Treasury Branch at Vermilion asking for information as to the possibility of securing their services at Derwent. Carried.

Ask For Street Lights

Moved by Bill Kuryto and seconded by John Bykowski that the Derwent Board of Trade ask the village council to arrange for several street lights to be left on in town all night. Cd.

Moved by Matt Charchun and seconded by Jerry Strong that the Board of Trade ask the postal authorities to arrange for installation of one or two mail boxes at the railroad station. Cd.

Moved by John Bykowski seconded by Bill Kuryto that the Board of Trade order 500 membership cards. Cd.

The Perennial question of radio interference was brought up and thoroughly discussed as conditions were getting worse for reception. It was suggested that the executive of the Board interview Wm. Gryhaliuk [illegible] immediate action in putting condensers on all motors in town with a view of putting a stop to the continual noise. Failing to get his co-operation steps would be taken to secure someone else to undertake the work.

Jerry Strong, local C.P.R. agent, informed the meeting that they could obtain the services of the C.P.R. sound and silent film library at the nominal cost of paying the express on films both ways. No action was taken, but the matter was referred to the Ways and Means committee.

Motion to adjourn moved by Jerry Strong.

Ann Wins Stardom The Hard Way

Even with her many titles, when Ann joined Ice Capades, she began in the show as a member of the skating ballet.

But the skating excellence of Miss Robinson was not hidden long, because after a short time she was a featured soloist with Ice Capades. When additional talent was to be added to Ice Cycles, Ice Capades agreed to lend Ann for one season of 1947-48.

The delightful Miss Robinson will be seen in Edmonton when the all-new edition of "Ice Cycles of 1948" opens a limited engagement at the arena, starting Thursday, April 22nd.

The producers of the famed Ice Follies and Ice Capades have spared nothing to make the all-new edition of Ice Cycles bigger and better than ever. Cascades of color are seen in the lavish Hollywood - created costumes, scenic effects and settings. There are breath-taking thrills and comedy that will captivate the entire family.

And, of course, Ice Cycles again features the lovely Ice Cyclettes, hailed by critics and fans as "the most beautiful girls on ice."

"There are 100,000 farms in Western Canada with no shelter belts around their homes. These farms are thus deprived of shelter, health and continuity of farm program."—Dr. E.S. Archibald, director of Dominion Experimental Farms.

First Atomic Hen Lays First Atomic Egg

Professor J. B. O'Neill, of the poultry department, University of Saskatchewan, demonstrates the Geiger counter, which measures the amount of radio-active phosphorus in eggs laid by "the "atomic hens". Hens like these at right receive radio-active phosphorus in their mash. Laboratory workers are able to trace the movement of phosphorus in the body by means of the Geiger counter, and exact phosphorus requirements of the individual bird may be determined.

By T. R. MELVILLE-NESS
Central Press Canadian

REGINA, Sask. — Dr James S. Thomson, president of the University of Saskatchewan, wasn't fooling when he recently told a large audience in Saskatchewan that the first atomic egg had been laid by the first atomic hen. It happened at the University of Saskatchewan where there is an experiment under way now at the University, in which laying hens are being given radio-active phosphorus in their feed. Scientists are cautious people, but even they admit that this use of radio-active tracers in feeding tests may prove to be one of the most important developments of the century in agricultural science.

Already Dr. J. W. T. Spinks has become internationally famous as the man who pioneered the initial experiments using radio-active tracers in wheat plants at Saskatchewan. There has been a great deal of talk about experiment among soils and plants experts, for it is believed to be the first application of atomic energy to the study of plant nutrition. But now Dr. Spinks and Professor J. B. O'Neill of the poultry department are conducting an even more interesting experiment in the use of atomic energy in poultry-research.

This is how the experiment is being conducted. Radio-active phosphorus is fed to hens in their laying mash. Then the hen and the egg is investigated by using an instrument called the Geiger counter. This Geiger counter is the mysterious contraption developed by atomic scientists to discover and measure amounts of radio-active substances near it. If the egg is up for examination it is placed on a small tray within range of a coil. If the hen that laid the egg has eaten a ration of atomic mash the day before a series of lights begin to blink rapidly on the panel of the machine. The lights convey a message to the experienced operator, as does a ticker arrangement which is quite audible several feet away from the machine. To an audience of laymen who saw a demonstration in Saskatoon recently, the lights and the ticker indicated only that there was radio-activity within the egg. But Professor O'Neill and Dr Spinks who staged the demonstration were able to read the message of the lights and the ticker, and tell how much phosphorus was in the egg.

Initial Stage

The key to explaining this experiment is the fact that phosphorus made radio-active by atomic energy, will accompany ordinary phosphorus through all its functions, whether in a wheat plant or in the body of a chicken.

Included in the knowledge gained by experts was the fact that phosphorus in the hen's feed shows up in the shell of the egg in 24 hours, but not in the white and yolk for a period of several days, six days in the case of the yolk. In the chicken itself phosphorus appeared in the leg bones 42 hours after feeding.

This is the first time in the history of dietetics that experts have been able to measure accurately the amount of phosphorus used by a chicken in its various body functions. By projecting the experiment a little further, they will discover whether or not the need for phosphorus varies from bird to bird, from breed to breed, or possibly from season to season. But the important thing to consider in this experiment, is that this line of research definitely will not stop at phosphorus. Dr. Spinks says that practically all the elements in livestock feed rations can be made radio-active, and the same research can be applied to all of them.

The poultry experiments now being conducted are still in their initial stage, and it will be a long time before scientists can issue definite feeding instructions. But when experiments have progressed to that stage, feeding recommendations can be based on absolute accuracy, rather than the results of trial and error tests. This is a way in which deficiencies in diet can be avoided as never before.

In time too, all kinds of livestock will probably be experimented with, and the same sort of results obtained. Which all adds up to the fact that atomic energy can be of tremendous help to agricultural science and may prove to be the most important development of the century in its application.

KILLED ON TRACKS — Raymond Garrity, 22, whose home is in St. Catharines, was killed when struck by a train as he was walking to work in Hamilton, Ont. Sectionmen shouted at him as he was walking along the track, but he apparently did not hear their warning as the C.N.R. passenger train approached.

High Costs Of Feed Cut Poultry Flocks In U.S.

VANCOUVER — Poultry producers across the United States are reducing their flocks by approximately 20 per cent., and major reason is the high cost of feed, according to a survey made by the agricultural department in Washington.

With feed well over $100 per ton the average producer is thinking and acting in terms of reduction. Experts forecast higher prices for eggs and poultry in 1949.

The big ranches are trying to offset the high cost of feed by improvements in farm operations, and some farmers are actually thinking of increasing production.

This is true of the Washington Co-operative Chick Association with 5,000 members. They have three farms operating under a "master farming" plan, and they told a group of Canadian visitors that they meant to expand as rapidly as possible.

Valuable minerals are taken from the Dead Sea.

GARDEN NOTES

Double Harvests

Where one aims at getting two crops of vegetables from the same ground, usually a combination is selected of something early and late such as radish, lettuce, spinach and peas, followed by late beets, beans and carrots. Just as soon as the soil is fit to work one can put in the first three mentioned. By the time these are ready for the table there will still usually be time to make the last sowings of beans, beets, carrots, corn, etc.

Another method of double cropping is to have alternate rows of quick-maturing things with slower but larger growers. Thus in between the rows of potatoes, beets, beans, corn, etc., we will plant lettuce, spinach and radish. The last will be used up and out of the way before the first named require full space.

Suits All Tastes

One of the satisfying things about gardening is that one can spend as little energy or money as one wishes. There is scope for the most elaborate planning and designs, for an immense amount of exercise if one feels that way. On the other hand if time or health are limited or if one feels like loafing, then one can have a garden to suit that mood, too. One cannot say that a small flower garden is less beautiful than a large one, but there is a difference in the amount of work involved.

It is really amazing the results in satisfaction and beauty one can get from a tiny plot of flowers. And they will not take much work either. A little digging and a few packets of seeds or boxes of started plants are all that are needed. If one has more time it can be enlarged and as ones interest grows more frills can be added.

Some enthusiasts, for example plan all blue or all yellow flower gardens, some prefer sharply contrasting borders. The beginner and many others however are advised to stick to fairly simple designs, with irregular clump plantings rather than straight rows. And also instead of solid sheets of one color, a continuous display of bloom will usually give more satisfactory results.

DOCTOR WARNS AGAINST INDISCRIMINATE USE OF VITAMIN PILLS

No one should attempt to diagnose and treat his own troubles by taking vitamin pills — such pills should be used only when prescribed by a doctor. Such is the advice given by Dr. E. H. Bensley in an article—"The Truth About Vitamin Pills"—in the current January-February issue of Health, official magazine of the Health League of Canada. Dr. Bensley is Director of the Department of Metabolism and Toxicology at the Montreal General Hospital.

"In view of the widespread indiscriminate use of vitamin pills, it is fortunate that there has been no evidence to date that harmful effects are produced by vitamins in the doses ordinarily taken," Dr Bensley writes. "It is true that vitamins can act as poisons if they are taken in amounts far in excess of those recommended for either the prevention or correction of deficiency diseases." He says this has occurred sufficiently often in the case of one vitamin (D) "to be worthy of note."

He adds that although harm may not be caused directly by the indiscriminate use of vitamin pills, this practice, like all forms of self medication, may be indirectly harmful in that it gives the individual a false sense of security and leads to delay in seeking medical advice.

Dr. Bensley says that there is no evidence that health is improved by giving extra vitamins to a person who is not suffering from a specific vitamin deficiency disease. Vitamin pills alone cannot correct dietary deficiencies. Pills may help but chief reliance must be placed on a balanced diet.

He adds, however, that condemnation of vitamin pills as being of little or no value would be absurd. Vitamin pills or similar forms of concentrated preparations of vitamins, he states, are of value under two sets of circumstances. They may be used—but only when prescribed by a physician — first to prevent the development of diseases due to deficiency of vitamins in the diet, and second, to treat diseases due to vitamin deficiencies.

Ethelwyn News

Hats off to the few brave folks who went to the party at Mrs. Podhunack's. The blizzard proved too much for many of us. However there were enough for three tables of whist. The storm raging outside did not spoil the fun and everyone present enjoyed a pleasant evening. Prizes were won by the following: ladies, Mike Shrenkowich (playing as a lady), Annie Shrenkowich, Mrs. MacGillivray; gents Ernie Attfield, John MacGillivray and John Podhunack. As all the gents prizes were raisins I think we should finish up the winter with a pie making contest, all entries to be submitted by the men. $3.25 was realized for the Red Cross.

Talking about the winter, this is for the benefit of all who have left the district and now have gardens planted. At time of writing this bulletin, April 9th, believe it or not, the snow is 4 feet deep on the level and piled up along the edges of highway some 20 feet in height. There is no sign of a thaw yet. This delayed break up is proving very hard due to shortage of feed.

The writer noticed in the Dewberry news that banning of loaded trucks from the main streets is being considered there. Just how this will work out is doubtful but it will be beneficial for the clerks who spend so much time indoors, they will have lots of chance to get out in the fresh air while carrying purchases out to the trucks parked on the edges of the village. Some things such as a truck load of lumber will be a bit awkward. Wonder if the streets of Heinsburg, Marwayne or Clandonald will carry the farmers' traffic?

Mrs. Taylor is the first to get hatchery chicks in this district. The chicks are now three weeks old and doing fine in a home-made brooder, which was cheap [illegible] to build.

Everyone [illegible] busy housecleaning, sewing, [illegible] grain and getting the machinery [illegible]. The farmer [illegible] the great outdoors [illegible] his implements get under [illegible] this snow.

Congratulations [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] on their [illegible].

The writer received a [illegible] from Mrs. [illegible] Meadows [illegible]. Joan says that her mother and [illegible] her home [illegible] and would [illegible] of them at [illegible]. Mr. M— had the garden all ready for planting and Mrs. Morrison [illegible] chicks [illegible]. Mr. M. bought a [illegible] month.)

TENDERS FOR SCHOOL HOUSE

VERMILION SCHOOL DIVISION No. 25

Sealed Tenders will be received by the Board of Trustees of the above school Division at the office of the Secretary-Treasurer up to noon, May 5th for the erection of a one-room Frame and stucco school building, on the Wildwood S.D. No. 2922, all Plan No. BE 1013. Plans and specifications may be obtained from Secretary-Treasurer on payment of a deposit of $5.00. Plans must be returned within 24 hours, and deposit will then be refunded. A marked cheque for five per cent of the amount of tender must be enclosed with each tender as a guarantee that same is bona fide. No tender will be considered without this cheque attached. The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

STEPPING OUT IN SPRING FINERY—Braving the cool weather during the Easter week these lassies stepped out in spring finery and wore beautiful corsages for the occasion.

FOUND DEAD—Geraldine Revill, four, of Cornwall, Ont., was found dead with her head caught in the partly-opened window of her father's automobile, her body hanging on the outside. It is believed she climbed to the running board, put her head in the window, lost her balance, and strangled when unable to free herself.

PRINCESS MARGARET ROSE ACQUIRES "NEW" LOOK — Princess Margaret Rose, gradually assuming her share of responsibilities, is seen inspecting an honor guard of the Highland Light Infantry during Glasgow ceremonies. Note the "new" look on Princess Margaret Rose which she achieved by getting hemline taken down.

EYES PEPPERED — Blinded by pepper thrown in his eyes by two men who offered to sell him a car for $2,000, Charles Kamschanke, Toronto, was robbed of $1,100 and thrown from the car according to police. He had drawn the money from the bank before going for a trial spin, he said, dividing the money between his pockets. The thieves emptied [illegible].

SAVED PENNIES TO COME TO CANADA—An important immigrant is John O'Connor, 11, seen with his mother during a Toronto reunion. John's dad came over from Birmingham, England, last August, and his mother followed six months ago. But John couldn't wait until they got settled. He saved his pennies, bought his own ticket and flew over. He ran messages and did odd jobs to get the price of the ticket.

WILL RECALL MEMORIES—Many a Canadian airman will recall this scene with nostalgia. It is the beach at Bournemouth, England, but now it is packed with holiday crowds over the mild spring season.

"TINIEST MAN" REACHES NEW YORK—The tiniest man in the world, Francesco Rizzi, who is just a shade over three feet tall, and who weighs not more than an oversized kewpie doll, arrived aboard the Polish liner Sobieski at New York recently. Francesco, whose nickname is "Cucilo", was discovered hiding behind a crate case on a Hudson river pier. Wearing a doll size fedora, a tiny topcoat and a [illegible] business suit, Francesco appeared ready to answer any questions although he could speak nothing but his native Italian. Asked whom he wanted most to see during his stay in the U.S., Francesco answered without hesitation, "Lana Turner". He added he had seen Miss Turner in [illegible]. He is pictured above being held aloft by his manager.

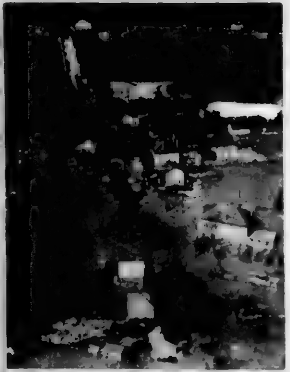
YOUNG TRAVELLER—[illegible] old Eluned Jones with her doll was among the passengers aboard the Queen Mary when the ship docked in New York recently. The little miss was on her way to Calgary, Alta., after a visit to relatives in Wales.

NOT FOR BAD WEATHER—The weatherman really put a damper on fashion parades in a lot of Canadian towns and cities. Here's Dorothy Abram, who, like many another gal feels lucky to have violets for her hat at this early date.

[illegible] OWNERS OUR [illegible] FIRE—A [illegible] discovered [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonald of [illegible], Ont., were awakened by the barking of their five-year-old watch dog Rover. It was fortunate that they awakened when they did for the top part of their 116-year-old home had burned completely away. Rover is shown here with Mrs. MacDonald. 2772

LEVEL CROSSING TRAGEDY—A level-crossing accident at Weston, Ont., which brought instant death to Kenneth Fairbairn, smashed the milk wagon to splinters. Two boys look at the flattened milk cans after the tragedy. The horse which drew the milk wagon into the path of a C.P.R. flyer at the railway crossing was also instantly killed. The milk driver was thrown 200 feet by the impact.

BEST OF BREED—This Yorkshire terrier, held by Joan Bedford of Union, N.J., weighs only three pounds, but Joan's mother, Mrs. R. A. Bedford, wouldn't sell him for $5,000. He was judged best of breed in a show at Toronto.



RAMPAGING GRAND RIVER CAUSES DAMAGE—The Grand Valley centre of Bridgeport, Ont., was hit hard by the rampaging Grand river. Houses which were marooned by the rising water are shown. Raging waters swept huge ice cakes far from the river and in some places blocked the highways. Damage estimated at $1,000,000 was done at Wingham, Ont., where the Maitland river wrecked a railway bridge and a grist mill.

Here's something too good to miss

COMBINATION OFFER
AT A SPECIAL
LOW PRICE

THIS

25 LBS. MARVELUBE No. 11 GREASE WITH ALEMITE HAND LEVER GUN

For its price, this little hand lever gun is a honey. It was developed during the war for greasing military vehicles in mobile warfare. Light to carry, yet it exerts enough pressure to force the grease through to all moving parts. Can be used for all types of light-bodied, heavy-bodied or fibrous greases.

OR THIS

25 LBS. MARVELUBE No. 11 GREASE WITH ALEMITE PRESSURE GUN

This pressure gun with flexible hose, which attaches to the top of the pail, is the ideal outfit for those who operate a lot of equipment. It is strongly constructed, yet is light enough to be carried anywhere. Saves time and keeps grease clean. Costs more than the hand-lever gun (above) but gives you high value for the money.

GREASE CUTS COST

It's an old but very true saying that "so long as grease is working, you can't wear out a bearing, dust can't work in." Good lubricant of the proper grade, applied regularly, keeps machines operating longer and at the same time reduce draft. Both of which help to cut costs. With either of the above outfits, you can keep all implements well lubricated, whether indoors or out in the fields.

Marvelube No. 11
IS THE IDEAL FARM LUBRICANT

Marvelube No. 11 is bright, clear, water resistant, soft enough to be forced through fine channels, yet has enough body for full protection. It's the ideal grease for farm machines.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

April 12, 1916

Dr. C. Howson of Islay has joined the active service and leaves shortly for the front.

Farmers are on the land which is reported to be in great shape. Large areas will be seeded by the end of the week.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

April 14th, 1932

The river flats below the town resemble a large lake with only an odd island showing up in it. It has been several years since the valley contained the quantity of water visible this spring.

The town band was giving weekly band concerts in the park on Saturday evenings.

The A. Y. P. A. presented the 3 act comedy "She Stoops to Conquer" at the theatre. The cast was comprised of Audrey Aalborg, Hazel Reid, Harold Webber, Hazel Penton, Eleanor Welsh, Fred Bramecombe, Arthur Elliott, Carman Long, Ken Welsh, Eric Blake, Roman Fillipowicz, Alex Smith and Jenny Law.

ISLAY

(This bulletin was intended for last week's Standard.)

We are nearly submerged in snow! But we think spring may come as we have heard crows cawing the last two days.

Mrs. Billie Falls has arrived back from Saskatoon where she spent the winter, and a good lot of it in hospital having an eye operation. Mrs. Falls is to go into Edmonton for further eye treatment. We wish her the very best on this trip.

Mr. Robert Martin is still in the Royal Alex hospital. He will be glad to have some visitors, even a few lines on paper will be welcome.

We heard on the radio Monday that a number of Canadians who had visited the Old Lands, had arrived back in Edmonton and among them were Mr. and Mrs. Jim McClelland.

Some rural schools are remaining closed for a few days, quite impossible to get to them. Mary Barnett is at home still, also Miss Evans of Bridview returned to her home at Washatenaw. Some of the high school students didn't get back to Kitscoty until Tuesday, among them Dorothy McNeely and Barbara Barnett.

The W. A. monthly meeting last Thursday was held at the home of Mrs. D. Clarke. An Easter program was given during devotional period. It was to have been led by Mrs. Bothwell but the "fash[illegible]" that visited so many [illegible] to the Bothwell farm so Bessie Anderson took Mrs. Bothwell's part. One item was Easter Thoughts, and one was about Jack Miner the man who loved birds and banded them with scripture verse which did wide missionary work. We had a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon. We decided to put the Missionary Basket in circulation again this year.

Haven't seen or heard of Albert Beck since election day—wonder if the pills he took home sent him silent, eh, Albert?

Hon. W. A. and Mrs. Fallow Return to Edmonton

Back from a seven weeks' visit to Phoenix, Arizona, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, was at his office for a short time Tuesday.

The minister and Mrs. Fallow returned to their Edmonton home Monday night of last week.

Mr. Fallow said Tuesday that he felt greatly improved in health, though he had lost 20 pounds in weight.

"How were the roads?" he was asked.

"Terrible until I got to Alberta," he replied. —Edmonton Journal

Town of Vermilion

PUBLIC NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that there has been introduced to the Council of the Town of Vermilion a By-law of which the following is a short synopsis:—

"BY-LAW 248 PASTEURIZATION BY-LAW"

1. "Pasteurization" and "pasteurized" shall have the meaning given to these words in Section 7 (a) of The Public Health Act.
2. No person shall sell, offer for sale or deliver within the limits of the Town of Vermilion milk which has not been pasteurized in a pasteurization plant approved by the Provincial Board of Health.
3. Section 2 above shall not apply to milk brought into the Town by the producer and sold by wholesale to a distributor's milk processing plant, a creamery or cheese factory nor to milk products prepared in a plant and by methods approved by the Provincial Board of Health.
4. The proposed By-law shall take effect on the date of the final passing thereof.
5. Penalties for contravention of the By-law provide, on summary conviction, for a fine not exceeding $100.00 exclusive of costs or [illegible] imprisonment for a term not exceeding 60 days with or without hard labour.

And that a copy of the same may be seen at the office of the Secretary-Treasurer, and further that the said By-law will be submitted to the vote of the electors of the Town of Vermilion to be held in the Masonic hall on Monday the 26th day of April 1948, from 10 o'clock in the forenoon until 7 o'clock in the afternoon, and that I shall attend at the place above said for the purpose of summing up the votes for and against the said By-law at the hour of 8 o'clock in the afternoon of the said 26th day of April, 1948 and declare the result thereof.

And further take notice that Sixty-five Per Cent (65%) of those voting on the plebiscite vote in favor of the By-law it will be finally passed by the Council of the Town of Vermilion.

Handling money costs money

It costs you more to live these days. And it costs your bank more to provide efficient banking service.

Bank staffs are more than half as large again as before the war; payrolls have nearly doubled. Taxes are up. So is the cost of everything banks buy.

Yet you pay no more for banking service than you did ten years ago. Today 7,000,000 Canadians are bank customers—striking evidence of the ever-widening usefulness of competitive banking in our national life.

Exchange Of Ideas

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE INTERCHANGE of ideas between countries has long been recognized as one means of breaking down racial and religious prejudices, and laying a foundation for enduring peace. Within the British Empire there has, in the past, been considerable encouragement given to the exchange of teachers between schools in different parts of the Empire and also to the exchange of pupils, that they might learn at first hand the problems of countries other than their own. During the war, schemes of this kind were of necessity curtailed, but interest has again been shown, and there has already been a revival of former practices in this branch of education. In Britain plans are at present under way to establish as soon as possible, a body officially designated to concern itself with educational visits and exchanges.

• • • • •

Will Arrange For Exchanges

The proposed body will be called the Central Bureau for Educational Visits and Exchanges and its chief function will be to keep in touch with the activities of the many agencies in Britain and other countries concerned with these matters and to assist them in any way possible to make necessary arrangements for schemes connected with such exchanges. In the past many organizations have been dealing with educational visits, including individual schools and colleges, the Ministry of Education and other educational bodies, but there has been no central organization for this work. The new bureau will arrange for exchanges not only within the Empire, but with any interested countries. At present, restrictions on the taking of British currency out of the country will somewhat curtail activities in regard to educational exchanges, but there is still much that can be accomplished by such a body, now and in the future.

• • • • •

Bring Fresh Points Of View

The practice of Canadian teachers exchanging with teachers from various parts of the United Kingdom has long been familiar in our schools, and it has been, without doubt, most successful. Such teachers bring to their classrooms fresh viewpoints, and at the same time gain from the experience of travel and of teaching for a year under an educational system other than that to which they are accustomed. Students benefit similarly when they are privileged to visit other schools on exchange. It is to be hoped that, with the leadership and advice of the newly formed organization exchange schemes in educational work will progress and that Canada will be among the countries to benefit from this work. In dealing with the complex problems of our times, tolerance and an understanding of ways of life other than our own are of the greatest importance.

Australia Forbids Jap War Brides

CANBERRA, Australia.—No Australian, whether soldier or civilian, who marries a Japanese woman will be allowed to bring her to Australia, the government has ruled.

The federal minister for immigration, A. A. Calwell, said if an Australian soldier wants to live with the Japanese wife, he could do so in Japan.

He said no obstacles will be placed in his way of getting passport facilities to leave Australia.

No Australian woman whose son or husband is buried in New Guinea or some other Pacific battlefield will have her feelings outraged by any Australian who would flaunt a Japanese woman before her eyes, Calwell said.

Plan To Spend Huge Sum On Breeding Land

Prairie Provinces To Benefit In Improvement Scheme Conducted By Ducks Unlimited

WASHINGTON.—Trustees of Ducks Unlimited, Inc., has appropriated $225,000 for improvement of wild duck breeding grounds in Western Canada this summer.

Morton W. Smith, president of the sportsmen's organization, said it was the largest such appropriation in the club's 11-year history. The appropriation for field work last year was $300,000.

Smith, a Minneapolis grain broker, said Ducks Unlimited complements in Canada the wild-life management and conservation efforts in the United States of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

The organization has completed about a third of its long-range program to improve 3,000,000 acres of Canadian nesting grounds, he said.

At an annual trustees dinner interior secretary Julius Krug told the sportsmen a mid-winter survey shows that the decline of recent years in waterfowl population has been halted.

"We are doing everything in our power to improve the annual inventories of waterfowl population of the wintering grounds, as well as the conditions of the summer breeding grounds," Krug said.

"Our technique is not perfect, but I think it is fair to say that we have more accurate information on which to base regulations today than we have ever had before.

"We had the information made available by Canada's own experts and those of Ducks Unlimited and other private organizations."

BIRTLE, MAN., FAT STOCK SHOW REALIZES $16,100

BIRTLE, Man.—Birtle's 20th annual fat stock show and sale, had an entry of 120 head. Judging was done by Gordon Killoh, of Hamiota.

The grand champion was owned by Widdicombe Bros., of Forwarren, Man., and the reserve champion by Wilf. Hacking, of Solsgirth, Man. These two animals were sold for 28 cents and 25 cents respectively, the T. Eaton Company being the buyers in both cases. The sale price averaged 17 cents per pound, and the total amount of the sale was $16,100.

Canada Enjoys Record Boom, Says Abbott

Gross National Production Increased From 11 Billion In 1945 To Over 13 Billion Last Year

NEW YORK.—Canada is enjoying a boom of unprecedented proportions even if the people do not seem to be aware of it, Finance Minister Abbott said here.

Public unawareness of the boom was due largely to "the abnormal way in which the usual barometer, the stock market, has been acting."

"Our gross national production has increased from $11,800,000,000 in 1945 to over $13,000,000,000 last year," he said in describing the proportions of the boom. "In 1938 it was $5,100,000,000."

"Activity of this degree of intensity naturally exerts a severe strain on our economy and on our cost and price structure," he continued in an address prepared for delivery to the Academy of Political Science.

Discussing taxation and inflation, Mr. Abbott said that "I shall be reporting to Parliament in a budget speech a few weeks hence another surplus of such a magnitude as to bring a glow to the heart of any Canadian minister of finance." He gave no hint whether he would seek a similar surplus through this year's budget.

He questioned whether higher interest rates would lead to a less inflationary situation.

Farmers' Income In 1947 Reached A Record High

OTTAWA.—During 1947 Canadian farmers' cash income reached a record high of $1,991,000,000. This is about 14 per cent. higher than in 1946, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported.

Prices for things the farmer has to buy, however, were also rising. The price index of commodities and services used by farmers (including farm living costs) advanced almost 19 per cent. during 1947. On January 1, 1948, the index was 168.5 on a basis of 1935-39 equals 100.

Farmers in Alberta received the sharpest increase—over 20 per cent.—but they were closely followed by farmers in Quebec and Ontario with increases of 17 and 16 per cent. respectively.

All other provinces showed gains ranging from about seven to ten per cent., except for Nova Scotia where farm income was slightly lower than in 1946.

Cash income from the sale of farm products in the western provinces were as follows: Alberta, $285,000,000 in 1946 as against $34[illegible],000,000 in 1947. Manitoba, $171,000,000 in 1946 as compared with $186,000,000 in 1947. Saskatchewan, $390,000,000 in 1946 as compared with $434,000,000 in 1947.

In British Columbia farm income jumped from $86,000,000 in 1946 to $93,000,000 in 1947.

In Ontario cash income from sale of farm products jumped from $473,000,000 in 1946 to $516,000,000 in 1947.

"Although the output of some farm products in 1947 was higher, production as a whole was below that of 1946," reports the bureau. "The gain in cash farm income can be attributed to higher prices, an increase in payment on wheat participation certificates and a small reduction in [illegible]."

Only 4,211 women worked in Nebraska industrial plants in the 1946-47 fiscal year compared with the record of 20,751 in 1943-44.

TITLES FOR HER—Teamed again with Wallace Distelmeyer, with whom she finished third in the pairs event at the Olympics, pretty Suzanne Morrow figured in two championships at the Canadian tournament in Calgary, the senior pairs and the dancing. Miss Morrow was fifth behind Barbara Ann Scott in the senior ladies' singles.

DO NOT FAVOR DUCK HUNTING BY FLYWAYS

WASHINGTON.—Duck hunters received notice that the United States Government will move slowly on any proposal to regulate shooting by flyways rather than by zones.

Fall hunting seasons now are established according to well-defined zones throughout the United States. Many sportsmen contend that uniform regulations along flyways—the regular south-bound migratory routes—would be more fair.

But Interior Secretary Krug told Ducks Unlimited, famous sportsmen's organization, that the flyway plan is "such a new concept we must go a little slow in applying it."

ABOLISH OLD LAWS

CLINTON, Mass.—No more tickets for illegal parking your horse in Clinton. The board of selectmen voted to abolish by-laws which authorized fines and other penalties for failure to maintain horse stalls adequately and for violating hitching post regulations in the town.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOSEPH STEWART

There died at the family home in the Claysmore district on Wednesday April 7th, Mrs. Joseph Stewart at the age of 74 years, thus terminating the long and well-lived earthly life of an esteemed resident of that community, one who had lived in the district since 191[illegible].

Mrs. Stewart was born at Douglas, Ayrshire Scotland, in 1874. She came to Canada with her family in 1896, settling in Ontario. On May 20th, 1896 she was married to Joseph Stewart and this well known couple would have celebrated 52 years of married life this year.

In 1906 they moved to Alberta and in 1918 they settled on the present home farm in the Claysmore district.

The funeral services were held at the First United church, Vermilion, on Monday afternoon April 12th, being conducted by W. D. Fullerton, E. Kelso, Lillie Hetherington, Ruth Lindham and Tom Stilfox. Interment was at the Vermilion cemetery.

The pall bearers were six nephews of the deceased, Hugh and Charles Stewart, Hugh and Charles Pearman, John and Jonathon McLeod.

Surviving members of the family are her sorrowing husband, two daughters Mrs. Wm. Moore and Mrs. Robert Rouse, both of Vermilion, and five sons, Hugh, William, George, Joseph and David, all of the Claysmore district.

Husband and family; Mr. and Mrs. John McLeod and family, Mannville; Jack Stewart, Peterborough, Ont.; R.G. Beckinson and W. Nixon and families, Edmonton; Mrs. Dave McFadden and Mrs. Joe Nafzinger and families, Mannville; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Red Cross Blood Clinic Here Tuesday Next, April 27th

AT ELKS HALL — 200 BLOOD DONORS NEEDED

Next week, Tuesday, April 27th, the Vermilion branch of the Canadian Red Cross will hold a blood donor clinic in the Elks hall. The clinic will be in session from 4 to 9:30 p.m. and citizens of Vermilion and district are urged to attend.

All blood collected by the Red Cross is distributed to hospital patients in Alberta, irregardless of their ability to pay, entirely free of charge. The importance of this new Red Cross service may be learned from the fact that 800 voluntary blood donors are needed each week to supply the sick and injured with life saving blood and plasma for transfusions.

The Canadian Red Cross free Blood Transfusion Service was organized in Alberta in July, 1947. Many citizens in this district have benefited directly from this service.

One hundred and ten Alberta hospitals, including the Vermilion Municipal hospital, now depend on the Red Cross as their sole source of supply for whole blood and plasma. In co-operation with the Canadian Red Cross these hospitals administer transfusions to their patients without cost.

British Columbia is the only other province in Canada to have this service.

To avoid congestion at the clinic, appointment cards are now being sent out to those already registered as voluntary donors. However, time has been allowed in the schedule for any one wishing to attend the clinic to do so without first obtaining an appointment.

Eleven members of the Blood Transfusion Service mobile clinic from Edmonton will be assisted at the clinic by members of the local branch who will serve refreshments and attend the rest beds and registration.

Anyone between the ages of 18 to 65 may be a donor. Prior to giving blood each donor is tested to determine they are physically fit to donate. There is no pain or discomfort in giving a donation, and it only takes a few minutes of the donor's time. Dieting before giving blood is no longer necessary.

A similar clinic was held in Vermilion in August last year, at which time 155 persons donated their blood. Due to the increased number of hospitals now dependent upon this service a greater number of donators are constantly needed. Red Cross members are appealing to the local organizations and to every individual to come forward and support the blood donor clinic in a practical demonstration by donating their blood to help meet the required quota of 800 donors each week to supply blood banks. The Vermilion Red Cross are looking for a minimum attendance of 200 at the clinic next Tuesday.

The travelling team will stay in Vermilion overnight and proceed to Mannville Wednesday morning, where a clinic will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., and then on to Vegreville.

Anyone wishing further particulars concerning the Vermilion clinic are asked to contact Mrs. E. C. Miller or any member of the local Red Cross.

Stockmen Feted by Board of Trade

Farmers of the Vermilion district who brought fame and publicity to their home town by winning a goodly share of the prizes at the Edmonton Livestock show and sale two weeks ago, were guests at the Vermilion Board of Trade at the noonday luncheon Wednesday of last week.

In paying tribute to the achievements of the stockmen, Melvin Hill, president of the Board stated that no other rural district was so well represented at the Edmonton show as Vermilion, no other district so many or such a variety of entries, nor did any other district capture so many of the prize awards.

Lyle Robinson, president of the Provincial Shorthorn Breeders' Association gave a short address, stating that average class of stock shown was much better than ever before, the competition was therefore that much keener and honors won were really merited. He reviewed the long list of prizes won by the Vermilion district exhibitors.

The chairman, Mr. Hill, then introduced the prize winners present. These included W. L. Robinson, Mrs. Wm. Crow and daughter Patsy, W. D. Williams, Ralph Wilson, George Burton, a junior exhibitor and son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burton, Clarence Barr, Manson Barr and son Bob. Among those unable to attend were Ray Williams, Jack and Bill Crow, George and Arthur Hughes.

There were 46 in attendance at the meeting and George served a very delicious and satisfying meal.

E. Carl Heckbert, provincial command president of the Canadian Legion, headed a group of Legion officials who visited Wetaskiwin last Friday evening for a Legion zone rally. They then went on to Calgary for a meeting of the provincial command executive to arrange pre-convention details for the Dominion command convention to be held in Saskatoon in May.

Bert Kueffler, now owner of the Wales hotel in Wetaskiwin, was a visitor in town for a day or two last week. Bert has a big interest in a producing oil well located north of Blackfoot.

TENNIS

All adults wishing to play tennis should phone their name to the undersigned at once, in order that an idea may be obtained of the number desiring to play. This is necessary so that the required number of courts may be reconditioned and equipped for play. A separate survey is being made of the school students and it is hoped enough players will signify their intention of joining the club to make its operation worthwhile.

Everyone interested in tennis is invited to join the club. A meeting will be called shortly.

Pasteurization Plebiscite On Monday, April 26

POLL AT MASONIC HALL — OPEN FROM 10 A.M. TO 7 P.M.

Electors of the Town of Vermilion will decide the issue of compulsory pasteurization of the milk supply of the town on Monday April 26th when they vote on the proposed pasteurization by-law. Poll is at the Masonic hall and is open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. hall and is open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. The by-law has to be endorsed by two-thirds of those voting before being finally passed by the council.

Endorsation of the by-law means that no person shall be allowed to sell, offer for sale or deliver within the town limits, milk which has not been pasteurized in a pasteurization plant approved by the Provincial Board of Health.

This does not apply to milk brought into town by the producer and sold by wholesale to a distributor, a milk processing plant, a creamery or cheese factory nor to milk products prepared in a plant and by methods approved by the Provincial Board of Health.

The bylaw becomes effective on the final passing thereof. Penalties for contravention of the by-law is a fine not exceeding $100 and costs or to a term of imprisonment not longer than 60 days with or without hard labor.

The only recognized source of retail milk supply in the town of Vermilion for the past several years has been the Vermilion City Dairy which firm supplies the town with pasteurized milk. Endorsing the by-law means that regardless of the number of dairies distributing milk in town, all have to retail pasteurized milk.

"Search for Talent" Finals in Edmonton Saturday, May 8th

RUTH BEATTY VERMILION REPRESENTATIVE AT BIG EVENT

The 29 week series of "Search For Talent" programs, jointly sponsored by Radio station CFRN and the Edmonton Club of Associated Canadian Travellers winds up its schedule one week from Saturday night.

Only two northern Alberta towns remain on the travelling show's itinerary, Morinville this coming Saturday night, April 24th, and Westlock the Saturday following, May 1st. Following the Westlock date, all Search For Talent trails lead to the Edmonton arena, where a grand final will be staged to an expected capacity crowd.

The good wishes of this district will be attending 9 year-old Ruth Beatty, daughter of Mrs. John Beatty, who was the winner of the Search For Talent program when it played Vermilion. Not the least of those wishing Miss Ruth well are the two contestants who placed 2nd and 3rd, Lenora Michel of Clandonald and Margaret McMillan of Claysmore. It is also expected that many district people will travel to Edmonton for the grand final scheduled for May 8. Coupons entitling holders to reserved seats in the Edmonton arena are already on sale here by the Secretary of the Elks lodge, Mr. Russell Carroll.

Minburn Contestant

Minburn and district competition is Mrs. Colleen Elliott, who won the Search For Talent program when it played Minburn. S. Gambler of Mannville was 2nd and the Ambler quartette third. Jim Cheesee is selling tickets for the final show at the Edmonton arena.

Fiery Balloon Descends On Local Residence

MELVIN HILL AVERTS BAD FIRE

Apparently the mysterious lights seen floating over the town on several occasions recently and which aroused considerable conjecture as to their nature, use and source, have been the somewhat dangerous brain wave of a practical joker.

On Saturday evening one of these fiery balloons failed to clear the town and descended on the residence of Melvin Hill, with the light which proved to be a bundle of rags, well soaked in coal oil, bound together by wire, and burning fiercely, landing on the shingles of the house. Fortunately Melvin himself was out in his yard doing a little ditching, the reflection of light from the burning mass caught his eye and he glanced up just in time to see the fiery apparition barely clear his house top. The cone shaped balloon caught in the trees on the east side of the house while the burning bundle of rags came to rest right on the shingles and the flames began licking merrily away at the roof.

True to his old fire brigade training, Melvin has a ladder, equipped with hooks, hanging on his fence and so is ready for a fire emergency. He was up to the danger spot before the shingles actually took fire and removed the menace, getting a painful burn from the hot wire while doing so. He also managed to preserve the peculiar balloon intact.

This cone shaped object was 12 feet high and 6 feet in diameter at the bottom. It was built on a frame work of hay wire open at the bottom, with the oil soaked rags suspended from the centre by a wire. Hot air from the burning rags ascends into the open bottom of the cone-shaped tissue paper balloon causing it to rise and float. It will continue floating as long as there is sufficient hot air coming from the burning rags. This balloon was made up of scores of sheets of tissue paper of all colors with the edges glued together. This would give the plaid effect mentioned in the Standard on a previous occasion.

The practice is an exceedingly dangerous one and the R.C.M.P. are seeing to it that no more of these hazardous fire balloons are sent aloft hereabouts.

VERMILION TO HAVE AIR SHOW MAY 25th

JET PLANE — HELICOPTERS — PARATROOPS

E. C. Heckbert, Chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the visit to Vermilion of Their Excellencies Viscount and Lady Alexander on May 25th, has announced that plans have now been completed for an airshow on the evening of this day. Air Vice Marshall K. M. Guthrie, in command of the North West Air Command, together with his officers has been most generous in arranging to provide a most interesting evening following the ceremonial visit of Their Excellencies.

Chief among the unusual attractions which will be viewed by many thousands of people will be a jet propelled plane which will fly from Edmonton after refueling following a trip from Saskatoon, the speedy aircraft will circle the Exhibition grounds several times so that all may have an opportunity of seeing it in action. One of the three helicopters to be based in western Canada is also being brought to Vermilion for the airshow and will demonstrate the capabilities of this type of ship.

The Air Force is also providing a demonstration of para-rescue work during which qualified men will be dropped from the skies in front of the grandstand and will then demonstrate rescue work as practised during the war and in commercial flying. Efforts are at present under way to have a number of army paratroopers float to earth for the benefit of those in attendance.

Also taking part in the show will be fast Harvards, Mustangs and Mitchell bomber which will go through their paces and will thrill all who are fortunate enough to see the displays.

The airshow will start at 6.30 in the evening and will be interspersed with numbers by the Western Command army band, the RCAF band and the Pipe band under direction of Pipe Major John MacMillan of Clandonald who established such an enviable record during the war.

The Governor General, in addition to officially opening the new wing of the Memorial hall will, during the day conduct an investiture of Alberta servicemen. It is expected that Brig. J. C. Jefferson will receive the C.B.E., with Major T. B. 'Darby' Nash being awarded the D.S.O. Orders of the British Empire will be presented to K. G. Sorbeck and Capt. Dennis M. Healy presently of the University of Alberta staff. Sgt. Eugene F. Bode[illegible] of New Norway and A. A. Law[illegible] [illegible] Clandonald will receive the Military Medal for bravery in the field and [illegible] Leonard Williams of Bruce will [illegible] the B.E.M. in connection with his work overseas. A list of R.C.A.F. and Navy decorations also to [illegible] has not as yet been completed [illegible] will be released it is hoped [illegible] the columns of the Vermilion [illegible] next week.

[illegible] guests to be in Vermilion for this [illegible] occasion include in addition to the Governor General and Lady Alexander, Major General Sir Richard Howard Vyse Deputy Chairman of the British Legion, Major General C. B. Price, Dominion President of the Canadian Legion, E. S. Harston, O.B.E., E.D., Hon. Secretary of the British Legion, A. R. Best representative of the British Legion in Scotland as well as the Hon. E. C. Manning, Premier of Alberta, Major General Pennhale, Officer Commanding the Western Army Forces Air Vice Marshall Guthrie in Command of North West Air Command, Commander Rodney Pike in charge of Naval Service in Alberta. It is not often that the smaller centres have an opportunity to welcome so many who have made extremely valuable contribution to the welfare of the nation and it is hoped that citizens of the northern part of the province will be out in force to extend a truly western welcome. The Town of Vermilion, the Board of Trade, the Athletic Association and the Agricultural Society have all expressed their willingness to assist in this great undertaking and the co-operation is most welcome.

School Divisions in the area have been asked to close their schools so that children may have an opportunity of seeing Their Excellencies and it is anticipated that the pupils along with large numbers of Scouts, Guides and Cadets will constitute the largest gathering of people ever assembled in an Alberta town.

Decorating of the buildings and streets of the town is in charge of a strong committee of the Board of Trade and despite difficulties presented by the fact that we are in the midst of the installation of water and sewer it is anticipated that Vermilion will present a very fine appearance on May 25th when we go "all out" to welcome such a distinguished company.

Meeting Will Discuss Pasteurization By-Law

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 23rd

Citizens of Vermilion will discuss the merits of pasteurization at a public meeting in the new Legion hall on Friday evening April 23rd at 8 o'clock. A representative of the provincial department of health will be the guest speaker.

The meeting has been called by the Mayor in view of the plebiscite on the proposed pasteurization by-law which vote takes place on Monday April 26th. Voting place is the Masonic hall and Albert Hildreth is the returning officer. The poll is open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

David Douglas and Dorene Fountain Married at Westlock

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at Westlock Alberta, on April 5th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Fountain when their daughter Dorene Elinor, became the bride of David Harold Douglas son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas of Vermilion. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. E. N[illegible]. The bride was given in wedlock by her father.

The bride wore a grey blue ballerina suit and carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, gift of the groom. The bridesmaid Miss Ollie Kinasewich wore a teal blue gaberdine suit and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Jack Fountain the bride's brother, was best man.

Mrs. Fountain wore black crepe and Mrs. Douglas wore a gown of blue crepe, both adorned with corsages of roses.

Mrs. Fred Maxwell played the Wedding March and during the signing of the register Miss Marrion Maxwell sang "I Love You Truly."

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for relatives and friends. Out-of-town guests were the groom's mother Mrs. R. Douglas of Vermilion, the bride's grandmother Mrs. R. Southward of Edmonton and her cousin and husband Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Barker of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fo[illegible] of Barrhead.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas will be leaving to spend a few days with the groom's parents at Vermilion. Later they will make their home in Olds where the groom is now employed.

BARLEY FIGHTS WEEDS

Barley is much better than wheat or oats as a smother crop for weeds. For wild oat control it must be seeded late and after a couple of crops of wild oats have been killed by cultivation. Oli barley seeded after June 10th or better still after June 15th will keep ahead of wild oats. The barley will still mature about the same time as wheat.

FORAGE SEED

Last week I sent 250 letters to farmers in my district urging that they should seed down more land to Brome-Alfalfa mixture if they are to protect against running short of feed in the future. There was a good response as we took orders for seed from quite a few farmers. There are however a lot more who should have come [illegible] it is good sound common sense to have a good feed reserve.

Dewberry

It is understood that a contract for a full-size basement under the old Harwood school has been let by the school division board. The present local board will endeavor to have a temporary foundation put in as the idea of trying to make a school out of the old Harwood building is entirely out of reason. Only additional [illegible] in the long run would be the outcome of this as Dewberry is soon going to need an additional school room and the moving in of old buildings that really should be discarded isn't looked upon favorably.

Much talk was heard about snow plowing of school roads and it is reported that $16,000 has already been spent by Vermilion River M.D. this winter on snow plowing. Stay awake Dewberry citizens and educate your children close to home.

A little late but all the better by being so the Dewberry village school district meeting was held in the high school on April 17th. Ervan Gernier is new trustee replacing Albert Donald. Also elected to the board are representatives of the Harwood district, Dewberry rural, Greenlawn and Riverton. These include Harold Craig, Ernest Gernier, Max Maddox and Don Timanson. Students from all these schools are now attending school in Dewberry.

The report of Principal Martin Bruce showed a great need for additional room in the immediate future. There is a large number of pre-school age children in the district and by the number of children in the lower grades a 4-room school is badly needed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Porter and Philip have returned from their winter home [illegible].

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker on the birth of a son.

WARNING TO PARENTS—Parents should keep small children from playing in the water this spring as ditches are very deep and dangerous.

During the late days of March Mrs. Chas. Kinshella had the misfortune to lose 100 chicks one night. The unfortunate little chicks were nearly 2 months old and an overheated brooder caused the disaster.

Dewberry C.G.I.T. have an old clothing drive underway. Miss Charlotte Tulloch is secretary and Emma Axley president. Mrs. Neil Jones is the leader of this organization.

Dewberry school now owns a 16mm. projection machine. Shows will be given free and films supplied by the C.P.R. of educational value will be shown. In order to pay for this machine the Dewberry students union will sponsor several social events. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

Celebrate 25th Wedding Anniversary

On April 11th relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson of Dewberry gathered at the Wilson home in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. 18 places were set at the table which was topped by a 3-tiered wedding cake baked by Mrs. Gordon Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were the recipients of an 8-piece set of silverware from [illegible] Maids and additional silverware [illegible] relatives.

Friday April 16 an enjoyable evening was spent in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lee in the Dewberry hall. Many friends of town and country gathered and presented this couple with a gift and purse of silver in tribute to their good citizenship. They are returning to their farm in the Allendale district.

The Islay Community club presented a very enjoyable play and concert in the hall at Dewberry on April 14th. The Dewberry Hockey club sponsored this event and a very good time was enjoyed by all attending. Thanks Islay come again!

TEEN TOWN

The regular meeting of April 14th was held at Bushell's. It was decided to have no more dances and to not hold the regular meeting until the Floor show is over.

Practises for the Floor show will take place two or three times a week commencing next week. So kids, when we say "there's a practise tonight", turn out Eh?

Vermilion, Alberta, April 22nd, 1948.

VOTE FOR BYLAW—

The pasteurization by-law as presented to the electors of the town of Vermilion for their approval on Monday is a regulation one which has been passed in many towns and villages. It is hoped that Vermilion is progressive enough to pass it too.

The chief reason for pasteurization is to kill germs of scarlet fever, typhoid fever, undulant fever, and diptheria, which are often found in milk. Science has given us the means of safeguarding our children from these diseases. A vote in favor of the bylaw is a vote against disease.

LATE SPRING . . .

The overdue spring has seemingly arrived, although temperatures are still far below normal for this time of year. The thaw started in town last Thursday and Friday and by this time warmer weather has even made inroads on the snow in the country. The skating rink closed Wednesday night April 14 and the final game of curling was played Thursday evening April 15th. Practically all the spring birds are back including robins in flocks, meadow larks, ducks, cranes, crows and blue birds. The roads and crossings are muddier than words can politely describe, so it looks as if spring is here.

A re-inforced public work crew has made a good job of keeping the water moving and endless streams have poured over the hill from the town streets and lanes. Culverts had suffered extensive damage during the power and water ditching of last year causing much extra added work but by dint of long hours put in by the crew not too many citizens had water in their basements.

Not often does a cheque remain in circulation for six weeks but such is the case of one belonging to George P. Sullivan. The cheque was mailed from Regina March 3rd and was apparently lost after being taken from the post office here. It was blown around by the March winds, covered up by April showers (in the form of record snow fall) and came to light after the thaw in a mud puddle in Mr. Fred Walling's yard just west of the Arena rink and picked up by him. The envelope had become ungummed but the cheque is intact and not in the least the worse for its weathering experience, and nothing like as dog-eared and dirty as if carried about in a man's pocket for a few days—and what's more, George is still the amount of the cheque to the good.

A lengthy communication from Mr. G. B. Clay of Paradise Valley regarding municipal matters is being held until next week due to lack of space.

Don Montgomery sends along his renewal subscription from Wiarton, Ontario and says the Standard is just like a letter from home. Don landed in Vermilion in the spring of 1907 and resided here until the summer of 1946, over 38 years, so wants to say hello to his many old friends hereabouts. Don says they have had an early spring in his part of Ontario following a hard winter. The ice went out of the bay on April 1st and farmers have been on the land since the 9th.

WILDMERE WINKS

Roy [illegible] and Bill Garnett picked up a logging chain, anyone losing same should phone the former at 2212.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers of Wildmere on the birth of a baby daughter early Sunday morning. Mrs. Cruthers had an adventurous trip to the hospital. The first part of the journey was by hay rack driven by Clayton Smith. She continued on with Lawrence Graham and Mrs. Wellington who took her another part of the way by car until they were met by Cliff Cruthers and Bill Smith also with a car and the remainder of the trip finished with them. Many thanks to George Martin [illegible] locating Cliff who was in town at the time and sending him out to meet us. Both mother and daughter are doing fine and that is all that matters.

MORRISON NEWS

Let us hope that at last spring is here.

Meadow larks have arrived back — wonder what they think of the snow.

Opening of the roads now is impossible as it is too wet.

We certainly have been snowed-in in this district, only had the car out once since January.

Our thoughts will soon be turning to gardening. We will certainly have an abundance of moisture. The writer has about 200 glads to plant but it doesn't look as if they will be planted by May 10th.

Mrs. Gillies is back home again. Betty has been home for a week, helping to housekeep. The Gillies family, Lawrence and Christie were supper guests at the writer's home on Sunday night.

Lila [illegible] and [illegible] are still holidaying at the coast, a good place to be these days. Mrs. Gunn phoned home one night saying that she feels much better and is up again every day for a short period.

Lots of every kind of spring birds are back. It seems that they have every faith that spring will eventually return. One [illegible] on the bare patches on [illegible]

Builds Roadster That Goes Places And Does Things

Richard Myren, (above), in miniature roadster

By GEORGE R. MURPHY
Central Press Canadian

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask. — Joe Myren, 37-year-old mechanic of Swift Current, has been making things since he was a boy, and in the last four years he has turned out two masterpieces.

His first major undertaking was a steam engine, an exact model of the kind that used to drive the threshing machines in days gone by. The material cost less than $10 but he has been offered $25 for the engine. However, he's still holding it for his six-year-old son, Richard, to operate when he is a little older.

The boiler holds three quarters of a pint of water, and is heated by a miniature gasoline heater. This amount of water in the boiler will run the engine for half an hour. There is a whistle on the engine too, which Mr. Myren made out of "just a few odds and ends."

Envy Of Boys

But today Richard Myren is the envy of every other boy of his age in Swift Current, for he has a roadster that goes places and does things. The car cost $70. It is six feet long, 22 inches high.

Myren, a body man in a Swift Current garage for years, has had a lot to do with taking kinks out of old cars, so he decided to build a new one. His working model will travel at approximately eight miles an hour, and can go in reverse. The fenders from a 1947 car were used for the body. The radiator was made out of a piece of the grill from a truck.

The fenders of the car were fashioned from the metal parts of the glass bulbs on top of old fashioned filling station gas pumps. The lights, which work, were at one time the parking lights on a car. The car is a three-wheeled model with only a single wheel on the front. All wheels were tail wheel on aircraft. The steering wheel is made out of a piece of copper pipe off a plane and part of a model "T" shaft.

Refuses Offer

The operation of the car is controlled by three pedals. One to go ahead, one to reverse, and one as a brake. It is a "slip-belt drive system," Mr. Myren explained.

Red leather plane cushions are used in the seats and the lights are operated from a two-volt radio battery. A horn and bumpers will be added later. The car is propelled by a washing machine engine.

Mr. Myren was offered $200 for the car by a couple of farmers who wanted it for their boys. All offers were refused. "There'd be a riot time in the Myren home if I sold Dick's car," Mr. Myren said laughingly.

GARDEN NOTES

Two Points

Two points which the gardener must keep in mind at this time are cultivation and pests. A garden kept well cultivated up to the middle of June will stay clean with little trouble from then on. Pests and this includes weeds, are much more easily handled if caught in the earlier stages. Cultivation will take care of the weeds in most cases though in lawns or in large and well established clumps some of the new sprays are advisable. Bugs and disease should be attacked just as soon as they show themselves. Commercial sprays are available at any seed or hardware store.

No Rush Yet

A few days of warm sunshine seem to put a lot of people into a fever to get all their garden planted. This is a mistake. Seed and plants are rushed in too hurriedly and there is liable to be neglect later on. In practically every section of the country both vegetables and flowers can be planted successfully at regular intervals right up to the end of June. [illegible] beans spinach, lettuce, radish, etc. can be planted every other week or so right up to late June and the harvest will be spread accordingly. Flowers, too, can be spread over several weeks. Some things, however, like grass seed, nursery stock, garden peas, sweet peas, are best all planted early. But bedding plants like petunias, zinnias, stocks, spider plants, tomatoes, cabbage, etc. should not be set out until all danger of frost is over. Tender things like gladioli, cannas, melons, squash, corn, etc., also come in this category.

[illegible]

A common mistake of the new gardener is to sow seed too thickly and to allow plants to grow too close together. Petunias, cosmos, zinnias and other fair-sized flowers should be thinned to at least 10 inches apart. Corn, cucumbers, melons and other things grown in individual hills should also be thinned to not more than three or four plants. Crowded plants will be weak and spindly.

UMBRELLAS TREASONABLE

VANCOUVER. Vancouver newspapers that print pictures of people holding umbrellas over their heads commit "treason," Leo Sweeney, local booster, told a civic meeting here.

"A few dewdrops are manna from heaven, they're good for the complexion," he said.

Production of stoves and ranges totalled some 4,400,000 units last year (1947) topping the 1946 record by over 1,000,000. 2773

OCCUPATIONAL ECZEMA SOMETIMES AVOIDABLE

Industrial workers can escape occupational dermatitis (eczema) if certain rules are adhered to, it is stated by Dr. Samuel M. Peck of New York. In a paper, read in Chicago some months ago, he laid down these rules.

Machines should be cleaned daily, oil should be filtered to eliminate metal slivers, workers should take daily showers and use clean towels and clean clothing every day, waste should be cleared from near machines.

In the case of workers in cement plants, there should be efficient dust control, while workers should use goggles or respirators. Machines should be enclosed.

As for housewives and others who contract dermatitis from soap or soap flakes, rubber gloves, closed at the wrists by a sleeve buttoned over the glove, should be used. If this did not help, soap substitutes should be used and the hands lubricated frequently with an ointment containing animal or vegetable fats.

Skin Eruptions

Here is a clean, stainless, penetrating antiseptic oil that brings speedy relief from the itching and discomfort.

Not only does this healing antiseptic oil promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds but boils and simple ulcers are also relieved.

In skin affections the itching of Eczema is quickly stopped. Pimples and eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum, Itching Toes and Feet and other inflammatory skin disorders.

You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store. Satisfaction or money back.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

EARNESTNESS

Earnestness is enthusiasm tempered by reason.—Pascal.

There are important cases in which the difference between half a heart and a whole heart makes just the difference between signal defeat and a splendid victory.—A. H. K. Boyd.

There is no substitute for thorough-going, ardent, and sincere earnestness.—Dickens.

To impress others we must be earnest; to amuse them, it is only necessary to be kindly and fanciful.—Tuckerman.

Without earnestness no man is ever great or does really great things. He may be the cleverest of men; he may be brilliant, entertaining, popular, but he will want weight.—Bayne.

Canadian Navy Adopt New Flag

OTTAWA. A distinctively Canadian flag to be flown from the ship of the senior Canadian officer present afloat, in both Canadian and foreign ports, has been adopted by the Royal Canadian Navy, it was announced by Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defence.

The flag will be triangular in shape and will be dark blue with a white St. George's cross.

Up to the present it has been the practice for the senior officer present afloat to fly the same pennant as that in use by the senior officer of the Royal Navy.

The new triangular blue flags will be flown by the senior officer of any group of Canadian naval vessels. The only exception to the rule will be when the senior officer is an admiral or a commodore when the flag or pennant of his rank will be flown.

The man at the next desk says we won't have real equality until they put the six-day bicycle racers, too, on a five-day week.

ROAD-SENSE

Better Roads
Deserve Better Drivers

The hazards of speed are not for unskilled and reckless drivers. But we cannot halt progress on roads because of a few careless driving any more than we can outlaw the airplane because accidents have been caused by unskilled and careless pilots. We need good roads AND we need more careful and courteous driving. It is worth remembering that COURTESY ON THE ROAD PAYS DIVIDENDS IN SAFETY.

The A.M.A. Speaks for Motorists

If you detect any of the following symptoms, see your doctor at once. It may not mean cancer, but if it should, remember that most cases can be cured if treated in time.

1. Any sore that does not heal — particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips. Do not pass it off as "nothing at all." Go to the doctor.

2. A painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lip, or tongue. Don't wait "to see what happens." Go to the doctor.

3. Irregular bleeding or discharge from any natural body opening. Do not wait for pain. Go to the doctor.

4. Progressive change in the color or size of a wart, mole or birth-mark. Do not try salves or ointments. Go to the doctor.

5. Persistent indigestion. Do not wait for loss of weight. Go to the doctor.

6. Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough or difficulty in swallowing. Do not assume that it is due to smoking or some other form of irritation which will clear up. Go to the doctor.

7. Any change in normal bowel habits. Don't attempt to diagnose yourself. Go to the doctor.

Normal Fatigue

It is natural to be tired — healthfully fatigued, after an expenditure of energy, and the department of Health at Ottawa, reminds Canadians that this is part of the process of living. The Department also points out that fatigue produces waste products and that rest and sleep are essential to restoration of body cells. So all must have sufficient sleep for health, with children needing more rest and sleep to compensate for growth and youthful frolics.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

DOC KELLY'S BOY

By JIM [illegible]

EVER since young Tommy Winters could remember, his mother was always telling him that he should be more like Doc Kelly's boy. He expected to hear it once again when he spotted his mother coming towards the garage.

"So, you've been fishing all day again, Tommy, what's the matter? Don't you appreciate our sending you to school?"

[illegible] "Honest, Mom. It's not that. I just get sick of going to school every day. A fellow has to have some kind of fun once in a while."

"I should think Saturday and Sunday should give you enough time? You don't see your father loafing about whenever the notion strikes him."

"But, Mom. You don't understand."

"Oh, yes I do. It's getting to where I can't do anything with you. Son, if only you could be more like Doc Kelly's boy. Now there's a fine, upstanding young lad for you! Never getting into trouble and—"

"Never doing anything," Tommy interrupted. "Just an angel with wings. Everyone would be a whole lot better off if he would use those wings to fly away with."

"Tommy! Don't be so sarcastic. And didn't I teach you better than to break into the conversation like that? Do you think Doc Kelly's boy would do something like that? You bet your life he wouldn't."

She looked down at her son's clothes for the first time. "Tommy, what did you do? Fall into Bear Creek? Oh, Tommy! You might have drowned. Hurry and get those clothes off before you catch a death of cold. When you are finished, come downstairs. I'm going to heat your supper over."

Sarah was just about half way to the stove when the telephone rang. Miss Twitchell was on the line. "Is Tommy all right?"

"Why?" Sarah inquired.

"Well, I saw him coming down Main St. carrying little Bert Stevens. And, Sarah, both of them were wringing wet and little Bert was crying aloud, 'He pushed me in! He pushed me in!' So, I thought I'd call to let you know what your Tommy has done."

Sarah uttered a faint "Thanks" and hung up. "Now hookey isn't enough," she thought. "Now he's going about pushing six-year-old boys into Bear Creek. So, that is his reason for being wet. Just wait till he comes down."

Tommy came down all washed and ready for supper. He always fixed up a little extra special for supper on Wednesday nights. After all, his mother didn't bake a chocolate cake that night just to please herself.

"You must have had a good time fishing," Sarah said bluntly.

"Caught a lot of them, Ma. I gave them to Widow Stevens. Her little boy, Bert, likes fish. In fact, he was down at the creek today trying to catch some himself."

"Son, that's the way I like you to do things. It isn't a bit harder to do the good things. And there are so many good things that need doing."

She gave her words time to sink in. Then she said, "By the way, how's Bert?"

"O.K., Ma. Except that he fell in Bear Creek. But he's O.K. now."

As she looked at the boy, she thought, "So now Tommy is starting to lie. He never did that before. He always told me when he got into trouble."

After emptying his plate, Tommy remained at the table waiting for the chocolate cake.

"Get on to bed, Tommy," she commanded coldly, breaking the Wednesday night procedure that had developed into a habit.

"But—the chocolate cake?"

"There is no chocolate cake. Get on to bed."

She watched her disappointed son walk up the stairs and seated herself in the rocker.

Upon hearing the doorbell ring, Sarah walked to the door. She opened it to find Widow Stevens and Bert.

"Where's Tommy?" Widow Stevens asked excitedly. "I just can't wait to thank him. He saved little Bert's life today."

"Saved his life?" Sarah was puzzled. All this didn't make sense. She called for Tommy to come down.

Widow Stevens held Tommy's hand and spoke slowly. "Tommy, Bert has told me about the brave thing you did today. So, son, I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart. You see, Bert's all that I have now and if it hadn't have been for you—"

"Aw, Mrs. Stevens, anybody would have of—" Tommy said, attempting to rid himself of the hero brand.

"No, not anybody, Tommy," Widow Stevens said. "There are many things you do that just anybody don't. More than once, Bert and I were hungry when you brought a string of fish to our door. No, not anybody, Tommy."

Tommy and Bert were getting at the chocolate cake when Widow Stevens said, "They are getting to be such good friends. I can't help but keep telling Bert that he should try and grow up and be the kind of boy Tommy is."

Sarah laughed. "That's funny. And I keep telling Tommy that he should try and be more like Doc Kelly's boy."

"Before you tell him that again," Widow Stevens said, "I think you ought to know Tommy just gave Doc Kelly's boy a good beating. My little Bert was pushed into Bear Creek by Doc Kelly's boy."

WORLD'S FASTEST FIGHTERS GUARD U.K. FROM AIR ATTACK — Fastest fighter squadrons in service in the world form the R.A.F. group stationed at Horsham St. Faith, Eng., where the new Meteor Mark IV jet planes are lined up for a display. The aircraft have improved jet engines twice as powerful as in the Meteor III and are a great advance in the main safeguard of Britain from air attack.

Western Briefs

CALGARY — Reports reaching Calgary said more than 50 per cent of calves born on central and southeastern Alberta ranches have died from exposure during the prolonged cold spell.

• • • •

NELSON, B.C. — Nelson motorists are putting their pennies these days into parking meters. Installation of 150 meters along Baker street and other streets in the business section have been completed.

• • • •

REGINA — A resolution urging the federal government to build a hard surface Trans-Canada highway was passed at the annual convention of the [illegible] of western Canada. The hotelmen also passed a resolution urging the dominion government to encourage tourist travel inside Canada.

• • • •

CALGARY — Dr. W. H. Hill, medical officer of health, said that a big brown rat which was killed at Airdrie, Alta., about 20 miles north of here, had apparently come from Swift Current, Sask. The rat was killed in an empty railway box car by Clayton Hay, grain agent at Airdrie.

• • • •

[illegible]RG — Parcels of food and clothing have been sent to needy people in Germany, Poland and England by the Strasbourg Sunday school, it was reported at a recent Sunday school session.

• • • •

REGINA — A citizen who makes a hobby of swimming in ice-bound lakes and rivers throughout Canada, [illegible] 33, of Toronto, launched the 1948 swimming season in Wascana lake Sunday, April 11. Downtown Regina was practically deserted in the early afternoon when more than 7,000 citizens flocked to the lake to see the "human polar bear" plunge into the chilly water through a hole in 15-inch thick ice. The temperature was 26 degrees.

Alberta Plans All-Weather Road

EDMONTON. — Completion of an all-weather road through to British Columbia is scheduled for this year, it was announced by Works Minister W. A. Fallow. He said extension of the hard-surfacing program is also projected.

This will mean that this year there will be a hard-surfaced road all the way from the United States boundary through Edmonton to Morinville, a distance of 372 miles. From Morinville to the B.C. boundary there will be an all-weather or gravelled road for 430 miles, covering a total distance from the United States border of 791 miles.

ANNIVERSARY RECALLS ROMANCE OF NINETIES

TORONTO. — It was more than 50 years ago. Anson Patterson, conductor on a New York street car, spied a pretty girl in a store. He waved. And he went on waving every day. Finally the pretty girl got on the street car and met the conductor. It wasn't long before they were married.

Moisture Conditions In West Are Excellent—Late Seeding Prospect

Fear Of A Dry Season Disappears — Considerable Increase In Wheat Acreage Is Expected

WINNIPEG. — Spring is coming very slowly in the West, and a late seeding season seems in prospect. Moisture conditions over practically all the West are excellent. Subsoil moisture is good and melting snow may give plenty of topsoil moisture for germination. Heavy reservoirs of snow in the mountains are regarded in Alberta as encouraging.

Over a considerable part of Saskatchewan, grasshoppers are regarded as a potential menace because of a large number of eggs in the soil. The Provincial Government, and many farmers are making preparations for a poisoning campaign if that should become necessary. There is always hope, however, that an early hatch of grasshopper eggs will be followed by heavy killing from unfavorable weather.

A considerable increase in wheat acreage is in prospect, with a tendency for farmers to put into wheat as large an area as possible. The present price structure invites a transfer of acreage from other grains to wheat. Actual seeding will depend largely upon weather conditions, because other crops can be seeded after the critical day for wheat seeding is passed.

Until recently there was a good deal of fear of a dry season for the West, but such fears were based largely on historic weather patterns and the knowledge that recurring dry years are to be expected over a large part of the West. Actually, a very considerable area last year was dry during the growing season, and past experience had been that drought areas tended to grow from year to year. Even good reserves of subsoil moisture have been exhausted in the past by long prevailing hot winds from the South during the summer.

It was feared last fall that dry conditions in the Middle Western States might be heralding a general North American drought. Such fears have been largely removed by good winter precipitation in such States.

For the present, there is nothing unsatisfactory in the Western outlook. Generally speaking, most farmers would prefer to see a late spring rather than an early one, so that reserves of moisture locked in the soil are not exposed too soon to drying action.

WILDMERE WINKS

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith and son Adam left on Friday morning last for their new home in Vancouver. They had to go by team across to the west highway to get to town. We wish them the very best and hope they find more springlike weather there than we have.

People have been anxiously waiting for our road to be opened up, especially those who have to haul feed. It's now over three weeks since it became blocked. The feed problem is getting very serious here and everyone is longing for bare ground but no let-up is seen yet in the cold wave.

Mrs Frank Gibson of Basswood was taken ill on Thursday night and was taken across country by team and sleigh to Sheldon May's who took her into the hospital early Friday morning. It's surely nice to have good friends like that over on the highway in such cases when our road is impassable. We all wish Mrs. Gibson a speedy recovery.

George Wilson, when up at the writer's for his mail on Saturday was speaking of hard winters and told us of his uncle coming from Seattle on June 12th 1907. There was still lots of snow in banks over brows of hills and in bushes. He also told of Mr McLellan, church minister at Wildmere in 1920 (spring after another hard winter) coming along with a team and buggy on May 24th and his being the first wheels over the road that spring, snow still being in evidence even then. At that rate our snow could hang on a good while yet, but needless to say we hope it doesn't.

You are quite right Ethelwyn scribe regarding those chain letters. You echo my sentiments too, if our destiny is hung on such slim threads as that, we are lost anyway. The stove gets all mine too. As you say, a cheery letter to someone ill or shut in is far better if someone wants to write and use a stamp.

In a recent letter from Mrs. Ronaghan of Creston, B.C., she says they have sold their farm and have bought a home in Creston. We are pleased to hear Mrs. Ronaghan is feeling much better since her serious operation, but are sorry that Mr. Ronaghan's health is not so good. Maybe when they can take things easier good health will return to them both.

CLANDONALD

Weather and feed have been the chief topics of conversation around these parts the past two weeks. The calendar says it's spring, the crows have been here for weeks, geese, bluebirds and meadow larks have all been seen but in spite of all this at time of writing there is still two feet of snow on the level and drifts vary in depths according to who is telling it. The writer only knows of 1907 by hearsay, being of a very tender age at that time, but does remember all too well the winter of 1920. Feed was really scarce around here that year and the snow finally cleared away on May 4. However we heard from a reliable source that in 1907 snow was still in drifts in some places in June of that year.

Considerable straw has been hauled here from the Landonville district lately. Two unfortunate farmers went 15 miles for two loads, spent 3 hours going 1 mile, tipping over 7 times in that distance.

Mrs. A. Rowntree recently returned from a three weeks' visit with her two married daughters, Mary and Kathleen, in Calgary. Mr. and Mrs. Rowntree have been grandparents since last fall which probably accounts for her anxiety to visit the southern city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roe spent a few days at Exeter in Edmonton visiting with their daughter-in-law and son Norman. Mr. and Mrs Roe are also grandparents of recent weeks as a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs Norman Roe early in March. Mrs. Roe Jr. is an English war bride and comes from Durham. She is at present visiting with her husband's parents at their home in Clandonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simpson and 2 children who are comparative newcomers to the district are planning to return to the States as soon as the ban is lifted on the roads. Mr. Simpson who purchased the Frank White land and equipment recently has disposed of his property. We are indeed sorry to lose our new neighbors. Although Mr. and Mrs. Simpson have been here less than two years they have proved themselves to be the best of friends and neighbors. The land was purchased by local farmers. One quarter was bought by George Conley and the other, better known as the Frank Williamson place, by Francis Monaghan. Mr. Simpson's father and mother who bought the Frank White homestead disposed of their land last fall and left here early in the new year.

According to reports Mr. and Mrs C. E. Thompson plan to leave for the east in the near future. As Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are both old timers since the early days they will be greatly missed in the district.

On Thursday night April 15th the music pupils under the direction of Sister Lucille of St. Joseph's convent presented an entertainment in the Columbus hall. Great credit is due those responsible for the affair as it was very enjoyable. It is apparent that the people of Derwent realize the opportunities offered here as many of the pupils are from that district. At the close of the program Father MacPhee in a few well chosen words praised the pupils and their teacher for the excellent performance. Diplomas for 1947 exams were then handed out to the pupils who had earned them.

Another enjoyable whist drive and dance was held in the Orange hall on Friday evening. This was sponsored by the W.A. of St. Mary's Anglican church and a nice sum realized. Although only six tables of cards were played quite a large crowd came in after the picture show and a really bang up time was had by all. It is planned to have more of these affairs later on.

It begins to look like the power line will be a reality before long, from Vermilion. Two carloads of poles and what appears to be high tension wire have been unloaded here recently.

We are sorry to report that while Mr. and Mrs. Roe were visiting in the city Mrs. Roe's mother Mrs. Darling had the misfortune to fall and severely injure her hip. She is at present in the Vermilion hospital and it is to be hoped that she makes a speedy recovery.

This week extensive repair work and redecorating is being undertaken in the Anglican vicarage. The job is under the direction of Mr T. J. Souder.

Bowtell Bulletin

Here we are again folks. We have been unable to hand in any news for some time due to bad roads.

We agree, Dewberry scribe, snow plowing plans could be more fairly run. After the Easter holidays our school bus route was blocked up for a week and then Mr Millar had to revert to horses. The snow plow started out from Isley to Clandonald road Saturday April 10th got half way then backed up [illegible] a drift of some 3 feet in the road and then went south. Now this road hasn't been opened for a month and [illegible] with horses. The south people surely want their road but a few more hours work and this road would have been open. We [illegible] of some roads which are opened 7 or 8 times more than others, why? The writer understands that just half a mile or so stopped the Bowtell bus from [illegible] for a whole week.

A late [illegible] attended the [illegible] Friday night and a fine time was enjoyed.

Mr and Mrs J Ronaghan & Ronaghan and Jim Millar were visitors at the writer's home Saturday.

Congratulations are extended to Mr and Mrs A Van den Lunder on the birth of a son at the Isley hospital.

Gathered up during the last two weeks — Mr and Mrs J Millar motored to Sedgewick and Red Deer. [illegible] hauling feed from the north with three racks and Hopps [illegible] Marion McGinnis has been [illegible] the telephone office. Mr and Mrs [illegible] selling their cattle as they expect to move to a new location in the near future. Nine ladies gathered at the home of Mrs Bert Moore for the April R.R. meeting, due to bad roads ye writer was unable to attend so a full report will be made later. The May R.R. meeting will be at Mrs A Magee. We are sorry to learn that Grandma McGinnis is a patient in the hospital at time of writing. The Moore and Harrison children recent victims of chicken-pox.

Kenny Risdale is now working near Lavoy.

The Busy Bees wish to thank all those who helped in any way with their sale of home cooking held recently.

The writer [illegible] that Grandma [illegible] of the [illegible] district is quite ill.

After the show on Saturday evening attend the dance at the Elks hall. An enjoyable hour or two for only [illegible]

THE FARM ACCOUNT BOOK AND INCOME TAX GUIDE SAVES FARMERS TIME, TROUBLE AND MONEY

SAVES YOU TIME—You will find that a few minutes a week keeps your Farm Account Book up-to-date. The first 15 pages of your new Farm Account Book tell a straight story about what is required from farmers. Your problems are dealt with in question and answer form and an index refers you quickly to the section you want. The pages and columns for accounts are numbered to correspond with the items on the Income Tax Return form itself. You can make an accurate record of all farm dealings as you go along.

If You Haven't Received Your Copy, Get It Now— FREE AT YOUR POST OFFICE

SAVES MONEY BY SHOWING YOU HOW—Every farmer legally is entitled to deductions for a wide variety of expenses. Your Farm Account Book has 12 pages devoted to columns for these. You are reminded of items which otherwise you might forget. Depreciation, a big factor, is covered on 75 named articles in common farm use.

You are shown how to establish claims for a Basic Herd and make a Three-Year-Average of your returns. This latter gives you the advantage of the lowest possible tax and it may be dated back to 1946. These are direct money-saving advantages entirely to your benefit.

THE THREE YEAR AVERAGE

You can't lose if you take advantage of this. Two things are necessary to average your income over the three year period ending December 31, 1948. First your 1947 return MUST BE FILED ON TIME—that is, by April 30, 1948. Then when you file your 1948 return in 1949 you may make application to average your income for 1946-1947-1948. This averaging of income continues yearly so that in each year you are taxed only on the average of each three year period.

REMEMBER — HALF CULTIVATED LAND YIELDS A POOR CROP—HALF KEPT ACCOUNTS GIVE POOR RESULTS TOO

Last year Canadian farmers—and there are nearly a million of them—produced over $2,000,000,000 in farm produce of all kinds. No other single industry approaches agriculture in volume of production. And as in every other business—even the smallest—every farmer must file an account of his transactions with the Department of National Revenue to qualify for the many tax exemptions which are allowed.

HELP in case of ACCIDENT

POISONED WOUNDS — From bite of animal — Treat immediately. Wash under running water to remove animal saliva. Have patient lie down and remain quiet. Apply ligature or bandage above wound to prevent spread of poison. With tip of knife or razor blade, sterilized by passing through flame, if possible, cut into wound, a depth of 1/8 to 1/4 inch over each fang mark, and let poison out. Apply suction, or if no other means available, suck the wound out by mouth, provided there are no open sores or wounds in mouth, and remove as much poison as possible from it. Be careful not to swallow. Continue suction for about a half hour. Cauterize with nitric acid, chloride of zinc or nitrate of silver, or by applying white hot iron. Give patient stimulants and rush to doctor at once.

BURNS AND SCALDS — Skin unbroken. A paste of baking soda in water; cod-liver, olive or castor oil; or vaseline. Cover with sterile gauze. Where skin is broken, apply wet baking soda, gentian violet jelly, picric acid gauze, or tannic acid jelly. Keep dressing moist. Chemical burns — wash immediately with large quantities of clean water before applying any other treatment.

FAINTING — Place flat on back, head lower than rest of body, loosen clothing, allow plenty of fresh air and keep warm.

LIGHTNING OR SUN STROKE — Loosen clothing, dash cold water on face, treat for shock. In case of sun stroke, remove to shade. Apply cold water to head.

News from Woodvale

With all the winter weather of the past four weeks, it almost feels as if we have not had any Easter at all and to tell some pre-Easter events might therefore seem not too strange either.

On March 19th the Isley family left to settle in the Thorncliff district. This move was long planned, but it came earlier than most of their friends and neighbors anticipated. We are all very sorry to see them go but hope they will be happy in their new home. With four of the six pupils gone our school is now closed and the two Brown boys will have to go to Thorncliff school also. Johnny and Tommy found it hard to believe when they heard that twin baby sisters had arrived, but by now they know it is true, both little girls being well and healthy. Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Arnott Brown.

The writer spent Easter with the Pottinger family, formerly of Vermilion, in Edmonton, where she met her daughter from Calgary, and Mrs Shirley, Vivian Taylor and Joy King and got acquainted with 3 months old Penny Elizabeth Proudfoot. We returned in time to see some of the Little Royal at the V.S.A. and noticed that the two local girls Mable Lysons and Ruby Thomson shared in the prizes. Mrs. D. Walters came back from an Easter holiday spent with her parents Mr. and Mrs Curtis Wilson in Chilliwack, B.C., bringing with her seeds and plants to try in her own garden.

Mrs. T. Preston stayed with her daughter Mrs. Eileen Young of Dorsdale after her operation and is expected home before this news gets into the paper, weather and roads permitting. Both have been very bad and makes any plans involving travel in the country most uncertain.

Mrs. Wm. Steele brought to the Genton store by Art Lysons, after her stay in the Vermilion hospital, had a four mile sleigh trip to make through blowing and drifting snow before reaching home. They were the last to travel the main road that day and it was almost a week later before it [illegible] opened again for cars. [illegible] going with horses everywhere. This prolonged winter weather [illegible] the deep snow makes the feed [illegible] situation worse all the time. We [illegible] heard of several farms where [illegible] is no feed and of cows dying.

It is gratifying to hear that there are also farmers in the [illegible] can ship first class [illegible] market [illegible] sold three [illegible] loads of [illegible] Hereford steers just before the [illegible].

In the evening of [illegible] day a [illegible] was noticed east of the writer's home. Several phone [illegible] were received from people in the [illegible] wood district who were sure it was very close to us. We could not see anything from here except a [illegible] glow to the east; it was feared a [illegible] home might be burning in the Hindville district, but when the reflection of it in the sky persisted for several hours we presumed it was somewhere in the Lloydminster oil fields, which proved to be correct afterwards. It just goes to show how deceiving distances are. One phone call almost convinced us that the fire was west of us and could only be at the farm home of one of the two local bachelors there. Instead it proved at least 70 miles further east! All this caused quite a bit of excitement that evening.

Teachers and pupils away for the Easter holidays had quite a time returning to their schools after the big storm. Here is the way Ruth Rankin of Woodvale managed to get to her school 13 miles from Dewberry. She left Sunday afternoon with Morris Watt in his truck from Koknee store on the main road. Her father followed with the team and pulled them through snowdrifts for quite a number of miles. After Union school they tried to make it without help but got tired of shovelling through one barricade after another and finally walked to the nearest farm where the Cartwright family lives and they went from there by team to Borradaile, by car to Vermilion. All this took almost 6 hours of travel for about 15 miles. By then word had been received from Dewberry that roads were impassable there and to wait until Tuesday. So Ruth stayed overnight in Vermilion, went by train to Lloydminster and changed trains there for Dewberry where a team took her out 7 miles and then she was met by someone with a saddle horse to take her the last four miles to her destination. We feel sure that almost all rural teachers will have similar stories to tell. Many did, like Mr Steve Warman of Genton school who came out with a rural mailman on Tuesday.

On Sunday a group of local boys and girls once again spent the afternoon skiing. Though they enjoy the sport very much each time they hope it will be the last ski party of the season. They all ended up for supper at the hospitable [illegible] home.

Conservation Of Wild Life

THE APPROACH OF SPRING, the breaking up of rivers, the coming of pussy willows, the appearance across the skies of wild bird life in formation to nesting grounds of the North, and the song bird in the trees, is the one time that man's attention is drawn to the beauties of Nature more than at any season of the year. In speaking of Nature's beauty, the Prairies has been blessed with some of the prettiest bird and animal life that can be seen the world over, and the importation of the beautiful English or ring-necked pheasant which has adopted the Prairies as its nesting grounds and have thrived in great numbers, has added to its beauty.

* * * * *

National Wild Life Week The recent observing of the Canadian National Wild Life Week, with its motto of conservation of Canada's wild life, should have a very significant value to us of the Prairies as the western Canadian plains has been the haven of hunters for many years, and special care should be taken that we do not destroy the beauties that we have been so favored with. In an article, "Jack Miner's Philosophy" written by Margaret Wade, forcibly gave the ideals of Canada's great naturalist, in his theory that "it was left to man to control and balance Nature." It stated that the late Jack Miner was often heard to say from lecture platforms: "Man is Nature's first assistant, or God's viceroy", and in his books and newspaper articles always he would write, "God put the birds and animals here for man's use and control".

* * * * *

What Happened The Ducks? Jack Miner had received many letters in his lifetime asking "What happened the ducks?" Everybody pointed his finger at the gun as the sole cause of their disappearance, but it was Jack Miner's habit to state that seventy-five per cent. of the eggs laid by ducks never matured to adult birds, they being destroyed by crows, skunks, magpies and weasels. He knew whereof he spoke because back in the late twenties Jack Miner crossed Western Canada seven times and saw what was happening. Crows, for instance, were so numerous that they were nesting on telegraph lines. Had these destroyers been reduced by the landers in the same proportion as the hunters were reducing the duck population, men would not now be asking, "what happened to the ducks".

May Explore For Oil And Gas In Western Manitoba

WINNIPEG.—Unconfirmed reports say that as much as two million dollars may be spent this summer in southwestern Manitoba on oil and gas exploration.

The reports are rife in Melita, which is sixty miles southwest of Brandon.

The work may be undertaken by a large oil exploration company, which has interests in the United States.

A New Orleans man, O. S. Knisley, thinks that natural gas may be found in commercial quantities in this area. Anyway, he plans to dig some exploratory wells.

Last summer Standard Oil of California spent about $500,000 in the district. And it may return again to hunt oil this summer.

There may be fortunes ahead for the land owners in the district. Most of the owners have title to sub-surface rights.

Vast Salt Basin Indicated In Sask.

VANCOUVER.—Discovery of potash beds in Saskatchewan points to the presence of a vast salt basin potentially of great importance to the entire dominion, L. Heber Cole, federal department of mines engineer, said.

He told the jubilee convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining & Metallurgy that the basin runs in a westerly direction from a point near the United States boundary south of Regina to Waterways, and north.

He stressed the prime importance to national economy of an abundant and cheap supply of potash fertilizer—particularly essential to agriculture and certain chemical industries.

"Heavy investment will be made to develop these beds of Canada's first important potash deposits," he declared.

1,000 More For Canadian Farm Work

VIENNA.—A Canadian selection team have started to select 1,000 displaced persons for farm work in Canada and an additional 100 married couples for domestic work in Canadian cities, the international refugee organization announced.

Dominion To Spend Millions On Canada's Western Parks

Expenditure Is Part Of Government's Over-All Plan To Encourage Tourists To Come To This Country

OTTAWA.—The Dominion government is going to spend a total of more than $5,482,000 in Canada's western parks during the fiscal year 1948-49.

This expenditure, the bulk of the $7,272,000 which is being spent on all national parks during the year, is part of the government's over-all plan to encourage tourists to come to this country and spend their United States dollars.

The largest amount to be spent on any one park is the sum of $2,[illegible] on Jasper National Park. Here the government plans to create a great recreational centre in Jasper townsite which will be provided with a swimming pool and other recreational facilities such as tennis courts, bowling greens, and eventually skating and curling facilities.

In addition two new campsites will be established at the junction of the Maligne and Athabasca rivers and at Pocahontas in Jasper Park. Six major road projects in Jasper are to be proceeded with.

At Banff National Park a total of $[illegible] is being spent where extensive work is planned for the Tunnel Mountain Camp ground. Here it is proposed to remodel 30 buildings acquired from the department of national defence and make them available for public use. An area set aside for auto trailers will be extended and equipped with kitchen and dining shelters.

In Elk Island Park a total of $108,000 is to be spent, while Waterton Lakes National Park is to get $416,000. The sum of $25,000 will go towards improving Glacier Park.

The department is proceeding with work at Riding Mountain National Park in Manitoba where it will spend $487,000 and at Prince Albert Park, Saskatchewan, where it will spend $300,300.

In British Columbia $306,000 will be spent in Yoho National Park, $887,000 in Kootenay Park and $87,000 in Mount Revelstoke National Park.

In addition the department is spending $128,000 for head office, $81,000 for parks and resources information and $107,000 for national historic sites and landscaping work generally.

COLOR AND HEALTH

LONDON.—Air-travel experts have discovered that passengers tend to become air-sick if cabins are brown or yellow in color. Tests show that blue and green are the most satisfactory colors.

No railways or highways cross the mountains between India and Burma.

Papyrus, developed in Egypt, was the world's cheap and abundant writing paper.

Oil Production May Equal 1942 Boom Record

CALGARY.—Alberta oil production is climbing back toward boom records set in 1942 when Turner Valley was in its heyday. Production then at one time reached 30,000 barrels a day. Production in January 1948, was up almost one third over the 1947 figure. It stood at 24,500 barrels daily and was climbing fast.

Figures released by the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board reveal that in January, 1948, Turner Valley production was [illegible]

Alberta still hung on to its position as Canada's No. 1 oil producer. In January it turned out 687,447 barrels of oil compared with 72,733 barrels produced by Saskatchewan. [illegible] amounts were produced in Ontario and New Brunswick.

Man Escapes Irate Moose

Jack Rutherford drew the ire of a bull moose that was "visiting" his garden by attempting to photograph the animal.

The moose charged and pursued Jack around his lawn and barnyard twice. A cattle dog attempted to head the moose off, but instead speeded him up.

The panting Rutherford escaped when the moose, rounding a corner in hot pursuit, lost its footing and fell.

RADIOS FOR UTILITIES

REGINA.—City Council has authorized purchase of two-way radio sets for utilities repair sets. The trucks can be directed quickly to trouble spots by street-railway, light and power and waterworks departments through a centrally-located shortwave station.

There are upward of 600 horse-race tracks in the United States.

RECIPES

FRENCH TOAST

- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 slices of bread
- 1 cup sweet milk
- 2 tablespoons sugar

Fat to grease the griddle

Add the salt, sugar and milk to the slightly beaten egg, dip the pieces of bread into the egg mixture. Cook the soaked slices of bread on a well oiled griddle, brown on one side, turn and brown on the other. Serve with maple syrup or jelly. Served with stewed fruit, makes a good dessert.

JELLY ROLL

- 3 eggs
- ½ cup sugar
- Grated rind of lemon
- 1 cup flour
- 1½ teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons milk

Beat eggs, add sugar and beat well. Add lemon rind. Sift flour with baking powder and salt, add alternately with the milk. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at a temperature of (350 deg. F.) in greased bread pan and turn out on a damp cloth. Spread with jelly and roll. Dredge top with powdered sugar. 2773

THE "BLUE" BOOK
OF FAMOUS CANADIAN TRAINS
Serving all Canada
CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

Across the Dominion, even as you read this, thousands of travellers are speeding to their destinations on board trains of the Canadian National. Famous trains, such as The Continental Limited and The Ocean Limited, are spanning the distances —from the Pacific and the Prairie Provinces to Eastern Canada and the Atlantic. The International Limited, The Inter-City Limited, The Washingtonian and The Montrealer, are typifying Canadian National's importance as an International carrier. Dependable "locals" are performing the unromantic but essential job of serving the "in between" points, and providing branch line connections with the fast Express trains.

These are the trains, covering more than two million miles each month, that make up the Railway "Blue Book" of Canada—The System Time Tables of the C.N.R. The "Blue Book" is your "passport" to everywhere in Canada, or across the Border on your journey for business or pleasure, for an hour, a day, overnight or longer.

COURTESY AND SERVICE

CANADA'S WILDLIFE—At this time of the year Western Canadian forests and streams are beginning to teem with birds, beasts and fish, and the recent "National Wildlife Week" observance was planned to conserve the wildlife which helps to beautify and make our land attractive. The Fawn, the Canadian Goose, and the Canadian Raccoon, are a part of Canada's teeming wildlife.

INJURED STUDENT GETS $500 FROM CLASSMATES—The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gyllen, York township, Ont., was a hive of activity as friends of their son, James, 17, gathered to welcome him home from hospital. Following a tumble downstairs in his home, the student was confined to hospital for 13 weeks with a broken neck. Proudly showing the cheque for $500 donated by fellow students, he said his friends' efforts "helped considerably while I was in hospital. The cheque also will help considerably in paying expenses," he added. The students raised the money by holding concerts and dances. James is shown with Marion [illegible]

LINE-UP FOR BUTTER COMMON SIGHT—Housewives throughout most of Canada are lining up for butter these days. And as in the picture above most dairies and such-like are forced to ration the scarce commodity to one pound per customer. Everyone including Mrs. E. Yanakon, the proprietress of a Toronto creamery, seem to be able to smile about the whole thing, though.

QUADRUPLETS' FOURTH BIRTHDAY PARTY—These youngsters don't have to call in any outsiders when they want to do some chorusing as a quartet. They are the Zarief quadruplets, of Brooklyn, who are all set to do some singing around the festive table as they mark fourth birthday. They are from left to right Elaine, Benjamin, Isador and Ellen. Benjamin adds extra touch with horn-blowing.

WINS ONTARIO PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTEST—Smiling happily after winning this shield in the annual public speaking contest for public school pupils in Ontario is eleven-year-old Mary Elaine Grose, Toronto. The topic of the contest was intelligent management of the farm wood lot. The winner said that a wood lot on the farm is like money in the bank; that it is an investment, and only the interest should be taken in the form of each year's natural return. She quoted figures to the effect that 5,000,000 acres of land in Ontario have been rendered unproductive by lack of cultivation of wood lots on farms thus putting 2,500 people out of the business of food production.

FORCED TO FLEE WHEN FIRE STRIKES—Fourteen persons, five of them children under six years, and four brothers, were forced out in their night clothes when fire gutted several flats apartments of a Toronto rooming house at 1.30 a.m. The fire started in the rear apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Heath, who suggested a prowler used fumes on a portion of flat roof outside their rooms may have started the blaze to cover up theft. All their clothes were lost in the blaze. Mr. and Mrs. Nick Heath and their three children were among those forced out of the apartment by the fire. Mrs. Nick Heath is pictured with her children Bill, Jimmie and Bobbie.

N.B. TEAM WINS FIRST PRIZE IN POTTERY SHOW—The Canadian Guild of Potters opened the annual ceramic exhibition in the Art Gallery, Toronto, with more than 100 pieces of work from the U.S. and Canada. Fine utilitarian and decorative objects were on display. Judging was done by Frieda James, interior decorator; Roddy Kenny Courtice, painter, and Florence Wyle, sculptress. Third and fourth place in the Canadian show resulted in ties. A flat blue bowl done by Erica and Kjeld Deichmann, New Brunswick husband-wife team of potters won first award; a tall blue vase by Mary Dickinson, Toronto, was second, and third place was tied with a fruit bowl by Helen Turner and a ceramic sculpture by Dora Wechsler. Fourth place was shared by Mary Dickinson with a ceramic bull figure, and Mary Battery with a casserole bowl. Dorothy Mills, (above), admires a bust by Arthur Tracy. 2773

STAGETTE NOTES

Regular meeting held on Tuesday April 20th with 15 members present. This was handicraft night and the girls spent their time making swabs for the blood clinic. Business was discussed during the work.

The Spring Frolic will be held May 7th with Sundy's orchestra.

The girls looked over the picture proofs and one was selected to be made up.

We are sorry to announce that we are losing 3 of our members. Connie Martin and Joan Wiebe have been transferred to Lethbridge and Kay Martin is going to Valhalla in the Grande Prairie country.

Erma Black will be returning to her duties in Edmonton. Erma has been relieving at the bank during Chrissie's absence. We are glad to have you Erma and hope to enjoy you at further Stagette activities.

Next meeting is educational and Dorothy Polk has invited us to her home. Girls will meet at the club room. Au Revoir.

MEAD—Born at Halifax, N.S., to Lieut. and Mrs. Bert Mead of Dartmouth, N.S., on April 10th, a son, Robert Michael, 8½ pounds.

Claysmore Clippings

Miss Betty MacMillan spent a few days this week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Golightly, Streamstown, Alberta.

Misses Esther and Marian Challman visited their mother for a few days this week.

Miss Shirley Gamble of Mannville spent last week end at the home of Miss Jackie Antrim.

The card party held at the school on April 10th was well attended despite bad roads. 8 tables of whist were played. Mrs. Bauer won ladies' 1st and Patsy Winters the consolation. For the gents P. Kershinsky won 1st and Leo Kreiter the consolation. Following lunch all enjoyed a few hours of dancing. This is the final card party for the spring season. It is hoped they will start again in the fall.

Chatsworth Chatter

How long this winter has been! Yet now it seems that spring has really arrived, for during the past few warm days, snow has sunk rapidly and hill tops are becoming bare. Roads are breaking up and travel, by any means, is difficult. Roads which were snowplowed and those having had no traffic during the winter are still practically impassable.

The disappearance of the snow is a relief to all farmers and particularly to those who are short of feed. Hauling over these roads the past month or more has been a serious problem.

Meadowlarks, robins, gophers, crows and gulls, are in plentiful evidence, proof that spring is very definitely here. No doubt crocuses will soon be out on the hillsides.

News is at a premium this week. "Nobody doin' nothin', nobody goin' no place." Must be that folks are just marking time until fields are workable.

(Thanks Scribe, very nice copy. Comp.)

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of
Allen Falgate
—who passed away April 21, 1942.
"A broken circle, a vacant chair
We seem to miss him everywhere
But in our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are ever near.
Oh, how long and sad the day
Since from earth you passed away."
—Sadly missed by loving wife and children.

Islay District Locals

(Too late for last week)

Mrs. Nellie Coombe has just returned home from a ten-day visit with her mother Mrs. Wyndham Gould who has been very poorly with a bad chest cold. She is now somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Gould have just returned from Lac La Biche where they spent some time with their daughter Laura and family.

Huge drifts and deep snows make travelling very difficult but neighbors get out from time to time to have a chat and a cup of tea.

Birds that arrived on time found conditions very trying. Spring birds are now numerous looking very forlorn and hungry.

School children are having an enforced holiday in some districts. The writer hopes roads will soon be open.

Feed is getting very scarce on many farms making conditions hard to cope with. Let's hope for a quick change in temperatures soon.

Hon. W. A. Fallow Ill

Friends will be pleased to learn that the condition of Hon. W. A. Fallow is reported as somewhat improved. Mr. Fallow was taken suddenly and seriously ill at his offices last Friday and has been a patient at the University hospital since that time.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Good of Clandonald wish to announce the engagement of their second daughter Gladys to Mr. Charles Climy of Mayerthorpe, Alberta. The wedding to take place in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Meyer after a two years' residence in Vermilion, left on Tuesday for Edmonton where they plan to reside in future. Both Mr. and Mrs. Meyer were active in several of the town's organizations, and made a host of friends who are sorry to see them leave.

Ed Corley plans to leave this Friday via Canadian National for Vancouver where he will attend the National convention of jewellers. A side trip will also be made to Victoria. Ed will be away about ten days.

Miss Ina Shaw of the elementary school staff left for Regina Wednesday to attend her sister's graduation. Miss Shaw will be away for a week and during her absence Mrs. Davidson is teaching the grades 2 and 3 room.

Mrs. Harry Martleet returned from the coast this week where she has spent the past two months visiting at the homes of her daughter Lillian and sons Ken and Charlie.

Mrs. Wm. Barr spent last week visiting at the home of her daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Nelson T. Crowell at Wadena, Sask. On the trip back she stopped off at Saskatoon and visited friends for the week end.

Miss Evelyn Jory, nurse-in-training at Lamont, spent last week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jory.

The following names were not included in the list of those giving floral tributes in memory of the late Mrs. Joseph Stewart: Mrs. Terry; Mr. and Mrs. Crocker; Mr. and Mrs. Robinson; Mr. and Mrs. Simmonson; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Pearman, Islay.

Mrs. W. A. Kibblewhite has been substituting at the high school since Easter as Miss M. Knapp has been receiving medical treatment in the hospital. It is expected that it will be a few weeks yet before Miss Knapp resumes her teaching duties.

Miss Mary Louise Knoll, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Knoll, formerly of Vermilion but now of Edmonton, left Thursday for Ann Arbor, Michigan, where she will do post-graduate work at the University of Michigan. Miss Knoll has been on the staff of the Provincial Laboratory in Edmonton for the past several months.

The A.Y.P.A. are holding a silver tea at the Rectory on Saturday, April 24th from 3 to 5.30 p.m. A very cordial invitation is issued to the ladies of the town and vicinity to come and have a cup of tea and a chat. 47-1

WOODVALE

We are sorry that last week's news missed the mail and we just hope these few items will get to Vermilion on time.

Our congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. R. Hill who celebrated their silver wedding anniversary earlier this month. Friends [illegible] [illegible] at their home for a pleasant evening [illegible] the dogs outside got into a fight. This caused the cattle to such an extent that they stampeded in all directions. It took until after daylight to dig and extricate them from the snow drifts. Hard work for everyone and according to all otherwise happy day that all will long remember.

[illegible] Wood [illegible] who has [illegible] for many years in the [illegible] River district was in [illegible] [illegible] pleased to his many friends hereabouts. He hopes to [illegible] for a real visit.

An [illegible] last Saturday took place in the evening of April 13, topped off by a weiner roast. Rather then the long expected thaw set in and the hill tops are bare at time of writing. The grass has been growing under the snow and we were surprised to see the chickens vigorously picking at already inches long grass on an open spot in the yard.

Birds seem very tame and sound so cheerful, hopping around close to the buildings for something to eat. Maybe we just appreciate them more than usual after a long winter.

Pet Fawn on Farm of Martin Kenzie

Last June Martin Kenzie who farms south of [illegible], discovered a tiny baby fawn while he was burning brush one day. The helpless little animal appeared to be abandoned and Mr Kenzie picked it up and carried it home.

The fawn was fed from a bottle and as there was no cow milking at the time, canned milk had to be purchased for the pretty little fellow. It grew and prospered, now it is shown in the above picture, full [illegible] a regular member of the Kenzie farmyard. It is a great pet of the family and a second snap taken [illegible] the deer with its front feet against Martin [illegible] feeding from a milk bottle he is holding.

The Victory Shop will close for a period of two weeks commencing Monday next, April 26th. Patrons will please take special notice of this.

A. Y. P. A.

The regular meeting of the A.Y.P.A. on April 12th was held at the home of Audrey Watts.

Jim Fooks, our president, will be away until May 20th so Len Hicks took his place and supplied the group with entertainment. Thanks Len, for a job well done.

The meeting on April 26th will be held at Shirley Davidson's.

Runs Down Coyote; Gets Tail as Trophy

Mr and Mrs. Harold Schoenmaker, while on their way to visit neighbors one evening [illegible] weeks ago, before the spring thaw started, suddenly had two coyotes appear on the road within the light from their car. Harold immediately speeded up the car and the coyotes speeded up too, being both seemingly to leave the good footing of the [illegible] plowed road, and being rather hemmed in too by the high piled snow along the roadside. One coyote finally sprang for the [illegible] of the snow bank but the car went squarely over the other. Harold couldn't stop the car as the roads were just too slippery and he was travelling too fast for the safe application of brakes, so decided to pick the animal up on the way home. Coming back later all they could find of Mr Coyote was about 8 inches off the end of his tail. How that happened is a mystery. Just to show that it was no fish story, Harold produced the evidence, and a fine bushy piece of fur it was, indicating that the whole hide would be in prime marketing condition.

Anyone producing the rest of the skin can have the tail says Harold.

Pet Deer Shot And Killed

SUBSTANTIAL REWARD OFFERED FOR INFORMATION LEADING TO CONVICTION OF KILLERS

The pet deer shown in the Standard last week was shot and killed some time on the afternoon of Tuesday April 20th, on the Wainwright highway nine miles south of Vermilion.

The deer followed Martin Kenzie out to the highway where Mr. [illegible] caught a ride into town thinking the deer would return home as it had often done before. However, the lovely pet, reared from a tiny fawn on the bottle by Mr. Kenzie, did not have a chance, it was so tame it did not run off to protect itself proving an easy prey for law-breakers. A car coming from the south with at least two men in it, shot and killed it with three shots fired from a .22 rifle probably at a distance of a very few feet.

Would anyone having any information as to who the guilty parties are please pass this information on to the local game officer George [illegible] or the R.C.M.P.

DONATION LIST FOR REWARD

A donation list to build up a substantial cash reward has been opened by $10 donations by Martin Kenzie, Chris Anderson, The Vermilion Fish and Game League and the Standard staff, for a total of $40. Other donations, large or small, may be left at the Standard office and will be gratefully acknowledged in this paper.

A meeting of lady curlers will be held on Monday May 3rd in the library room at the town hall [illegible] p.m. Will all curlers please turn out.

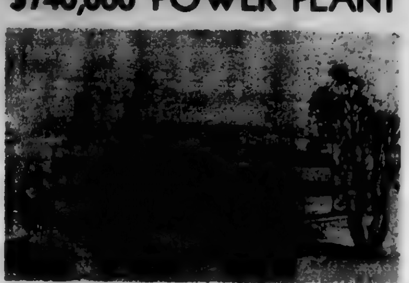
$740,000 POWER PLANT



The above is the architect's drawing of the new Canadian Utilities power plant to be built at Vermilion, a start on which has already been made by the contractor, Chester P. Lipsey. The building itself has been designed by Rule, Wynn and Rule, Edmonton architects, and will cost approximately $[illegible]. It will be of concrete blocks, stuccoed on the outside and trimmed with red brick. It is to be a fire proof building with a very minimum of wood in it, the roof is entirely fireproof. The plant will be equipped with modern plumbing, showers and locker rooms for the staff, as well as considerable office space.

It is so designed as to be capable of extension to the west when the day comes when more machinery has to be put in. The boiler room and the turbine room can be extended on west indefinitely.

The new plant will face east toward the river hill road and occupies much the same site as the old creamery, possibly a little further to the west.

FOUR TURBINES, FOUR BOILERS ALREADY AT PLANT

Four large boilers and four turbo-generators have already been unloaded at the plant site, along with a multitude of pipes, fittings and parts. These power units will form the nucleus of a plant that will cost in the neighborhood of $740,000 when completed by the fall of 1949. In addition to this the expenditures in this area will reach over a million dollars by the construction of a power line network, the first of these will be a 22,000 volt line from Vermilion through Elk Point to St. Paul. From this will be branch lines serving the villages on the C.P.R. just to the north of us, and the C.N.R. line north of that again, across the Saskatchewan river. The Vermilion plant will ultimately serve all this part of north eastern Alberta from Radway Centre through Smoky Lake to St. Paul and Bonnyville, and from Mundare to Lloydminster.

CAPACITY OF PLANT 10,000 H.P.

It is expected that this year will see the completion of the building and installation of two of the 1,800 K.W. turbo-generators. The first of these it is hoped, will be in operation by Aug. 1st. Two more will be installed in 1949 to give the plant a total capacity of 7,200 K.W. or approximately 10,000 H.P. The fully modern plant will burn natural gas from the Vermilion field.

OPERATES AT HIGH PRESSURE

The new boilers will operate at a pressure of 425 lbs. per square inch and the steam temperature leaving the boilers will be 725 degrees. This is getting up into the higher pressures. Some of the very big plants in the East go higher, but not many this size.

The feed water to the boilers will all be distilled water. Two distilling units to supply 3,000 gallons per day are being put in. This water once it gets into the system will not [illegible]. There should not be anything more than a vestige of steam coming from the plant at any time. All the drains and drips around the plant will be collected as distilling is an expensive process and none of the water will be wasted.

CIRCULATING WATER FROM VERMILION RIVER

The circulating water for cooling the condensers is quite an item. This is being picked up from the river through a six-inch line from a point just above the dam, runs through the plant and is discharged 3000 feet upstream through another pipe line. This will [illegible] the river free of ice between those two points during the winter. The line from the river will only deliver about 100 gallons per minute but each condenser requires about 3000 gallons per minute and with four of them this will mean about 10,000 gallons per minute. It is impossible to get all this water from the river so a cooling tower will be built. This will cool the water after it has passed through the condensers so that it can be used again and the 100 gallons [illegible] from the river will only [illegible] make up.

As stated before the contract for the building has been let to C.P. Lipsey of Vermilion. Haddin & Miles of Calgary are the consulting engineers and Rule, Wynn and Rule architects of Edmonton [illegible]. J. G. MacGregor, Canadian Utilities [illegible], was in charge of designing and layout of the plant.

Projector Proves Valuable Aid to School System

The Vermilion school district has purchased a valuable aid to education in the form of a moving picture projector complete with sound equipment. Although the machine, called a "Movie-Mite" has seen some use in the local classrooms, its potentialities as an aid to instruction have barely been scratched.

The sound film carries the pupil to distant lands, different climates and new surroundings. It brings great industries and complex commercial processes to the classroom, allows the pupils to examine each step and, at the same time, explains that which is being seen.

By sound pictures the work of the best laboratories and of the costliest equipment is available at very slight expense, lengthy scientific experiments and complex natural processes, representing months of patient effort are demonstrated in a few minutes.

The animated diagram occupies a unique place, as has been demonstrated in wartime instruction as an aid to instruction, for it takes apart and examines in minutest detail the most complex mechanical operations, the most difficult physical and chemical processes.

The staff and school board feel well satisfied that this purchase is well worth while as an addition to up-to-date educational equipment. Great credit is due to the prompt action by the Divisional Secretary J. R. [illegible] in securing one of the last machines available before the shut-off in supply due to import restrictions.

R. G. Urquhart accompanied by John Dale of Kitscoty spent the first half of the week at Calgary attending a convention of Ford dealers. The trip was made by car.

Boil Well Water For 15 Minutes

Dr. A. Ben King, M.H.O. for the town advises that all well water should be boiled 15 minutes before using. Surface water has found its way into most of the wells and the boiling precaution is necessary to prevent a possible outbreak of disease.

Marie Campbell Injured

Little Marie Campbell, 4½ year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Campbell of Clandonald, received a bad cut on her forehead Tuesday evening when she was kicked by a cow. Marie was attempting to emulate her daddy at milking at the time of the accident. She was brought to Vermilion for medical attention.

"GREEN ACRES"

PACKAGE BEES

One of these days the bees will arrive from California and every beekeeper should be ready for them. It is important that the packages are neither chilled or overheated — 60 to 70 degrees is about right. Also the hive should be warmed artificially if the weather is cold. Blankets, tar paper etc. over and around the hives help to keep the hive warm.

FORAGE CROP SEED

Orders are still being taken for Alfalfa, Brome and Sweet Clover seed from Government stocks. It is reported that Certified Brome, that is Brome certified as being free from couch grass, is now almost exhausted for the season. The best insurance against a feed shortage is a good acreage of tame grass mixed with Alfalfa. A new circular on seeding forage crop seeds is now available at your D.A. office.

OFFICE ROUTINE

Some people of late seem to say that I should be at my office all day and every day but this is not [illegible]. My district is 65 miles square and I am expected to serve all parts of it equally. As soon as the roads are passable again I will be away from headquarters all the time. I usually try however to be at my office on Saturday afternoons.

BABY CHICKS

When baby chicks get chilled, even for a few hours diarrhoea often develops and chicks become [illegible] unthrifty. About 90 degrees is found to be the best temperature but the best plan is to watch the action of the chicks and regulate the temperature accordingly.

DR. L. H. NEWMAN

The Dominion [illegible] Dr. L. H. Newman has retired after [illegible] Canadian Agriculture for [illegible] years. It was my privilege [illegible] institution on grain varieties from Dr. Newman many years ago. On his retirement I wish to add my small tribute to him along with all the others across Canada.

FEED SUPPLIES

It would appear [illegible] now exhausted [illegible] that the few cars brought in to Vermilion will carry the stock through to [illegible] grass. The feed shortage here has been a great worry to stock [illegible] but I [illegible] learned [illegible] in Australia [illegible] would not [illegible] are buying grain [illegible] this year but there are quite a few that I am still waiting on to place their orders.

E. H. Buckingham, D.A.

N. C. O. Course Completed At The Armouries

MEMBERS OF VERMILION COMPANY GRADUATE

Sunday afternoon last was the occasion of a banquet at the Boston cafe to mark the end of one of a series of N.C.O. courses being conducted by the Reserve Army. Present were Mr. A. B. Kaiser chairman of the Citizens' committee, Lt. L. M. Donnelly, O.C. A Coy., Loyal Edmonton Regiment, Sgt. Major A. E. Moore, Sgt. J. Rudd and the following successful graduates: T. W. Chapman, J. Fooks, G. G. Willmer, J. E. Currah, G. R. Webb, R. J. Reid and E. Haskell.

The course began with a two-day series of lectures in the Prince of Wales armouries, Edmonton, March 6th to 7th. Men from all other companies of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment also took part. The remainder of the course was conducted at the Vermilion armouries, Sgt. Maj. A. E. Moore and Sgt. J. Rudd being the capable instructors. Sunday April 25th brought the examinations which were held after the banquet. The successful completion of this course qualifies the graduating members as confirmed N.C.O.'s.

Death of Mrs. Ben Johansen at Viking

WAS FORMER VERMILION LADY: FUNERAL HERE SATURDAY

Mrs. Ben Johansen (nee Ethel G. McLean) aged 39 years passed away at Viking Tuesday afternoon April 27. She was a former Vermilion girl the daughter of Mrs. Hugh McLean and the late Mr. Hugh McLean. The deceased attended high school in Vermilion and for many years made her home with her cousin Mr. and Mrs. Duff McGrath of Tolland.

She leaves her husband and one son Hugh to mourn her loss.

The funeral service at the church will be held at Viking and the body will be brought to Vermilion for interment in the local cemetery. A graveside service will be held Saturday May 1st at 2 o'clock in the afternoon from Moyer's Funeral Home.

Funds Are Necessary For Cemetery Work

$2.00 PER GRAVE ASKED

The Vermilion Cemetery board is desirous of continuing the very desirable work done at the cemetery during the past few summers by the hiring of a full time caretaker. In order to continue this work additional funds are required and a charge of $2 per grave is being asked. Besides ensuring [illegible] care for the grave designated [illegible] general care for the whole cemetery. The $2 will be an annual fee.

[illegible] should call Russel Moyer at 152 at once so that [illegible] can get underway at the earliest possible moment. Mr. Moyer [illegible] the Cemetery board.

"FARMERS' DAY" THURSDAY, MAY 6

FREE SHOW, LUNCH, AND DEMONSTRATIONS

George Webb and Ian Lawrence will be hosts to all farmers at a free entertainment next Thursday afternoon May 6th. The program commences at 2 p.m. at the Columbia theatre where [illegible] film will be shown. E. H. Buckingham, district agriculturist, will address the audience.

A free lunch will be served and a display and demonstration of the latest type of farm machinery given. The new [illegible] equipment will also be shown in actual operation.

George, Lawrence and staff want all farmers and their families to be their guests on this occasion.

Save Pigs from Watery Grave Near Dewberry

Eight nearly marketable pigs were saved from a watery grave by Alvin and Shorty Isert on their dad's farm [illegible] Dewberry this week. Water was running so fast and deep that the pigs although trying desperately to reach high land could not make it. They [illegible] tried several times to rescue. Alvin and Shorty realizing the plight of the animals plunged into icy water nearly four feet deep and managed to get [illegible].

EMERGENCY AUTO SERVICE

May 24th Sports Cancelled for 1948

At a meeting held Monday evening the executive of the Vermilion Amateur Athletic association decided to cancel the May 24th sports for 1948. Decision was made in view of the fact that the Governor-General of Canada will be an official visitor to Vermilion on the day following, May 25th, and a very extensive program, requiring the help and co-operation of everyone has been planned for that occasion.

The sports will be held on May 24th, 1949, as usual.

PASTEURIZATION BY-LAW APPROVED

Electors of the Town of Vermilion approved the Pasteurization by-law at the poll on Monday. The vote resulted in 151 being in favor, 65 opposed and 1 spoiled ballot. The by-law required 60% of the vote to carry.

The vote cast was very small as there were approximately 1000 eligible to cast ballots. This was no doubt due to the fact that the only retail outlet for milk in town, the Vermilion City Dairy pasteurizes all milk sold, and this has been the case for the past several years.

Prov. Fire Official Inspects Schools

PUPILS EVACUATE BUILDING IN RECORD TIME

The Provincial Fire Inspector, Mr. Bedard, visited the public school on Thursday morning, together with Fire Chief Conboy and Russell Carroll, the secretary of the V.F.D.

Without signifying their intentions to any of the staff they rang the fire alarm with gratifying results. From the four floors (one grade was in the basement viewing a health film) 380 pupils from 8 rooms were evacuated within 60 seconds. This, Mr. Bedard stated, is a record for a school of this size. All pupils marched out quietly and in an orderly manner. Mr. Bedard complimented the staff on the training and discipline of the children.

During the balance of the morning the school pupils saw three films dealing with fire prevention and safety measures.

Information Desired re: Otto Strig

Information is sought by J. W. G. Morrison, K.C., of the whereabouts of one Otto William Larsen Strig who with his wife lived in the Vermilion district in 1927 or 1928. Any news of him will be appreciated.

Manager Charlie Eppler and several of his men of the Dominion Construction Co. have arrived back and are now busy preparing to commence activities on the water and sewer lines.

Additional Sittings of the District Court

Arrangements have now been made for additional sittings of the District Court at Vermilion for the purpose of hearing applications for Citizenship papers, completing oaths of allegiance, Declarations of Renunciation and delivery of Citizenship Certificates, also for hearing Chamber Applications. The dates set for those sittings are as follows:

Tuesday, April 27th.
Tuesday, June 29th;
Monday, Sept. 13th
Tuesday, Nov. 9th.

These sittings are arranged in order to relieve the congestion at the regular sittings as it has been found that hearing applications for citizenship papers held up the hearing of court cases and chamber applications. (It would be well for interested persons to clip these dates for future reference.)

"Search for Talent" Radio Finals In Edmonton May 8

A jam-packed Edmonton arena seems assured for the finals of the greatest search for talent that has ever been conducted in Northern Alberta. 27 towns and 27 contestants will be represented in the Grand Finals ready to go on stage at Edmonton arena on Saturday, May 8th. It will be the final wind-up to a tour that started, under the joint auspices of the Edmonton Club of Associated Canadian Travellers and radio station CFRN, back on Oct. 6th, 1947, and concluded its last district show at Morinville Saturday, April 24th.

One of the most versatile and varied parades of amateur talent ever to appear in Northern Alberta is promised those attending the finals in Edmonton. Violin players, cowboy orchestras, pianists, vocalists, dancers—all will be competing for the merchandise and cash prizes arranged for the show. Contestant prizes include a Connor washer, Lane cedar chest, Philco mantel radio, and $50 in cash. In addition the Associated Canadian Travellers pay the travelling expenses of the contestants to and from Edmonton.

Ruth Beatty is the winner from the district show held here, and will be carrying to Edmonton the best wishes of a host of friends. It is learned that several district people are planning to attend the show to support the local favorite. Coupons for the Grand Final show in Edmonton are being sold locally here by the Secretary of the Elks club, Russell Carroll, at the Nelson Hill hardware.

University Week for Farm Young People

The 13th annual Farm Young People's week is to be held at the University of Alberta from June 3rd to 10th.

Full details of the course are soon to be circulated by the Department of Extension.

A new feature of the competitions held in connection with the course will be a Farmstead Planning competition.

Three prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be offered by United Grain Growers Ltd., for the best set of sketch plans of the layout of fields, buildings and shelterbelts of a typical half section farmstead. Students entering this competition may locate the farmstead in any part of Alberta, but must state the location on the plan. Sketch plans must be prepared and answers to supplementary questions on farmstead planning answered, during a 3 hour examination period.

Prevention and Cure

Recalling the ages during which the sick were treated as objects of horror and disease was shunned, public health authorities at Ottawa stress the modern approach to illness—study treatment and, most of all prevention, where possible. Since most disease can be cured, the Department of National Health and Welfare reminds Canadians that prompt medical attention is the answer to disease. The department also issues a reminder that the more we forestall disease the less we will have to cure it.

Vermilion, Alberta, April 29th, 1948

AND WE THOUGHT WE WERE IN ALBERTA! —

"Snow is general over province" reads headline on Monday's Journal, but nary a flake within a good many miles of Vermilion and district. Vermilion weather area takes quite a beating as a general rule from the weather prognosticators but without floods and without this week's snowfall this is the favored spot in the west this week.

VALLEY FLOODED

The Vermilion river valley on Saturday and Sunday reached its highest flood level and resembled a huge river, the water spread across the entire bottom of the big valley reaching about the same height or a little higher than in 1943. Marks were recorded on the buttresses of the bridge at that time. The level of the water has now subsided considerably.

Weather could be warmer and only slow progress towards spring can be claimed. Country roads are reported in impassable shape and washouts will be quite the commonplace event.

Flood conditions in Alberta are the most widespread and severe in the history of the province.

Washouts are reported on nearly every railway line. The CNR transcontinental was forced to use this line until a washout occurred on it on the other side of Lloydminster, now it goes around through Hanna.

The usual placid Vermilion river also got into the limelight when it did all sorts of nasty things to Vegreville, overflowing its banks and running rampant through that town.

Films for Columbia Delivered by Air

Transportation difficulties due to flood conditions were responsible for failure of the films for the Columbia reaching here Wednesday. Bound to give their patrons uninterrupted service Pihlo and Son traced the films to Edmonton where they had [illegible] connections. How to get them down was the next problem. This was solved by a call to Western Airmotive who agreed to pick up the film and fly them down to Vermilion Wednesday afternoon. This was done, the plane landed on the Vermilion airfield, and the show went on as usual that night.

Fewer Attending Alberta Schools

Alberta's school population last year was 12,132 less than 10 years ago, according to the annual report of the Department of education.

While the school enrolment has been dwindling for some years, the officials expect that it will show improvement this year with an increase in Grade one attendance.

The annual report revealed that enrolment in all grades in the province at June 30, 1947, was 155,817. This was an increase of 62 over the previous year. At June 30, 1937, the total school population hit the high mark of 167,950.

Officials said Friday there has been a steady increase in high school enrolment. At the end of June last year, students in high school grades numbered 21,774, compared with 20,936 the year before and 19,225 in 1937.

In the intermediate grades, enrolment last June was 27,922 as against 34,376 in 1946 and 29,686 in 1937. The heaviest drop was in the elementary grades which fell from 106,267 in 1937 to 96,251 in 1946 and to 96,221 in 1947.

A very enjoyable whist drive and dance was held in St. Patrick's hall April 23rd. Roads were almost impassable but a large crowd attended. Winners were Annie and Katie Shrenkowich, Joyce Cooper, David Attfield, Ernest Mayowski, Dan McGillivray. The music was supplied by the Mulgrew brothers and Kevin O'Rourke. The young people who sponsored this dance are to be congratulated on the fine [illegible] they provided. Keep up the good parties.

Mr and Mrs Bell and daughter of Yellowknife are guests of Mr and Mrs Joe Allen. The trip as far as [illegible] was made by plane and from there to Chadmouth by train, then by car to Attfields driven by Cliff [illegible] while Ernie relayed them the rest of the way by team and sleigh.

Bad roads are not news because we have them everywhere. John Mulgrew will have his new tractor well broken in before spring work starts as he is pulling a good many cars out of the mud with it. The water is running fully 2 feet deep over the bridge at Shaw's corner?

Healthful Personality

The health factor in personality is the theme of [illegible] by the health authorities of the Department of National Health and Welfare. They point out that a pleasing personality pre-supposes tip-top health. The fit person is more likely to be cheerful, full of life, and, above all tactful, the doctors say. Hence health is essential for success in human relations.

MAX, THE ALLIGATOR, ONE OF THE FAMILY PETS, HAS HIS POINTS

BERLIN.—In the Reichelt family, they sleep three to a bed — Poppa Reichelt, Momma Reichelt and Max, who happens to be an alligator.

Mr and Mrs Emil Reichelt have other pets — dogs, cats, snakes, rabbits and monkeys—but it is only the six-foot, 150-pound alligator that slept with them every night last winter.

The 25-year-old Max was singled out for this privilege because otherwise, say his owners, he would have died of the cold.

"He is a most reliable alligator," says Reichelt. "He's completely clean. He never snores coughs or [illegible]."

It is only in the morning that Max gets restless. He tosses back and forth until he gets a piece of cake. Reichelt thinks he inherited his taste for sweets from his American parents, who brought him into the world in New Orleans in 1922.

Otherwise Max's tastes are simple. He lives on three to four pounds of spoiled meat a day.

"Where could you find such an economical pet like my Maxie?" asks Reichelt. "He eats meat which stinks like the pestilence and never even gets stomach cramps."

At night, Reichelt relaxes in his easy chair with Max on his lap. Poppa Reichelt smokes a pipe. Max chews a pipe. Max needs a new pipe every month.

Max once went after another member of the household, a hen named Minna. But that mother of eight squawked so loudly and pecked so fiercely the alligator lost heart.

Max has one frustration, [illegible] reports. He loves a Javanese monkey named Susi. He sits for hours before her cage just staring. She spits at him.

EARNED RIGHT TO TRAVEL FIRST CLASS

CARDIFF, Wales.—Every working day for 71 years, 83-year-old Stuart Goodfellow made the seven-mile journey between his home in Caerphilly and Cardiff, adding nearly £1,500 ($6,000) to railway revenues. Now retired, he may travel first-class to any part of Britain at third-class fares.

Prince Rupert Mayor Chosen As 1948's "Woman Of The Year"

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. — Nora Arnold, Prince Rupert's woman mayor, was advised she has been chosen "Woman of the Year" by the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

A telegram received by Mayor Arnold from Hilda Cryderman of Vernon club treasurer read: "Congratulations to the woman of the year. We are very proud of you and what you are doing and congratulate the Prince Rupert club on their first president's record."

Mrs. Arnold is honorary president of the Prince Rupert Business and Professional Women's Club.

GARDEN NOTES

Space Is Important

After the first planting is up the next major job is thinning and spacing. This is vital work and applies to either flowers or vegetables. Crowded flowers will grow thin and spindly, will not bloom freely and the biggest plants will topple over in the first storm. They should have half as much room between as they will grow tall. This means about four or five inches for things like nasturtiums, less for alyssum, much more for tall marigolds, cosmos or spider plants.

With the smaller vegetables, a couple of inches between plants is sufficient. This applies to leaf lettuce, early carrots, beets, etc. Beans and peas should have from four to six inches between plants and as all the seed usually germinates it should be planted about this far apart. Rows should be from fifteen inches to two feet apart. Corn is usually planted from three to six seeds to a hill, about eighteen inches apart each way or rows two to three feet apart. Tomato plants require at least eighteen inches each way, melons, squash and cucumbers three plants to a hill and hills about two to three feet apart.

Second And Third Plantings

Too much stress cannot be laid on continuous planting of the standard vegetables like lettuce, radish, beans, carrots, beets, corn, etc. All of these will taste much better when they just begin to reach proper maturity. Most of them, especially the beans, lettuce, corn and such things begin to get tough if left too long. The only way to assure a proper succession is to keep planting them. It is far better, old gardeners say, to have several rows of them coming on two weeks apart than all at one time. In most parts of Canada it is quite possible to keep planting many vegetables right up to mid July.

[illegible]

Best protection against pests is a healthy fast-growing, clean garden. Cultivation and fertilizer will help in this. Second defense is to be ready with the proper sprays and dusts the instant a bug or disease attack starts.

LEAGUE of CANADA — presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

FLUORINE ENEMY OF DENTAL DECAY

The "new ray of hope" in the dental profession's fight to lessen tooth decay is fluorine, it was stated by the Canadian Dental Association in a message to the Health League of Canada issued in connection with the recent national Health Week observance.

The statement says that if water supplies can be mechanically artificially fluorinated with the required amount of fluorine without harmful results, we can look forward to a gratifying lessening in the future in the prevalence of dental decay.

Fluorine is an element that is a close relative to chlorine which latter is used in purification of water supplies. It was discovered that in localities where there is a natural supply of fluorine in the water supply (one part per million is an ideal percentage) the prevalence of dental decay was lessened by 60 per cent.

Fluorine is present in this percentage in relatively only a few places throughout the world, but experiments are now being carried out in Canada and the United States to determine if adding the required quantity by mechanical means will obtain the same result as when it is naturally present.

Study Required

It will take from five to seven years to determine this, according to the dental association statement which adds that careful scientific studies are being made to determine the action of fluorine on all parts of the body.

"This is highly important", the statement says, "because fluorine in larger doses is poisonous."

The statement lays down some rules for care of the teeth which, it says have been proven effective. Here they are:

Lessen intake of carbohydrates such as sweets, candies and foods from refined flours and sugars.

Eat the foods the body requires, making sure that they contain the necessary mineral elements for the building of sound teeth.

Starting at three years of age children should be taken to a competent dentist at frequent intervals.

WINS AWARD—Douglas Le Pan, 34 first secretary in the office of Canada's high commissioner in London, Eng., is one of six Canadians awarded fellowships by the John Simon Guggenheim memorial foundation. He will be granted one year's leave of absence from the staff to write, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs Arthur D. Le Pan of Toronto. His collection of poems, The Wounded Prince, published early this year in England, was, in the opinion of his parents, the principal reason for the award.

Canada Sells Apples To Belgian Congo

Some 800 boxes of Canadian apples arrived in the Belgian Congo early this year, and favorable comment has been made regarding their quality and packing. Their early shipment was especially appreciated as they arrived on the Belgian Congo market in March before the South African apples came and thus avoided competition.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Rufe Finds Katy

By T. W. TOBIN

RUFE LARKINS was in trouble, but he didn't know why. He knew he was in love but he didn't know that love was causing him trouble. That's what love does to people.

It was [illegible] night in the little town of [illegible]ville, and as usual Rufe had driven the twelve miles from the farm to get shaved, buy some chewing tobacco and some nails. What he really came to town for was to see Katy McCullum.

There were others there, too, farmers just like himself, in town to buy a few things and to talk crops. Rufe seldom talked crops. He'd just listen, chew his tobacco and lean up against the front of the post office which was just across the street from old Bob McCullum's hardware store where Katy worked.

Rufe was tall and thin. His face was normally sad. His eyes reminded one of a baby bloodhound.

Every Saturday night, rain or no, Rufe loaded up on [illegible] tobacco, got a barber shop shave and bought some nails. He didn't need the nails. There were plenty at home, but when he bought nails he got to talk to Katy McCullum.

"What are you going to do with all these nails, Rufe?" Katy would ask.

"Oh, I got a little fixin' up to do on the corn crib," he'd answer.

"Seems like you fixed that corn crib last month," Katy would say as she weighed out a pound or so.

"No, that was the hog pen or the windmill, I forget which."

One Saturday night, the little group in front of the post office was smaller than usual. When Rufe got there his heart seemed to stop—the hardware store was closed.

"Well, Rufe, how's things out your way?" asked Farmer Jones.

"All right, I guess. What's the matter with the hardware store?"

"Old McCullum closed up early so Katy could go to the carnival."

"Where's the carnival?" asked Rufe.

"Why, you came by it comin' to town."

"Come to think of it I did see a bunch of lights and tents at the edge of town but didn't pay any attention," said Rufe.

Rufe suddenly had business elsewhere. He turned and walked up the street to his car. He just had to see Katy, carnival or no carnival. Her smile and sweet voice made the world go around.

Minutes later he was in his car and driving back the way he had come. As he drove he chewed tobacco and thought of Katy. In his mind's eye he could see her as she always was—dark blue eyes the color of new overalls, hair a kind of sorrel color and skin the same shade as skimmed milk. Oh, she was a girl in a thousand. And polite, too.

Soon Rufe saw the lights of the carnival up ahead and turned off the road and parked his car. Before him was the carnival—music, lights, sideshows, sawdust, hot dogs and people. Funny he hadn't noticed it as he drove by before. Thinking about Katy did that.

Rufe didn't even know what he'd say to Katy when and if he saw her. His usual brand of conversation consisted in buying nails. What he'd say to her in a carnival he didn't know, but he was going to try.

"One side, fellow, and let the lady by," said a harsh voice behind him.

Rufe turned to see a city fellow, probably from the carnival with a girl on his arm. The girl was Katy.

"Why, hello, Katy," Rufe managed to mutter.

"Hello, Rufe, want to buy some nails tonight?" said Katy, giving him her best smile.

"Nails! Ha, Ha, that's a laugh," said the stranger.

"It don't seem funny to me," said Rufe.

"Come on, Katy, let's go over and see the show," said the stranger, and they disappeared in the crowd.

Rufe, not knowing what to do, [illegible] over to a stand which had a man with his head stuck through a hole in a canvas. People were throwing baseballs trying to hit him on the head. Nobody succeeded. Rufe bought some balls and tried his skill. He had thrown a few balls, all of which missed their mark, when he heard loud voices. The stand was deserted except for himself and he looked about to see who it was. Over to the side were Katy and the stranger and they seemed to be [illegible] something. Finally, Rufe heard Katy say she was going home and the stranger said she wasn't.

Rufe laid down the balls and walked over to them. "What's the matter, Katy?" he asked.

"What's it to you, 'String Bean'?" said the stranger.

"You'll find out," said Rufe. "If you don't let Katy alone."

"Oh, I will, huh?" said the stranger as he pulled out a long knife.

"Look out, Rufe, he's got a knife," said Katy.

Rufe looked at the knife and stepped forward. The stranger made a slash and Rufe stepped back minus an overall button. Rufe chewed his tobacco, sized the stranger up and down and stepped in again. This time the stranger wasn't going to miss with the knife. He started to make a slash and that was as far as he got. For suddenly he was rubbing his eyes and suddenly a fist hit him in the jaw and flattened him. Suddenly, too, the knife was taken from him.

"Rufe, you're wonderful," cried Katy as she threw her arms around the now beaming farmer, "but you shouldn't squirt tobacco juice in people's eyes. It isn't polite."

Rufe made no answer for a moment but just stood there. Suddenly he began to get paler every minute.

"What's the matter, Rufe? Did he hurt you?" asked Katy.

"No, Katy," answered Rufe, "but when you threw your arms around me like that—I swallowed my tobacco."

Government Discusses Building Railway In Northern Manitoba

OTTAWA. — Manitoba's prospective nickel-copper mines at Lynn Lake far up the western border of the province came briefly before the house of commons railways and shipping committee. R. S. Moore, C.C.F. [illegible] the possibilities of building a railway into that region in view of the active and promising mineral exploration now going on up there.

But, R. C. Vaughan, C.N.R. president, thought it a bit premature to be talking about a railway to Lynn Lake. "It's a big job," he said. "It would cost millions." The project was "some distance in the future yet."

"Then no representations have been made yet?" Mr. Moore enquired.

"No," replied Mr. Vaughan.

Such a railway, if it came, would presumably be an extension of the present line from the Hudson Bay railway to Sherridon, most northerly railway point in the western Manitoba mineral area. It would have to cross the Churchill river on its way to Lynn Lake.

FUEL COMING, HOWE HINTS— There is nothing to indicate that Canada will have to ration gasoline this year, Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of reconstruction and supply, told the house of Commons at Ottawa. "I know of no circumstance this year which makes rationing any more likely than last year or the year before," he said. "The government is taking every precaution to see that nothing interferes with the normal movement; and at the moment I do not anticipate the need for gasoline rationing next winter."

Biggest Dam Project Attempted By Canadians

By T. S. MELVILLE-NESS
Central Press Canadian

SASKATOON, Sask. — Important milestone in the giant $15-million irrigation scheme, the St. Mary-Milk River development in southern Alberta, was made recently when two crews working on the diversion tunnel met in the middle and completed the 2,100-foot project.

When the last six-foot wall was blasted out, and the smoke and dust cleared away, there were several sighs of relief. One emerged from Engineer Wally Foss, P.F.R.A. man in charge of the biggest dam project yet attempted by Canadians, and the other from the contractor who undertook the big job a year and a half ago. The two sections of the tunnel lined up almost perfectly, with scarcely an inch out either way.

Dam Completed

The work of lining the tunnel with concrete, started some time ago, will be completed this spring, and the river water diverted through the tunnel. Bed of the river, where the big dam is to be located will be drained, and the main part of the project carried out.

The diversion tunnel, which will be about 20 feet in finished diameter after lining, employed an average [illegible] men since October, 1946. The irrigation tunnel, now started, will be 2,500 feet in length, with finished diameter of 17 feet. This will carry water from the reservoir to the irrigation canal.

The St. Mary-Milk River project when completed will almost double the present irrigated area in southern Alberta, and is the largest project yet undertaken by P.F.R.A.

Upper portal of the St. Mary diversion tunnel, through which water will be flowing this spring. Bed of the river will be drained along the strip which the dam will occupy and work of the main structure will be rushed along this summer.

To Feel Right — Eat Right

Export Bacon Price Raised.

OTTAWA. — The meat board announced an increase of 25 cents per 100 pounds in the price it pays for bacon for export to the United Kingdom.

The increase applies to all grades and weights of Wiltshire sides and other export cuts. It means a price of $36.45 per 100 pounds for number one selection A grade Wiltshire sides of sizeable weights delivered Canadian seaboard.

The Board's price increase will not raise the cost of bacon to the United Kingdom, the announcement said. The Board will pay the increase out of its reserves accumulated as a result of lowered operating costs due to peacetime resumption of more regular shipments and prompter handling of bacon.

40-ton Turbine for Vermilion Plant

—Picture of 40-ton MacHeller turbine engine snapped at the intersection of Main and Dulyea on its way down to the location of the new Canadian Utilities' plant site in the Vermilion river valley just at the north edge of the town. Four of these huge turbines, each weighing 40 tons have been moved from the railway yards to the new power plant. Four big water tubeboilers, not so heavy but bulkier and actually harder to handle, have also been transported to the plant by the Pich Transport Co.

The turbine pictured above will supply 1600 k.w. and in a pinch could produce 2000k.w. These figures correspond to about 2200 horsepower and 3000 H.P. respectively. As there will be four of these the total capacity of the plant will be about 10,000 H.P. It is hoped to have the turbines and boilers on their footings before the frost goes out. The plant itself will be built around them. Expectations are for 1 boiler and 1 turbine to be in operation by Aug. 1st.

Harrison to Head Barley Institute

Prof. T. J. Harrison, Assistant for Manitoba to the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada, has resigned to accept a position as head of the new Barley Improvement Institute to start operations this year.

His resignation is effective from May 1st.

Prof. Harrison for the last two years has also been chairman of the National Barley contest committee which organized and carried out the $36,000 barley competitions of 1946 and 1947, sponsored by the brewing and malting industries.

The new Barley Improvement Institute, now being incorporated, is also sponsored by the brewing and malting industries of Canada. Approximately $710,000 has been made available for the next five year period.

Answer the worlds' need and we won't have to oppose or oppose the other fellow's answer.

In The Legislature

BY W. R. CORNISH, M.L.A., VERMILION CONSTITUENCY.

The present session of the Alberta legislature was prorogued on Wednesday morning March 31st, after a rather lengthy and very busy session. Considerable legislation and a number of resolutions were dealt with in the last days of the session.

PENSIONS

A number of changes were made in existing legislature dealing with pensions which now makes it possible for both employers and employees to contribute to a fund from which pensions will be paid upon retirement of the employees. This can be applicable to any employer and employee set up. A Teachers Retirement Pension fund change enables them to take advantage of the provisions of the general pension legislation.

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE

A number of changes modifying the Automobile Accident and Indemnity Act were passed where a person is obviously not responsible for an accident, his driver's license will not be cancelled, and if he deposits a sum of money or a bond covering damages for which he may be liable his license will not be cancelled. If a driver has to pay damages because of guilt in case of an accident it will not be necessary for him to take out an insurance policy for future protection if he prefers to do otherwise. Cars from outside the province involved in an accident may be impounded in order to protect injured Albertans, where the responsibility lies with the foreign car. In the past it was not possible for local citizens to take action on people outside the province.

A special committee of the Legislature has been named, consisting of Hon. Mr Hooke, H Hammell of Didsbury, and H P MacDonald of Calgary which will make an exhaustive survey before the next session of the House on all phases of automobile insurance.

A resolution was passed in the House, requesting the Federal government to adopt immediately whatever measures may be necessary to bring permanent and reserve armed forces to full strength in view of the present serious world situation.

C.C.F. RESOLUTION

A resolution was introduced by the C.C.F. asking the government to introduce legislation which would allow the Canadian Wheat Board to handle all coarse grain. This request has been [illegible] by the Dominion Government but only to the three prairie provinces. It may be remembered that the Canadian Wheat Board is not an agent of the provinces but is an agent of the Dominion Government. This would mean that the Dominion Government, [illegible] likely represented by Ontario and Quebec, would have a distinct advantage over the western farmers. Ontario and [illegible] sell their grain on the open market and then buy coarse grains from the Canadian Wheat Board at a lower [illegible]. [illegible] Alberta Government [illegible] can be [illegible] from the Dominion [illegible] legislation [illegible] Ontario and Quebec [illegible] the same legislation. If it is found necessary a special session will be called to deal with this [illegible].

INQUIRY INTO GAS PRICES

Another resolution asked for a public enquiry of all gasoline products and [illegible] prices. [illegible] Canada [illegible] Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, [illegible] Calgary [illegible] in the country [illegible] higher costs [illegible] prices of [illegible]. [illegible] they are entitled.

On behalf of the readers of the Standard I extend my thanks to the Editor.

High Living Costs

DURING THE PAST YEAR there has been considerable concern over the rising cost of living in Canada. Such conditions as now exist were to be expected after price controls and other anti-inflation measures, enforced during the war, were removed. It was inevitable that these controls should be removed, but it is regrettable that the resulting adjustment is proving a difficult one for many Canadians. Recently the Family Welfare Division of the Canadian Welfare Council made a survey throughout the Dominion of the effects of rising living costs on the average Canadian family, and the results of this survey show that there is indeed cause for anxiety over some aspects of this problem. Although incomes have increased and there is little unemployment, it was evident from the report that many families are experiencing great difficulty in meeting present price levels.

* * * * *

Feel A Lack Of Security As a result of this situation, the Welfare Council reported in many cases savings, which had been put aside for emergencies or for use in later years, had been drawn upon to augment the family income at this time. The use of these reserves and inability to continue any systematic savings because of the high cost of living has given rise to feelings of insecurity which are harmful to the welfare of the family. In this connection the report said in part "the never-ending struggle to stretch an inadequate income to meet basic costs will in time be frustrating to even the most stable men and women, increasing family tensions, affecting health and in some cases endangering the security of children and aged people."

* * * * *

Low Standards Of Nutrition It was also noted that in some cases debt is becoming an increasing problem while in others the high cost of living is causing standards of nutrition to be lowered with results that are already noticeable in children, and in sufferers from diseases such as diabetes where adequate diets are of great importance. The re-establishment of some price controls, unemployment insurance, family allowances and other similar measures were pointed out as possible "shock absorbers" in relieving the present situation, but it is realized that underlying causes will have to be dealt with before there can be any permanent improvement. The problem is a complex one resulting from the economic upheaval which always accompanied war. Canada has been more fortunate than many other countries in this respect, but the situation here is nevertheless serious, and it is to be hoped that an early adjustment may be found to the present high price levels in this country.

Duke Of Windsor As Drummer Boy

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va.—The Duke of Windsor after 20 years, played a repeat performance here with the Greenbrier hotel orchestra.

He sat in at the drums using a pair of sticks presented him by leader Meyer Davis, as the musicians played "How Are Things in Glocca Morra."

Davis called the duke to the orchestra stand during an intermission in a diamond ball held as feature of a gala week-end party attended by more than 300 leaders of business, government, society, the motion picture world and sports.

The group, described by veteran society reporters as the largest gathering of the so-called "top drawer" in their experience, were the guests of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, owners of the Greenbrier.

NEW TB TREATMENT

CANBERRA.—Combining a new drug, streptomycin, and new rest therapy, eight young doctors here report staggering successes in treatment of TB. In the last year about 95 per cent of the patients treated (mostly veterans) were cured.

Residents of the Pacific islands once sailed their large canoes long distances using charts composed of leaf strips in rectangular frames.

Farmers Dugouts By Thousands

In the 12 years from 1935 to 1947, prairie farmers constructed 27,916 dugouts. Assistance in the cost of these dugouts was given by the Dominion Government and averaged $105 each.

Of the total 18,228 dugouts were completed in Saskatchewan, 8,298 in Manitoba, and 1,372 in Alberta. Construction of dugouts reached its peak in the year 1946-47 when 4,945 were built. This was a little better than one hundred times as many as the 40 that were built in the 12 months of 1935-36, the first period of operations under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act.

A typical dugout to hold a year's supply of water generally measures 100 feet in length, about 60 feet wide at the top and from 10-12 feet in depth. The capacity runs between 280,000 and 390,000 imperial gallons. Allowing for evaporation and seepage, this means an effective capacity of 200,000 to 240,000 gallons.

Dugouts may be excavated by horse-drawn, tractor-drawn or heavy earth moving equipment. They require no engineering skill other than careful selection of a site where water is likely to collect from the spring run-off of snow. While the usual purpose of the dugout is stock watering, it can also be used for household purposes and to irrigate gardens.

The widespread use of dugouts on prairie farms has greatly improved living conditions and helped to solve production problems where water from wells is either impossible to obtain, or unsuitable, or too costly to develop.

Switzerland Worried Over Canadian Trade

OTTAWA.—Little Switzerland is worried about her trade with Canada. Government sources said the Swiss have notified the Canadian Government they are worried about this country's dollar-saving trade restrictions. These were put into effect last November and operate against the Swiss as well as other countries. Switzerland has a favorable balance of trade with the Dominion.

A spokesman here said Canada has to pay in "hard" currency—U.S. dollars or Swiss francs—for what she buys from Switzerland. Because of her dwindling hard currency reserves Canada has had to step down [illegible] imports from Switzerland.

And, said the spokesman, "the Swiss don't like it."

CHAMPION GROUP OF FIVE STEERS at Edmonton Spring Show were exhibited by Milner & Steer, North Edmonton, Alta. Edmonton's 27th annual Spring livestock show drew a record entry of more than 1,600 animals and topped last year's peak proceeds of a quarter million by $25,000. More than 1,000 head of fat stock and over 100 boys and girls calves were exhibited and sold. "For quality and numbers the stock has been the best in all Canada," said Lee Williams, head of Weiler & Williams and a past president of Edmonton Exhibition Association which sponsored it.

Anticipates Heavy Immigration By Air

OTTAWA.—A heavy movement of immigrants by air to Canada this year is certain, Trade Minister Howe told the Canadian Press. The movement would be at least as great as last year.

Mr. Howe said in a statement that during the last 12 months TCA has carried 11,637 westbound passengers across the Atlantic.

The cabinet has before it suggestions for machinery to facilitate the air movement. The question it must decide is whether the Trans-Canada Air Lines will remain simply the carrier of the air-borne settlers and leave to the immigration offices overseas the sole responsibility for something the way for the immigrants.

"We are anxious that at least 50 per cent. of the immigrants come from the United Kingdom," Mr. Howe said. There was no shortage of applications from would-be immigrants.

Recent returns show that the TCA now has 16 first class Canadian-built planes available for the Trans-Atlantic run and one source has estimated such a fleet could bring over more than 20,000 immigrants in addition to looking after the regular traffic.

Cooks $2,000 Bank Roll To Ashes

SHREVEPORT, La.—A $2,000 bank roll that Travis McCreary hid in a cook stove at his home appeared perfectly safe from hold-up men.

Who would go to a cook stove looking for money?

But McCreary, a grocer at nearby Rodessa, forgot to tell his wife about his cache when he put the money in the oven while the banks were closed.

Investigation revealed a pile of parched folding money, by that time little more than ashes.

Syndicate Plans Alaska Railway

SEATTLE.—A Seattle civil engineer said he represents an eastern syndicate which is prepared to put up $200,000,000 toward the building of a railroad to Alaska.

The engineer, Willis T. Batcheller, added, however, that the United States and Canadian governments first must provide $275,000,000 to extend the British Columbia-owned Pacific Great Eastern railway as a military defence measure from Shelton Pass, B.C., to Fairbanks, Alaska.

REALLY HIGH PRICES

Apropos of high prices here, in 1780 in Boston, butter sold for $12 a pound, sugar for $10 a pound and tea for $90 a pound, due to a great decrease in the value of paper money.

Introduce New Aids To Jobless

OTTAWA.—The commons took a peek into Canada's industrial future and decided it was a good idea to make provision for any depression that may be ahead.

The chamber gave preliminary approval to two pieces of legislation aimed at easing the shock of unemployment.

One will broaden the scope of vocational training by extending it to persons who have exhausted unemployment insurance benefits and to others who have not been working at jobs covered by insurance regulations.

The other increases the maximum benefit for married persons under the unemployment insurance act from $14.40 to $18.30 a week, payment for single persons to be boosted from $12.30 to $14.40 a week.

ISLAY HOSPITAL CLAIMED OUTSTANDING EXAMPLE

RENDERS MANY EXTRA HEALTH SERVICES

(Contributed)

"A Prophet is not without honor save in his own country and in his own house". Is there not something similar in the attitude of the public to our public services?

An instance might be our lack of appreciation of the splendid services provided by the rural municipal hospitals in Alberta.

Municipal hospitals bring hospitalization to everyone in their districts at a minimum cost. Some give more services than others, but all fill an urgent need by the most satisfactory method so far devised for scattered districts. However, the case of the little hospital at Islay, Alta., is almost unique in its accomplishments and should serve as a model for every other such institution, in the opinion of the UFA and UFWA convention held in Beaverlodge.

The report of this hospital was so outstanding that the UFWA locals in the South Peace River country felt that it should receive wider publicity. Accordingly here is the report as given by A. B. Wood, Dewberry, vice-president of the UFA.

"Our municipal hospital is situated at Islay on the CNR line and is necessarily a small hospital, being only 16 miles from Vermilion and about 30 miles from Lloydminster, each of which towns has a good sized hospital. Our area is approximately 15 townships. Like all other municipal hospitals we charge $1 per day to ratepayers, which of course includes ratepayers' families who are living at home. We also include hired help.

We started in 1936 and for several years charged extra for operating room services and for any extras over usual stock drugs and dressings. Over the course of years we gradually did away with charging for extras and for a number of years the $1 per day rate covered all services obtainable in our hospital.

No matter how expensive the medicine may be ordered by the doctor, the patient receives it while in our hospital. On several occasions blood transfusions have been given and this also costs the patients nothing extra. For several years we have kept blood plasma in stock.

We have an X-ray machine and the only charge connected with it is made by the doctor for his services.

Islay is classed as a 12-bed hospital but on occasion we have had as many as 20 beds in use by making use of our own parlor and hallways.

Several years ago we entered an agreement with the four Edmonton hospitals whereby, when our doctor sends one of our ratepayers — (again that of course includes all members of the family who are entitled to the $1 per day rate, but not hired help) to Edmonton for treatment which cannot be given locally, we pay the full hospital bill and we collect $1 per day from the patient just as if the patient had been in our hospital. If you have ever seen a hospital bill from one of these hospitals with all extras added you will understand what a great saving this is to the patient. We do not pay any extra charge for private or semi-private ward accommodation. That is charged to the patient.

We have a limit of 60 days on this agreement. After 60 days the Edmonton hospital is responsible for collecting from the patient.

The reason we made that stipulation was that we were guarding against too heavy a drain on our finances. So far none of our patients have reached the 60 day limit.

A patient has these privileges only if our resident doctor sanctions removal. Naturally we could not extend the privileges to anyone who went just because he preferred an Edmonton hospital. In case of a difference between our doctor and the patient the Board calls on advice of a Lloydminster doctor. If he agrees with our doctor that the patient can be treated locally that ends the matter as far as the Board is concerned, but if he decides for the patient, we allow transfer to Edmonton and pay the bill. Emergency cases are dealt with by the Board at next meeting following the case.

For the year 1947 our agreement with Edmonton hospitals cost us just under $1600 and that was our costliest year, approximately two-fifths of a mill. The highest our mill rate has been is 4 mills.

This experience at Islay shows what can be done when co-operation is practised, also that the people in a locality can do much in health matters until such time as we have a national health scheme.

WILDMERE WINKS

As our roads are impassable the mail still has to be routed across country. From reports of other parts of the province and elsewhere we can consider ourselves lucky with just road washouts. Many homes are under water and much stock washed to their death in many parts of the province.

A dance is to be held in Rosewood school Friday May 7th. Everyone is welcome.

Laurence Graham has moved onto his farm where he will commence farming again for himself. He has worked the past year and a half, since his return from overseas for J. Wallington.

G. Gibson from Woodside, Man., is visiting his son Frank and family in Rosewood. In company with Frank he visited on Sunday at the Wallington home. Billie Smith was a visitor at the same home.

Many people are greatly worried over getting their 1947 income tax returns made out and sent in. There are no roads to town and the dead line is April 30th.

That's all for this week as news is very scarce.

Five Points W. I.

The April meeting of Five Points Women's Institute was held on the 15th at the home of Mrs. Wm. McCauley. The President was in the chair.

The attendance was small owing to the extremely bad roads.

Our Roll Call response was a recipe and sample, said samples being very good indeed.

More bazaar articles were brought in and more work given out, but owing to the condition of the roads we have not set a date for the tea and bazaar as yet, but watch for posters!

We voted $10 to the Canadian Appeal for Children and are sending for literature to help with the campaign against Cancer for northern Alberta.

As our own delegate to the District No. 2 convention in Edmonton who by the way was our President Mrs. Smith, was called to Regina by the death of a relative, and unable to officiate as our delegate, a report was brought to this meeting by Mrs. Chas. Finlay, the delegate from Happy Centre in the Vegreville constituency. Mrs. Finlay is well versed in the Institute work as a whole, being convener in her Constituency and was able to give a very full and comprehensive report for which we were very grateful.

The quilt made by the Hamilton Junior Red Cross under the supervision of their teacher Mrs. Donald Lugg was raffled at this meeting, the lucky ticket holder being our hostess.

We were pleased to have with us again our old member Mrs. John te Kampe who spent the winter at her old home in Holland. This was her first meeting since her return.

After adjournment our hostess served an excellent lunch.

Yet to be considered by the House of Commons are bills to permit the [illegible] of oleo-margarine in Canada. Senator Euler introduced one such bill into the Senate, and James Sinclair, M.P. for Vancouver North introduced a similar bill into the House of Commons.

Letters to the Editor

(This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

Dewberry, Alta., April 26, 1948

Dear Editor:

A [illegible] comment and hear a [illegible] tale about the increased [illegible] the Vermilion River municipality I hope you will permit me [illegible] your paper to air my views.

[illegible] will continue to climb unless [illegible] willing to make sacrifices. As [illegible] snow plowing of roads in the winter time, farmers of today should not expect roads to be plowed to feed lots. I have in mind a section of the road from Islay to Clandonald (Vermilion road). The local bulldozer was put into use trying to clear this portion. The reason for clearing was for school busses and to allow horse-drawn vehicles to be able to haul feed over it. We have had the same experience in the Dewberry country, but instead of wasting the taxpayers' money on a very costly job of opening the road on the road allowance, roads have been opened through the adjacent fields, much more easily and more quickly done at much less cost. One of the best "Cat" tractor men employed by the M.D. was taken off the Islay to Clandonald job and replaced because he knew the costly expense of opening up that section. The result is that now the bulldozer was put out of commission trying to do that job.

A road through the field would serve just as well in the winter time under such conditions. People have to be more satisfied, we have to draw the line somewhere and until we do taxes are going to continue to rise.

The hiring of Mr. Currie as road supervisor should prove of some assistance. Roads and machinery are costing our taxes wholesale. Road problems should and can be remedied by the [illegible] before they become impossible.

Announce New Crop Share Payment Plan Under V. L. A.

Veterans living in the spring wheat areas of Alberta who are settled as full-time farmers under the Veterans' Land Act this month received details of the recently approved Crop Share Payment Plan, giving them the option of paying for their farms on the basis of their yearly crop yield.

Under the new arrangement, the veteran can give to VLA, instead of the usual cash payments, one-half of his crop in excess of 6 bushels per acre per year. Even if the crop should exceed 18 bushels per acre, the veteran has the right to keep his payments to a maximum of 6 bushels per acre per year.

It is estimated that approximately 800 veterans on VLA farms in this province are eligible to come under this crop payment plan.

The underlying principal of the plan is protection of the veteran farmer whose main income is from the production of wheat. It recognizes the variations in yields that are bound to occur from year to year due to varying climatic conditions and other hazards. At the same time, there is nothing contained in the details of the crop payment plan which adds to or lessens the responsibilities or the protection of the veteran as provided by VLA. All that it does is to vary the terms of repayment in accordance with the annual yields of wheat crops in lieu of the ordinary fixed annual cash instalments.

Briefly, the plan works out as follows: Firstly, the veteran agrees to seed not less than one-half of his cultivated acreage to wheat. A lesser acreage may be accepted depending on the long term wheat yields of the particular district. PFA officials will work closely with VLA in giving rulings on this point.

Secondly, in each year the veteran retains the first six bushels of wheat per acre for his own use. In years when the yield is 6 bushels or less no delivery to VLA is required. If the yield is over 6 bushels per acre the veteran delivers one-half of the wheat crop up to 18 bushels per acre, which equals 6 bushels. Any delivery in excess of 6 bushels per acre is entirely up to the veteran.

The effect of this plan is that in lean years no payment or delivery of grain is required, yet the veteran's contract with VLA will not go into arrears as payments that would otherwise fall due in such years will be set back to the terminating date of his purchase agreement. On the other hand, it does not prevent the veteran from making prepayments, so that as well as protecting the veteran in years of low wheat yields, it should result in him paying for his farm in much less than the normal 26 years.

ISLAY

Floods are the topic of conversation these days. The slough between Dune Carey's and Stewart Campbell's (Beecroft farm) is over the road, yes, over the fence, and the full width of the slough. Last Saturday night Mary McFadyen was offering the young [illegible] a thrill of a ride across in their car for 5c a ride. Don't know of any who accepted. Town roads are quite dry now.

Mr. R. Martin returned from a city hospital Tuesday and is now in the Islay hospital.

Bill Shaw was a week end visitor to the city. Mrs. McNeely and Mrs. Falls are also in the city, Mrs. Falls is having eye treatments.

Keep in mind May 7th. The Streamstown players will present one of their plays "Maid of Money" a two-hour play in the Islay hall, commencing at 8.30 p.m. sharp. Some who have seen this play as presented in Marwayne report it exceptionally good, and plan to come in and see it again.

The school is preparing for the Festival. This is a very fine piece of educational work and a part of our school course now. Parents should encourage their children in the parts they are taking in it. Some children are perhaps a bit shy about participating, a little enthusiasm from the home folk goes a long way in helping, and after a time the children feel quite easy and comfortable before an audience.

The slough north of town between George and Gordon McFadyen's is doing its bit too in flooding the country, quite a lake there they say.

1947 Farm Cash Income

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports the 1947 preliminary estimate of Alberta farm cash income from the sale of farm products, including government payments to be $347,212,000 (1946, $300,466,000). The total for Canada amounted to $2,002,196,000 (1946, $1,709,832,000). This is the highest on record for the Dominion.

Ontario led the provinces, Saskatchewan was second and Alberta third.

MODERATION

... THE WISDOM OF MATURITY

True, we are a young country. In less than a century we have risen from colonial youth to nationhood of a stature enjoyed by no other people of our numbers.

Canada has earned this. Through the years we have kept our sense of values ... been moderate in our pleasures ... moderate in our thinking.

Today, we continue to bear ourselves with the self-respect of a moderate people. We are moderate in our spending, in our thinking ... moderate in our pleasures ... moderate in all things.

We are young, yes. But we have come of age, for moderation is the wisdom of maturity.

Men who Think of Tomorrow Practice Moderation Today!

Letters to the Editor

(This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

To the Editor,
Vermilion Standard
Dear Sir:

The elections in the M.D. of Vermilion River No. 71 are over and the Council of seven, including five new members, has taken office. So we now have the New Deal that seemed to be so necessary if one is to believe the statements made in the campaign literature put out in Division 4.

My purpose, Mr. Editor, in writing this letter is to deal with some of the innuendoes and half-truths circulated throughout the municipality, much to the disparagement of the previous council and which seems to be entirely uncalled for in a one division campaign. I refer first to the following: "A vote for Mr Gordon is a vote for a return to sanity in public spending and a consequent stabilization of Municipal Tax rates." Mr Gordon is, I believe, a member of the Islay hospital board and a former councillor and therefore knows, or ought to know, that the Council has no control over school and hospital requisitions and therefore must levy a mill rate sufficient to bring in the required amount of money. School requisitions are up again this year so the mill rate must be advanced in spite of Mr. Gordon's ideas on stabilization. Except in the Lloydminster hospital district, hospital mill rates will remain the same or be raised in some cases. Since school and hospital requisitions are beyond the control of the Council the only place the Council can bring about the so-called "return to sanity in public spending" is in the municipal field.

The municipal mill rate in 1947 was 15 mills, which is not out of line with other large units, (Wainwright 17 mills and Leduc 21 mills for municipal purposes). After deducting the amount required for Administration, Protection to Persons and Property, Public Welfare and Contingencies, there will probably be about 10 mills left for Public Works. With the ratepayers demanding car roads the year round, with oil trucks and other heavy vehicles and tractors tearing up the roads, and with Mr Gordon himself promising more and better roads, I fail to see how the municipal mill rate can be stabilized at its present rate without curtailing the public works program. The insinuation that there was a lack of sanity in public spending on the part of the previous council still remains to be proven.

I will now deal with another statement circulated throughout the municipality in the last issue of the Standard before the election which of course allowed no opportunity for a reply. I quote, "The record of the Vermilion River municipality has not been one that we can be particularly proud of, Court Actions, Administrators, Plebiscite, Dismissal of Councillors, a series of deficits and the recent resignation of two of our Councillors could not possibly add up to a healthy state of affairs." Signed by Chairman, Campaign Committee, telephone 14, Islay, which is Mr I D [illegible]

I maintain that practically all the troubles mentioned in the above quotation can be placed squarely on the Department of Municipal Affairs who insisted that councillors should be elected at large, that natural boundaries be [illegible] that a vote be taken to settle the office question, the result of which they ignored, that the Council have an even number of councillors thus being the only [illegible] unit in the province to my knowledge with an even number.

If Mr Gordon's campaign committee have any doubt about this I respectfully refer them to one they should have confidence in, none other than Mr I Inman himself, who was a member of a committee, or committees, that went to Edmonton, to protest the arbitrary action of the Department of Municipal Affairs in completely ignoring local self-government. By abandoning the idea of electing councillors at large, by restoring the Council to an odd number, by removing from the minister the power to approve or disapprove of the office site picked by the elected representatives of the only people involved, I maintain the Provincial Government has tacitly admitted their share of the responsibility for the so-called unhealthy state of affairs.

Now as to the "Recent Resignation of two of our Councillors" my understanding is that this was not due to the unhealthy state of municipality affairs, but due to the pressure of private business. Furthermore if such an unhealthy state of municipal affairs had existed I am sure these men would have had the moral courage to stay and clean it up rather than turn it over to others without the previous experience. The relations of the 1947 Council were very amicable, past troubles had been pushed into the background, and every effort was being made to bring about efficiency and economy in local self government.

I am not going into the question of deficits to any great extent. It is true that there was an excess of expenditure over revenue of $117,919.15 in 1945, $76,973.31 in 1946, and $21,613.14 in 1947, but Mr. Gordon was a member of the Council for a considerable part of 1945, the year of the greatest over expenditure and therefore must accept his share of the responsibility for the lack of "sanity in public spending" which he now so greatly deplores. The Administrator also has a finger in the pie. In any case the M.D. of Vermilion River is still in very good condition financially. We have $100,000 in Victory Bonds, that are good according to the amount of bank loans standing against them and the outstanding taxes at Dec. 31st 1947 is shown as $316,954.23. If we assume that only one-half of this amount will eventually be collected, we still have a cool quarter of a million dollars to take care of any possible future over expenditures, which are unlikely to occur now that we have returned to sanity. Ratepayers want roads and they will certainly object to their expensive road equipment being laid up [illegible] good road building conditions in order to avoid eating into a quarter of a million dollar asset.

Appreciates Publicity Given by The Standard

Toronto, April 12, 1948

Dear Editor:

As the Canadian Red Cross national appeal for funds nears a successful conclusion, may I once again express grateful thanks to you for presenting the story of Red Cross to the public this year.

When I wrote you personally some time ago pointing out the importance of this particular campaign, I felt sure, as far as possible, you would do your best for us as you have so generously done in the past. The outstanding support and co-operation given by the weekly press of Canada are greatly appreciated.

For your personal support may I, on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross Society, say once again, "Many thanks for your help!"

Yours sincerely,
C. P. Johnston

"THE SHOW MUST GO ON"— The Greatest Show on Earth thrilled, tickled and amazed kids from six to sixty and over recently at the opening of its regular seasonal run in New York's Madison Square Garden. True to the traditions of her profession Mrs Lulu Adams billed as the world's only woman clown appeared in her usual role despite the tragic and sudden death of her husband Albert, famous veteran clown on the eve of the show's opening. Seemingly concerned only with the crowd's laughter she presented a brave-hearted example of the tradition. The show must go on. Her husband with whom she had toured the world as a clown, died of a heart attack while making a radio broadcast. The picture shows Mrs Adams in her dressing room after the show putting away her "props."

HOME WRECKED BY TORNADO IN INDIANA— Members of the Tranoski family look over their home at Gary, Ind., leveled by a tornado which moved through the states of Illinois and Indiana. Fortunately, they were visiting friends at the time of the storm. It is reported that the tornado caused the death of three persons and injured more than a score of others.

DAD SEES FAMILY FOR FIRST TIME — World War I veteran Harold Hamilton, 49, Detroit, Mich., tearfully greets his daughter and granddaughter for the first time following their arrival in New York from England. During the First World War, Hamilton met and married an Irish girl named Caroline Topping before he was shipped to the battlefields of France. His wife died in childbirth and relatives wrote him that the baby had died also. It was only recently that he learned that his daughter, now Mrs Betty Hamilton Gunning, was alive and had a daughter of her own.

TRUMAN GREETS BELGIUM'S REGENT—A hearty welcome was given Prince Charles, regent of Belgium, by President Truman as the former paid an official call on the nation's chief executive in Washington. [illegible] of the protocol division of the state department, Stanley Woodward, (left), presented the royal visitor to the president. The meeting [illegible] a [illegible] state dinner given in honor of Prince Charles at the White House.

EQUILIBRISTIC WONDER—This is the great Unus from Vienna staging his unique balancing act for the first time in America before the crowd at the opening of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus which opened at Madison Square Garden, New York. Unus surpassed even the heralding encomiums of the circus drumbeater, who called him "The Upside-Down, Gravity-Defying, Equilibristic Wonder, Debonair Incredible Unus." P.S. He was right!

BRINGS ITALIAN BRIDE HOME TO CANADA — Home at last, Michael Principe and his Italian bride, Connie, smile on arriving in Toronto recently. They met four years ago when Mike was an army interpreter in Italy. He came home to Canada after the war and saved money until he could return a year ago to marry his sweetheart in Italy. Now both are happy together in Canada.

ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE FOOTLIGHTS—Smiling Margaret Truman singing daughter of the president of the U.S. is shown with Lieut. George Williams, White House naval aide as they enjoyed a performance of Mozart's "Don Giovanni" in Baltimore, Md. Miss Truman came from Washington to Baltimore for the show, given by an all-star cast of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

REAL HAIR "FLOWERS"—Hair-do of Olga Berle of Stockholm, Sweden, is described as a "chapeaurcif" by its designer Mme Maj Marta Tovar. The salute to spring shown at the International Beauty show in New York is made on a bicycle base covered with light blue human hair. The "flowers" are made of the same color and the [illegible] pieces are of [illegible]

Another combination hat and hair-do displayed by the same designer is modelled by Patricia Hedberg, also of Stockholm. The "new look" is emphasized with an arrangement of forget-me-not "flowers" made of real hair.

MAN DIES WIFE HURT—Albert [illegible] Holloway, 49, of [illegible], was instantly killed when the jeep he was driving went out of control on the Dundas highway at Cooksville, Ont., and flipped over. His wife pictured above, escaped with bruises, but is suffering from shock.

WHERE SCORES DIED IN FIERY REVOLT—Here is a view of one of the main thoroughfares in Bogota, capital of Colombia and scene of the inter-American conference, where a bloody and destructive insurrection raged for three days. At least 100 persons were reported killed with more than a score of major buildings including the presidential palace in flames.

FIRST TRIP THROUGH WELLAND CANAL—Nosing out her sister ship for the honor of first trip through the Welland ship canal this year, the Texaco Chief is seen clearing Lock 2. The Texaco Warrior has been first outside lock but the Chief has been in drydock above lock.

Vermilion Red Cross Notes

W. P. Pilkie, local campaign manager will commence having the names of the donors to the Red Cross canvass published in next week's issue of the Standard. The town donations are in but several country districts have yet to report. The canvassers in the country have had unusually bad roads to contend with.

It is expected that the usual average will be reached in this drive even though many other collections have been made for other worthy causes at the same time.

Ambulance Much in Evidence

Our ambulance was quite prominent this week at the Red Cross Blood clinic. The clinic could not come over the banned roads with their equipment so our ambulance was used.

The local Red Cross received permission to use the ambulance to convey the clinic equipment to Mannville on Wednesday morning, and then on to Vegreville Wednesday night. Our ambulance in the above service filled a gap that was very gratifying to both the Clinic and Vermilion. Billie Pilkie drove the ambulance and will return with it Thursday morning. When Vermilion secured the ambulance it was agreed to be on hand for any work in connection with the blood clinic.

Vermilion School Pupils Donate to European Children

The Vermilion Intermediate school pupils responded generously to the Canadian Appeal for European children by giving the sum of $35.71 which represents the balance of their student union fund. When the appeal was made several students of the present grade 9 class decided that their bank balance could be put to no better use than to help relieve the sufferings of the war-torn European countries, and so Joyce Hodgson was delegated to make the necessary arrangements at the bank. The bank's receipt for this sum was received with great pride by the grade 9 class recently.

Children at the Vermilion Elementary school donated the very generous sum of $85.25 to the recent Canadian Appeal for European Children. The amount represented donations by all the individual children who were quite keen to help the less fortunate kiddies of Europe.

Lawrence Webb attended a convention and pre-view of the new Mercury car at Calgary last week. The new Mercury is now on display at city dealers.

The W.M.S. Reading and Discussion group of the United church held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday April 22nd at the apartment of Miss Craig. There were 15 members present. Mrs Cash was in charge and the chapter of the study book was on Buddhism. Mrs. Cash gave a very enlightening explanation and the members entered fully into the discussion and many questions were asked regarding this religion, which of course was very new to those present but very old to those who worship that way. After the discussion refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Islay District Locals

Most of the summer birds have returned and their spring songs are enlivening the leafless trees and shrubs. Gophers seem very plentiful along the roads but generally spring is very backward in these parts.

Visits between neighbors are few at the present time because of bad road conditions. Later we will all be too busy with spring work to do any visiting.

Some children are riding horse back to school and even then they bog down to a standstill at times.

The Morrison bus goes by the new highway to avoid poor conditions on the old highway, the regular route.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of
Cpl. Wilfred Shattuck
killed in Holland April 20 1945.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM GEORGE BUSBY

Funeral services for the late Mr William George Busby of Vermilion who passed away in Edmonton on April 17th at the age of 46 years were held at Foster and McGarvey's Funeral chapel, Wednesday afternoon at 1.45. Dr. D. C. Ramsay officiated and interment was made in the Edmonton cemetery. Many beautiful floral tributes were received. He is survived by two sons Fred and William both of Markham, Ontario, one daughter Mary of Markham, one sister Mrs. D. Foundry, of Vermilion.

TENNIS PLAYERS

To date 21 juniors but only eight seniors have indicated their desire to play tennis this summer. If you intend to play phone your name to the secretary Ashley H. Cooper in order that the required number of courts may be prepared for use.

Mr and Mrs. E. Sweatman left Sunday for Calgary from which point they will leave for old home scenes in England. They plan to visit points in Scotland as well and will be away for about three months.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eyben have just arrived home after spending a very enjoyable four weeks' holiday. First they went to New Westminster to see their son Herman and family and visited with them for two days. They continued on to Portland, Ore., and visited at the home of their daughter Clara and family. From there they went to Myrtle Creek, Oregon to see Mr. Eyben's brother Herman. This part of the trip was made by car, Clara and her husband Maury driving them. Mr and Mrs. Eyben both enjoyed the blooming fruit trees and flowers. On their way back to New Westminster they stopped at Seattle and visited Mrs Wagner (nee Viola Hass) whom they hadn't seen for 30 years so the visit was a happy one. After spending a few more days with Herman and Jenny at New Westminster they left on the journey home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McJannett spent the week end visiting the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Rowe, prior to leaving for Woodstock, Ont., where they will spend the summer at Mr McJannett's home. The latter is a medical student at the University of Alberta and he and Betty will return to Alberta when the fall term commences.

Among the graduates of the Royal Alexandra hospital school of nursing were Miriam Evelyn Shirtley, daughter of Mrs. J. L. Shirtley formerly of Vermilion, and Eileen Roberta Hagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hagen formerly of Clandonald. Both families now live in Edmonton.

Graduates from the Edmonton General hospital included Iris Babbage Kitscoty; Betty Barnett, Marwayne; Margaret Berry, Marwayne; Mary Zackowski, Streamstown.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Watt and son Jim plan to leave Saturday morning by car for Victoria, B.C. where they will holiday for the next three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Watt own a house there and are anxious to get to work on renovations. Sandy also plans to pick up the odd piece of golf course maintenance equipment providing he can find some bargains.

Little Miss Donna Cooper is doing things in a big way this week. On Monday she was 9 years old and had a happy party to suitably celebrate the birthday. On Tuesday a formerly complained of tummy ache became quite severe and late that night she was taken to the hospital and operated on for acute appendicitis. Donna is now recovering nicely.

Miss Georgia Macnab, student in pharmacy at the University has returned home for the summer months.

For Better Value in Men's Wear

Honored on 25th Wedding Anniversary

A reception was held at the home of Mr and Mrs. P. A. Cross V.S.A., in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary on April 22nd. Many friends paid their compliments to the well known couple, Mr Cross having been a member of the V.S.A. staff for 22 years.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Rosebeck and Mrs M Chapman and served by Mrs T Stack and Miss A. Chapman. The table was laid with an euro lace cloth made by Mrs. Cross, and centred with white carnations and silver candlesticks. Mr and Mrs. Cross were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

After supper a surprise visit was paid to the above home by about 30 staff members of the school and their wives. During the evening a mock marriage was performed by the staff. The bride was tastefully dressed in the new look and was attended by two flower girls who wore the latest fashions. The bridegroom was aided and abetted by his friend Rosy, the bride was given in marriage by her loving mother and the ceremony was performed by the "Rev." Hawkshy. Following the ceremony the happy couple adjourned to the dining room where a sumptuous lunch was served by the ladies and music and singing was greatly enjoyed by all present.

During the evening a purse of money was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Cross by Miss Brown on behalf of the staff.

Enjoyable Social At Masonic Hall

The members of Vermilion Chapter R.A.M. entertained to an 'at home', all the members of the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges, together with their wives and husbands on Wednesday evening, April 14th, this was in the form of a variety entertainment, which was acclaimed by all present as an outstanding success. Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell and Mr and Mrs John Ridington, and after a few interesting remarks from the chairman, John Mitchell, he called on Frank Walker to start the program with some special films, procured for the occasion followed by "Conjuring DeLuxe", presented by Lawson Cawley of Edmonton. Mrs. Fenske and Rev. Bethle then rendered two fine piano duet numbers, a young lady Miss Marjorie West, pleased all with four solos in her own sweet manner, giving a surprise to those who had not previously heard her. Mrs. E Hawker was superb in two piano numbers which displayed excellent technique. The assembly of 150 persons were exceedingly generous in their reception of the items, and the applause sped the performers on to greater efforts. A tasty lunch served by the members, followed by a dance put the finishing touches to something different in the form of an evening's entertainment.

STAGETTE NOTES

A regular meeting was held Tuesday April 27th with 19 members gathering at the home of Dorothy Polk. The occasion was Dorothy's birthday and the girls presented her with a record to add to an already wonderful collection.

This was an educational meeting and Dorothy Polk told us the history of Le Marseillaise by Claude Joseph Rouget de l'Isle. Dorothy and her mother then played Le Marseillaise. It was lovely Dorothy, thank you.

It appeared as if this was presentation night too. Connie Martin and Jean Wiebe were presented with lovely Stagette ear rings and Margaret Brown was given a silver cream and sugar set. Margaret will be taking the vows in June. Our most sincere wishes accompany these girls.

District convention was discussed. It will be held at Lethbridge May 22 and 23. Iris McCormick was appointed our delegate and Bridget Tuner, Dorothy Polk and Molly Mcintosh as representatives.

Regarding our dance, girls will meet at the hall Sunday to decorate and all the girls are to be at the hall before 9 30 p.m. Tuesday.

This is to be one of the biggest and best Stagette dances. There will be novelty dances, spot dances and prize dances—all this and Sandy's orchestra to top it off—wheeps!

HON. W. A. FALLOW DIES FOLLOWING STROKE

MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS — FORMER MAYOR OF VERMILION

Hon. W. A. Fallow, 64, Alberta minister of public works, died at 11:00 a.m. Monday. He had been in hospital since April 10th when he suffered a stroke in his office in the legislative buildings.

He first became ill in February, and was ordered by his doctors to take a rest. He went on a motor trip to Arizona about the middle of February and returned in April. He had only been back in his office at the legislative buildings for a few hours before he suffered the stroke.

He was elected to the provincial legislature for the Vermilion constituency in 1935. He was the first minister of public works for the Social Credit government.

William Allen Fallow was born Oct. 7, 1883 at Broadview, Man., of Scottish-Canadian parents. At that time the C.P.R. was under construction and his father followed the new steel as far west as the Qu'Appelle valley. The family remained there during the Riel rebellion.

His father was engaged in transporting supplies for the railway and followed construction across the prairies into the foothills and finally to Banff. There the family settled down and the children went to school in the small mountain town.

After moving to Gleichen and living there for 10 years, the family settled in Calgary. In that city, the future cabinet minister completed his education at Prof. Perrin's college.

In 1900 Mr. Fallow joined the C.P.R. as a telegraph operator. A sister was an operator at the same time. Two years later he joined the Canadian Northern company staff and was on the dispatching staff at the then Fort Battleford in 1905. He was transferred to Vermilion in 1909 and acted as terminal agent there for the C.N.R. for 26 years.

In 1914 Mr. Fallow was first elected to the Vermilion council, and the next year he was elected mayor by acclamation. He was mayor 10 years, giving up office when he was elected to the legislature.

Mr. Fallow was elected to the Alberta house for Vermilion constituency in the Social Credit sweep in August 1935. He was chosen at first, minister of public works in the Aberhart government, and held the portfolio since, a period of nearly 13 years which constitutes an Alberta record. He also was minister of railways and telephones.

Mr. Fallow was re-elected for Vermilion at the 1940 general election. In the 1944 vote, he contested Grouard constituency in the north country and won the seat.

A frontbencher ever since he entered the legislature Mr. Fallow was regarded as one of the "hard hitting" cabinet debaters. He had many warm exchanges with opposition members.

A strong advocate of improved highways, the minister piloted the record $13,500,000 highway appropriation through the 1947 session. A similar vote was passed this year, although he was away at the time, in Arizona.

In 1910 Mr. Fallow bought one of Edmonton's finest homes. This was "Glenmairn" at 10010 Wellington Crescent.

Mr. Fallow is survived by his wife, one daughter, Venetia, and four sons, Adrian, Maurice, William and Alec.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Robertson United church and interment made in Edmonton cemetery.

Rev. Angus McQueen will be in charge and Premier Ernest Manning will also take part in the service. Andrews McLaughlin funeral chapel in charge of arrangements.

Visits Vermilion After Absence of 17 Years

FLIES FROM LONDON, ENGLAND

Mrs. Sidney H. Colls (nee Blanche Cooper) arrived in Vermilion last Sunday morning and is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. S.R.P. Cooper and five brothers. It is 17 years since Mr. and Mrs. Colls left Vermilion for the former's old home at London England. During the war years Mr. Colls served in the army and Mrs. Colls experienced the German air blitz of London and the doodlebugs.

Mrs. Colls made the trip from London via T.C.A. plane and had the unique experience of having breakfast at her home, dinner at Shannon, Eire, supper at Reykjavik, Iceland, breakfast again at Montreal. She boarded the plane at London early Thursday morning landed at Montreal late that night, took off again early Friday morning and was due in Edmonton at midnight Friday, however the plane was held at Calgary for several hours due to a low ceiling and arrived in Edmonton at 5 a.m. Saturday where Mrs. Colls was met by members of the family.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

WIN CERTIFICATES IN BOOKKEEPING CONTEST

Once a year the Business Education World sponsors a special bookkeeping contest. The results of this contest show that 16 high school students won certificates. The winners are: Dorothy Bathe, Katherine Carey, Mildred Conboy, Gladys Coutts, Ruth Hillcox, Violet Klebanosky, Johnny Klebanowski, Eleanor Krause, Anne Kusek, Glenys Martin, Irene Nikyporuk, Yvonne Patenaude, Bob Reid, Florence Thompson, George Webb and Phyllis Westman.

SHORTHAND CERTIFICATES

Another happy group was the Stenography 2 class when they received their "Pitman Shorthand Certificates of Progress". These certificates are issued by the Pitman people to those who pass their Official Transcription tests. The names of students who received certificates for passing a test dictated at sixty words a minute are: Elaine Anderson, Gladys Coutts, Wanda Fry, Ruth Hillcox, June Thompson and Phyllis Westman.

In the not too distant future there will be a list of typewriting contest units to report. When results arrive, they will be published.

140 Telephone Poles Destroyed in Odd Blaze

VALUED AT $1,300.00

The town's oddest fire saw 140 new telephone poles, valued at $1300 destroyed on Monday evening. The poles were shipped in by rail a week ago and had been unloaded east of the Pool elevator. Immediately beside the telephone poles which belonged to the Alberta Government Telephones, were 1000 larger poles belonging to Canadian Utilities for use in constructing new high tension power lines in this area.

The poles all had pressure treated creosoted butts and were thus highly inflammable.

As the poles were a mile from the nearest town water supply a spring slough had to be utilized and some delay was experienced in getting the pumping engine to work. When it began to throw water the fire was soon doused.

Harold Reid Appointed Station Agent at Hay Lakes

20 YEARS IN VERMILION

Harold Reid, an operator at the C.N.R. depot here for the past 20 years has been appointed station agent at Hay Lakes. Harold completes his duties here next week and then has his holidays before taking over at Hay Lakes.

While Harold is naturally pleased at the upward step he says that he is certainly going to miss Vermilion with the multitude of friends here, his home the banks of the valley and his flower garden.

Cubs to Have Uniforms —Notice to Parents

It has been requested that all Cubs have their uniforms before May 31st. If the full uniform is not possible each boy should have the cap and sweater. Any further information may be obtained from Cubmaster Dr King 50-1.

What about that Label date?

Vermilion Air Field Popular Place

FIVE PLANES LAND SUNDAY

The Vermilion landing field is proving a very popular place and on Sunday no less than 7 planes made use of the field.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Crowshaw who have spent the past three weeks visiting their former home at Port Alberni, B.C., returned to Vermilion on Sunday. Ken piloted the new 4-passenger Stinson plane purchased by the Regent Drilling Co and was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bowlen and two children. After checking the weather they left for Racine, Wisconsin, U.S.A. for a few days visit. On the return from that trip Ken Crowshaw will pilot Mr. and Mrs Lou McCulloch to Tulsa, Oklahoma for a visit.

CASKEYS BUY PLANE

Dean Caskey flew in a new 4-passenger Stinson plane which he and his father Ed Caskey purchased recently. Accompanying Dean was Mrs Ken Crowshaw and baby Pat, Bob West and Miss Carol Caskey. This plane will be based at the Vermilion airport for charter work.

Another arrival at the field was a Western Airmotive plane to pick up John Hasenluk flying to Edmonton.

Associated Airways from Edmonton flew in passengers with a Stinson. An Aeronca plane en route to Battleford from Edmonton also stopped over making the fifth plane to use the landing field on Sunday.

Town's Pioneer Meat Market Closes

The Vermilion Meat Market, the history of which could probably be traced back to the first butcher shop ever operated in the town, closed its doors as such on Saturday last. The owner and proprietor of the business, Mr Bert Everitt has leased the building to Macleod's Ltd. Alterations and renovations are now underway to fit the building for use as the local branch of Macleod's Limited.

The greatest battle is still to be fought—the battle against our own selfishness.

Wm. Engish Retires After 33 Years of Service

HONORED BY BANK EMPLOYEES AND BUSINESS MEN

Completing 33 years continuous service with the Canadian Bank of Commerce, William E. English retired on pension last Friday afternoon April 30. At the completion of the day's work, his last at the bank, the staff gathered round Bill and manager A. M. Watt presented him with a silver tray on which was beautifully engraved, the following inscription:

Presented to
on retiring after 33 YEARS
of most faithful service
From the Manager and Staff
The Canadian Bank of Commerce
Vermilion, Alberta, 30 April, 1948.

Born in England, Mr. English came to Vermilion in 1904. In 1915 he entered the employee of the bank as clerk and messenger. From that time to this, 33 years, he has been part and parcel of the staff of the Vermilion branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Managers came and departed, he first worked under A. J. Reynolds, then Jas. Walker, C. L. Whitby and the present manager A. M. Watt, staffs changed completely but Bill remained. Despite his job of delivering those anything but popular demands for payment "drafts", his unfailing cheerfulness and willingness to oblige "nobody else would have it so I brought it to you" made his frequent visits anything but unwelcome calls.

Bill is 72 years of age, he deserves a long and happy time to follow his own whims and fancies. He also has been a good citizen, raised his family in town and it is generally regretted that owing to the ill-health of Mrs. English, the esteemed couple will shortly leave for Victoria, where the climate is more suitable to Mrs. English's health. In Victoria they will reside with their son Jack and family.

Presentation at Board of Trade

On Wednesday of last week Mr. English was the guest of honor at the regular noon-day luncheon meeting of the Board of Trade. During the meeting the president Melvin Hill presented Bill with a billfold stuffed to overflowing with good Canadian currency, the gift of his fellow-business men, a mark of their friendship and esteem for a tried and true old time citizen.

"GREEN ACRES"

REGISTERED SEED

Quite a few farmers in this district have bought registered seed this year. If the grower plans on selling registered seed it is important to save the tags or the identity of the seed is lost. Also, it is necessary to apply for field inspection by June 30th. A circular on Registered Seed Production is now available at your D.A. office.

CERTIFIED POTATOES

Most of the low yields and poor quality in potatoes in this district is due to diseased seed. The potato itself may look healthy but it can contain inside, virus diseases which will infect the growing crop. Certified seed is reasonably free of disease and will likely remain so for a few years.

POULTRY CULLING

Non layers should be regularly and systematically removed from the flocks. Loafers are eating good feed and giving no returns. It is better to get rid of old hens, even your old hens and start again with disease-free baby chicks.

FARM ACCIDENTS

Farmers will soon be so busy with seeding that they will get tired and get careless around farm machinery in operation. Let's try and keep accidents down to zero this spring. Please remember that [illegible] of accident, could be you.

SAVING OUR SOIL

It is the top four inches of soil that grows good crops. If we are hoping to maintain yields we should conserve the good top soil. Plowing or seeding up and down hills is one fine way to help rains run the top soil down into the slough. I have some new publications on Soil Conservation for free distribution.

NEW 2,4-D CIRCULAR

The Alberta Department of Agriculture has issued a new circular [illegible] which [illegible] contains the best information on this subject so far published. Get your copy at my office and keep up to date on this subject which is of interest to every farmer. The author of this new circular [illegible] with the Line Elevators Farm Service. MAY 25th TO BE STELLAR DAY FOR VERMILION

The occasion of the visit to Vermilion of Their Excellencies Viscount Alexander and Lady Alexander on May 25th will doubtless bring to Vermilion the largest crowd ever to be assembled in town. Canadian Legion branches from Vulcan in the south to Fort Assiniboine in the north have indicated their intention of sending groups of members to join in the Vice-Regal welcome. Many of the ex-servicemen, who will be in Vermilion on that day are those who served under the Governor General when he was Field Marshall in command of the 8th Army.

AIR DISPLAY

Preparations for the air display are well under way and the RCAF reports indicate that the people of the area are to be entertained in a way which is unusual for the districts outside the larger cities.

SPORTS CANCELLED

It is understood that the Vermilion Athletic Association has cancelled its plans for the Sports day on May 24th, and this will make it a great deal easier to complete arrangements for the Ceremonial visit of the distinguished guests; the Committee in charge very sincerely regrets that it has been found necessary for the sports day to be eliminated or postponed for this year and greatly appreciates the fine spirit of co-operation that has thus been made so evident.

CIVIC LUNCHEON

Principal Bentley of the school of agriculture reports everything in readiness for the civic luncheon which is being tendered to the guests for the occasion. His Excellency requested that the luncheon be made representative of the entire district as he wished to address a message to people from as wide an area as possible; with this in mind it has been found necessary to include as guests the representatives of national and provincial organizations from a wide area and local representation will be much smaller than had been hoped. It has been found possible to include only the representatives of local organizations and it is hoped that all Vermilion citizens will understand and appreciate the difficulties which dictated the necessity of adhering strictly to organization representatives.

PRESENT AWARDS

The various school divisions bordering on the Vermilion Division are making it possible for the pupils of their schools to have the day off and it is anticipated that many of our young people will take advantage of the unusual opportunity of seeing and hearing the Governor General when he makes presentation of the various awards at the Exhibition grounds.

Vermilion Fair Summer Camp Proves Popular

Applications are already being received for Vermilion Fair Summer camp which will be held at the school of agriculture from July 13th-24th inclusive. All farm girls and boys are invited to submit applications for this enjoyable week and complete details of the courses are available through the office of the Secretary-Manager of Vermilion Fair.

Death of Mrs. Lillie Hall

Word was received in town of the death of Mrs. Lillie Hall who passed away at her home at Campbell River B.C. on Saturday, May 1st. Mrs. Hall formerly lived in the Mannville district, moving to Campbell River about two years ago.

Red Shield Campaign Next Week

Canvassing committees are now being appointed for the annual Red Shield campaign and the actual canvass will be under way next week.

W. B. Cash is chairman of the general committee and $1200 is the Vermilion and district quota.

PROMOTED TO LOCAL MANAGER

Jack Reid who has hitherto been Plant Inspector for the Alberta Government Telephones at Vermilion, has now been promoted to the office of Local Manager, a notch higher up the ladder.

COLLECT YOUR PREMIUMS

Members of the Horticultural Society must collect their premiums within the next few days from the home of the secretary, Bill Harris.

EMERGENCY AUTO SERVICE

Gasoline and emergency auto service at Ray's Service for Sunday May 9th and the following week. Garage open to 11 p.m. week days and 7 p.m. Sunday.

Dr King Sells Residence

Dr A. B. King sold his west end residence on Tuesday this week to Mr James G. Taylor who takes possession next week end. Dr. King plans to build a new residence immediately and has purchased two lots west of Harold Reid's house on the west end of First Street North.

Mr. Taylor is the new manager and partner of the Vermilion hotel and has purchased the King house as his own residence.

First Helicopter Lands On Vermilion Field

An R.C.A.F. Sikorski 51 Helicopter piloted by Flt. Lieut. Roger T. Hemsley landed on the Vermilion field for refueling last Friday afternoon. The plane was on its way to Saskatoon. Being the first of its kind to land at the Vermilion field it attracted considerable attention. The peculiar looking machine averaged 75 miles per hour on the trip from Edmonton.

Annual Tennis Meeting Monday, May 10th

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Tennis club will be held in the library room town hall basement on Monday evening May 10th at 8.15 sharp. Everyone interested in playing tennis or who desires to see the game flourish in Vermilion is invited to attend.

It is necessary to replace the president Wally Daighlock who has moved to Edmonton and as the present secretary Ashley Cooper has been in office for 16 years it is high time he was replaced too.

A good attendance is earnestly requested.

Mr B. A. Rivett closed his butcher shop business in Vermilion on May 1st; he asks the co-operation of his charge account customers by seeing him at his shop before May 15 and paying their indebtedness to him.

He takes this means of thanking one and all of his customers for the patronage extended to him during his short stay in Vermilion.

Blood Clinic Thanks Vermilion People

The following letter of appreciation has been received from the Alberta Depot of the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service, Edmonton;

"Dear Mrs Miller—

On behalf of the mobile team of the Blood Transfusion Service, I should like to thank you and all those who assisted at the clinic held in Vermilion last Tuesday. Please extend special thanks to the ladies who helped on the rest beds and the many other workers, not forgetting the boys who helped with the packing and unpacking.

Our transport staff has asked me to thank Mr. Pilkie and his son for their kind help and the use of the ambulance. They also extend their thanks to Mr H. Powell for the use of his cold storage locker.

Yours sincerely
R. F. Greenhill M.D., D.P.H.,

THE HONORABLE W.A. FALLOW—

The passing of the Honorable W. A. Fallow, minister of public works in the Government of Alberta, removes one of the most promising men called to Cabinet responsibilities by the late Premier Aberhart, when he formed his Social Credit cabinet after the election of 1935. Mr. Fallow was elected from his home district of Vermilion and was given the portfolio of Public Works, Railways and Telephones. This portfolio he held up to the time of his death. This is one of, if not the heaviest department in the Government service and undoubtedly the constant strain arising from the discharge of his duties undermined his health.

Mr Fallow did not sit in the last legislature having gone to the southern States to recuperate. He came back refreshed as he and his friends thought but two weeks ago suffered a stroke which ended in his death on Monday of this week.

Mr. Fallow at the time he entered provincial politics had been Mayor of the Town of Vermilion for a period of ten years. Among the monuments to his memory are the arena rink and the installation of a steam heat system in Vermilion, the first of any town in western Canada to adopt such a scheme of heating and it is still rendering efficient and acceptable service to the users. The first rehabilitation of the light and power plant was done under his guidance, this being the installation of an extra boiler and two Skinner engines which are still purring as smoothly as when brought into service.

He made a good and conscientious mayor, gave the people the best he had in him and the town developed materially under his regime. He was criticized, that was inevitable of any one holding that office.

As Minister of Public Works, the development of the highway system of the province will ever stand to his credit, and in this respect the district of Vermilion shared very bountifully at his hands. We have on the whole an excellent network of primary and secondary highways because of the policies adopted by him and a further enlargement of the system was provided in the estimates for this year.

The news of his death, though not unexpected, was a shock to the people of the town and district of Vermilion. They mourn his passing; they mourn his loss to the service of his province; they mourn his passing as a resident of this town for a great many years, and as one who did not spare himself for the service of the Town of Vermilion and the Province of Alberta.

From 1910 he was C.N.R. station agent at Vermilion, a position he filled with acceptance to the people and the Company.

No reasonable request by the Town of Vermilion or of the Board of Trade was refused. He gave great assistance to the opening up and the development of our air field. Mr Fallow also made a fine contribution to the town in connection with the water and sewer system providing for half the cost of installation of the disposal plant. It is well known he would have liked to do more for us but he feared criticism for being too partial.

The greatest service he did for his province was the development of our highways. No province in the west can boast of better. That will always be a monument of his service to the people of Alberta.

The sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. Fallow and her family in their bereavement.

In respect to the memory of the Hon. W. A. Fallow, flags in Vermilion have been flying at half-mast all week.

SLOW PROGRESS TOWARD SPRING

Weather is tending generally toward spring although no speed records are being made to reach summer temperatures even yet. Some farmers claim that a week of warm breezy weather is required before even the highest land can be worked, and this so far has been the most optimistic forecast.

The town roads have dried up and are very rough while according to reports all but the market roads in the country are impassable.

Canada Selling Canned Meat To United States

OTTAWA. — Canadian packing plants have been given permission to sell limited quantities of processed meat products on the United States market, it was disclosed.

An Agriculture Department spokesman said the meats involved were not in demand in Europe but that the move had been made last Feb 19 at the request of the Trade Department to permit Canadian plants to keep their name before the U.S. public with "token" shipments. One reason it had been possible was because the United Kingdom this year did not renew her contract for canned meat, involving about 20,000,000 pounds last year.

The following types and quantities of processed meats may be shipped to the U.S. up to next June 30 under the arrangement: spreads and potted meats 579,000 pounds; pork products 207,000 pounds, of which only 10 per cent may be canned ham, solid pack other than pork, 281,000 pounds [illegible] 883,000 pounds net.

World Could End In Many Ways And At Any Time

PHILADELPHIA. — Scientists at the Fels Planetarium of the Franklin Institute are illustrating ways by which the world might come to an end.

The astronomers show some of the violent possibilities, such as an explosion of the sun which would burn all vestiges of life on earth, great volcanic eruptions or by sweeping tidal waves.

The scientists coolly admit that the end of the world, due to some unforeseen cataclysm, might happen at any moment.

"Our earth", they say, "is delicately balanced between the too hot and the too cold, the too dry and too wet, for life of the kind we know."

If something should happen to upset the existing conditions most of the higher life on [illegible] would come to an end, they add.

The astronomers point out that other suns have suddenly burst into greatly intensified heat, and they assert it is not impossible that the earth's sun might also do it some day.

They also see no reason for ruling out the possibility of another Ice Age caused by a great volcanic eruption because in the history of the world it has happened five times.

They also show how the moon might cause great tidal waves to sweep the continents from shore to shore for hundreds of years with the gravitational pull of the moon opening up gaping rifts in the earth's crust followed by gigantic explosions as the sea invades the pools of molten lava.

The astronomers hope most of the possibilities for an end of the world are remote. But they insist that it is possible at any moment for a body as large as the earth or larger to hurtle through space and shatter our planet to bits.

The earliest [illegible] contracts were [illegible] in England in 1583.

GARDEN NOTES

Warm Weather Things

From now until the middle of June, depending upon what part of Canada one lives in, will be the time to start planting those flowers and vegetables that need warm weather and will not stand frost. Nothing is to be gained from getting them in before both soil and weather have started to turn really warm.

Among the flowers such things as those with soft tender stems like dahlias, petunias and gladioli come in this category. Bulbs and corms, of course, because they are planted deeply in the soil, can go in a few days before the last cool weather is expected though it is questionable whether much is to be gained by rushing even this much.

Among the vegetables in the tender class are all the vines like melons, squash, pumpkins and cucumbers and also corn and tomatoes. All of these need really warm weather and frost-free soil.

For the best results, cucumbers, squash and melons should be planted in little hills especially enriched with manure. [illegible] about 2½ feet apart.

Pest [illegible]

There is one thing that any gardener can be pretty sure about coming, and that is pests. Fortunately, however, measures of dealing with them are also increasing.

On the market today are all sorts of good weed killers and destroyers of bugs and diseases. The new DDT dusts and sprays will handle many of these pests and the new 2,4-D will also handle a wide range of weeds. Beginners are advised to look into some of these new developments. By following directions they will save themselves a lot of extra work and disappointment. There are many low priced dusters and sprayers available for applying these chemicals. One point that the experienced gardener will always emphasize is to get control measures underway just as soon as the first bugs, disease or weeds appear. It is much easier to check these pests before they get really established.

Staking Will Help

For tall plants or those trained to grow tall like tomatoes, staking is advisable. Perennials like delphiniums and hollyhocks are quite liable to break over in a high wind or during a heavy rain and make the whole garden look a mess. Stakes about an inch thick and wide and as tall as necessary will hold these flowers and [illegible]. They need not be conspicuous if driven in behind the plants and they can always be stained brown or green. Plants should be tied to them loosely with soft twine or raffia. For bushy things like peonies, hoops of wire or wood placed in position before blooming will prove very satisfactory.

Personal Contact Most Likely Cause For Spread Of Polio Virus

CHICAGO. — Person-to-person transfer of the virus is the most likely cause for spread of poliomyelitis three medical investigators reported after a five-year study.

However, they added this explanation was reached merely through the elimination of other factors. They declined to rule out all non-human factors.

"Observations have emphasized for years that outbreaks of poliomyelitis are correlated with seasonal influences such as rainfall, temperature and prevalence of insects [illegible].

Their investigations of possible transmitting agents [illegible] rats, muskrats, chickens, cows, hogs, horses, cats, sewage, water, milk and insects of many species.

The possibility that [illegible] plays a role in the transmission remains the most likely of all non-human prospects," they said in their report published in the journal of the American Medical Association.

Salvation Army Appeal Begins Across Dominion

TORONTO.—"Is there still a need for The Salvation Army?" Commissioner Chas. Baugh, head of the organization in Canada, feels that the Canadian people will show what they think by their response to the 1948 Red Shield Appeal which starts this month.

In a campaign launching message the Commissioner declared that the need for The Salvation Army's ministry in Canada is as great as it ever was, if not greater. When William Booth took the world by storm the [illegible] the principles of [illegible] and the unfortunate under dog remained an underdog from necessity. This is no longer so the Commissioner said. The number of agencies committees and council [illegible] provincial and federal departments dealing with social welfare is higher. But the part that Booth and his soldiers took in shocking into consciousness and galvanizing into activity those who sat at ease in Zion ought not to be forgotten.

The plain truth is that there was practically no social conscience before the era in which The Salvation Army was born. The part it took as a [illegible] and disturbing organization in bringing into life a new outlook toward human misery and need will probably never be adequately told," the Commissioner said.

"Some may envisage a future in which the state, or a composite group of all interested parties under state patronage, may better meet social service needs. But few will dare to suggest that the day has arrived. The human touch, born of Divine love which is the key element in Salvation Army service is still in keen demand everywhere", the Commissioner declared.

The Commissioner also wondered if there was not a danger of social service being over-secularized and over-careerized. The Salvation Army offers assurance of neither career nor higher standards of living to its workers. On the contrary, they are urged to forget all these and find their fulfillment in love of the Great Shepherd and His lost sheep. There is a most pressing and urgent need for this slant on social service to be emphatically stressed, the Commissioner thought.

Referring to the Red Shield Appeal which has a national objective of $1,100,000 the Commissioner stated that there is not a unit in the 94 homes, hostels and hospitals operated by The Salvation Army in Canada, handling almost 60,000 persons a year, that is not taxed beyond capacity. That should be sufficient evidence, according to the Commissioner, that The Salvation Army is needed. As an organization it can make a dollar go farther than most, the Commissioner said but it still needs that dollar, a million of them in the forthcoming appeal.

Glare Lights Are Worst Road Menace

Stressing the need for observance of greater safety on the highways, the officials of Alberta Motor Association have drawn attention in particular to glare headlights.

Last year there were 1,357 accidents on provincial highways in which the damage exceeded $25. In many of these accidents, glare headlights undoubtedly provided the cause.

Surveys in the U.S. show that glare is the No. 1 enemy of night driving motorists.

The reports revealed that 33 and a third per cent of motorists on the highway at night either forget or refuse to dim their headlights for approaching cars or when they come up close behind another vehicle.

Also it has been established that hazards of night time driving are greatly increased by the large number of cars with lights incorrectly adjusted or with one or more lights blacked-out.

Forty three states and the District of Columbia have legislation which [illegible]

In Alberta the RCMP already is making a check of cars with glare headlights as such lights are a violation of the provincial statute.

Funds Are Necessary For Cemetery Work

$2.00 PER GRAVE ASKED

The Vermilion Cemetery board is desirous of continuing the very desirable work done at the cemetery during the past few summers by the hiring of a full time caretaker. In order to continue this work additional funds are required and a charge of $2 per grave is being asked. Besides entitling special care for the grave designated this insures general care for the whole cemetery. The $2 will be an annual fee.

Everyone interested should call Harold Meyer at 152 at once so that the work can get underway at the earliest possible moment. Mr. Meyer is the secretary of the Cemetery board. 43-50

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Worth A Broken Jaw

By THOMAS W. TOBIN

IT ISN'T every day that a fellow meets a girl like Mollie Ryan, but when a fellow like Timmy Murphy gets his heart set on a girl like Mollie things are bound to happen. And they did.

It was Tim's birthday and all six feet of him was celebrating. Not noisily, you understand, but in a good old Irish way. There had been a few fights, which Tim had enjoyed a lot, he being one of the contenders in each one. But no one was hurt seriously and they all repaired to the nearest bar as soon as each brawl was over to have a few drops of cheer and tell each other what a good fighter he was.

Tim was not only big, he was friendly. The only time he fought was when he had nothing else to do. His Irish blue eyes would sparkle and his red curly hair would bounce about as he weaved and ducked amongst the blows. His nose, which bore evidence of previous encounters, was always ready to take another right-cross. But all this changed on this particular birthday, and it was all because Mollie Ryan didn't like fighting.

Tim was whaling the daylights out of a longshoreman who wasn't much bigger than he was when the incident happened which changed Tim's life.

There was quite a crowd around watching the bout which was taking place in front of Dugan's. Two or three of the boys were missing out on the fun because they were delegated to watch for the cops. They watched for the cops, all right, but they let Mollie Ryan through. That's what changed both the course of a good fight and also the course of an Irishman's life.

Tim had just knocked the longshoreman down for the third time when he heard a woman's voice. It wasn't so much what the voice said as the way it said it.

"They should put a stop to this street fighting, Doctor!" said the voice.

When Tim heard it he turned his head in the direction of the sound. The voice fitted its owner perfectly. It was beautiful and so was she. It was cool and lovely, and so was she. He had never heard a voice so cool and lovely in all his life. "Hello, beautiful—" he started to say, and then the blow fell.

It seems the longshoreman recovered from the last bust in the jaw, and he wasn't bothered by beautiful girls with beautiful voices. So he just walked over and let one fly at Tim's busted-up profile. And that did it. Tim folded up like a tent in a tornado.

Minutes later, Tim woke up. It was really longer than that, but it didn't bother Tim any because he woke up in heaven—he thought.

As he opened his eyes Tim looked into the eyes of an angel. Funny, they looked just like those of the girl he had seen for the first time only a minute before. She had her arm under his head and seemed to be talking to someone else. "Doctor," she said, "do you think he'll live?"

"Oh, he'll be all right, nothing serious," answered a masculine voice.

Tim tried to rise up and tell the world and this beautiful creature, too, that it was his birthday and he was all right. But he couldn't rise up and he couldn't speak, only groan.

Then he realized he was moving. As his eyes moved around he noticed that he was stretched out on the rear seat of a limousine and the other two people were sitting on the extra seats. Again he tried to speak but only managed to groan.

"Poor fellow, he has a broken jaw, it must be painful," said the cool voice, and a soft hand suddenly felt his forehead. "Better give him another shot, Doctor, don't you think?"

The doctor thought and soon Tim was back to painless sleep.

When Tim woke again he was in an immense bed with posts on each corner. He was alone, but not for long. It was daylight, and as he tried to peer out of the curtained window he heard a door open. It was the girl again—somehow he remembered her through a haze which had no rhyme or reason. But he did remember — how could he forget? There she was just as fresh and sweet as ever—he tried to say something but only managed to groan—his jaw wouldn't work.

"Just be patient, blue-eyes," said the vision, "you'll be able to talk soon as your broken jaw heals. Meanwhile, get your mind off fighting and think of something else."

Tim needed no encouragement to think of something else.

Weeks later Tim was back in his old haunts. But he wasn't the same. His jaw had healed up but he wouldn't fight. His old friends couldn't understand it. There was something wrong.

Tim took a job driving taxi and stayed sober. That was unusual too. The boys around the corner just couldn't figure it out. Ever since the night the dame took Tim away in the limousine, he had never been the same.

All that was the matter with Tim was that he was in love with the girl in the limousine and he had promised he would never fight again.

Things went along this way for a while, and then, one night while Tim was cruising around looking for a fare he came upon a fight. It was between a chauffeur and two other guys. The chauffeur's car was parked and the fight wasn't going in his favor. The limousine looked familiar to Tim, and then he realized it was Mollie Ryan's car, and there she was in it. That was enough for Tim. He stopped his cab, peeled off his coat and started swinging.

Minutes later there were two tough guys laid out cold and a uniformed chauffeur was thanking his lucky stars. Tim looked at the two toughs he had beaten and then he realized he had been fighting. This was the first time he had seen Mollie since he had left her house. What would she think of his fighting?

He didn't have long to wait, for she suddenly appeared beside him, and once again he looked into the eyes of an angel.

"Tim," she said, "I'm glad you broke your promise not to fight. Those fellows were trying to kidnap me and you stopped them."

Before Tim could say a word she kissed him - and it hurt.

Tim tried to talk but he only groaned. Mollie looked at him and said, "Well, you've got another broken jaw. I guess this time I'd better keep you with me."

Tim couldn't say yes. He could only nod his head.

RECIPES

PORK CHOPS WITH DRESSING

6 pork chops
½ onion finely chopped
1½ cups bread crumbs
2 tablespoons pork fat, chopped
¼ teaspoon pepper
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup hot water
1 beaten egg

Mix bread crumbs, pork fat, seasonings, water and egg. Spread on pork chops. Put chops in a pan close together, add a little water to cover bottom of pan and bake in a moderately hot oven 1 hour, basting occasionally.

WAFFLES

1¾ cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup milk
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons melted fat
2 egg whites

Measure, mix and sift the first 4 ingredients, add the milk gradually, then egg yolks and melted fat, and mix thoroughly. Lastly, fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Cook in a well greased waffle iron.

CANADIAN ARMY STRENGTH NOW STANDS AT 16,166

OTTAWA.—Army strength at April 15 was 16,166, about 4,000 short of its immediate authorized strength. The 16,166 figure compares with 15,400 at March 16.

Army officials said there will be no let-up in the current recruiting drive.

Actual authorized strength is 26,220 subject to a provision that it not exceed 20,079 for the time being.

How To Purify Drinking Water In Flooded Areas

WINNIPEG — The Manitoba department of health and public welfare issued instructions for emergency measures for the treatment of drinking water in flooded areas.

Residents in flooded areas may adopt either of the following methods to ensure a safe drinking water supply.

1. Boiling — Water should be actively boiled for 10 minutes.

2. Chlorination — Mix 2 teaspoonful of fresh chloride of lime into a smooth paste with a little cold water. To this add 1 quart of water and mix well. This mixture is the sterilizing solution. Add four drops of the solution to 1 gallon of water and allow to stand for 15 minutes. It will then be safe for drinking.

Fresh sterilizing solution should be made up weekly.

Other chlorine solutions may be used so long as the manufacturer's instructions are followed closely.

Scientists Test Value Of Peat As Soil Restorer

Active Experiments Being Held In Ontario And Quebec

OTTAWA. — A peat bog is probably a poor place to attempt agriculture, but just the same Canadian peat promises to play an important part in agriculture, through soil improvement.

Scientists of the bureau of mines, who are charged with experimental investigation of peat, revealed that at the present time active experiments are being held on various plots set aside on Ontario and Quebec farms to test the value of peat as a soil restorer.

Depletion of soil humus is a situation which develops, where long cultivation and erosion is present. On account of their high costs, commercial and domestic fertilizers cannot be used on a wide scale as the sole source of organic matter required to bring the soils back to top production condition.

Experiment has shown that the better grades of peat are a good source of organic matter which modifies soils making them more favorable for plant growth.

Peat can be used also with adequate additions of commercial fertilizer to remedy nutritional deficiencies. Restoration and maintenance of the organic matter in the soil by the peat humus thus greatly increases the efficiency of the fertilizer.

THE DELAYED SEEDING

Seeding this year in general over the prairies will be greatly delayed owing, in the main, to a backward spring, and in certain areas to flooded land. The delay in seeding, however, is not so serious these days as it would have been ten years ago. Now earlier maturing varieties have picked up five days between seeding and harvesting. Most farmers too, can put in their seed much faster than they used to do ten years ago. Farmers used to consider seeding had to start about April 20th. This means that if seeding starts this year around May 1st, then in general the crops will be harvested around the same date as they would have been if seeding had started on April 20th ten years ago. Any delay in the start of seeding after May 1st, however, means that the crop will incur increased risks of being damaged by early fall frosts.

For the information of the readers of this column, here are the dates at which seeding started on these prairies in past years: 1940—April 24th; 1941 April 23, 1942—May 6th; 1943—April 21st; 1944—April 19; 1945—May 2; 1946—May 1, 1947—April 17.

Vermilion School Division Board Makes Teacher Appointments

The regular meeting of the Vermilion School Division was held at Vermilion on Friday and Saturday, April 22 and 24.

Superintendent's Reports: Board reviewed reports of Superintendent on schools visited since date of last meeting.

Staff Appointments: Clear Range—Miss Berit Eggen; Golden Valley — Clarence Venance; Islay Gr. 4-6—Miss Mona Ward; Telegraph — Miss Catherine Ryan; Moreton—Miss Caroline Rietner, West Centre — Miss Maude Flint, Kinella — Miss Eleanor Jory; Rye — Lorence Venance; Willowby — Lea Park—Miss Stella Reichenbaugh.

Woodvale School: Owing to reduced enrolment arrangements were approved for transportation of remaining pupils to Thorncliffe school.

New Buildings: Final plans and specifications for new building at Vermilion and addition to Kitscoty dormitory were studied and secretary was instructed to advertise for tenders in local newspapers and Edmonton Journal.

Chimney Sweeping: [illegible] George Ambler re vacuum method was discussed as Board intends to have all chimneys receive attention this summer.

[illegible] Board approved purchase of Ennis piano from Community club for $250.

Central Schools & Local Boards: Electors of school districts may request privileges as electors of school districts where pupils of closed schools [illegible]. Central board may be composed of not more than 5 members.

Dormitory: Dormitory accounts as approved by dormitory board were approved for payment.

Financial Report: Jan.-March 31st was presented by S. C. Heckbert and approved.

Insulation of Buildings: The Board studied estimate presented by MacLeod's Ltd. preparatory to summer insulation.

Ellsworth S.D.: Condition of basement was reported due to flooding and Board directed immediate action when ban on highways is removed.

Accounts as presented by Finance Committee were approved for payment.

May 28th: Letter from S. C. Heckbert outlined program of future visit of Gov.-General and Lady Alexander to Vermilion. Secretary was instructed to issue circular letter whereby local boards may declare school holiday if majority of pupils in attendance intend to visit Vermilion on that day.

Next meeting Friday May 21st.

WOODVALE

To the west our community is now separated from the Thorncliff, Basswood, Wildmere and Triangle districts by a wide sheet of water streaming through the Grizzly Bear coulee. The roads by the bridges are washed out so it will be quite awhile before we'll be able to travel in that direction. A granary is floating around in the water, where it comes from no one seems to know. Pretty well all other roads have impassable stretches where even horses pulling wagons have a slippery time crossing them. Our main road by combined efforts of different parties has stayed open most of the time though occasionally a car comes to grief and has to be hauled out of a bad spot. At the south end Clarence Lawie, Art Lysons, Ray McQuid and Ralph Thomson put in some strenuous work to clear the culverts and avert a wash out. Near Fannell's Harry Turner and Gordon Dixon under the supervision and with the help of Roger Watt patched a break there that seems to be holding. The same trio worked hard to drain a foot and a half of water off the [illegible] which had backed over there westwards from Lavoie lake. By plowing a ditch through a grade to the west the water can flow into the coulee near Luther Thompson's. How this new surge of water effects the low-lying building at the Ross farm and the bridge on the Wass [illegible] we were unable to find out as [illegible] telephone line is partly out of order. At that we are lucky around here, no farms are flooded altogether. When the farmers will be able to go on the land is the $64 question.

Brooks and Peggy Lysons just moved in time to their farm in the Thorncliff district, leaving young son Art with his grandparents where he is still happily marooned. As a whole this time of floods, running creeks and mud has been a good one for the [illegible] fry. The gophers around the school yard were chased and caught with enthusiasm and dozens more were drowned out of their holes on the way home. The Steele children have been isolated from school as they have to cross the Grizzly Bear coulee.

[illegible] Ford has been back off and on looking after his horses and trying to locate feed and seed grain.

A new Case tractor is awaiting dry land conditions to go to work for Ray McQuid.

[illegible] optimistic person in the district is Adam Durack who bought himself a bike a few weeks ago!

Only Mrs. Watson braved the muddy roads on April 21st to go to the Red Cross meeting at Mrs. Portsmith's. Maybe we should say that she was the only one who arrived there. When and where the next meeting will be held will be decided later.

The Tolland and Hindville mails are arriving on time again, now they are arriving via Kokanee. That always seems a more sensible route than the long and winding one over bad roads across the coulee.

It was with great regret that the people of the district heard the sad news of the death of Mrs. Ben Johnston [illegible]. Jean lived so long in our community and returned so often for visits that she still seemed to be one of us. Her friendly personality and cheerful laugh will be greatly missed and all our sincere sympathy goes out to her husband and little son Hugh and to the McGrath families, to whom she was like a daughter and sister.

[illegible] the province [illegible] conducive to [illegible] land [illegible] more will [illegible] the land can [illegible] At that there will [illegible] around low [illegible] Many such places [illegible] all summer [illegible] week and drew frost [illegible] resulted in very [illegible].

Roads [illegible] impassable except [illegible] horse or team and [illegible] roads disappear into [illegible] have been washed out in many places. These grades under water will soon be [illegible] unless the weather is very [illegible]. It is doubtful whether such grades will be usable this year. [illegible] we must consider ourselves fortunate in that we have suffered no loss of life, no flooded homes, no loss of livestock, as has been the case in other localities of the province.

The problem nowadays is how to reach one or by what road. Everybody is in the same boat (or should we say everybody needs the same boat?). Some situations are not without their lighter moments. We cite one case on the King Edward highway about 3 miles north of town, on Tuesday, April 27th. Going through the slough there which had completely covered the grade one car was in so deep that the exhaust was under water choking off the engine. A good neighbor thinking he might be able to give the first car a push through the deepest water drove up close only to find that water was being thrown out the hinge of the radiator hood of his car. He was forced to back to shallower water so that his car engine wouldn't suffer the same fate as the first. Thereupon the driver of the first car had to open the car door carefully, [illegible] on the running board and radiator and perched [illegible] the right fender [illegible] muffler. HEALTH LAWS

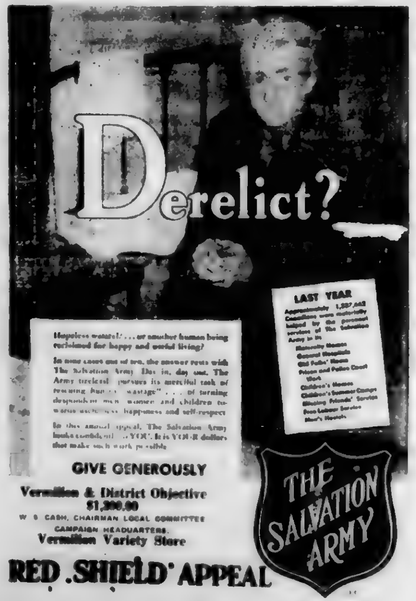
It is just as important for Canadians to know the laws of Nature as the laws of the land, in the opinion of National Health and Welfare advisers. Ignorance of the law is no excuse in social offences, and ignorance of health rules leads to punishment as sure as that which Nature metes out to those who offend her wilfully. Public health authorities urge everyone to learn the basic principles of hygiene as outlined in health literature issued free on request through the provincial health departments.



Hopeless wastrel? . . . or another human being reclaimed for happy and useful living?

In some cases out of ten, the answer rests with The Salvation Army. Day in, day out, The Army tirelessly pursues its merciful task of reclaiming human "wastage" . . . of turning despondent men, women and children towards usefulness, happiness and self-respect.

In this annual appeal, The Salvation Army looks confidently to YOU. It is YOUR dollars that make such work possible.

Encouraging The Arts

THERE HAS BEEN CONSIDERABLE COMMENT in recent years upon the fact that more emphasis is placed upon the importance of scientific and industrial progress than on the advancement of the arts. The keen competition which is characteristic of industry and the urgency which has of late been placed on the gaining of advanced scientific knowledge, have resulted in great progress being made in both these fields, while much less attention has been paid to the need for encouraging painting, writing and other forms of creative art. In spite of this, Canada has produced fine work in almost all branches of the arts and there are many Canadians who feel that more encouragement and support should be given to those who carry on this work. To encourage the arts means not only to support the work of artists but to raise cultural standards throughout the country and to bring that side of our national life to the level of this Dominion's international status in science and commerce.

* * * * *

Proposals Made By Arts Council

This subject was discussed at a recent meeting of the Canadian Arts Council, an organization which is deeply interested in the cultural aspects of our national life. At the meeting a number of proposals were made which would be in the interests of raising cultural standards in the Dominion. The suggestions included the establishment of a national library and of an organized representative national theatre group which might occasionally play in other countries. The introduction of better methods of teaching art in the schools, and of training art teachers was also proposed and it was suggested that the scope of community centres should be enlarged to emphasize not only physical recreation, but artistic creation and appreciation. Increased recognition of the work of Canadian sculptors in our architecture was [illegible] by the Council, as was the encouragement of Canadian musical composers through direct subsidy so that their work could be published and become known.

* * * * *

Canada Still A Young Country

It is commendable that an effort is being made to encourage the creative work of Canadian artists and to foster knowledge and appreciation of their work on the part of the public. Canada is still a young country and it has been necessary that a great part of the energies of her people should have been directed towards the more practical side of nation building. Nevertheless Canada has produced artists, writers and musicians of a high order, many of whom have won international recognition. Western Canada is well represented in all forms of creative work and the West has, among its people of foreign origin, a wealth of culture which has already contributed a great deal to Canadian art and literature. Substantial financial support and widespread public interest have done much to bring Canada to the fore among other nations in science and commerce, and it is not unreasonable [illegible] Canadian Arts Council should seek support in raising the cultural level in Canada so that the arts may receive recognition nationally and internationally in keeping with that [illegible] in other fields.

Sees End Of Big-Money 'Spiels

TORONTO.—Men who follow curling for its own sake "spell the doom" of the big-money bonspiels with their heavy entry fees, Colin Campbell, president of the Canadian Curling association said.

He was commenting on a recent announcement that Rosedale curling club will hold its first annual $15,000 spiel next winter.

"I have never found a bonspiel that to my mind was worth putting up $100 to attend," said Campbell. "Fellows who curl for its own sake are unwilling to pay the high entry fee. . . . They don't mind being beaten by a crack curling rink, but they don't want to pay $100 for the privilege."

He mentioned a motion passed at an association meeting two years ago which deprecated such big-money affairs.

"There's no disciplinary action which could be taken against them," he said. "The curlers themselves will take care of them."

WOMEN GUARDS FOR JAPANESE PALACE

TOKYO.—The Palace Guard, once the roughest toughest outfit in all of Japan, is to get women recruits.

The reason: Women may be more polite to visitors than the 600 gruff-voiced policemen now guarding the most-encircled palace.

The Imperial Household cautiously announced the addition of the women—20 to 30 of them. The Japanese received the news with incredulity.

"Cheesecake around the palace" snorted one westernized Japanese.

NO MORE BOBBIES

VICTORIA.—Another of the typical English features of Victoria—the "Bobby" uniform worn by policemen—has disappeared. The city's finest now wear lapelled jackets and caps, with blue shirts and ties.

Oxford university oarsmen eat whale steaks while in training. Pretty heavy diet for an athlete.

CELEBRATE 25th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY—Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth attended a service of thanksgiving at St. Paul's cathedral in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of their wedding. Accompanied by Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, and by Princess Margaret, and with a sovereign's escort of Household cavalry, the King and Queen left Buckingham Palace and drove to the cathedral.

Safer To Live In Canada

TORONTO.—It is nearly one-third safer to live in Canada than in the United States, Lloyd A. Blanchard of the Federal Safety Council, Washington, said. The accidental death rate in the U.S. is 70.8 per 100,000 population, and in Canada 54.6.

Industrial fatalities in Canada have decreased, he told the annual meeting of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations, but industrial injuries had increased.

Home and highway were still the most dangerous places to be, sixty-one per cent of workers accidentally killed met death in accidents off their jobs. About 30 per cent of off-the-job fatalities happen in homes. Chances were twice as great of an industrial worker being injured off the job than in a factory.

In the factory and in the home, "poor housekeeping" was the cause of most accidents, he said.

Manitoba Renews "Fitness" Pact

OTTAWA.—The Province of Manitoba and the Federal Government have renewed their agreement under the National Physical Fitness Act for another year, it was announced here.

Under the agreement the Federal Government undertakes to share with the province the cost of carrying out a fitness and recreational program in Manitoba. Maximum Federal grant per year is $14,280—an amount worked out on a population basis in relation to a total fund of $72,000 per year for all nine provinces.

Manitoba has participated in the National Fitness Plan since 1944, with the program being administered by the province's Department of Health and Public Welfare. Other provinces having agreements under the act are British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

What! Firemen Refuse To Answer Call

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

A bumptious fellow was giving evidence in a police court.

"You say you stood up?" asked the magistrate.

"I said," retorted the conceited one, "that I stood. If one stands one must stand up. There's no other way of standing."

"Oh, isn't there?" replied the magistrate. "Pay two pounds for contempt of court, and . . . stand down!"

British Speed King To Visit Kelowna, B.C.

KELOWNA.—Sir Malcolm Campbell is ready to come here to try for a speedboat record on Okanagan Lake as soon as his Bluebird II's jet engine goes through preliminary tests, he informs his Kelowna friend, W. T. Buss.

Mr. Buss has sent Sir Malcolm a scale map of Lake Okanagan, with suggested courses and information on wind and other atmospheric conditions.

Kelowna is continuing its campaign to raise $25,000 to finance the trial. Before he can get an export permit for his boat from the British government, Sir Malcolm must show financial arrangements are completed here. He is unable to export money from Britain.

T. Greenwood, board of trade president, said the drive is going well.

Canada Geese Show Increase In Year

PORTLAND, Me.—More Canada Geese are winging northward along the Atlantic flyway than last year.

The United States Wildlife Service reported that it counted at least 15,[illegible] in its [illegible] annual census.

The tally, showing an increase for the fourth consecutive year, was made at Merrymeeting Bay, near Bath and other nearby Kennebec River feeding grounds where the geese pause en route to Hudson Bay and Labrador nesting grounds.

The count was 3,684 more than last year.

Report to the People

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.
BATTLE RIVER

For the past number of years the population of the prairie provinces, B.C. and the Maritimes have been suffering an injustice in regard to freight rates that have been in operation, and on many occasions demands have been made to have this injustice removed, but up to the present time without any beneficial results.

Nearly two years ago the railway companies made application to get an increase of 30% in the freight tolls and rates and for the past 14 months the Board of Transport Commissioners has been taking evidence and considering the granting of the increase. On March 31st last the Board made its announcement in a press release which has caused a lot of dissatisfaction in the provinces concerned. The result of this announcement was an advance of 21% on many items, with an increase of 25c per ton on coal and coke.

The increase does not apply to the rates on grain and flour moving from all points, on all lines of railway, west of Ft. William, to Ft. William, Port Arthur and Armstrong; these are statutory rates and are sometimes referred to as Crow's Nest Pass rates. Rates on grain and flour from all prairie points, on all lines of railway, to Vancouver, Prince Rupert and other B.C. ports for export are not affected, and also the rates on grain, and grain products, for domestic consumption between points in Western Canada, and rates on feed grain published in C.F.A. Tariff 145 remain as they were. There are other exceptions which do not particularly affect us in Alberta.

The seven provinces already mentioned feel that they have been unduly discriminated against in days gone by because of preferential treatment being given to certain sections of the country, viz, the central provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and in order to prevent an increase in the freight rates until the discrimination was removed the seven provinces did everything in their power and employed the best legal talent available. It may seem strange here to note that the provinces of Ontario and Quebec were not represented before the Board of Transport Commissioners during the hearing, which is some indication that they are quite satisfied to have things continue as they were.

The freight increase question was of sufficient importance to have Parliament adjourn its regular business on the first day after the Easter recess (April 5th) and the debate continued from the opening of the House until closing time at 11 o'clock. Members from all parties in the House and from all sections of Canada (with the exception of Ontario and Quebec) took part in the debate and condemned the action of the Government in allowing the increase to be put into effect, this to take place on the 8th instant and we learn that the companies have already got the new tariff schedules prepared and are ready to put them into effect.

It was expected that the Government would instruct the Board of Transport Commissioners to postpone the effective date for at least 30 days as the Premiers of the seven provinces, who protested the increase, have already agreed to meet in Ottawa on April 24th, with the respective legal representatives meeting in that city on April 21st for the purpose of discussing the matter and drawing up the necessary form of appeal before the Premiers arrived.

Members of the House were greatly surprised when, on Wednesday the 7th, the Minister of Transport (Hon. L. Chevrier) announced that the Government did not deem it advisable to interfere with the decision arrived at and announced by the Board of Transport Commissioners. He also announced at the same time that an order in council had been passed authorizing the Board of Transport Commissioners to fully investigate the freight rate structure with regard to the preference extended to certain sections of the country. Before the end of that sitting, when the House was going into committee of supply a motion was moved protesting the increase in freight rates and a debate followed which has not yet been concluded. This is a want-of-confidence motion and it will be very interesting to find out how Government supporters in the seven provinces affected will vote when this recorded vote is taken.

"Bloodless Victory"

The tragedies of Czechoslovakia and Finland chalk up two more battles lost in the ideological war. While statesmen try to check this sweep of "bloodless victories" abroad, the ordinary man can keep his eye upon the "bloodless victories" which despite our "purges", still continue here at [illegible].

Ideological fifth columnists follow a common pattern. Under cover of numerous democratic sounding fronts they work first to undermine foundations—the family, the church, the moral law, unity at home and in Europe, Western European Union, aid to Europe, our friendship with other nations and races, teamwork in industry, agreement in the labor unions. Young people are encouraged to sneer at morality, religion and their parents. Workers are encouraged to slacken production, suspect the boss, and to elect the wrong men to key union positions.

If these fifth columnists cannot capture the labor unions or farmers' associations, they bring them into disrepute and impotence through unofficial strikes and slowdowns. Propaganda is spread to split all opposition into small groups both in labor and national politics. Needless and futile battles are fought on trifling issues with real issues never faced. How can democracy fight back?

The battle obviously, must be fought at each point of materialistic attack. Moral standards must be maintained, religion upheld with new vitality, and the family must win back its lost ground. These are the foundations of freedom. Labor unions can recapture key positions they have lost. Sound men can be elected, unofficial strikes and unreal elections can be stopped, through the resolute and united action of all members. The same is true of our political elections.

Win these battles—learn the secret of uniting men to stand for what is right at home and we can send abroad a task force that will help unite the democratic elements in Europe. We can launch a counter-offensive of "bloodless victories" that will unite Canada, move on to make Western European Union a reality and help roll back the Iron Curtain.

THE TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR

The typographical error
Is a slippery thing and sly;
You can hunt it till you are dizzy,
But it somehow will get by.
Till the forms are off the presses,
It is strange how still it keeps;
It shrinks down into a corner
And it never stirs or peeps.
The typographical error
Is too small for human eyes,
Till the ink is on the paper,
When it grows to mountain size.
The Boss, he stares with horror
Then he grabs his hair, and groans;
The copy-reader drops his head
Upon his hands and moans.
The remainder of the issue
May be clean as clean can be.
But that typographical error
Is the biggest thing you see.

Guard Duty Training by Local Reserve Unit

MORE MEN ARE NEEDED

The Vermilion Company of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment is busy training for guard duty at the time of the Governor-General's visit. Two parades a week are held at the local armory in order that the men will be precision perfect on May 25th.

The guard should consist of 100 men with officers and N.C.O.'s. As the local unit is not strong enough to a full guard on parade, some men will be supplied by other companies of the same regiment.

As there are quite a number of trained men in the district who have belonged to the unit some time during the past two years, an appeal is made to them to rejoin "A" Coy. They will be permitted to parade with the guard for Viscount Alexander if they join immediately and attend all parades.

Any soldiers who wish to rejoin or any new recruits should report at once to Capt. Buckingham, Lieut Donnelly or Sgt Major Monro.

A Line from Mac

A very welcome and interesting note was received from J. H. T. "Mac" McLean now manager at the Bank of Commerce at Milk River. Mac keeps in close touch with activities of the town through the Standard and notes that things are forging ahead, also takes notice of the big day planned for May 25th. That the south is a little more favored in regards to weather than we are is borne out by the following paragraph from the letter — "Things are going along very nicely here, land is all drying up fine and if the dry spell continues seeding will be fairly general by next week, out on the east part of the district where the soil is lighter, and always early about 25% of the seeding is done already. Our winter was somewhat protracted. I'm getting used to the wide open spaces but it did seem funny at first". Mac closes with best regards to all old friends here.

R.C.M.P. Band Tour Planned for June

The Commissioner, S. T. Wood, R.C.M.P., Ottawa, announces: "The Band of the R.C.M. Police will make a recruiting tour of the 3 prairie provinces during the month of June. Arrangements are now being made to ensure that stops are made at the greatest number of places. It is expected that the tour will commence at Edmonton and finish at Winnipeg about one month later.

"This is the first time that such a recruiting tour has been undertaken and will also provide an opportunity for many members of the Force to hear the band of the R.C.M.P., which is considered to be the finest of its kind in Canada.

"Further details of the tour as to times and places where concerts will occur will be made public in due course."

DEWBERRY NEWS

[illegible] school with the [illegible] film machine [illegible] hoped to run these [illegible] regularly so watch for dates.

The C.G.I.T. are sponsoring a social evening in the Dewberry hall on May 7th at 8 p.m. The young people's club [illegible] to follow. There will be a sale of home work, candy and a fish pond. The program to follow will consist of songs and a short play entitled "Wildcat Willie [illegible]".

Dewberry can well be proud of the organization of young girls, as be sure to attend. What we need now is something for the boys.

Dewberry hockey boys have pulled themselves out of the financial red. Their last whist drive was well attended especially by the country folk. Prizes went to Ivy Kozak, Mrs. J. Braithwaite, Mrs. Munroe, Tom Jarvis, Eddy Wood.

We may just as well mention the flood trouble. A man might well expect to be locked out coming home late, but [illegible] the case with [illegible] when he came from the [illegible] partially [illegible]. Water has made a real [illegible] of the roads. The Dewberry road to Clandonald is still blocked by 2 miles of snow. Farmers are going to have to change their crop plans due to the late spring.

Some farmers hereabouts are surprised to find that their seed is not [illegible] grown on breaking. This is thought due to [illegible] last fall.

Funeral Services for Mrs. Jean Johanson

Mrs. Jean Johanson passed away on the 27th of April at the Viking Municipal hospital after a very short illness. Her age was 38 years 11 months and 21 days.

Mrs. Ethel Jean McLean Johanson was born on May 6th 1909 at Battleford, Sask. When she was three years old her mother passed away and shortly after she moved to Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McGrath of Vermilion where she made her home. On the 1st of April 1931 she was united in marriage to Charles Raymond Strunnahan who died in November 1936. On March 27th 1939 she married Mr. Ben Johanson, and in January of 1946 moved to Viking.

Funeral services took place from the Viking Lutheran church on April 29th and interment on May 1st at Vermilion, Alberta.

Mrs. Johanson will be deeply missed by her husband and son Hughie of Viking, four brothers and one sister all living at Drumheller, Alberta, and many friends.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Ted Hagen, Cecil Place, Bert Walter and Fred Sundberg.

Floral tributes were received from: The Family, Martha and Henry; Bill, Hilda and Jeannie, Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Place and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dahlberg, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Anderson and family; Connie and Ralph; Mr. and Mrs. R. McPherson; Mr. and Mrs. J. Jensen and family, Viking Fish and Game Protective League; Viking Elks Lodge, Connaught Lodge A.F. & A.M.; Mr. and Mrs. R. Brichman, Mr. and Mrs. W. Alexander and Mrs. Douglas.

Memorials were given to Lutheran Church Organ Fund by Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hagen and family, Eddie Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Len Leadre and family, Rev. and Mrs. I.J. Seagren, Mr. and Mr. R. Otto and family; Mr. and Mrs. John Halse, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Hess, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gilpin, Herman Halse, Orlando Halse.

The Cemetery Fund: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swanson, Esther and Carol; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wenstob and family.

The Viking Municipal Hospital Memorial Fund: Mr. and Mrs. George Cottrell, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nordstrom, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rolland and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. F. Kimball.

The Red Cross: Mrs. E. Whitten and family, Mr. and Mrs. I.J. Murphy; The Fitzmaurice; Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Nesbitt, Mrs. Sarah Lee.

Teachers Attend Primary Reading Demonstration

Five hundred teachers and superintendents from Edmonton and 30 outside divisions met in the city Monday and Tuesday and received instruction on methods dealing with primary reading in schools.

The instruction was given by Miss T. E. Schlumberger, of Chicago.

Monday Miss Schlumberger gave a lesson on "reading readiness" to pupils from the Glenora kindergarten. On Tuesday she instructed pupils from grade two at MacKay Ave. school.

The meetings were sponsored by the department of education and were held in the Masonic Temple. About 300 of the teachers to attend were from country points. The remainder were from primary schools.

Town and District Teachers Attend

Attending the reading course were the two grade 1 teachers from Vermilion, Miss Dorothy Ottenberg and Mrs. Ruth Adamson, Miss Betty O'Neill of Ranfurly, Miss Laddie Pursyke of Streamstown; Mrs. Margaret Roberts of Kakwa; Supt. E. C. Miller was also in attendance.

Clean Up Vermilion Before May 25th

ENERGETIC CAMPAIGN PLANNED BY JUNIOR SECTION, BOARD OF TRADE — CO-OPERATION OF ALL REQUIRED

The Junior Section of the Vermilion Board of Trade have plans under way to hold a clean up campaign in Vermilion. The primary idea for the time being is to have the town as neat and clean as possible for the visit of the Governor General on May 25th. However, the desire is to see the town go on the map as being one of the cleanest and neatest in the province. Following are the plans to date: On Wednesday, May 19th teams will cover the centre section of the town (Main street, First Street North and First Street South) to pick up garden refuse, waste paper, etc. which has gathered all over town. Team captains are to be named to look after vacant lots and to insure that everyone will pitch in and help. Additional waste paper disposal tins are to be placed down town. All citizens and visitors are urged to cooperate by placing candy wrappers, cigarette boxes and other waste paper in these boxes.

The Board of Trade urges every citizen of the town, and every visitor to help in this effort. Teams will be around on succeeding Wednesdays to cover the rest of the town for pick up, times and dates will be announced in later issues of the Standard. All are asked to join in this campaign. An hour's work some evening will do wonders for your yard. Clean up and paint up — make Vermilion a model town.

ESSAY AND POSTER CONTESTS

Two contests are to be held in the schools, one for the best poster and one for the best essay, with prizes in each competition as follows:

Grade	1st	2nd
Grade 4	$1.00	$ .50
Grade 5	1.00	.50
Grade 6	1.00	.50
Grades 7 and 8	2.00	1.00
Grades 9 and 10	2.00	1.00
Grades 11 and 12	2.00	1.00

All posters are to be turned in by Monday, May 17th, and all essays by Friday May 21st. Window displays are being arranged for down town, and judging will then take place. No names are to appear on these posters or essays.

Beautify Vermilion by beautifying your home. Clean up your yard, clip your hedge, burn your waste paper, put that rock on the wagon when it comes around. There is no cost to you to keep your home neat, but it will pay big dividends to all to have a model town. Paint your fence, fix your sidewalk and join the campaign to put Vermilion on the map.

Bookkeeping Student Wins Cash Prize

ONLY WINNER IN ALBERTA

A letter has recently been received from the Business Education World notifying the high school that Violet Klebanosky has won a cash prize of $1 for her outstanding paper entered in the annual bookkeeping contest. Since Violet began taking part in the bookkeeping contests she has earned a Junior certificate, a Senior certificate, a Superior certificate, an Annual contest certificate, two Honorable Mention certificates and a cash prize of $1.

It may be interesting to add a few words about students who received cash prizes of $1. They come from every state south of the border, 5 Canadian provinces, Newfoundland, Alaska, Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Korea. Although it is not known how many students from Canada took part in the contest, we do know that Canada had a total of 15 winners, of whom Violet was one. She is the only winner of this prize from Alberta.

Golf Clubhouse Burns

A fire starting in the grass at the golf course caught the little clubhouse and completely destroyed the building Monday morning shortly before noon. Spread of the fire further was prevented by members of the fire brigade.

Workmen think the fire started when one of them struck a match, the head flying off into the grass. It was some time later when they noticed the blaze which had already spread to the clubhouse. $100 insurance, just renewed 2 days before, was carried.

Quite a number of years ago when the golf course was located on the present airport, the clubhouse also burned. On that occasion it was thought transients were sleeping in the building.

Letters to the Editor

(This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

Vermilion, May 6, 1948.

Editor, Vermilion Standard.

Dear Sir:

Having read with interest the article in the Standard of April 29th on the services provided by the Islay Municipal hospital, the thought arose that here was something that the ratepayers of Vermilion hospital district might well give heed to.

The cost of these extra services, when spread over the whole district, is so small, that it hardly enters into the picture, but to the average salaried man and wage-earner the cost of a prolonged stay in one of the city hospitals looms very large.

It would be interesting to have the opinion of other ratepayers.

Would it possibly be of sufficient interest for the Board of Trade to discuss.

Yours truly,

Ratepayer

May 25th Plans Well Under Way

AIRSHOW DETAILS COMPLETE

Given a fine day, May 25th will be Vermilion's biggest day ever when it is expected that thousands will be in town to join in the truly Western welcome to be extended to Viscount and Lady Alexander, indications from Legion branches, from school districts, from Boy Scout and Girl Guide troops and from the public generally denote that the Vice-Regal visit has put Vermilion on the map in red letters. Citizens from far distant places in western Canada have expressed surprise that Vermilion has been able to enjoy such a visit from the direct representative of the King in Canada.

Beginning at 11 a.m. when Their Excellencies arrive by air there will be a day full of interest. School children are requested to line the route from the airport west along Main st., so that they may have their first view of the distinguished guests. The public are requested to be at the Fair Grounds at 12:30 when they will be entertained by the RCAF and Army bands while awaiting the arrival of the Governor General and his party for the scout award presentations and the investiture of war decorations.

Refreshment booths will be operated at the Fair grounds and the Elks hall in the down town area will also be utilized for this purpose in an endeavor to take some of the load off the cafes which will undoubtedly be hard taxed to accommodate the crowds.

Despite the lateness of spring work it is hoped that every household will be represented and that especially children will be given this one great opportunity to see and hear Their Excellencies in the only ceremonial visit to northern Alberta.

Make May 25th Vermilion's biggest day — Join the Western welcome to a grand soldier and a grand statesman!

Water Tower Is Ready for Shipment

ENGINEER McCRINDLE RETURNS TO TOWN

While Charlie Eppler and the Dominion Construction Co. crew have been back for the past ten days, Tuesday saw the return of C. R. McCrindle engineer in charge of the water and sewer installation for the town of Vermilion.

Word has also been received that the steel water tower is now ready for shipment and will be placed in transit as soon as the cement base and other requirements are ready here. Work got underway at the site of the tower on Wednesday.

Canadian Legion Regular Meeting

PLANS NEAR COMPLETION FOR OFFICIAL OPENING

Post 11 Canadian Legion held the regular monthly meeting in the Memorial hall on Monday evening with 53 members in attendance.

Correspondence read from the Governor-General disapproved of changing the name of the Vermilion branch to the "Viscount Alexander" branch. Being a patron of the Dominion Command it did not seem fitting that such a marked distinction should be conferred on any one Post.

Ruth Beatty to Present Bouquet

The Women's Auxiliary to Canadian Legion reported that Ruth Beatty had been selected to present a bouquet to Lady Alexander during the Vice-Regal visit. Ruth's daddy lost his life in the war.

Town Donates $300

The secretary announced the donation of $300 to the building fund by the Town of Vermilion.

The Wainwright Sea Bees are providing a wreath to be laid on the cenotaph. Forty of the branches invited to attend the May 25th celebration had signified their intention of sending a "token force".

Vermilion M.D. Councillors Guests of Board of Trade

Guests at the Board of Trade luncheon meeting held Wednesday were the Reeve and councillors of Vermilion River M.D. Reeve Jack Leighton expressed his pleasure at attending and stated that as the council now held its monthly meetings on Tuesday and Wednesday, it was quite possible that the members would drop in quite frequently to the Wednesday noonday luncheon meetings. The statement was enthusiastically received by the 33 townsmen present. Mr. Leighton also introduced the councillors, W. H. Gordon of Islay, George Lawrence of Clandonald, J. D. Stone of Paradise Valley, Arthur Clarke of Paradise Valley, Roger Wait of Kakwa, Tom Reisheim of Lea Park and the secretary Tom Wilson.

The president Melvin Hill was in the chair. Matters discussed were with regard to the clean up of the town being organized by Dr. King and his young men's committee of the Board of Trade.

The airport committee of the Board has recently had 2500 4 page folders printed containing information of the Vermilion airport. These are quite a work of art and are being widely circulated to air clubs, airline and airport officials all over the continent. The chairman Billie Pilkie and his committee of Bill Sutherland and Ronnie Barwick received well deserved thanks of their fellow board members for the comprehensive work.

The Board of Trade is sponsoring a [illegible] on [illegible] Clean Up [illegible] details of which are contained elsewhere in this issue.

Jack [illegible] spoke very highly of the young man Stewart Church of Camrose who won the Board of Trade $50 scholarship at the V.S.A. last term. This is payable when he returns for his second year. A photo showing the presentation of the recent graduation was given to the board.

CHANGES IN ALBERTA CABINET

HON. D. B. MacMILLAN NEW MINISTER PUBLIC WORKS — DAVID URE TAKES OVER DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Appointment of two new cabinet ministers and an increase in portfolios from nine to ten was announced by Premier Manning on Saturday last in one of the broadest cabinet changes made by the Social Credit government since it came into power in 1935.

The changes came as a result of the recent death of Hon. W. A. Fallow minister of public works since 1937.

David Ure, 37, an [illegible] farmer in the Red Deer area, has been named minister of agriculture to succeed Hon. D. B. MacMillan who has become minister of public works.

Dr. J. L. Robinson, Medicine Hat chiropractor has been appointed minister of industry and labor. This portfolio was held by Hon. C. E. Gerhart along with that of minister of municipal affairs.

Mr. Gerhart has been named provincial secretary. This position was held by Hon. A. J. Hooke, along with the portfolio of minister of economic affairs. Mr. Gerhart will retain his portfolio as minister of municipal affairs.

The ministerial portfolios are now distributed as follows:

Hon. E. C. Manning, premier, provincial treasurer.

Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, health and public welfare.

Hon. [illegible]

Hon. A. J. Hooke, economic affairs.

Hon. Lucien Maynard, attorney general.

Hon. D. B. MacMillan, [illegible]

Hon. N. [illegible]

Hon. Ivan Casey, education.

Hon. Dr. J. L. R[illegible] and labor.

UNITED CHURCH PRESBYTERY YOUNG PEOPLE'S RALLY

On Saturday night, May 8th, 3[illegible] Young People from Vegreville, Ranfurly, Lloydminster and Vermilion opened their two-day rally at the Masonic hall, Vermilion, with a banquet served by the W.A. group.

After an enjoyable sing song Marge West favored with two vocal numbers, followed by piano solos by Marion Roebuck. We were very pleased to have as our guest speaker Dr. G. Harrison Villett, Principal of Alberta college, Edmonton, who spoke to us on "Youth at the Crossroads Concerning the four C's". A social was held at 9 o'clock.

On Sunday morning the devotional period was taken by Clayton Reeves of Lloydminster using "Character Building" as his theme. "The Holy City" was sung by Marge West.

Discussion groups led by Selma Ure, Helen Henatic and Alf Roskins, all of Edmonton, discussed Personal Problems and Christian Experience.

At the commencement of the afternoon session Rev. [illegible] described Youth at the Crossroads in Regard to Right and Wrong, followed by a discussion group led by [illegible] Henatic on Missions and World Affairs.

After a half hour adjournment a general session met for the business meeting and election of the new executive for the coming [illegible]. Newly elected officers are as follows:

President Clayton Reeves, Lloydminster; Vice President Bill Deacon, Vegreville; Secretary-Treasurer - Glenna Little, Vegreville; Culture Convener - Molly Malone, Vermilion; [illegible] Convener — Donald Ross, Vegreville; Recreations Convener — Barbara Ross, Vegreville; Citizenship - Irene Rivet, Vermilion; Fellowship to be chosen from Lamont group.

The installation of officers ceremony was performed by Selma Ure.

In the evening the group met to attend church for their final session. Dr. Villett was in the pulpit and gave us an inspiring sermon on the theme "Pathway to the Stars."

The members of the U.C.Y.P. would like to express their thanks to all those who helped make our rally a success, especially to the members of the W.A. for their work in serving at the banquet and all those who so kindly offered billets.

Active Tennis Season Planned at Vermilion

ANNUAL MEETING HELD, OFFICERS ELECTED

If the annual meeting held Monday evening is a criterion, tennis is in for a very active season in Vermilion. Gordon Hay was elected as chairman of the management committee, Ashley Cooper is secretary. The executive is comprised of Harry Kossowan, Keith Chalmers, Ellen Williams, Dave Witwer and a high school representative to be appointed.

The grounds committee is headed by Doug Cooper with Perce Cooper, Frank Manyluk and Arnold Gillies as his right hand men. A high school student will also be appointed to this committee.

Mrs. H. J. (Dr.) Clarke is convener of the social committee with Ellen Williams, Thelma Westman and Mrs. Ashley Cooper other members of the committee. All ladies interested in playing are welcome to contact any of the above.

The secretary reported a balance of $200.12 on hand. The tidy balance is chiefly due to the fact that practically all caretaking work has been voluntarily done by a very few of the members for the past several seasons during which time membership has been low.

By all indications interest is much higher this season and 51 have handed in their names as interested in playing the game. 21 of these are students, 24 adults with more adults known who intend to play.

Membership Fees

[illegible] fees were set at the following [illegible] reasonable figures, in spite of higher cost of equipment and [illegible]

[illegible], couple $5, [illegible] student $2. Elementary [illegible] $1.50 with hours [illegible] to before 6 p.m.

Courts in Use

A work party was arranged for [illegible] for the season has now commenced. All three courts will be used owing to the interest indicated.

Hazeldine to Hold Sports Day, June 16

Hazeldine will hold the second [illegible] annual sports day on Wednesday, June [illegible]. OBITUARY

EDWARD WILLIAM CORLETT

On May 5th William Edward Corlett of Innisfree, Alberta, passed away at Vermilion at the age of 83 years. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Gordon Park, of Vermilion, one son William of Tofford Harbor, B.C., also 4 grandchildren. Funeral services were held Saturday May 8th at the Innisfree United church. Rev. T. W. Teage officiated and interment took place in the Mount Pleasant cemetery, Edmonton.

ROAD BANS LIFTED

Road bans on highways were lifted Wednesday according to an announcement by the Highway Traffic board.

Former Meat Market Is Being Renovated

The Vermilion Meat Market is a business of the past, as it closed its doors for the sale of meat on Saturday May 1st, the well known firm of Macleod's Ltd having taken a five-year lease on the building, or until Dec. 31st, 1953.

Mr Walter Yager, contractor, arrived from Winnipeg on Monday afternoon May 3 accompanied by two experienced building trades workmen, to make structural changes, redecorate, lay sewer and water pipe from the front to the back of the building, provide washroom and toilet facilities, hot and cold water, paint walls and woodwork inside and woodwork outside, with all other improvements necessary to make it suitable for the sale of Macleods' line of merchandise. They hope to open their new store on May 25th.

Mr B. A. Clarke of Macleod's has been in Vermilion for some time and will supervise the installation of show cases, shelves and all store furniture. All of this will be new and is now in transit from Winnipeg. It is expected that the new store will represent the most modern trends in store fixtures, merchandising and equipment.

WEDDING BELLS

WESTMAN—PAULSEN

On April 23rd at 7 p.m. Grace United church Saskatoon, was the scene of a pretty double ring ceremony when Olga Katherine, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. N. Paulsen, Strongfield, became the bride of George Alexander Westman, son of Mrs. F. Davies of Vermilion, Alberta. The Rev. D. B. MacDonald officiated.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was charming in a floor-length gown of brocaded satin. Her beautifully embroidered veil fell in graceful folds from a pearl beaded headdress. She carried a bouquet of white Calla lilies and American Beauty roses. She wore a sweetheart locket, the gift of the groom.

The bridesmaids, Lillian Paulsen, sister of the bride, and Phyllis Westman, sister of the groom, wore identical floor-length gowns of pink taffeta. Their chapel veils were held in place by a coronet of pink flowers and they carried bouquets of assorted carnations and bluebells.

The groom was supported by his brother Mr. Jack Westman of Saskatoon and W. M. (Paddy) Burton of Plenty, Sask. Ushers were Hugh Campbell and Earl Cherry.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the King George hotel where a wedding buffet luncheon was served to 25 guests. The out-of-town guests were from Kenaston, Plenty, Blackworth and Strongfield, Sask., and Vermilion, Alberta.

The bride chose for her going away costume a tailored suit of grey gabardine and black accessories. The happy couple left for a short honeymoon during which they visited relatives and friends at Kenaston and Strongfield. They will make their home on their farm at Plenty, Sask.

Mrs. Frank Davies and daughter Miss Phyllis Westman of Vermilion, mother and sister of the groom were among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding.

CLEAN-UP!

Residents of Vermilion are asked to co-operate fully in the spring clean-up campaign which is promoted this year by the Junior committee of the Board of Trade in conjunction with the town council. This is an annual event and all citizens are fairly well acquainted with what is required of them. The objective of the campaign is to make Vermilion neat, clean and attractive, a laudable one indeed. The town's orderliness has been upset during the past couple of years by the mammoth undertaking of installing the water and sewer system. This was expected and due to the nature of the widespread project could not be avoided. There is no excuse however for anyone having untidy or dirty premises. Similar drives on dirt are being carried out this month all over Canada.

SPRING STILL TAKING ITS TIME

Reports generally indicate that the past week has seen marked progress in the drying up of the soil, although actual work on the land cannot be stated to be anywhere near general. Monday should see conditions such that everyone in the country will be hard at it, providing threatened rain holds off.

ISLAY

Some farmers are on the land here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Fenton of Streamstown were week end visitors at Mr. and Mrs. J. Maire's, also their daughter Maxine having remained after the play on Friday night.

The Streamstown players (one group) staged "Maid of Money" in the Islay hall under the auspices of the Knox Church Board of Stewards, on Friday May 7th. It was a three-act play of a fine calibre, clean and wholesome throughout, with a real good moral. The players acted their parts very well indeed, and from the laughter and applause we know the Islay audience thoroughly enjoyed it — Streamstown players, you will be very welcome again. We hope we may have your other play "The Winning Schemers" presented here too.

We notice Bill Muir driving a new Chevrolet and Walter McCaughan driving Bill's other one. Happy boys!

Sunday Mothers' Day, Bill Bothwell talked to the home folk via telephone.

Sunday school observed Mothers' day with a special service. Each child presented mother with a plant, just started in a crock, or tin nicely decorated. The plant is one which flowers profusely after some growth.

Church service saw a goodly number in attendance too and Rev. Driver delivered a very fine address on Mother.

Henry Olds has been repairing our sidewalks.

Johnny Toomey spent the week end at Marwayne visiting old friends and some new ones.

Word came this week of the death of Archie McMillan, Islay Ont. For many years Archie was a resident of Islay, Alberta, had a farm now occupied by H. Trahey. Archie was also engaged in the livery barn business with Neil McEachern. He had not been ill, had his supper and went out to cut the kindling for morning when he passed on. Having been gone a little too long, as his sister thought, she went out to look, and found Archie down, life was just about ebbed away then and in a very few minutes he passed away. Neil McFadyen, another old timer here was spending the winter in Ontario and had just visited Archie two days before. Neil has farmed in the Lavada S.D. for a number of years.

Mr and Mrs. Kay Sr have come to take up residence in Islay and are now living above Walter McCaughan's store.

Dorrell Bulletin

Friends here were sorry to learn of the accident to Jack Fenton whose home is in this district. Jack was injured while working at the Leduc oil fields when a fellow worker fell from the top of a derrick and struck him in the fall. Jack is reported to be recovering in an Edmonton hospital.

Mr. Norman McCallum is reported making favorable progress to recovery but will have to remain in the hospital for some time yet.

The next Busy Bee meeting will be held at Mrs. Maggs' on June 3rd.

The Maggs, Orbacks and Sherwoods were recent visitors at the Repp home. The writer and husband and Mrs Robinson visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Rindale in Islay.

Mrs. Robinson is suffering from blood poisoning in her foot and is under doctor's care.

The writer was very pleased to hear that Grandma McGinnis is doing very nicely but is still in the hospital at time of writing.

Our little girl of 1½ years, on hearing other children discussing Mothers' day, came to the writer and said, "Mama, please give me 10c to get a Christmas card for Mothers' day."

Everybody is busy on the land now after waiting during the long cold wet spring.

Charlie Burt has a new tractor to help out with his spring work.

Everyone hopes that the bad hole in the road by Dan Harrison's is fixed up soon. Everybody has been forced to go round by Borradaile and the new highway to reach town.

Mr and Mrs Bert Mason were recent visitors at the Maggs home.

Family Facts

The average Canadian family is just short of being four persons 3.90 persons to be exact—which suggests that we aren't so far in increasing our population by natural process. On the other hand the average household in Canada represents four and a quarter persons which suggests that one in four homes must be looking after more than their own family requirements.

Training For Commissions—

Saskatchewan is well represented at the R.C.A.F.'s basic flying school at Centralia, Ont., where flight cadets from all across Canada are beginning their careers as commissioned aircrew officers. Shown above in the cockpit of a Harvard aircraft, ready to take off on a training flight, are Flight Cadets A. J. R. Laurie, Regina, and H. S. Tetlock, Maymont, Sask. Standing on the wing, behind Tetlock is Flight Cadet C. D. Wilken, Redvers, Sask. Laurie, who served in the Army during the war, joined the Air Force last September, while Tetlock is a wartime veteran of the Fleet Air Arm. Wilken, a wartime veteran of the R.C.A.F., re-enlisted as an airman in 1946 and was selected from the ranks to qualify for a commission and aircrew training. The three shown above are taking pilot training, and will be awarded wings and commissions after their initial flying training period covering a little more than one year. They will then be posted to squadrons for operational duties.

Training as pilots in the R.C.A.F. under the Air Force's new aircrew training programme are the two Saskatchewan boys shown above in the cockpit of a powerful Harvard trainer at the R.C.A.F.'s basic flying training school at Centralia, Ont. They are (left to right) Flight Cadets G. A. Raymond, Regina and K. J. Thorneycroft, Swift Current. Raymond entered the Air Force as a flight cadet last November while Thorneycroft enlisted as a radio technician in 1946 and was selected from the ranks to qualify for aircrew training and a commission. Both boys will be awarded wings and commissions upon completing their initial training period covering a little more than one year, and will then be posted to squadrons for operational duties.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

FORGIVENESS

A wise man will make haste to forgive, because he knows the full value of time and will not suffer it to pass away in unnecessary pain.—Rambler.

He who has not forgiven an enemy has not yet tasted one of the most sublime enjoyments of life.—Lavater.

Though men should rend your heart, let them not embitter or harden it. We win by tenderness, we conquer by forgiveness.—F. W. Robertson.

A merely fallen enemy may rise again, but the reconciled one is truly vanquished.—Schiller.

Persecution is the weakness of tyrants engendered by their fear, and love will cast it out. Continue steadfast in love and good works.—Mary Baker Eddy.

DETROIT BANS SALE OF THIRTY-SIX COMIC BOOKS

DETROIT — Detroit officials have banned the sale of 36 comic books on city news stands.

Censors termed the books corrupting to youth. Prosecutor James McNally said failure to abide by the ban would be punished as a misdemeanor. 2774

PROVES GOOD IDEA

KEOKUK, Ia. — The Church of Nazarene here has bought a pony and has inaugurated a plan which is really paying dividends. All children attending Sunday School receive a ticket good for rides on the pony.

Chlorine dioxide is efficient for bleaching flour and more than 1,000,000 tons of it are used in the United States annually.

POLICE BAND TO MAKE RECRUITING TOUR

REGINA — The band of the R.C.M.P. will make a recruiting tour of the three prairie provinces during June. Arrangements are now being made to ensure that stops are made at the greatest possible number of places. It is expected that the tour will commence at Edmonton and finish at Winnipeg about one month later.

Boys Threaten Teacher's Life If Pupils Didn't Pass

NEW YORK — Margaret Johel, 24, a Brooklyn high school teacher will think twice before she flunks anyone in mathematics.

A telephone call received by her mother at Miss Johel's home warned:

"If you don't pass everyone in math tomorrow you'll be pushing up lilies."

A few minutes later a car drove slowly by and more than 20 shots from a 22 calibre rifle were fired into the front of the teacher's home. No one was injured. The gunman escaped.

NEW YORK — Six Brooklyn school boys confessed to shooting up the home of a pretty blonde school teacher in an effort to scare her into passing their 14 year-old ringleader in mathematics.

"We did it because I knew I couldn't pass math," police quoted Anthony Durso, a gritty faced high school freshman. "I was afraid of what my father would do to me if I flunked."

Durso said he talked five friends from 12 to 16 into helping in the plot. Using a stolen car they drove past the home of the teacher, 24 year-old Margaret Johel and fired more than 20 bullets at the windows. They used seven 22 calibre rifles stolen from a Coney Island shooting gallery.

Prior to the shooting a 12 year-old member of the gang called the Johel home and warned:

"If you don't pass everyone in math tomorrow you'll soon be pushing up lilies."

Durso was caught because he [illegible] Miss Johel was not intimidated by the shooting. He hired a 16-year old honor student to take the mathematics test for him and the substitute gave the plot away [illegible] questions.

[illegible] at the Fort Hamilton high school building while the tests were in progress and a policeman [illegible] Miss Johel stayed at her side throughout the day.

Cannot Help Doomed Dog

LONDON — Princess Elizabeth said she is sorry but she cannot use royal influence for a dog condemned to die for killing sheep.

The dog's master, Norman W[illegible], wrote the princess a plea. Her answer said she "much regrets that the matter is not one in which she can exercise any personal intervention."

The average motor car contains 47 pounds of copper — usually in the radiator.

INHERITS $2,000,000—John Leonard Scallon, 14, of London, Ont., is reportedly Canada's richest boy. The student at Ridley college in St. Catharines, Ont., is named as heir to an estate of $2,000,000 in the will of his great-aunt, the late Mrs. Eleanor E. Morgan.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

EASY MONEY :: VALERIE CULLEN

VERY quietly he opened the back [illegible] hardware store, inch by inch, and picked his way over loose boxes and boards that littered the walk to the alley.

It was over now and he was five hundred dollars richer. He could just picture the face of Janie, the pretty clerk with whom he worked, if she saw him now.

"Jack Hallock, burglary is a fool's game. You'll get caught in the end. And how could you rob the store of the man for whom you work! How could you rob hard-working people!"

But she was wrong [illegible] wouldn't be caught. Not [illegible] Jack. He had planned and waited for this moment, waited until he knew the elderly watchman of the small town was having his usual coffee at one in the small all-night restaurant two blocks away.

Pausing uncertainly for the moment, he scanned the alley now clearly illuminated by moonlight. Forcing the lock off the door and battering the store safe had taken more time than he had anticipated.

His nerves had been unstrung by the eerie silence of the store, and each blow he struck the safe seemed to have been magnified a thousand times to his own ears, echoing and resounding in the murky darkness.

Once when a passing car broke the outside stillness, he had almost quit and fled. He steeled himself to continue until the job was completed.

He would work for several more months at the store until suspicion had abated and then leave for a larger city. That five hundred dollars would go far in providing him with entertainment in night clubs and race tracks he had always dreamed of. And when that money ran out, there would be other stores.

No more of this small dead town for him. Other people might slave for their everyday bread but not him. In his mind people were divided into two classes—those who worked and those who were smart enough not to have to work.

He had been kicked around enough, he told himself, as a member of a large, poor family. He had never been given new clothes or books or spending money.

Janie, he told himself, had never known humiliation and want. Well, let her live the hard way; he'd take the easy money.

Moving cautiously out into the moonlight, he glanced at the thick rosemary hedge which enclosed the yard of the large home next to the hardware [illegible]. It was an old stately home which had been built at the centre of the town when the town was young eighty years ago. The rest of the block had gradually been built into stores, but the fragrant, beautiful hedge still maintained the home's privacy and dignity, holding off the invaders. The sweet fragrance filled the air.

Janie, he remembered, lived there, and suddenly he hated the lovely scent, the dignified home, as symbols of something he had never had.

He jumped. Someone was coming from the far end of the alley. He had been right when he thought he was taking too long in breaking open the safe. The night watchman had finished his coffee and was coming his way.

For a split second he hesitated. He was still unseen in the shadows. If he ran out into the alley under the light, he would be seen by the watchman. Even if he did succeed in outrunning the old man, some car [illegible].

Turning, he ran swiftly toward the hedge, crashing through and ignoring the sting of scratches. Ruthlessly he forced through the second hedge, trying to shut out the foolish old man's voice. "Stop! What's going on here?"

Swift pursuing steps came closer as Jack struggled to free himself of the hedge.

Then he was free. He ran swiftly down the block and then another. Behind him he heard shouts, then a pursuing car.

In another moment when the glare of the headlights had pinned him in an unescapable arc of light, Jack was sauntering casually, smoking a cigarette.

Brakes screamed and the watchman jumped onto the sidewalk. "Have you seen a man running this way?"

Feigning surprise and interest, Jack replied, "Sorry, but I haven't. What's up?"

"Don't know yet but something is wrong." The watchman came closer, looked hard at Jack.

"Been running?" he asked. "You're breathing hard."

Jack tried to laugh nonchalantly. "I'm just as excited as you are, pop. That's all. But I'm not your man." He took a long pull on his cigarette.

The watchman waved the smoke away in irritation, sniffed, and then grabbed Jack's arm. Startled, Jack tried to pull away, and as he did so, the driver of the car, sensing trouble, jumped out and rushed over.

The watchman turned to the driver. "Help me hold this man for the police. I've a good idea he just broke into the hardware store."

"You're crazy, pop," Jack protested. "You haven't got a thing on me!"

"No?" the watchman demanded. "But you smell pretty strongly of rosemary. Even got a couple of twigs on your coat. There's plenty of rosemary by the store. You must have been scared to run right through that, and I've a hunch you broke into the hardware store. Better come along quietly now."

PRAIRIE FLOOD DAMAGES RUNNING INTO MILLIONS—Damage running into millions is reported from the prairies from floods in all three provinces. Manitoba is reported hardest hit and in Emerson 70 miles south of Winnipeg on Minnesota border, a rowboat was needed on main street.

There is no known region where it never rains. Even the deserts get an inch or two of rain a year, on an average.

Engineers Save Strategic Bridge In Peace River

Vital Link In Alaska Highway To Supply The Far North

WHITEHORSE — Canadian Army and civilian engineers have won their winter-long battle against time and weather to save an important bridge. That bridge is a vital link on the strategic Alaska Highway originally built as a military route to meet the Japanese war threat in the far north.

Divers had been working through the Arctic winter under seven feet of ice to build a steel cofferdam—a water-tight protective casement—to save the Peace River bridge, damaged by flood waters.

The highway runs northwest from Edmonton, to Dawson Creek, B.C., and thence north and west through the Yukon to Fairbanks, Alaska.

Now the highway serves not only as a road over which supplies can be taken to Alaska from Canada and the United States. It also is the main route for American Military supplies and personnel for bases known to be under construction in Alaska.

The engineers' fight against time began last year when experts discovered that the $4,000,000 suspension span 2,100 feet long was in danger of crashing down.

Their race was against both river water and ice. They feared that if the spring thaw broke the ice before their dam was in place—to stop further erosion — the huge ice blocks might knock the pier off its foundations.

Divers cut a hole in the ice to work below water and one of their worries was to stop the hole freezing over them.

I asked the men, who worked in unheated diving suits, if it had been cold down under the mass of ice and water.

"Sometimes we went down that hole to get warm," said one diver. "It was 60 below on top but 30 above down on the river bottom."

REPAIRS TO FLOOD-DAMAGED ROADS TO COST MILLIONS

CALGARY—The Calgary Albertan in a newspage story estimated that Alberta's road bill to repair damage caused by floods and the spring thaw will run "considerably in excess of a million dollars."

EQUIP— FARM DUGOUTS AND SWIMMING HOLES WITH THIS PRACTICAL SAFETY DEVICE

SWIMMING and WATER SAFETY

CANADIAN RED CROSS SOCIETY

SASK. DIVISION 2331 VICTORIA AVE. REGINA

FARM dugouts, dams, swimming holes should all be equipped with some life saving device. These places are dangerous and claim many lives each year.

The 60 foot ¼ inch rope is attached to the handle of the can. The block of wood on the free end of the rope prevents its sinking. Coil the rope clockwise in a 15 inch coil.

Directions For Throwing

Hold the can in throwing hand, coil is held loosely in the other hand. Step on rope ahead of the block. Heave can with an underhand swing, allow rope to follow. Throw can well past victim and draw it to him. Brace yourself. Pull steadily, don't jerk. The air-tight can will support the victim's weight.

The buoy should be hung neatly, ready for instant use. TWO are better than ONE. Practise using it.

Another safety item is a long light pole which can be used for reaching or pushing a plank to the victim.

Neighbors Aid Grief Stricken Farmer

MILLBROOK, Ill. — Twenty-five tractors chugged into the 300-acre farm of Harlan Bryant on a good-will mission.

Bryant's wife and five-year-old son were killed when the tractor they were riding to the fields to help him overturned and crushed them.

The grief stricken farmer could not work his land.

Without invitation and with no fanfare, Bryant's neighbors drove their tractors into his fields. By nightfall 150 acres had been plowed and the fields were ready for corn planting.

Women of the neighborhood cooked dinner for the 45 men who worked all day to help a neighbor farmer in his time of grief.

Ethelwyn News

What shall we talk about this week? Bad roads and late spring is not considered a newsy topic any more — both just have to be endured.

Take note Clandonald, if we had a high grade in our district we could reach Clandonald and do business with you but these days all traffic goes to Lamberry. Why can't the two districts work together on the matter of roads. A high grade through this district would benefit both towns.

Mr. Morecroft was the first to start field work in this district, having seeded oats on May 3rd. The reason for the early start? Simply this — the creek raised so high it flooded the granary and the oats sprouted. These oats would have been a total loss if left in the granary so Mr. Morecroft decided to find out just what would happen by seeding the oats. It will be interesting to watch this field.

Millions for Alberta Highways and Parks

Road and park outlays by the federal and provincial governments in Alberta this year will exceed $17,900,000 according to a summary based on recent announcements.

The 1948 appropriation passed by the Alberta legislature provided for an outlay of $13,000,000 for roads, ferries and bridges, on capital and income accounts.

The federal government has announced that it will spend $3,573,000 on improvements in National parks in Alberta, the bulk being for park highways.

These large outlays are expected to effect considerable improvements and will serve to aid materially in taking care of the heavy demands of a record tourist movement this season.

Indications are that the tourist flood from the U.S. will set new records. Hundreds of inquires have been received at offices of the Alberta Motor Association in Calgary, Edmonton and Lethbridge.

Officials of the provincial travel bureau say every mail brings a batch of letters from prospective U.S. tourists seeking travel information. Many are asking about the Alaska highway and services along the route.

To meet these increased demands, the A.M.A. is issuing a large number of folders which give the latest information on accommodations, service stations and other data required by motorists. No permits are now required to drive over the highway.

Policy Benefit Payments

TORONTO. — Payments to living policyholders and beneficiaries in Canada by their life insurance companies totalled $15,172,700 during the month of February this year, it is reported by Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association.

Approximately 60 per cent of the payments were made to living policyholders. These payments consisted of matured endowments, disability payments, annuity payments, surrender values and dividends to policyholders.

The other 40 per cent. was distributed in death and accidental death claims and reached the sum of $6,069,489.

Report to the People

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.

Some people believe that the responsibility for the final decision rests entirely with the Board of Transport Commissioners, while others feel that an appeal can be taken to the Supreme Court of Canada, or the Privy Council, but the legislation dealing with this matter which is Sec. 53 of the Railway Act states as follows: "The [illegible] either upon petition [illegible] or of its own motion and [illegible] any petition or application [illegible] any order or regulation of the Board whether such order or decision is made inter partes or otherwise and whether such regulation is general or limited in its scope and application and any order which the governor in council may make with respect thereto shall be binding upon the Board and upon all parties." This sets out very clearly the responsibility of the Government and we feel that the discrimination that has existed over the years [illegible] successive governments against these seven provinces should be removed now.

I believe the time has arrived not to have an across the board increase in freight rates, which will merely continue if not perpetuate the unfairness under which these various provinces suffer today, but to have a scientific revision of the freight rate structure. Instead of doing that, the board has recommended the easy way. It has simply added an annex to an already dilapidated structure.

It is estimated that the present increase in freight cost will add approximately 70 million dollars annually to the already too high cost of goods to the Canadian people and this will naturally aggravate the present high cost of living which is causing so much unrest at the present time.

Many people do not particularly like to deal with figures but at this time I feel that it is of particular interest to quote a few to illustrate some of the arguments already advanced. In the Edmonton Journal on May 22 1947 was a statement written by the Hon. Stuart Garson, Premier of Manitoba which reads, in part, as follows:

In the current freight rate hearing before the Transport Board of Commissioners, exhibit 121 filed by the Canadian Pacific Railway shows that in the ten years from 1936 to 1945 inclusive 65.5% of the operating profits of the Canadian Pacific Railway were [illegible] Western Canada. Unfortunately comparable figures are not available from the Canadian National Railways." In the light of that statement will anyone state that there is not discrimination as between the different parts of the country.

Just a few more figures in this connection. The population of Canada in 1941 was 11,506,655, the Western provinces of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba had a population of 3,229,766, and the rest of Canada, the larger portion which we in the western provinces usually call eastern Canada, and the Maritimes, had a population of 8,266,889. These figures show that the four western provinces, having just over 25% of the population of the country, have supplied 65.5 of the operating profits of the Canadian Pacific Railway during the ten years, 1936 to 1945 inclusive, and the discriminatory freight rates are, to some extent, to blame for this condition existing.

To bring the problem nearer home, it will mean an increase in the freight of the "poor man's" automobiles (the Chev., Plymouth or Ford) by $30 to $40 and this added on to the already newly imposed 25% excise tax will materially reduce the purchasing power of our people. Farm machinery has during the past two years been increased by 12½% and 16% and this 21% increase in freight on these commodities will still tend to increase cost of production, even though a tentative international agreement covering the sale of our wheat for five years has now been initialled by Canada's representative to the Wheat Conference, and the price set out in that agreement is a ceiling of $2 per bus., regardless of cost of production. With conditions such as these continued [illegible] being allowed to continue, it is no wonder that we hear talk of secession in the prairie provinces. We [illegible] feel it is the duty of the Government to immediately remove the injustices that exist to the seven provinces as compared with the central provinces. This will perhaps, be one of the best ways to prevent the infiltration of the red menace which is regarded as a threat all over our country at the present time.

FROG LAKE CHAPTER I. O. D. E.

At the April meeting held at the home of Mrs. Miller, it was reported that 4 food parcels had been shipped to Great Britain. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Hill gave very interesting reports of the Provincial convention which they attended in Edmonton. Members were asked to make and fill nursery bags for the Queen Elizabeth hospital in London. Ten bibs were also made for the same hospital. Mr. Smith showed the films, "Eye Witness" and "The Royal Wedding" which were very much enjoyed and the Chapter voted $5 to the Film Board of the town. A donation was also voted to the Provincial Shipping Fund. Two new members, Mrs. C. Day and Mrs. H. Davidson were welcomed into the chapter.

The May meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Cross. Letters of acknowledgment of two of the food parcels sent to England were read. Such letters of appreciation help to bring home to us our own good fortune. The chapter is working on layettes, and Mrs. Miller has already several garments completed. The order decided to undertake the canvass for funds for the Canadian Cancer Society again this year. Booths will be operated in all main stores in town on Saturday, May 15. Mrs. Petch was named convener. Mrs. Smith gave a report of the work being done by the Canadian Association of Consumers in the standardization of sizes and quality in children's clothing; and in the study of color fastness and shrinkage in materials.

A home cooking sale will be held in Stephen's store on Saturday, May 22. Mrs. McDonald directed the Empire study when salient points of our country's constitution were discussed.

WILDMERE WINKS

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the bereaved ones in the passing of Mrs. Ben Johanson. Jean was such a happy and friendly person that her passing is indeed a sorrow to every one, especially to her dear husband and son Hughie and the McGrath families with whom she made her home for so many years.

Guy Whitlock is the new Wildmere postmaster. The P.O. is now back to its old original place when Mrs. Madill and Mrs. Beaufort were post mistresses a few years ago.

We must add our own and the district's sincere sympathy to Mrs. Fallow and family on their recent heavy bereavement. The government suffered a severe loss as well in the passing of such a valuable servant. No matter what our duty on earth the Grim Reaper makes no detours when our book of life is to be closed.

Lloyd Howard suffered a severely cut hand last Thursday in town when he attempted to stop a runaway team. The line had a rivet in it and cut his hand making it necessary to have it dressed by the doctor.

A nice crowd attended the Dasewood dance and a good time was enjoyed. J. Wilson and Albert Smith furnished the music, J. Wallington was M.C. Bad roads prevented some folks from attending.

We wish to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Lyons and son Arthur over to our side of the coulee, but in the Thorncliff district.

Laurence Graham was the first on the land in Wildmere. He commenced on Monday May 10th.

Noticed around: Mrs. Cliff Cruthers home with her baby daughter Kathleen June; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith and family at the Cruthers' home on Sunday; Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson at the Gibson home Sunday evening. Adam Smith Jr. returned from the coast on Monday; An exciting time Monday afternoon when a fire to burn trash at the school got out of control and burned across the corner of Mr. Carlson's hay land; Ice went out of Wallington Lake Sunday, not very far behind other years; and last but not least congrats to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Carroll on the birth of a baby daughter.

No Winks for awhile folks as writer will be busy housecleaning and gardening.

The W.A. of the United church groups will hold their annual Spring Tea and Sale of sewing and home-cooking in the Elks hall on Friday, May 14th commencing at 3 p.m. 61c

Chatsworth Chatter

Roads are drying up very rapidly and, except for washouts, mudholes and detours, are just as good as we expected after such a late spring. Of course, there are a number of places which will not be passable this summer, unless they could be drained.

Chicks are very much the order of the day with the advent of warmer weather. Gardens will be the next business though it is thought that field work will not be general until the latter part of this week.

Bob Cameron started on the land last week. To our knowledge, he is the first hereabouts to begin.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tovell and little son Kenneth have returned to the farm. They had spent the fall and winter months at Innisfail where Albert was in charge of the Baptist church.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Whalen (nee Jean Telford) on the birth of a daughter, Patricia Jean at the General hospital, Edmonton, on April 28th.

It is reported that Russell Branham has bought a farm in the Westlock district and is moving his family there immediately.

The Chatsworth local of the A.F.U. held a meeting on Friday May 7th at the school. There were 12 members in attendance and discussion re the coarse grains question was of particular interest. The amalgamation vote was taken, resulting in a 100% Yes by the attending members. The matter of district dues was also up for discussion and a resolution was passed to forward these from the funds in the treasury. The question of sending a Junior delegate to Edmonton to attend the University June [illegible] was left in [illegible] as it appears seeding may not be in full swing at that time.

Last week a horse owned by the [illegible] was found [illegible] cellar on the unoccupied former Herb Ashford farm. Evidently the unfortunate animal had fallen through and starved to death before being found.

Grand Finals of "Search for Talent" Prove Smash Success

The night of May 9th was a gala evening in the lives of 29 amateur contestants from all over northern Alberta. Representing towns from Athabasca to Red Deer, the amateurs presented their acts before the largest Edmonton crowd ever assembled to see an amateur show. The Edmonton arena was filled to capacity as the following winners walked off with the big prizes: $50—Hafso quartette of Viking. $25—Arlene Klatt pianist of Leduc. $25—Sam Logan vocalist of Morinville. $15—Robert Paulson novelty pianist and impersonator of Red Deer. $15—Joy Ferguson comedienne of Ponoka. The above contestants were chosen by adjudicators. The following contestants were chosen by audience votes: Sam Logan vocalist of Morinville, Connor washing machine; Gordon McEachern, comedy vocalist, of Lamont, a [illegible] chest; Tommy Foist, tap dancer of Westlock, Philco mantel radio.

The Northern Alberta Crippled Children's fund has already received applications and is in a position to provide much needed service as a result of the success of the talent shows. CFRN, as a continuing contribution to the fund has completed arrangements to tour Northern Alberta with its regular Friday night Barn Dance. Shows in individual towns will start at 9 o'clock with an hour long broadcast, and will be followed by a three hour dance. First town on the new travelling series is Leduc where the combined broadcast and dance will be held this Friday night.

Nine-year-old Ruth Beatty of Vermilion took part in the contest and thoroughly enjoyed the experience. The competitors were [illegible] royally by the A.C.T. and CFRN.

The habit of crisis breeds the habit of apathy.

RIVERTON

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fitzpatrick on the birth of a daughter, Patricia Elaine.

News is scarce these days, with all the roads washed out it's hard to get around. We can consider ourselves very fortunate no one was flooded out around these parts.

Miss Ethel Gilmer visited a day last week with her cousin Mrs. Schaffer and family in Islay while on route from Prince George, B.C. to her brother George's at Rivercourse, Alberta.

The public life of any nation depends upon the private lives of those who run it.

Cost Living Is At An All-Time High

OTTAWA.—The cost-of-living index in Canada reached an all-time high on March 1st, standing at 150.5 as against 150.1 on Feb. 2.

All-time high previous to this was attained about July, 1920 [illegible] 1914 after World War I [illegible] in 7 months, according to the computations of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The increase since March 1947 alone amounts to approximately 22%.

Two Contests For Barley Growers

Two competitions have been arranged for the western division of the 1948 National Barley Contest, sponsored by the brewing and malting industry.

This year's contest is one of the projects to be supervised by the recently organized Barley Improvement Institute with head offices at Winnipeg which aims to improve the quality of Canadian malting barley. The two competitions are:

Farmer's Competition—for one carload of commercial malting barley, minimum 1,667 bushels.

Seed Growers' Competition—for at least 200 bushels of registered or certified seed.

Entry forms have been forwarded to elevator agents and agricultural representatives in the barley growing areas of the western provinces and may now be obtained by growers wishing to enter either or both competitions.

ALLANDALE

This bulletin was written for last week but was delayed in reaching the standard office. Due allowance should be made for time elapsed.

Hello everybody! Allandale is still going again. I can hear some say about time! Monday afternoon May 3rd and didn't we enjoy the sunshine after so many dark days. Before too long we'll all be busy gardening and the men in the field.

Roads are impassable yet, but we shouldn't grumble, there are so many people who are destitute from floods and even lives lost, our sympathy goes out to them.

Our best wishes to the new babes, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walsh a girl, Adele Patricia, Feb 11th. Mr. and Mrs. H. Pratt a girl, Muriel Ann Roberta, on March 18th. Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilson, a boy Raymond Keith, April 10.

We surely miss Mr. and Mrs. McBride [illegible] at our meetings, but [illegible] when the roads are dry they'll [illegible]. April meeting was held at [illegible] May meeting to be held at Mrs. Thronton's May [illegible] afternoon. Everyone is welcome to attend the meeting.

A FARM STORAGE TANK DOESN'T "COST" IT PAYS!

A farm storage tank [illegible] permits you to [illegible] to be sure of having a [illegible]. No costly delays [illegible] fuel to be delivered.

Second, it helps to keep fuel clean and avoid plugging of fuel lines and carburetors [illegible]. The tank can be mounted with enough slant to cause any impurities to settle away from the outlet.

Third, it saves time in re-fueling [illegible] and trucks. If the tank is mounted overhead, gravity flow is quicker than pumping or pouring. And fourth, it prevents the spillage of the pump-and-pail method ... or the wastage of the "last gallon" that is often left in the bottom of each barrel.

Last but not least, a farm storage tank pays in added safety, because it can be located well away from house, barn or sheds.

Tanks come in three sizes. The price is reasonable. See your Imperial Oil Agent.

Funds For Education

WHETHER EDUCATION SHOULD BE under the control of the individual provinces or whether it should be entirely or in part the concern of the Federal Government, is a question which is frequently discussed by those who are interested in the future of education in Canada. Because of the extent of the country, and of the influence of the climate and the geography of the land on the interests and occupations of the people, it is clear that there would be many reasons why each province might be capable of dealing most wisely with its own educational problems. On the other hand, a uniform curriculum, and the free movement of teachers throughout the country would undoubtedly promote national unity, and would also remove the difficulties which now arise when pupils move from one province to another which has different educational standards. Another matter in which Federal control might prove beneficial is that of school finances, which frequently present serious problems to local educational boards.

* * * * *

Problems Are Pointed Out

The subject of school finances was raised in a recent "news letter" issued from the headquarters of the Canadian Teachers Federation. In the letter it was suggested that the Federal Government should bear a share of educational costs. "Education cannot continue to depend entirely on the wealth of a province, the wealth of a local community or on the generosity of the individual property owner," it said. "To base the solution of educational finance on the local property owner or on the wealth of a province is folly," the letter continued, and it further pointed out that the base upon which educational finance has rested in the past, that is, the real property tax, is becoming increasingly less accountable for the major portion of the taxes collected. The subject is to be further discussed at a conference to be held by the Canadian Teachers Federation in Ottawa this summer.

* * * * *

Present System Is Inadequate

As is the case in almost any enterprise, finances are of the utmost importance in education. Recent economic trends have brought necessary increases in salary scales for teachers, although in many parts of the country, due to the scarcity of funds, these increases are recognized to be far from adequate. In addition, the war brought about a curtailment of the building of new schools, and in the repairing of buildings already in use. Shortages of labor and materials following the war, coupled with rising building costs have caused an enormous backlog of construction and repairs which will some day have to be caught up, and which will involve large expenditures. It has long been apparent that in most localities the present methods of financing the schools are far from satisfactory and are not in the best interests of education. In its letter the Canadian Teachers Federation expressed the hope that at the coming conference provincial organizations would be prepared to give support to a revival of its active campaign for federal grants in aid of education. It is a matter which deserves the attention not only of the teachers organizations but of all who are interested in the welfare of education in Canada.

"GOOD OLD DAYS"

Comparison Of Hog Profit

WATROUS, Sask.—Digging among a pile of old papers the other day Ed Tingey came across several interesting souvenirs of "good old days" in his farming experience.

One was a settlement slip for a load of hogs, shipped to the Canadian Livestock Co-Operative Limited, Nov. 2, 1932.

Described as three selects, seven bacon and four butcher the 14 animals weighed 2,008 pounds. The price happened to be $2.30, which figured out to $32.15. When $27.86 freight and other deductions were taken off Mr. Tingey got a cheque for [illegible].

On making inquiries he found the price today would be almost seven times the price received in 1932. Of course the feed question entered into the picture, but one important item, oats, did not show nearly as much spread between 1932 and 1948.

SASKATOON.—Best story to emerge from Saskatchewan's otherwise grim flood picture was the following verified by the C.N.R.

A woman wanted to go from Battleford to her home at Delmas 10 miles away. She bought a return ticket for 35 cents. After two days she was still travelling on C.N.R. lines on the same ticket after having been re-routed to Saskatoon, Kindersley, Hanna, Edmonton and Lloydminster. She was also stranded a day west of Lloydminster.

She returned back home at Delmas after travelling 900 miles on 35 cents.

He Wouldn't Be Defeated

WILLIAM WATSON AUTOGRAPHS HIS BOOK

Although he was born without arms William R. (Bill) Watson is living proof that nothing can defeat a man who won't be defeated. Handicapped beyond most Watson is a successful Canadian author and writes all of his books with his feet. This picture shows him in Windsor, Ont., autographing his latest book holding his pen, for a change in his teeth. Bill is believed to be the only author of his kind in contemporary bookdom. He has written three books, each 130,000 words in length, a job that takes him from two to two and a half years for each. His latest book "And All Your Beauty" is based on a trailer trip across Canada taken by him and Mrs. Watson. From youth Watson did not permit his disability to discourage him. In his early years on the Canadian prairies he learned to skate, ski and swim with the best of them but when he learned to write in school he was different in that he sat on the floor [illegible] sitting at a desk and using fingers. Bill was an honor student at the University of Alberta graduating with a degree in arts and law.

U.S. Has 2,000 Branch Plants In Canada

WASHINGTON.—C. Bruce Hill of St. Catharines, Ont., president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce told an audience here that "Canada wants and expects nothing from the United States other than the consideration normally given a best customer, a good talk and a good friend."

Hill spoke at the United States Chamber of Commerce annual meeting.

The United States had done a good job in helping develop Canadian resources, and production, with some 2,000 branch plants located there and an investment of $5,000,000,000.

Then he drew attention to the fact that Canada in 1947 had spent $2,000,000,000 in purchases of United States commodities against about half that amount spent by the United States in Canada.

This had brought about a critical shortage in Canada of United States dollars. Nevertheless, Canada asked only the consideration normally given a best customer and friend.

Summer To See Labor Shortage

OTTAWA.—With agriculture and other seasonal industries absorbing thousands of workers, the federal labor department predicts this summer will see labor shortages "at least as great as those which occurred in 1947."

The prairie provinces show the same general trend as in the rest of the dominion as traced in the department's monthly manpower analysis, issued.

Ten Million Tons Of Coal Yearly From Alberta Is British Expert's Vision

OTTAWA.—Demands for a national coal policy for Canada were renewed here. They were highlighted by a British industrialist's offer to bring 3,000 engineers from Britain and begin strip-mining Alberta anthracite.

The offer came from Sir Albert Braithwaite, a British coal operator until his mine was nationalized, now engaged in strip-mining in India. It was dependent on satisfactory financial arrangements being completed.

Sir Albert explained he had already been refused permission by the Bank of England to export capital for the purpose.

The dinner was organized by a group of Liberal, Progressive Conservative, Social Credit and C.C.F. members of parliament, and by Mervyn Brown, owner of extensive coal development rights in Alberta. At the head table were Agriculture Minister Gardiner and Premier Manning of Alberta. Attending were about 300 people, including representatives of both railways, other industrialists and mayors of several cities.

Sir Albert told the gathering he sent a group of engineers to Canada two or three years ago to explore the possibilities of developing coal resources. They reported that in six months production could reach 3,000,000 tons and by the end of 18 months 10,000,000 tons a year.

Mining engineers estimated Alberta anthracite could be laid down in Ontario for $12.50 to $13.25 a ton compared to the [illegible] American coal was costing here, Mr. Brown said.

New Chemical For Tomato Blight This Year

Tomato growers in Ontario have a new control for early blight of tomatoes this year. The chemical is zinc dimethyl dithiocarbamate, a close relative of ferric dimethyl dithiocarbamate the outstanding control for tobacco blue mold, cabbage downy mildew and many other plant diseases.

Present recommendations call for alternate applications with tribasic copper sulphate, a fixed copper. At least four applications should be made at 7 to 10 day intervals with the first being zinc dimethyl dithiocarbamate applied about 30 days after blossoming.

Both chemicals can be applied as a spray or dust, depending on the type of equipment available. Experiments show good control can be had with either formulation.

FEWER HORSES

Horses on farms as at December 1, 1947, numbered 1,979,400 being 12 per cent below the number for the corresponding date in 1946. Decreases occurred in all provinces. Saskatchewan had the most horses with 498,000, when the count was made last year by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Ontario was next with 451,000, Alberta third with 393,800 and Quebec fourth with 315,700. Since December 1, 1941, up to the corresponding date in 1947 there has been a decline of 907,800 horses on [illegible].

NO IMMEDIATE HOPE FOR LOWER MEAT PRICES

J. E. Brownlee To Head United Grain Growers Limited

J. E. BROWNLEE K.C.

R. S. LAW

J. E. Brownlee, K.C., former premier of Alberta, has been elected President and General Manager of United Grain Growers Ltd., succeeding R. S. Law who has resigned for reasons of health, it has been announced from the Company's offices at Winnipeg.

R. C. Brown, managing-director of the Country Guide and Public Press, succeeds Mr. Brownlee as First Vice-President, and J. Harvey Lane of Fillmore, Sask., continues as Second Vice-President. George E. Edworthy is manager of the Company's Western Division at Calgary.

Mr Brownlee has been associated with the U.G.G. as legal advisor since 1912. In 1942 he became a member of the Board of Directors, First Vice-President and General Counsel. In January, 1945, he assumed the duties of General Manager.

Coming from Plymouth, England, in 1911, Mr. Law farmed at Claresholm and soon became active in the organized farm movement. He joined the U.G.G. in 1921, becoming Secretary of the Company the following year. In 1929 he was elected a director and First Vice-President, succeeding the Hon. T. A. Crerar as President and General Manager in 1930. During the past year Mr. Law has been on extended leave of absence taken at the insistence of the Board of Directors of the Company who hoped he would be able to continue in office. Acting on medical advice, Mr. Law recently decided to retire from active business. He will leave shortly for a visit to England and intends to reside in Calgary on his return.

Letters to the Editor

(This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

Islay, Alta., May 2, 1948

Editor, Vermilion Standard
Dear Sir,

A letter published in recent issue of the Standard and signed by Mr Clay has come to my attention.

My first thought after reading this letter was to file away for future reference the valuable information contained in the 4th, 6th and 11th paragraphs and forget about the rest; but on second thought, and in view of the fact that I have been identified as Chairman of a Campaign committee charged with, dealing in half-truths, circulating innuendos contributing to the disgracing of the old Council, issuing veiled statements, and to top it all off, being accused of adopting tactics lacking in sportsmanship, Mr. Editor, let me say very definitely, that in my opinion, the election of a council which would have the responsibility of collecting and spending approximately one half million dollars annually could hardly be regarded as a sporting proposition.

In fairness to our Councillor, Mr. Gordon, and in self-defence, I am asking that this letter be published in the next issue of the Standard.

First of all I want to make it clear that during the past five years, Mr. Clay has, in this district, enjoyed the reputation of an outstanding member of the Council, and I do not question his qualifications or integrity as a councillor, but when he adopts the role of a self-appointed critic and proceeds to criticize through a letter to the press, the actions of a candidate and his campaign committee in another division, this is another matter. No doubt your readers will draw their own conclusions.

Starting with paragraph 1 of Mr. Clay's letter, I would say that, since most of it is statement of fact, the only observation would be that the result of the polls indicated that the electors did consider a new deal necessary.

In the second paragraph congratulations are offered to Mr. Stone, and the very generous offer to assist, must be commended.

The third paragraph requires no comment but in the 4th paragraph I find more divisional information than I have ever been able to obtain at an annual meeting from the whole council.

Now we come to the 5th paragraph in which Mr. Gordon and his Campaign committee are charged with circulating throughout the municipality innuendos and half-truths. An election appeal is referred to which was published in the March 10th issue of the Lloydminster Times only, and since all of the criticism is directed at Mr. Gordon, I want your readers to know that our councillor had absolutely nothing to do with the publishing of this item. It was composed and published by the Committee and was signed as such.

The 1947 mill rate is dealt with in the 6th paragraph and it is interesting to note that there are two municipalities in Alberta having a higher mill rate than Vermilion River. However, I might point out that 'mill rate' does not mean much unless 'assessment' is also taken into consideration. The mention in this same paragraph, of Mr. Gordon promising more and better roads must be challenged as I am sure no one could read into the election material we published any promise other than sound administration.

I am very disappointed in the 7th paragraph since Mr. Clay very carefully quotes only part of the first paragraph of our appeal to the electors. This appeal, as it appeared in the March 17th issue of the Vermilion Standard and the Lloydminster Times, urged the electors to go to the polls and vote. When only half of the first paragraph is quoted it gives the whole thing an entirely different meaning. In this round Mr. Clay himself falls far short of even half-truths.

In the 8th and 9th paragraphs, Mr. Clay admits all the troubles the campaign committee mentioned and places most of the blame on the Department of Municipal Affairs. With this I agree.

In the 10th paragraph councillor resignations are accounted for as being due to pressure of private business. Since one of these councillors has taken on a full time position with the Municipality, it would hardly substan[illegible].

The question of deficits is taken up in the 11th paragraph and Mr Clay: we have definitely had a series of deficits, one of which, it is pointed out, amounted to $117,919.45 for the year 1945. A point is made in suggesting that Mr Gordon must accept his share of the responsibility since he held office from June to November of that year. Mr Editor, I do not believe it is fair to blame the council that only held office from June to November as they had no part in the preparation of the 1945 budget. Actually there was no authority during the year, two different councils and an administrator. I think that the 1945 mistakes could be more fairly placed on the shoulders of the Department of Municipal Affairs.

I have no comment for paragraph 12 but in the unlucky 13th, it would appear that Mr Clay feels that a campaign committee in Div. 4 was mainly responsible for his defeat in Div. 2. It is common knowledge in the north end of Div. 2 that the electors who gave their support in favor of the newly elected councillor, did so for altogether another reason, which had nothing to do with sanity in public spending or Mr. Clay's qualifications as a councillor.

In the last paragraph of his letter Mr. Clay suggests a return to sanity in divisional election propaganda. Mr. Clay will no doubt recall my unsuccessful e[illegible] at the last meeting to obtain accurate figures in regard to divisional spending. How could we, in Div. 4, be expected to confine our election material to our own division when the lid was screwed down tightly on divisional expenditures?

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I would like to point out that in his letter to you, Mr Clay has not questioned the accuracy of a single figure or any statements used in our election material and if it is unfair and lacking in sportsmanship to publish facts in an election campaign [illegible], we are sorry.

Now that each of us has voiced his opinion I might suggest that both Mr. Clay and myself would be well advised to exert our efforts toward the future building in our Municipality and I see no good purpose in wading down the river, stirring up muddy water that has already gone under the bridge—one of us might get our feet wet.

Yours truly,
I. D. Inman

Mr. and Mrs. J. Yonkers of Leduc were visitors at the home of their daughter Mrs. H. Meyers and family and were present at the christening of their grandson Jimmy on Sunday.

Mrs. Donald Taylor was bereaved on May 7th by the death of her brother, George Riley McGhan of Bremner, Alberta. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, with interment at the Clover Bar cemetery.

Mrs. Bert Duncan received the sad news this week of the death of her brother A. F. "Bob" Hunter at Montreal. The home of the deceased was at Vankleek Hill, Ontario. He has visited in Vermilion on several occasions and when last here spent the summer working at the Ray Lynch farm.

Whitey Wilson of Edmonton accompanied by O. R. Hollingsworth were in town Tuesday, on route from the city to Lloydminster. They took time off here to say hello to many old acquaintances.

C. T. Deford is making a business trip to Edmonton this week end and while in the city plans to call on Clarence Olmstead. Clarence was one of the old timers in Vermilion and ran the first barber shop in town. Mr. Olmstead is now 85 years of age.

BORN — To Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hittle (nee Grace Stewart) on May 9th, at the Lacombe hospital, a son Stewart Brian, 8 pounds 3 oz. Both doing well.

Mrs. N. D. Stewart is at present visiting at the home of her daughter Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hittle at Lacombe.

On Saturday evening a very interesting meeting was held in the United church parlors. Those present enjoyed a very interesting and uplifting talk given by Mrs. Villett on the subject of missionary work. She was able to trace missionary work from the very beginning, stating how it first started, the good accomplished, the spread of the work from the east to the west of Canada, from the home missions to the work of the Foreign missions. She included every branch of the Protestant church. Following the address a cup of tea was served and a social half hour enjoyed by all.

Sam Soldan, a recent graduate in pharmacy of the University of Alberta, has joined the staff of Long's Drug store and arrived here Tuesday. Sam comes from Elk Point and is a graduate of the Vermilion high school so is no stranger in town. He expressed himself as being pleased to return to Vermilion as he liked it very much during his high school days. Sammy was introduced to his fellow business men at the board of trade on Wednesday by Mr Carman Long.

J. R. Thompson suffered a fainting attack last Thursday and is now in the hospital in Vermilion. He was alone at the time but managed to reach his bed. The children, Alice and Kenny on their return from school carried the word of his illness to Jim Thompson who was cutting wood at Sturt's. The ambulance came out to take Jim Sr. to the hospital, drivers Billie Pilkie and Fred Leversedge found our roads in bad condition.

Jack Ribington, Tom Watts and J. W. G. Morrison were in Edmonton several days this week attending a Masonic convention.

RUTH BEATTY SINGS BEFORE A HUGE AUDIENCE IN ARENA AT EDMONTON

Ruth Beatty, 9-year-old Vermilion girl, had the unusual experience of singing before an audience of over 4000 people at the Edmonton arena last Saturday evening. Ruth represented Vermilion in the "Search For Talent" program at which the winners from 22 towns in central and northern Alberta competed.

Ruth was accompanied to the city by her mother Mrs. John Beatty. They were royally entertained by the program sponsors, the Alberta Commercial Travellers and the staff of radio station CFRN.

Wildmere W.I. Holds Interesting Meeting

The Wildmere W.I. held the May meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Buhs with 10 members and 1 visitor present. Roll call was answered by a verse or prose about Mother. Cash donations were made to the Salvation Army drive and Cancer fund. Mrs. Wilson gave a report of the books she had purchased with the money given her by the W.I. Two letters were read from folks in England who had received their parcels sent by the W.W.I. and they are very grateful for them. Another parcel of food is being donated and will be sent by the hostess Mrs. Buhs. Ten Hussifs were handed in to our May objective. Following the business some very interesting papers were given on Famous Mothers. Mrs. Wm. Garnett Jr. took our good Queen Elizabeth's life as her famous mother. Mrs. Roy Dibben told of a mother who through sorrow and shock of losing her children lost her voice and how she learned to speak from her stomach. Today she is able to give talks over the radio. Mrs. Wallington recounted the story of the memorial being raised at Salisbury, England in honor of the brave mothers of Britain during the war and the lean years since. Mrs. Weisenburger told of our own brave mother right in our own midst, Mrs. Harry Teasdale with her lovely little triplet sons and what a handful and care they were at first. She spoke of the interest people in other parts of Alberta and Canada take in them. To close her talk Mrs. Weisenburger read a poem dealing with three to look after.

The meeting was extremely interesting from beginning to end. Johnny Jump Up was won by Peggy Graham. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Whitlock with Mrs. Martin as hostess. Mrs. Wilson, our president, is donating a rubber stamp to the Wildmere W.I. for use on all letters, cheques etc. Mrs. Buhs and helpers served tasty refreshments at the close of the meeting.

OBITUARY

ETHEL JEAN JOHANSON

On Tuesday afternoon April 27th, 1948, Ethel Jean Johanson passed away in Viking hospital, after an illness of 3 days, leaving to mourn her loss her loving husband, one son Hughie, aged 7 years, also her foster parents Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McGrath, Tofield, Alberta, and many relatives and a host of friends.

The deceased was born at North Battleford, Sask., May 6th, 1909.

In the spring of 1940 she was united in marriage to Ben Johanson of Tofield district, and very soon after they moved to Auburndale district where they farmed for some time before moving to Edmonton where Mr. Johanson was employed. From Edmonton the family moved to Viking where Mr. Johanson owns a welding shop.

Funeral services were conducted from Viking Lutheran church on Thursday April 29th. The body was then brought to Vermilion where graveside ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Reikie and burial was made in Vermilion cemetery.

Pallbearers were all old friends of the deceased, Martin Beltz, W. R. Lampert, J. W. Lysons, Fred Skrum, Andrew McQuid and Walter Alexander.

Mrs. Johanson's generous friendly fun-loving manner won her many friends.

Many and beautiful floral tributes were received from: The Loving Family (Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McGrath, Ben, Hughie, Duff, Mary and family; Mrs. Maude Stranahan); Uncle Walter, Aunt Agnes and family; Uncle Graham, Aunt Lois and family; Uncle Lorne, Aunt Emily and family, Wes, Isabelle and family, Madeline, Ted and family; Ian Hughson, John, Neil and Peter, Drumheller; Lillian and Jim Hinchey, Edson, Alice Ted and family, Amy, Martin and family, The [illegible] Family, Mr. and Mrs. J. THE VERMILION STANDARD

Vol. XXXIX. No. 52. Vermilion, Alberta, Thursday, May 20th, 1948. $2.00 A Year

Governor-General's Visit To Honor Vermilion

May 25th will, provided the weather is good, see the largest gathering of northern Alberta people in the Town of Vermilion that we have ever been pleased to entertain. Plans for the reception and entertainment of the distinguished guests, in the persons of the Governor General and Viscountess Alexander and their party, are well in hand by the various committees in charge.

SOUVENIR PROGRAMS

Souvenir programs will roll off the presses of the Vermilion Standard at the week end and will be available to town and district people for the purpose of giving in complete detail every event of the day. Youth organizations of the town will offer the programs for sale on Monday and Tuesday and every citizen is urged to purchase several programs and forward to their friends in various parts of Canada so that Vermilion may become well known for the honor that is being bestowed on this district.

AIRPORT

The airport will be the scene of the arrival and it is expected that by 11 a.m. when His Excellency's plane touches the landing strip there will be upwards of 40 planes of various kinds on the parking strips provided. The Guard of Honor of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment will officially welcome the party and a short drive is to be enjoyed before lunch.

FAIR GROUNDS

The fair grounds will come to life at about 1:30 when the RCAF and Army bands will entertain the crowds awaiting the arrival of the Vice-Regal party. Presentation of Scout awards will be made and an investiture held for the personnel of the Navy and the Army; unfortunately air force decorations have not as yet been received from England where they are being struck and therefore no investiture of air force personnel is possible.

CENOTAPH

The cenotaph will be manned by the Air Cadets and Sea Cadets and His Excellency will place a wreath at the base of the monument during the afternoon. It is noted that others desiring to place wreaths should feel quite free to do so. The Governor General will of course, have to leave immediately he has placed his wreath and will proceed to the Memorial hall which he will officially open at 3:30.

ROOMS NEEDED

Rooms in private homes may be needed to accommodate out of town people; all persons who could make rooms available if necessary are asked to telephone Mr. Lawrence Webb at 172. There can be, of course, no guarantee that rooms offered will be required.

ALL CITIZENS ARE URGED TO DECORATE THEIR PLACES OF BUSINESS AND THEIR HOMES WITH FLAGS AND BUNTING—LET US MAKE VERMILION BRIGHT FOR THIS GALA OCCASION—MAY 25TH.

SHOPPING HOURS NEXT WEEK

Monday May 24th is a Dominion holiday and all stores and business places in Vermilion will be closed; Tuesday May 25th is Governor-General's day in Vermilion but stores will be open all Tuesday morning and again in the afternoon from 3:30 to 6:00 p.m.

From that day on usual shopping hours will be observed with the stores closed Wednesday afternoons as usual.

Announce Dates of Class "B" Fairs

Dates for six class 'B' fairs in Alberta this year were announced Tuesday by the extension branch, provincial department of agriculture, Edmonton.

The schedule follows. Lethbridge, June 24, 25 and 26; Lloydminster, July 19, 20, 21; VERMILION July 22, 23, and 24; Vegreville, July 26, 27, 28; Red Deer, July 29, 30, 31; Camrose, Aug. 3, 4 and 5.

"Fellowship Hour Services" Are Much Enjoyed

EVENTIDE VESPER SERVICES IN PARK START MAY 23rd

The last of the Fellowship Hour services was held in the Salvation Army citadel Sunday evening after the regular church service. There was a full house and a few latecomers had to stand.

Two special items by the Gospel hall comrades, and one by members of the Alliance chapel were much enjoyed.

Adj. Charles Stewart, the director of The Fellowship, expressed appreciation to the churches represented for the very fine cooperation that had been given during the winter months. He extended an invitation to continue the Fellowship together in the summertime. Eventide Vesper services in the park, the first of which is to be held next Sunday May 23rd at 9:00 p.m.

Last year some very favorable comments were received, and again this year the public is invited to enjoy the Vesper service. If you have a favorite hymn you would like sung just let Adj. Stewart know.

The Gospel hall, the Alliance chapel and the Salvation Army comrades will be providing the musical numbers. They are looking forward to a summer of real fellowship together.

Anglican Services at Pleasant Valley to Recommence on Sunday

ST. SAVIOUR'S CHOIR WILL BE IN ATTENDANCE

The first service of the season at All Saints church, Pleasant Valley will take place next Sunday May 23 at 3 p.m. The choir of St. Saviour's church, Vermilion are planning to drive out to this service. They are going to sing the anthem "O Taste and See how Gracious the Lord is." All are welcome.

SETTLER OF 1905 PASSES ON

DEATH OF JAMES R. THOMPSON

James R. Thompson who homesteaded 7 miles north west of Vermilion in the early year of 1905, passed away at the Vermilion hospital early Sunday morning May 16th. He had been ill but a short time. He was 67 years and 11 months of age.

The deceased was born at Sheffield, England on June 19, 1880. He came to Canada as a young man in 1905 when he worked for a few months in Manitoba. The fall of 1905 found him homesteading just north-west of Vermilion and the original homestead was included among his land holdings at the time of his death. For the past ten years he has made his home with his son Jim.

Mr. Thompson was among the better known of our old timers and his passing is mourned by a very wide circle of friends and acquaintances. He was predeceased by his wife in 1939 and leaves to mourn his loss one daughter Mrs. Wm. Peake of Vermilion, and one son James of the Chatsworth district. There are six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon May 19th at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at St. Saviour's church. Interment followed in the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. T. W. Teape officiated. Moyer's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Dewberry Student Wins Scholarship

Kurt R. Enkenhus of Dewberry who has just completed his first year in Engineering at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., has been awarded the University scholarship valued at $150. He also has the honor of the McCulloch scholarship.

Kurt thus continues his brilliant record as a student. He won the Governor-General's medal in grade 9 for the Vermilion school division, and in graduating from grade 12 one year ago was awarded the scholarship for obtaining the highest standing in the province. Kurt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Enkenhus of R.R. 1, Dewberry.

Farmers of South Hold Bee at Farm Of Buster Harle

SOW 140 ACRE FIELD TO WHEAT IN ONE DAY — 11 TRACTOR OUTFITS IN ACTION

When Buster Harle, well known farmer of the district south west of Vermilion, had the tough luck to be forced to undergo an operation in the hospital just at seeding time he found out that his cloud really did have a silver lining. His friends rallied round and despite the very late season, took time off to seed 140 acres of wheat for Buster.

Eleven tractor outfits turned out at 7 a.m. Monday morning and every phase of cultivation, right down to the final seeding was completed by late that evening. Besides the tractor outfits, two men were busy picking rocks. The next day two other outfits pulled onto the field with harrows and wound up the big job. Not only this, but several other farmers had called up and offered their services to those organizing the bee.

Wally Guy, local photographer took a picture of the tractor outfits at work and this shows Henning Haverslew in the lead, with Lloyd May, Art Majury, Alf Green, Alex Stone, Brent Macnab, Jim Irving, Gordon Larson, Dave Love and Jack Harlow following in that order. Nick Kowal was not in action at that time as he suffered some mechanical trouble after working all morning.

Cooking for the big crew of men was done by [illegible] Harle and Mrs. Alex Stone.

Opening New Scout Hall Sunday Next, May 23rd at 3 P.M.

PROVINCIAL SCOUT OFFICIALS TO BE PRESENT — "THANKS" PLAQUE FOR ELKS — GENERAL PUBLIC IS INVITED.

The official opening of the new Scout hall, erected by the Vermilion Elks, will take place Sunday afternoon May 23rd at 3 o'clock. Scouts and cubs will be on parade at that time. The general public is cordially invited to attend the ceremonies, inspect the new hall and to talk to the scouts and cubs. Activities will take place under the flag at the hall so there will be ample room for everyone to view the proceedings.

In attendance will be Mr. R. Hugh of Camrose, Deputy Provincial Scout Commissioner; Mr. H. Holloway, Edmonton, executive commissioner; Mr. Gordon of Edmonton, Deputy Executive Commissioner; R. L. King of Camrose, member of the Boy Scouts provincial council.

The key to the hall will be presented to the Deputy Provincial Scout Commissioner who will in turn hand it to the representatives of the local Boy Scout committee.

Another interesting feature will be the presentation by the Boy Scouts Association of a handsome "Thanks" plaque to the local Elks. This will be received on behalf of the Elks by the Exalted Ruler, Henry Powell.

The general public is reminded that this is a public ceremony and everyone is invited to attend.

Gas Well Being Drilled, Manville

Hopes of Mannville people for a supply of natural gas appeared much brighter this week when Charlie Withers spudded in and commenced to drill a well right within the village limits. The well is in a search for gas to supply Mannville. Mr. Withers also has considerable equipment for installation of gas services.

Town and District Mourn Passing of Norman McClellan

Norman McClellan, a leading figure in the life of Vermilion and district for the past forty years, died in hospital here early Tuesday morning May 18th. He had been ill for the past two weeks. His wife and one daughter Mrs. Lloyd McEachern of Vancouver, one sister Mrs. Charlotte Cameron of Alton, Ontario, and two brothers Mr. Henry McClellan of Alton and Mr. J. K. McClellan of Winnipeg, survive.

Mr. McClellan was born at Alton, Ontario, January 6, 1872. He came to Vermilion 42 years ago and commenced farming 3 miles east of town. He immediately became interested in community affairs and his subsequent record of service to this area is one that is seldom equalled. He was a member of the old local improvement district council prior to the formation of the Vermilion Valley municipality. When this was formed he served as councillor and reeve from its inception until it was merged with the enlarged municipal district 7 years ago. He also served as a member of the Vermilion Municipal hospital board from the time of the district's organization for the next 26 years until the end of 1947. In all that time he had never been a patient in the hospital he served so well until his final illness. At the time of his death he was vice president of the Associated Hospitals of Alberta. He was trustee and secretary of the Dowell school district [illegible] Vermilion two years ago in which he resided until moving into [illegible]

At the time of his passing he was president of the Vermilion Agricultural Society which organization has already well advanced plans for the annual three-day summer exhibition. He was also vice president of Western Canada Fairs Association, B circuit. Mr. McClellan was an active member of the Masonic Lodge, and belonged to the Vermilion Old Timers' Association.

The deceased suffered a heart attack just a little over two weeks prior to his death while attending a meeting of the Associated Hospitals executive at Calgary. He recovered but was stricken with a similar and more severe attack as soon as he returned to Vermilion. He was taken to the hospital just two weeks before he passed away.

Funeral services will be held at the United church on Friday afternoon May 21st at 2 o'clock. Interment will be at the Vermilion cemetery.

HAPPENINGS IN OTHER TOWNS . . .

Lloydminster electors endorsed the school by-laws by a very decisive majority although the total vote was small. The by-law authorizes the school board there to build a large high school and technical school the first unit of which will cost $160,000. In order to obtain a sizable vocational school grant from the Federal and Saskatchewan governments, the town makes a straight grant of $12,000 and in return the school district receives a grant of $48,000 for the technical or vocational portion of the school. The by-law calls for the raising of an additional $80,000 by the school district by way of debentures bearing interest at 4%. This means that the town of Lloydminster is responsible for raising $92,000.

The school requisition in Lloydminster for 1948 operation is $33,000 as compared to $32,000 in Vermilion. Of this $32,000 requisitioned in 1947 some $24,500 was spent leaving a balance of $7,500 which went into the local board's trust fund. This fund enables the board to instal water and sewer in the Vermilion schools without any debenture issue or added indebtedness.

The town of Vegreville also has school accommodation problems. A public meeting held there recently discussed the building needed, also the advantages pro and con, of entering the large school division. Vegreville school requisition for 1947 is $41,000. The town's population according to the 1946 census is slightly less than that of Vermilion.

$73,000 Paving Program at Camrose

Camrose plans a $73,000 sidewalk paving program for 1948. 75% of the cost is to be charged against property on a 20-year amortization plan. One trunk line of pavement will be laid as a start.

Village of Vilna

The little village of Vilna is calling for tenders for the laying of 3000 feet of cement sidewalk.

Morinville to Pave Streets

The town of Morinville is planning to hard surface the streets with asphalt and is now advertising a debenture issue for that purpose to the amount of $25,000.

Vulcan Added to Water & Sewer List

Vulcan in southern Alberta has been added to the list of towns contemplating water and sewer systems. Tenders are now being called.

$75,000 Swimming Pool at Red Deer

Red Deer ratepayers approved the raising by debenture the sum of $75,000 for the building of a swimming pool as a war memorial. Despite the money involved less than 400 registered their vote from a possible 1000.

The village of Viking plans to construct 25,000 square feet of cement sidewalk and is calling for tenders for the work.

North Battleford stores and business places are now observing 6 o'clock closing Saturday nights. A by-law to that effect is now in force.

Attention of all citizens is directed to the strict notice being given by the Medical Officer of Health. It is a case of clean up the property you occupy or else!! Look up this notice and govern yourself accordingly.

SPRING AT LAST — 78 ABOVE TODAY

WORK ON LAND GENERAL

[illegible]

The latest spring on record has finally arrived as the temperature reached the high for the season this Thursday afternoon May 20th when 78.5 was registered. The previous high was Monday with 76 above. Sunday night was the cool spot for the week with a low of 27.6.

SEEDING COMMENCES

Only an estimated 7% of the seeding is done but work on the land can be called general as from the first two days of this week.

What about that latest date?

Completes 29 Years Of Publication

With this issue the Vermilion Standard completes 29 years of publication. The entire period has been under the one ownership, the present publisher S. R. P. Cooper, founding the business back in May 1919 and piloting it through good times and bad ever since. As far as can be recalled there is only one other business in town that can boast of the same management for a similar or longer period of time, the business in mind is that of Brimacombe Bros.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE

Advertisers are asked to write their advertisements for next week's paper on Friday or Saturday. The Standard staff is faced with the task of setting as many as 40 local ads, some of which require as much as three hours' work.

Next week will be a difficult one for the various advertisers inasmuch as Monday is a holiday and Tuesday will be very much taken up with the visit of the Governor General. The Standard has a deadline of Thursday night to meet, so your co-operation will be appreciated. If you want your ad changed please let us have it Friday or Saturday by noon. If there is no change forthcoming this week's advertisement will be repeated unless otherwise directed.

Some interesting statistics regarding the growth of Credit Unions, taken from the report of the Economic Division of the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa, will be given in next week's issue of the Standard.

MUNICIPAL DOCTOR AGREEMENT

In answer to several inquiries from residents in that portion of the Vermilion Municipal hospital district lying within the Minburn M.D. — All municipal doctor agreements ended as at Dec. 31, 1947. Individuals are thus responsible for their own doctor bills. There are no medical plans in force at present within the Vermilion municipal hospital district. Due notice of termination of the agreements was given in the advertising columns of the Standard.

UNTOLD STORY OF HUNGRY 30's

Little E. Katz has an uncashed cheque on a firm of well known commission agents at St. Boniface, Man., which carries with it quite a story of the hungry 30s, a period which produced a great many masterpieces of how much you could buy for so little in the line of agricultural produce. Little E., then a stock buyer, drove into the farmyard of F. Hanke of Spiritwood, Sask., hoping to purchase the odd head or two of livestock. He met with a very hostile reception and was told that all stock buyers were in the banned category as far as Mr. Hanke was concerned. Little E. has a way with him and he found out that Mr. Hanke had shipped a prime lamb in a co-operative carload of stock. He had in return, received from the commission agents, the munificent return of 21c for his lamb, made out on a nicely printed cheque. As if this wasn't bad enough, Mr Hanke went to cash the 21c cheque at a Spiritwood store and was informed that there would be 25c exchange to pay on it. Little E. bought the cheque for two bits as a souvenir of the hungry 30s and has it to this day. The cheque is dated Sept. 25, 1931.

After the show on Saturday evening attend the dance at the Elks hall. An enjoyable hour or two for only 50c.

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

STREPTOMYCIN AND TUBERCULOSIS

The use of streptomycin has raised high hopes in the treatment of tuberculosis, the Canadian Medical Association Journal comments editorially in a recent issue.

"As in the case with all new remedies, however, time is required for the appraisal of its value," the editorial says, "and there are certain aspects in this case both of the remedy and the disease, which make the appraisal peculiarly difficult."

Referring to a recent survey on the subject by the Council of Pharmacy and Chemistry of the American Medical Association, which was reported in that association's Journal, the Canadian Journal states that the conclusions to be drawn from the work so far are tentative, but allow some definition of the effects of streptomycin.

"It had a favorable effect on most progressive or stationary exudative pulmonary lesions, the effect being most evident in the first 60 to 90 days," the editorial states. "But rarely did it produce a 'cure' and often relapse occurred on withdrawal, some times even whilst treatment was going on.

"The main value of streptomycin in pulmonary tuberculosis appears to be as an adjunct to other measures, especially in certain acute phases in preparing for surgical measures. It should not be used in minimal cases."

Concerning the value of streptomycin in treatment of the disease in other parts of the body, the Journal says that in tuberculous sinuses "the effects have been strikingly favorable," and that perhaps "the type of disease which responds most satisfactorily is the ulcerative form of tracheobronchial and laryngeal tuberculosis."

Miliary tuberculosis (acute generalized tuberculosis) was said to be amenable to streptomycin treatment and "it is felt that its mortality will be definitely lowered."

"The disadvantages of streptomycin are accentuated in tuberculosis because of the length of the time it has to be used," the Journal editorial comments, adding that there is some toxic reaction.

The Journal says, however, that the whole subject is receiving intensive study and the outlook is very well summed up in the concluding sentence of the Journal of the American Medical Association's report:

"The slight and not entirely safe crutch provided now by streptomycin to a limited section of the tuberculous may be replaced by a stronger instrument or a new pair of legs for the entire group."

Earning Pilot's Wings —

(R.C.A.F. photos)

Three Saskatchewan boys on their way to earning pilot's wings with the R.C.A.F. are shown above, ready for a routine training flight at Centralia, Ont., in one of the Air Force's powerful Harvard trainers. They are (left to right) Flight Cadets G. H. Gray, Saskatoon; M. D. Breadfoot, Tisdale; W. G. Paisley, Prince Albert. All three entered the R.C.A.F. last November, and will be awarded their wings and commissions after completing their initial flying training period, which takes a little over one year. Both Gray and Paisley are former Air Cadets, Gray having won a flying scholarship with the Air Cadet League before entering the R.C.A.F.

Shown in the cockpit of a Harvard trainer aircraft is Flight Cadet A. A. Ehman of Venda, Sask., who has begun flying training in the R.C.A.F. Ehman, who is undergoing pilot training at R.C.A.F. Station Centralia, Ont., entered the R.C.A.F. in July, 1946, as a clerk accountant, and was selected from the ranks to qualify for a commission and the coveted pilot's wings. After his initial flying training, which takes a little over one year, Ehman will be posted to a squadron for operational experience.

THE OPTIMIST

No matter how much rain
comes down,
Or how the wind may blow,
The robin sings his cheery song,
That all the world may know
He still remains an optimist
Despite the state of things
For he has bucked fierce winds before
And flown with rain-soaked wings.

At any hour the wind will drop
And it won't always rain
And if the worms are hard to
[illegible]
Well, he just pulls again
So why not try the robin's plan
And optimistic be?
Have faith, work hard and keep your word
Then happy you will be.

Pheasant Shares Nest With Hen

DUNCAN, B.C. A domestic guinea fowl and a wild pheasant have been laying their eggs in the same nest here.

H. M. Charter found a nest containing 19 guinea eggs and one pheasant egg. He took away twelve eggs for hatching by a barnyard hen because the guinea fowl left her nest as soon as the first of her young began to hatch.

Returning to the nest three days later he found two more guinea eggs and one more pheasant egg. How and by what schedule the guinea fowl and hen pheasant are sitting on the same nest is baffling Mr. Charter.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

INTEGRITY

What we have in us of the image of God is the love of truth and justice. Demosthenes

The man of integrity is one who makes it his constant rule to follow the road of duty, according as Truth and the voice of his conscience point it out to him. Mary Baker Eddy

Nothing is at last sacred but the integrity of your own mind. Absolve you to yourself, and you shall have the suffrage of the world. Emerson

There is no evil we cannot face or fly from, but the consciousness of duty disregarded. Daniel Webster

No pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage ground of truth. Francis Bacon

You need not tell all the truth, unless to those who have a right to know it all. But let all you tell be truth. Horace Mann

Farm Machinery Imported From U.S.

OTTAWA — There are no prohibitions, controls, taxes or regulations forbidding or limiting the import of either new or used farm machinery from the United States into Canada, officials of the wartime prices and trade board stated. The only way in which such imports might be checked would be by a revision of the Canadian tariff act imposing duties on farm machinery now imported free of customs and excise taxes.

These statements were made with reference to complaints that "free lance" U.S. machinery agents are importing and advertising U.S. made farm machinery at prices high above the Canadian manufacturers' list prices. There never has been a ban on imports of used machinery from the U.S. even during the war.

The outcry has arisen from two sources — Canadian manufacturers and the Canadian revenue department which sees Canada's precarious supply of U.S. dollars being depleted by purchases of U.S. machinery which duplicates that made in Canada. For the two months of January and February 1948 nearly $20,000,000 of such U.S. farm machinery was imported against about $13,500,000 in the same period of 1946 and only about $2,000,000 in January and February 1945.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

May 17, 1916

An auto party comprised of Rev. H. A. and Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. H. R. Parker, Mrs. F. Lawes, and Pte. Wheeler of the 151st left Monday for Saskatoon to attend synod and W.A. meetings.

A school garden has been started at the school, the grounds immediately south of the building being laid out in six plots, one for each room. The ground was well spaded by the students and the plots seeded under the supervision of the teachers. Principal R. B. Brooks and A. W. Prime are in charge of the project.

Among the new auto owners in town are Carl Stone, Clarence Olmstead and Dr. Moon.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Abercrombie and family have returned to Vermilion to take up residence after an absence of two years.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

May 19, 1932

M. Wimer, general merchant of the town for 22 years retired and left for the coast intending to make their future home in Vancouver or Seattle. J. Wimer manager here for some time past is the new owner of the business.

Ernie Johnson is having a new service station built on the highway on the northern edge of the village of Islay.

Wheat seeding is 90% completed and much of it is above the ground. Seeding of coarse grains is well advanced.

Graduates in nursing were Miss Eleanore Parker and Miss Adeline Wiebe from the University hospital. Miss Kathleen Craig graduated in Law.

LATE SEEDING . . .

The Alberta Wheat Pool crop report of May 9th showed that only 3% of the province's wheat acreage had been seeded on that date. Normally 50% of wheat seeding is completed by May 9th.

What wheat was seeded in Alberta was in the south in the area east of Lethbridge and extending into Medicine Hat territory. In that region between 25 and 75 per cent of wheat seeding is completed.

While complete statistics regarding seeding dates are not available for many years back figures from 1924 onward show that this is the latest season in the 15 years. In 1940 only 9 per cent of the seeding was completed by May 9th. In that year, however, seeding had commenced in all districts and rapid progress was made from then on.

The late seeding will result in a cut in wheat acreage by at least 10 per cent and a corresponding increase in acreages seeded to oats, barley and rye.

Winter wheat and rye survived the winter in good condition and is showing excellent growth in southern districts.

Chatworth Chatter

Roads have dried up quickly, but there are still a number of bad mud holes. In most cases, detours are being made into fields, but these may be closed off as soon as the field is cultivated and sown.

Jim and Ernest Thompson and Steve Sturt spent much of last Wednesday pulling cars and trucks from the mud hole south of Jim Thompson's. They were working there, putting in a much-needed culvert. Most of the bad holes were crossed by loads over the soft roads after the hag was filled.

Pastures are looking green and already the stock have begun to pick up. It is hoped, however, that we will have no more rain for awhile, as the season is so late. Work on the land is general this week, and every one is working overtime. The fields are wet in spots and these spots are being detoured as many of them may not be dry all summer.

We welcome a new teacher to Chatsworth, Miss Spak, of Vegreville who arrived last Tuesday.

Mrs. Harvey of town, is staying at Ludwig's, to help Agnes through the busy spring work period.

A farewell party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Branham, was held at Mrs. James Tuvell's on Thursday evening May 13th. . . friends and neighbors were present and the time was spent in visiting, playing games and in the rendition of several musical selections by Russell, G. Hetherington and Mr. E. Thompson. Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Arthur Tuvell, and Mrs. Albert Tuvell assisted by Mrs. Eric Ludwig and Miss [illegible] Good. After lunch, Mr. James Tuvell presented a gift of a beautiful chenille bedspread to Russell and Ella expressing the regret of all at their departure from Vermilion and extending best wishes for future success and happiness in their new home. In reply Russell and Ella thanked all for the gift and good wishes and extended a warm invitation to friends to visit them in their new home. The gathering then broke up with the singing of "They are jolly good fellows" and "Auld Lang Syne".

Russell and Ella and family plan to leave this Thursday for their new home at Westlock.

DON'T SEED TOO DEEP

The federal department of agriculture has evidence to show that most farmers in the prairie provinces of Western Canada seed their grain at excessive depths. Deep seeding decreases yields. The favorable depth for seeding wheat, oats, barley, rye is from two to three inches. Flax should be sown at a shallower depth.

The use of the one-way disc with seeder attachment is usually responsible for seeding too deeply. Frequent checking of the depth of seeding is essential. Adjustments should be made during the first few rounds to ensure uniform and shallow penetration across the width of the machine.

PROF. T. J. HARRISON

Acknowledged leader of barley production work in Canada, Prof. T. J. Harrison of Winnipeg, who has combined farming and scientific agricultural work throughout his lengthy career as a leading Canadian agronomist, has just assumed his position as director of the Barley Improvement Institute.

Prof. Harrison has resigned his position as Assistant Grain Commissioner for Manitoba to devote full time to the administration of the Institute, sponsored by the brewing and malting industries of Canada to co-ordinate research, economics and extension of barley improvement work across the country from its offices and laboratory in Winnipeg.

Known to farmers across the country as "Tom", he was born on the Manitoba homestead near Carman on which his father filed in 1877. With the help of his wife and family, Prof. Harrison still operates the farm. In the years he has given to agricultural science, he has never lost his keen interest in practical production, a fact that has assisted him in applying the latest scientific methods to actual farming.

The first student to register in the Manitoba Agricultural college when it opened in 1906, he received his degree with the first graduating class in 1911. For nearly 20 years after graduation from the agricultural college, he was an instructor and teacher in agricultural institutions.

Since its inception in 1946, Prof. Harrison has served as Chairman of the National Barley Contest committee, a position he still retains in conjunction with the Barley Improvement Institute in its overall efforts to make Canadian barley as world famous as Canadian wheat. Offices of the Institute are at 306 Grain Exchange Building, Winnipeg.

Tailing Trouble

Driving can be safe, but injury and death stalk the careless driver. NO PRACTICE IS MORE LOADED WITH DANGER THAN FOLLOWING TOO CLOSELY BEHIND ANOTHER VEHICLE, especially a larger one that obscures the view ahead. If the driver ahead stops suddenly, you are in a smash-up. If you pull out to pass, you may be hit by an approaching car before you have time to see it. Drive carefully and live longer.

The A.M.A. Promotes Tourist Trade

Every Albertan benefits, directly or indirectly from this flow of buying power across our borders. The A.M.A. has worked consistently for improvement of roads, accommodations, and conditions generally, as they affect the good opinion of our visitors. A.M.A. membership will add pleasure to your motor trips, and give you many benefits—for only $10 a year.

Let us have good roads in Alberta AND safe roads. The government's announced road building plans for 1948 are one step in the right direction. A step towards safer roads can also be taken by the inauguration of some system of Driver Training and Testing. We recommend to the government that its study of such a plan be carried into action as soon as practicable.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

SALVAGE

—By—
ANNA E. WILSON

PEATTIE picked up the blue slip the cashier slid towards him, his hands, red and swollen with rheumatism, shaking just a little. "Too bad," the man's voice was sympathetic, "but the company's retiring you on a pension, Peattie. We have to think of the young men with families, you know," he finished hastily, trying not to look at Peattie's twisted hands. "Mr. Riordan, the president signed it himself and I heard him say to the foreman, 'Don't get many men like [illegible] these days.'"

Peattie nodded, his salty face as wrinkled as old shoe leather above his worn shirt and sea boots. "Never knew anything but sea and fish, Mannie, but I'm a battered old hulk now and good for nothing but to salvage drift."

Peattie moved away from the window and down towards the wharf. He moved smartly for all that his leg was twisted and lame from the time he went overboard trying to save Natt Orcutt's fishing tackle. He came to the wharf's edge and stood looking out to sea, [illegible] how the [illegible] were piling up over against the salt water and how the gulls were screeching and fighting down by the refuse dump at the gutting [illegible].

Peattie's eyes were as clear and keen as the seagull's and he [illegible] down hard on his stubby pipe, as he caught sight of Lonnie swabbing out Natt's fish boat. Couldn't be more than fourteen, Lonnie, but a good lad —not very bright, folks said, but having no [illegible] and living down in the wharf house with Dutch, who was too old and sick to look after him, was enough to make the boy seem dull and slow. Lonnie threw the water, foul with slime and dead fish, into the sea, raising the bucket to show a slim torso, bare to the waist, and clothed below in nothing but a worn pair of the Dutchman's sea trunks.

Lou Souching, a huge hulk of a man, half Irish and half Chinese, slid past wiping a knife on his sleeve, and Sil Peters, his arms full of [illegible] nets, spoke through a row of crooked teeth. "Don't seem right to see you loafing, Peattie. Catch a hand."

Peattie helped Sil load his fishing tackle and helped himself from Sil's tobacco. "Hear they let you out at the canning plant, Peattie. Must be we're getting old. Was a time, this fishing tackle was nothing to a man like me and now it's getting to be a right hearty business to anchor it." Sil pushed off, and Peattie, finding nothing on the wharf to interest him, idled with his hands in his pockets, staring at the gulls.

It was no use to go back to his shack. The bunk was neatly made up with a wool blanket well tucked in sailor fashion. The clock wouldn't mark more than ten and the whole thing was swept clean and dusted.

So Peattie stumped down to the Salmon Run and sat down on a hot stone and stared at the salmon.

Salmon were pretty fish, with their silver bellies and shining scales. Game, too. Peattie watched them fighting their way upstream to spawn, noting how the sunlight was caught and tangled in the backs of them.

Peattie tapped his pipe, studying the fish. Wasn't a better fighting fish anywhere than the salmon. Look how they hurled themselves against the fish ladders, the weak ones tumbling back again and again, until, too exhausted to fight the current, they were caught in an eddy and whirled into a stagnant pool. Peattie watched one of them swim round and round, getting slower and slower, until it turned belly upward and drifted into a rim of green [illegible].

He was like the salmon, Peattie told himself dully. No longer [illegible] to make the head waters and shifted into stagnant depths to drift until he turned belly up, no better than a dead fish.

A loud plop from the ladder brought him around. A big fish was making his way upstream, cleaving the water in a silver arc that ended in the rise above.

Yes, Peattie thought, the salmon was a pretty fish—when it was young and strong and able; but when it was old and sluggish and its jaws were torn and jagged by hook and tackle, the young weren't [illegible] devouring it. Not that he blamed them, though there were folks aplenty called the salmon a cannibal fish, but he'd seen many a man go [illegible], and fisherfolk did not disdain the fruit of the sea. It was all flesh, wasn't it?

[illegible] depression with the hot sun beating down. Didn't seem right for a man to idle in the middle of the day. Another fish had been forced into the pool and Peattie watched it for a full moment before it gave up the struggle and flopped.

Peattie clamped his teeth on his pipe and a stubborn chin emerged from a week-old whisker. [illegible] wasn't a fish, was he? Why, he wasn't even made like a fish, all in one piece, solid. A fish could only get about by propelling itself with its tail while a man had arms and legs, and a head to think with [illegible]

He took one more look at the salmon and made for the wharf, where he could see that Lonnie was in trouble. The lad was walking about with his bucket and mop, wiping tear streaks into his face with a bony arm.

"Hey, Lonnie!" As Lonnie turned uncertainly towards him Peattie's shrewd eyes took in the lad's distress. He joked gently.

"What's the matter, Lonnie? Haven't lost a tooth, have you?"

Lonnie cried harder than ever. "It's the Dutchman, Mr. Peattie. They came and took him to the hospital. Doctor says he won't be coming back." Lonnie's eyes showed fear and panic as he saw his makeshift home being wrenched away from him.

"How'd you like to come and live with me, Lonnie, and maybe go to school?"

The boy's tears dried. "You don't mean it, Mr. Peattie—not for good. For always?"

"For good, Lonnie, and look now you put away that brush and mop and wash your face. Tell Mr. Seldon at the store to fit some clothes to you."

Peattie swung down from the wharf as the noon whistle blew. Fish and beans. A growing boy'd be needing milk and eggs and fresh vegetables. Peattie bumped into the cannery foreman.

"There's a job as night watchman—"

Peattie shook his head. "No, thank you, Mr. Schull." He chuckled. "Come to think of it, I got a job of salvage."

RECIPES

EGG SALAD

1. Cut the whites of hard-boiled eggs into eighths lengthwise; arrange on lettuce to simulate the petals of a flower. Put yolks through ricer and arrange in the centre of whites. Serve with boiled dressing.

2. Cut eggs lengthwise in quarters and serve on lettuce with boiled dressing.

3. Chop whites finely and arrange on lettuce. Put yolk through ricer and mound in the centre. Serve with boiled dressing.

4. Diced hard-boiled eggs and sliced cucumbers may be added to potatoes. Eggs and fish combine very well with water-cress or escarole.

POTATO CROQUETTES

2 cups mashed potatoes
⅛ teaspoon white pepper
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg or 2 yolks
2 tablespoons butter
⅛ teaspoon celery salt

Beat the eggs, mix with potatoes and add other ingredients. A little milk is sometimes needed if potatoes are dry. Heat mixture in a saucepan, stirring, when it leaves the side of the pan, turn it on to flat dish; when cool, divide, shape, crumb and fry.

"SOMETHING OF A RARITY"

All the more spectacular when you see them are the six horse teams that work the land in odd places in the prairie provinces these days. While the tractor is fast supplanting the horse for farm work, supply of power implements will not be such this year that the number of work horses will be greatly decreased. But it's a trend that can't be halted, and a few years from now, pictures like the one above will be hard to get.

Mrs. Arnold Seal and two sons of Trail B.C. are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Darlene.

Good news to report. The cost of last winter's snow plowing in this district is to be paid by the M.D., also for maintaining this summer. Jack Grant Jr. and Harold Cooper have already maintained the east and west road. Don MacGillivray is to do the [illegible] road. That road has been neglected for years. Thanks a million Councillor George [illegible]

Replacing culverts and filling in the washouts is the general work everywhere. For a half mile east of Bud Elliott's the road is completely washed out, holes deep enough to conceal a car. The bush along the fence had to be cut to make a road.

To date — May 15th, work is not general on the land. Some places will be too wet to be seeded this spring.

A very successful dance was held at Rye school May 14th. This was sponsored by the teacher Mr. Venance and the pupils. The Mulgrew orchestra supplied the music. The proceeds amounted to $6.70 which will be used for ball supplies. Everyone had such a good time they are all anxious to know when the next dance will be. All were pleased to see Mr. Joe Allen out. Too bad there wasn't a good snow bank to dump Harold in, you have a very effective method of dealing with disorderly guests Norman.

Birthday greetings this week to Robin Attfield 7 years old May 15.

Dominion Convention Of Canadian Legion

Veterans from all parts of Canada are now en route to Saskatoon to attend the Dominion Convention of the Canadian Legion from May 23 to 27. More than 1500 delegates are expected to attend the veterans parliament. Among the principal resolutions to be discussed will be ones on pensions, housing, employment, communism, national defence and immigration.

While communism has not made any great inroads in the Legion, nevertheless many delegates are going prepared to strengthen the Legion's constitution on the admittance of those professing this doctrine.

The Governor General Viscount Alexander, Grand Patron of the Legion, will officially open the convention. Also in attendance will be Sir Richard Howard-Vyse, honorary treasurer of the British Legion; Major Ernest Harston, honorary secretary of the British Empire Service League and Col. Wm. Rae, the Canadian Legion's representative on the B.E.S.L. Council.

It is expected that a large number of veterans of World War 2 will be present. A considerable number of them are already filling executive positions in the organization.

Who will be the new leader of the 200,000 members comprising the strength of the Legion is unknown. Major General C. B. Price, the present president, has signified that he will be unable to tackle another term of office.

Chairman of the Convention Committee is Brigadier Alex Ross of Yorkton, Sask.

The United States has cut off the export of farm tractors to Soviet Russia, based on information received that the Russians were using their plants to produce tanks and purchasing their tractor requirements from the United States.

Pensions Raised for Veterans

On Tuesday, May 11, an announcement was made in the House of Commons by the Minister of Veterans Affairs, Hon. Milton F. Gregg, which is of vital interest to war pensioners all across Canada. This is the result of work done by members of the Special Parliamentary Committee over the past months, and also requests from the several veteran organizations in Canada.

The Ministers' announcement deals with increased benefits to 100,000 Canadian men, women and children, including 152,000 disabled veterans and 17,000 widows. It raises pension for a 100% unmarried disability case from $75 to $94 a month; a widow from $60 to $75; a first child from $15 to $19 and a family of 5 on total pension from $137 to $171 monthly. It increases the total Pensions bill from 73 millions to 91 millions a year, and will mean about 12 millions in retroactive payments, as the increases are back paid to the 1st of October last.

Some weeks ago the Government announced a 10% increase in its pension payments and a bill dealing with this was given second reading in the House, but veteran organizations were not satisfied with the 10% increase and the same opinion was held by the Special Committee on Veterans Affairs. After hearing representations, a motion was made to increase the pension by 25%; to this an amendment was made to increase it to 33% and this was voted down by a vote of 26-16. Another amendment was moved which would add a cost-of-living bonus to the 25% increase and when a vote was taken on this amendment, it was shown to be a tie and was defeated by the Chairman's vote. A vote on the original motion was carried unanimously by all members of the Committee voting in favor of it, and it was recommended to the Cabinet by the Minister, Mr. Gregg. I might say that the 25% proposal originated with the Canadian Legion.

The Government had earlier, on the recommendation of the Special Committee on Veterans Affairs, agreed to an increase in helplessness allowance of $1400 instead of $750 a year. This is an allowance paid to pensioners who need the help of others in their daily lives and the two raises mean that a married, childless veteran, with full pension and allowance, will get $3000 a year, none of which is subject to income tax.

Five other changes were also accepted by the Government and are as follows:

1. Stabilization of First world war pensions that have been in force for at least three years. Average age of the 69,700 pensioners from that war is nearly 60. The change will allow their pensions to go up but not down.

2. Removal of the clause which hits the man whom the Pensions Commission feels "wilfully concealed" some ailment on enlistment. In its place there will be a clause saying that pension can be awarded only for wartime aggravations of any ailment or disability that was "recorded on medical examination prior to enlistment".

3. Payment of pensions on the nearest multiple of five. Thus, a man with a 67% disability would get a 65% pension; a man with 68 would get 70.

4. Advance of the deadline for 1st World War pensioners' marriages from May 1944 to May 1, 1946. This means that such a pensioner can get dependent's allowance for a woman he marries up to the latter date and for children born of a marriage up to that date. The deadline is aimed at "death-bed" marriages of aged veterans to young women.

5. Revision of a clause to give the Pension Committee definite instructions to give the veteran the benefit of the doubt in any application for pension.

The Committee's recommendations were brought in, as already stated, on Tuesday, May 11th, and on Friday, May 14th, the legislation was given Royal Assent. In addition to the above, provision has been made on another occasion for an increase in war veteran's allowance of from $30 to $40 a month for single and married men, and the Committee is at the present time still further considering war veterans' allowance and a proposal of a minimum of $60 per month.

CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL

The control of weeds by 2,4-D and by other chemicals may take its place in revolutionizing agriculture with those other inventions — the plough, the scythe, the binder and the combine—for weeds in the past have taken a great toll of the farmers' crops. 2,4-D, however, is still much in the experimental stage. One must be careful, warn all authorities, in using 2,4-D. A number of good pamphlets have been issued and are readily available to farmers. These should be carefully studied, but above all I suggest farmers should keep an accurate account of the exact kind of material they use, the date of application, the height of the weeds and the height and stage of growth of their cereal crops when the 2,4-D is applied, and then of course at harvest time whether the crop suffered any damage, the effect of the 2,4-D on the weeds, and above all the yield per acre and the grade, particularly if yields and grade can be compared with yield and grade on similar fields that were not treated. If every farmer who uses 2,4-D will keep these simple accounts and send the results in to the nearest University, or the Provincial Department of Agriculture, he will be performing a worthwhile service to all other farmers, and so will be helping himself.

Moisture Condition 121% Of Normal

SEARLE PRECIPITATION REPORT No. 2 — Compiled from Records of 640 Governmental and Searle Grain Rain Gauges — Records up to and including May 10th, 1948.

The complete moisture condition of the three prairie provinces, including stubble and summerfallow, advanced 1% during the week, the total condition now being 121% of normal, compared with 120% last week and 95% at this time a year ago.

From April 1st to May 10th the rainfall for Alberta has averaged 130% of normal, Saskatchewan 120% and Manitoba 141%.

In Alberta all crop districts except 1, 4, 5, 7 and 17 have enjoyed better than average rains.

It will be observed, therefore, that as far as moisture is concerned the crop is away to a good start. We have, however, the risk of early fall frosts because of the late seeding.

RIVERTON

Wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Gordon Mathison who is in hospital at Islay.

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. P. Hansen with an attendance of 18. The meeting was a short one. A number of articles were auctioned off bringing in $12.10. The next meeting will be held at the school when the ladies intend to give it a thorough cleaning as well as the grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. M. MacLean and Marjorie motored to Edmonton over the week end.

B. Barr went to Edmonton last week and returned with a very fine car.

Wishes for a rapid recovery are also extended to Mrs. J. Hansen who is in the Lloydminster hospital.

Seen Around: Rose Bruchkowsky spending two days visiting Mrs. O. Sinclair; Iona Spicer and Barbara [illegible] home for the week end.

Farm Field Day Is Planned for Vermilion

A series of agricultural engineering field days will be conducted at a number of Alberta points during the early summer by the Extension Service of the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Extension Agricultural Engineer E. B. Martin advises that these field days will be of three different types — demonstration of weed sprayers and dusters, farm tillage machinery field days; and one-way disc tillage competitions. The tillage competition is a new venture in Alberta and will be modelled along the lines of the plowing matches that are still very popular in the eastern provinces.

The first weed sprayer and duster field day will be held at Grande Prairie on Friday, May 28th and will be followed by similar events at St. Paul, Vermilion, Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Calgary, Stettler and Edmonton. Full particulars of these meetings can be obtained from D.A.s at these points.

Let's Go to the Movies

COST OF MOVIES

The urge to go to the movies costs every man, woman and child in Canada a matter of $8.77 a year. Of course we don't go to the movies in averages. Some people are too young or too old or too indifferent so actually the movie fans pay more than that. Also, on the average, B.C. fans spend $12 annually while the P.E. Islander spend only $3.21. It all totals up to a tidy figure. In 1945 we spent 163,919,000 entertaining ourselves this way. At least we spent $36 millions for entertainment and $14 millions in our other predominant occupation of paying taxes for our necessities in entertainment.

After the show on Saturday evening attend the dance at the [illegible] hall. An enjoyable hour or two for only 25c.

MORRISON NEWS

At last spring is here. Everyone is busy on the land and the womenfolk with chickens and garden.

The Gilles family, writer and family, Bill and Leo were supper guests at the home of Lawrence and Christie Gould Sunday night.

Mrs. Gilles was seen putting in their garden down on the farm last Wednesday.

There are a number of wild flowers along the road, certainly doesn't take long for them to come out given a few nice warm days.

Mary Dupratt is helping at Mrs. John Maire's home during the spring rush.

We hear that the musical festival at Kitscoty on Friday last was quite a success. Despite the cold day a number from hereabouts attended.

Hello [illegible] friends!

CANADIANS ARE LIVING LONGER

INTERESTING STATISTICS BY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

Almost all insurance companies operating in Canada reported a further improvement during 1947 in their experienced rate of mortality, an examination of company annual reports reveals.

The study made by the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Assoc. disclosed that heart diseases again were again the leading cause of death among life insurance policyholders. This follows the trend of the past 25 years in the general population.

In 1947, one out of every 3 deaths among life insurance policyholders was from organic heart disease. Another one of three deaths was from apoplexy, other circulatory diseases, cancer and other malignant tumors. The remaining third was attributed to accidental deaths, pneumonia, tuberculosis, other respiratory diseases and stomach disorders.

Pneumonia, tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases, which a quarter of a century ago were one of the chief causes of death have been checked to the point where this classification is responsible today for less than ten per cent. of the deaths of life insurance policy holders.

Want A Good Lawn? Get These Leaflets

To set off a new house to the best advantage a good lawn is essential. It isn't a difficult job for anyone to construct a new lawn, if the instructions in the leaflet "The Construction of New Lawns" are followed. A copy can be obtained free from the Division of Forage Crops, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

How can a lawn be kept in the best condition? The answer is given in easily understood detail in a pamphlet "The Care of Lawns" which is available free from the Division of Forage Crops, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

In the spring of the year is the time to start the work that, consistently carried on, will eventually transform a tired looking lawn into one that will look like a fine woven carpet. The pamphlet referred to gives the know how.

Vermilion Men Graduate As N.C.O.'s

Vermilion's 'A' Company of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment has been very active in its training program and is a credit to the regiment whose fame has been established in two wars. DEWBERRY

Not only do people go on strike but horses as well—at least Old Dobbin did. Mrs. Herb Hemmingway was crossing a slough when Dobbin refused to proceed more than half way across. Slight negotiations were made to persuade the horses to get up on their feet but to no avail. Anyway so Mrs. Hemmingway gets the honor of the first plunge into the water this season.

Little Stanley Gurdler had a very narrow escape when he drank some formalin recently. He was rushed to the doctor in time and is now progressing nicely.

The writer is sorry to report that Mrs. Stewart and Mr. Curtis are in very poor health.

May 17th and still very little spring work is done. The Prutch Bros. who farm north of town have 200 acres of fall rye in, which is looking very nice. They have also a few acres of winter wheat which is up and looks good.

The Dewberry Sports Association will hold a very important meeting on Sunday May 23 at 3 p.m. Discussion will be on the sports day, curling building and so on. Generally the sports here are held the third week of June. Watch for posters.

Billy Martin of Banff is visiting his parents at Dewberry. Billy is in the tourist business at Banff and reports business very good.

HELP in case of ACCIDENT

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION: PRONE METHOD.

Some injuries such as electric shock, drowning, gas poisoning and choking interfere with breathing and may cause asphyxiation, unless normal breathing is promptly restored. Artificial respiration should be resorted to, to bring this about, but remember SEND FOR A DOCTOR IMMEDIATELY.

Lay the patient prone, (face down), the head "downhill", if possible, with one arm extended directly overhead, and the other bent at the elbow to form a resting place for head, so that nose and mouth are free for breathing.

Kneel, straddling the patient's thighs, with palms of the hands on the small of the back, and fingers resting on the ribs, the little finger just touching the lowest rib, and the fingers extended straight down.

With arms held straight, swing forward slowly, bringing the weight of the body gradually upon the patient, so that the shoulder in this position is directly over the heel of the hand at the end of the forward swing. Do not bend elbows. Then immediately swing backward, so as to remove the pressure completely. After two seconds, repeat the pressure and release, the complete swing forward and backward to take four or five seconds, or 12 to 15 times a minute. Continue without interruption until the patient breathes naturally.

Patients have been revived after as long as four hours or more by this method. Keep up the artificial respiration and do not allow patient, even if he starts to breathe naturally, to stand or sit up. Keep patient warm and if doctor has not arrived by the time patient has revived, give light stimulants, 1 teaspoon of aromatic spirits of ammonia in a small glass of water, or hot drink of coffee or tea. Watch patient to see that normal breathing continues, and if natural breathing stops, begin artificial respiration again. If necessary to change operator, the change should be made without losing the rhythm of respiration.

Junior Beef Club Achievement Days

Members of Alberta Junior Beef clubs are looking forward to their Achievement Days. This year nearly 2,000 calves will be shown at 33 fairs and 20 sales will be held. These events will start at Lloydminster on May 24th and end at Vermilion on July 29th, with most of them taking place before June 15th.

G. S. Black, Supervisor of Junior Activities for the Alberta Department of Agriculture advises that group judging and pro-rating will be new features this year. In group judging all animals of similar quality will be placed in one group, using a total of four groups at each fair. In pro-rating, credit is given for the member's club work regardless of where his calf is placed.

This is expected to be a record year as far as number of calves shown is concerned. Club members have worked hard through a difficult winter and it is hoped that good prices will be received for the animals offered.

Film on Weekly Newspaper Goes Into Theatres

WILL BE RELEASED IN 16MM

"The Home Town Paper", a motion picture produced by the National Film Board on the modern Canadian weekly newspaper, has been released to the theatres of Canada in the Board's Canada Carries On series. In this way, it will be shown all across the Dominion to an audience estimated at more than 2,500,000 people.

Following its theatrical run, The Home Town Paper will be released in 16mm, suitable for use in hotels, clubs, homes, schools, any place a 16mm projector may be set up and operated. Further distribution will include bookings on the NFB rural circuits, systems, and in film libraries and community film councils all over Canada. Then the film will go abroad to be shown in almost 50 countries by the Dominion's high commissioners, ambassadors, foreign ministers, trade commissioners and others. In some cases versions will be provided with titles and sound track in the languages of the countries the films will go to.

The Home Town Paper is a significant screen coverage of a weekly newspaper. It touches lightly the mechanical side of publishing, emphasizes the vital, intimate relationship between a community and its paper. In doing this it becomes a thorough coverage of an average small community's everyday life, its people, its thoughts and activities.

ISLAY

The school festival is over and now comes the track events. We notice the playground much in use these days. The Festival was a success but we think that Islay should have the Festival staged here. Our hall is much more spacious. It was crowded at Kitscoty and many had to stand for hours out in the heat, which detracted from the pleasure. But anyway there were splendid items and in talking to the adjudicators our own staff received high praise for their work in the festival. The evening program was praised very highly from those who attended the showing.

Everybody has the gardening bug and some [illegible] we noticed using the hoe and rake were Mr. Waterfield Sr., Alex McDiarmid, Jack Bristow, Neil McEachern, Dr. Sweet, Jack Pyle, Jim Allan and John Young.

Tractors are busy early and late. Much ground cannot be used as there are pot holes of water where there hasn't been any for years. Island lake is as full as it was in the early days.

The monthly meeting of the W.A. was held last week at Mrs. Gutheil's with a good attendance, 17, but we missed our neighbors from Pleasant Valley. Next meeting will be at Mrs. Louis McFadyen's on June 7, so hope we see you then.

Noticed Mr. Frank Hance and Mr. Sayne in town Monday.

Mr. John Purser has come to stay at his son Gordon's home for a while. He will be glad to see all his old friends.

Canada's National Parks

ONE OF CANADA'S GREATEST ASSETS is the wealth of natural beauty which is to be found in all the provinces. In our many lakes, rivers, forests and mountain ranges there is wealth in the form of natural resources, but they also combine to make Canada one of the most beautiful countries in the world. Visitors from other lands are always impressed with the magnificence of the Rocky Mountains, the extent of the Great Lakes, the splendor of Niagara Falls, and the richness of our farm lands and forests. In many parts of the country the Dominion government has set aside some of the finest scenic areas for national parks. In these areas the natural beauties are being preserved, and good roads and other facilities are provided for tourists, making it possible for many thousands of Canadians and visitors from other countries to holiday there each year.

* * * * *

Will Improve Western Parks

It has recently been announced that the Dominion government will spend $7,372,000 on national parks in Canada during the fiscal year 1948-49, and of that sum, more than $5,462,000 will be spent on the parks in Western Canada. While much of this money will be used for extensive improvements to the mountain parks at Banff and Jasper, Alberta, considerable sums have been allocated for work on the Prince Albert National Park in Saskatchewan, where $300,200 is to be spent, and on the Riding Mountain National Park in Manitoba where expenditures will amount to $467,000. Improvements are also to be made in other parks in the West including Elk Island Park, the Waterton Lakes National Park, and Glacier Park in Alberta, and in Yoho, Kootenay and Mount Revelstoke National Parks in British Columbia.

* * * * *

To Encourage Tourist Trade

The improvements to be made in these national parks are a part of the government's plan to encourage American tourists to come to Canada this year and to spend United States dollars in this country. The Canadian Rockies and beauty spots in the Prairie provinces have for many years attracted people from all parts of the United States and no doubt the information that the national parks in these regions are to be further improved will encourage a great many American tourists to visit them this season. The full potentialities of Canada as a vacation land have not yet been fully developed, but in adding improvements to the many fine national parks, a further step is being taken toward making the most of this very valuable asset.

New Method Of Irrigation To Substitute Ditch Method

REGINA.—A new method of irrigation by "artificial rain" was described by E. L. Gray, superintendent of water development, P.F.R.A., at a meeting of the northern Saskatchewan branch of the Institute of Agrology in Saskatoon.

This method—a substitute for laborious ditch irrigation—involves use of a system of pumps and light easily portable, aluminum or magnesium piping capable of throwing water as high as 130 feet and of covering a 30-foot strip each side of the pipe. The method is already being used in the United States, said Mr. Gray.

The system, he said, would utilize any water available from rivers, creeks and dams, dugouts and sloughs.

Cost of the equipment was offset in comparison with the labor costs of irrigation by ditching. A skilled worker at Brooks, Alta., could irrigate five acres a day by ditching. The artificial rain device could, in the hands of an unskilled laborer, cover ten acres a day.

COMPANIES TO PROSPECT AT GREAT SLAVE LAKE

OTTAWA.—A $250,000 search for lead-zinc ore bodies will be started soon around Great Slave lake in the Northwest Territories.

Behind the project are Consolidated Mining and Smelting company of Canada limited and Ventures limited. An order-in-council published recently shows that these companies have been given exclusive rights to prospect for minerals in an area of 500 square miles.

GARDEN NOTES

Best protection against disease and pests is a healthy garden, grown from good disease-resistant seed, well cultivated and free from weeds. Bugs harbor among weed growth waiting until the garden stuff is big enough for a raid. There are bugs that eat holes in the foliage. Poison will get these. There are bugs that suck out the juices and the plant will wither. These must be attacked with a spray that will burn. Disease usually hits the plant cells and causes withering or rot in blackish spots. Chemicals like sulphur are used in this case. Often one good treatment will be enough, but with things like leaf hoppers and potato bugs which lay eggs, two or three successive treatments to get the young ones will be needed. Most chemicals lose their potency in time so a fresh supply each season is necessary.

Later Care

Once planted and growing, about the only summer care the garden should need will be thinning, weeding and cultivation. If the soil is very dry it is advisable to water. With the latter job one should bear in mind that one good soaking, whether with vegetables, flowers or lawn, is worth a dozen sprinkles. A little chemical fertilizer applied carefully according to directions is also a good thing at this time. It will hurry along growth and with vegetables will increase tenderness. When the hot weather sets in it is as well to cut lawn grass less frequently and not so short. This protects roots from the burning sun.

There is nothing quite like the thrill of being able to boast to a neighbor that your flowers or vegetables are days ahead of his. But there is also much solid satisfaction in having good and beautiful things from the garden long after those first days are done. Perhaps the commonest mistakes of all amateur gardeners are planting too soon and [illegible]

With vegetables, especially, most varieties should be sown at least three times and many things like beets, carrots, beans, green onions, radish, can be planted regularly up to July 1st. This will keep a tasty supply of the freshest vegetables coming along.

Canada's Pickled Horsemeat Rare Delicacy In Europe

Examining the roll of pickled meat here are E. S. Ferguson, Camrose, Alta., and C. Shirtliff, Swift Current, Sask., newly appointed directors of the Horse Co-Operative Marketing Association, which has plants in Swift Current and Edmonton.

The object was on display at a recent meeting of the Horse Co-Operative Marketing Association in Swift Current, Sask. It looked for all the world like a bologna used to, before the new look and streamlining caught up with the humble sausage family.

As the long morning session of the annual meeting dragged on, delegates who had breakfasted early began to eye the bologna-like exhibit with a hungry eye. In order to prevent an onslaught with jack knives, the chairman explained that the "thing" simply wasn't edible in its present form.

Rare Delicacy

It was a roll of pickled horsemeat, destined eventually for Belgium or Holland, in which countries it is considered a rare delicacy. Some extra spicing and plenty of cooking would be necessary before it could be eaten, but the chairman assured delegates it was a tasty morsel after it was properly prepared.

The co-op, originally set up to rid the prairies of surplus horses which were eating up range grass, and depriving other more profitable types of livestock of a decent living, reported that 115,000 unwanted horses had been canned, pickled and otherwise disposed of.

Plan To Develop Faster Freighters

OTTAWA.—A long-term program for the development of Canada's merchant marine and shipbuilding industry is being launched by the federal government, it was learned.

Key feature of the plan, expected to be announced officially in the near future, is that the government would grant concessions to encourage shipping companies to get rid of out-of-date vessels and have replacements built in Canadian yards.

Boy Builds $15,000 House For $3,500

VANCOUVER. — Frank Nowyler, high school student, has built a home worth $15,000 at a cost of only $3,500.

He started the structure four years ago at the age of 17 and it is now almost finished.

"I never built anything in my life," he said, "but the average kid thinks building a house is a cinch, so I took a crack at it."

The ground floor has an ample living room with a huge brick fireplace. The kitchen has plenty of cupboard space. There are two bedrooms on the ground floor. On the second floor Frank has a suite consisting of a large bedroom with a "sitting room" off it.

Canada Is Third Among World's Seller Of Goods—Fourth In Buying

(By The Canadian Press)

Canada is third among the world's sellers of goods, following the United States and the United Kingdom, and the fourth among the buyers, following those two countries and France.

This compares with her position of fifth among exporters and eighth among importers in 1938.

Figures of this sort are an old story to Canadians—up there near the top for a long time—so old that they may be inclined to forget what they mean.

Some day Canadians have a sense of inferiority, which others deny vigorously, but if they have, it is because they are playing in such a big league. They can't be first in overall figures in competition with the large populations of the United States and the United Kingdom. They can be first per capita in many things, but the very words per capita have a sound of the hazy realms of economics.

However, it isn't hazy economics that some 12,000,000 Canadians are setting up marks undreamed of by any similar number of people. True, in case they should think too much of themselves, they are 12,000,000 people with the good fortune of having a half-continent and its resources at their disposal.

Export Surpluses

Large export surpluses of a growing number of staple commodities—fish, furs, wheat, lumber, newsprint, gold and base metals — have been traded for capital goods necessary to develop the economy.

However: "The growth of Canadian exports reflects the development from an economy based largely on wheat to one with a much greater variety and a high degree of industrialization.

In 1913 farm products, fish and furs made up nearly two-thirds of the value of Canada's exports, roughly $280,000,000 of a total of $440,000,000.

By 1947, though this group had increased in value to nearly $1,000,000,000, it constituted only a little over a third of all exports. Wood products and minerals, on the other hand, as a result of the development between two wars, made up almost half of the large 1947 total compared with less than a third of the small figure of 1913.

Manufactured goods also have risen to a position of importance among Canada's exports. In 1947 nearly one-fifth of the total consisted of goods in this group as compared with one-eighth in the interwar period and only about one-fourteenth in 1913.

THE FARMER'S GREATEST FOE

CROP FAILURE WEATHER
MARKETS

INSECURITY is the farmer's greatest foe. His income must wait on seasons. Many hazards threaten his crops and the stock he fattens for market. His money is tied up for long periods.

Yet, if left to carry on without him, his wife would have even greater problems. She would be bound to find ready cash to meet succession duties, mortgage payments and pressing creditor demands.

When a farmer owns Life Insurance his wife knows that ready cash will be available in case of need. She will not be forced to sell part of the stock and equipment on which her livelihood depends in order to raise it. The protection of Life Insurance is vitally necessary to a farmer's household.

HAMILTON BOY CLAWED BY LIONESS—Taped side is reminder to Kenneth Appleyard, eight, that he got a [illegible] age of a [illegible] at the circus at Hamilton, Ont. Kenneth got a pass to the circus and shows [illegible] brother William. The [illegible] claws ripped through two sweaters and the shirt Kenneth was wearing [illegible] had to be stitched up. Here is Princess, who clawed the boy, with a circus official.

STARS IN SUPER-DUPER WEDDING—Figures in a super-de luxe wedding, such as only Hollywood can produce, Lana Turner, who made sweaters famous, and millionaire Henry J. (Bob) Topping, Jr., are shown together shortly after the ceremony. For weeks the screen capital and all fandom has been hearing about a $30,000 bridal outfit; a buffet table with lobsters flown from Boston; carved ice statuary showing the couple and love birds kissing.

ROYAL EXILE TALKS TO NEWSMEN — As he listens carefully to questions tossed at him by New York reporters, Ex-King Peter of Yugoslavia sits chewing the end of a pencil. Arriving with his wife, the former Princess Alexandra, and his son, Alexander, he intimated that he had hopes of regaining his throne.

BLOSSOMS AT THEIR BEST — Blossom time throughout Ontario is reported by growers to be three weeks ahead of last year. Evelyn McCauley of Niagara Falls, above, is seen admiring early blooms.

ATTACKED BY TWO MEN—Mrs. Andrew Allen, 55, wife of Capt. Andrew Allen of the C.S.L. freighter Lethbridge, who reported to police she was attacked in her Sarnia, Ont., home by two men claiming to have declared her husband refused to sign them on his vessel. She was struck on the head, clothing torn, her glasses broken and $16 taken from her purse, she told police.

ONE KILLED, ONE ESCAPES, AS FARM HOUSE COLLAPSES — Thomas Weir, 52, of Shelburne, Ont., was killed when the building he bought only recently collapsed. The two-storey farmhouse was being salvaged for lumber by Mr. Weir and his son-in-law, Frank Keating. The latter was pinned by falling walls but was able to get away. The flattened ruins, shown here, trapped the father-in-law near the back door as he tried to escape the falling timbers.

BARBARA ANN PLANTS KISS OF WELCOME ON DICK BUTTON—Dick Button of Englewood, N.J., U.S. Olympic skating champion, was accorded a warm welcome at Toronto, Ont., recently where he appeared in a Rotary ice show. With Mayor McCallum to welcome the 18-year-old boy was Canada's sweetheart of the ice, Barbara Ann Scott. She kissed Button upon his arrival and it is difficult to say who was more delighted, Dick or the crowd which had turned out to welcome him. Above, Barbara Ann, Dick and Mayor McCallum are shown.

MAN STABBED, MURDER — Frank DeLuca, 56, was found dead in a pool of blood in his Riverside Drive home in Mountjoy township a few miles out of Timmins, Ont. Police said he was stabbed in the abdomen and there were indications that a "terrific fight" had taken place. It was murder, police said. A 14-inch knife, razor-sharp on both sides, and ground to a sharp tip, was found in the yard. Police said the house was completely ransacked and that robbery appeared to be the motive.

U.S. CRUISER SEEN AT TRIESTE—The presence of the U.S. cruiser Dayton at Trieste was protested by the Yugoslavs who claimed its crew boosted Allied military personnel above treaty limits. Here Trieste residents watch the ship.

IRISH PRIEST RUNS CHINESE MISSION—Chinese mission in Chicago is run by an Irish priest from Brooklyn, Rev. Martin Joseph Burke, who spent 16 years in China and speaks several of the native dialects. Here he tells an enthralled group of youngsters a story in the Therese mission.

LANDS JET IN TINY CLEARING — As Wing Cmdr. J. D. Somerville of Vancouver was flashing across the northern Ontario sky at 300 miles an hour the single engine of his Vampire jet plane stopped. "I came down on to the clearing o.k.," he related, "but I might say it was a clearing only in the northern Ontario sense. There were plenty of stumps and boulders. During the last 30 yards or so the aircraft turned sideways and I took a terrific battering." Somerville was on his way from Toronto to Vancouver when he force landed. It is not known exactly what went wrong. Somerville called it a "technical failure". 2777

Local News of Interest

Mr. J. K. McClellan of Winnipeg arrived in Vermilion Wednesday evening to attend the funeral of his brother Mr. Norman McClellan.

Rennie Hayward whose home is now near Kamloops, BC., where he owns a 16,000-acre sheep ranch, has arrived in Vermilion by Jeep and plans to spend the summer here. He has a section of land north-west of town and intends scrubbing and breaking it up. Mr. Hayward is one of the pioneer business men and farmers of Vermilion and district. He is a brother of Mrs W. S. Cash. Needless to say his many old friends are pleased to see him and recall old times and events.

Feeling the urge to return to Vermilion after an absence of 39 years, Mrs. Garrison, better known to Vermilion people as the former Mrs. Charles Henry, visited here for a few days during the past week. She now lives at Los Angeles and the trip was made by plane, which according to Mrs. Garrison is the ideal way to travel. Old friends will recall that Mrs. Garrison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs George Powell well known pioneers of the Vermilion district. While in Vermilion she was the guest of Miss Beth Witherbe. Mrs Garrison, besides visiting old friends right in town, motored to the Macnab farm to see Mr. and Mrs. Macnab and family, and out to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lance Payne. She expressed surprise at finding so many of her old time friends still here.

Mrs A. B. King and little daughter Pamela Rae went to Edmonton on Friday and then flew to Saskatoon via TCA. They plan to remain there until the end of June with Mrs. King's parents. At the present time Dr. and Mrs. King are without a home in Vermilion, but construction on their new house has already started.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Caskey returned last week end from a 1000-mile holiday trip during which they visited southern Alberta and the States of Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oregon, ending up at Vancouver and Victoria. At Kalispel, Montana they saw the huge 18 million dollar dam and power project under construction.

Paul Rowlen and Allen Maxwell were in town over the week end, flying down piloted by Ken Crawshaw in the Regent plane.

Mrs L. P. Horne accompanied her son David to the University hospital on Sunday where he will continue his convalescence from his recent serious illness.

Mrs Florence Nelson and two little girls Sandra and Marsha of Unity Sask., are visiting the former's father Mr. H. P. Moffatt and her sister Miss Irene Moffatt.

Jolly birthday parties have been the vogue recently, on Thursday May 13 Karen Barwick was 8 years of age, on Saturday May 15 Neil Crawford was 10 years old and Dolores Pratford was 9 years old on Monday May 17th. The parties took various forms and were all much enjoyed.

Mrs. Bert Taylor of Edmonton returned to her home on Tuesday after visiting her daughter Mrs. Lloyd Donnelly and family for a few days.

Just in case you are interested in floriculture stop and gaze into the window of Mike's Shoe shop. Mike or Mrs Kupin, we don't know which is responsible, has nursed a good many plants through the winter and they now make a truly gorgeous display. The flowers are the focus of many admiring looks every day.

Old friends in Vermilion will be interested to learn that Mrs. Frank Buck and son Bob plan to leave soon to visit in Halifax.

W. I. Notes

The April meeting of the Vermilion W.I. was held at the home of Mrs J. Cameron. Two new members were added to our list. Mrs Spencer gave a very interesting report of the convention held in Edmonton on March 16th and 17th. A paper entitled "The Way to Success" was read by Mr Jensen. Roll Call was answered to by number of sick calls made during the previous month which amounted to 82. Flowers were sent to a friend in the hospital.

The May meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Fish with 11 members present. Two grateful letters were read from recipients of parcels sent to England. Attractive bassits were made for the April project. Slippers from felt hats for May and a layette is well underway for June. A donation was made to the Cancer fund.

Delegates to Dominion Legion Convention

S. C. Heckbert and Vic Tillett of the Vermilion Post will attend the Dominion Convention of the Canadian Legion which will be held in Saskatoon from May 23 to 27.

At the Rebekah Lodge sale of home-cooking on May 8th the Hydrangea plant went to Mrs. Marjorie Logan with No. 7.

Maurice Fallow was a visitor in town Saturday and Sunday.

Great statesmanship is not made up of deep thinking but of deep caring.

North Club Holds Fine Entertainment

After being fooled several times by snow-drifts, storms, mud and what have you, the Campbell Lake-Island Hill club finally managed to have that entertainment and dance on the night of May 7th. The evening was opened with "O Canada" followed by a song Star of the East, by Marie and Anne. Four small girls Willa, Marian, Glenda and Gertrude sang and danced Looby Loo. Gertrude sang Mary had a Little Lamb and Inez sang The Rubber Dolly. Seven Campbell Lake girls ably presented My Cousin from Sweden. The Island Hill girls gave a double feature chorus and Audrey and Mary Ellen gave "The Rheumatiz" accompanied by Anne on the piano. Island Hill players then presented "The Mad Breakfast" the plot of which was quite deep. Everyone then joined in singing "God Save the King"

After an ample lunch was served under the direction of Mrs. McCambridge and Mrs. Armstrong, the rest of the evening was spent in dancing to the strains of Beryl Swanson's orchestra.

We wish a speedy recovery to our president Mrs. Mead, at present in the hospital and hope to see you all again soon.

Death and Funeral of Mrs. Nellie Elizabeth Maskell

At her home in the Imperial block on May 13th Mrs. Nellie Elizabeth Maskell passed peacefully away after a long illness. She was born at Quebec on Oct. 6th, 1876. Mr and Mrs. Maskell were married on July 1st 1896 and celebrated their golden wedding July 1st 1946.

They came west to live in 1917 and farmed north of Vermilion. The last few years they have lived in the Imperial block.

Left to mourn her loss are her sorrowing husband, 5 sons, Wallace of Edmonton, Dick of Calgary, Gordon, Buster and Leonard all of Vermilion; three daughters, Mrs. Vera Staniford of Collington, Mrs Nellie Hinchey of Vermilion and Mrs Mabel Armstrong of Edmonton. There are 17 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren, three brothers, Bert, Martin and Ernest all living in Quebec; three sisters Mrs. J. Wheeler in Ontario, Miss Carey Crothers in the States and Mrs. Symington in Quebec.

Vol. XL. No. 1. Vermilion, Alberta, Thursday, May 27th, 1948. $2.00 A Year

Rev. W. J. Brant, of Clandonald, Passes Away

Rev. W. J. Brant, for the past three years rector in charge of the Clandonald Anglican field, passed away at the Vermilion municipal hospital Tuesday evening May 25th. He was 64 years of age.

Rev. Brant was taken ill shortly after Easter. He was a patient at the Lloydminster hospital for some time, returned to his home at Clandonald, and ten days prior to his death came to the Vermilion hospital.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife at Clandonald, daughter Alice who is a nurse at the Vermilion hospital, two sons, Rev. Harry Brant of Vegreville and David who has just graduated from the University of Saskatchewan with the degree of B.A., and a married daughter at Meadow Lake, Sask.

Funeral services are being held under Masonic auspices this Thursday afternoon May 27th. Interment will be at the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. Canon Trendell of Edmonton will officiate.

83° Is Warmest Day

Hopes of a bumper crop of lilac blossoms came in for a rude shock on Thursday morning when it was learned that 5 degrees of frost had been registered during the night. This will probably prove very harmful to the lilacs and small fruits. This was the only frost during the week.

Friday and Tuesday May 21st and 25th vied for the warmest day with 83 each. No rain fell.

Town Honored by Vice-Regal Visit

HIS EXCELLENCY, VISCOUNT ALEXANDER OF TUNIS, K.G., G.C.B., G.C.M.G., C.S.I., D.S.O., M.C., GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF CANADA AND PATRON OF THE CANADIAN LEGION OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE SERVICE LEAGUE, AND LADY ALEXANDER, WHO SPENT A FIVE-HOUR OFFICIAL VISIT IN VERMILION ON TUESDAY, MAY 25th.

Visit of Governor-General and Party A Memorable Occasion

VISCOUNT AND LADY ALEXANDER GIVEN WARM WELCOME

EXCEPTIONALLY FINE PROGRAM ARRANGED BY LEGION

Some three months ago a member of the local branch of the Canadian Legion conceived the idea that the Governor-General of Canada, Viscount Alexander of Tunis, should be extended the invitation to officially open the new Legion hall. This member had the feeling one sometimes gets that the invitation might be accepted. It did appear to be a very long chance but President Ted Sweetman of Vermilion Post wrote his letter extending his invitation as one old soldier to another—and it was accepted.

As a result Tuesday May 25th will live long in the memories of Vermilion and district people, on that day they entertained Their Excellencies, Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Governor-General of Canada, and Lady Alexander, representatives of Their Majesties in Canada.

The day itself was one of Alberta's best efforts, as if the weatherman too, as well as every individual and every organization, was anxious to co-operate to make the visit of the distinguished party a happy one.

Promptly at 11 a.m. Tuesday the big passenger plane landed at the Vermilion airport where Their Excellencies were received by His Worship Mayor Morrison, S. C. Heckbert President Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion, Geo. Martin and Wm. Nash [illegible] past presidents of the Vermilion branch [illegible] Mrs. Lacy [illegible] Webb.

[illegible] of Edmonton, B Company from [illegible] and A Company of Vermilion. Capt. William [illegible] of Vegreville was guard commander. His Excellency also inspected the veterans and cadets [illegible] with many of the soldiers and veterans. Lady Alexander meanwhile inspected the Girl Guides and the Brownies.

RURAL DRIVE

Following the inspection the party was taken for a short drive through the rich farming areas west of Vermilion. Twelve cars in all were required to transport the many distinguished visitors in the gathering, which included Premier and Mrs. Manning.

BANQUET AT V.S.A.

On returning from the drive Their Excellencies and party at once proceeded to the school of agriculture where 165 were present at the banquet. The guests included representatives of the surrounding towns and villages and of Legion branches from many points in the province, as well as numerous distinguished military men.

The program at the banquet included an address of welcome by His Worship Mayor Morrison and replies by His Excellency and Lady Alexander. Premier E. C. Manning extended a welcome on behalf of the province as Vermilion is the only place to be visited in Alberta on this official tour. The toast to the King was proposed by George Martin, acting president of the Vermilion Legion branch during the absence in the Old Country of President E. Sweetman.

TRUE WESTERN STYLE

Their Excellencies and party then proceeded to the grandstand at the fair grounds in true western style, on board a flat rack drawn by four lively horses and escorted by cowboys.

BAND CONCERT

At the grounds a great gathering of people awaited the arrival of the Vice-Regal party, being entertained in the meantime by musical selections rendered by the North West Air Command band from Edmonton.

INVESTITURE

The ceremony at the fair grounds here was one seldom seen in a rural centre, seven Alberta heroes receiving their awards for meritorious war services from Viscount Alexander. The citations were read by Major-Gen. H. Letson of Ottawa, secretary to the Governor-General. Those receiving the awards were Brig. James C. Jefferson of Edmonton the O.B.E.; Maj. Thomas Reed (Paddy) Nash of Edmonton D.S.O.; Capt. Kurt [illegible] Surbeck, of Edmonton O.B.E.; Lieut. A. T. Fells, R.C.N. (R) D.S.O., C.S.O.; E. A. Morrisey R.C.N. (R) of Edmonton D.S.O.; Sgt. Leonard Williams (army) of Lloydminster B.E.M. and Cpl. A. A. Lawrence (army) of Clandonald, M.M.

BOY SCOUTS HONORED

The following members of the [illegible] Scout movement in A[illegible] [illegible] from the Governor General during the afternoon. Leslie [illegible] Audy, both of Edmonton, and A. H. Harold of Lloydminster. They all received medals of [illegible] in the Scout movement.

CENOTAPH

Following the investiture service at the fair grounds the party moved to the Cenotaph where the Governor-General laid a wreath in memory of the soldiers of the district who gave their lives in both great wars.

DEDICATION

Prior to the dedication service of the new Legion hall S. C. Heckbert paid tribute to Viscount Alexander as a great soldier and grand patron of the Canadian Legion.

This is a fitting climax to a very happy day, said the Governor-General. He added that he always did his best to attend all functions arranged by the Legion. In declaring the hall open he said "I trust the residents of this district will enjoy many [illegible] and enjoyment within these walls.

"Here I am today and as far as I am concerned all is well. When your Vermilion Legion president sent me his letter I just couldn't refuse to attend this celebration when he appealed to me as an old soldier too," said the [illegible] "It now gives me great pleasure to dedicate this hall [illegible] to those of your community who have paid the supreme sacrifice and to wish those who gather here in [illegible] of these fallen comrades [illegible] happiness."

At the conclusion of the [illegible] tion little Miss Ruth [illegible] presented Lady Alexander with a beautiful [illegible]

TWO KILLED IN AIR CRASH HERE

Cyrille Wetterley, 20 years old, of Edmonton and Walter Baranec, 17, whose home is at Hay, Alberta were instantly killed when their light two-seater plane crashed at 4:15 Tuesday afternoon. The boys were coming to make a landing to see the air show scheduled for that evening.

The plane crashed into a field on the farm of Wm. McCalmon at a point 1 mile south-east of the Vermilion airport. It was seen to circle the field twice to get bearings and [illegible] a second time seemed to be flying slowly. The machine was noticed to bank sharply and then went into a tail spin which took it from the sight of spectators behind intervening hills and bushes. When it did not reappear R.C.A.F. pilots and the police rushed to the scene of the tragedy [illegible]

Cyrille Wetterley [illegible] as he intended flying to Vermilion to see the air show.

Walter Baranec was the son of John [illegible] Edmonton hospital [illegible] had been given two days leave.

A plane belonging to the Edmonton Flying club, piloted by Gordon Zawick flew from Edmonton with the fatal aircraft.

The air show was presented as scheduled commencing at 6:30 p.m. with the spectators generally unaware of the tragic crash.

Kenneth Saunders, district inspector of civil aviation was in Vermilion from Edmonton on Wednesday conducting an investigation into the crash. The cause of course is unknown as the aircraft was practically completely demolished.

There has been a great deal of flying from the Vermilion airport since the flying school commenced here two years ago and there has never been a semblance of a crash or the least damage suffered by a plane, until Tuesday's accident.

R.C.M.P. Constable Transferred, Empress

Constable Leonard Clevette R.C.M.P. has been transferred from Vermilion to Empress and planned to move south on Thursday this week. A host of friends of Constable and Mrs. Clevette and baby son are sorry to see them leave Vermilion.

Maj.-Gen. Sir Richard Howard Vyse, Deputy Chairman of the British Legion and Maj.-Gen. C. B. Price, Dominion President of the Canadian Legion were among the brilliant assemblage of guests present and spoke briefly at the official opening.

Another interesting little feature was enacted when George Martin presented [illegible] Alexander with the [illegible] which Viscount Alexander [illegible] to formally open the hall.

[illegible] spent a short [illegible] people in the new hall [illegible] to return to the air [illegible] to the field [illegible] paying their [illegible] vice-regal party and [illegible]

[illegible] Lady Alexander [illegible] committees, auxiliaries, and [illegible] themselves while here hosting [illegible]

The official services representatives of the day were Lt. Cmdr. Rodney [illegible] R.C.N., Maj.-Gen. M. H. Pe[illegible] Western Army Command [illegible] Air Vice-Marshal K. M. [illegible] North West Air Command.

Three bands, one from the R.C.A.F. at Edmonton, the Army band also from Edmonton and the Clandonald [illegible] band were in attendance at [illegible] and contributed [illegible]

More than [illegible] people enjoyed an [illegible] the evening put on by the North West Air Command. [illegible] parachute jumping [illegible] crowded [illegible]

Danger at The Swimming Hole

Owing to its flooded condition the swimming pool at the river is very [illegible] place at present. The water is very deep and the current swift [illegible] the contour of the bank is such that one step can take an [illegible] out of his depth. It is impossible to swim against the current. Children should not be allowed at the pool unless accompanied by an adult who is directly responsible for them.

Letters to the Editor

Vermilion, Alberta
May 26, 1948.

To the Editor:

The writer, through this column would like to appeal to the spirit of fair play in some of our adults and young people who are doing so much damage at the local golf course. Cars and trucks are being driven over our fairways with no regard whatever to the damage they might be doing. Fairway distance markers and directional posts are being used as rifle targets, other permanent fixtures such as bag racks are being deliberately damaged, greens are being tampered with, and on one the cup seems to have been torn out.

The members of the Vermilion Golf club are trying their best to establish a permanent golf course for the future citizens of the Town of Vermilion and we know we have the wholehearted co-operation of most of the town and district, but we cannot do this successfully unless the few who are deliberately damaging our property will co-operate.

Allen Ronaghan Writes Article on Trans-Canada Highway Project

Allen Ronaghan who this year is teaching at Tofield comes to bat with a very interesting treatise on Canada and the Trans-Canada highway system. The article is entitled "The Sodbuster featuring "The period of shiny parts" and the "Trans-Canada Highway System". The story deals with the willy nilly attitude of the Federal government in this regard and regrets greatly the lack of action towards the start of such a highway. Allen develops all the points in a very interesting manner and the pamphlet is amply illustrated by his own sketches.

A few patent sentences taken from the article are: "Clearly a single highway is not adequate and indeed in a country of our resources does not represent a very noble goal." Again, "It needs no imagination to foresee the benefits that will result from the completion of the system. They are so obvious that the lack of any such system in Canada must be recognized for what it is—a menace to our national existence." "Nobody will question the value of a highway as a factor tending to unify a nation."

Allen winds up with the exhortation "Let's get going on it. Canada — Coast to Coast and into the north via Trans-Canada."

Carload Shippings from Vermilion

The following carload shipments were made from Vermilion, Borradaile and Claysmore via Canadian National during the month of April. From Vermilion: Hogs 5, wheat 12, oats 4, flour 4, cattle 16. From Borradaile: hogs 2, wheat 1, cattle 1, oil 64. From Claysmore: wheat 1, barley 1.

Remarkable Growth Of Credit Unions

The following remarkable facts regarding Credit Union growth are taken from the Economic Division report of the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa:

In the province of Alberta from the year 1940 to 1946 the number of credit unions increased from 80 to 195, the number of members from 3,371 to 26,766, total of shares and deposits from $97,772 to $1,529,162, average savings per member grew from $29.56 to $58.26.

In the Dominion of Canada within the same period, 1940 to 1946, the number of credit unions increased from 1147 to 2122, members from 201,137 to 588,339, shares and deposits from $20,619,701 to $174,704,309, the average savings per member [illegible] to $[illegible].

The report indicates that credit unions are operating in all 9 provinces, and marks a truly marvellous growth even through war years.

THE STANDARD

VERMILION ALBERTA
ESTABLISHED 1906
Published Every Thursday Afternoon
At the Office, Main St.
S. R. P. COOPER — PUBLISHER

Vermilion, Alberta, May 26, 1948.

COPY HELD OVER —

The Standard regrets that it was necessary to hold over a considerable number of items this week including the obituaries of the late Norman McClellan and James R. Thompson whose deaths were reported last issue. A story of the official opening of the Scout hall will also appear next week and many other local items. Quite a number of advertisements were left out as well but time did not permit the printing of the usual 2-page insert at the last minute and all material planned for these pages has been held over.

The holiday Monday and reception Tuesday left but a very short newspaper week.

ODDITY OF NATURE . . .

The Standard has two reports of potatoes being preserved perfectly under a deep covering of snow. They are absolutely free from frost bite of any kind. Some are on display at the Standard office.

R. J. Robinson who farms east of Kokanee store found a little bunch of potatoes he had left in his garden without a frost bite, some of them were left at the Standard and are hard and firm. They were in a spot drifted over by some 6 feet of snow during the winter. R. L. Burns of Claysmore reports the same oddity. He had neglected to pick up a half bushel last fall and finds them now hard and solid. He even intends using some of them for seed, says they should be a good frost resistant variety.

BURIED TREASURE . . .

What would you think if you dug up a nice side of bacon while working in your garden then after a few more spades full of earth you uncovered a whole whitefish. The bacon was of the 75c per pound variety and the fish 10c or thereabouts.

Such was the experience of Jack Welsh when planting his garden this spring. Jack apparently had the right answer when he said that it was probably a frugal minded dog preparing for an approaching depression and scarcity. Just how the animal ever got his teeth on such delicacies is the 64 buck question.

Albino Mallard Hen At Kenilworth Lake

Lyle Anson who farms near Kenilworth Lake game reserve south of Islay, has under observation an Albino mallard hen. The bird is all white with the exception of the flashing on the wings which is the blue of the mallard hen. This duck has been feeding quite regularly in the same field and has now mated with a handsome mallard drake who evidently prefers blondes.

TENDERS FOR COAL
(Western Provinces)

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Coal for Western Provinces", will be received until 3 p.m. (E.D.S.T.), Tuesday, June 8, 1948 for the supply of coal for the Dominion Buildings and Experimental Farms and Stations, throughout the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Forms of tender with specifications and conditions attached can be obtained from the Purchasing Agent, Department of Public Works, Ottawa; the District Resident Architect, Winnipeg, Man.; the District Resident Architect, Saskatoon, Sask.; the District Resident Architect, Calgary, Alta.; and the District Resident Architect, Victoria, B.C.

Tenders should be made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with departmental specifications and conditions attached thereto. Coal dealers' license numbers must be given when tendering.

The Department reserves the right to demand from any successful tenderer before awarding the order, a security deposit in the form of a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender or Bearer Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque, if required to make up an odd amount.

By order,
J. M. SOMERVILLE
Secretary.

WELCOMING

OUR TOURING NEIGHBORS

(By G. E. SLOSS, W.E.U.)

WITH the increasing number of automobiles appearing on the highways across the prairies and the approach of vacation time, attention is again focussed to the many of our American neighbors who make Canada their favorite vacationland, and will soon be seen on our highways, in our cities and towns. In a recent survey of its readers, the American Magazine reported that one of every two who intend to travel abroad this year will visit Canada, and that 74 per cent. will use the automobile as the favorite mode of travel.

With this prospect in view, and Canada's need for an increasing tourist trade, especially to our prairie provinces, every effort should be put forth by the different organizations and the citizens of our towns and communities that such a welcome be given to create a friendship and goodwill to our visiting tourists that they will have the urge to return.

Plenty To Offer

The Western provinces have plenty to offer as tourist attractions in beauty and of historic nature.

British Columbia with its majestic Rocky Mountains, challenges the mountain climber, and rivers and lakes that are the delight of the fishermen.

Alberta, a province noted for its historic dinosaurs, and beautiful hills and valleys, over which once roamed the buffalo. Edmonton is the starting point of the war-time built Alaska Highway, on which tourists may travel to the Far North.

Saskatchewan has still its marks of the Riel Rebellion, in which bitter battles were fought between the Indians and the white man. It also has its share of beautiful lakes and resorts. Saskatchewan can be called the "Home of the Mounties". Regina is the training home of the famous Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who are known the world over as the police force who "get their man".

Manitoba, known as the gateway of the West, of which Winnipeg is the hub, have many markings of the days when settlers from the East came into the province with the ox-cart and caravan. Its beautiful scenery of trees and lakes is certainly attractive to the scenery loving tourist.

All these provinces have their national parks, and can justly be proud of them, as they offer beauty, with resorts and beaches that would please the most fastidious tourist.

Lack Of Road Signs

We of the West, perhaps, have not realized the importance of the many things that help in the welcome. It was the writer's privilege to travel through the central and northern parts of Saskatchewan and Alberta late last summer, and was amazed of the many beautiful and historic spots, but many were perhaps passed by without knowing through the lack of signs and roadside markings. One could even pass through a small town without knowing the name of it. With about 1,500 miles travelled only three signs announcing the name of the approaching town were seen. Mr. Larry Eckroyd of Montreal, while addressing the Agassiz - Harrison, B.C., board of trade on U.S. tourists to Canada and the need of providing signs and roadside advertising, said: "Visitors are not mind readers and appreciate knowing where they are going." Besides announcing the name of the town or village on road signs the following could be added: the population, what the district is noted for, and its principal industries, etc.

Ways Of "Welcome"

There are many ways of saying a "Welcome" to our visitors, such as improving tourist accommodation; for restaurants and hotels to supply wholesome, hearty meals; to have attractive and clean service stations; placing names of rivers and streams on bridges; markings for picnic camping and trailer stops, placing directions on highways to the nearest telephone; removing unsightly and tumbled down buildings. There is also a need for more rural municipal first aid stations.

Shall Return Again

The proof of results of having a neat appearing town and showing of kindness to our visitors can be seen from a letter recently received by Mr. R. J. Campbell, editor of the Cut Knife Grinder, Cut Knife, Sask., from one of our American neighbors. Besides praising Mr. Campbell for his up-and-coming publication, he wrote the following: "On our 8,000 miles of driving through Canada last year, we found Cut Knife the cleanest and neatest town of its size, the buildings well kept, and neat. The people were very kind to us. The citizens should be very proud to be a part of Cut Knife. We shall return next year. Signed — C. D. Brault and Family, Portland, Oregon."

"Courtesy keeps tourists coming", so remember to be courteous and kind to our touring neighbors.

WELCOME TO MANVILLE POP 520
TOWN

Two of the far too few road signs across the prairies welcoming our tourists. Mannville is located about 13 miles west of Vermilion, Alberta. Elnora, in the beautiful rolling country of Alberta, is about 22 miles north of Three Hills.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Canadian cheese shipments to Britain in 1947 dropped to an almost new low, a return tabled in the commons disclosed.

Broken remains of a man's skull, believed to be 200,000 years old, were auctioned in London for £250 ($1,000).

The Princess Royal, sister of the King, will visit Germany shortly to inspect women's units in the British Army of the Rhine.

Canada's latest Tribal class destroyer, H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, sailed recently from Halifax to her future operational base at Esquimalt, B.C.

Components from emergency bridges which spanned the River Thames during the war are being used in housing schemes throughout Britain.

During 1946 and 1947, 210,000 British emigrants went by sea to other parts of the British Commonwealth, Harold Wilson, president of the board of trade, said.

BOSTON.—A United States Coast Guard plane dropped a supply of penicillin to the dragger St. Anne, out of Gloucester, for a fisherman stricken with appendicitis.

A pheasant hurtled through a window of a coast-bound coach in England, laid an egg in the lap of a woman passenger, and died. In the excitement the egg was smashed.

KITCHEN MEDITATIONS
PANCAKES
By JANE DALE

Lassie, grease the skillet well, rub it round with bacon rind
Set it warming while you mix up all the best stuff you can find
Flour and soda, salt and sugar, eggs and short'ning and buttermilk
Beaten up till light and frothy, mixture looks as fine as silk

Lassie grease the skillet well with the sweetest bacon fat,
Sure your fire is burning brightly—
can't fry pancakes without that.
Cook them quickly, turn them lightly,
just the same up side or down.
You will set some heart a yearning
if you bake them golden brown'

Lassie, grease the skillet well, then there is no mess or bother.
Flip them over when they're bubbly,
when they're brown drop in another.
Serve them hot with lots of syrup,
then just watch them disappear
Lass, a man's heart is his stomach, feed him well and never fear'

RECREATION SAID HEALTH NECESSITY

Recreation—the spirit of play is essentially basic and fundamental in growth and life Dr. A. S. Lamb, Director of Physical Education at McGill University, Montreal, once said that "the values of recreation are many and this is true for all ages."

"There is perhaps no force so powerful in removing racial and religious prejudices, in bridging language problems, in developing co-operation and one's social nature," he said.

Dr. Lamb added however that skilled supervision and wise leadership are essential, because the leader or supervisor can make of recreation whatever he chooses.

It is the belief of those engaged in physical education that no program of health can be adequate without provision of physical activity or recreation. Similarly no isolated program of physical activity and recreation can be adequate without consideration of the broader aspects of health and preventive medicine.

It is suggested that while education has been made compulsory for all children the same has not been done [illegible] health except to a limited degree. World's Wheat Queen Wants Two More Victories Before Retiring

VANCOUVER.—World Wheat Queen Mrs. Amy Kelsey of Erickson, B.C., is going to stop growing the best wheat in the world.

But before she retires the 56-year-old Creston Valley woman wants to win two more awards to bring her grand total to 50.

She hopes to win honors in Vancouver's Pacific National Exhibition in August and wants to hold for another year the International Wheat Queen title she won at the International Grain and Livestock Exhibition in Chicago in 1946.

After that, she says, the men can have it.

Conservation Program Tour Across Prairies

WINNIPEG — The annual campaign for forest conservation has started in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The Canadian Forestry Association started a three-month tour in Manitoba with a party starting from Winnipeg left in a new one ton panel truck presented to the association by General Motors of Canada. Members will work in co-operation with the Manitoba Forest service to secure public support in the prevention of forest fires.

Carried on the truck are a portable power plant, sound projectors and carefully-selected films on the prevention of forest fires and how to fight them once started. Annually these tours reach hundreds of small communities in or near the provinces forest areas, with their conservation message.

Stress will also be laid on the importance of watersheds in controlling stream flow and soil erosion. In this forest conservation is an important factor as a wooded slope will hold rain which falls on it while an unprotected slope will allow the topsoil to be washed away. Spring flooding is often due to run-off water from [illegible].

A similar party opened a tour of Saskatchewan points recently while the association's tree-planting car is presently working in southern Alberta. Later the car will visit points in Manitoba and Saskatchewan as well.

U OF A FEEDERS' DAY

Every summer livestock men get together at the University of Alberta to attend the annual Feeders' Day. This year Feeders' Day will be held on June 5th. Sponsored by the Department of Animal Science, this event has proved extremely popular as livestock men from near and far meet to hear and discuss results of experiments conducted at the University during the year. Reviewed and presented in printed form, are tests and trials dealing with problems related to production of livestock and livestock products.

Trials conducted during the past year have dealt with such subjects as the use of urea as a protein supplement for dairy cows, rations for pregnant sows, riboflavin for growing and fattening pigs, bread sow rations in relation to size and strength of litters and restricted use of grain in finishing market cattle.

A cordial invitation is extended to all interested. The program will start at 10 a.m. on Saturday, June 5th and will be held in the Livestock Pavilion at the University of Alberta.

Those clean, self-respecting people who do not believe that they perspire, or if they do, that this isn't noticeable, are reminded in a bulletin from head quarters in Ottawa of the Department of National Health and Welfare that everyone perspires and that it is only natural and well for their health that they should do so. It is through perspiration that the body removes certain wastes. The department has only the time-honored reminder of the value of clean living, clean skin and clean clothing, to offer for those who would not offend.

HERBATE
2,4-D
ESTER • AMINE • SODIUM
KILLS WEEDS IN GRAIN

HERBATE (2,4-D) makes weed control easier, more economical, more effective. Field tests prove that HERBATE (2,4-D) kills mustard, stinkweed, ragweed, Russian thistle, cocklebur, pigweed, many others.

With HERBATE (2,4-D), you can spray out the weeds—save money, time and work—without harming grain or common turf grasses or affecting soil. The cost is low. Less than a pint of "HERBATE" L-37 or L-40, or less than a pound of "HERBATE" P-70, makes enough 2,4-D spray for an acre.

AVAILABLE IN THREE FORMULATIONS FOR HIGH OR LOW-VOLUME SPRAYING

"HERBATE" L-37 (Isopropyl Ester). A liquid which mixes readily with either water or oil. Particularly suitable for control of perennial weeds and susceptible woody perennials. Each Imperial gallon contains 4 lbs. of 2,4-D acid.

"HERBATE" L-40 (Amine Salt). Water-soluble liquid, intermediate in activity between "HERBATE" L-37 and "HERBATE" P-70. Each Imperial gallon contains 5 lbs. of 2,4-D acid.

"HERBATE" P-70 (Sodium Salt). Water-soluble powder, especially recommended for control of weeds in corn, flax (linseed), lawns, etc. One pound provides 11.2 oz. of 2,4-D acid.

WEEDS ROB SOIL OF MOISTURE INCREASE FARM COSTS

All three HERBATE formulations give highly effective weed kill in grain fields, grass pastures, fence corners . . . along roadsides, drainage and irrigation ditches. Ask your dealer for full information on HERBATE (2,4-D).

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

A Letter For Mrs. Smith

By [illegible] H. HALLOCK

BILL lay in bed watching the miracle of a new day being born. Tomorrow, he thought, will be Anne's birthday . . . and he would have nothing to give her. He turned away from the window and looked at his wife. How young she looked! And she would be forty tomorrow. Unbelievable!

Anne opened her eyes and smiled. Bill kissed her. "Sweet," she said.

"Looks like we're going to have a nice day," Bill said.

"Mmm," Anne murmured. "I'm glad. Wish you didn't have to go to the office."

"Me too," said Bill, "I'd just like to lie here all day and look at you."

"Sweet," Anne said again. She turned to face Bill. "Oh, dear," she sighed, "I just remembered. Tomorrow's . . ."

"Yes, I know . . . your birthday. And I haven't one darn thing to . . ."

"Look, Bill," Anne interrupted hastily, "let's forget this one."

"Forget your birthday? Have I ever?"

"No, honey . . . but when a girl is . . . well, fortieth birthdays should be skipped."

"You look like sixteen."

Anne giggled. "Oh, Bill . . . I look like an old hag, and you know it."

The alarm broke in on them and Bill got up to shut it off.

Five years ago Bill had gone berserk. Wanting his wife to have the nice things other girls had, he had gone on a spending spree. He had surprised Anne with a new radio, a fur coat. He had given her all sorts of extra money to spend on clothes. When asked where all this sudden wealth was coming from, Bill had said, "Don't you worry. It's a secret. Sometime I'll tell you about it."

"All these things are lovely, Bill," Anne had said, "and you know I appreciate them . . . but shouldn't we be saving something?"

"Listen, honey," Bill had answered gruffly, "you deserve a break, and at last you're getting one. I love giving you things, isn't that enough?"

Bill's lavish spending had continued for more than a year. Then, one day, Anne was mending the coat of one of Bill's suits, when an overdue notice from a local loan company had fallen from a pocket. When Bill came home, she showed him the notice. At first he flatly denied any knowledge of it. But Anne pointed out that his name was on it and kept asking questions in a frightened voice until Bill finally exploded. "All right, all right," he shouted, "It's mine. Where did you think the money was coming from, anyway?"

Anne stood transfixed, watching Bill get into his hat and coat. She said nothing, felt nothing.

"Just in case you're interested, Mrs. Smith," Bill said icily, "I'm in debt . . . more than five thousand dollars in debt!" The door slammed as Bill went out, leaving Anne standing [illegible].

This had been the closest Bill and Anne had ever come to a separation. Sometime after midnight Anne had heard the bedroom door open softly. Bill had knelt by the bed and held her hand, asking her forgiveness. "To think I could hurt anyone I love so much!" He had confessed everything.

They had planned the sacrifices they would make to repay the money over the years, until streaks in the sky heralded a new day. Bill had promised never to borrow again. "If we get in a jam," he had said, "I'll tell you. From now on we'll share our troubles as well as our pleasures . . . all of them."

It had been tough going. They had been dunned mercilessly. Many of their acquaintances had dropped them. Bill had lost his job but, when Anne expressed her faith in him, he took another one in the same town although the salary was lower. They had scrimped and saved. But Bill had kept his promise . . . he had never borrowed again.

Bill was remembering all this as he walked home from work the next evening. He was remembering how swell Anne had been through it all. "It's a wonder she didn't kick me out," he thought. "I must have been out of my mind."

Climbing the hill slowly he [illegible] gloomier and gloomier. "Anne's birthday," he growled, "and not a thing. Always before I've had at least a buck in my pocket." He could see the lights [illegible] through the living room windows of the [illegible] house they had rented. "Those loan sharks! If I hadn't had to pay out all that dough just at this particular time!"

Anne was waiting for Bill in the hallway when he opened the front door. Anne, looking sweet in a dress six [illegible] old. Anne, smiling. Anne, [illegible] into his arms.

"Honey," Bill said, "Hap—"

"Don't say it! Don't you remember? We're skipping this one."

Bill held her away from him a moment. "Gee, you look wonderful!" Then he drew her to him again, and kissed her.

Anne helped Bill out of his coat, took his hat. "Oh, I almost forgot," she said, going to the closet, "there's a letter."

Bill looked down and picked up a letter lying on the little table in the hall. He glanced at the return address. "Won't they ever stop dunning us?" he asked in a discouraged voice.

"Oh, let the letter go until after dinner," Anne said.

"Business before pleasure!" Bill ripped open the envelope and quickly drew out the large white sheet. "Dear Mr. Smith," he began to read sarcastically, "This is to inform you that, in accordance with our records . . ." Bill paused a moment. Then he began to read again, his expression changing. ". . . the money you borrowed from us has been repaid in full, and your cancelled note is attached hereto. Due to an error on our part, we find that you have been overcharged on this account, and a check, drawn in your name, in the amount of $76.72 is here in our office. If you will call at your earliest convenience, we will . . ." the letter slipped from Bill's lifeless fingers to the floor.

"Honey," Anne said, "Oh, Honey!"

Bill, holding Anne close, was glad that she couldn't see the dampness around his eyes.

"Our last debt," Anne murmured against Bill's chest. "You've paid our last debt . . . oh, Bill!"

Bill kissed the tip of Anne's left ear. "Happy Birthday, Sweetheart," he said.

U.S. To Build Huge Hangar in Alaska

OAKLAND, Calif. — The U.S. air force is building in Alaska what is believed to be the world's largest [illegible].

This was disclosed in an announcement by Judson Pacific-Murphy corporation that it has completed 80 per cent. of the pre-fabricated steel framework for the project.

The hangar will be at a point known as Mile 26 north of Fairbanks. Its dimensions: 300 feet long, 300 feet wide, 80 feet high. Sliding doors will open to a width of 300 feet. This exceeds the wing span of any plane now in service.

The framework, using 3,000 tons of steel, will cost $750,000 alone. It will be delivered to Alaska by rail and army transport.

RECIPES

MINCED MEAT ON TOAST

Use any meat, put through food grinder or chop fine in chopping bowl. Heat in gravy, white sauce, or tomato sauce. Add butter, season well, and serve on hot toast.

HASH

1 to 2 cups chopped meat
2 cups cubed potato
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon minced onion or celery
3 to 4 tablespoons butter
Enough milk, water or stock to moisten

Any available left-over meat may be used, taking about equal parts of meat and potato. Chop meat first, then add potato and chop together. Season. Melt fat (1 tablespoon to each cup of hash) in frying pan, spread hash in evenly and cook slowly for 20 minutes. Shake the pan occasionally to prevent sticking. The hash may be put in a buttered pan [illegible].

STRAWBERRIES WILL COST MORE THIS YEAR

VANCOUVER. — British Columbia strawberries will cost more this year because of a light crop due to the late spring. Fraser valley growers report a drop of 20 to 25 per cent. in the prospective crop. Heavy rains prevented pollinization of blossoms, growers reported.

CHINESE GIRL LIVES WITH HERD OF CATTLE FOR NINE YEARS ON WATER DIET

NANKING.—The strange case of a 20-year-old Chinese girl who said she lived with a herd of cattle on water alone for nine years was reported by the newspaper Hsin Min Pao.

The newspaper said the public health director of Chungking had confirmed the report. The girl was said to have suffered no apparent ill effects.

"When she sleeps her face is covered by a crimson glow of exceeding beauty," the newspaper said.

Hsin Min Pao said the girl, a resident of Szechwan Province, went to live with the cattle nine years ago when her stepmother abused her.

BABY FALLS THREE STOREYS AND SUFFERS ONLY BRUISES

SUDBURY, Ont.—Frank Reynolds, a 21-month-old infant, fell three storeys from a window of his home in an apartment building here to the bare ground and suffered only bruises and shock. After preliminary examination a doctor said the baby, found lying on his back, had apparently sustained no serious injuries.

The pistol was invented by Caminello Vitelli, of Pistoia, Italy and derived its name from the town.

B.C. Fruit Crop Prospects Good

SUMMERLAND, B.C.—Despite adverse weather conditions fruit bloom has been so heavy there is every [illegible] this year's soft fruit crop will exceed the 1947 yield in this area, local growers and agricultural officials predict.

The season is at least two weeks later than last year, but there has been practically no frost damage. Orchards are in better condition than for many years.

The 1946 record yield of apples will be exceeded this year, it is believed. Irrigation will not be necessary until June in most orchards.

Plan Tests In Rain-Making

MEDICINE HAT, Alta.—Two federal government agencies—the National Research council and the meteorological branch of the department of transport—are going into the rain-making business. Dry ice and other inoculants will be used to stimulate rainfall.

The experiments, conducted by the R.C.A.F. under the supervision of agencies, will centre in the Medicine Hat area with the operations base at the Suffield station of the department of national defence.

Confirmation of the plans, first mentioned several months ago without any specific location, has been received by T. R. Osborne, president of the Medicine Hat chamber of commerce, from Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, president of the National Research council and [illegible], controller of meteorological services.

It is the first time in western Canada, and possibly the whole [illegible] that official experiments will have been made.

Last year in Regina Don Johnston developed a [illegible] he called the "Universcope". The machine allegedly set up an electro-magnetic field, drawing electrical power from the moon and so effected condensation of moisture in the clouds. Witnesses testified at the time that rain fell.

[illegible] "rainmaker", identified only as Hatfield, was supposed to have done "nicely" in the early 20's by charging so much an inch.

Mr. Osborne says that rainmaking "may prove the end of the rainbow for our section of the prairies."

B.C. AWARDS RECORD ROAD PAVING CONTRACT

News from the Wheat Pool

POOL RESERVE PURCHASE
The Alberta Wheat Pool has mailed cheques to a value of $[illegible], covering the purchase of Pool reserves from the estates of deceased Pool members and also from former members who attained the age of 75 years as at December 31 1947.

In recent months the Alberta Pool has also redeemed reserves to the value of $[illegible] from members who had passed their 60th birthday on December 31, 1947 and who had ceased to have any interest in grain producing land.

The total payment in redeeming all categories of reserves during the current year was $[illegible]. The reserves thus redeemed were contributed by the membership between the years 1932 and 1936.

Reserves are purchased on [illegible] cents on the dollar. They will be returned in the form of patronage dividends to patrons of Alberta Pool Elevators.

COARSE GRAINS ADJUSTMENT PAYMENT
The Alberta Wheat Pool mailed cheques totalling approximately $[illegible] to farmers who delivered oats and barley between August 1 and October 21 1947. The payment was 14½c a bushel on barley and [illegible] a bushel on oats.

From August 1 to October 21 of last year the federal government maintained ceiling prices of [illegible] a bushel for oats and [illegible] a bushel for barley basis Fort William. Farmers who delivered these grains in that period had to accept these prices. On October 21st the ceilings were removed and prices advanced sharply, creating an unfair situation to those who delivered oats and barley earlier.

This matter was discussed at the annual meeting of the Alberta Wheat Pool held last November and a decision was reached to refund excess earnings on the volume of oats and barley delivered prior to October 21st to the farmers who had made such deliveries.

Islay District Locals

On Sunday last Mrs. N. M. Coombe received many callers who were out enjoying the delightful spring day. These included Mrs. Wyndham Gould and Fred, Mr. and Mrs. James Gould, Marvin, Laura and Maurice, Mrs. Helen Parker and baby Grace of Kitscoty, Mr. and Mrs. R. Minard and daughter Joan and Miss Rose Vanpatten.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coombe now of Edmonton, motored down for the week end. Raymond was trying out his car, a recent purchase. He reports roads good and says growth in this district much in advance of Edmonton.

Mrs. N. Coombe, Ray and Evelyn were dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. Percy Colby's on Monday.

Fruit trees and berry bushes are well advanced. Blossoming shrubs are going to be covered with blooms and as it is very late now no frost is expected.

Bees that came in a swarm last year and located in the wall of the writer's building, wintered over on their own and are now very numerous and working hard amongst the pansies which have been blooming for two weeks.

Gardens and field crops are very late due to excessive moisture on the land.

The first of the summer Vesper hours was much enjoyed in Vermilion last Sunday evening. Three churches take part in the program. Visitors were in groups and in cars listening to the service over the P.A. system. Anyone having favorite hymns and wishing to hear them sung may leave their request with the Salvation Army or one of the other two churches taking part. Lets' all rally round for the messages in speaking reading and singing each Sunday evening.

Robert Martin Passes Away at Islay

Islay mourns the passing of one of its highly respected citizens, in Mr. Robert Martin, who had been in ill health for the past few months. He passed away quietly and quickly Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the Islay hospital. Mr. Martin was born in 1875 in Southern Township, County of York, Ont. He married Elizabeth Bel Green in 1902. The family came west to Saskatchewan in 1912. In 1931 they came into Alberta and to Islay in 1936 to the farm homesteaded by the late James Gilchrist. Mr. Martin had retired from farming and had been living in Islay. He was an elder of the United church many years, secretary-treasurer of the Islay Branch of the Red Cross and an ardent curler, having resigned as president of the Curling club when he became ill this past winter. He will be greatly missed in the village. He was always ready to lend a hand when help was needed.

He leaves to mourn his passing his widow, one son David and three daughters Mrs. Scott (Ruby) of Saskatoon, Mrs. Bill Hancock (Janet) of Marwayne and Miss Margaret Martin of the T. Eaton staff, Edmonton.

The funeral was Monday May 24th from Knox United church. Rev. Geo. Driver was the minister. Mr. Martin's special hymns were used in the service, the choir rendering his special hymn number 217.

Work on the land is progressing rapidly and seeding of wheat is well near completion. Due to the lateness of the season, it is expected that less wheat will be sown, but coarse grain acreage will be increased.

Gardening is also in full swing. The warm days (hot for May) are certainly good for bringing along garden stuff, though we have not heard of anyone who has much garden up yet.

Trees have leafed out within the past 3 days and the country looks very beautiful, with blue waters, green grass and trees and the wild flowers in bloom.

The first service of the season was to have been held at the Ottawa United church last Sunday, but the roads must have proved too much for the student minister, Mr Gough, as he failed to arrive. However only four turned out, due to the uncertainty of the roads being passable so it was just as well the minister did not make the trip.

Miss Spak spent the long week end at her home at Vegreville.

The Junior Red Cross under the direction of Miss Spak is holding a pie social and dance at the school on Friday June 11th, when it is hoped that a good crowd will turn out to help the children in their efforts for a very worthy cause.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Carlyle and son Vernon, all of Arme, Alta., arrived in Vermilion last Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Carlyle's brother, J. R. Thompson. The trip was made by car. They left on their return trip on Friday evening the 21st.

P. W. Thompson of Nanaimo, B.C. was also in town, having come by plane from Vancouver to Edmonton and then on by train. On his return he accompanied the Carlyles to Edmonton by car, planning to go by plane [illegible] there.

WOODVALE

The last time we wrote we were struggling through mud and wondering when we could get into the garden and the men into the field. Here, 3 weeks later, the first planted wheat is up and almost 2 inches high, most of the garden is up and four kinds of flowers are blooming where nothing was visible a few short weeks ago! Miracle of Western Canadian spring time! And believe it or not after all that snow and water some farmers are worrying about the dryness! In the meantime we are all enjoying the lovely green countryside. Last year's hailstorm however did considerable damage, killing trees and causing the shrubs to flower only on the east side.

Mr. Jack Lesome left ten days ago for Omaha, Nebraska, where his aged mother is seriously ill and not expected to live. Brooks Lesome is helping at the home place during the absence of his father.

The date of the next Red Cross meeting has been set for June 22rd at the home of Mrs. M. Watson.

The young men of the Tailand district have again taken up softball and played a game in Vermilion. With some reinforcements of a few Vermilion boys they trimmed the town team. They hoped to play them again this Sunday at Tailand but no Vermilion team arrived, so a few friendly and keen pickup games were played.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Teasdale, their triplet boys and Mrs. Cora Rankin attended a family get-together in Paradise Valley to say goodbye to Harry's sister, Mrs. James Hall of Darlington, England, who has spent a year in Canada with her parents and relations. 37 of the Teasdale family were at the gathering. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Teasdale drove their daughter to Edmonton where she was taking the TCA plane in the evening. Harry told his sister to watch for his truck lights as signals when flying near the Teasdale farm at 9:30 p.m. shortly after passing the Vermilion beacon light. Mrs. Hall was scheduled to arrive in Prestwick, Scotland on Tuesday at noon. We hear that an aunt and uncle of Harry's plan to fly to Canada from England in June, also for an extended visit.

Morris Wall caught his heel while loading gas barrels and fell backwards off the truck Tuesday morning. Joe Thompson rushed him to town, as it looked as if the thigh bone might be injured. At time of writing a few hours after the accident no word had been received as to the extent of the injury. We sincerely hope its not too bad.

The Dangers Of Soil Erosion

A PROBLEM WHICH HAS ALREADY received considerable attention in Western Canada but which remains a serious one not only here but throughout the entire world is that of soil erosion. The loss of top soil through the action of the weather, poor methods of farming and other causes has already cost this country a great deal but in spite of this we [illegible] here than are the people in some other parts of the world. In a recent address on this subject Dr. Hugh H. Bennett, chief of the United States government soil conservation service, stated that the [illegible] and throughout the world will literally starve to death [illegible] taken to prevent [illegible].

* * * * *

Shortages In Some Places

[illegible] Dr. Bennett [illegible] acres of land suitable for farming in the entire world. It has been found by experts in nutrition that [illegible] acres of land are required to provide one person [illegible] nutritional diet. The population of the world [illegible] What the situation will be one hundred years from now if the population increases at the present rate of one per cent per year and the arable land continues to decrease through erosion, is [illegible] should the land be lost. Dr. Bennett calculated [illegible] acre of farm land per person, but if top soil [illegible] at the present rate the ratio would be considerably [illegible].

* * * * *

Constant Need For Vigilance

In Japan there is now only one quarter of an acre of arable land per person, in China one half an acre and in India one third of an acre for each person. At present the situation on this continent [illegible] However, there is reason for concern. Originally [illegible] Dr. Bennett [illegible] is almost all subject to erosion, flood and windstorm. [illegible] this situation which could result in a considerable reduction [illegible] this continent the American soils expert stressed the need for comprehensive crop and soil conservation [illegible] drainage of [illegible] lands, planting of grass on steep [illegible] and other modern methods of preventative conservation. In Western Canada an extensive program of soil conservation has been under way for some time but farmers should be constantly aware for the need for [illegible] vigilance in this important work.

Wheat Rust Victory Worth $60,000,000

Plant Pathologist Recalls Loss Of $100,000,000 In 1916 Through Wheat Rust

MONTREAL.—Canada, through the advancement of scientific agriculture, [illegible] through the successful combatting of wheat stem rust, declared I. L. Conners, [illegible] president of the Quebec Society for the Protection of Plants, which held its annual meeting at Macdonald College here. He [illegible].

Mr. Conners, who is associate plant pathologist, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, said that in 1916 the Dominion suffered a $100,000,000 loss through wheat rust. A start in the breeding of rust resistant wheats was made in 1925, and the scientific research bore fruits in 1935.

Some four years later, he continued, rust resistant wheats had been widely disseminated and last year there was practically no loss from wheat rust of the type which was such a menace in 1916.

Mr. Conners said that there was a constant race between the work of the scientific agriculturists and the menace of new plant diseases, insects and always encroaching weeds. This was illustrated, he said, in a new blight on oats, first found at Ottawa and now in all provinces except Alberta. It attacked the Beacon and Garry varieties of oats. There was an urgent need to develop new varieties which were blight resistant, he added.

For the first time, declared Mr. Conners, a great chemical attack was being made against weeds. There were new effective chemicals, he said, as well as technically trained men to use them. Insects were a constant menace and were imperilling great sections of Canadian forests and agricultural areas. Constant vigilance and an increasing amount of research were needed, he warned, as well as readiness on the part of farmers to use all the aids which scientific agriculture could develop.

Pigeons In Los Angeles Smart

LOS ANGELES.—[illegible] Smith thought Los Angeles had [illegible] pigeons [illegible] from Chicago [illegible] they're pretty smart.

Smith left his hotel, went around the corner and bought some handkerchiefs. As he started across the street two pigeons started following him. They kept at his heels like bird dogs. If he stopped, they did too.

Smith reached an intersection, was halted by traffic. The pigeons circled him several times, looking up at him. People began to laugh. Smith felt absurd. He returned to his hotel. There, a bellhop explained everything.

People are forever feeding pigeons in a square near the hotel. Smith had his handkerchiefs in a little paper sack. The pigeons thought he was carrying popcorn or peanuts.

$100,000,000 To Maintain Work

OTTAWA.—Although the federal government isn't bargaining for a depression, a special branch has plans for about $100,000,000 worth of public projects ready to maintain employment [illegible].

The department of government [illegible] the Public Projects branch of the Trade and Commerce ministry, headed by C. D. Mallory, whose appointment as acting director was announced by Trade Minister Howe.

The big public projects [illegible] will not be used until normal business methods of heading off a depression appear [illegible] an official of the branch said. It is strictly a stop-gap to keep employment high he said, and will not be used until the situation appears to be getting critical.

There is no suggestion that a depression is on the way, it was pointed out. In fact, economists said that Canada seems headed for continued prosperity although there might be a business recession as time goes on. But if the rest of the world has economic troubles Canada will be ensnared. It is with this thought in mind that the huge public works program is being developed.

Although detailed plans for about $100,000,000 are in hand at present, it was pointed out that a figure about [illegible] times this amount could be called into use in the event all provinces and municipalities cooperate with the federal government.

Meanwhile the government is going ahead with its plans for [illegible] [illegible]

Offers Two Camels For Just One Girl

MONTREAL.—Next to models, perhaps the most "glamorous" group of working girls in our modern world are air line hostesses—but don't rush into that profession, ladies, until you hear this:

Just recently an air lines hostess narrowly missed being traded for a couple of camels.

The story comes from the Royal Dutch Airlines, the company that now is negotiating with the Canadian government for permission to fly into Montreal Airport. It said that one of their aircraft was carrying a venerable Sheik to Cairo when the attentiveness and looks of the hostess made quite a hit with the old Bedouin.

He was so taken, in fact, that when the aircraft landed he made the captain an offer—he'd trade two camels for possession of the girl.

The captain, whose secret ambition was to ride a camel, was sorely tempted—but finally loyalty to the company won over personal avarice and he regretfully turned down the deal.

The hostess is still flying but now gives venerable sheiks a [illegible].

Loses $75,000 Worth Of Gems Through Fake Phone Call

CLEVELAND.—A wholesale dealer in diamonds reported to police he had been tricked out of "at least $75,000" worth of gems by a telephone call.

Henry Blank, head of a Newark, N.J., firm said he left a jewel case and his topcoat at the Danford-Lowell Co. and went to lunch.

Later his partner, Felix B. Lowell, received the telephone call. The caller identified himself as Blank. He said he was sending a hotel porter to pick up the case of jewels because he had to catch a train.

"And don't forget my topcoat," said the caller.

Lowell complied. He said the voice sounded like Blank's and the reference to the topcoat cleared up any misgivings he might have had.

Better Health Services

On Friday, May 14th, the Prime Minister announced the laying of the foundation for better health services in Canada. He outlined [illegible] statement and said that Parliament would be asked to vote the money at its present session, presumably within the next month before prorogation. The grants [illegible] health [illegible] he stated [illegible]

The money will be spent [illegible] very control of tuberculosis and venereal diseases, control treatment of crippled children, research, mental health and hospital construction.

The only condition attached [illegible] that the provinces maintain at least their present expenditures on health [illegible] will be made on a per capita basis.

The specific grants [illegible] be provided [illegible]

1. The [illegible] health survey grant [illegible]

2. A grant of [illegible] per capita [illegible] to strengthen general public health services in those areas where the provincial authorities themselves must begin to organize the [illegible] succeeding years the grant will increase by [illegible] per capita finally reaching a peak at the rate of 50c per capita. These public health grants will continue from year to year with the initial outlay coming to [illegible] for a full year.

3. The Dominion Government will ask Parliament to make available to the provinces an annual grant of three million dollars rising annually over a period of years to four million annually for tuberculosis [illegible]

4. Parliament will also be asked to vote money for mental health, amounting initially to four million dollars per annum and rising over a period of years to [illegible] million [illegible]

TACKLING HER HOUSING problem with pre-fabricated homes, Great Britain is providing shelter for her homeless. This suburb, near Great Yarmouth, has more than 2,000 people living in 700 "pre-fabs". One of the biggest building ventures of its kind in the United Kingdom, Shrublands was built in 20 months. Later permanent houses will replace them.

HER GUESS PAID OFF — $30,000 WORTH—Mrs. Ward S. George of Lebanon, Ore., has a happy smile as she meets Art Linkletter at the microphone of "People Are Funny". And well she might be, for she had just won prizes amounting to $30,000 by answering a riddle. Mrs. George is the wife of a disabled veteran, and was flown to Hollywood, Calif., to participate in the show. Mrs. George was the 30th person to guess at the riddle and only she gave the correct answer "Cairo". In back is the producer, Jack Guedel.

THE KING OF TRANS-JORDAN stands, with members of his household, inspecting part of the Arab legion at the airport at Marka, near Amman, Trans-Jordan. Abdullah's statement, that he would invade Palestine, hangs heavy over the United Nations' parleys. With Abdullah, (left), is Emir Tallal, crown prince of Trans-Jordan. In the background is Emir Naif, brother of Tallal. The king is wearing the uniform of a Trans-Jordan general.

VICTIMS OF PURGE IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA—This line of workingmen Democrats, including one woman, was photographed in Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, just after all had been sentenced for alleged treason against the state. At the end of the line is Jan Ursiny, former deputy prime minister for the Slovak Democratic party, who was sentenced to seven years in prison. Next to him is his secretary, M. Obuch, accused as the chief traitor, who was given 20 years. The others drew sentences ranging from 18 to three years.

ENJOYS BRITISH FREEDOM OF SPEECH—So long as freedom of speech is enjoyed in England, Sir Oswald Mosley and his followers have the right to talk, demonstrators showed at their May Day rally in London. Police charged demonstrators and made several arrests as Sir Oswald Mosley addressed his North London rally. Here he speaks to members of his Union Movement. Police mingled with the crowd during the rally.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hillson announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Lois Marjorie, to Mr. William E. Telford, son of Mrs. J. R. Thompson. The wedding will take place on Wednesday, June 2nd at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the First United Church, Vermilion.

An open reception will be held from 4:30 o'clock p.m. to 6 p.m. at the home of the bride's parents in Vermilion.

Mrs. L. Pretty, Edmonton, arrived in town on Thursday evening to attend the funeral of her uncle, Mr. Norman McClellan. While here she was a guest of Mrs. McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Kirby of Westlock spent the holiday week end in Vermilion and attended the reception to the Governor-General and party on Tuesday. Cliff officially represented the Westlock Branch of the Canadian Legion. While in town they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lipsey.

Mrs. P. J. Richardson and daughters Mary Jane and Mrs. Melvin May motored to Olds for the holiday week end where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Geoff Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Pilkie had the latter's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. King and daughter Anne as guests over the long week end.

Miss Joyce Tubb spent several days during the week with her sister Mrs. Leonard Clovette in Vermilion. Miss Tubb's home is at North Battleford but she is training for a nurse at Vancouver and is now on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou McCulloch flew from Edmonton on Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Welsh for Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Gandier of Edmonton left Sunday for Toronto. Mrs. Gandier will attend the Canadian Council of the Girl Guides Association being held next week. Mr. and Mrs. Gandier are former Vermilion people.

Mrs. J. D. Adam and twin daughters Irene and Eleanor spent last Saturday in Edmonton.

Allen Ronaghan of the high school teaching staff at Tofield spent the holiday week end visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ronaghan of Islay.

Joan Webb of Tofield was a holiday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Soley.

Frank English of Edmonton was in town on Sunday visiting his father Mr. Wm. English and his mother who is a patient in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wilson attended the celebrations here in connection with the visit of the Governor-General on Tuesday. Their home is now in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Long left Wednesday morning for Victoria, B.C. where they will visit their daughter Mrs. Morgan and family for the next few weeks.

W.A. TO CANADIAN LEGION

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A. to Canadian Legion will be held at the Legion hall on Monday May 31.

Kitscoty Honors Provincial Music Festival Winners

FOUR GIRLS MAKE SPLENDID RECORD

A very warm welcome was given four young Kitscoty musicians and their teacher, Mrs. Harry Batty, Sunday evening, when they arrived home after a week of participating in the Provincial Musical Festival held in Calgary. The Mayor, council, citizens and the local brass band, playing selections, showed their appreciation of the honor brought to the village by turning out "en masse". After congratulations all round, the open-air ceremony concluded with the stirring singing of "Abide With Me" accompanied by the band.

The four girls who won such honors are Elaine Batty, 17 years, Betty Gray, 16, Patsy Miller, 15 and Sheila McCorry, 13.

Out of 11 entries, 6 firsts, 2 seconds and 2 thirds were won, the lowest mark obtained by any of the four girls being 81. Probably, the greatest thrill of an exciting week was when both first and second places out of 19 entries in the soprano 14 and under class were won by the local girls, Patsy receiving 88 and 88 total 176 and Sheila 87 and 87 total 174.

Patsy was also winner of the dramatic soprano class open to all ages, the adjudicator, Dr. Slater of Lincoln, England remarking that she revealed a fine command of glorious tone.

Elaine came in for her share of praise from the adjudicator with the singing of "Dido's Lament" by Purcell, in the Mezzo Soprano class, no age limit. To quote Dr. Slater, "This was real Purcell feeling and interpretation, and placed the rendition in a class entirely by itself."

Betty was one of two competitors in a class of 7 who gave Dr. Slater the greatest pleasure by her interpretation of "Like to a Damask Rose" by Elgar, the other competitor winning the same honor being Elaine.

Of Sheila who, although only 13, came second in the soprano 14 and under class, Dr. Slater remarked that she had a charming voice and gave a most interesting and enjoyable interpretation.

The complete results are as follows:

Soprano (14 and under) 19 competitors: 1st, Patsy Miller, 88 and 88, total 176; 2, Sheila McCorry, 87 and 87, total 174.

Dramatic Soprano: 1, Patsy Miller, 85 and 86, total 171.

Soprano (14 and under): 2, (tied) Sheila McCorry, 82.

Mezzo Soprano (18 and under): 3, Elaine Batty 81 and 88, total 169; 6, Betty Gray, 81 and 84, total 165.

Mezzo Soprano (no age limit): 1, Elaine Batty 88 and 87, total 175.

Oratorio Class: Patsy Miller 85; Elaine Batty 81.

Ladies' Trio: 1, Patsy, Betty, Elaine, 81.

Girls' Trio: 1, Sheila, Betty, Elaine, 82.

Soprano and Contralto Duet: 1, Patsy and Elaine.

Girls' Duet: (12 entries)—2, tied, Sheila and Patsy 84.

Ladies' Quartet: 2, Sheila, Patsy, Betty, Elaine, 81.

IN MEMORIAM

L-Sgt. Tye Feenstra

In loving memory of a close friend who gave his life in Italy, May 21st, 1944.

His smiling face and pleasant way,
Are a pleasure to recall,
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Someday we hope to meet him
Someday, we know not when
To clasp his hand in the better land
Never to part again.

Patrick Boyle, Clandonald, Killed In Tractor Accident

Patrick Boyle, aged 66 years, farmer of the Clandonald district, died in the Vermilion hospital early Wednesday afternoon from injuries suffered the previous day when he was partly run over by a steel-wheeled tractor. He was rushed to the hospital here where emergency operations were performed in a desperate fight for his life, all three doctors devoting their efforts to aid the grievously injured man.

Mr. Boyle had farmed in the Clandonald district for 22 years, having settled there direct from Ireland. At the time of the accident he was helping a neighbor to extricate the latter's tractor from a mud hole. He was shoving a pole under one of the tractor wheels when the machine suddenly secured traction and jumped forward running over Mr. Boyle's leg and side.

Funeral services will be held at the Roman Catholic church, Clandonald, Friday morning June 4th.

The sympathy of their many friends is extended to the widow and family in their sudden and sad bereavement.

100 Vermilion Students At School Track Meet

Over 100 young people from the Vermilion town schools will compete at the school division track meet which is being held at Kitscoty Friday June 4th. The students, accompanied by teachers, leave early Friday morning for the full day's events.

District Students Win Scholarships

Miss Mary Louise Knoll a graduate of the Vermilion high school and Gordon Hodgson of Dewberry have both received scholarships awarded by the National Research Council for 1948-49. The council granted 160 scholarships valued from $450 to $1,000 each.

Miss Knoll graduated from the Vermilion high school and then from the University of Alberta in 1946 with the degree of B.Sc. in Arts.

Mr. Hodgson is a graduate of the Dewberry schools. He graduated from the U. of A. in 1946 in Arts and 2nd class honors in chemistry. At 1947 convocation he received his Master's Degree in Science.

SCHOOL FESTIVAL AT KITSCOTY

12 ROOMS TAKE PART IN MUSICAL EVENT

The eighth annual school festival of the Kitscoty-Islay Sub-Local of the A.T.A. was held in Kitscoty on Friday, May 14th. 13 rooms took part in this event which is strictly non-competitive. The classes included vocal chorus work, choral speech, part singing, folk dances, action songs, rhythm bands, plays and physical training display. Despite rainy weather many people heard with interest the results of a good deal of work on the part of the teachers and pupils of the schools concerned.

The adjudicators this year were Miss Mamie Simpson from the University of Alberta and Mr. Wm. Elford, from Vermilion. Both these people had acted in similar capacities at this festival before and both expressed the opinion that much improvement was shown.

In the evening a representative program was offered to a large crowd, of items from all the schools which had taken part. These received a warm reception. It is a source of much satisfaction to those in charge to feel that the festival is appreciated by the communities whose students took part.

CLANDONALD

It has been decided by the Clandonald Affairs Society that the booths in connection with Clandonald Sports on June 9th will be operated with all proceeds for the benefit of the Clandonald curling rink. All housewives are kindly asked to donate pies and cakes, their help in the booths will also be appreciated. An odd quart of cream would also be thankfully received.

Ladies of Legion Auxiliary Meet Lady Alexander

Following the ceremony at the Cenotaph on the occasion of the visit to Vermilion last Tuesday, May 25, Their Excellencies were driven to the new Legion hall.

Inside, the hall was a colorful scene, beautifully decorated with flags and flowers. Especially for her Excellency and party, one corner was artistically banked with wild cherry blossoms and baskets of graceful snap dragons. Here more than seventy ladies were presented to Lady Alexander by Mrs. H. J. Clarke, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Canadian Legion. The ladies presented to Her Excellency included service women of both wars, wives and mothers who had lost husband or sons overseas, and members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion.

Lady Alexander expressed her sincere sympathy to those bereaved by the war; had a special greeting for the three members of the Legion W.A. who were over 80 years of age, Mrs. Jas. Cavil, Mrs. Fred Firth and Mrs. Ernest Corson; conveyed her congratulations to Mrs. J. R. Robson, a member of the Legion and the only O.B.E. in Vermilion.

Her Excellency expressed pleasure for the opportunity afforded to meet the ladies, and was keenly interested in the work of the auxiliary. She was highly delighted with the bright spacious appearance of the new building, the beauty of the flowers, and in her own charming gracious manner wished the Legion ladies every success in the future.

Large Basement Excavated For United Church

IS A $12,000.00 PROJECT

The United Church building committee have now commenced work on their renovation project which will result in spacious quarters for Sunday school and hall purposes being located in the new basement.

Plans call for an excavation the full size of the present church building 40 by 75 feet with a 13-foot clearance. Of the 13 feet 9 are below the surface and 4 above thus giving plenty of natural light and ventilation.

Excavation and foundation will be completed and then the big church building will be jacked up and moved over the basement. Estimate of the cost is placed at $12,000.

Excavating is being done by W. B. Ellis; installation of foundation and carpentering by C. P. Lipsey; moving of the building by Fish Moving Co.

Clandonald Student Graduates in Pharmacy

Wilfred A. Etherington, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Etherington of Clandonald, is a recent graduate in Pharmacy of the University of Alberta and has joined the staff of Mitchell's Drug store, Edmonton. Wilfred is a graduate of the Elk Point high school.

Lady Howard Vyse, one of the distinguished visitors present from England, asked to meet the war brides and other ladies from England. She was greatly interested in western Canada.

Memorable Ceremony Marks Official Opening of Scout Hall

DEPUTY PROVINCIAL SCOUT COMMISSIONER HUGH OFFICIATES

A quiet memorable ceremony, eminently suitable for the occasion marked the official opening of the new Scout hall in Vermilion Sunday afternoon May 23. Officiating at the opening were Billie Pilkie, chairman of the scout committee in charge of the event, Mayor Morrison, who welcomed the provincial scout officials present, Deputy Provincial Scout Commissioner Ross Hugh of Camrose, Harry Holloway of Edmonton, Executive Commissioner, Henry Powell, Exalted Ruler of the Vermilion Elks which organization built the new hall for the scouts and allied youth bodies.

In welcoming the visitors Mayor Morrison outlined the ups and downs of scouting in Vermilion and prophesied a happy future now that the organization, for the first time in the history of the town, had a home of its own. The mayor then introduced Mr. Ross Hugh of Camrose, who addressed the meeting in part as follows: "Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, Cubs and Scouts, I am pleased to bring to all of you the best wishes of the Provincial Council of the Boy Scouts Association for the Province of Alberta, and to express to all the members of the Vermilion Elks Lodge, our sincere appreciation for the splendid work they are doing amongst the youth of your town, and in particular to express our thanks to the Elks of Vermilion for the magnificent hall which they, through their individual effort in time and money have made available to the Boy Scouts of Vermilion. The Vermilion Elks are maintaining a tradition of their Lodges throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion of Canada and in the United States as well by making their activities centre around the youth of their communities. This is highly commendable, in fact they could not put their services to better use. The Vermilion Troop of Boy Scouts, whose activities were in common with many other troops seriously curtailed during war years, has had in years past an enviable record for service in this community, a record that stands high in scouting in Alberta. Our Provincial records of the Vermilion troop indicate that your earliest leaders were men of excellent standards and set a high example to the youth of that day, not alone in development of citizenship but in instructing the boys in "Being Prepared" under all circumstances. You will recall that in 1932 several members of the Vermilion Scout troop were instrumental in rescuing Clyde Brown who had fallen into a deep pool in the Vermilion river, and for this heroic rescue the Silver Cross, which is the second highest award possible for gallantry with considerable risk, was awarded to Scout William Stepanuik while three other scouts Robert Brown, Perrell Parsons and Geoffrey Brimacombe received Letters of Commendation. I merely mention this in order to point out to the scouts of the troop the enviable record the Vermilion Troop enjoys among the troops of Alberta."

Mr. Harry Holloway, scout executive commissioner for the province, then performed a very kind and heart warming act. He stated that scouts have many kinds of badges, but there is one outstanding badge which scouts present for outstanding kindness and [illegible] received. Thus it gave him great pleasure to present to the Elks Lodge of Vermilion the Scouts Thanks badge or plaque.

This interesting and handsome plaque was received by Henry Powell, Exalted Ruler of the Vermilion [illegible]. In his brief reply Mr. Powell stated that [illegible] to accept on behalf of the B.P.O.E. of Canada and Newfoundland, Vermilion Lodge No. 121, this plaque presented by the Vermilion Boy Scouts Association. "There is no finer organization that we could support than the Boy Scouts and Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies, for this is in keeping with the name of our organization, Benevolent in part but also Protective that in the building up of a world-wide youth organization we are protecting our future, for these same young people are our citizens of tomorrow," said Mr. Powell. "This plaque will always occupy a prominent place in our own Elks hall as a reminder to the public that support our activities that the Elks [illegible] merely keeping their money in trust and using it to benefit the community. The credit for this hall must go to the scout hall committee of our Elks lodge, who put much time and work into the planning and organization required. We wish to thank the general public for the support given us in this project and for the many hours of work donated. It is hoped that the scouts will always look upon this building as their home and that the scout organization will flourish in [illegible] future. If the organization continues to be a success we will be amply repaid for anything that we may have done."

Following Mr. Powell's remarks the chairman, Mr. Pilkie [illegible] Cubmaster [illegible] Grabb for the training and time they have given to our boys. This is a great service which these men are rendering to the youth of Vermilion."

The Scouts and Cubs, who had previously been given a detailed inspection by Mr. Hugh, then fell in on each side of the Scout hall door while Mr. Hugh cut the ribbons and declared the hall officially opened.

A happy hour was then spent by Cubs, Scouts, parents and friends in inspecting the new hall and visiting.

This hall was built by the local Elks last fall at a cost of $[illegible]. Stucco and other finishing work was recently completed. The hall is a great contribution to the boys and girls, and the sincere thanks of Vermilion people are proffered the Elks, a truly great service organization.

The Provincial Scout officials Mr. Hugh, Mr. Holloway and Mr. [illegible] who were staying until the Governor-General's visit, took the Scouts and Cubs for a hike and swim on Monday May 24th. Needless to say this was well attended and greatly enjoyed.

Town May Engage Pool Supervisor

There is a distinct possibility that a supervisor and swimming instructor will be engaged for the Vermilion swimming pool this summer. Inquiries are already being made in Edmonton as to the availability of a suitable man for this work. Such was the result of the public meeting called by the Vermilion Amateur Athletic Association last Monday evening.

It was decided to form a central committee under the chairmanship of J. R. Boake with representatives invited from the Elks, Board of Trade and Council. J. J. Part was appointed secretary. The Board of Trade subsequently appointed R. M. Stewart and the Council K. G. Urquhart as their representatives.

Duties of the supervisor would be to act as a life guard, a distinct safety measure very necessary this year, maintain orderliness and discipline, keep the pool and its surroundings clean. He would be able to give swimming lessons during the morning or at times when attendance at the pool was small.

The number at the meeting was surprisingly low in view of the fact that the swimming pool is used by hundreds of children and adults every day. It can be presumed that the great majority still prefer to sit back and criticize while the few attempt to make Vermilion the town everyone wants it to be.

Elks Offer Scholarships High School Students

The Vermilion Elks are offering two $25 scholarships to Vermilion high school students this year. One of these will be awarded to the grade 9 student making the highest average in the grade 9 departmental examinations. The second award will go to the grade 12 student trying at least 27 units who makes the highest average in the grade 12 exams.

High School Splits Ball Doubleheader

The high school boys' baseball team came out on the short end of a 16-8 score against Mannville high school nine on Wednesday evening. For Vermilion Eddie Cheslak, Bill Koroluk and Jack Currah each took a turn at pitching. Frank Tulodzieski as the catcher, Bob Reid 1st base, Hugh Swanson, Leon Perrault, Johnny Klebanowski and Andrew Johnson completed the line up. With a little practice the boys may improve enough to make a better showing at Kitscoty on June 4th at the Divisional Track meet.

GIRLS WIN

The high school girls' team fared better than the boys, winning over Mannville girls 11-10. Pitching for Vermilion were Kay Caron and Mildred Ahlstrom. Audrey Watt, Ruth Purser, Yvonne Patenaude, Ivy Chapman, Louise Stone, Dorothy Dalke, [illegible] Dorothy Hannah, Rena Pologaat, Wanda Fry completed the line-up.

Mayor Morrison And Brothers To Hold Re-union

Mayor J. W. Morrison had as his guests his brother [illegible] Morrison and wife of Sydney, Nova Scotia. [illegible] Toronto last week. At the [illegible] Dominion [illegible] the Banff [illegible] the Professional Engineers meeting there June 1st to 5th. They then return to Calgary where a reunion of the four Morrison brothers will take place. The Rev. John Norman Morrison is expected from Fort Wayne Indiana. The reunion will be held at the home of the fourth brother, Mr. Archy Morrison in Calgary.

After a residence of 29 years in Vermilion Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reid left Monday afternoon for their new home at Hay Lakes Alberta, located near Camrose. Mr. Reid has been appointed station agent there. The Reids were widely feted prior to leaving and their host of friends here are sorry to see them leave. Their fine residence in the west end was purchased by Wm. [illegible]

Chas. E. Thompson Resigns from School Division Board

CHAIRMAN SINCE FORMATION IN 1939 — PLANS TRIP EAST

Charles E. Thompson of Clandonald, trustee for subdivision No. 5 of the large Vermilion School Division and chairman since its formation in 1939, tendered his resignation at the last meeting of the Board. Mr Thompson recently sold out his farming interests and plans a trip to Eastern Canada.

A meeting for the purpose of receiving nominations to fill the vacancy on the school board will be held on June 12th at the senior school in Clandonald at 2 p.m.

D. C. McGrath New Chairman

D. C. McGrath of Tolland was appointed chairman of the Board for the ensuing 90 days and Jas. B. Adam the vice-chairman.

V.A.A.A. To Organize Civic Baseball League

Attempts are now being made by the Vermilion Amateur Athletic Association to organize a civic baseball league along the same lines as the hockey league of last winter. Present plans which are still in the formulative stage are to have two country teams, one from north of town and one from the south and two town teams in the league. Meetings will be held to iron out the details and draft a schedule.

Dewberry Calf Wins Grand Championship

AT LLOYD. SPRING STOCK SHOW

Edna Thompson, a member of the Dewberry Calf club, showed the best calf at the Lloydminster and district show and sale held Tuesday last week. The animal was a Shorthorn and brought the highest price of the sale, 33c per pound paid by Burns, to net the tidy sum of $373.26.

One hundred and seventy-four calves were sold at the sale with Edna's prize-winner topping them all.

Several Dewberry stock raisers were also among the prize winners and more details will be given next week.

School Track Meet Held at Mannville

The Mannville-Minburn sub-local track meet was held at the Mannville Sports grounds on Friday May 28th. Fine weather greatly facilitated proceedings and made possible a good representation from rural schools. Individual events included dashes, high and running broad jumps and hop-step and jump. The first and second contestant in each class will compete in the Divisional track meet to be held in Vegreville on Saturday June 5th.

Rural schools entering the meet included Bloomington, Bowling Green, Buffalo Coulee, Chevelly, Creighton, Hughes, Ledwid, Greatsmen and Tankerton. The rural football competition was won by Buffalo Coulee. Bowling Green won the relay race open to one-roomed schools.

In intermediate football honors were evenly divided between Mannville and Minburn, with the Minburn boys' team and the Mannville girls' team coming out the winners.

In the evening both the Mannville High school girls' football team and boys' baseball team played an exhibition game with corresponding teams from Vermilion high school. Apparently the activities of the day had agreed with the Mannville students as both teams were victorious.

Sparkling Three-Act Comedy at Elk Point

PRESENTED BY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Members of the Elk Point High School Drama society presented a sparkling three-act comedy entitled "A Case of Springtime" here this week. This play, which was produced by special arrangement with the Dramatic Publishing Company of Chicago, was about the hilarious but sympathetic troubles of a high school senior when he "falls" for the daughter of the high school principal. In an effort to impress her, he performs several magic tricks, which all go wrong. As a result, he finds himself in difficulty with the police department. It all turns out right in the end and Dub becomes the real hero of the play. The cast were as follows: Dub—Vern Rahem; Betty Lillian Miller; Dickie—Peter Shankowski; Mr. Parker—Eugene Dembicki; Mrs Parker—Gertrude Koch; Louella—Margaret Yaryna; Gwen—Virginia Arnold; Jane—Joyce Millhollend; Eddie—John Yaryna; Principal—Larry Belland; P.T.A. Ladies—Andrew Borutski and Ignit Stetsko; the policeman—Victor Cline; Miss Bright—Doreen Linquist.

Those responsible for the play, behind the scenes, were: Stage manager—Leslie Young; Stage crew—Andrew Borutski, John Yaryna; Properties—Peter Shankowski and Larry Belland; Lighting—Eugene Dembicki and Ignit Stetsko; Costuming—Virginia Arnold, Margaret Yaryna, Lillian Miller and Gertrude Koch; sound Effects—John Yaryna and Ignit Stetsko; Make-up—Victor Cline, Vern Rahem and Joyce Millhollend. The play was directed by J. V. Jacobson.

ETHELWYN NEWS

Last Sunday several people gathered at the school to erect the teeter totters and to put up a back-stop for the ball diamond. Following the completion of the work the ladies served lunch and the young people played ball. Why don't we turn out again with lunch when the young folks play ball.

The district was shocked at the sudden passing of the Rev. Wm. Brant. He was truly a great man who will be sorely missed by all who knew him. Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs Brant and the family.

Several from this district took time off on May 24th to see Their Excellencies Viscount and Lady Alexander. It was a day that will be long remembered by all who met this gracious couple. The writer is quite sure that all farmers present enjoyed seeing the Vice-Regal party drive along the race-track behind the big four-horse team. The committee in charge are to be congratulated and have reason to be proud of the honor paid to Vermilion and district.

It [illegible] that such a grand day ended in tragedy when the two young men were killed when their light plane crashed.

The police did a grand job in Vermilion on the 24th in keeping the traffic in order. Thought for awhile that you were getting a ticket Elsie but found that the Red Coats were helping a lady in distress. Grand boys they are.

The writer understands that Dewberry has an opening for a bank. To anyone interested this is a very prosperous farming district.

95% Wheat Seeded

By Wednesday night this week it was estimated by the Searle Grain that 95% of the wheat had been seeded in this district. 70% of the oats and 40% of the barley were also in. There has been no break in the seeding since it commenced and wonderful progress has been made by farmers. Considerable round the clock work has been done. Surface moisture is badly needed to aid germination. Early seeded grains are doing well. Weed growth is heavy.

NO RAIN IN SIGHT . . .

Weather continues warm and dry with no rain in sight for Friday. High for the week was 75.5 on Tuesday June 1st and low point 32.0 last Friday night.

RIVERTON

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Needham on the birth of a daughter, Rose Marie.

Graham Hanson and Kurt Enkerlune attended the graduating classes at Camrose last week. Congratulations Kurt on your good standing at Queen's University.

Track meet winners were: Joan Parr, 2nd in high jump; Lorne Timanson 1st in standing broad jump, third in racing, third in high jump; Lawrence Durnin, third in racing.

Mrs. Bower of Edmonton has been visiting with her sister Mrs. Spicer.

Seeding operations are still in full swing. This week will finish up a lot of spring work.

STAGETTE NOTES

Tuesday June 1st was a regular Stagette meeting night—or should I say not a regular meeting night as our term closes the end of May. Anyway, we had one and there were 13 members present.

There was no regular meeting last Tuesday—because of the big dance the meeting was held Thursday, too late for our notes to be published. The three members returned from the district convention at Lethbridge. The three being new members were not much impressed with the convention and Dot McCormick did the honors by bringing home the cup for the best individual performance.

Now turning to our sale of work and tea to be held June 12th, 2:30 to 6:00 p.m. at the Masonic hall, all members are to bring dishes to complete one table. We will go to the hall on Friday the 11th at 8 p.m. to set tables and to decorate the hall. Any big hearted mother who would like to adopt a Stagette as a daughter and help her out by donating cake or some cookies it would be greatly appreciated.

Next Tuesday evening there will be a banquet and theatre party. Girls will be notified as to the location of the banquet.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Mr. Rohan Sees The Light

By BYRON J. BERNSTOCK

ROD COOPER tucked his empty right sleeve back into his pocket, and glanced apprehensively at the brass numbers above the door. Twelve-zero-four, the letter in answer to his application had said. This was it, the imposing residence of Joseph Rohan, the almost legendary head of Inter-American Steel, one of the greatest steel mills in the country.

He squared his shoulders, swept an unruly strand of hair back into place, and pressed the bell. His lean, sensitive face was tense, a worried look in his dark eyes. The door opened, and a maid looked at him questioningly.

"My name is Cooper," he said. "Mr. Rohan is expecting me."

"Will you come in, please?" she replied, staring at his empty sleeve.

He flushed angrily, and stepped into the hall.

"You may wait here, sir," she said. "I'll see if Mr. Rohan is busy." She disappeared through a door at the opposite end of the hall. "Go right in, sir," she said quietly, when she returned. "Mr. Rohan will see you now."

Rod stepped through the carved oak door, into a large, well-appointed study. The walls were panelled in dark oak, with row upon row of heavy books in shelves running half way to the high ceiling. A deep Persian rug muffled his steps. The partially drawn blinds reduced the study to semi-darkness.

"Step right over here, Mr. Cooper," came a mild, clear voice from the man in a chair in the corner. "Sit down, and we'll talk business."

As Rod approached the deep leather chair, a sharp bark stopped him. A large, handsome dog was stretched out in front of him, eyeing him suspiciously. He skirted the animal, and sank into the chair.

"Don't mind Champ," Rohan said. "He's suspicious of everybody. We're very attached to each other." He laughed good naturedly. "He never leaves my side for a minute. Why, he even goes to the plant with me." He paused a moment.

"I guess you think it's strange to call you here for this interview, Mr. Cooper. But it's not my usual custom," he continued. "I'm recovering from a rather nasty cold, and won't be able to get back to the offices at the plant for another few days. You see," he added, "I like to take a personal interest in hiring the employees of Inter-American."

He leaned back in his chair, holding his spectacles, a wiry man with a full, ruddy face, and thin grey hair. His faded blue eyes darted past Rod, and fastened on the wall.

"Tell me son, how was it over there?" he asked. "I see from your letter of application you were in the Pacific. Pretty rough, I suppose?"

Rod laughed, a harsh, guttural sound in the quiet room. "Yes, Mr. Rohan, it was pretty rough. Nothing I would recommend for the kiddies."

"Oh yes, sorry, Rod." He paused uncomfortably, and after a moment, continued. "Hope you don't mind if I call you Rod?" He raised his eyebrows questioningly.

"No, sir. That's quite all right."

"Well, then, suppose we get down to business," the old man continued. "I see you worked for the Grey Company for four years. Why didn't you go back to your old job?"

"They went out of business, sir. That lets me out, I'm afraid."

"How were you doing there, son?" Rohan asked, his eyes shifting back to Rod, and then down to the desk. "What position did you hold?"

"Well, sir, I started as a junior accountant," Rod answered, "and rose to assistant to the head of the department by the time I entered the service."

"Hmmm," murmured the old man, "that's travelling quite a distance in three—no, four years, wasn't it? Of course," he continued rapidly, "I don't think you'll advance as quickly in our organization. We're rather large, you know. But I think you know we don't hesitate to reward good work." He paused, and toyed with the letter on his desk.

"There's one thing that makes me hesitate, Rod," he continued, somewhat hesitantly. "You say in your letter of application that you lost an arm in the service. Were you right or left handed, son?"

Cold beads of sweat popped out on Rod's forehead. It was the same question they all asked. How many personnel managers had he seen? A dozen? More? He could still see the looks in their eyes as they shook their heads. "We'll keep you in mind if there's an opening," they would say, as they coughed politely.

Couldn't they realize that it was more than just a job to him? More than just getting back into the routine? He felt, deep inside him, that it was his Holy Grail. Its capture would signify that he was not a useless hulk of a man, a burden on the community; an object of pity from which people averted their eyes.

No, they never put it into words, those personnel men. "Not enough experience, Mr. Cooper." No, not enough experience, as they turned their eyes from that empty sleeve.

Suddenly a new thought flashed on him. He would tell Rohan that he had been left handed. He would tell him that his ability hadn't been impaired. The old man would never know the difference, after the practice he got in the hospital. His left hand was almost as good as his right had been. Besides, the industrialist would no doubt forget about him, once he had been hired.

He opened his mouth to speak, but a tight fist grasped his vocal cords. His forehead glistened with perspiration, as he hesitated. That wasn't the way, he thought. It was only a substitute. A lie, which would be constantly eating at his self-respect, and would never give him peace.

"I was right handed, Mr. Rohan," he said in resignation. "I lost my right arm, sir," he said, suddenly pleading. "All I need is a chance to show you. I'm not perfect yet, but I can keep accounts fairly legibly, writing left handed." He paused, watching the old man. Rohan's face remained impassive. He fumbled with the letter, and rubbed his hand over his chin.

The same as all the rest, Rod thought. They won't even look directly at me. Probably thinking of the easiest way to say it. He laughed bitterly to himself.

The old man looked up suddenly. "Mr. Cooper," he stated, "suppose you report for work on Monday."

Rod leaned forward, his eyes wide, as the words crashed home to him. "You mean I'm . . . I'm hired?" His voice lifted eagerly. "I don't know how to thank you, I . . . I . . ."

"You don't have to thank me, son," the industrialist laughed. "I know you'll do well at the job." He smiled. "Reminds me," he said reminiscently, "of the time I asked for a chance, some twenty-five years ago."

He called to the dog, and when the animal approached, he bent over and ran his hand over its body, until he touched the heavy harness.

"Come on, Champ," he said. "Let's show Rod to the door."

Saskatoon Bids For Skate Races

MONTREAL. — Chaplain Provencher, honorary secretary treasurer of the Amateur Skating Association of Canada, said he had learned that Saskatoon intends to make a bid for the 1949 Canadian amateur ice speed skating championships.

If the A.S.A.C. sanctions Saskatoon's bid at the annual meeting in Montreal Nov. 20 it would be the first time since the association's foundation in 1887 that such a meet was awarded western Canada.

CANADIAN BULL WINS

At the Royal Easter Show of the Agricultural Society of New South Wales the Jersey bull championship was won by the former Canadian bull Bellavista Samaritan Royal. This bull was purchased by the New South Wales Buying Delegation at Milner, B.C., during the winter of 1947.

OUR WESTERN TOWNS

RADVILLE

SASKATCHEWAN

A Beauty Spot Of The South Country

THE town of Radville, situated 84 miles south and east of Regina, is often referred to as "a friendly little town in the south country". It has nice wide streets and avenues, all gravelled and maintained regularly; even the back lanes are gravelled as well. Shade trees, most of them set out some 16 years ago, line all streets and avenues in the residential section, giving a home-like and permanent appearance to the town as well as providing cool shade from the summer sun. On Main street, a block from the business section, is Coronation Park, well treed and provided with seats.

At least 90 per cent. of the homes are owned by the people living in them, and the majority take a degree of pride in their property and home surroundings. Hedges, trees and flower gardens are a prominent part of the summer scene. While Radville has as yet no organized horticultural society, one has already been talked of. Flower-lovers of the town regularly win prizes at the Weyburn and Regina shows.

With its three general stores, two hardwares, a large hotel, two restaurants, drug store, bank, newspaper and printing plant, tailor shop, theatre, locker plant, two lumber yards, machine shop, garages, implement agencies, dentist, doctor, lawyer, jewelers, etc., Radville is the business and trading centre for a large area. Farm folk and people from the smaller hamlets come to Radville from as far south as the international boundary, a distance of 30 miles.

The town has two schools; the Radville public and high school, and the Sisters of St. Louis Academy where many students from the district board-in for the school term. The office of Radville Larger School Unit No. 3 is also located here. Religious well-being of the town's citizens is also well taken care of by the Roman Catholic, United and Anglican churches, the Church of Christ and the Full Gospel Mission.

Radville is a divisional point on the Canadian National Railways, and a goodly portion of its citizens earn their livelihood as railway employees in the roundhouse, shops, on train crews etc. A two-man R.C.M.P. detachment is located here. The local Canadian Legion branch has recently completed a fine little hall on Main street, the work being done mostly by volunteer labor and the building is free of debt. Another prominent building is the Memorial hall, which is regularly used for public meetings, dances, Wheat Pool and teachers' annual conventions, etc.

The town has a temporary six-bed hospital operated by the Sisters of St. Joseph with headquarters at Pembroke, Ont. This was established in 1946 to serve the needs of town and district until the new twenty-bed hospital can be completed. Good progress has been made on the new building since last summer, and it is hoped to have the hospital opened within the next few months.

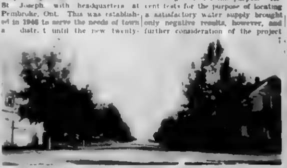
Town officials have been considering the installation of a water and sewer system, and a survey was made and plans drawn by government engineers for this purpose. Recent tests for the purpose of locating a satisfactory water supply brought only negative results, however, and further consideration of the project is left in abeyance for the time being.

The district surrounding Radville is excellent wheat country when favored by average rainfall, yields as high as 40 to 50 bushels to the acre being not uncommon. Stock-raising is also an important part of the agricultural scene. A Dominion experimental sub-station is situated two miles north of the town. Riverside Gardens, near town, is somewhat of a show-place, and was considered of sufficient interest and beauty to be photographed by National Film Board men in 1946.

NOTE: Other publishers of small town papers are invited to contribute to this column by sending copy and pictures to the Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 1410 Scarth Street, Regina, Sask.

O. D. STITT
Publisher of The South Saskatchewan Star

Radville's newspaper, presently known as The South Saskatchewan Star, was started in July, 1911, as The Radville News by the Comstock Brothers, Jack and Tom. A couple of years later it was taken over by David Bradley who continued as owner and publisher until 1923. In that year W. H. Schierholtz bought the business from Mr. Bradley, enlarged the building, improved the plant and changed the name of the paper to The South Saskatchewan Star. In 1928 Mr. Schierholtz sold the paper to O. D. Stitt who has continued as publisher since that time. The Star is looked upon as the home paper for a large area in southern Saskatchewan serving the districts of Tribune, Khedive, Forward, Hardy, Ceylon, Brooking, Minton, Lake Alma, extending from Highway 13 south to the international boundary.



The above picture is one of Radville's beautiful well treed streets, the result of plantings some 16 years ago.

The above is the architect's drawing of Radville's new modern 30-bed hospital now well on the way to completion. 2770

Dewberry News

Where is Dewberry? Geographically it is half mile east of a very nasty impassable, unnecessary mud hole. Exports and imports to this city have been using a 2-mile detour for a long time now. The logical part of it all is that the A.M.A. sign 1 mile west which says 'Dewberry' is pointing almost directly to the pearly gates, or to those who have little hopes of reaching there, straight up — it may just as well point down. Now there may be only a nail loose in the signpost, but methinks there is also a screw loose somewhere else. Something like boiling the oat, not much of a job but no one will do it, to fix this mud hole.

Dewberry sports will be held June 23rd. Posters will be out shortly. The local ball club is out practising every Sunday now.

Hats off to the local farm ladies. More and more do we see them getting into town early on [illegible]. An evening of recreation is well deserving to them at least once a week. Statistics show that a good farm wife is $30,000 in a lifetime of farm life to her husband.

[illegible] took six of his young Hereford bulls to the bull sale at Lloydminster. For all the boys and girls in the calf club May 24th saw an end to some of their very faithful chores in caring for their calves. We hope to give you a report of the winners next week.

Due to the Islay road being under river water still, and the Clandonald road blocked also, the schools in Dewberry did not close on Gov.-General's day in Vermilion. It was planned that three busses would transport the school pupils but the long detour necessary through Marwayne to Kitscoty to Vermilion was thought just too far. The Clandonald road was made passable too late to make arrangements.

Don't forget the Dewberry sports on Wednesday June 23rd.

Keep that Sub. right up to date.

OBITUARY

NORMAN McCLELLAN

Funeral services for the late Norman McClellan who passed away Tuesday May 18th were held on Friday afternoon May 21st at 2 o'clock. Interment was in the Vermilion cemetery. The pall bearers, representing the Masonic lodge and the Vermilion Municipal Hospital board, were C. E. Thompson, H R. Parker, J C. Tucker, J. T. Fyfe, W. R. Jory and E. Corley.

Mr McClellan was born at Alton, Ontario on January 6, 1872. He spent his boyhood and early years of manhood in Ontario coming to the Vermilion district 42 years ago when he settled eight miles east of town. He proved a great community worker and served on many municipal governing bodies including school board, municipal council, hospital board, agricultural society. At the time of his death he was president of the Vermilion Agricultural society, vice president of the Associated Hospitals of Alberta, and vice president of the Western Canada Fairs Association B circuit. [illegible] record of service to his community is seldom equalled.

Two years ago he retired from active farming and he and Mrs. McClellan moved into Vermilion.

Left to mourn his loss are his loving wife, one daughter Mrs. Lloyd McEachern of Vancouver, one sister Mrs Charlotte Cameron, Alton, Ont.; two brothers, Henry McClellan, Alton, Ont and J K McClellan of Winnipeg.

Mayers were in charge of arrangements.

The deceased belonged to the Vermilion Lodge A.F. & A.M. and members attended in a body. At the graveside the solemn Masonic ritual was carried out.

Many beautiful floral tributes were received from: Mother, Evelyn and Lloyd. Lillian, Jack, Lila and Fay. Chester and Elizabeth McClellan. HERBATE

2,4-D

ESTER • AMINE • SODIUM

KILLS WEEDS IN GRAIN

HERBATE (2,4-D) makes weed control easier, more economical, more effective. Field tests prove that HERBATE (2,4-D) kills mustard, stinkweed, ragweed, Russian thistle, cocklebur, pigweed, many others.

With HERBATE (2,4-D), you can spray out the weeds—save money, time and work—without harming grain or common turf grasses or affecting soil. The cost is low. Less than a pint of "HERBATE" L-37 or L-40, or less than a pound of "HERBATE" P-70, makes enough 2,4-D spray for an acre.

AVAILABLE IN THREE FORMULATIONS FOR HIGH OR LOW-VOLUME SPRAYING

"HERBATE" L-37 (Isopropyl Ester). A liquid which mixes readily with either water or oil. Particularly suitable for control of perennial weeds and susceptible woody perennials. Each Imperial gallon contains 4 lbs. of 2,4-D acid.

"HERBATE" L-40 (Amine Salt). Water-soluble liquid, intermediate in activity between "HERBATE" L-37 and "HERBATE" P-70. Each Imperial gallon contains 5 lbs. of 2,4-D acid.

"HERBATE" P-70 (Sodium Salt). Water-soluble powder, especially recommended for control of weeds in corn, flax (linseed), lawns, etc. One pound provides 11.2 oz. of 2,4-D acid.

WEEDS ROB SOIL OF MOISTURE INCREASE FARM COSTS

All three HERBATE formulations give highly effective weed kill in grain fields, grass pastures, fence corners . . along roadsides, drainage and irrigation ditches. Ask your dealer for full information on HERBATE (2,4-D).

Modern Weekly Newspaper Plays Important Role In Its Community

The man who edits and publishes [illegible] Canadian weekly is keenly aware that his newspaper, no longer a little sheet of personal items and scraps of advertising, is a vital force in his community with both responsibilities and a position to maintain. In striking contrast to the old conception of the average weekly editor—green-visored, cynical with bitter pen and ingrown disposition—he is an important citizen, [illegible] in civic affairs, who knows practically everybody in town by first name and family tree. His age may be anywhere from 25 to 80 years, his staff may be himself alone or 40 people: the average is five or six. He is probably a member of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

All this was quite evident to anyone attending the recent national convention of the C.W.N.A. Listening to more than 300 editors in conference, in casual conversational shop talk or relaxing at a dance or a sing-song, the tremendous potential of the weekly newspaper made itself definitely felt. These were men, it was solidly shown, who knew that on their shoulders rested the monumental work of recording in [illegible] type the heartbreaks of their communities.

At this convention, the editors found themselves in the movies. National Film Board cameras and lights were trained on them for convention sequences appearing in the Canada Carries On Production, "The Home Town Paper". Of this motion picture the editors went home and talked—and wrote—since it was something new in films about newspapers. It touched only lightly the mechanical side of publishing. It emphasized the vital, intimate relationship between a community and its newspaper and, in doing that, became as much a screen coverage of an average small town as a film on a paper.

Many of these editors saw "The Home Town Paper" and whether they were from the West, the Prairies, Ontario, Quebec or the Maritimes, they recognized themselves in the editor on the screen, and the people they knew in the Home Town citizens.

"The Home Town Paper" was filmed by the National Film Board in Vernon, B.C., and stars the Vernon News, selected by NFB in co-operation with the C.W.N.A. as a representative Canadian weekly.

N.W.T. Not Interested In Attracting Tourists

OTTAWA.—One big part of Canada isn't interested in attracting tourists this year or any other year —the Northwest Territories, vast area of rocks and forests, lakes and rivers north of the 60th parallel.

Deputy Commissioner Roy A. Gibson told the Northwest Territories Council that he is "disturbed by the large number of inquiries by people who wish to travel in the Territories with little conception of the difficulties they face."

Commissioner S. T. Wood of the R.C.M.P., a member of the Council, said persons who visit the Territories without proper "know-how" and equipment usually have to be looked after by the R.C.M.P.

"I don't suppose there is any way we can recover expenses for this," he said.

Mercy flights are another problem, Commissioner Wood said. When an inexperienced person got lost he expected aircraft to be sent to search for him. That cost money and endangered lives of the aircrew.

The Council decided it will see what can be done to discourage persons entering the Territories except on actual business.

FALLS OFF CHIMNEY TO HIS DEATH—"Fed up" with the rainy weather that delayed his work, Frederick Bethley of Oakville, Ont, had decided to quit his chimney building job here, but the thought of his [illegible] small children kept him at it. When the sun began to shine, Bethley was hoisted up a 185-foot chimney at a varnish plant. He had just reached the top when he apparently lost his balance and fell. He was killed instantly. Shown is the chimney at Oakville where Bethley fell to his death.

WHALING FACTORY AT CHURCHILL

DAUPHIN, Man. — An industrial development at Churchill is in the making with installation of a whaling factory. According to recent news from the north, machinery and building materials are to be moved to Churchill for the new plant within the next month.

Canada's first Arctic whaling factory is to go into operation next summer, working on a season's schedule of 600 Arctic whales.

The site of the plant will be on the outskirts of the town, between Churchill river and the terminus of the Hudson Bay railway. Mr Ward has estimated the initial expenditure at $12,000 for the erection of a building approximately 30 by 30 feet for housing vats and rendering equipment and a covered platform just above water level to where the whales would be towed for cutting.

Six-Man Detachment To Guard Highway

OTTAWA.—A six-man detachment of army military police will be trained for guard duty on the Alaska highway, Army Headquarters announced.

The six men will be selected from a class of 30 service constables now completing a course in military police work at Camp Borden, Ont. They will travel North May 30.

Two of the men will be stationed at Fort St. John, B.C, another two at Fort Nelson, B.C., [illegible] at Whitehorse, Yukon Territories.

To get your hands thoroughly clean and soft, add a teaspoonful of moistened sugar to your regular soapy lather.

SELECTED

PIE CRUST

1 cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
¼ cup ice-water

Sift together salt and flour. Cut in the shortening as for Baking-powder Biscuits, using a large knife or spatula. The amount of water used will vary with the flour, so the proper consistency of dough must be learned rather than to place dependence on the measure of water. It is well to bear in mind that lard produces a flakier, whiter crust than any other shortening. Equal parts of lard and butter produce better pastry than butter alone. Dough must neither be sticky nor crumbly, and must be easily lifted from the bowl in one mass. If chilled, before rolling, it will be more easily handled. Toss on a floured board and roll lightly, keeping in a circular shape. Roll very thin. This recipe will make one small double crust pie.

SINGLE CRUST PIE

Roll dough larger than the tin. Place carefully over outside of the tin, as crust shrinks in baking. Flatten crust to tin to press out air. If it is to be filled after baking, prick with fork. If for single crust pie, build-up ridge to make greater depth and groove or "flute" the ridge in order that heat may stiffen more quickly.

NANAIMO PROHIBITS HORN HONKING AT WEDDINGS

Sixteen Japanese Mines Destroyed Off Coast

OTTAWA.—Sixteen Japanese mines have been picked up and destroyed off the British Columbia coast in the past two years, Defence Minister Claxton told the Commons in reply to a question by J. L. Gibson (Ind.-Comox Alberni).

The situation was still being watched carefully, he said.

KAMLOOPS TROUT THRIVE IN ONTARIO WATERS

TORONTO — Kamloops trout, introduced into Ontario waters from British Columbia, are thriving, the provincial fish and wildlife division said.

The first spawn-collection, completed recently, was up to expectations and has given a good start on the restocking of Ontario waters, the division said in a statement.

Certificates For Reserve Army Men

OTTAWA.—Thousands of reserve army men who spent their spare time at military training camps during the Second World War will receive official recognition of their services, army headquarters announced.

It will be a certificate expressing the government's thanks, bearing signatures of Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Defence Minister Claxton.

Only those serving with the reserve forces for not less than 150 days between the start and end of hostilities are entitled to apply for a certificate, army headquarters said.

MORE BREAD FOR THE WORLD

because Massey-Harris Combines enable one man in one day, to harvest wheat for 55,000 loaves

Yes, more food is available for the world today when its need is desperate, because Canadian farmers with only a two-thirds increase in numbers over 1900, are growing 4½ times as much grain, producing 2½ times as much milk, feeding twice as many cattle and 2½ times as many hogs, raising 5 times as many chickens; because they are providing food for 2½ times as many people in Canada and exporting 30 times as much wheat and 10 times as much flour.

Farmers are doing it because individually they produce more today than in 1900, but it means hard work. And there is no harder working group of people in the world than the Canadian farmers. But hard work alone would not be enough to accomplish such results. They do it by a combination of hard work and modern machinery.

Typical of the great, efficiency-increasing machinery of the farm today is the Self-Propelled Combine, pictured above, which Massey-Harris first introduced in 1939. With this machine, one man can cut and thresh enough wheat in one day to make 55,000 loaves of bread.

Modern farm machinery has increased the productive capacity of Canadian agriculture to where it provides an abundant surplus for the needs of those in other lands, and makes an important contribution to Canada's great export trade.

Similarly Massey-Harris machines are helping to increase farm production in 72 countries of 6 continents.

REV. W. J. BRANT, OF CLANDONALD LAID TO REST

The districts, including the parishes of Clandonald, Marwayne and Kitscoty, were deeply shocked to hear of the sudden passing of their Vicar, the Reverend William John Brant. Although he had spent a few days in the Lloydminster hospital a few weeks previously no one realized the seriousness of his condition until the last few days. The end came at 6:30 o'clock in the evening of Tuesday May 25th.

The Rev. W. J. Brant was born on January 5th, 1881 in Worcester, England and spent the early years of his life in the old country, being closely associated with the church from an early age. He was married to Elizabeth May Chadwick on October 17, 1912 in Christ church, Saskatoon, Sask. He served his country in the first great war and achieved the rank of Captain. In 1926 he entered the service of the Presbyterian church and in 1927 was ordained a priest of the Church of England by the Bishop of Saskatchewan. He served at several points in Saskatchewan, among these being missionary to the Indians on the Sturgeon Valley Reserve. For five years he was Rector of Holy Trinity church at Meadow Lake and was chaplain to the Meadow Lake Reserve force. The Rev. Brant could tell many interesting stories of his experiences during the years he spent in the north. He came from Meadow Lake to Clandonald.

He is survived by his widow Mrs. M. E. Brant, a married daughter Mrs. L. W. Whiteman of Meadow Lake, Rev. H. G. Brant, B.A., B.D., now in charge of the Anglican field at Vegreville, Miss Alice Brant, R.N. of the nursing staff of the Vermilion Municipal hospital, and David Brant, a student in medicine at the University of Saskatchewan.

The eldest son, Pilot Officer Gordon Brant, predeceased his father in [illegible], being one of the first R.A.F. pilots to sacrifice his life in the second world war. One sister and one brother also survive in the Old Country.

The funeral service was held on Thursday May 27th from St. Saviour's Anglican church, Vermilion, under the auspices of the Masonic Order. The Rev. T. W. Teape conducted the service, the Very Rev A. M. Trendell, Dean of Edmonton, read the lessons and gave the address, the Rev V. P. Cole of Mannville was also present. The Bishop of Edmonton was unable to attend as he is absent at the Lambeth conference in England.

The large number attending the funeral, many of whom had come long distances, was striking tribute to the industrious labors of the Rev Brant and an expression of the deep affection and respect in which he was held by his parishioners and many other friends.

He was a familiar figure around the village of Clandonald and his cheery words and friendly manner made him a friend of all. Mr Brant was a member of the Masonic Order and deeply interested in Legion activities.

The girls' choir of St. Mary's Clandonald, was at the service and sang one of the hymns which he had taught them. He was justly proud of the choir which he had organized and trained. He, himself, was a gifted singer.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from the following:

The Family; St Mary's Vestry and W.A., Clandonald, Irwinville congregation, Vestry of St. Mary's the Virgin, Vegreville; Mr and Mrs W. S. THE CHURCHILLS CALL ON DUTCH ROYAL FAMILY—In this picture the former prime minister hardly resembles the tough [illegible] statesman who led his country to victory. He appears more like a benevolent, elderly friend of the family. He is holding the infant Princess Marijke, youngest daughter of Princess Juliana and Prince Bernhard of Holland, while Mrs Churchill waggles her fingers in the familiar V-sign. This photo was made during a recent visit of the prime minister and his wife to the royal family at Soestdijk palace, at Amsterdam, Holland. In the picture left to right are: Mrs Churchill, Prince Bernhard, Mr Churchill holding Princess Marijke, Princess Juliana with Princess Margriet in front of her, Princess Irene and Princess Beatrix.

CAT A "CENTENARIAN"—Toohies, shorthaired cat owned by Mrs. Earl Coleman of Toronto, is quite spry at an age equal to that of 120 years for a human. The cat, seen with a young admirer, Warren Whale, four, will be 20 this summer.

U.S. NAVY SUBMARINE VISITS CANADA—On a three-day informal visit to Canada, the U.S. navy submarine Piper is shown as she moved up the Halifax, N.S., harbor to her berth. One of the latest built by the U.S. during the war, the 1,500-ton submarine is commanded by Cmdr. A. K. Tyree.

CLAIMS SON WITH BROKEN FINGER STRAPPED AT SCHOOL—Charge that her son Sid, was strapped in a Toronto school while suffering from a fractured hand is made by Mrs Sidney Robinson. Sid is said to have broken a finger in a school fight. He is the nephew of a former boxing champion.

"TOKYO ROSE" . . . AT WORK—This is said to be the only known photo of Iva Toguri D'Aquino, better known as "Tokyo Rose", as she sat before the microphone that beamed her pro-Jap propaganda to the armed forces in the Pacific. Notice the recorder and player in the rear that gave out with the latest jazz records during the interludes of her talks. She faces treason trial at Tokyo, Japan.

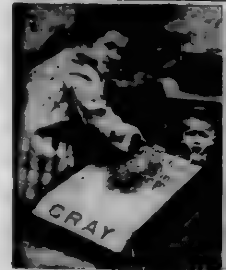
BOYS WONDERED WHAT WOULD HAPPEN, SOON FOUND OUT — Children playing with matches are blamed for the $6,500 fire which destroyed the triple barn of Herbert Wallace, near Agincourt, Ont. Two six-year-old boys are reported to have thrown lighted matches into straw to see what would happen. Firemen from Agincourt and Scarboro, Ont., had difficulty in keeping the flames from reaching the house.



BOY, 4, TRAPPED UNDER TOMBSTONE—[illegible] under a tombstone in the old church cemetery at the village of Harrisburg near Brantford, Ont., for more than an hour, four year-old Clifford Jerum declared "the old thing fell on him." He was rescued by his mother. The tombstone was erected in 1895 and was loose on its base. As the lad started to climb it, it toppled. Clifford was pinned from just below the shoulders. When his mother lifted the 100-pound stone and dragged him out he had difficulty walking. Above Clifford shows his mother how he was trapped.

BLOSSOM TIME—Despite its recent dull and rainy weather Ontario had its share of blossoms. Nancy Ann Featherstone, Toronto, who has umbrella along, is photographed beside magnolia tree.

HANDICAPPED MOTHER BEARS NORMAL CHILD—Mrs Betty Lampe Hagglund gazes with pride and thankfulness at her newborn baby daughter Valerie in a Springfield, Ill., hospital. Valerie is a normal baby in every respect, although her mother was born without feet, and overcame that handicap to live a normal life and become a happily married housewife. Mrs Hagglund hobbled through high school and college and was working to help her widowed mother when her case was called to the attention of the nation by newspaper stories. Contributions from sympathetic readers later enabled her to be fitted with artificial feet so that she could walk normally and even dance. She married William Hagglund of Chicago shortly afterwards.

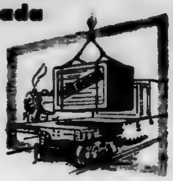
Bringing

American Dollars

to Canada



In 1947 Canada's trade with the United States exceeded two and three quarter billion dollars. It is the heaviest two-way trade in the world. Canada's need for American dollars to sustain this trade is vital.

Who brings American dollars to Canada? People who make and export goods; and people who cater for tourists.

And, of course, your bank helps . . . by financing business and industry to expand production for export. This is one of the many ways in which Canada's system of competitive banking serves the Canadian people.

Education And The Future

THE THEORY THAT THE TRAINING of its youth is of the greatest importance to the future of any country has long been an accepted fact, and education holds an important place in the public interest almost everywhere. This is true in Canada, where in most communities much attention is directed to the operation of the schools. Under the chairmanship of Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, and an outstanding educationalist, the Canadian Youth Commission has been carrying on studies in connection with education in this country, and many interesting and challenging facts have been brought forth in reports made on the results of these studies.

* * * * *

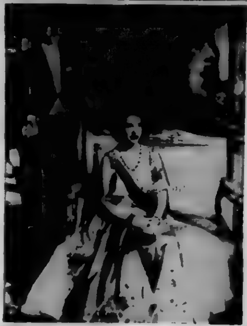
Attract Ablest To Profession

The Commission, which "probed the mind of Canadian youth in regard to education," has found that there is agreement among Canadian young people that the best conditions which we now have for education in the most favored communities should be extended to all Canadian children everywhere, that teaching must be made so attractive that the ablest of our youth will be attracted to it as a profession and that more attention should be paid to the health of children in the schools. It also recommends that curricula should be developed to meet the needs of the children to the fullest extent, with the object of fitting each child to make its maximum contribution to society.

* * * * *

The Need For New Schools

The need for new schools has also been discussed and it was agreed that better school buildings should be provided and that the school should play a more important part in the life of the community. The necessity of Federal financial aid for education if improvement along the lines of those suggested are to be made, was stressed in the findings of the Commission. Other educational bodies have made similar recommendations from time to time regarding the need for improving conditions in Canadian schools. It is apparent that lack of funds is responsible for many of the shortcomings in our present system, and that large sums of public money will have to be earmarked for education before there can be any great improvement. The Canadian Youth Commission and other educational bodies who offer constructive criticism on the subject are to be commended for their efforts.



SOUVENIR OF PARIS VISIT—Princess Elizabeth and her consort, the Duke of Edinburgh, are shown as they posed for their portrait at the British Embassy in Paris on the occasion of their state visit to the French capital. Both are wearing decorations they received from President Auriol of France. The princess wears the Grand Cordon of Legion of Honor and the duke the Croix de Guerre. The trip to Paris marked the first time that Britain's future queen set her foot on any soil but that of the empire.

Canada Improving Trade Position

OTTAWA. — Canada continues to make progress in correcting her unfavorable trade position with the United States and consequently in her American dollar situation.

However, she still buys much more from that country than she sells there, and continues to have a dollar problem which she must try to make up by getting payment in dollars for what she sells to other countries.

Assistance to European countries through the European recovery program helps in this, [illegible] the course of American policy is not clear in all respects. Also, Canada is suffering somewhat in her trade with dollar-short countries which do not get E.R.P. aid and which have put restrictions on what they will buy from dollar areas.

Total Canadian sales to the United States in the first four months of this year were $421,533,000 compared with $320,237,000 in the similar period of 1947, an advance of more than 21 per cent. For the first three months of the year the unfavorable trade balance with the United States was $107,900,000 compared with $263,200,000 in the same period of 1947.

LOCUSTS DEVOUR THIRD OF CORN CROP AT GUATEMALA

GUATEMALA. — Vast swarms of locusts have invaded Guatemala and threatened Mexico.

The locusts ate their way through El Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua. The director-general of agriculture said they probably would devour more than a third of the Guatemala corn crop.

Alberta Alters Hunting Seasons

EDMONTON — Caribou hunting is prohibited in Alberta this year, according to big game hunting regulations for 1948. Open seasons on deer, moose, elk, mountain sheep and mountain goats were cut from last year's.

Bag limits set for big game are one male mountain sheep; one female or male mountain goat, a male deer, elk or moose; one grizzly bear; one black, brown or cinnamon bear. Female bears with cubs are protected.

The bear seasons are Sept. 1 to Dec. 11 and April 1 to June 4. Deer, moose and elk may be hunted from Nov. 1 to Nov. 30. Mountain sheep and goats are open October only.

Plan Film Workshop For Central Manitoba

WINKLER, Man. — The organization of a film workshop in south central Manitoba for late summer was the theme of an address by D. R. Woodsworth, regional director for the National Film board for Western Ontario and Manitoba, to the delegates attending the film council conference in the Green Lantern here. Technical training will be provided in the use of the latest equipment including sound projectors, film strip projectors, and wire recorders. The conference decided to retain Altona as the main film repository for this area, which [illegible] Farm, Roland, Manitou and Winkler.

British Farmers Grow More Grain

LONDON — British farmers have hit the first target in their five-year plan to guarantee more home-grown wheat and potatoes in 1948. The ministry of agriculture says reports from England and Wales show that 2,340,200 acres of wheat have been [illegible] an increase of 363,000 over last year. More than 72,000 additional acres have been found for potatoes, bringing the total to 1,014,-840.

SAFETY PLAN FOR PLANES

An engineer has claimed there is increased safety in flying with seats placed to face the rear of the plane. This, he said, gives better protection in case of a forced landing.

One-Ounce Letters Go By Air Mail

OTTAWA — Beginning July 1, ordinary one-ounce letters will be carried by air mail to the major centres of Canada under a new postal scheme, announced in the Commons by Postmaster-General Bertrand.

Canada thus becomes the first country to introduce what is known as "all-up" mail service on a national basis.

The new service, which will operate at first on the Trans-Canada Air Lines main network and later may be extended to secondary feeder lines, means that letters weighing up to an ounce will receive air mail treatment whether or not they carry air mail postage.

They will thus go by air even with the ordinary four-cent postage now [illegible].

The seven-cent air mail stamp will continue to be used on letters weighing more than an ounce.

Mr. Bertrand said the new routine, to be used wherever the mails can be speeded up, will be on an "experimental basis" until it is proved financially sound.

The ordinary postal rate for out-of-town mail is four cents for the first ounce and two cents for each additional ounce or fraction. The air mail rate is seven cents for the first ounce and five cents for each additional ounce or fraction. [illegible] a two-ounce letter still will need 12 cents postage if it is to be sent by air and six cents for normal surface delivery.

Mr. Bertrand announced also that the department plans to make "various improvements and extensions" of an undisclosed nature in the rural mail service.

Expect Record In Forest Production In British Columbia

VICTORIA. — British Columbia's forest production is headed for another record-smashing year. This is apparent from statistics now available.

B.C. forest service figures for production during the first three months of this year showed the log scale at 762,484,174 fbm. During the corresponding period of 1947 production was 721,002,257 fbm.

Also produced during the first three months of this year were 6,794,580 lineal feet of poles, 29,202 cords of fuel wood and 107,270 hewn ties. Pole production for the corresponding 1947 period was 12,745,427 lineal feet, while fuel production was 35,811 cords and hewn tie production [illegible].

Record Established In Births During 1947

The bureau of statistics reported there were more babies born in Canada in 1947 than in any other year.

Preliminary figures showed 356,700 live births were registered in 1947 throughout the Dominion, compared with 330,732 in 1946, the previous record year.

BABY TALK BRINGS ABOUT SPEECH DEFECTS

VANCOUVER. — Baby talk among seven and eight-year-old children is not cute. Along with lisping and other speech defects, it should be corrected as early as possible.

This advice was given by Mrs. Elfrida Webb, supervisor of speech correction in Vancouver public schools, in a talk to Vancouver Kindergarten Teachers' Association.

All customers of U.G.G. Elevators who delivered oats and/or barley between August 1st and October 21st, 1947, to elevators being operated by the Company between said dates, will receive an additional payment of:

On OATS 11c per bushel
On BARLEY 14¼c per bushel

Removal of the Government price ceilings on oats and barley on October 21st, 1947, was unfair to farmers who had made delivery earlier in the crop year. The excess earnings resulting to the Company have now been calculated and additional payments are being distributed to farmers concerned.

Local News of Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eyben have received word from their daughter Clara (Mrs. Vingo) of Vanport, Ore., that while the whole family is safe they lost all of their personal belongings in the disastrous flood which swept over their city of 18,000 population. The city is now virtually all under water, loss of life has run into hundreds and property damage into millions.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bowman and three children of Placentia, Calif., arrived in Vermilion by car Tuesday evening and are now guests at the home of Mrs. Bowman's mother Mrs. H. N. Stephens. Bob left on the return trip Thursday while the family will spend a part of the summer here.

A line from J. A. McBride informs the Standard that he is now at the Arlington hotel at Alberni, B.C. He sends his regards to all old friends here.

Little Miss Marjorie Waldenberger spent last week end visiting her aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cocks at Heinsburg.

Mrs. A. B. Chudyk, accompanied by her young son Billy, is spending a few days in Edmonton this week visiting her parents Dr. and Mrs. W. H. [illegible].

Jim Kearns of Safeway stores, Edmonton and his wife spent the May 24th week end visiting Jim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Kearns in Vermilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Dalgliesh and two children, Heather and Campbell, left by car on Saturday for their summer cottage at Gull Lake where they will spend the next three months. They will then move into their new home in Edmonton which is presently being constructed. Wally has been transferred by the Imperial Oil Co. and his headquarters are now in the city.

Mrs. Donald Smith of Edmonton and Mrs. N. Crowell and son Jimmy of Wadena, Sask., spent last week at the home of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barr.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Brennan have purchased the Dalgliesh home in the west end and have taken up residence there.

Frank Crawford of Edmonton was a week end visitor here and in the Vanesti district, his former home. He returned to the city Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gilbert and son of Edmonton and Mrs. Victor Duncan are visiting in Vermilion guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Spencer.

Miss Jean Colton of Islay who recently graduated as a 'Nursing Aid' is now on the staff of the Vermilion hospital.

Holiday guests for the May 24th week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barr were Miss Leslie Edgar of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. James Crowell of Leduc.

Art Mecklestone drops a line from Lougheed and says that everything is still going fine there, adding that it is certainly nice to get the Standard and to note the progress Vermilion is making.

WILDMERE A. F. U.

The Wildmere local of the A.F.U. will meet at the Wildmere school on Wednesday June 9th. Members of the Vermilion Board of Trade will be the guests of the A.F.U. at this meeting and a full attendance is desired.

APPRECIATION

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks for the many acts of kindness which so many friends showed during our recent bereavement.

We wish especially, to thank Dr. Landford, Miss Keith and the staff of the Municipal hospital, Vermilion. Also, we express grateful thanks to the Rev. T. Tonge, the Very Rev. [illegible] A. M. Trendell and the Rev. V. P. Cole. The presence of the choir of St. Mary's, Clandonald, at the funeral was a gracious gesture which will long be remembered.

Mrs. M. R. Brant and family

Appreciation and Thanks

The Women's Auxiliary to Canadian Legion, Post 11, wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to the following for their generosity and co-operation on the occasion of the visit of Their Excellencies Viscount and Lady Alexander on May 27th.

To all those who donated food for the meal booth at the fair grounds, to the ladies who assisted the committee and Auxiliary members in the preparation and serving of dinner and supper, to the Masonic Lodge, the United church, Hill's hardware and Revelstoke Lumber Co. for the loan of dishes and to all others, who assisted in any way to make possible a very difficult task.

See Wild Atlantic No. 3

Mr. and Mrs. Reg Spencer motored to Leduc over the week end to visit their son Ray. Ray is working with the Commonwealth Drilling Co. there. Reg took his binoculars along and had a good look at the wild Atlantic No. 3 well which is still gushing forth gas and oil. The lake of oil surrounding the well has been fairly well pumped away but many acres of good farm land have been ruined by the overflow of oil.

Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Bentley left last week on a holiday motor trip which will take them as far south as Salt Lake City.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack MacKay and little son of Blairmore are visiting the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Neil MacKay this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Port and sons Jack and Terry visited in Edmonton for the past week, returning home Wednesday.

Don Taylor returned home this week after attending the B.C. Postmasters' convention in his official capacity as president of the Dominion Postmasters' Association.

W. M. S.

The W.M.S. of the United church will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence Barr on Thursday, June 10th. Members wishing to attend will please meet at the New Way Cleaners, the Bus depot, at 2:45 p.m. sharp. Visitors will be welcome.

W. I.

The regular meeting of the W.I. will be held at the home of Mrs. Cruthers on Wednesday June 9th at 8 p.m.

Vermilion Wins Aggregate At Kitscoty Divisional Track Meet

BANNER YEAR FOR LOCAL STUDENTS

Under a system whereby each first place counts 3 points, each second place 2, and each third place 1, Vermilion contestants at the Vermilion Local A.T.A. track meet held at Kitscoty, June 4th, ran up a score of 100 points —a lead of more than 20 points over the next highest centre. This means that the cup given for the highest aggregate will come to Vermilion for the first time in many years.

Win Individual Championships

Three Vermilion students, having scored the highest number of points in their respective age groups, will receive handsomely engraved bronze medals. In the 17 years and over boys' class, Bob Reid won first place in the four events which constitute a maximum number of entries for any one student. This is the second time that Bob has performed this remarkable feat, the first time being in 1946. Al Toner won the bronze medal in his class, the 13 and 14 year old boys — with two first, one second and one third. Betty Bentley won three firsts and a third and received the medal for the 11 and 12 year old girls.

Football Teams Win

The intermediate boys' football teams won all their games and eventually played each other in the finals when the 'A' team won the cup. The intermediate girls' team won the cup in their competition. Despite the fact that the high school girls' football team played exceptionally well in all their games they lost out in the finals to the Kitscoty team.

Banner Year

This was a banner year for Vermilion, for never before have three cups, including that for the grand aggregate, and three bronze medals come to this school.

A list of event winners at the Meet will appear in next week's Standard.

Mannville Masons Celebrate Fortieth Anniversary

Hope Lodge, No. 31, A.F. & A.M., Mannville, celebrated the 40th anniversary of its institution on Wednesday evening of last week with the largest gathering of members of that fraternity seen in the town, visitors being present from Edmonton, Vegreville, Camrose, Vermilion, Kitscoty and other centres. The proceedings were ushered in by a sumptuous banquet prepared and served by the members of the Eastern Star Chapter. It left nothing to be desired and won praise from every one of the hundred or so who sat down at the festive table.

Following the banquet the King and the Craft was proposed by the toastmaster Wor. Bro. A. E. Williams. "Past Masters" was proposed by Bro. Angus Stuart and replied to by Wor. Bro. Neil McKinnon. "Our Fortieth Anniversary" proposed by Bro. [illegible]mer Olsomberg, responded to by Wor. Bro. S. V. Lee of Edmonton a former resident and the first candidate to be initiated in the new lodge. "The Charter Members" was proposed by Wor. Bros. John Shaw and replied to by R. Wor. Bro. W. N. Crooks who said that only two of the charter members were now living, one of whom Alexander Hay, now well over 80, was present and took his bow from the gathering. "Visiting Brethren" was presented by Wor. Bro. Leitch and responded to by R. Wor. Bro. E. J. Paulsen. "The Ladies" went to Wor. Bro. H. T. Taylor and the "Tyler's Toast" to Bro. William McCauley.

In the Lodge room afterwards several addresses were made by Grand Lodge officers and others present. A life membership was presented to R. Wor. Bro. W. N. Crooks for long and attentive service to the Lodge and the Craft generally.

Tennis Courts in Shape

The long awaited rain on Monday night gave the tennis club the opportunity to really condition the courts for play and during Tuesday the courts were dragged and rolled, all old tapes removed and new ones laid. The surface is now hard and fast and playing conditions are excellent. This is the first time in the history of the present tennis club that the whole month of May has elapsed without the necessary rain to really condition the courts for the season's play.

All tennis players, new and old, are invited to try out the courts.

Student Minister in Charge of South Presbyterian Field

Mr. Hills is a native of Ottawa [illegible] where he received much of his high school training. Studying in Toronto from 1944-1947, he received the diploma of the Toronto Bible College and the Evangelical Teacher's Training Association. He came to the west in June, 1947, to serve on a mission field in the Dinsmore, Sask. district. Grade XII was successfully completed this past winter in Saskatoon and Mr. Hills plans on entering the Arts course of the University of Saskatchewan in September.

This young man has had considerable experience in mission work in Eastern Canada. He served with the Toronto City Mission at Bronte, Ont., in 1945, and on the following mission fields under the Presbyterian church: Banks, west of Collingwood, Ont., 1946; Buckhorn, north of Peterborough, Ont., during winter of 1946-47 on supply work. In addition to this, he has engaged in itinerant work with the T.B.C. choir and quartette.

VERMILION FAIR SUMMER CAMP

On July 19th more than 100 boys and girls will arrive at the school of agriculture for the Vermilion Fair summer camp. Already applications are being received from a wide area and local boys and girls who desire to avail themselves of the splendid opportunity for a week's holiday should see that they apply without delay. Applications are accepted as received, with preference being given those who have not attended such camps previously.

Principal N. N. Bentley of the school of agriculture advises that interesting short courses for girls in household science and for boys in practical agricultural subjects is being outlined and arrangements are completed for sports and entertainment programs.

All who attend the short courses will be guests of Vermilion Fair for the three days July 22, 23 and 24 and will be admitted to the grandstand show once during the period of the Fair. During judging periods the boys and girls will attend and will have an opportunity of observing the various placings by outstanding judges from all over the west.

Stress is placed on the fact that early applications will receive preference and as soon as the enrollment has been filled applications must necessarily be declined. Boys and girls should bear in mind the six great days July 19th to 24th and apply now.

Town Engages Water, Sewer Superintendent

At a special meeting of the town council held Monday evening of last week Mr. Bernard C. Ackerman of Camrose was offered the position of Waterworks Superintendent for the town of Vermilion at a salary of $200 per month. Mr. Ackerman subsequently accepted the position and will take over his new duties here on July 2nd.

Among his duties will be the connections to the water and sewer mains from the householders' basement to the property line.

Mr. Ackerman is a young married man with two children and the family has rented the former Harold Reid residence in the west end. Mr. Ackerman spent five years in the army during the war. He subsequently worked as city surveyor and assistant engineer at Lethbridge during the installation of storm and sanitary sewer and water mains. He left there to join the Calgary Power Ltd. in their waterworks department at Camrose where he is employed at the present time. He comes with the highest of qualifications from many quarters. He is interested in youth work and has been cubmaster at Camrose.

The council is to be commended on the consideration and attention they gave to this matter and on the very fine apparent choice they have made.

Let's give our government our best thinking, not just a piece of our mind.

Make Big Contribution to Trans-Canada Highway Association

(YELLOWHEAD ROUTE) — $1767.50 DONATED BY THIS AREA

The Eastern Alberta-Western Saskatchewan branch of the Trans-Canada Highway Association (Yellowhead route) have made the very large contribution of $1767.50 to the parent organization in Edmonton. The head office is engaged in carrying on a very active campaign to have the federal government adopt a trans-Canada highway policy and advocate that the first of such highways be via the Yellowhead pass.

Officials of this branch of the organization which includes the area Vegreville to North Battleford are, K. G. Urquhart chairman, F. J. Richardson secretary; while the canvass for the Vermilion area was in charge of Billie Pilkie. The success of the drive in this area can be attributed to the work done by these men.

Objectives set for each of the zones in the area were Vegreville $500; Vermilion $450; Lloydminster $500; Maidstone $150; North Battleford $500, for a total of $2100. To date all have achieved their objectives with the exceptions of Vegreville and North Battleford and active campaigns in these two towns are now under way.

Official Inspection Of Air Cadets

BY WING-COMMANDER MacDONALD, D.F.C.

Praised for Showing at Visit of the Governor-General

Wing Commander MacDonald, D.F.C., accompanied by Flying Officer Larcombe, inspected the Vermilion Air Cadet squadron last Thursday at Kitscoty. The Kitscoty sub-flight of No. 97 Squadron Royal Canadian Air Cadets is a recent addition to the Vermilion Flight, and such interest has been shown by this group that it was felt that the annual inspection should be held there.

W/C MacDonald in his talk to the Cadets after the inspection and March Past complimented them very highly on the precision of their drill movements. He expressed the hope that most of them would be able to attend summer camp at Patricia Bay. He told the Cadets also of the very fine reports he had heard from Air Vice Marshall Guthrie, Air Officer Commanding North West Air Command of the good work done by the Cadets on the occasion of His Excellency the Governor-General's visit to Vermilion.

Mr. Thomas Waite, chairman of the Vermilion local committee, complimented the Cadets on their smart appearance and read to them a letter he had received from Mr. Eric Duggan, Provincial Chairman of the Air Cadet League. Mr. Duggan, in his letter, paid glowing tribute to the splendid work done by the Cadets on May [illegible].

[illegible] [illegible] with W/C MacDonald [illegible] F/O Larcombe, were Mr. Harold [illegible] [illegible] Kitscoty local committee [illegible] Mr. Waite.

Officers in charge of the Cadets were: Fl. Walker, F/O Ridington and Mr. [illegible].

Golf Course Now in Good Shape

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] rapidly tak[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] improvements [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] been mowed and a lot of brush etc. has been cleared away so that those golfers with severe slices or hooks have a better chance of finding their balls. The greens are all being oiled and will be in excellent shape for putting. All fairways have been given a treatment of 2, 4-D to kill weeds, the work being donated by Ambler Bros. of Vermilion. This interesting experiment should be of interest to farmers who can watch the progress of the weed killer from the Wainwright highway at the end of No. 9 fairway. This fairway has three strips down the centre which has been treated but either side has not been touched so that a comparison can be made.

Until the weed killer has been given a chance to work the fairways will not be mowed but it is expected to begin this work on June 17th and after that the course will be in good [illegible].

Brimacombe Bros. Business To Sell Out

BUILDING PURCHASED BY PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT

As a result of the recent purchase by the government of the Brimacombe Block the Brimacombe Book and Stationery business will shortly be sold as the premises are to be vacated by July 1st. It is sincerely hoped that the business with its stock in trade will find a local buyer as it is highly desirous that the services rendered be retained in town. The Brimacombe business dates back to 1906 and the building itself was the first large general business block erected in the town.

FARM WOMEN'S WEEK AT V. S. A.

WILL BE HELD JULY 5th TO 9th

Here's an announcement of special interest to women from the farm homes of Central Alberta.

The popular "Farm Women's Week" at the Vermilion school of agriculture will be held this year from July 5th to 9th. The program is planned to provide lectures and demonstrations on subjects directly related to the interests of all homemakers with ample provision for discussion, recreation and relaxation.

The school dormitories afford comfortable living quarters—no meals to prepare and no clearing up to do!

Why not plan to attend Farm Women's Week at the Vermilion school of agriculture this year?

The date again—July 5th to 9th.

Elk Point High School Holds Graduation Exercises

The 1948 graduation exercises for Elk Point high school were held this week in the Elk Point hall. Mr. R. E. Beattie, principal of the high school, addressed the graduates, stating that at no time before in the history of Canada, were graduates faced with greater opportunities than at the present day. So many new fields of endeavor were open to each one of them, that each one should be able to find the niche in life to which he is best suited. He congratulated the Grade XII students on their past accomplishments and wished them every success in the future. Following his address, J. V. Jacobson, vice-principal, addressed the Grade IX graduates, expressing the view that the accomplishments of each was in direct proportion to his efforts. He saw a brilliant future for those students who had enough ambition and whose aims were high enough. He hoped that each one of the graduates, both Grade IX and XII would make such a success of his life, that he would be a credit to his community, his school and to his teachers. As part of the program the high school girls gave delightful renditions of the songs, Among My Souvenirs and the Bells of St. Mary's. A duet was sung by Margaret Hobden and Virginia Arnold, followed by an instrumental solo by the Grade XII boys. Gertrude Koch sang a delightful solo "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and the Grade IX girls sang "Memories".

The Valedictory address for Grade XII was delivered by Margaret Hobden who had been chosen as class valedictorian. The Grade IX Valedictory address was given by Lily Kendrat. Dr. F. G. Miller as chairman of the school board presented the awards in Social Studies to the following students in each grade who showed highest general proficiency in this subject: Grade 9—Evangeline Scrabo; Grade 10—Joyce Millalland; Grade 11—Lillian Miller; Grade 12—[illegible] Miller.

Grade XII students who were presented with scrolls in token of graduation were: Margaret Hobden, Marion Johnson, Andrew Boruchi, Ignit Dutcko, Eugene Dembicki, Leslie Young and Arthur Vaughan. Grade IX students who graduated were: Evangeline Scrabo, Lily Kendrat, Jean Sumpton, Doreen Lindquist, Pauline Boyko, Mary O'Kane, Dorne Wlogurteh, Jean Moroszyk, Sophie Wlasowich, David Fiddes, Billy Spelay, Philip Sheplawy.

Eugene Dembicki, as president of the students' union was master of ceremonies.

Death and Funeral Of William Smith

William Smith, well known old timer who farmed south of Islay until last fall when he moved into Vermilion, passed away on Friday June 4th.

Mr Smith was born at Grand Valley, Ontario, in 1874. After coming west he first lived in the Tracho district for 12 years subsequently moving to south of Islay where he farmed for the past 29 years. Last fall he retired from farming and moved into Vermilion. He had been residing in the Imperial block.

He leaves to mourn his loss three brothers and one sister in Toronto and one sister Mrs. Grace Atkinson of Moose Jaw, Sask., who was present at her brother's funeral.

The funeral services were held at the United church on Tuesday June 8th at 2 o'clock. The Rev. E. S. Bothie conducted the service and Mr James Stevenson gave a brief address. Interment was made at the Vermilion cemetery.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from: Sisters and brother, Wildwood Ladies Aid, The Webber Family, Mr and Mrs J. W. Robinson, Joe Stewart and family, Mrs. Redmond and Family, The Drysdale Family, Sperberg Family, Campbell Family, Mrs Davis, Mrs Hadley; Geo Maxwell, Mrs P Donaghey, R McGee, S. E. Styles, Mashall Family, Mrs Ada Fraser, Mr McGee, Mrs McLelland, Mrs Hardie, Mrs Madill, John Maxwell.

Mayor's were in charge of arrangements.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend sincere thanks for the kindness and help extended to my brother the late William Smith during his illness, with special mention of Mr and Mrs. J. W. Robinson, also many thanks for the beautiful floral tributes.

Mrs Grace Atkinson,

ROYAL COMMISSION ON TAXES URGES VERMILION RECOMMENDATION

Among the matters called to the attention of the Royal Commission on Taxation when it sat at Vermilion last year was the provision with respect to the liability for the care of "wandering indigents" (Mayor Morrison's coinage) under rule 2 of the Town Act which provides briefly that the municipality in which a person resides for three consecutive months out of the immediately preceding 24 months and has not had relief during this three month period is deemed to be the municipality chargeable for the cost of his relief.

The report of the Commission now published refers to the question raised as follows:

Mayor J. W. G. Morrison of the Town of Vermilion stated:

"Certain rules are laid down to determine the residence or area directly liable for the relief of "wandering indigents" and it is found to be difficult to establish the district liable for the cost of maintenance, hospitalization and medical attendance. We submit that these costs should be assumed by the senior government regardless of whether a period of residence in any one municipality can be established."

The Commission is of the opinion that there is nothing to suggest permanency in a three months' residence and recommends that Rule 2 be deleted from all Acts wherein it appears and that the responsibility for such indigence rests with the Province."

Lilac Time A Reality

Lilac time really meant something this year as every bush blossomed forth with a bumper crop of the beautiful perfumy flowers. It is the first time in at least four years that the lilacs have escaped damage by frost. The same can be said of the fruit trees and berry bushes. They all presented a truly beautiful picture.

THE WEATHER

Warmest for the week was 86 on Monday with second honors going to Tuesday with 80. High point dropped to 63 on Wednesday and 61 Thursday. Low point since last Thursday was 46 on Monday.

HALF INCH OF RAIN

The town and immediate district enjoyed the first rain of the season Monday night when .54 inches of rain fell. The rain was accompanied by a mild electrical storm. Precipitation, while giving relief to town and vicinity was not general over the area.

Building Fronts Modernized

R. H. Norton has recently finished the front of his I.H.C. showrooms in black tiled masonite. The modernistic trend is very attractive and has been the subject of considerable favorable comment.

New Way Cleaners building has now been stuccoed. The front there has been given a pillar appearance which is distinctly different and very effective, making a decided improvement in the structure.

Former Vermilion Man Dies At Onoway

There passed away suddenly on June 4th, Harold Bennett, station agent at Onoway for the past 25 years. Prior to that he was operator in Vermilion for two years. During his time here he was a member of the well known "Firemen's" Hockey team and was given the nickname of "Steamer" Bennett. He married a Vermilion girl, Maud Winters. Mr Bennett was 51 years of age.

His passing cast a gloom over the entire village and the esteem in which he was held was shown by the large funeral cortege and the number of floral and spiritual offerings. The funeral was held in Edmonton Tuesday morning. Besides his sorrowing wife he leaves two daughters Helen of Edmonton and Hazel of Banff and two sons Kenneth in Edmonton and Gordon at home.

Attending the funeral from Vermilion were Bruce Winters and Mrs. I. Winters.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Taking Care Of Grandpa

By MABEL E. HANNA

NONE of us on Chestnut Street was particularly surprised at what Grandpa Harrison up and did last summer. He was seventy-six, all right, but anyone who knew him certainly couldn't think of him as at all feeble, or childish either. His house is the big one on the corner, the one with all the roses, and the screened porch. He has always kept the lawn mowed and the paint fresh, and you should see his garden... it's the best place around. Inside the house was always clean enough, and comfortable. Martha Winslow saw to that. She lived in the next block, and had taken care of the house ever since old Mrs. Harrison died ten years ago. Then young John moved in with his wife and baby.

Martha told us about it at Aid Society, only of course they don't call it Aid any more, but as I was saying, Martha was near crying when she told us about it. It seems John had decided his dad was too old to live alone any more, but we could all see through that. Who would live in that little tucked-up place next to the tracks when they could move into a beautiful place like Grandpa's, and rent their own for a fat figure? So of course, Martha wasn't needed to keep things up any more. Grandpa Harrison took to sitting with her in her parlor real often, though. The young people were always having a crowd in for some bridge game or other, or else the baby was crying.

Sometimes when they went out he would stay with the baby. But he didn't mind, as he told Martha. He couldn't really ask his own son to move, or tell him he wasn't wanted. And Grandpa just doted on the baby, of course, though as you might expect Ellen, that's John's wife, wouldn't let him touch her unless she wanted to go out.

Then Ethan moved in too. Him and his painted-up wife, and those smart-aleck kids. They're about in high school by now. Grandpa Harrison spent more and more evenings at Martha's. Used to duck out right after supper before those two [illegible] of his got [illegible] their dishes, or the kids started up their everlasting Victrola and radios blatting. He told Martha that Ethan would have liked to stay in his own home, but Virginia said they belonged there looking after Grandpa too. We all knew just how much rent they were getting out of their house.

When Abe Lucas, he's the real estate man, told Grandpa Harrison about the deals coming up he supposed of course the boys would have discussed it with their dad if they planned to camp on him permanently. Well, it seems that both the boys had deals all set to sell their houses. And both stood to double the money they had in them. When Abe told Grandpa he just looked sick. All the noise and quarreling of those kids and the two women, who didn't get on at all, was beginning to tell on him. Martha said it just made her boil to see him looking so tired and unhappy. All Grandpa said when Abe told him was to not let them put the deals through for a few days, just to stall them off awhile. And Abe said he would, but he thought Grandpa Harrison ought to tell those boys where they got off for once.

Well, that night at supper Grandpa told them he aimed to hold a family council at eight o'clock, and he wanted the boys and their wives there, and the kids skedaddled. Kind of surprised they were, but even then Martha said she guessed they all figured maybe Grandpa was making his will, or something, as they couldn't help seeing he was looking mighty queer.

He didn't stay at Martha's long, but went straight back and the four of them were waiting for him. Well, he just told it to them right out. Martha says she certainly would have liked to be a little mouse in a corner when he told them.

"Boys," he said, "you have been here nearly two years, and I've been glad to have your company. But now, if I were you I wouldn't make any sudden moves about selling my property. There's a mighty bad housing shortage on, and you might not find a place when you leave here. I don't want to rush you off, but come August I won't really need you any more. Martha Winslow and I are getting married, and Martha won't abide anyone else about." And he kind of winked at them. "We'll be kinda honeymooning, you know," he said.

Well, Abe said it didn't take those boys long to cancel their house deals when they saw Grandpa meant business.

Martha and Grandpa have been married nearly a year now, and the house is just about the same as always. But you should see those two. Land sakes, they're likely to be out holding hands on the porch in broad daylight.

EDMONTON PAINTERS MISS PAINTING RECORD

EDMONTON.—Out to set a Dominion house-painting record, Edmonton's junior chamber of commerce recently had to content itself with a city title instead, 24 minutes and 26 seconds.

The "Jaycees" inaugurated a "Beautify your Edmonton" campaign by refurbishing in white and green a 20-by-20-foot bungalow.

They missed by 10 minutes the [illegible] record 14 minutes for a 1½ storey house. Winnipeg, however, has posted 14 minutes three seconds for a three-storey house.

CAN YOU BEAT THESE FLOOD STORIES?

THE PAS, Man.—The all time top in flood stories, even for [illegible] in floods — said flood waters in this area are so high that mallards are hatching eggs in crow's nests.

Not content with that one [illegible] sitting in trees.

Fiery, Itching Toes and Feet
Here is a clean, stainless antiseptic that will do more to help you get rid of [illegible] trouble than anything you have ever used.
Its action is so powerfully penetrating that the itching is quickly stopped and in a short time you are rid of that bothersome, fiery torture. The same is true of Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum, Eczema, other irritating skin troubles.
You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store. It is safe to use—and failure in any of these ailments is rare indeed.

Western Briefs

VICTORIA, B.C.—Every effort will be made to insure adequate directional signs to off-highway points and auto court and resort areas will be given special consideration at turn-off points, Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works said. District engineers of the department have recently issued instructions for the removal of unauthorized signs from highway right-of-ways under regulations which have been in force for several months.

MOOSE JAW, Sask.—A goodwill train known as the "the know Mississippi better train" will visit Moose Jaw on Wednesday, July 21. Two hundred men and women from the southern state will make up the party. Attached to the train will be an exhibit car which will show some of the things grown and manufactured in Mississippi.

Production of stoves and ranges in 1947 was close to 4,400,000 units. This tops the 1946 record by over 1,000,000 units.

1,500 Mennonites Leave Manitoba

WINNIPEG — More than 1,500 Mennonites in Southern Manitoba are preparing to sail from Quebec, for Paraguay, preferring to uproot themselves from their homes rather than risk violation of their faith.

They will follow a tradition of migration that is part of the roots of the 400-year-long stormy Mennonite history.

An advance party of 81 already has flown to a 100,000-acre tract in the South American country.

In Southern Manitoba, the migrants have sold their farms to neighbors, and some sales have been made to other Mennonites. Another 34,000 are staying in Western Canada.

MANITOBA MAN UNEARTHS BUFFALO SKELETON IN UPRIGHT POSITION

GLADSTONE, Man.—The skeleton of a buffalo, which apparently became mired in the marsh on the edge of this town, many years ago, was unearthed by M. Puhach.

Mr. Puhach, who lives on No. 4 highway, was digging a basement for an addition to his home and was down about two feet when he came across the skull. The horns came off and after carefully digging to remove the skull, he could plainly see the bones of the animal's back.

Further digging revealed that the skeleton was upright with all four feet in a standing position.

L.T.S. Norris-Elye, curator, the Manitoba Museum, advanced the theory that the buffalo might have become mired in marsh mud, or a river bed, possibly 70 or 80 years ago. He claimed he had never come across the entire remains of a buffalo in a standing position, but just bone and skull fragments.

Explaining "they are very stupid animals always going through; rather than around obstacles," he exemplified this with a reiteration of an eye-witness report he had heard from the late Chas. Alloway who claimed to have seen them, in spring, trample one another underfoot in stubborn attempts to ford an ice-ridden, flooding Assiniboine river.

John Kerr, Mannville, Dies at Vancouver

With the passing to his eternal rest in a Vancouver hospital of Mr. John Kerr on June 1st, Mannville and district mourns the loss of one of its oldest pioneers, genial, respected, and well known for more than 40 years continuous residence.

John Kerr was born 81 years ago, January 1st, 1867, in Glasgow, Scotland. In May 1889 he married Miss Jessie Tweedie of the same city. They successfully were occupied in farming, particularly in the raising of Clydesdale horses and fine cattle until in 1904 Mr. and Mrs. Kerr emigrated to Canada with their four young children of 5 years to 7 months settling in the district later residing in what is now the town of Mannville, Alberta. Two more children were born in Canada. Just a year ago they moved to Vancouver, B.C.

John Kerr, friendly to all men, was a great lover of horses, leading the prize-winning stallion at many Canadian fairs. As horse judge his services were in demand, sought and his judging appreciated over a long period.

Surviving are his loving wife and companion of more than 59 years, 2 sons and 2 daughters, 4 grandchildren and 1 great grandchild.

James at Tacoma, Washington, U.S.A.; William of North Bend, B.C.; Thelma (Mrs. R. Saville) Marwayne, Alberta; George and Lillian (Mrs. Cliff Campbell) both of Vancouver. Their eldest son Jack paid the supreme sacrifice at Vimy, France, whilst serving with Princess Pats Regiment in World War I.

The heartfelt sympathy of all who knew this beloved old gentleman goes out to Mrs. Kerr and family.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR BARLEY RESEARCH

Five scholarships good in any Canadian university which undertakes barley research, are being offered by the newly formed Barley Improvement Institute which started its work May 1st from its head offices in Winnipeg.

The scholarships are being provided to encourage university graduates to take advanced study courses in barley research. It is hoped that this may help to hurry the work of producing new and better varieties.

Details of the scholarships will be announced in the near future.

The Barley Improvement Institute is headed by Prof. T. J. Harrison who recently resigned as assistant for Manitoba to the Board of Grain Commissioners of Canada, to take charge of it. Prof. Harrison is a widely known barley authority.

The work of the Institute is being financed by the brewing and malting industries of Canada.

WHERE KATHLEEN KENNEDY WAS KILLED— Here is the wreckage of the airplane at St. Bauzille, France, in which Lady Kathleen Hartington, widow of the Marquess of Hartington, and daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, was killed. She had accepted an invitation from a friend, Earl Fitzwilliam, one of Britain's wealthiest peers, to fly to Cannes, and was en route to Cannes from Paris when the plane encountered an electrical storm. Earl Fitzwilliam also died in the crash.

KOREAN "TIMES SQUARE" ON ELECTION NIGHT—Koreans who voted in the recent election—the first in which they ever had a chance to chose their own government—are shown scanning the election returns posted outside the capital building in Seoul, the capital. Almost 90 per cent. of the eligible voters of South Korea cast ballots, despite a Communist campaign of terrorism to wreck the United Nations supervised election.

SEA CADETS GIVE SAILING DISPLAY—A sailing display is part of the annual inspection of the Sea Cadet corps of Ontario's Lakefield preparatory school. Vice-Admiral H. T. W. Grant, chief of naval staff, Ottawa, carried out an inspection. The program included a ceremonial parade, followed by demonstrations of signalling, navigation, knots and splices, and formation sailing in response to signals from the shore.

PRAISED IN COMMONS — Heroism of Ruth Black of Fort William, Ont. was praised in the House of Commons at Ottawa. Miss Black according to Rev. Dan McIvor (Lib. Fort William), stopped a runaway team at Fort William exhibition saving many women and children spectators. Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, wrote her expressing the appreciation of the House.

BARBARA ANN AMONG CELEBRITIES — Canada's queen of the blades, Barbara Ann Scott, had herself a busy time at Washington, D.C., recently when she was an honorary scorer for Bing Crosby at the second annual Celebrities Golf Tournament. Before the show started, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy entertained the crowd and delighted Margaret Truman shaking hands with Charlie and Barbara Ann. Presidential candidates, sports leaders, and stars of stage, screen and radio took part in the festivities. Barbara Ann also visited the Canadian embassy and had a thrilling visit with President Truman at the White House with whom she exchanged autographs.

Wildmere A.F.U. Votes For Amalgamation

A meeting of the Wildmere A.F.U. was held May 12th. Due to the difficulty of travelling during the winter and spring no meetings of the local were held until the above date. There was a good attendance and a great deal of business dealt with.

The most important item was the vote on the amalgamation of the A.F.U. and the U.F.A. After the vote was taken it was found that 100% of those voting were in favor of the amalgamation.

A motion by G. Harrison and G. H[illegible] [illegible] resolution be sent to the [illegible] local M.L.A. that [illegible] legislation be passed to [illegible] control of the [illegible] board.

[illegible] by [illegible] Alexander and W. [illegible] that copy of the letter from head office stating the A.F.U. policy regarding elections be [illegible] with this report. This is to clarify any doubts in peoples' minds as to whether we are affiliated with any political party. We are not, in any way, affiliated with any political organization of any kind.

Considerable discussion took place on the remaining correspondence. The meeting was then adjourned and lunch followed.

A.F.U. Non-Political

The following is an extract from the head office of the A.F.U. dealing with political speakers and meetings.

The Board of Directors meeting in Edmonton recently had drawn to their attention that certain locals may be taking upon themselves to have certain candidates address their local meetings as well as sponsoring the candidate in general. Any action of this kind is contrary to the A.F.U. constitution and any local that goes contrary to the Constitution is violating the policy of this organization.

[illegible] the Board passed the following ruling:

Whereas in view of the fact there will be a political campaign held in this province in the near future that the locals be reminded that the A.F.U. Constitution provides that the organization take no part in politics and that all Locals refrain from having speakers from any political party.

Any locals going contrary to this or taking upon themselves to circularize, canvass or sponsor any candidate, under the A.F.U. sponsorship, will be doing it contrary to the policy of this organization and in no way should it be construed that it is the policy of this Union. These locals will be open to censorship and may be called upon to explain their action and the official expelled from the organization."

Ethelwyn News

If the weather continues dry seeding will be completed by the time this appears in print. Everything is growing fast in this district. The frost did not harm the wild fruit blossoms hereabouts.

Mr Grant Sr. attended the bull sale at Lloydminster held recently.

Dean Cooper was host at a party on his 7th birthday last week. The afternoon was spent playing games and was topped off by a lunch of ice cream and birthday cake. The guests were Irene Archer, Noel Lepine, [illegible] MacGillivray, Robin Attfield, Wilfred and Bobby [illegible].

The Rye school children did not do so well at the track meet this year. Peter O'Rourke, Stanley and Helen Shewchuk were the only first prize winners at Dewberry. Mr. Venance and the two boys went to the track meet at Kitscoty.

Stanley hurt his leg when some thoughtless person walked in front of him when he was in the act of jumping. Peter brought home a second prize. Mr Grant Sr. took the children and teacher to Dewberry eliminations and Harold Cooper took them in for the Kitscoty meet and called for them at night. The trip from there on was made by school bus. Mr. Venance and children wish to thank both these gentlemen for their kindness at this busy season.

The writer is sorry to hear that Roger Lemp was struck on the head by a ball at the track meet and received a bad cut. Hope that you are feeling better now Roger.

The sincere sympathy of the district is extended to Mrs. Pat Doyle and family on their sad and sudden loss of a loving husband and father. Mr. [illegible] lost his life in a farm tractor accident last week.

Bowtell Bulletin

We are sorry to report that Mrs. McClellan had the misfortune to catch her finger in the rollers of an electric washing machine. The injury required medical attention. At time of writing Mrs. [illegible] is improving nicely in the Vermilion hospital.

Mrs. Moses Sr. is spending a month's vacation with her son Bert and family.

Mrs. Repp's sister Miss M. Earle arrives this week from B.C. to spend a summer's vacation.

The June meeting of the Busy Bees was held at the home of Mrs. Maggs with 20 ladies present. Seven of these were visitors, Mrs. DeLeeuw, Mrs. Sampson, Mrs. Knutson and Maybelle, Mrs. Maggs, Sr., Mrs. Moses Sr., and Mrs. E. Thompson. $10 was donated to the ambulance fund and $16 to each of the cancer and cemetery funds.

Mrs. Moses and Mrs. Sherwood were appointed to contact other clubs and town committee regarding a rest room in the town which we so sorely need.

A picnic is to be held for the district on July 2nd. Each family is to bring weiners, buns and a drink for themselves. A collection of 5c will be taken on the grounds to help pay for the ice cream etc. Mrs. Repp and Mrs. Sherwood are to look after same.

A dance will be held in the school the same evening, the committee in charge being Mrs. Hardie, Mrs. H. Simonchuk and Mrs. Repp. Letters of thanks were read from Mrs. McClellan, Mrs. J. Millar and Iris Lind. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Sherwood's, lunch served by Mrs. Maggs and Mrs. Moses.

Congratulations and all good wishes to the newlyweds Mr and Mrs. Deacon Jr., and to Isabel Rindale who was recently married to Mr. Pearcey of Lea Park.

Grandma McGinnis is now feeling much better and is on the farm with her son and family.

Since commencing these notes another wedding has taken place and best wishes are extended to Mr and Mrs. F. G. Pringle (nee Dorothy Galloway) for a long and happily married life.

Miss P. Kay arrived Friday evening from Edmonton to spend the week end with her sister Mrs. F. Robinson and family.

MORRISON NEWS

It is now much cooler after the long waited rain. Flowers are very lovely and the bees are extremely busy.

Lloyd Gould has 5 hives this year and the bees are certainly working hard in the hives.

The writer's husband enjoyed a birthday on Sunday; The Gillies family, Lawrence, Chrissie and Gordon were home for supper. Mrs. Beyner has returned home from a trip to Edmonton, she reports Ruby doing well, while Lila and Kenny are still stranded at Creston, B.C.

The writer took a few ladies from the Morrison district over to Mrs. Lorie McFadyen's on Thursday to attend a meeting and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. Mrs. Mairs of Edmonton was a visitor there.

This news bulletin was crowded out last issue so the time covered is up to Thursday of last week.

The people of Pleasant Valley certainly enjoyed the opening church service held on the afternoon of Sunday, May 23rd at which the choir of St. [illegible] attended. The singing was so good. Let us hope they will come back before long.

Mrs. Playne is spending a few days in Vermilion visiting old friends.

It appears as if there will be an abundance of wild fruit this year as the blossoms are very plentiful and very beautiful.

At time of writing rain is needed badly.

The writer and Mrs. Beyner spent Monday afternoon visiting Mrs. Torrance and Gwen.

Fred Gould's and Mr and Mrs. E. [illegible] of Edmonton were dinner guests at the [illegible] home on Sunday while John and Hazel journeyed on to Mr and Mrs. Fred Playne's.

Mrs. Ruby [illegible] phoned home saying that she goes out for 15 minutes twice daily now. Keep up the good work Ruby. Lila and Kenny Gunn are stranded at Creston due to the flood conditions; roads washed out, bridges gone, the whole transportation system tied up.

Thanks for your new letter Clara and weather reports but I still think that Alberta and B.C. beats for sunshine, perhaps I should add "and mosquitoes". We are so glad that Mrs. [illegible] is contemplating a trip to the coast in the near future.

The tractors have been going day and night around here and excellent progress has been made in getting the crop seeded. Let us hope we get [illegible]

WILDMERE WINKS

(Written for last week)

Back again folks, got the housecleaning and gardening done also the main crop of potatoes in. These late springs throw a lot of the smaller jobs onto the women folks.

These terrible floods have certainly taken their toll in damage in many places this spring. One just cannot grasp how bad they are but from reports they are dreadful. Lives lost, homes wrecked and livestock swept to their death. We were pleased to hear through Mrs. Caron of Vermilion that her sister Clara and family (Mrs. Winger) were safe after that wall of water hit Vanport, Oregon. They lost their home but they were all safe. It must be terrible to see children swept away before your eyes. We on high and dry land have much to be thankful for we can tell you. We may have deep snow and blocked roads but we can at least keep on top of the drifts.

Dewberry News

This bulletin was received too late for inclusion in last week's Standard. Due allowance should be made for time elapsed.

The Dewberry - Clandonald track meet was run off in Dewberry May 20. For the Dewberry school 3 students were winners of four red ribbons each. These winners were James Munro, Roger Lemp and Emma Axley. There is certainly a lot of room for better sportsmanship among the older boys. We wonder if they have any respect for a lady at all in the mixed ball games, also the bullying of small boys by the big ones. Parents of the Dewberry students kept a nice variety of lunch on hand including ice cream and confectionery.

Gerald Hinchelin doesn't try rounding up cattle with his tractor anymore. Last time Gerald spent part of Sunday pulling himself out of a slough with block and pulleys.

The Exchange cafe in Dewberry has been purchased by John Maltais. Interior finishing is now nearing completion.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Merle Craine on the birth of a daughter at Islay hospital on May 25th.

Alex Lunden is visiting his family in Dewberry.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Yugoslavia will release all German and Austrian prisoners of war by the end of this year, Interior Minister Alexander Rankovic said.

The coronation of Crown Princess Juliana as queen of The Netherlands will take place about Sept. 6 in the 15th century "new church" at Amsterdam.

Mrs. Mita Hayakawa, 70, defeated a man of the same age in a special election in Japan to become the first woman mayor of Ko village in Chiba prefecture.

A 3s ($1) book of stamps in 1945 was sold in London for £105 ($420) recently. An additional sheet of stamps inside was printed and perforated crosswise.

[illegible] minister, said in the commons that 16 Japanese mines floating loose have been destroyed by navy tugs in the past two years.

One of the first to occupy a room in the Methodist Home for the Aged at Bognor Regis, England, was 86-year-old Mrs. Anne Reiss, great-granddaughter of Charles Wesley.

Films will play a large part in the future education of British children, says the education ministry, which is making plans to wire the majority of Britain's 28,000 schools for cinema projectors.

LONDON. — Britain's jet engine pioneer, Air Commodore Frank Whittle, has received an award of $400,000 from the British government for "his achievements in the science of aeronautics."

Advance Made In Tuberculosis Fight

OTTAWA — A "remarkable" advance in the fight against tuberculosis in Canada was reported by Dr. G. J. Wherrett, executive secretary of the Canadian Tuberculosis association.

In a report prepared for presentation to the 48th annual meeting of the association, Dr. Wherrett said "the eradication of tuberculosis . . . when measured in decades is most remarkable."

Causing a death rate of 200 per 100,000 in 1900, tuberculosis was responsible for only 48.2 deaths per 100,000 in 1946. The rate varied in the provinces from 17.5 in Saskatchewan to 70.4 in Quebec.

For Canadian Indians, the tuberculosis death rate was "almost fantastic". In 1937 it was 803.1 per 100,000. It had dropped somewhat in 1946, when it was 564.6 for the same number of persons.

FARMER MAKES OWN RAIN, COVERS 120 ACRES AT ONCE

ELSA, Tex.—Making rain by seeding clouds with dry ice doesn't interest W. A. Harding, owner of the unique Evergreen Farms.

For the past 11 years he's been making two and a half inches of rainfall a day.

Harding does his rainmaking on his 1,000-acre farm, where he grows alfalfa and sudan grasses for dehydration and manufacture into chicken and horse feed and vitamin pills for humans.

His is the only farm in the world, Harding believes, that operates full-blast 24-hours a day, seven days a week, year after year.

Continual sprinkling, harvesting and dehydration is going on at the T-shaped farm in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Every 24 hours the sprinkling system lays down two and a half inches of rain on a 120-acre block. The next day another 120 acres are showered.

By providing plenty of rain, Harding is able to cut his alfalfa 10 times a year, his oat and other small grains three or four times.

His oats are cut when eight inches tall, alfalfa at 16 inches. The harvesters barely clear the soil as they snip off the plants.

"We cut while the plants are tender and have their greatest protein content," explained Harding, one of the real estate men who "opened up" the Lower Rio Grande Valley after World War I.

The alfalfa and oats are conveyed into trucks and hauled to the dehydrator, where they are fed into a telescopic drum furnace 24 feet in diameter.

Temperature of 1,700 degrees Fahrenheit bake out the moisture. Then a hammer mill, grinding at 3,000 revolutions per minute, chops the stalks before they're sucked through a fine screen.

The finished product is a pastel green flour, as fine as a housewife's baking flour. The entire dehydration and grinding process takes less than three minutes.

Most of the sacks of green flour are shipped to Kansas City, where they are mixed either with poultry feed or processed into vitamin pills for human consumption.

"The best thing about this farm is that we contract for our production a year in advance," explained Harding, who last year turned out 3,000 tons of dehydrated cereal grasses and alfalfa.

"Our soil is getting richer, too, because of the alfalfa, although we fertilize the oats and sudan grasses."

The farm has its own power supply. Gas well provide power for the water pumps in the sprinkling system and for heat for the dehydration plant.

THE SPOILER

With apologies to the author of "Trees".

I think that I shall never see
A man so asinine as he
Who leaves his camp fire ere it's out,
And throws his burning butts about;
A man who lives for just today,
And burns the forests, come what may.
A man who hunts 'tween dusk and dawn,
And [illegible] fish that went to spawn;
Who [illegible] a deer for killing's sake,
And [illegible] it for the wolves to take,
Who [illegible] a beaver house,
And in closed season shoots ruffed grouse.
A man who goes his selfish way,
And cares not who must sometime pay
For all the devastation wrought
By him, who never had a thought
For those whose heritage he'll spoil,
To whom he'll leave just rock and soil.

FREIGHTERS HEAVY TRAFFIC THROUGH PORT CHURCHILL

YORKTON, Sask. — P. Dalgleish, owner of an English ocean shipping firm, told a gathering here it was his opinion the Hudson Bay route will become a mass transportation route and that Churchill will be on a basis of equality with the St. Lawrence and Vancouver routes. Mr. Dalgleish spoke at a public meeting sponsored by the [illegible] section of the Yorkton board of trade. He said this year, for the first time, there will be enough cargo shipped west to fill more than one ship, and he hoped his firm would have sufficient for two ships. Last year 18 ships made voyages into Churchill and only one brought cargo. [illegible]

HUMAN MILK BEST FOR BABIES

As a food, human milk still remains the best type of milk for young infants, according to a survey by a subcommittee of the Committee on Maternal and Child Feeding of the National Research Council published in The Journal of the American Medical Association. C. Anderson Aldrich, M.D., Rochester, Minn., is author of the published report.

"Breast milk is to an appreciable extent a prophylactic food, it prevents or decreases the severity of many gastrointestinal disturbances," Dr. Aldrich writes, adding that it is an absolute preventive against constipation because it cannot solidify in the intestinal tract. "This preventive role of breast milk is much more noticeable when it operates among children in the less favored economic classes, among whom adequate health measures are not always available," he continues. "In many of these gastrointestinal [illegible] no other food [illegible] quate or assimilable. For this reason he suggests that breast-milk stations be made available in large city areas.

One of the chief [illegible] to breast-feeding, Dr. Aldrich observes, is that it sometimes causes infections of the breast. With the advent of chemotherapeutic agents such as sulfa and penicillin, this danger has somewhat lessened. Another objection is that breast milk may be too small in quantity to nourish the baby adequately. "When this is true, even after a conscientious attempt has been made, complemental feedings should be given after the breast feeding," the writer states. "However, it is believed that the diagnosis of insufficient breast milk is made too often on scanty evidence.

"It has been stated that in this enlightened age breast feeding is unnecessary and a burden which the mother need not be expected to assume. This may be true in the case of babies whose care is under the direction of skilled physicians, but it probably is not true for the great number of babies reared under conditions in which competent medical advice is inadequate or unavailable."

OUTDOORS TOO ROOMY FOR HOUSE HUNTER

The other day a man, frantic to locate a place to live, asked a naturalist if he knew where he could find a house.

The naturalist replied: "[illegible] Boy, you're getting soft. Why don't you live out in the open air, let old Mother Nature cover you with a blanket of stars, and have the blue firmament above as a roof?"

"Frankly," said the man, "I had in mind something a bit smaller."

"What People Should Realize"

By Jack Bowman

As the father put down the rake and picked up the fork to load his wheelbarrow with old leaves, his son asked, "I know Daddy, that we have to keep our yards looking nice all the time, but is there any other reason why we should keep Vermilion clean?"

"Oh, there are many more reasons, but just one. First, we can't have good health in a town littered with garbage and filled with dirty places. Flies would increase in numbers enormously and might spread disease enough for an epidemic."

"I know another one, Daddy," said the son. "The Governor-General is coming and we have to make Vermilion look nice for that."

"Why yes, we do, son, but there is more than that. We have to show other towns that we really deserve his visit. We have to show them that we really earned this great honor.

"Then next, of course," the father went on, "a clean town will bring up fellows like you to be respectful of other people's property. If you see dirty streets all the time you won't learn to try to keep them clean. And that is the way it will be then, in your own home. Of course, a clean town adds to the citizenship of the country, for, I believe, it makes people want to take part in the affairs of the community. A clean town affects their pride and makes them desirous of taking part in its activities."

"Then, too, there is the part about being contented and happy. A person in a really clean town will naturally be happier and more contented there, than in a town that is unsightly from rubbish. Why it's just like that in our own yard! You wouldn't want to play here if it were all dirty with rubbish and had long unmown grass. You wouldn't want to bring your friends in either, would you?"

"No, I wouldn't, Daddy. But our yard is nice and clean."

"You know, son, it gives you a sense of accomplishment, also, when you see that your town, by your own efforts, is one that you can be proud of. And if everyone got behind the campaign, that is what we would have. Come on, son! Let's set a good example—we'll go and clean up the empty lot next door!"

An Open Letter to Vermilion Citizens

By Audrey Watts

Vermilion, Alta., May 21, 1948

Dear Citizen:

I am writing to you about doing your part in Vermilion's clean-up campaign.

You are a resident of Vermilion and therefore you should be proud enough of it to make it clean and tidy looking.

"What can I do?" you ask yourself. Aren't there some boards strewn about your yard? How about that pile of leaves, have you burned them? Your garbage barrel has it that "new look"? Is your garbage barrel thoroughly every day? The empty tin cans from which your dinner comes (out [illegible]) are they thrown into your garbage can or are they put neatly in a special box? Is your garage getting dingy? Get a can of paint and freshen it up! Paint the fence [illegible] while working [illegible] to figure out an interesting color scheme for your yard. If the children want to help put them to work making lawn figures and novelties to brighten up the front lawn.

Let's look up town. We have now at our own expense garbage containers, in which we can deposit old papers, pop corn boxes, chewing gum wrappers and the like. The store owners have always tried to make their windows attractive; why not do your part to make the surroundings of the stores attractive also?

Our town has great potentialities, some of which are already being developed. To the east we have an up-and-coming airport which is being used more and more every day and which is the foster parent to many of our air students. Still further east is our oil field at Borradaile. Now also, we have the "Canadian Utilities" in our plant and a new plant is under construction. The water works will be another asset of the town. The agricultural school supplements the town's educational facilities. This is, indeed, a town of which we can be justly proud, and which is well worth the effort of keeping clean.

Remember also that the Governor General's visit is an added incentive to start to clean up soon. Now is the time to wield that paint brush, handle that rake, and push that wheelbarrow to cleanliness and prosperity.

Clean Up Vermilion!

By Chester Dey

Vermilion is located on the transcontinental railway and on a main highway from Eastern Canada. Here also is an airport. With all these ways for people to come to or through Vermilion we can be sure of many visitors during the next few months.

Visitors are attracted to a place by its general appearance and they remember it by their first impressions. Now if all visitors would stay long enough we could show them that in spite of our general shabby appearance we have a good town here. We could show them that we are the centre of a good farming area, that we have plenty of natural resources around us and that we are good neighborly people. But company doesn't stay that long. Unless we have old friends coming to renew friendships our visitors, for the most part will be the kind that come and go in the [illegible] a few days or hours.

What impressions of our town will these people take away with them? Right now they would take one look and drive on to another town to spend the night! And they would tell every one they met to stay away from this messy looking place.

Why don't we all get together and make Vermilion look like the live-wire centre it really is?

More Living Space

MANY OF THE INTERNATIONAL controversies of the past have been associated with the never-ending quest for more living space for the people in the congested countries of Europe and Asia. As long as congestion exists, there is likely to be unrest, since it is in over-crowded areas that hunger, disease and political unrest flourish. The problem of finding new lands which are suitable for settling the excess population from the older countries is one which has been receiving attention for many years. There are still large areas in many parts of the world which are very sparsely populated because of poor climatic conditions, poor accessibility, lack of fertile soil or other adverse features, and it is unlikely that it would ever be considered desirable to move large sections of population to them.

* * * * *

Plan To Open Vast New Area

Recently the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, known as UNESCO, called a conference of representatives of seven American and three European nations, as well as observers from a number of organizations, to a conference in Peru to discuss a plan to turn the vast natural resources of the Amazon River basin to the use of mankind. The area under consideration is made up of some 2,700,000 square miles of land which is at present almost totally uninhabited and which is readily accessible to the Atlantic Ocean by way [illegible] Amazon River in which sea-going ships may navigate for 2,300 miles the entire length of the great river.

* * * * *

Called A Long Range Project

Delegates to the meeting came from six countries bordering on the Amazon, including Bolivia, Brazil, Ecuador, Colombia, Peru and Venezuela. The United States was also represented, as was France, Great Britain and the Netherlands, as owners of the Guianas, which border on the Amazon. There were observers from such bodies as the Food and Agriculture Organization, the International Labor Organization and the World Health Organization. While it will be a long-range project, and considerable time will be required to assemble the necessary information concerning the territory, it is envisioned as "a great new area of world development in this jungle land now inhabited by only a few Indians". In undertaking the project the United Nations may be helping to find a solution to one of the most serious problems of these times.

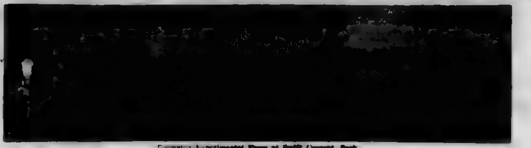
His Job Is Helping Farmers Solve Their Soil Problems



[illegible] Experimental Farm at Swift Current, Sask.

By T. R. MELVILLE-NESS
[illegible]

SASKATOON, Sask.—L. B. Thomson, the man who played a major part in the launching of the Prairie [illegible] is now director of the big organization. People close to the prairie farm scene greeted the appointment with unqualified approval.

Mr. Thomson called the first meeting of P.F.R.A. in 1935, following the passing of a Dominion act setting up the body which was charged with the responsibility of saving a lot of prairie farm land threatened with [illegible] a member of the advisory council, and just as close to the work of P.F.R.A. as his busy life as superintendent of the Experimental Farm at Swift Current allowed him to be. There have been many occasions, say those close to "L.B.", when he has cut deeply into what would normally be sleeping time to make time for [illegible]

More Scope

L. B. Thomson's main concern has always been soil conservation, and under his direction at Swift Current a lot of valuable work has been done along this line. Now, as director of P.F.R.A. he will have much wider scope, and it is not any secret that this energetic man with the big pipe and the ready grin plans to make things hum as boss of Canada's biggest conservation and irrigation set-up.

Thomson was the man who, in the blackest years of the big drouth that laid waste to millions of acres of crop, set out with his farm staff to beat the withering winds that blasted every green thing in the fields, buried fences and phone lines deep under feet of swirling dust.

Of his leadership in the grim battle against drouth and soil erosion in the dry thirties, members of "L. B.'s" staff say he did a "terrific job."

Of this, Thomson himself has little to say ... except that his proudest day was when the farmers, the men he tried to help, stopped referring to the experimental farm staff as "white collar farmers." "If there's one thing I'm proud of," he says, "it's the way we won the confidence of the farmers and showed that we could work with them, and find the answers to their problems."

Proof of this is seen in the high regard in which L. B. Thomson is held by farmers and agrologists all over the west. Having spent 22 of his 48 years in the study of soil conservation problems, he is regarded as an authority on the subject, and his widely diversified experience with soil and water conservation will stand him in good stead as director of P.F.R.A.

L. B. Thomson is a native of New Zealand, and left his birthplace, Blenheim, in 1920 to come to Canada. His first job was with Luther B. Sharp, at Bashaw, Alta., where he sheared sheep. He admits he was not [illegible] shearer, but managed 90 to 100 a day. After further farming and ranching experience, he enrolled at the Olds school of agriculture in the fall of 1921.

Between the end of the Olds course and the start of a degree course at the University of Alberta the following fall, he worked for the Crowfoot Farming Co., plowing with a steam outfit, and, on occasion, with a 16-[illegible]

After graduation in 1925 he was appointed officer-in-charge of boys' and girls' work for the provincial government. The following year he joined the staff of the dominion field husbandry department, and did a job which involved the survey of grasslands, and a project to regrass abandoned [illegible]

Living Monument

Then in 1925 the dominion government established the experimental range station at Manyberries, Alta., and L. B. Thomson was made superintendent.

He remained at Manyberries until 1935. Something of a monument to Thomson's regime at the big lonely ranch is a fine growth of trees which surround the buildings. The tree belts are irrigated from a reservoir back of the buildings. The reservoir, which collects runoff water, was one of his favorite projects, and a fine demonstration of his firm belief in the value of collecting surface water and putting it to good use in a dry country. The trees are one of the reasons for the huge crowds which travel hundreds of miles in field days at the station each summer across the treeless sweep of southern Alberta.

The year 1935 saw Mr. Thomson's appointment as superintendent of the dominion experimental station at Swift Current, Sask. In addition to intensive work on soils problems, he also found time to lend a hand to numerous organizations and campaigns, including wartime drives of all kinds. He has served as chairman of the board of directors of the Horse Marketing Co-op since it was organized three years ago, and has made an important contribution to the success of this project which set out to rid the west of surplus horses, and at the same time feed a lot of hungry people in Europe.

Mr. Thomson's appointment as director of P.F.R.A. was announced shortly after his return from a trip to New Zealand. He succeeds George Spence who last year resigned to become a member of the international [illegible]

Mr. Thomson's wide knowledge of western Canadian soils, and his firm belief in water conservation as a means of improving the country fit in well with the aims of P.F.R.A. Men who have spent a lifetime on problems of dry land farming say that "L. B." will approach his new job with a degree of wisdom and understanding bound to bring good results. A close association with P.F.R.A. right from its inception will enable the new chief to tackle a job with which he will be completely familiar. Much of the early work of P.F.R.A. was carried out on the basis of the advice of such men as L. B. Thomson, and he has been a member of the advisory council ever since its inception in 1935.

Mr. Thompson claims, with a good deal of assurance, that working toward a common goal with the farmer in the dry thirties created a new understanding between the scientist and the man on the land. Such an understanding, say western agrologists, may well contribute in a big way toward success in "L. B.'s" new role.

INCREASE SEEN IN WATERFOWL

REGINA.—A "moderate increase" in the number of nesting waterfowl in Canada this spring as compared with 1947 has been found in most areas, it was revealed at a meeting of organizations interested in migratory bird conditions held in the legislative building.

Reports stressed, however, that unreported conditions in the far north, and changes which may occur later in the season, might cancel or seriously influence these apparent gains.

Water levels are abnormally high in all provinces and in many areas flood conditions are unfavorable for waterfowl production.

To date aerial waterfowl surveys on which reports were heard at the meeting have covered over 19,000 miles in the three prairie provinces. Ground surveys have covered nearly 3,000 miles. Many of the larger marshes are being surveyed from canoes and boats. Air surveys are conducted at altitudes averaging 100 feet above the ground, which permits accurate counts of bodies of water seen and their duck population on a strip a quarter of a mile wide.

In Manitoba aerial surveys completed by May 25 covered 6,500 miles, in Saskatchewan, 7,015 miles; in Alberta, 5,500 miles. Ground coverage in Manitoba to date has covered nearly 1,000 miles; in Saskatchewan 2,438 miles, in Alberta, 1,000 miles of permanent survey transects.
